The simple truth about car prices is that Rambler American is the lowest priced Canadian built car...by $68.20!

Automotive manufacturers often get into price comparisons. More often than not, these comparisons tend to confuse the public. Let's set the record straight. The Rambler American is the lowest priced Canadian built car. In fact, the Rambler American sells for $68.20 less than its nearest competitor, regardless of size or model!

But price alone doesn't make the Rambler American the value it is. You also get the features for which Rambler is famous! The Rambler American is the most completely rustproofed car in the world. It gives you a Ceramic-Armoured muffler that is guaranteed for as long as you own the car. You also get two year guarantees on both the radiator coolant and on the battery. The Rambler American, has, as standard equipment, self-adjusting Double-Safety brakes. These allow the front and rear brakes to operate independently—for a double margin of safety. No other Canadian built car offers this feature. And there are many more exceptional features to add to Rambler's value.

Yes, value is the reason for Rambler's success. A success so great we've gone into a second shift to meet the demand for new Ramblers. We feel we've developed a formula for success: economy, worthwhile features and the lowest price of any Canadian built car. See your Rambler dealer soon. Test drive a new Rambler American. Find out for yourself why we say it's Canada's best all 'round car value.

Scouting activities

By ANNE M. McDONALD

The Ladies Auxiliaries of the District Committee of the Boy Scouts Association held their fifth annual pot luck supper in St. Michael's Academy Auditorium on May 3rd, with approximately one hundred ladies present representing fourteen Auxiliaries. Registration was conducted by Mrs. L. Monteith, Mrs. C. Reed and Mrs. C. Jarvis. Receiving at the door were Mrs. F. C. Gelsthorpe, President District Committee; Mrs. W. Barrett, President 3rd St. Michael's; Mrs. J. Farrell, Secretary 3rd St. Michael's.

The dinner opened with the singing of "O Canada" accompanied on the piano by Mrs. C. Reed of 1st Avondale.

The tables were beautifully decorated with colored troop flags, flowers and lighted candles. Mrs. Gelsthorpe, President of District Committee introduced the head table which included His Worship Mayor A. M. Haig; Mrs. W. Barrett; Mr. Harwood, Scout Master; Mr. P. Pickering, President of District Committee; District Commissioner M. Maw; Mrs. D. McDonald, Secretary District Committee; Rt. Rev. J. F. Sullivan; Mrs. J. Black, Publicity Chairman District Committee; Mr. G. Wilson, Sponsoring Chairman 3rd Belleville.

Mrs. McDonald was called on to give a comprehensive report of the activities of the District Committee to date. Mrs. V. Nelles gave the Treasurer's report. There was also a large display of Auxiliary supplies by Mrs. J. Johnston, Supply Secretary.

Mayor A. M. Haig brought greetings from City Council and the City of Belleville and told the ladies that the good they are doing for the boys in the community may only show up in the next generation but they are keeping the children off streets and they are to be congratulated for what they are doing for the Scout movement.

Mr. G. Wilson said he was proud to be associated with the Auxiliaries and thanked the ladies for the work they are doing.

AUXILIARIES NEEDED

D. G. Murray Maw stated that the Scouting movement would not be complete without Auxiliaries. He specified that boys were greatly influenced in the homes.

Mrs. W. Barrett graciously welcomed all Auxiliaries.

Rt. Rev. J. F. Sullivan thanked the ladies for their support in this movement.

Mr. P. Pickering stated that women are the back bone of Scout organizations. It is a voluntary movement and very little thanks are received but there will always be criticism. Mr. Pickering introduced the guest speaker Mr. Jarvah.

Mr. Jarvah in his address singled out the McNeil's Promise as his theme — "On My Honor I Promise to help —" He felt that being in the movement was the unselfish act of giving — a member may be a quiet guiding force slightly in the background but always there when needed. Someone you can call upon at the most unexpected times for the most unexpected reasons. A group which gives much of itself without any thought whatever of personal gain. Mr. Jarvah stated that one of his fondest wishes is that it will become necessary to form a Ladies' Auxiliary before a particular group could obtain its original charter because he believes that within the Auxiliary's hands lies the power to best guide and direct the destinies of our young citizens.

AUXILIARIES COMMENDED

"The Scout law states" he later said "A Scout is honorable, trustworthy and courteous". However, in his opinion, the most important of the Scout law is, "A Scout is clean in ...ought, word and deed" and this he gets from good women such as Auxiliaries." He suggested that ladies keep young children close by them as long as possible. He concluded his address by commending Auxiliaries for their untiring efforts and wished them continued success in this venture of "giving of yourselves unselfishly."

Mrs. R. Berry ably thanked the speaker for taking the time from his busy schedule to bring an inspiring message. She also expressed thanks to the District Committee for sponsoring this get-together. A sing-song led by D. C. Maw was enjoyed by the ladies.

Entertainment was provided by the Scouts of 3rd Belleville

Successful Living

(A Canadian Social Worker Helps with Human Problems)

College Students Haven't A Clue

DORIS CLARK

DEAR DORIS:—I thought it rather shameful re Very Lonesome. I'm 43 years old, French Canadian, never married, and working steady as a farm hand. I wish to goodness I could meet one of the three nice women Very Lonesome mentioned to you. You can rest assured she wouldn't have to support me; not that I have anything worth talking about, but I have a right more pride and ambition than Very Lonesome.

But I'm hard of hearing, and it is very difficult for me to meet new friends, except in beer parlors, where no one seems to care about handicaps. I would very much like to get married, but with my hearing, there's little hope.

Maybe you can direct me to a club for hard of hearing where I could meet someone. I'm considered a hard working man, but it gets rather lonesome living in a world of my own which is why I sometimes take to drinking.— LONE WOLF.

* * *

DEAR LONE WOLF—Have you ever heard of the Canadian Hearing Society? This is a wonderful group of people who have devoted themselves to helping people with their hearing problems. They have branches in various parts of Canada and workers who help the hard of of hearing to take their place in the world of sound. There are even local clubs in some lucky spots where people like yourself get together and do things that are fun.

To find out where the worker or club is which is near you, write to the Canadian Hearing Society, 3 Bloor Street East, Toronto 5, Ontario.

* * *

DEAR DORIS:—How does one bear it and go on living when you find out that your husband has had a baby by another woman? She did this to get a permanent hold on him.

My husband does not want to give me up or on any account hurt our two boys. Yet he won't give up this woman, and has put her on his payroll in another province where she lives now with her parents, having left her own husband. He sees her and the baby when he goes there.

I try to forget, I try to put it at the back of my mind and cannot keep it there, unfortunately. I feel I will either crack up or finish myself off.

Could you possibly give me the address of some understanding person to see and talk this over with. — GETTING DESPERATE.

* * *

DEAR GETTING:—He has already hurt your two boys. The shame of their father's double life will reach them sooner or later to affect their personalities. And it may well be tearing you apart.

Seeking a counsellor is the very best move for you. Even the act of telling someone will release pressure. And a social worker can help you think things through and come to some decision.

Get in touch with the Children's Aid Society, 63 West Moira Street, Belleville, which counsels on family problems as well as when children are involved.

* * *

TO HOPEFUL:—I wrote a special letter to an agency in your city and learned that all the secondary schools there do give some vocational guidance to their pupils. So next year you will qualify.

I would suggest that for the present you go to the public library and read up on how to select a vocation. Also, write to me again, enclosing ten cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and I will forward you my leaflet on "Choosing a Career."

* * *

who were introduced by Scout Master Murray Atkinson. Larry Delphe was invested as a Scout so he could become an Assistant Cub Master. The Scouts looked very smart in their uniforms and were inspected by D. C. Maw and S. M. Jarvah.

Akela Marion Gelsthorpe who designed and donated the place cards for the head table and also a poster. Coffee was poured by Scouts of St. Michael's. Mrs. Gelsthorpe thanked the Scouts for their interesting program, and also the Ladies' Auxiliary of 3rd Belleville for hostessing a very successful dinner.

The centrepiece at the head table was donated to 3rd Belleville Ladies' Auxiliary by Mr. A. Dustin of Weller's Flower Shop. Many thanks also to Queen's.

The evening closed with the "Scout Benediction", and "The Maple Leaf Forever".

Three Kaladar Youths Hurt In Accident

KALADAR — Three Kaladar district youths were admitted to the Belleville General Hospital as the result of a one-car accident as they were eastbound on Highway No. 37 near the Arden turn, on Saturday night.

Admitted to hospital were, Floyd Woodcock 21, R.R. 4 Arden with multiple injuries, Daniel Baker, 18, R.R. 1 Harlow, suffering head injuries and Leslie Ghler, 21 of Kaladar, with chest injuries.

The three lads were taken to the hospital by Bush's Ambulance from Tweed and were released on Sunday.

Investigating officer, Constable Sisty of the Kaladar Ontario Provincial Police detachment, said Mr. Woodcock, the driver of the car, was attempting to pass another east-bound vehicle when he lost control of his car.

The Woodcock car shot across the road and rolled into the south ditch, coming to rest on its wheels. The car was damaged to the extent of approximately $1,000.

Constable Sisty said it was unknown to them as yet what caused Mr. Woodcock to lose control of his vehicle.

The investigation has since been turned over to the Sharbot Lake detachment.

QUINTE DISTRICT C.B.A. BULL IS "EXCELLENT"—This pure bred Holstein, Rosafe Heptad, was recently classified "Excellent" for body conformation. He was bred by Dr. H. L. Astergo, Brampton, Ont., and is now owned by the Quinte District Cattle Breeding Association, Belleville, which purchased him at $12,000 in 1959. Heptad was nominated for All-Canadian Holstein bull calf in 1957; was Reserve Junior Champion at Peterborough Championship Show in 1958 and Grand Champion bull at Durham County Black and White Day in 1959. He is a son of the noted cow class "Extra" sire, A B C Reflection Sovereign.

Pack of Wolves Mauls Fourteen In Sheepfold

ISTANBUL (Reuters) — A pack of wolves attacked a sheepfold near Bursa in western Turkey Friday night and mauled 14 persons, five of them children, in a 45-minute life-and-death struggle.

One of the children died from his injuries in hospital Saturday.

Speaking from his hospital bed in Izmir, eight miles from Bursa, he said:

"I clasped the neck of the wolf which attacked me. I stuck my left arm into the wolf's mouth and blocked his windpipe. But he still struggle. So I put my right arm around his neck and strangled him."

Ali Kocrigit, 37, whose left eye was clawed out in the fight, said the animals attacked the flock in darkness. Kocrigit, whose condition was said to be critical, is the father of the dead boy.

Prime Minister Claims Promises Carried Out

By JAMES NELSON

GRANBY, Que. (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker spends his second day in rural Quebec today, confident that while les Quebecois may not fully understand his halting use of French, they understand his politics.

He was scheduled to make a flying swing through Mont-Joli, Riviere - du - Loup, Trois-Pistoles and Rimouski before going back to Ontario Wednesday and then to Western Canada.

Mr. Diefenbaker told a big rally opening his Quebec part of the Conservative campaign for the June 18 election in Granby Monday night that he has fully carried out his promises made in this province in 1957 and 1958.

Foremost among them was to restore the constitution to its full power and return to the provinces the taxation rights taken over by the former Liberal government in wartime.

"We have restored the constitution," he declared. "We have done all that and made it possible for the provinces to carry out their responsibilities. The former government was in many ways making the provinces wards of the federal government."

GRANTS INCREASED

Since 1956-57, federal transfer payments to Quebec on conditional and unconditional grants had risen in this fiscal year to $426,000,000 from $171,000,000.

"Every province in Canada has benefited in consequences of our policy and has been able to help municipalities in what they had to do."

Mr. Diefenbaker said that his Liberal opponents predicted in both 1957 and 1958 that the Conservatives would win none of the province's 75 federal seats, claiming Quebecers could not understand Diefenbaker.

Of his barely adequate ability to speak French, he confessed: "I don't succeed. I try, and oh, you are so kind. All through the years, they tried to get me to pronounce French properly. It just couldn't be done.

"But you understood me better in 1958 than you did in 1957.

"Now, with the record behind us—of all these things done—my appeal to you is to join with us again.

"There is much more to be done. We have shown you what can be done. Between now and the anniversary of Confederation many of the things that need to be done will be done.

"Vers l'avenir merveilleux (towards the magnificent future)."

TOURS OTHER CENTRES

Before the big Granby rally, attended by 1,100 and raised to fever pitch by a string of speakers, he toured Ste. Adele, de Bellevue, Dorion, Farnham, and Cowansville. His speeches there were non-partisan.

He was given warm civic receptions everywhere, signing guest books and receiving the greetings of local mayors. In Granby, a brass band, marching majorettes, mounted constabulary, and a 95-voice boys' choir greeted him.

He also was greeted by six University of Montreal students, campaigning for a flag of a green maple leaf on a red and white field, and about three dozen pickets protesting the transfer of an electronics plant to New Brunswick.

Transport Minister Balcer, one of the preliminary speakers at the rally, said the transfer of the plant should be blamed on the Liberals, since it was Premier Robichaud of New Brunswick who offered the plant free accommodation.

The prime minister did not refer to Opposition Leader Pearson's charge that the government has a secret report predicting growing unemployment.

He said the government has faced tremendous difficulties, but its projection for the future is ever increasing employment and steadily mounting employment. There were "almost 400,000" more employed this year over 1957.

Home Riding Gives Pearson Big Reception

By ARCH McKINNEIR

ESPANOLA, Ont. (CP)—Four key Progressive Conservative candidates rose in a crowded Liberal Leader Pearson said Monday night.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker might well outline what he proposes to do about Canadian problems rather than attacking the Liberal party past and present in a personal way.

Mr. Pearson spoke to more than 200 persons in a crowded Legion hall in this pulp and paper town on Lake Huron's north shore, capping the first of two election campaign days in his riding of Algoma East.

Today, he headed for Manitoulin Island before flying to Toronto tonight.

Failure to meet the unemployment problem, reduce expenditures, cut taxes or balance the budget are the four main Conservative election-pledged failures, Mr. Pearson said.

SAYS JOBLESS DOUBLED

Joblessness under Conservative rule were more than twice the total under the Liberals, and while government expenditure was bound to be heavy today the Conservatives hadn't cut it as promised, Every Canadian family today was paying more taxes, and six straight budget deficits were matters of record.

In a retort aimed at Prime Minister Diefenbaker's campaign opener Saturday at London, Mr. Pearson said "jobs are far more important than personal attack, personal criticism."

He believed "with confidence" that the Liberals would win the June 18 election, Mr. Diefenbaker had seemed Saturday to spend much of his 30-minute speech attacking the Liberals past and present.

"At the present, he is head of the government and instead of rebutting us, he might have been more effective saying what he is going to do," Mr. Pearson said.

The late C. D. Howe, former trade minister, and Mitchell Sharp, former deputy trade minister and now a Toronto Liberal candidate, had been called "bureaucratic bullies."

DEFENDS HOWE RECORD

"Mr. Howe is not here to defend himself," Mr. Pearson said. But his "record stands on its own feet" as a contribution to Canadian development. Mr. Sharp was a victim of personal attack because he quit the civil service, became a senior business figure and now was seeking to defeat the government.

Despite the "apparent emotional sincerity of 1957 and 1958 campaign pledges, the government had failed in four main ones. A Liberal government on its past record and its program could do better in expanding economic activity to allow Canadians to help themselves.

Mr. Pearson, speaking at the end of a 10-stop tour from Sault Ste. Marie along the Trans-Canada Highway, kept track of the importance of uranium in his riding. He has a trip back to Elliot Lake, the one-time uranium boom town, scheduled later this month.

It was scandalous that despite assurances otherwise by government spokesmen, no arrangement yet had been made about renegotiating a sales agreement with Britain. That would have gone some way in keeping uranium centres busy, Mr. Pearson said. Perhaps an agreement would be announced the day before the election.

In answer to an audience question, one of several, he said a Liberal government would maintain North Bay, as an RCAF base. Liberal policy of no nuclear weapons, for the time being at least, would nullify the Bomarc base but other continental air defence functions of detection would keep North Bay's defence function alive.

URBAN PORTION

Canada in 1961 had about 50 municipalities whose populations exceeded 25,000.

PCs Called Debt Creators By Socreds

BRANTFORD (CP) — Canada's debt-laden economy has condemned its people to the status of half-slaves, national Social Credit Leader Robert Thompson said Monday night.

Mr. Thompson told some 300 persons at a party rally that 46.6 cents of every dollar in the country goes to government.

When a government takes all a person earns "you become the slaves of the government," he said, "If it takes half of what you earn, you are half-slaves."

Mr. Thompson predicted the Diefenbaker government will become known as the greatest debt creators Canada has ever had.

The prime minister, he said, has moved only when pushed. "There is an election pushing him now and in the last four months he has moved more than he has in the last five years."

Mr. Thompson arrived at the home town of the late William Aberhart, first Social Credit premier of Alberta, from Montreal and a tour of Quebec.

He said the tour had shown him Social Credit is the strongest political force in the province.

In Montreal, the Social Credit leader declared that Canada does not need nuclear weapons.

"There is danger in a lot of nations having nuclear weapons," he said at a press conference and in a radio broadcast later. "We must keep the nuclear club as small as possible.

"Canada should go on a peace offensive," he said, and must use its influence to help African nations adopt more democratic principles.

He said he believes Canadians will elect a minority government June 18 and that there will be another election within a year.

His party would not join in any coalition 'government, except in a national emergency such as war, but the Liberals and the New Democrats might get together.

Mr. Thompson attacked socialism as the "road to communism" and said a Social Credit government would make Canada health insurance available to "senior citizens."

Many Odd Fellows, Rebekahs Attend Presbyterian Church

PICTON — More than 100 Odd Fellows and Rebekahs, plus the scarlet-coated I.O.O.F. band, paraded to the morning service at Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Sunday. Threatening rain failed to fall and was later replaced by bright sunshine. Members of the local Bay of Quinte Lodge and Macdpeish Rebekah Lodge were joined by members from district lodges, visitors including D.D.G.M. Arnold Dale, of Brighton, and District Grand Patriarch (encampment) Harley Parnell of Sidney. Regalia worn by members, flags whipping in the breeze, and the uniforms of the band added color to the parade.

The service was conducted by the minister, the Rev. Donald Kemble and saw the lovely edifice filled to capacity. The minister delivered a compell- ing message on the theme, Odd Fellows and Rebekahs, "Compassionate Love".

Relatively Unpopulated Countries of Free World Asked to Accept Refugees

HONG KONG (CP-AP)—The Hong Kong Human Rights Council has called on Canada and other relatively unpopulated countries of the free world to provide living space now thousands of refugees from Communist China.

The council, an affiliate of the International Council on Human Rights, said Hong Kong's capacity for further absorption of refugees has reached a "critical point." It said the world now must "render maximum aid in solving Hong Kong's tragic problem of the people."

The council specifically asked:

1. That Nationalist China "take immediate steps" to receive and resettle 100,000 refugee immigrants from Hong Kong during 1962-63.

2. That Canada, Australia and other countries "with vast open spaces and unexploited resources . . . to amend their immigration laws to absorb at least a few thousand refugee immigrants from Hong Kong every year."

3. That the United States and Britain set up a joint program to temporarily resettle and educate 3,000 to 5,000 school-age children every year.

4. That the responsibility of the United Nations high commissioner for refugees be expanded, to include resettlement of large numbers of Chinese refugees in other countries throughout the world.

Council spokesmen appeal came on the heels of Hong Kong's crackdown on illegal entry of refugees fleeing the mainland.

In the last month the colonial government has increased its patrols along the border and in the sea lanes used by scores of Chinese junks smuggling refugees into Hong Kong.

Refugees caught trying to enter the colony have been returned to China.

The council's criticism has come from Formosa, which, according to information here, has accepted only about 15,000 Chinese refugees in recent years.

Hong Kong's crackdown was taken reluctantly by the government here, which said it was necessary because the population had reached beyond the colony's capacity.

Nearly 1,500,000 refugees have swarmed into Hong Kong during the last 12 years. Hong Kong's present population was put at 3,000,000 at the end of the Second World War and has swollen to nearly 3,500,000.

In Algoma East You Eat Way Through Riding

SPANISH, Ont. (CP) — The candidate had a phrase for it.

"In Algoma East, you eat your way through the riding," Liberal Leader Pearson said.

He was right just about all the way from Sault Ste. Marie to Espanola, 120 miles eastward on the Trans-Canada Highway skirting the north shore of Lake Huron.

A steady diet of doughnuts, coffee, sandwiches, cake and other delicacies awaited the Pearson cavalcade that stopped at nine centres and one riding as the Liberal leader completed half a two-day visit to the constituency that made him a fledgling member of Parliament in a 1948 byelection. June 18 will be his fifth appeal to Algoma East electors.

Relaxed in a grey suit and matching sweater, Pearson took time to make it plain he considered himself among old friends.

At a noon box social among 50 persons at Thessalon, 33 miles from the Sault, Mr. Pearson met Mrs. Elizabeth Cooper, 96, of Dunn's Valley and gave her the first of numerous autographs for children—three on pink paper serviettes.

TORY, NDP OPPONENTS

On the edge of a table, hands in pockets, he said he had been introduced as the most famous Canadian in the world but it was more important to be known in Algoma East. He has Progressive Conservative and New Democratic Party opposition this time.

He said he is as absentee member of Parliament and that Mrs. Pearson agreed. Him. But all MPs today were in Ottawa since or 10 months each session. He would go back.

A Liberal victory nationally would be a good prospect, "now believe me, that is true," he said. He would not promise a dock because conditions had to change before such things could be implemented. But a Liberal government would try to create the economic activity that would provide it.

At Iron River, he drank coffee with a handful of local party executives in a restaurant. At Blind River, two miles north, in the "Last We Forget" Hall, he had more food.

PRESENTED CAKE

Besides doughnuts and coffee, there was a special white-and-chocolate cake, baked welcome to Blind River. Pro Prosperity, Hon. Lester B. Pearson."

Mr. Pearson carved some of the cake and it was shared among about 75 persons in the partially-filled hall.

At Sprague, he conferred with party members for 10 minutes in a garage and then drove on to a meeting place with Chief Bill Mackay of the 200-member Serpent River band of Ojibways. The chief, in a turkey feather headdress and a blue business suit talked local problems, including a new reserve school.

At Massey, the Massey Legion Hall, there was more coffee and doughnuts, Mr. Pearson said this was his sixth stop. He was behind schedule and was will shaking hands, but acquaintances when his wife bundled him from the hall.

At various stops, he spoke briefly in French.

Erb Refuses To Quit Seat

REGINA (CP) — J. Walter Erb, Liberal party elected a demand by the Milestone CCF - NDP constituency association that he resign his seat in the Saskatchewan Legislature.

"I can only say that I shall not at this moment accede to this demand," the former Saskatchewan public welfare minister said in a statement. "I shall, however, in due course state what my position is in this regard."

Mr. Erb, 53, resigned from the CCF government and the party last Thursday in a move that split the province's controversial medical care insurance program.

Stiff Baby-Sitting Courses Idea of Welfare Worker Of Bowness Safety Council

BOWNESS, Alta. (CP) — About 200 Bowness girls are among the best-qualified baby-sitters in the country. They are graduates of the Bowness Safety Council's stiff baby-sitting courses.

The courses, the idea of Mrs. M. Hunter, a welfare worker in this town adjacent to Calgary, now are in their third year. Two are held each year, one in February and one in September.

Mrs. Elizabeth Kuhn, who runs the courses for the safety council, said they were "set up so that parents could go out without any worries when they leave their kids in the hands of one of our girls."

The first course drew only nine girls, but the idea is catching on and the last had 40.

The girls attend one class a week for the three weeks and then on the fourth night are given instructions of movie and write an examination.

The passing grade is 75 per cent. Those who pass are given a certificate by the Alberta Safety Council saying they are qualified baby-sitters.

Mrs. Kuhn said there have been only three failures so far.

Wendy Rogers, 15, this year got 100 per cent. She said she has taught most of the things I learned many times when I was baby-sitting."

Wendy said the main lesson the girls learned was that their charges had to be watched constantly.

The second lesson is on safety habits. The girls are shown accidental dangers during the baby's feeding and sleep, safety in the handling of toys in a stress case the girl's are shown how to act youngsters play with toys that have small removable parts.

Special emphasis is placed on the dangers of matches, electrical fixtures, gasoline, cleaners and low cupboards where soap, cleaners or poisons are stored.

Firemen and ambulance operators instruct the girls during the third lesson in fire safety and basic first aid. They are shown how to deal with choking, bleeding, burns and convulsions and how to administer artificial respiration.

They are also shown what to do in case of fire.

"We feel," Mrs. Kuhn said, "that we're helping a lot of girls and young children who may be in potential danger."

The Alberta Safety Council apparently agrees. It has sent pamphlets to all the provincial explaining and recommending the Bowness program.

FIVE YEARS—15 CALVES — That's the record of "Daisy," part Holstein cow owned by the Goodfellow family of Keating, B.C. Seen above with George Goodfellow and his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Harvey Goodfellow. 'Daisy' last wear had quadruplets and in the past five years had given birth three times to triplets.

Roslin's Daisy Does It Again Has 15 Calves in Five Years

The Goodfellow family's "Daisy" cow has done it again!

Last year the Roslin district dairy herd's champion annual veteran circles and seized world-wide recognition when she gave birth to healthy quadruplet calves.

In the past six years George Goodfellow's cow has given birth to no less than 16 calves. Her first "confinement" was a single birth. Her succession came triplets, twins, triplets again, last year the quadruplets and this year the triplets and "Daisy" is now seven years old.

This year Mr. Goodfellow is relinquishing ownership of the prolific Holstein. He has decided to quit farming and will shortly move to Roslin village. His farm — and the prolific Holstein — is being taken over by his son Harvey and his wife.

Last year's quadruplet calves were reserved by the Goodfellows and as yearlings are now out to pasture.

They were born May 6th, 1961. This year's triplets were born on May 5th.

U-2 Flight Badly Handled Says Ike

NEW YORK (AP) — Look Magazine says former president Eisenhower admitted his administration blundered in originally denying the U-2 spy plane of Francis Gary Powers. The magazine adds that the president's own revealing him to keep his views private.

"In retrospect, the president realized that the crisis had been badly handled," the magazine says. "He admitted privately that the United States had jumped too soon in issuing its May 5 statement.

"Eisenhower also said this in an interview filmed by CBS for telecast on Nov. 23, 1961. But this portion of the film was withheld by the Kalmbach firm, IL-Col. John Eisenhower, the president's son, who is serving as his father's aide.

U.S. Space Agency Aims For May 17 Triple Orbit

WASHINGTON (CP) — The U.S. space agency is aiming for a May 17 triple orbit by astronaud, with the father of four children aboard the Mercury capsule that will attempt to duplicate the John Glenn shot with a few extra experiments thrown in.

An agency official said Monday the May 17 date "looks good" and that navy flier Scott Carpenter is showing up fine going through the same rigid pre-flight conditioning at Cape Canaveral which Glenn performed before he was sent aloft last Feb. 20.

But these flight dates are only tentative. Weather, electronic gremlins, human factors — almost anything can force a switch, Glenn's shot was delayed for three months.

Carpenter, 37, navy lieutenant-commander, will attempt to follow Glenn's triple flight around the earth in four hours, 56 minutes, at a peak altitude of 162.4 miles.

But he'll be asked to pay less attention to the spacecraft's performance and more attention to visual observations of things in and outside the craft.

Along with a transparent sphere of water in the ship—to learn more about water storage problems in space—Carpenter will be watching behavior of man-made particles to be ejected from the craft by means of a trailing balloon.

Carpenter also will be watching for reappearance of the strange "fireflies" seen luminous green particles which Glenn said appeared around his capsule as it moved into the sun's light on each orbit.

If possible, Carpenter will try to bring photographic evidence of their existence. Glenn tried to photograph them but said "it looks like there wasn't sufficient light emanating from them to register on the color film." Scientist John O'Keefe figures they may be flecks of paint from the spacecraft or condensation of moisture from the craft's heat exchanger.

Hamilton Says Plenty of Wheat To Be Exported

GRENFELL, Sask. (CP)— Agriculture Minister Alvin Hamilton said Monday more than 375,000,000 bushels of wheat will be exported during the crop year and the price will climb close to the ceiling of $2.12 set under the International Wheat Agreement.

It was Mr. Hamilton's first public appearance since Jan. 24 and his first major speech since May 15. He showed little effect of a recent heart attack and some paralysis of the right side of his face.

He spoke for more than two hours after he was nominated to seek re - election in the Qu'Appelle riding in the June 18 federal election.

Mr. Hamilton told the Progressive Conservative nomination meeting western farmers could expect the government to "grow more wheat than the Canadian farmers. Many farmers in low-income districts went in the East and "in the next four years much of my time is going to be spent in those regions."

Trade Minister Predicts Good Year for Canada

OTTAWA (CP)—Trade Minister Hees predicted Monday night that 1962 "will be one of the most prosperous years in our history" and that by the "end of this summer unemployment will have dropped to the lowest point in many years."

He told an Ottawa West nominating meeting that Canada's export trade will increase by "at least" 10 per cent this year and that there will be an export surplus in merchandise trade of $400,000,000.

The trade minister criticized a Liberal suggestion for a North Atlantic trading community, which, he said, would mean free trade with the United States.

And now (Liberal Leader) Pearson wants to include Japan in the free trade association his party stands for," said Mr. Hees.

"It takes little imagination to realize what effect free trade with Japan would have on most Canadian secondary industry."

Laotian Govt. May Have To Agree to Coalition Or Suffer Consequences

TOKYO (AP) — The Laotian pro - Communists have served notice on Premier Boun Oum Na Champassak, a stubborn rightist, that he had better join a coalition government or suffer the military consequences.

This appears to be the clear message behind the Pathet Lao's capture of the northwestern provincial capital of Nam Tha from Phoumi's forces.

The Communists would not have flouted the cease-fire in Laos so openly did they not believe Nam Tha could be employed as a powerful lever.

Phoumi, vice-premier of the Vientiane government and the man who actually pulls the strings, has refused to give the key ministries of defence and interior in the proposed coalition government of rightists, neutralists and pro-Communists to Souvanna Phouma, neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma.

PRESSURE PHOUMI

The United States, committed to the coalition formula, is pressuring Phoumi to withdraw his objections. U.S. General Barksdale has been withheld from the Vientiane government. But the general's lawyer has been able to get off with Premier Boum Oum on his stand-begging trip to various capitals.

In talking Nam Tha, the Pathet Lao have not necessarily reopened the civil war in earnest. It appears to have carefully let the air to new negotiations by dispatching Brigadier Gen. Kong Le to Moscow.

With Souvanna Phouma in Europe, the Pathet Lao seems to have gone to some pains to make it clear that they are clean hands as far as Nam Tha is concerned. They have not been identified as having any part in the assault on the town.

The Pathet Lao guerrillas behind Nam Tha still offer only six-hours of artillery harassment and fighting — is a sharp reminder that they, and not Phoumi's troops, were on the offensive last winter when the major powers brought about a cease-fire last year.

The United States feels that a coalition government in Laos headed by neutralist Souvanna Phouma is the best way to avoid bloodshed.

But if negotiations or moving in of a big expeditionary force would be fighting not only as a last resort but in one of the most inhospitable terrain on earth.

Wants U.S. To Cancel Plans For Explosion

LONDON (AP)—British scientists are stepping up pressure on the United States to cancel plans to explode a nuclear device 200 miles out in space that could blow a hole in the Van Allen radiation belt.

Criticism also has come from Prof. Martin Ryle, professor of radio astronomy at Cambridge University since 1959.

Informants said it is likely that the Royal Astronomical Society will pass a resolution highly critical of the U.S. plan when it meets Friday.

ASTRO ASTRONOMY

One of the criticisms made by both Lovell is that the explosion is being made without proper consultation with the scientists whose work would be most affected — the astronomers and those studying cosmic radiation.

The British scientists feel that the new blast planned by the U.S. over Johnston Island in the Pacific would violate a recent resolution of the International Astronomical Union. The group maintained that no nation has the right to change earth's environment in any significant way without full international study and agreement.

Some experts calculate it would take 10 years for the Van Allen radiation belt to recede from the explosion area. They said years of research on cosmic radiation would be spoiled if the bomb were detonated.

SEEK RESIGNATION

REGINA (CP) — The Milestone CCF-NDP Constituency Association of Mossbank has asked its member, J. Walter Erb, to resign his seat, Mr. Erb, former public works minister and minister of public health, quit the provincial cabinet and the CCF - NDP last week after a controversy was made in a statement issued by Mr. Stubbs, president of the association, following a meeting Sunday.

United States Unsurprised By Communist Laos Gains

By JOSEPH MacSWEEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

The United States is showing no signs of grief or surprise over the Communist breakthrough in Laos and Sunday.

U.S. officials have indicated on the contrary that the Communist capture of Nam Tha, town only 20 miles from the Red Chinese border, would not overturn the formation of a coalition government with neutralist Souvanna Phouma in the small Southeast Asian country.

Officially, the state department described the capture as a violation of the cease-fire which is supposed to be in effect in Laos since a year ago.

The cease-fire has been violated frequently since then, but such a scale. The U.S., it is reported, recently urged Laotian Western Premier Prince Boun Oum that he was looking for trouble but holding out for military strength in the Nam Tha area — a step regarded as provocative.

HOPED FOR COALITION

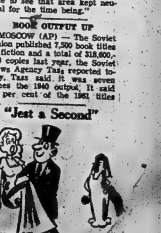
The hope has been that Boun could be persuaded to join with Premier Prince Souphanouvong's neutralist forces and Souvanna Phouma, in a coalition to rule the country of 2,000,000 with Souvanna at the head of the government.

Such a solution is the professed desire of both the U.S. and the Soviet Union at the Geneva conference on Laos that began in Geneva nearly a year ago.

Some sources in Geneva feel that Red China, a key member of the conference, believes it has only to wait and in time Iny Laos will come under its influence as an inevitable events of history.

Obviously repellent to the West, this idea is also said to be unattractive to Russia, worried about the expansionist policies of its giant Communist partner.

Chief of the U.S. fund it difficult to reconcile the comparatively elastic policy in Laos with its tough attitude in neighboring South Viet Nam.



Averell Harriman, U.S. assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs; did not appear to relish the role when he appeared on a television question program.

He said the Communists would share the West's desire for peace in Laos, but Harriman replied:

"I'm not a very attractive piece of real estate. I may well be that the Russians would like to see that area kept neutral for the time being."

BOOK OUTPUT UP

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union published 7,500 book titles of fiction and a total of 315,000,000 copies last year, the Soviet News Agency Tass reported today. Tass said it was three times the 1940 output. It said 84 per cent of the 1961 titles

Convenient drug store service for residents of the West Hill district is offered by Westgate Pharmacy, to be officially opened Wednesday... Now Pharmacy is on No. 2 Highway at the city limits and across from the Hastings County Home. Ample free parking is a feature of the store.

Westgate Pharmacy Opens For Business on Wednesday

That is the primary aim of Westgate Pharmacy opening Wednesday for business at the western entrance of the city on No. 2 highway opposite the Hastings county home.

Only five minutes from downtown Belleville Westgate Pharmacy offers a full range of drugs and drug sundries with licensed pharmacist on hand at all times to fill customers' prescriptions.

In addition to drugs and sundries, Westgate Pharmacy offers confectionery, photographic supplies, dairy and bakery products, paper goods, soft drinks, greeting cards and wraps, as well as a full range of nationally advertised cosmetics.

Manager of Westgate Pharmacy is E. F. "Bill" Bonnell, Pharm. B., with Harold C. Selden, Pharm. B., many years a Belleville druggist, as assistant manager. Dorothy Brickman, Reg. N., is store assistant and in charge of the cosmetic department.

OPENS WEDNESDAY

The new store is being officially opened on Wednesday, with free draws on opening day and for the balance of the week until Saturday. There will be free gifts for the first 1,000 customers.

Free city wide deliveries with speedy deliveries daily, are being offered while the store will be opened seven days a week from 8.30 in the morning until 10 in the evening.

One of the big attractions at Westgate Pharmacy, especially for auto owners is the oodles of free parking space — 2,500 square feet. A handsomely designed neon sign clearly marks the store for passing motorists.

In addition to its modern dispensary with its latest equipment and pharmaceutical products and other items associated with today's drug store, Westgate Pharmacy offers magazines and newspapers, 24-hour photographic printing and developing service and free testing of TV and radio tubes.

REGULAR GUESTS

Comedians Johnny Wayne and Frank Shuster make their 40th appearance in four years on the Ed. Sullivan TV show May 27.

A full range of pharmaceutical products along with dozens of other items found in a modern drug store is offered by Westgate Pharmacists. Licensed pharmacist will be on duty from 8.30 a.m. to 10 p.m., seven days a week. Drug store assistant Dorothy Brickman, Reg. N., is seen at counter.

Brenchley Port Huron Coach

PORT HURON, Mich. (CP)—Edward (Cairo) Brenchley, 48, of Niagara Falls, Ont., was signed Monday to coach this city's new entry in the International Hockey League.

Brenchley, who has been in hockey since 1928 as a player and coach, was coach of Sudbury Wolves of the Eastern Professional Hockey League for most of the 1961-62 hockey season.

One-Legger Turns in No-Hitter

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A 16-year-old pitcher with an artificial right leg turned in a no-hit, no-run game for the suburban Penn Hills high school baseball team Monday.

Righthander Tommy Walters gave up only one walk in blanking Setsuvale 3-0. He pitched a shutout last week. Walters' leg was amputated five years ago after he was injured in a football game.

Cleroux Offered Big Bout

MONTREAL (CP)—Bob Cleroux, Canada's tough but cumbersome heavyweight boxing champion, has been offered a June bout in New York's Madison Square Garden against the winner of the Cassius Clay-Billy Daniels fight May 19, it was learned Monday night.

No reply to the offer has been made because the Montrealer injured his right hand in his last bout—he was set back by Zora Folley in San Francisco—and his handlers are waiting to see how the injury heals.

The Garden offer is for either June 9 or June 16.

The Trots

MONTREAL (CP) — Mr. Niagara, Kentucky Colonel and Augustus each won a share of the $7,290 2-mi leg of the Graduate Pace, the feature of Monday night's program at Richelieu Park.

Twenty seven pacers answered the call for the feature, the field being divided into three groups for $2,430 jackpots.

Mr. Niagara won the sixth race, covering a fast track in 2:06 2-5 and returning $2.60, $2.60 and $2.50. Kentucky Colonel (6) won the $2.30 and $2.60) won the eighth race in 2:06 3-5 and Augustus (2) (2.10, $2.20 and $2.10) won the ninth in 2:05 1-5.

SEEK COACH

MONTREAL (CP) — Switzerland is looking for a Canadian coach for its national hockey team, Bob LeSel, president of the International Ice Hockey Federation, said Monday. He said he has received a cable from the Swiss Hockey Federation asking for help in locating one. The season would run from September to March.

Former Dodger Aids 'Bums' Nosedive

Tucks Homer In 3 Hits

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Turnabout, which has always been considered fair play, was bound to happen after the National League stocked its new clubs through a player draft. The No. 1 draftee today is Bob Aspromonte of Houston Colts.

The 23-year-old infielder, playing against his former Los Angeles Dodgers teammates for the first time this season, clouted three hits and drove in the winning runs with a three-run homer in a 9-6 Colt triumph Monday night that confirmed the Dodgers' nosedive.

Grabbed by the Colts for $75,000 in the expansion draft last October, Aspromonte was the chief executioner among the cast of castoffs who combined to hand the Dodgers their fifth defeat in eight games.

The wild bid cost the Colts only $75,000 but the pennant chase, Nine days ago they were only half a game out of first place. Now they're five back of the pace-setting San Francisco Giants. Ode Monday as everyone in the umpires bet the Dodgers and Colts broke a day off.

Aspromonte hit his homer in the seventh inning off reliever Ed Roebuck with two men on. Former Dodger Norm Larker singled with one out to get things started. An out later, Hal Smith singled to bring up Aspromonte, who drove the ball 380 feet into the left-field seats for an 8-6 Colt lead.

WINS FIRST GAME

Aspromonte's homer gave reliever Bob Tiefenauer all the working room he needed, but Johnny Weekly's homer in the eighth inning tacked on insurance run. Tiefenauer, getting his first decision of the 1962 campaign, allowed only one hit in three innings.

Chet Nichols, Don Camilli, young Dodger catcher filling in for the injured John Roseboro, Doug, son of former Dodger star Dolph Camilli, wound up with a double and two singles, giving him an 8-for-19 mark on the season.

The Colts took a 5-0 lead in the second inning when Joe Moeller and Ron Perranoski forced in runs with bases-loaded walks and Larker tagged a two-run single.

The Dodgers pecked away on the hitting of Camilli and Willie Davis, who had three hits to raise his average to .358, and moved ahead 6-5 in the sixth inning with a three-run splurge. Camilli singled in two runs in the set the stage for Aspromonte's game-winner.

However, managers must decide which players to trim from their rosters to reach the 25-player limit by the Thursday midnight deadline.

In transactions Monday, the White Sox optioned former 22-game winner Herb Score to Indianapolis, Detroit Tigers sold outfielder George Alusik to Kansas City Athletics and sent pitcher Terry Fox to their Denver farm club and the Cardinals optioned pitcher Paul Toth to Atlanta.

Claude Provost, Runner-Up

Dave Keon Byng Trophy Winner

MONTREAL (CP) — Sophomore Dave Keon of Toronto Maple Leafs today was named winner of the Lady Byng Memorial Trophy as the player best combining gentlemanly conduct and proficiency in the National Hockey League last season.

The stylish 23-year-old centre won the award by polling 171 out of a possible 180 points in two votes by a panel of hockey writers and broadcasters in the six NHL cities.

Claude Provost of Montreal Canadiens, the leader after the first ballot, was runner-up with 97 points. Don McKenney of the Boston Bruins was third with 47.

Points were awarded on a 9-5-1 basis for first, second and third choices on each ballot. The first vote covered games up to Dec. 30 and the second was on games during the second half of the season, excluding Stanley Cup playoffs.

The award carries a $1,000 prize from the league and gives Keon $5,750 in NHL bonus money for last season—tops for any player so far.

SCORED 61 POINTS

Keon, Leafs' second highest point-getter with 26 goals and 35 assists, already was assured of $4,250 since the Leafs finished second in the championship race and won the Stanley Cup in the post-season playoffs. He got another $500 for being named to the league's second all-star team last year.

Keon polled 66 of his 71 points on the second ballot. Provost collected 36 points on the first ballot, but only 31 on the second.

Other players named for the award, with point totals received included: Red Kelly, Toronto (38); Camille Henry, New York Rangers (36); Alex Delvecchio, Detroit Red Wings (33); and Johnny Bower, Toronto (11).

Keon, who last season copped the Calder Memorial Trophy as the top rookie, became the sixth Toronto player to win the Lady Byng since the award was put up for competition in 1936-37.

Keon, born in Noranda, Que., drew only one penalty in 64 games — a two-minute minor early in the season.

Named Manager

GUELPH (CP) — Herb McNamara, who managed Guelph Merchants of the Senior Inter-County Baseball Association in 1958-59, has been named field manager of Guelph Anthonys, who play in the junior circuit. Anthonys open the season May 20 at Kitchener against the Dodgers, last year's all-Ontario junior champions.

Sport Slices...

RARE, MEDIUM, WELL-DONE

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

Wandering along the harbor or waterfront you sometimes run into some odd stories. For instance one morning last week I came across a stranger who was fishing near the yacht club.

He told me—and the lump in his cheek was a baseball-player size cud of Old Smokey—that during the opening day he had hooked an 11½ pound pickerel in the bay off the rivermouth.

Why didn't he report it, have his picture taken with it—enter it in Prince Edward Chamber of Commerce Pickerel Derby? He figured fishing was a personal hobby; it was nobody's darn business what he caught; he didn't like publicity and besides he could bet he'te reached Picton in time to enter the lunker

I pried out of him that he had been pickerel fishing in the Bay of Quinte, the Trent River and the district's inland waters for 10 these many years. He had caught some prize beauties in his day but had never bothered to do anything about them except golden-fry them in a piping hot skillet.

"I have fished these waters for a long time," he said, "and I can say that Saturday's opening day for pickerel was the best I have seen in the bay, especially by around the mouth of the Moira for them many years."

Subsequent events proved him right. But the fishing was poor in that pickerel-anglers' haven, Hay Bay, while the Trent River has not yielded much to write home about.

The Prince Edward Pickerel Derby proved a success, some 650 entries from the district, Toronto, and other outside centres registering for the two-day sport. A lot of entries ended in the bay near the city, were not registered which brings up the suggestion that an opening-day pickerel Derby could be staged here by some sponsoring organization.

Over 100 boats carrying some three hundred anglers were noted in the bay off the CFB bridge on opening Saturday and following Sunday. Many others sat up and down the bay and it would not be a bad guess to say that some 500 pickerel seekers were in action in this immediate fishing district over the weekend.

Well-publicized, I believe the derby would be a success. I leave the idea in the hands of the Chamber of Commerce and the Belleville and District Fish and Game Association.

Speaking of fishing "derbies" and contests, the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters are again sponsoring their "Big Fish Contest." Entry forms can be secured from the Federation secretary, Box 370, Ridgetown, Ontario

Fish must be legally caught on rod, reel and line in Ontario waters during regular open seasons between April 25th and October 31, 1962.

Some $2,200 in cash awards will be made to the winners in largemouth and smallmouth bass classes, northern pike, muskinonge, pickerel and lake, rainbow and speckled trout

The winner in each class gets $100; second prize is $75; third $50; fourth $25; fifth $12; sixth to tenth $15 and eleventh to fifteenth $10. The prize winners will be announced on December 15, 1962. Cash awards are given by Molson's Brewery (Ontario) Ltd.

Tournament winners have produced some fine fish since the "Big Fish Contest" was inaugurated four years ago. They are not national record holders, but some nice lunkers have been landed.

This tournament record holding fish are: largemouth bass 9 lbs. 4 ozs.; smallmouth, 8 lbs. 8 ozs.; muskies, 48 lbs 13 ozs; pike, 34 lbs. 2 ozs; pickerel, 19 lbs. 3 ozs.; lake trout, 14 lbs. 4 ozs.; rainbow, 14 lbs. 3 ozs., and speckles, 9 lbs. 4 ozs.

AH League Names All-Stars

NEW YORK (AP) — Springfield Indians, Calder Cup titleholders, placed goalie Marcel Paille, defenceman Kent Douglas and centre Bill Sweeney on the American Hockey League all-star team for the 1961-62 season.

Others named to the first team in a vote of hockey writers and broadcasters in the circuit's eight cities were defenceman Aldo Guidolin and right winger Fred Glover of Cleveland Barons and left winger Barry Cullen of Buffalo Bisons.

The Indians also placed two men on the second team. They were defenceman Bob McCord and right winger Floyd Smith. Defenceman Jimmy Morrison of Quebec Aces, goalie Bobby Perreault and centre Willie Marshall of Hershey and left winger Dick Gamble of Rochester Americans also were chosen.

Each player on the first team receives $200 while those on the second team get $200 apiece from the league.

Leafs Take Four From Crackers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If Toronto Maple Leafs of the International League were a little sad today, they couldn't be blamed. They must have hated to say goodbye to Atlanta.

The Leafs and the Crackers finished a four - game series Monday night where Toronto walked off with a 13-1 victory. That gave the Leafs four victories in four games and a total of 38 runs for the series—an amazing average of more than 14 runs a game.

The sweep also lifted the Leafs into third place with an 8-7 won-lost mark, two games off the pace.

Steve Demeter hit two homers Monday night and Lou Johnson and Stocky Nelson chipped in with one apiece. Demeter finished the series with four homers and 13 runs batted in. Lefty Hip Coleman had an easy time scattering nine hits.

In other action, Buffalo Bisons clobbered the league - leading Jacksonville Suns 11-0, Columbus Jets turned back Rochester Red Wings 5-1 and Syracuse Chiefs blanked Richmond Virginians 4-0.

At Atlanta, homers by Johnson and Demeter produced four of the five Toronto runs off loser LeRoy Gregory in the first inning. The remaining Leafs added six more off Bob Mullen when Hughes made the third, with two scoring on a homer by Demeter and two via Johnson's single. Nelson's home run in the sixth inning off Hughes completed the Toronto scoring.

The Bisons' big win put them one game behind the Suns. Walter Seward gave the Suns the whitewash treatment, holding them to six hits. Shortstop Bob Winn hit a homer for the Bisons.

Heath Popper held the Red Wings to three hits for the first seven innings for the Jets. He was behind in the first when Columbus scored all three runs off loser Tom Baker.

John Glenn went all the way for the Chiefs and held the Virginians to four hits. Only one Virginian got as far as second base. Joe Christopher hit a homer and 4 triple off loser Rod Lesko.

Cards Face Tough Schedule

Stan The Man Hitting For Records

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — Stan Musial is so busy rewriting baseball's record book it is easy to forget he's hitting .375 with a pennant-contending club.

The next two weeks will be a tough battle for us," the 41-year - old Cardinal outfielder said in a telephone interview from St. Louis Monday.

"We play the Giants three straight and then the Dodgers three in a row. After that we turn right around and play the same clubs six straight on the Coast."

Musial has two baseballs from Cincinnati that will go to his trophy rack. They represent his feat of tying and then beating the National League record of 2,785 for most games played — set by the late Honus Wagner.

Musial is expected to get another ball soon that will raise his batting in his home. It will represent his 3,000th base hit, a new league record set by Wagner.

NEEDS FIVE MORE

The magic number is five for Musial to tie the mark. In the old days that was two night's work. Now it might take slightly longer.

"Somehow I'm not worked up about it as much as when I was getting close to 3,000 hits," said Musial. "Maybe it will be different the closer I get. If I get a couple early maybe I can sneak this one in there."

Musial wanted to collect his 3,000th hit at home, but it came three years ago in a game at Pittsburgh where Stan was needed as a pinch hitter.

"I was 38 when I got the 2,000th hit. I figured I'd played a long way off, I didn't know if I would be around that long. When you are 39 years old, 400 more hits are a lot."

Musial won his first batting title in 1943, Wagner added to his home town to take part in a banquet honoring Stan.

"I always appreciated that," said Musial. "He told me he had won one or eight batting championships and he always hoped I'd be able to match him. I never thought I'd be up here close to his records."

Ken Colling Memorial Race

The 18th annual running of the Ken Colling Memorial Run will be held tomorrow (Wednesday) afternoon, starting from the BCIVS campus at 4.30 p.m.

An entry list of 50 district secondary school harriers will be headed by Moira Secondary School's Bill Vermilyea, defending for his third consecutive victory and permanent possession of the Colling Trophy.

Vermilyea (16:0) holds the four-mile course record time of 19.39, set last year. He also won it in 1960 in the time of 20:9.3.

The race starts at John Street, travels along Queen to McDonald Ave., then to Victoria Ave., to Greenlawn to Herchimer, then along the long stretch of Station Street, up the difficult Church Street hill to the finish opposite BCIVS at John Street.

Prize money is distributed among the leaders and all finishers will receive crests. Presentations are made in the school gym following completion of the race.

Officials for the race include Master, Father McGee of Michalen Catholic College, clerk Mr. Honour Townsend of BCIVS, with the timers to be appointed.

The trophy and crests are donated by Mr. Cleo Colling and the host club is the Bogy Athletic Society of BCIVS.

Have Three Leaders

Giants Are Top Hitters

NEW YORK (AP)—At the rate San Francisco Giants are going, they're likely to wind up with a stranglehold on the important batting departments in the National League.

Giants' outfielder Harvey Kuenn, the league's best batting with a .383 average, Willie Mays, San Francisco's star outfielder, leads in home runs with 10 while first baseman Orlando Cepeda has the most runs batted in—26.

Kuenn, out for a week with an injured toe, returned to the lineup Monday and got a hit and promptly collected two hits, including a home run, in five times at bat. Stan Musial of St. Louis Cardinals and Tony Gonzalez of Philadelphia Phillies are tied for second place at .375.

In the American League, rookie Mannie Jimenez of Kansas City Athletics climbed into first place with a .391 average. The 23-year-old outfielder from the Dominican Republic acquired in a five-player trade with Minnesota Braves last December, had nine hits in 26 tries last week.

Floyd Robinson of Chicago White Sox, the pace-setter a week ago with a .441 average, dropped to .381. Mickey Mantle of New York Yankees climbed to second place at .367.

Leon Wagner of Los Angeles Angels slammed three homers and leads the circuit with nine. Robinson had the most runs batted in at 27. He drove in five last week.

BOSTON (AP) — Three jet aircraft mechanics from Connecticut who bet on an engine's number are co-winners of the $56,677.

After identifying themselves to track officials, the three left with their winnings, mostly in $20 and $100 bills. One of the men said he had been considering payoff on a $2 ticket—$28,677.

There wasn't a No. 7 horse in the sixth race, so the commissioned bettor took the next lowest numbered colt. That produced the winning combination of 2-6-4-1.

Horse Show Cancelled

KITCHENER (CP) — The Rotary Club Monday cancelled the fifth annual Central Ontario Horse Show, scheduled for Friday and Saturday. The decision was taken when it was announced that the multiterrain course, needed to horse the horses, would not be ready on time. More than 300 entries had been received.

Moss May Lose Use Arm, Leg

LONDON (Reuters) — Racing driver Stirling Moss, 32, injured in a 180 mile-an-hour crash Easter weekend, may never regain the full use of his left arm and leg, it was announced today.

The Kidmon Morley Hospital in London, where Moss has been recovering from the crash, said it is pending "full recovery and function in the arm and leg will not take place."

The announcement said his life no longer is in danger. He was in a coma for several days after the crash.

The hospital said Moss "continues to make slow and steady progress. Now that his conscious level is so much improved and he has quite long lucid periods, it is possible to say with certainty that he has a marked weakness of the whole of the left side of the body, involving the face, arm and leg."

"This weakness is not associated with the fractures of the left arm and leg, but is due to severe bruising of the right side of the brain. Recovery from the brain damage is likely to be a slow process."

Tonight In Kitchener

Kings Face Do-or-Die

KITCHENER (CP) — Hamilton Red Wings are in a position to go home with the Memorial Cup tonight and nobody knows that better than Roy Brayshaw, the Kitchener-Waterloo coach. Hamilton leads 3-1 in games.

"We played well enough to win Saturday but we didn't score. If we play that way next time we should take the game. The breaks have got to come but we've done them a favor."

The beautiful Kitchener Memorial Gardens will be the third arena to handle this year's series and prospects are for the best crowd in the production's 26-year history. Joe Oil Kings win.

Brayshaw said he will shake up his lines in a bid to produce a winning combination. He plans to start by dismantling the "special assistance" line of Marc Dufour, Norm Beaudin and Butch Paul that was instrumental in production's 10-goal splurge.

Dufour, from Brandon Wheat Kings, and Beaudin, from Regina, were added to the team for the stretch run.

The eastern champs, meanwhile, will stick to the lineup which change would be substitution of Jack Hamilton for defenceman Rob Hamilton. But this would be done only if Larry Hillman, who has a foot injury, is able to dress.

Brayshaw said he was happy to see the remaining fans of the series switched to Kitchener.

Kitchener Auditorium has been booked for a horse show and hockey and the show was cancelled when new stabling could not be completed in time.

Brayshaw renewed an attack on refereeing in the series.

"We need men who have refereed this type of hockey before," he said. "The man we have is from Manitoba and he just hasn't done the handling hockey played this way. We would have been satisfied with an OHA man even before the series started.

"Bush and some complaints, too. The Oil Kings, he said, are too rough.

Bush said he was hit in the stomach by a stick wielded by Edmonton defenceman Jim Eagle during Saturday's game. His also accused Eagle of deliberately shooting the puck at Hamilton's Lowell MacDonald.

The Tracks

TORONTO (CP) — Vase, a seven-year-old grey filly ridden by Pat Remillard, won the $8,075 Star Shoot Stakes for the only racing season opened at Old Woodbine Monday.

Vase, the favorite with the crowd of 9,320, paid $8 to win as she defeated Roman Anna by a neck. Caledon Belle was third.

Guiding Wave and Tadoussac won the first two races to combine for a daily double of $72.80. The quinella of Ocho Rios and Barricade in the fifth paid $20.20.

Douglas Hatch of Niagara Falls, Ont., who has raced a modest stable on Ontario tracks for 10 years, had one of his best days when he won two races. He captured the fifth with Ocho Rios and the sixth with North Bay. Both horses were saddled by trainer Johnny Starr.

Two claims were lodged but disallowed by the stewards after they viewed the film patrol pictures. Guiding Wave and Ocho Rios were the horses against which claims of foul were lodged.

Signs Players

GUELPH (CP) — Mike Wallace, field manager of Guelph Royals of the Senior International Baseball Association, Monday announced the signing of pitcher John Pobolicky and catcher Dick Rockwell.

The two formed an outstanding battery for the now-defunct Listowel Legionaires last season. Pobolicky is from Detroit and Rockwell from Waverly, N.Y.

PLAN TOUR

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit Tigers will tour Japan in October and play teams from the two Japanese professional baseball leagues, it was learned Monday. The Tigers, of the American League, also will make stops in Hawaii and Hong Kong, a reliable source told The Associated Press.

Western Hockey All-Stars

SEATTLE (AP) — Calgary Stampeders and Seattle Totems placed two players each on the Western Hockey League 1961-62 All-Star team, announced Monday by league headquarters here.

The other two members of the team are from Edmonton's league champion Flyers and Portland Buckaroos.

Driver Spins Car Misses Wall

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Jack Fairman, veteran English road racer, spun his Kimberly Special around twice on the Indianapolis Motor Speedway Monday but missed the concrete wall and came in under his own power.

It was the first time on the 2½-mile track for the 43-year-old Fairman, who is driving on a little too fast for a beginner to please U.S. Auto Club officials in charge of practice for the 500-mile race May 30.

Chief steward Harlan Fengler fined Fairman $25 for driving at speeds higher than his instructions called for. Fairman was running about 118 miles an hour in his rear-engined car.

VETERAN PANELIST

Bennett Cerf, the New York book publisher and veteran of What's My Line, joins the panel on CBC's Front Page Challenge May 8.

LAST 2 DAYS AT THE BELLE — Academy Award Winner Sophia Loren, "Best Actress of the Year", for her performance in "Two Women", playing today and Wednesday at the Belle Theatre. Eleanora Brown plays her 15-year-old daughter in the English language version of the new classic. A special added attraction, "Laugh With the Clowns", crammed with fun, and, in Technicolor.

AT THE BELLEVILLE DRIVE-IN — Robert Mitchum and May Britt in a scene from "The Hunters", the adventure-romance of the jet age in color now playing the Belleville Drive-In Theatre. "The Long Hot Summer", also in color, and featuring Paul Newman, Joanne Woodward and Anthony Franciosa is the second feature attraction.

Raymond Burr Not Happy With Last Year's Series

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — Perry Mason, ill-disguised by a new crew cut and using the name Raymond Burr, passed through New York like a small hurricane, on his way to a two-week holiday.

He paused long enough to say hello to his CBS employers, and two Broadway shows and the Peter Lind Hayes supper club actually ate hours on the long-distance telephone settling his Hollywood housing problems.

Next season the production of Perry Mason moves to a new studio, a shift proving more disturbing to Burr than the impending transfer of his program from the network's Saturday night schedule to Thursday night.

When his show is in production, Burr stays at the studio during the week and until now has lived in a small bungalow once Mae West's dressing room. He carries the major burden of the weekly hour show and spends almost all his non-sleeping hours studying his lines. The problem is to find him living space in the new, smaller studio.

Between calls to California, Burr managed to find time for a few harsh words about last season's output of Perry Mason programs—he was, frankly, unhappy about the quality and complexity of the scripts and the rigidity of the show's format.

"I think—or perhaps I should say, I hope—we'll do better next season," he said. "Anyway, moving the show to a Thursday night where we'll be running into some real competition will put us on the firing line. It will be good for us."

After a two-week trip to Italy, Burr will spend a month playing Critic's Choice in summer theatres in Chicago and Detroit.

"Getting back on a stage will be a real vacation," he said.

A face that has been missing from television for some time will be seen again in August; Arthur Godfrey has been signed to do a week's worth of host chores on the Tonight show.

Godfrey, a CBS star for almost three decades, will be working for NBC. It knows that Godfrey has been yearning to return to television but that CBS has not been able to bring a regular show—or even a special—for him.

Comedy Star Is Carrying Home Harvest of Scripts

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — British comedy star Peter Sellers came to Hollywood for his first visit and is carrying home a harvest of movie scripts.

"I am overwhelmed," admitted the actor. "I never imagined that I would be so well received."

Strange place, Hollywood. The town could observe Sellers' popularity from afar with some interest. But set him invade the city limits, and he suddenly becomes the hottest thing since Donald Duck.

Midway in his stay here, Sellers had reaped 15 scripts. At least two film deals seemed definite. He plans to make a movie with Stanley Kubrick, for whom he did Lolita, in October. He conferred with Billy Wilder about a comedy to be made next year. He appears set for Jerry Wald's Ulysses and Joe Pasternak's Seven Sides of the Apple.

"I must say, it has been highly gratifying," he said with a hint of English reserve. His first question of Hollywood:

"Rather sketchy, since I have only been here a few days, but it seems at first glance to be a very beautiful, very colorful place. There's a marvelous sky or may not be proven wrong after you have scratched the surface; my suspicion is that it may."

MEETS KENNEDY

Sellers' visit is mainly dazzled, but he was still somewhat starry-eyed at his experience of appearing for the White House correspondents' dinner in Washington.

"Imagine — meeting President Kennedy," he said. "He was very kind and he had seen my pictures in Washington and wanted to know if I were being treated well.

"But the amazing thing is that I had to come to the United States to meet my own actress mother-in-law, Harold Macmillan."

Sellers said politics and show business don't mix in England as they do here — "the closest I've come to it was when I was in the House of Commons, as an ordinary citizen."

He has a favored group that is invited to Windsor Castle, he added, "but they are from the legitimate theatre."

Astrological Forecast

For May 9

By SYDNEY OMARR

Aries (March 21 to April 19) Emphasis on home improvement, both physical and emotional, meaning that family members demand to be heard. Be fair, straighten out misunderstandings. Assist co-workers.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20) Ability to manage more than one track is very essential today. Key is versatility. Expanding effort indicated. Tact, supervisory, read. And be flexible.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) Knowing what you want, and how long it will take to get it, very important. This has to do sacrifices. Face facts steadily.

Cancer (June 22 to July 21) Moon in your sentient sign stresses personality, independence, ability to speak up and be heard by right people who will be convinced. Successful days are ahead.

Leo (July 22 to August 21) Overcome restlessness by creative expression of abilities. Think programs through. Come up with valuable suggestions at work or via personal activity, including writing.

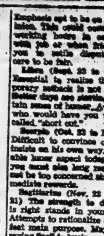
Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Emphasis apt to be on your sociable. This could mean dating with zest, or meeting somebody with job or when friend asks you to settle dispute. Take care to be fair.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Essential to realize that temporary setback is not tragedy. Better days are coming. Maintain sense of humor. Avoid one who would have you take so-called "short cut."

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Difficult to convince one who thinks all the way. Favorable hours accent today needed. You must aim long range and not be too concerned about immediate rewards.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) The strength to do what is right stands in your favor. Attempts to rationalize can defeat main purpose. May mean saying "no" to business or marital partner on finances.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Easy to become involved in family argument unless you take care to avoid such unpleasantness. Be diplomatic, reasonable, especially where contracts are concerned.



Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Day when you get off to late start by "fiddling up-stream." You may be delighted at cooperation received from fellow workers. Accept graciously.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to March 20) No need to hold back emotional desires or ideas. Moon positive in chart shows today can be exciting and productive. But you must give of yourself, unselfishly.

If today is your birthday you are inquisitive. You want to know why things happen. You are interested in people and are a natural psychologist. Your promise to be one of change and travel.

GENERAL TENDENCIES—Thirty days when security combines with obvious need for reorganization. Subject of attention/spotlighted. Key is transition. One in public eye could present newsworthy plan.

Alcoholism

By Matthew B. Dymond, M.D., Health Minister for Ontario

Mention was made in last week's discussion of the important part played by Alcoholics Anonymous in the recovery of many thousands of men and women from addiction to alcohol. Since its birth in 1935 at Akron, Ohio, this world-famous fellowship of recovered alcoholics has been responsible for the rehabilitation of more men and women than has any other therapeutic program.

It can also be said that A.A.'s demonstration of effective recovery from alcoholism among men and women in all walks of life has been a vital force in sparking the birth and growth of many governmental alcoholism control programs.

Alcoholics Anonymous is a fellowship of men and women whose primary purpose is to stay sober and to help other alcoholics toward sobriety. The key to the A.A. program for recovery is known as "The Twelve Steps", and it provides a step-by-step pathway upward from the point where a person is willing to admit that he "is powerless over alcohol . . . that his life has become unmanageable". That is the first step. The twelfth step involves carrying the A.A. message to other alcoholics and practising the basic principles of A.A. in all aspects of life. In between, the alcoholic is led through humility, prayer, meditation, dependence upon "a power greater than ourselves", and an honest and thorough look at his own shortcomings.

It is a good program for any person to follow, alcoholic or not. Indeed this same program has in recent years been adapted for "Narcotics Anonymous" and "Gamblers Anonymous", and a clergyman has just brought out a little book adapting the same formula to the use of people generally with any serious problem.

All of which underlines the fact that alcoholics are people with a variety of human problems who have mistakenly learned to turn to alcohol for help instead of attempting to cope with themselves and their difficulties by more constructive means. Science has not yet discovered that alcoholics differ in any essential way, either physically or mentally, from other men and women. (Despite the fact that many research projects have started confidently off in just such a direction).

Alcoholism is a complex puzzle, but the parts are gradually being sorted out; and the latest report from the Addiction Research Foundation confirms the Department of Health is the belief that there is a sound basis for a feeling of optimism concerning the future. The foundation says: "Our chances of acquiring the knowledge necessary to make reasonable headway against these problems of addiction now appear to be much more hopeful than was the case even a year or two ago".

This article concludes series.

SUICIDE RATE HIGH

LONDON (AP) — More than 5,000 men and women commit suicide each year in Britain, the Mental Health Research Fund reported Sunday. This about equals the number of people killed in traffic accidents. Undiagnosed depressive illness is one of the commonest ailments that leads to suicide, a fund booklet says.

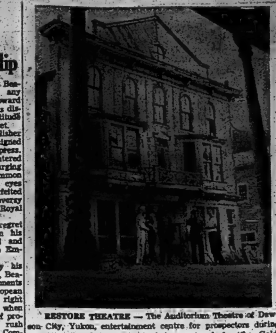
Beaverbrook Writes Letter To Prince Philip

LONDON (AP) — Lord Beaverbrook Sunday denied any feeling of animosity toward Prince Philip but said he is disturbed by the prince's attitude toward the Common Market.

The Canadian-born publisher defined his position in a signed article in his Sunday Express.

He claimed Philip "entered the political arena" by urging Britain to join the Common Market. In Beaverbrook's eyes this means Philip has forfeited the protection from controversy which surrounds the Royal Family.

Beaverbrook expressed regret he had himself failed in his "struggle for a political and commercial union" of the Empire.



Referring to Philip by his title of Duke of Edinburgh, Beaverbrook said: "The opponents of our joining the European Economic Union have a right to strike back at the duke when he joins with the group of propagandists who hope to ruin Britain in adopting the Common Market.

"And for myself I don't care what public funds the duke spends on airplanes, helicopters, motors and railway trains. His expense accounts don't interest me.

"But his political pronouncements do disturb me. It is my firm belief that the Common Market, which he supports, will in effect destroy the remnants of the system of imperial preference, and on that account the structure of the British Empire or Commonwealth, if you prefer it."

WOULD BUY JETS

NEW DELHI (Reuters)—The Indian government is reported negotiating to buy the latest supersonic Soviet jet fighter planes. Informed sources said an immediate order for at least 24 Soviet fighters was expected to follow up the purchase from Russia of about 16 more Antonov 12 transport planes. The aerial buildup comes amid deteriorating relations between India and Communist China over their longstanding border dispute.

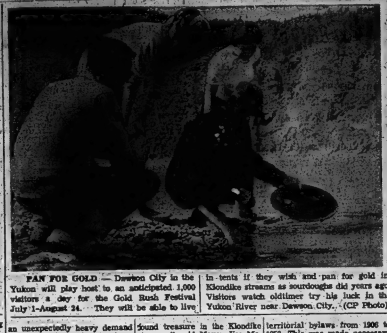
Yukon Gold Rush Capital Preparing for Celebration

By ATHOL RETALLACK
Canadian Press Correspondent

DAWSON CITY, Yukon (CP) — Spring creeps slowly into this Yukon gold rush capital as it prepared to celebrate its 60th anniversary of incorporation as a city.



After a long, cold winter—during which it cost $775 a month to keep electric heaters on the 31 fire hydrants—excitement is mounting as the 800 residents look to a summer busier than any since the days when gold lured adventurers from many countries.

The people who live here the year round will be outnumbered by visitors with 1,000 expected to be here for each day of the Gold Rush Festival July 1 to Aug. 24.

The Palace Grand Theatre (it was called the Auditorium Theatre when built in 1899) is getting the finishing touches as workmen complete its restoration for the world premiere of a new musical based on Ben Johnson's "Volpone."

SEASON EXTENDED

The festival was originally planned for seven weeks but sponsors say they have added another week to accommodate

FAN FOR GOLD — Dawson City in the Yukon will play host to an anticipated 1,000 visitors a day for the Gold Rush Festival July 1-August 24. They will be able to live in tents if they wish and pan for gold in Klondike streams as sourdoughs did years ago. Visitors watch oldtimer try his luck in the Yukon River near Dawson City.—(CP Photo).

"Advance bookings have been unbelievable," said Tom Patterson, founder of Ontario's Stratford Shakespearean Festival and planning consultant for the Gold Rush Festival.

"In little more than a month we've received 25,000 inquiries and bookings from Peru, Australia, England, Germany, Sweden, Africa and from all over the North American continent."

The boards of the 501-seat theatre, where such greats of other eras as Douglas Fairbanks Sr. once trod, will come alive again with a cast headed by veteran comic Bert Lahr. The book is by Ian McLellan Hunter and Ring Lardner Jr., music by Robert Emmet Dolan and lyrics by Johnny Mercer.

The musical isn't the only attraction. There's still gold here although no one will get rich from it. Arrangements have been made for visitors to tour the gold fields and try their luck at panning. They'll be permitted to keep what they find.

"Sixty-four years ago people from all over the world filled the streets of Dawson City and found treasure in the Klondike streams," said Mayor Jim McCausland, a 58-year-old Irishman.

"We hope to see the streets overflowing again during the Gold Rush Festival. We will show our visitors a living picture of a famous era in the history of Western Canada and the United States."

For those who prefer more of the Klondike atmosphere than can be had in hotel or motel there will be a tent city. Those who sleep in the tents will get scrolls as honorary sourdoughs.

Residents hope the festival will restore some of the glory of the old Dawson City which has seen some hard times since it had its first mayor, Henry Macauley, a bustlerasmh and canoe-racing champion from Victoria.

He and his five - member council were faced with the problem of administering an isolated, gold-rich community that then had a population of 25,000, of whom 25 per cent were Americans.

Although the city now is celebrating its 60th birthday, it was governed by the commissioner of the Yukon under territorial bylaws from 1906 to 1950. This was made necessary by a declining population and the overlapping of territorial and municipal offices in the community.

In 1950, three years before the capital of the Yukon was moved to Whitehorse, a mayor and council were elected.

Today the town's 75 businesses, including five hotels and beverage rooms, two banks, a greenhouse, five cafes and two garages.

The chief commodity for sale, however, is history—the saloons where fortunes were won and lost; the fashionable shops that once sold Paris and London fashions; the outdoor museums of mining equipment from the past, and streams with such names as Bonanza, Last Chance, Gold Run and Gold Bottom.

Mystery Man Unmasked In Crime Probe

Curly Gardner Terrified Of McDermott, Papalia

TORONTO (CP) — The unmasking of Mr. X and the story of an attempt to get into business with a multi-millionaire by underworld figures at an Ontario royal commission on crime resumed hearings after an 11-day recess.

The commission, heard evidence ranging from a transcript version of a hard-luck story by a small-time wrangler to promises of a dazzling, previously styled as Mr. X to attempts by the Joseph McDermott-Vincent Fessley gambling combine to deal with the multi - millionaire E. P. Taylor and CNR president Donald Gordon.

It included bits and pieces of inconclusive information about someone trying to fix the outcome of a gambling trial.

The Windsor mystery man was identified as John F. (Curly) Gardner, 51. The released convict, on his evidence at a hush-hush sitting of the commission showed him as a friend of McDermott and Fessley and John (The Enforcer) Papalia, Toronto underworld figure held in New York in connection with an international narcotics conspiracy.

OPERATE CLUB

Gardner and Leo Finnigan, also of Windsor, operate a night club called the Rossland.

He testified at the second session that they have lived steadily for several years to keep the Rossland "a swing ... somewhere upwards of $50,000" and that Finnigan had $20,000. He also was in debt to Papalia.

The commission announced it will recall Gardner for a public session.

It was a case said on the Rossland that produced a breakthrough in the mystery of Toronto lawyer David Humphrey, his client McDermott and Fessley, and the shadowy partners whose connections with Ontario racetrack operations have not yet been made fully clear.

On Tuesday Humphrey told the commission how the group decided to test a claim of a Windsor man, Donald Miller that Sgt. Jack Ketch of the Windsor provincial police detachment had framed Miller on charges of "slush fund" and Detroit police gambling — for evidence that could frame the Rossland into Toronto lawyer Walton Cecil Roberts' counsel for the commission for McDermott, Fessley and Gardner went to Windsor disguised as a New York racetrack salesman and tested Hetch, but the detective offered no inducements.

Gardner and Finnigan evidently pleased guilty and got a year to jail.

HOSPITAL HELP

HARROW, England (CP)— Relatives of patients in a hospital for the mentally subnormal may be asked to help out in the wards unless there is a shortage of nurses in the employment situation. It was suggested the hospital visitors' club should preserve meals and do other jobs that do not require special training.

Commonwealth First Concern Says Gaitskell

LONDON (CP) — Hugh Gaitskell stressed Tuesday that safe - guarding the Commonwealth must be a paramount consideration in deciding whether Britain should join the six-nation European Economic Community.

"If we could go in and make it (the EEC) a kind of link between the Commonwealth and Europe . . . that would be a tremendous step forward," said the opposition leader in a 15-minute television address to the electorate.

Deformed Baby Was Stillborn

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—A deformed baby, whose mother was treated with a tranquillizing drug thalidomide from the Canadian market, was stillborn at Victoria Hospital during the last week, it was revealed Tuesday.

Doctors said the infant was armless and legless but had tiny arm and leg stumps attached to the shoulders and hips — a deformity similar to that of several other infants born in Canada recently.

Medical experts are investigating whether the condition of the others caused by the drug thalidomide, a tranquilizer thought to be effective for the prevention of nausea in pregnant women. The two Canadian distributing companies say they drew the drug from circulation in March.

Doctors here said they cannot give a definite cause of the deformity in the London baby. However, the mother had been given thalidomide during early pregnancy, before news of its possible effects became known.

REDS BLAMED FOR ANTI-GOVT. RIOTS IN LISBON

Elderly Woman Killed, 10 Hurt

CP - UPI - Reuters-AP

LISBON — The Portuguese government today blamed Communists for anti - government riots here Tuesday in which an elderly woman was killed and at least 10 persons injured.

A statement from the information secretariat described the riots as "Communist manoeuvres" and said calm had returned to the capital, although security measures still were in force.

The statement said police used tear-gas and fired warning shots "in the course of prompt suppression of these Communist activities." In a "few cases" police used arms after being attacked, it said.

The elderly woman was hit by a bullet as she watched the demonstrations from a fourth - floor window.

Of 10 civilians brought to the Sao Jose Hospital, five were treated for bullet wounds.

URGE DEMONSTRATION

The riots began after leaflets and word of mouth urging the people to demonstrate. Police and troops armed with rifles and helmeted police began patrolling the central streets and squares.

The police said firing after demonstrators ignored their warnings began in the Avenida da Liberdade.

The leaflets here urge the slogan "Down with Salazar and war in Angola," Portugal's rebellion West African territory, and they were signed by "Duarte," the code name of Alvaro Cunhal, Communist party secretary general. The regime of Premier Antonio De Salazar imprisoned Cunhal in 1950, but he escaped two years ago and fled to Moscow, reports said. He recently slipped back into the country.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N.Y. (AP) — A remark by president Vassar College against premarital sex relations and promiscuity has touched off a round of informal debating at Vassar and Yale. A quiz poll shows 52 per cent of the students back the president's position.

Miss Sarah Gibson Blanding, the college president, told the school's 1,450 students at a convocation Monday that those who could not live up to the college's standards should with dignity withdraw.

In addition to condemning promiscuity, she also said, excessive drinking on or off the campus, would not be tolerated.

"Deviant behavior" expected of students, she said, does not include premarital sexual relations.

She made her remarks April 4, but word of it did not get outside the campus until Monday when the Yale Daily Alumni News, a college newspaper, published it.

The paper carried a poll which it said it had taken of 1,000 girls. Of these, 52 per cent favored the president's position. Forty per cent replied that the rest were undecided.

College Finds Itself Sponsoring Elephant Race After Unwary Defi

FULLERTON, Calif. (AP)— There's no ivy in the halls of three-year-old Orange County state college.

But there's going to be plenty of ivory on campus Friday when the school hosts the world's first intercollegiate elephant racing meet.

Orange County says it has 13 entries lined up — and may add some more as a result of what started as a tongue-in-cheek challenge to an elephant race to 16 universities two weeks ago.

Since then the school's been flooded with inquiries and good wishes.

The elephants, rented from circuses, zoos and animal farms for $150 and up, come in a variety of sizes.

The largest is a five-ton grey eminence nicknamed, by students at neighboring Chapman College, Calvin Coolidge because he doesn't choose to run.

And there's a dainty entrant from Pepperdine College in Santa Monica, City College.

Other entries come from the University of Nevada, California Institute of Technology, California State Polytechnic at Pomona, California Lutheran, Long Beach State, Santa Ana College, Fullerton Junior College and the Northrop Institute of Technology at nearby Inglewood.

Leaders of Three Parties Start Battle for Ont. Seats

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Leaders of three parties went to battle today in a provincial claim to Ontario's rich prize of 85 seats in the June 18 general election.

Only political chieftain absent from the Ontario campaign scene was Robert Thompson of Social Credit, who planned to meet party candidates at a 7 p.m. reception and visit his own constituency of Red Deer, Alta., on Tuesday, in Vancouver.

The other leaders fought to enlist support in the thickly-populated agricultural and industrial regions of Ontario for programs that provides nearly one-third of the Commons' 265 members. Their program:

Prince Minister Diefenbaker, fresh from a two-day swing through Quebec, was to fly from the Lakehead to Toronto, community of Mont Joli to the RCAF station at Trenton. This will be Diefenbaker's first Ontario trip to a Progressive Conservative rally held in Brockville with a stopover in Kingston.

After two days of campaigning in his own province of Quebec East, Liberal Leader Lester B. Pearson was to fly to Ontario for the first ball of the Toronto Maple Leafs' International Baseball League home opener. Pearson was to drive around the western end of Lake Ontario, with stops in Lakeshore towns, for an evening rally in Hamilton.

T. C. Douglas, who now describes himself as an "first-class politician" after a bout of stomach flu, was to address a New Democratic Party rally in Kitchener.

He rejoined the campaign trail in Welland Tuesday after being sidelined in bed with swinging. However, to ease his voice, he travelled motorcoach through the Niagara Peninsula, Toronto party and a press conference were cancelled.

The 57-year-old NDP leader urged the party's protection for the Canadian consumer in his speech to some 350 persons at a dinner in the Welland Legion Hall.

It was time, he said, the government went to the aid of the consumer who had been gouged and cheated by the economic power of big business.

If elected, would appoint a minister "to protect the Canadian

Kennedy Says All Doctors Will Treat Aged Under Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy says his medical care plan for the aged will be approved by Congress and that doctors will participate in it "even under it—an indirect reference to some 200 New Jersey physicians who have opposed the plan.

This Kennedy obliquely stated in press conference as the physicians' stand launched by other administration officials.

The New Jersey physicians, New Jersey State Association and Fifth Memorial Hospital, at Neptune, signed a resolution Monday night calling on their state to treat patients under Kerr-Mills, a 5-cent increase in dance medical plan if it passed Congress.

Privately, speaking Tuesday at the United Auto Workers convention in Atlantic City, still confident of enrolling the New Jersey physicians.

"I am absolutely confident that the great majority, in fact all doctors will treat patients who will be covered by this national program."

Also speaking before the auto workers, Labor Secretary Arthur J. Goldberg termed the opposition "a disgrace, a disgrace to the country."

Kennedy's biggest comments came from Welfare Secretary Abraham Ribicoff. He said the doctors were violating their professional oath and that the move was a "direct attempt to blackmail Congress and the American people.

British Army Plans to Use Canadian Bases for Training

OTTAWA (CP)—The British army plans to train many men on Canada—with Canadian consent, of course—as a training base.

Official say Britain will fly to Canada next winter a parachute company for training at Fort Churchill, Man., and a guided-weapons artillery unit exercises at Camp Shilo, Man.

The 1st Battalion, Royal Welch Fusiliers, will spend two weeks next month for six weeks of infantry training at Camp Wainwright, Alta.

About 800 men will be involved and 1,000 will be airlifted in RAF Britannias with one stop at Gander, Nfld.

The Fusiliers are billed with the Royal 22nd Regiment (Van Doos) of Quebec City, which a battalion will put in some time at Quebec City, including the honor guard of a guard at the Citadel, before moving on to Camp Wainwright.

The Fusiliers also have a mountaineering unit and it will practice mountain climbing in the Rockies. The battalion's canoe club will be practising in a quiet river in which to dip it paddles—"we've got more than enough water," says Lt.-Col. Robert Barber, battalion, commander, "and we'll be able to get in some good training."

Summer training of British infantry battalions in Canada appears to be planned as an annual event. Special exercises for other British units will be carried out in Canada at other times of the year to emphasize mobility.

Church Band Holds Business Dinner Meeting

The Official Board of the Frankford / Stockdale United Church pastoral charge met in Stockdale United Church for their dinner meeting on May 7th with 28 in attendance. Fifteen new members were introduced: Messrs. Alan Pickering, George Lyons, Ernest Sidney, Lloyd Babcock, Harold Howe, Jack Sudermont, Mrs. Raymond Rowe, Mrs. Frank Rabel, Mrs. Preston Cass, Mrs. John Hewitt as his role) and a pianist who is the wife of Mr. Tipton. The music that they perform ranges from the Baroque period through the Classic and Romantic eras and up to examples of contemporary composers, as they have a large selection to choose from and it is the fact that they are larger than a string quartet and smaller than a symphony orchestra.

The opening two movements from sonatas by Francoeur and Corelli immediately gave the orchestra a chance to show its talents. Each was played in succession by the second violins, two violas, a cello (or was it a double bass) and sincere rapport between conductor and players. Even though written in the Italian Eighteenth Century School, soloist sang, might be easy to throw aside as unattractive and uninteresting, but the masterful accompaniment by the orchestra made the sacred music of Handel and Bach a delightful blend of the voice and instruments.

Mr. Jack Williams gave an interesting talk on the function of the Clifford Board.

The minister is to have the month of August for holidays and Rev. Mr. Cooper, of the Norman Wall were constituted as pulpit supply committee.

A discussion to have the Board take over payment of lawn mowers formerly paid by the women's groups, resulted in a motion to pay a half of an estimated $400 bill this year and all of it in subsequent years. Mr. Armstrong to be in charge of the pastoral charge, Mr. John Hawken, treasurer of Stockdale Church, and Mr. Arnold Stickle, chairman of Board of Stewards for Frankford Church reported all financial obligations met and substantial balance on hand.

Enjoy Chamber Music Drawn From 2 Centuries

By EUGENE LANG

At the ECTS auditorium last night for the last presentation of the season's series of the Belleville Community Concert Association, the members were treated to a varying style of chamber music embracing over two centuries, as performed by the instrumental sextet of the conservatory orchestra under the baton of Mallorie Tipton and billed as "Music for Tonight". This small group of string instruments called from the sacred Detroit Symphony Orchestra and include in their concerts these soloists, an English horn player, a flautist (a woodwind taker this

The Adagio and Waltz from the Serenade for Strings in C Major of Tchaikowsky were more familiar fare for most listeners and in the first section the strings again were heard to advantage in their lovely shadings of this emotion-packed slow movement, but the Waltz, though turned out with a lilting flair-nessi, did lose some of its carefree appeal because of ritardandos that were milked dry of their effects. More elasticity in movement and less play on the ritardandos would have added to this scintillating waltz.

Perhaps the highlight of the entire concert was the appearance once of a complete Mozart piano concerto played by Lorene Norris, pianist. Although Mozart wrote 27 concertos for the pianoforte, only a handful of them are heard frequently today (although all have been recorded) and the new challenge for Belleville audiences is one of the finest of all, yet one of the finest to flow from the pen of the immortal Salzburger. The Andante from the Concerto in E Flat Major, K.482. Miss Norris glided through both the outside movements with dexterous agility and executed the many cadenzas of the middle section with feeling and perfection. But the original Mozart Cadenza that she played at the end of the first movement she followed by a little too ponderous at times in her chord attacks. Although horns and oboes were called for in the orchestra (Mozart called for them in his stated instrumentation) the strings made a very balanced accompaniment to the soloist. At the conclusion of the performance it was suggested that a Liszt concerto be next being played, instead of Mozart, but this can be forgiven owing to the fact that Miss Norris had a grand piano (Steinway Grand at her disposal and not a Steck piano that Mozart would have used. However, a very convincing performance was secured at the hands of Miss Norris.

Besides the sextet listed above, the orchestra accepted session with Leo Smith Heating as assistants by Stanley Kornelsoff, Conductor of the Belleville Symphony Orchestra, and Marion Tipton, pianist, and the flowing "Portrait of Pulliam" and the flowing "Portrait of Pulliam" and the flowing "Portrait of Pulliam"

On Monday, workmen from the M. Sullivan and Son contracting firm, arrived at Trenton High School to find an out-of-town builder busily at work in the new cafeteria section.

No, it wasn't a case for the arbitration board; nor was professional jealousy involved. The rival builder was none other than a beaver. Mr. Beaver ambled around, offering constructive criticism, until he was unceremoniously removed from the scene by a conservation officer.

Vandals Chop Down Trees, And Break Tables in Parks

TRENTON — In the words of E. M. Parker, Jr., Trenton Parks' Board chairman, "In the event anyone is caught committing acts of vandalism in Trenton parks, the board will make it a most unconfortable for him."

And the board members mean it!

Last night, parks' gardener Bert Doel told the members that vandals had started in on their 1962 program of chopping off partly grown shade trees, dumping garbage in the parks and smashing picnic tables and other items of parks' equipment.

Mr. Boers said that for the third year in a row he had found small trees chopped down in Cottrell Park in east Trenton.

"Three times and out," said Mr. Parker, "if they pull them out again, they stay out."

Mr. Boers said that he had cleaned up Cottrell Park and returned in a few days to find "a whole truck load of garbage" strewn around the grass.

"All for the neighbors," said Mr. Boers, "nobody ever sees anything."

"There are fines for destroying public property," Miss Merion Baker, board secretary, reminded the members.

Mr. Boers went on to say that he had found three picnic tables, new last year, smashed in Hanna Park.

SNOW LEAVES REFUSE

The public works department cans in for some criticism too. In the winter, work gangs dumped snow from the town streets in Hanna Park, and this spring, with the melting of the snow, gravel and other refuse which had been picked up with the snow, remained in the park.

The board had been thinking about clearing off a flat space on the mountain, back of the water tower, and placing benches and picnic tables there for the use of the public.

"You'd better sink them in cement, or they'll be thrown off the mountain" Mr. Boers said, recalling "two years ago I found benches which had been placed on the mountain, sitting down on the Cotton Mill property. And they must weigh half a ton".

"And they talk about the youth of today biting nails" exclaimed the chairman.

If benches are placed on the mountain, they will be sunk in cement. In all events, two men will be hired to clean up the space mentioned by the chairman.

Mr. Parker told the board that there was the usual fire scare on Friday last by the mountain and suggested that spraying was a "must".

Miss Ireland reported that while playground equipment was available for the McMaster Street park, the ground was still too wet to install it. Mr. Boers agreed, but said that as soon as the ground was dry enough, he would make the repairs. There was a well in the area. If the ground doesn't dry out soon, the board will take steps to discover the source of all the trouble.

EXPERT LITTLE HELP

Miss Baker reported that a representative of the C. K. Bell Gill Company had been in town last week to examine the upstanding system in the library grounds. The board claims that the system, installed when the present" called in had not seemed to have any trouble. However, he had made appointments and failed to show up at the stated time. If something constructive isn't done in the next few days, Miss Baker will write to Siddall and suggest that another "expert" be sent down. Mr. Boers agreed that the expert had been very little help in locating the source of the trouble, which, he said, was in the solenoids mechanism of the pump.

Trenton Cold Storage heads, who wish to sink a high voltage power line across Bassmore Park to their building, had written to the board to suggest that since board members felt the line should be supported by the parks' superintendent, the board here someone to dig a trench for the new pole and put it back to the company.

Board members were agreed that Mr. Boers might remove and replace the sod and a local digger might be engaged for the job.

TREES PLANTED

Mr. Boers reported that the Crimson King maples had been planted on Gould St., 4th Ave., and the west part of Wilkins St. He said that he had planted 15 "lollypop" trees on Gerin and Patrick streets in the Stanley Heights subdivision. The Trenton public utilities was consulted as to the location of the trees to avoid trouble in the future, as regards hydro lines. The PUC has asked permission to trim trees in Hanna Park along the path of a planned hydro installation for Westmount Park. Mr. Parker will make a trip to the "snake-infested swamp" area to make sure that nothing more than scrub cedars would be involved in the trimming process.

Chi Rho Members Enjoy Italian Spaghetti Dinner and Dance

Last Wednesday evening Chi Rho members were treated to an Italian spaghetti dinner. The success of the dinner was due to Richard Rowbotham and his hard working lesan mates. Of course credit goes also to Ted Warwick, who became Chef Luigi for the occasion.

Candle light and soft music made for an appropriate setting. Chef Luigi's guests enheartily trying out various side spices and then made short order of the large bowls of cold water available. Ice cream was served for dessert pulling the finishing touch to a fine dinner.

SING-SONG

Herb Cavaller had a jubilant sing-song under way to help members work off some of the meal's after effects. During this time, the executive made way to the kitchen to look over the situation since they had previously been appointed this wonderful meal. Two added volunteers, the Rev. E. Smith and the Rev. M. Caswell let it be job was soon accomplished.

Everyone being in a happy contented mood proceeded upstairs, to take part in games and dancing. To start things off, members were favored with a game of 'Music Bingo'. The group was divided into five teams. The idea being a tune was played and til it turn one person from each team would go to the front where individual cards were set up. Next step was to identify the tune on card, Excitement mounted as the cards began to take shape with everyone hoping their team would be first to Bingo. The game proved fast moving and fun-filled for all.

With chairs cleared away dance date lights and soft music setting the mood for dancing. Novelty dances such as elimination, snowball, spoon and spot were enjoyed by all.

The refreshing and thirst quenching punch bowl was set out, and, in a short while a refill was required. Everyone after having had a delightful evening left with another happy memory to add to the fellow a Chi Rho Fellowship gather ing.

Injured in Car Accident

A 16-year-old Belleville girl, Elaine Rivers, 22 Wilkins Street, was slightly injured when a car in which she was a passenger, was involved in an accident on Coleman Street, near Lee Grills Dairy, Tuesday night.

Miss Rivers received a bruised right leg and ankle. Jack Armstrong of Belleville was also a passenger in the car. He was uninjured.

The driver, William Arthur Bourrette of 89 South Front St., told police, he was in the process of passing on Coleman Street when he lost control of the car and crashed through a board fence surrounding the Standard Church. A flying board from the splintered fence, struck the hood of a car, owned by Lee Grills, which was parked on Coleman Street, near the church.

Young People's Role In Church Is Stressed

TRENTON — Speaker at the week's dinner meeting of the A.C.T.S. Young People's Group at Christ Church was Percy Booker, a member of the St. C Club at King Street United Church.

Mr. Booker stressed the need for young people in the church. He said that ministers were needed badly, but that younger people could fill many positions in the church without actually "going in for the ministry."

Community Concert Campaign Underway

TRENTON — Mrs. Wes Cooke, Community Concert representative, is in town this week, assisting local association heads with the 1962-63 membership ticket campaign.

Association members are around selling tickets and Mrs. Cooke, Mrs. T. W. Speer and Mrs. Gabrielle Griffiths are spending several hours a day at campaign headquarters, Oswid's, Dundas St. W.) where they will answer questions put by would-be members.

This year's series of concerts promises to be exciting for music lovers. If membership warrants it, the Robert De Cormier folk singers will be making their first appearance here in Trenton. This group is set apart from all others by quality of performance and depth of program has always had a wide appeal locally for young and old alike.

Boers, that the town be allowed to remove a Manitoba maple from Victoria Park, was bowed down vigorously by John Saylor and Bill Ireland, who claimed the park would be a "park" if the trees were removed.

Miss Baker reported that she had received no reply to a letter addressed to the town asking that property and boundaries be clearly defined.

Mr. Boers said that he was busy putting up playground equipment in the parks and preparing flowers beds and that he would start planting pine trees on the mountain today.

consumer regulation, price-fixing conspiracies, unscrupulous promotion techniques and poor quality goods."

Mr. Dooley challenged Mr. Diefenbaker to bring up the question of free enterprise versus Socialism during the prime minister had forecast last year as the election issue.

Mr. Diefenbaker would go into Quebec tour in the south shore St. Lawrence town and country with a declaration that he planned to expound a policy and "speeds first, foremost, and always" in his campaign.

"Our policy will be Canadian. And it will not be dictated by anyone else in the world," he told some 1,000 persons at the Rimouski community centre.

Earlier, he outlined campaign strategy for Conservative party workers at Riviere du Loup. The key to victory was through the efforts of party organizers at the poll level.

The prime minister said he assessed the political wind to make him "very, very hopeful" that the 1958 results, which swept the progressive conservative party with the largest majority in Canadian history, will be repeated.

Liberal Leader Pearson had a hard day's drive over bumpy roads on Manitoulin Island to take coffee and cake and say hello to his constituents. His largest audience was about 400, mostly school children, when his chief political speech was to a group of about 100 Indians at Wikwemikong.

Of some 12,000 residents of Manitoulin Island, about 2,000 are Indians and most of them have the federal vote for the first time in the forthcoming election.

Mr. Pearson, accompanied by his wife on his Manitoulin rounds, ended the day with a flight to Sudbury and Toronto.

In Vancouver, Social Credit Leader Thompson told his party's British Columbia caucus he denies that it Canada becomes a welfare state socialism it will become a nation of "look-alikes and think-alikes."

Socialism needed protection the security of prosperity, not welfare.

"It is nonsense to tax all the initiative and development potential out of the industries and individuals who stand to be allowed to go about the vital business of expanding Canada's welfare-rich economy."

The electoral machinery also came under the spotlight again Tuesday. Chief Electoral Officer Nelson Castonguay announced he has ordered an inquiry into actions of the returning officer in Terrebonne riding.

The inquiry would determine whether Henry I. McKinstry "inadvertently or negligently" approved or rejected an election clerk and enumerators who were not qualified under the Canada Elections Act.

Too Little a World

"Our planet is too little to allow ourselves to fight and quarrel." So said Russian cosmonaut Gherman Titov as he addressed the Overseas Press Club in New York.

All of us will understand the sentiment which moved him. Many of us will share in his reaction when we consider the insignificance of this planet compared to the cosmos, a fact which, Titov says, was forcibly borne in upon him as he made one of his 17 speedy trips around the earth.

And yet, in another sense, it is only the smallness of our planet which makes man's incessant quarreling undesirable. In so many millions of worlds, there must be some where life exists and where beings more intelligent than man devote themselves to the task of unravelling the mysteries of their own world and of the galaxy of which it is a part, without wasting their time and talents in striving against each other.

There is comfort in that thought—and yet no relief from man's responsibility to do the best he can on his own world and, if his intelligence proves equal to the task, in its environs in space. In that sense, Titov is right; the smallness of our planet, and the quickness of the cosmos, the little we know and the limitless and inexhaustible fields which lie unexplored, make it imperative that we do not waste our time in fighting each other.

If we do, it will serve us right if some day H. G. Wells' nightmare comes true and this world is visited by strangers from outer space, who will look upon us as nothing more than a convenient supply of badly-needed food. How could creatures of vastly superior intelligence regard us more highly if they found us as we are today—wasting a major portion of our substance on armaments, unable to live with each other, failing to distribute even those necessities which we do produce in ample supply so that glut and famine exist only a few hundred miles apart, worrying about the costs of exploring our little satellite moon but fitting not an eyebrow as thousands labor to inform us that a little dab'll do 'ya" and to tell us to "put the o-o-o in shampoo?"

The Answer Should Be "No"

The Belleville City Council has voted to apply to the Ontario Legislature for a private bill which would authorize the election of a mayor here for a two-year term.

Mayor A. M. Haig spoke strongly in favor of the change. His points were well taken. Yet, when the proposal is placed before the voters here, we still think they should reject the change.

The reason for our opposition is simple. We have said before that the fact a man has proven himself a conscientious, energetic and able businessman does not guarantee that he will be a good mayor. Nor does faithful and efficient service as alderman provide positive proof that a man will prove capable of filling the more responsible position of mayor in the same manner.

It is so important to a municipality that it have a good mayor that it should avoid at all costs the risk of being saddled for two long years with a poor mayor.

The only way to be safe is to elect the mayor every year. Then, if his services are not satisfactory, the citizens can replace him after twelve months—instead of having to wait for two full years.

A good mayor, though, deserves an acclamation for a second term. Council members ought to observe a gentleman's agreement to that effect. If they did, there would be little likelihood of a man who had served the city well for his first term as mayor being refused a second term, although municipal elections are dull without a majority contest.

"We reject the view that education and entertainment are incompatible. We reject it utterly and completely . . . Television is, and must be, more than a tranquillizer. It is, and must be, a stimulant to the later curiosity which the majority of people share, whatever their condition in society, and whatever the level of their formal education."—Kenneth Adam, BBC director of television.

Elegance in prose composition is mainly this: a just admission of topics and of words; neither too many nor too few of either; enough of sweetness in the sound to induce us to enter and sit still; enough of illustration and reflection to change the posture of our minds when they would tire; and enough of sound matter in the complex to repay us for our attendance. — Walter Savage Landor.

Should Help Crime Victim

Oshawa Times

Canadian legislators should give close attention to British efforts to frame a bill providing for payment of compensation to victims of violent crime. There has been a growing tendency in this country that some sort of compensation be paid criminals, victims, but apart from some newspaper comment, the matter has never shown little if any interest in the proposals. Yet it is logical, practical and desirable.

At present we consider that a criminal pays his debt to society by serving a term in prison, with or without a fine, or simply by paying a fine. But in the commission of the crime, the criminal may inflict serious injury on a person or cause extensive property damage. Should not the person responsible for such injury or damage be required to pay at least part of the victim's costs? We think he should.

That is the principle of the matter. The practical problem is how compensation of the victim should be determined.

A British committee, which had studied the question of compensation, reported in June, and made two proposals. One would provide compensation in a court of law, under which victims of industrial injury are paid. Another would allow the victim to claim a lump sum payment for damages through a tribunal, and have his entitlement decided by the courts. In the preface to its report, the committee stated,

"It would seem that a victim's entitlement to compensation ought not to depend on whether or not an offender has been detected and convicted". It added that, in either of the proposals, provision could be made for the whole or part of the receipt costs of the compensation to the extent it was practical to do so.

Now the British solicitor-general, Sir John Hobson has stated that the government may soon introduce legislation to enable the less able victims of violent crime to be compensated. Similar legislation is needed in Canada.

Waterloo On June 18

Montreal Star

"So desperate was the fighting that a tree behind the infantry held was plainly marked at by the red line of dead and wounded that lay behind them." That was a 9.15 on an evening in 1815 when the Duke of Wellington and Field Marshal Blucher met at a pub called La Belle Alliance near a village called Waterloo, and history had been made.

Napoleon had stormed out of exile on the island of Elba with a handful of men, raised and reconquered the throne of France. Now, defeated, he was about to turn to exile on another island, St. Helena.

At that, it was a close thing. Generals on both sides made mistakes that could have proved stretching history too far to say that victory simply went, in the end, to the side that made the fewer.

Waterloo was to have towns in the United States and Canada and a railway station in London named after it. It was all to the good that Napoleon's "the crowning day, Waterloo," (Byron); "Every man meets his Waterloo at last" (Wendell Phillips); "We have met the enemy and he is ours, Waterloo" (Sir Arthur Conan Doyle); "Small wonder earthquakes, Waterloo" (Tennyson). They all suggest finality.

We are glad, therefore, that all this, in fact, we mention it at all only because it makes a small point; the battle of Waterloo was won on June 18, a date not without prominent significance for Canadians.

STRENGTH FOR THE DAY

DR. EARL L. DOUGLASS

WAIT UPON TIME

Truth has a way of unfolding before us if we give it time, in speaking to his disciples Jesus said on one occasion: "What I do thou knowest not now; but thou shalt know hereafter" (John 13:7).

One of the strange things about the unfolding of truth is that it sometimes comes upon us unawares. We think deeply about some issue. Then, unable to settle the question we put it aside. Suddenly something later — perhaps weeks, months, or even years — we awake to the realization that the problem has been solved. Apparently it has been working down in the very centre of our minds. Just as a forgotten name will pop up after we have long tried unsuccessfully to recall it, so an issue which we could not decide comes to the surface in a decided and well worked out plan or explanation some time later.

Let us trust the fact that human life is so constructed that it operates continuously, for very little attention to the workings of our vital organs. We are almost unconscious of the fact that we breathe, and of our hearts beat. We sink into sleep at night and the vast processes of nature continue to operate.

So it is with the whole of life. A world controlled by a good God is working out a divine destiny for nations, races, and individuals. What we do not know today we shall know such a world order, come to know later.

Run Factory For Over 65s

Gall Evening Reporter

A small factory building at Silver Spring, Essex, Ontario, is attracting small attention from industrialists and social welfare agencies. It has been called Utopia Limited. The reason for this is that everyone is paid the same rate of wages, there is no clock watching in or out of the factory, and there are no bosses.

The owners, the Critial Company, claim that the main object of its kind in the whole of Britain, because it is an experiment in "group living" and in the "social provision for the aged."

The factory is given the official name of Critial 65 Club. Two qualifications are necessary to become employees of this factory at Silver End. The first is that they be over 65 years of age. The second is that they be a present employee of the Critial Company.

The germ of the idea for this unique factory came from the late Lord Braintree, the former head of Critial's big window making firm. Basically the plan was to provide workshop facilities in a disused building at Silver End, where retired employees could earn a few dollars, chat with old colleagues and, most important of all, make themselves useful. It started off with 15 "founder members" which has grown to a membership of 170 in seven years.

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

This is the minced era. Today's menus are more attractive than hamburgers and hot dogs. Hot dogs are just as minced as hamburgers, though packed in a skin. Of course, in the cookery pages, you will see that nothing gets minced like a pea nowadays than casseroles. And what are casseroles but minced meat?

Sachets are minced. Potatoes are generally minced as French fries or potato chips.

All this was pointed out to me by a friend who is in radio. "Radio is minced," he says. "Like hamburgers, You seldom any more hear any long continuous, solid performances of music. Just recently, a half hour morning symphony program was changed to a 30 conventional variety spot of disc jockey, newscast, musical interlude minute recordings, one minute commercials, another minute interview and a quarter minute's hit. The solid half hour of symphonic stuff was series, a hash of programmes with the minced type of program, which, of course, is essential to the interjection of commercials. It would be good to offer the public roast beef or a leg of lamb when we are in the hamburger business.

To Your Good Health

Physiotherapy Can Help, Following Breast Surgery

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Almost three years ago I had a breast removed. I have been X-rayed several times and the doctor says everything is clear.

My arm is still swollen, and around the shoulder, and the breast bone are very stiff that I suffer at times. I have taken so many pain pills that my stomach is ruined. What can be done to relieve this tightness and hurting? — Mrs. H.E.

This sort of condition can, indeed, occur after extensive breast surgery. The lymphatic glands in the armpit are disturbed. Scar tissue forms and causes the arm to swell.

In addition, this same condition lends to act as a sort of natural "splint" on the shoulder, making it painful and stiff.

Physiotherapy can help appreciably. I mean a combination of things, not a single procedure.

Massage; assisted motion of the joint; heat; a long sleeve on the arm; appropriate exercises. All of these are ways in them can help.

The process, I admit, is tedious, but it is frequently successful.

A "rehabilitation institute" or some similar facility in your community will provide this kind of therapy.

Dear Dr. Molner: My three-year-old granddaughter recently had stitches in her mouth because of it occurring in a child before. Is there anything we can do to correct this tongue? She responded well to treatment. — Mrs. K.G.

Shingles can occasionally occur in children. The cause is the same as in adults. It is a virus similar to chickenpox. The vesicles are limited to the course of a nerve instead of being scattered indiscriminately as in chickenpox.

Dear Dr. Molner: We are two girls, both going to be 16 shortly. We haven't started to menstruate. All our friends had started by 13. Is there anything for us not to have started? We're afraid to go to the doctor and embarrassed to discuss it with our mothers and friends. — J. and K.

The average is around 13 or 14 years, but there's a difference between average and normal.

Various factors should be considered: nationality, nutrition, emotions, and hereditary factors. In tropical climates the age is earlier than in temperate and colder ones. The age range extends from about 10 to 17.

There's no reason why you can't mention this to your mothers. Yes, I know, you "don't know how to say it." It's true that likely your mothers are quite aware of it, but they "don't know how to talk about it either, so just avoid the issue. Say, "Mother, I haven't begun menstruating yet. Should I see the doctor?"

Your doctor, in turn, may be able to detect a glandular factor (if any), such as your thyroid, anemia, or some nutritional disturbance. If you are generally healthy, he'll doubtless say, "Let's wait a little longer," but you'll have put yourselves at ease as to how you are physically.

* * *

Dear Dr. Molner: One eye lid hangs much lower than the other. What can I do to have it corrected? — C.H.S.

Drooping of one eyelid is frequently traced to a disturbance of the nerve controlling it. Infection and various toxic factors are also the cause. A treatment for such troubles does not succeed, there are operations which a plastic surgeon can decide the best course.

Fall My leaflet, "The Lost Secret of Youth," tells how to get rid of it the easy way. For your copy write to Dr. Molner, in care of this paper, 345 Sunnyside, P.O. Box 1000, Dundas, Ont., enclosing a long, self-addressed, unstamped envelope and 10c in coin to cover cost of handling.

Took Horses For Brandy

Ottawa Journal

Jean Monnet, the French brandy merchant and statesman, is credited with doing as much as any man to secure establishment of the European Common Market. His success in this field is attributed to those in Western Canada, to whom he became known as Moose Jaw and Calgary, who remember an astute French businessman who once made the rounds 55 years ago.

The young Monnet could not get cash for his brandy. He'd trade for a horse or anything else and sell it elsewhere. By now methods pleased Western Canada a decades later, Western Europe.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

NERVES

Nerves have to bear the brunt of a great deal of punishment. Denied patience and quiet by, they fairly leap to give relief. In fact, calm and happiness is the one who owns them.

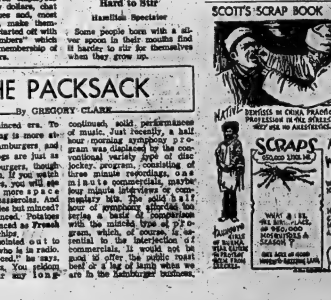
But abused nerves flounder, growl and run wild as well.

Nerves are the things the human frame to act as servants. But in somewhat the same manner as modern day servants, when ill-treated and without consideration, they refuse to more, and all is thrown into a state of confusion.

Without a healthy calm that well ordered nervous system. It is impossible to be at all capable in body or in mind. The large majority of people who have nervous breakdowns, and who we classify as being very unsatisfactory, may in reality be very wonderful persons, but with a rebellious nervous system are like a ruler chessed by revolutions.

Rest is the greatest thing in the world to coax tired nerves into healthy action again. Sleep is relaxation while you are in that rest. The large majority of people do not get enough sleep and who seek rest, do not get it all. They fail to relax.

Another way to help nerves come back to their happy state again is to seek rest, recreation, and happiness in change. Never become tied to anything. It's a terrible fault to be habituated, as well as the happiest.



Always remember that nerves were created as servants — not masters. And how these nerves do serve when mastered! Every great athlete, builder, executive, soldier, surgeon knows this.

Nerves must be treated with consideration for they are more sensitive than a child. But they can be built into veritable "iron men," able to carry you through the direst emergency.

Be good to your nerves — that's all!

Ten-Pin Mixed League Holds First Annual

The Belleville Mixed Ten-Pin Bowling League marked a highly successful inaugural season with a colorful presentation-dinner and dance at the Club Caverna last night.

Upwards of 100 bowlers and guests enjoyed a delectable turkey dinner served by the CNRA ladies' auxiliary. An appropriate vocal program was carried out dancing to the rhythms of the Hugo Pilgrim orchestra.

Team and individual champions were honored with trophies and awards.

The first champions of the new league, league and volunteers of the handsome Belleville Bowl Trophy are the Belle Auto Electrics. The team which received fine miniature awards consists of Wally Lavergne, Bob Avery, Jerry Miller, Wally Dever, C. Miller, Lillian Mazzaro and B. Bourcelin.

Winners of the "A" division were the Sundowners. Members are D. Bertien, B. Sandy, G. Skinkle, J. Bell, B. Bertrim, Gyesma Sellis and M. Bell.

The ladies' high average award went to Gyesma Sellis (258) with Terry Bender taking the men's honors with a (284).

Sandra Slade's (198) won the ladies' high single, the men's prize going to Bob Avery with a (295).

The first slate of officers to guide the destiny of the new league was re-elected by a second term. The president is C. Thompson; secretary, Gor Anderson; vice-president, Sam Mulholland and treasurer, Cann. Miller.

Russia Insists France Must Join in Treaty

GENEVA (AP)—Russia said today it will not sign any nuclear test ban treaty without France.

Valerian Zorin, Soviet deputy foreign minister announced the new Soviet position at a session of the 17-nation disarmament conference discussing the test ban negotiations of the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union.

Zorin referred to the recent French underground test in the Sahara and declared:

"There is another power now testing nuclear weapons. This power is refusing to take part in the negotiations and has never said it would adhere to a nuclear test ban treaty.

"The Soviet Union will not sign any treaty on banning nuclear tests unless France is a party to it."

SOCIAL and PERSONAL

ENGAGEMENT NOTICE

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gives, Belleville, announce the engagement of their daughter, Beverley Mae, to Mr. Peter Allan Hunt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hunt, Belleville. Marriage to take place on Saturday, June 16th at St. Thomas' Anglican Church Belleville, at high noon.

ST. ANDREW'S C.G.I.T.

St. Andrew's Presbyterian C.G.I.T.'s met last night for their weekly meeting on Monday evening. The leader's report was given and the plan to attend church in uniform as a group on 13th was discussed. An initiation service will be held on May 14, at which time guest from Trenton, and Belleville, will be present.

U.C. Young People Present Lively Program

Members and friends of Shorncliffe United Church Young People's Union, received an invitation to the congregation to attend their Sunday evening meeting on May 6th and about 150 people enjoyed a concert platform program.

Jack Lourenco as M. of C. kept everybody in stitches. Doug Williams, leading a singsong was supported by Nan Reese with his electric guitar and Judy Whitmore at the piano, had the audience jumping up and down with exciting numbers. Susan and Anne Jukes together deserted their five day visit to Five Oaks in Christian Workers' Centre at Paris, in vivid word pictures that had everybody wanting to go there.

Maxine Brown, from Stockdale, sang "Jesus, My Saviour" in a lovely voice and Marilyn Hall accompanied her on the piano. There was a violin solo by Anne Beach, a vocal duet by Judy Whitmore, and Sandra Morrow, who were joined by Eleanor Smith for a vocal trio, with Mrs. Beach at the piano. The harmony was perfect.

The three Jordonett Brothers had a terrific skit caricaturing the Dales' store robbery and Gordon Savage with Judy Reilly and Gloria Nelson, almost brought the roof down with a parody on the "moonbeam" that had wild flowers and spring showers right on the stage. Bonnie Rowe sang a solo and the Dafoe sisters, Sharon and Linda, contributed a piano duet. Linda Judd led a recitation Colleen Chase featured in a one-act play called, "Elevator Ride" and had the whole audience up in the air.

Refreshments were served and everybody enjoyed an informal social hour together.

Contact Club Enjoys Hat Demonstration

On Monday evening the Contact Club of Christ Church had a social evening with the ladies of the other church groups joining as their guests in the demonstration of hats by Mrs. Minion.

After president Trudy Sands welcomed the members and friends, Jean Fisher introduced Mrs. Rita Minion, who was recapped and educated in Ottawa, and, while her husband was stationed in the United States Navy in Philadelphia, Pa., she took a hat making course and enjoyed working with hats so much that she has been working on hats and teaching millinery ever since.

Mrs. Minion modeled each hat telling how the hat was made and answering many questions which were asked. As she worked between the tables, she told of where the flowers came from and the different straws and brooches which go to make up so many different types of hats. The hats were put out on display so all could go and admire them after the demonstration.

APPRECIATION EXPRESSED

Betty Kay thanked Mrs. Minion for her interesting talk and presented her with a gift on behalf of the Contact Club.

A pleasant social hour was enjoyed as tastefully decorated card tables with pastel cloths and hat novelties were arranged in the hall.

A tasty lunch of pastry and coffee was served.

Next Monday night there will be a rummage sale before the meeting.

Cancer Society Raised $440 In Campaign

DESERONTO — The Deseronto Branch of The Canadian Cancer Society reports the completion of a most successful campaign for funds, under the chairmanship of Mrs Max Lash. The amount realized was $440. The canvass covered the town of Deseronto, Marysville and Shannonville.

Credit for the success of the drive goes to the many willing captains and canvassers who gave so graciously and generously of their time and effort.

The campaign committee would like to extend its appreciation to all the local citizens who gave their support to this vital cause.

XI Alpha Mu Installs 1962 Officers

XI Alpha Mu Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held its installation of officers at the home of Mrs. John Lennox on Monday, with Mrs. S. Wemmell elected as installing president. This outstanding event was carried out by the retiring president, Mrs. J. Simon and the following officers for the years 1962 and 1963 were installed: president —Mrs. S. Wemmell; vice-president, Mrs. G. Badgley; recording secretary — Mrs. G. Thornton; corresponding secretary, Mrs. G. Miller and treasurer — Mrs. P. Acton.

The cultural program took on the "Festival of Life" will be completed at the next meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. S. Wemmell. During the year, each member has been responsible for one program and the talks have been most interesting and varied.

BRIDGE PARTY

A most enjoyable social event in the form of a bridge party took place at the home of Mrs. J. Simon in February and its success was the result of the home of Mrs. L. Sheppard in April. The auction sale was in the form of a money-raising project and proved extremely successful in every way.

The members of the Belleville chapters were entertained in Trenton by the Sorority of the Lord's Prayer and Easter's Day on April 30th in the form of a banquet.

During the evening a new Executive Chapter was formed with a most impressive ceremony and the evening was enjoyed by all who attended.

Kiwanis L.A. Plans Pot Luck Supper

On the evening of May 3rd the members of the Kiwanis Ladies' Auxiliary met at the Memorial Centre for their May meeting. Gwen Brain presided at the piece.

In the absence of president, Barbara Floyd, vice-president, Doreen Mills, conducted the meeting and welcomed the members and visitor, Mrs. McCleave of Montreal Rota Coleman's sister.

A letter was read from the west Kingston Kiwanis Ladies Auxiliary inviting the Kiwanis ladies to their meeting and supper on June 7th.

A thank you was extended to Carm Mott and Ella Trepanier on a successful Marathon bridge, which just been completed.

On June 14th, a Red Cross blood donor clinic will be held

U.C.W. Meetings

CANNIFTON UCW

The Canniffon UCW held the regular meeting in the church on May 2. The president, Mrs. Douglas Brenton, opened the meeting with a few welcomed words to all present.

During the business portion, it was decided to pack a bale of used clothing for overseas relief at the next meeting. On May, also the members were reminded of the Baptist Ministers at Madoc, the 28th of May. Card were sent out to brethren and friends in churches in the community from whom letters of appreciation were received by the UCW.

Mrs. Willis Brenton presided over the worship service, the theme, "The Church In Our Community." The Scripture reading from Ephesians 4:1-16 was given by Mrs. G. Stone, while the beautiful formal, "Blessed Assurance," was sung as a solo by Mrs. Fred Fumerton, Jr.

Mr. C. Dawson gave the Bible study based on the beginning of the early church and following through to the present day, the church started and declined and all in unity, but through the years, doctrines and formalities have crept in until today the church is comprised of many divisions, but underlying these divisions is still the unity of Christ, the love of Jesus Christ forming a bond between people of all nations and creeds who have taken Him into their hearts and lives.

An interesting discussion followed as to how the church of today was in accordance with the church of Peter and Paul during its early days. Some worthwhile thoughts on this subject were presented on a question and answer basis.

Mrs. Simpson provided the music for the hymns as the regular pianist, Mrs. Boyd, was unable to be present.

at the Centre and some of the ladies will assist. The June meeting will be a pot-luck supper at the home of Hilda Keele, on June 20th.

With the completion of the business part of the meeting, the Kiwanis Court Whist were enjoyed by the ladies.

Luncheon was served by Jo Domenico and her group, and a social half hour followed.

WOOLER UCW UNIT 2

The May meeting of Unit 2 of Wooler United Church Women was held on May 1st at the home of Mrs. R. Putnam. Mrs. J. P. Putnam opened the meeting.

There were 16 members and one visitor present A business discussion took place.

Mrs. J. Dorland conducted the worship with Miss Cora Valentine reading the Scripture. Mrs. F. VanVeats had the study book. A poem, "Here's A Heap of Joy in Living," was read by Mrs. W. McCoy.

Lunch was served by the hostess, Mrs. R. Putnam, assisted by Mrs. S. Terrill and Mrs. L. Bryant.

B.P. Women Hold Regional Conference at Shrine Club

By MARIE HUFFMAN

"Positive Planning" was the theme of the conference of clubs of Regional One Business and Professional Women who met at the Belleville Shrine Club on May 5th. The conference itself, which saw representation from club members from Belleville, Trenton, Napanee, Tweed, Stancroft, Picton and Kingston, was a fine example of positive planning, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Shirley Woodcock of Belleville, and Mrs. Dorothy Brown, regional adviser of Region 11, assisted by Mrs. Dorothy Ellis, co-chairman.

Following registration in the morning, the first of the business sessions was called to order by Dorothy Brown and after the official welcome by president Irene Haig, the roll call of clubs was held and minutes and financial statement of the 1961 regional meeting in Tweed were read and adopted.

During the annual reports of clubs, delivered by club presidents, or their representatives, one was convinced of the truth of the saying, "if you want something done, ask a busy person to do it."

Membership is growing in the region with membership reported from Belleville, 49 members; Kingston 32; Bancroft 27; Napanee 24; Picton 20; Trenton 12, and Tweed 21, with a small net increase reported over last year, for the region.

EDUCATING AFRICAN STUDENT

The majority of the clubs are supporting the project of London B-P. Club in sponsoring the education of the African student, Miss Ruth Fraser, at Western University. During the discussion of this particular project, Mrs. Margaret Ashdown gave a moving appeal to those present from her personal knowledge of the conditions in Africa as she saw them, and impressed upon her listeners the far-reaching effects that a project such as the current one could have in Africa, and how much it could mean to the Canada abroad.

Following the reports from clubs, a "beets and bouquets" session was held, with participants being asked to offer comments both pro and con with respect to club efforts of the past year. Bouquets were not forthcoming, and criticism was always of a constructive nature.

Prior to the adjournment for luncheon, it was brought to the attention of members that the 1963 annual provincial conference will be held at Windsor, Ontario, on October 12, 13 and 14th, and the biennial national convention will be held at St. Andrews-by-the-Sea in New Brunswick in July. The majority of clubs will be represented at the national convention, and it is hoped that all clubs will have representation at Windsor. At the suggestion of the Kingston Club, the possibility of chartering a bus to Windsor will be investigated.

SPRING SETTING

Luncheon was held in the downstairs dining room of the Shrine Club and the tables, with decorations prepared by Mrs. Enid Richards, were a picture of spring, with beautiful floral arrangements, and centrepieces of birds in flight, with a beautifully executed bird house centering the head table.

Draws for prizes donated by local merchants were conducted during the luncheon and dinner by Mrs. Charlotte Strachan and Mrs. Arlene Ashbury. Head table guests at the luncheon were introduced by Mrs. Shirley Woodcock, and proceedings at luncheon were interrupted by the unexpected arrival of "Charley Weaver," from Mount Idy, who brought official greetings to the B. P.'s in what bore a small resemblance to song, and prior to leaving read the traditional "letter from Mama" after greeting the guests. When last seen, she was heading in the direction of the railroad tracks nearby, with a promise to return at a later date. Pianist for the singsong, which followed, and at the dinner in the evening, was Miss Dorothy Grant.

LUNCHEON SPEAKER

The speaker for the luncheon was Miss Dorothy Millligan of Ottawa, vice-president of electoral district C, who was introduced by Dorothy Ellis, and Miss Ellis is a graduate of the School of Social Work, University of Toronto, and was head of the Children's Aid Adoption Society of Ottawa.

In line with the theme of "Positive Planning" Miss Millligan's address dealt with the duties and responsibilities of club members, from the time they first join the club, up through the various committees and offices until she becomes president, developing her topic "Steps Up the Ladder to Leadership."

She illustrated her talk with a small family of three steps which she referred to as her B & P family with each member of the family participating an office in a B & P club. Miss Milligan's remarks, while presented in a light fashion, were nonetheless penetrating and searching in her analysis of the various offices of the organization and the duties and responsibilities they represented.

B & P W will not soon forget, the first uncertain steps of "Smoky," the increasing awareness of "Chatty," the mellow wisdom of "Peppy" and all the members of the family, up to and including the soon-to-be battle scarred "Pres."

Thanks of the club were expressed to Miss Milligan by Anne McLean of Tweed.

PANEL DISCUSSION

During the afternoon business session, a panel discussion once again along the lines of the successful meeting, was chaired by Mrs. Marie Huffman, Bancroft, with Mrs. Hastings on phases of planning, Miss Hazel Todd of Bancroft, spoke on "Planning and Conduct of Meetings." Mrs. Marion Easterbrook of Napanee, "Parliamentary Procedure", Mrs. Jennie Wills of Trenton, "Duties and Responsibilities of Our Executive Members", Mrs. Kay Meaghan of Kingston, "Responsibilities of the General Membership", Mrs. Kay Duke of Tweed, "Our Responsibilities Toward Guest Speakers; Mrs. Maude Piper, "Importance of Club Constitution and By-laws," and Mrs. Irene Haig of Belleville, "Our Aims and Objectives." The discussion leaders for the panel were informative, with some valuable comments and advice being offered by Miss Millligan, and Mrs. Margaret Ashdown, president-elect for Ontario.

Following the panel discussion, the report of the nominations committee was presented by Mrs. Maude Piper, and Mrs. Jennie Wills of Trenton, received an acclamation as regional director for the coming year. An invitation from the Bancroft club was accepted as the place for next year's regional conference.

EVENING BANQUET

After adjournment of the afternoon session, the guests reassembled in the dining room for the evening banquet. Head table guests included Deputy-Mayor Ben Corbe, Mr. Karl Dickenscheur of the Chamber of Commerce, Mrs. Anne Davidson and Mr. Alec Gordon, in addition to the speaker of the evening, Mrs. Margaret Ashdown, and other B. and P. Club members.

Mrs. Anne Davidson favored with two solos, "I Love Life" and Irene Taylor's "May Carol." She was accompanied by Mr. S. Alec Gordon, and thanks of the club members were expressed by Miss Florence Fitzgerald, president-elect of the Belleville Club.

Official greetings of the city of Belleville were extended by Mr. Corbe, and welcome was expressed by Mr. Earl Dickenscheur, on behalf of the local chamber.

The speaker of the evening, Mrs. Margaret Ashdown, was introduced by Miss Vera Clarke. Mrs. Ashdown is a director, corporate secretary, and office manager of the Canadian Coleman Company Limited of Toronto. She is president - elect for Ontario, and has been active in work with UNESCO. In April of 1960 she was appointed to the National Employment Committee of the Unemployment Insurance Commission representing the Canadian Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

WARM PERSONALITY

It is difficult for a reporter to be objective when describing such a gifted speaker as Mrs. Ashdown. The warmth of personality, the kindness and strength of character and ability are all very apparent to any observer, and her addresses never fail to be both inspiring and informative, and Saturday night was no exception.

She once again re-kindled in her listeners a fresh understanding of the basic principles of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, which is simple, and at the same time, challenging—namely to improve the status of business and professional women; the secondary reason for existence as a group is to improve ourselves so that we will be ready and able to accept the responsibility which will come if basic objective is achieved.

We must learn to think na-nay-to-handle styles.

Stirling W.I. Plans for Mother's Day

Mrs. M. Ayerhart, John St., entertained the members of Stirling W.I. on Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. B. Reid opened the meeting.

Achievement day on June 1st at the Community Hall, Stirling; Toy Tea; 4-H Homemaking Club; was announced, also the Senior Service Home Economics course. A three dollar membership fee to the W.I. of Hastings County house, will be forwarded from Stirling W.I. Also District Director, Mrs. R. Williams, membership to the Hastings County Historical Society was ordered paid.

Mrs. F. D. MacMullen conveyed thanks for a gift she received at the meeting. She gave the president's official address at Stirling W.I.

Mrs. R. Williams reported the activities which took place at West Hastings District executive meeting held at Bellville, lately.

Mrs. B. Reid, Mrs. R. Williams and Mrs. J. Smith will represent Stirling W.I. at the District annual being held at Sydney Baptist Church, on June 1st.

The summer's social holiday was left in the hands of Mrs. W. C. Wert to enquire into the date, fare, and will report at June meeting.

"Pie plate dime holiday" will be a new adventure for money making by this Institute.

A Bible will be the Stirling W.I.'s award for the girl's or boy's best presentation of Bible reading at the Festival of Sacred Praises, which is held yearly in St. Paul's United Church, Stirling.

PROGRAM

The programs being based on "Mother's Day" and Victoria Day, are as follows. "Care of Easter Lilies" Mrs. L. Bronson; "God's Plan for Mothers," Mrs. W. C. Wert; "A Mother's Prayers", Mrs. F. Smith; "Mother's Wars", Mrs. E. Foster; "Mother Canada", Mrs. B. Reid; "The Birth of Empire Day", Mrs. K. Leary.

A delicious lunch was served and enjoyed.

Mrs. E. Foster moved thanks to the hostess, Mrs. M. Ayerhart and committee, Mrs. F. Smith and Mrs. L. Bronson.

Piped For Color

By GRACE THORNCLIFFE

Available in a variety of color combinations, this dress of raw silk is destined for a busy life. Made with a simple bodice that is back-buttoned, its appeal lies in the contrasting piping which is repeated in back where the inset at the belt line fastens with an adjustable buckle.

Bemersyde IODE Tea Successful

CAMPBELLFORD — The annual "Birthday Tea" and Bake sale of Bemersyde Chapter, I.O.D.E., was held at the home of Mrs. R. J. Locke, Frank Street. The guests, attractively attired in spring ensemble, were greeted by the Regent, Mrs. George Vice, and Mrs. Locke.

The tables of home baking offered a wide selection of desserts and candies and were well patronized by the ladies.

Yellow and white chrysanthemums with trailing ivy, centred the candle-lit table for the tea-pour. Tea was poured by Mrs. W. A. Jamieson, Mrs. E. G. Roberts, Mrs. W. A. Kingston and Miss K. B. Ferris, honorary Regent.

Out-of-town guests were present from Queen Elizabeth Chapter, Hamilton; St. Julien R. J. Cooke Chapter, Stirling; H. J. Cooke Chapter, Stirling and London, Ontario.

TEMPERANCE DRIVE

WINNIPEG (CP) — Mrs. Walter Gunn, president of the Winnipeg branch of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, has called for an intensification of the group's alcohol education program which includes leaflet distribution and school poster contests.

THE FAMILY COUNCIL

Mrs. F.R. — I don't want her plitting off the report to the last day.

Claire R. — I work best when I know I can't pool-poon any longer.

Mrs. F.R. — I'm trying to prevent a repetition of the bed-lam Claire put us through last year; she may like her way of doing things, but it makes a wreck of me and I know it's not at all good for her, or for her work either.

She's a junior at the State University, Majoring in English Literature, she must write one big report a year. She knows what it's to be about several months before it's due. Last year she didn't even start her reading till the last week. Then she stayed up nights drinking hot coffee and tapping cold towels to her eyes. And it was only a Cenitus paper.

This year, here the Christmas holidays are all over and she still hasn't begun. Since there's a month to go, I want her to use it.

• • •

Claire R. — My mother shouldn't nag me about my assignment. The only bother to her and the family comes during those last few crazy days and nights. I'll try to be more human this year. But I just can't get started this far ahead of time. I need the pressure of knowing there's no more time left to be able to do a hard job like that.

I have all the books in my room. This year my topic is "The Effect of the French Revolution on English Literature" — you know, "Tale of Two Cities" and all that. I've peeked into the texts. I have an idea of what I'll write. But honestly, it's so boring. After a page or two, I sniff the winter air or notice the snow, as well there are still a few weeks to go.

Somehow, though, I concentrate beautifully the last week.

The Council: Since weather proves so distracting to Claire, we'd suggest a switch in her major from English Lit to Meteorology, except that in addition to observing sun and rain, she'd still have to write papers on precipitation, condensation, pressure areas or other boring topics. The difficulty here lies in her self-indulgent work habits, rather than in the subject matter. With her predilection for postponing anything requiring staying put and thinking through, Claire would even have trouble framing a term paper on Yves Montand!

No, girl, Get yourself in hand! Else you'll grow into the sort of housekeeper who postpones campboring until the first moth turns up, or the employee who flies hard jobs under. If and it waits till all hell breaks loose!

Mrs. R. is right in wanting to be spared the hysterics of the last-minute attack on a long-term job. Presumably the to-do touches the entire household, not just Claire. Tipping through the halls is in order, as is shushing, lab-talking, sympathizing and commiserating.

A good course in psychology might help Claire see some of the forces in her own make-up which explain this compulsive procrastination. Certainly it's a bid for attention. During her "frantic week" she can't be ignored. And requests for her attention, services or company and get the job done smoothly.

Piquant Color Scheme

By ALICE ALDEN

Dark brown laced with white is a most interesting and piquant color combination, but is rarely used Anne Klein remedies this oversight in this design.

The easy, two-piece overblouse dress of dark brown crepe is finished by a scarf of white crepe striped in the dark brown coffee color. It's a good spring-into-summer selection.

The Experts Say

Working Girl Should Stick To One Basic Dark Color

By JANET ROSE

MONTREAL (CP)—If a working girl set aside $100 for a summer wardrobe, how should she go about spending it?

The first step to a smart low-budget summer wardrobe is sticking to one basic dark color, says Montreal fashion expert Lillian Brogan.

Next, she should use the same color tone as in last year's wardrobe.

"The more basic colors she chooses, the more she will be able to work last year's things into this year's new items," says Miss Brogan, fashion consultant at Simpsons Montreal Limited for 11 years.

"Then she can keep this year's wardrobe for next year, and so on."

Accessories could be in lighter shades. The popular costume suit was good for spring and fall but not practical for warm summer days when more changes were needed.

YES, INEXPENSIVE

1. "She needs something to cover her head." Attractive all-purpose veils can be found for about $2.00-$2.50.

2. One basic Arnel jersey in a dark color is washable, can be dressed "up or down" and makes a good traveller—about $11.

3. A dark sheath-style sundress with jacket for afternoon and evening wear at about $20 and Dan River cotton dress at $11.

4. Two pairs of white gloves at about $2.50 each. (In humid weather one pair won't always last overnight.)

5. A rain-and-shine coat. Velvet or corduroy coats are good all-purpose daytime wear and elegant for evenings—about $30.

6. "A girl should spend at least $15 for a pair of shoes since her feet are so important," says Miss Brogan. One daytime pair and one dressier evening pair come to about $28.

7. For a handbag, the new button-top three-in-one reversible style is practical and attractive, can be switched from dressy to casual in no time—about $6.

Total—just about $100.

SPEAKING of MANNERS

PATRICIA LEWIS

MAIL CALL

Question: My son is being married and my sister would like to give a luncheon in a restaurant in honor of the bride-to-be. I do not care for the idea of the family. About thirty-five women relatives will be invited.

What sort of invitations should be sent out? How should we arrange the introductions? Should anything be done about entertaining after the luncheon? Will it be clear that it is not a shower and that gifts are not to be brought?

In addition, my husband and I are giving the wedding general dinner and would like to know what should be included other than the actual wedding party. — Mrs. C.A.G., Wheaton, Ill.

Answer: Since the luncheon is a family affair, invitations can be extended very informally, either by note or over the phone. The latter might be preferable so you can answer questions about whether to bring gifts right on the spot. If you have to send any notes, it's unsuitable to state outright that the party is just to get acquainted and not a shower.

At the luncheon, a small receiving line should be formed to greet guests. Your sister, as hostess, would head it and you would stand between her and your future daughter-in-law. As guests enter, first your sister would greet them, then you, and then you would introduce each to the bride-to-be.

A punch could be served before the luncheon to give guests a chance to mingle and get to have a few additional words with the guest of honor after everyone arrives. After lunch, you and your sister and the bride-to-be should stand near the door to say good-bye to your guests. It is not necessary to provide additional entertainment.

For the wedding rehearsal dinner, the guest list should include the bride and groom, of course; the bride's parents; all members of the wedding party and their husbands and wives; the clergyman and his wife. Guests who have arrived from out of town to attend the wedding usually are invited, as well. Again, invitations may be issued informally by note or phone call.

Question: When a bread and butter plate is used in a place setting, should the butter knife be placed next to the dinner knife on the right side of the plate? I've never been exactly sure where it should properly be placed. — A.E.D., Trenton, N.J.

Answer: The butter knife is placed on the rim of the bread and butter plate, either horizontal or perpendicular to the edge of the table.

Dainty 'Daffodil Tea' Held At St. George's Chapel

Through skies were dull with oddles of cookies, as well as a sprinkles of rain, mingled with variety of tarts. Conveying this flecks of snow, and a chill that chilled, you may found that were yesterday afternoon to St. George's Chapel, Bridge St., to enjoy the warm friendliness of a tasty tea, to mention the dainty tea and hours cooking provided, mid an atmosphere made golden by yellow daffodils. Everywhere the eye turned there were daffodils, some in single, and others of the double variety. Each little white-covered guest table was centered by containers of daffodils, and the long tea table, which extended along the eastern side of the auditorium, was especially lovely with its white cloth, centred by a crystal container of daffodils. The tall, slender candles in crystal holders, flickering a warm welcome, and the bright silver tea trays added a pretty accent to the setting.

Pouring tea during the afternoon were, Mrs. J. B. Creegan, wife of the rector of Christ Church, and Mrs. M. Welch; Mrs. J. R. Slavin, and Mrs. R. Hickey.

SERVING

Those serving included Mrs. M. Coleman; Mrs. A. Beckman; Mrs. M. Quirt, and Mrs. F. Anderson, while replenishing plates, were Mrs. McLeod, and Mrs. A. Briens. Mrs. Burton, Mrs. Jenkinson, and Miss Towner, prepared the tea.

Around the auditorium was placed the homebaking table, with its always fine confections which included apple, lemon, raspberry pies; loaf cake richly fruited, dressed with scrolled cocoanut; loaves of homemade bread and buns, tea biscuits; chocolate cup-cakes topped with white icing and dotted with a red cherry; pineapple squares, cinnamon swirls; chocolate and date squares, and

For three weeks I have rejoiced in to keep from boring you with cake recipes. For Easter, I gave you an elegant Lemon Cocoanut Cake Roll. Today's cake is a children's cake for cocoanut too, but this time the cocoanut is toasted.

When I hated it, I declared it to be the tenderest chiffon cake yet. Eleanor did the experimenting with this cake for today's column, so give her a big salaam.

TOASTED COCOANUT CHIFFON CAKE:

1 cup shredded or flaked cocoanut, ¾ cup sifted all-purpose flour, 2½ teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, ⅔ cup granulated sugar, 1-3 cup cooking (salad) oil, 4 egg yolks, 1-3 cup water, 1½ teaspoon vanilla, ½ teaspoon almond extract, 4 egg whites (at room temperature), ½ teaspoon cream of tartar.

Set oven temperature at 325 deg. Fahr. and put cocoanut in to toast. Watch it carefully, and stir, to toast until golden. Cool thoroughly. Set aside 1-3 cup to sprinkle on frosted cake. Chop remaining cocoanut finely to use in cake batter.

Sift flour, baking powder, salt and sugar into a bowl. Make a well in the dry ingredients and add, in the order given, the cooking oil, egg yolks, water, vanilla and almond extract. Using a wooden spoon, stir to mix, then beat until batter is smooth; stir in the chopped toasted cocoanut.

Put egg whites into a large bowl and sprinkle with cream of tartar; beat until very, very stiff — peaks rather than as an angel cake. Pour batter over about a third at a time, folding with rubber scraper after each addition. Turn into ungreased angel cake pan (9" tap hollow measure) and spread evenly. Bake in moderate oven (350 deg. Fahr.) about 1¼ hours. Invert pan carefully over a funnel or bottle and cool completely. Loosen cake and shake it gently from pan. Frost top, sides and centre of cake with

Dinner Menu

WEDNESDAY: (Quick)

Chicken and Lobster (from Can.) Scalloped Potatoes Mixed Fruit Frozen Baby Limas and Canned Kernel Corn; Sliced Tomatoes on Leaf Lettuce; Sliced bananas with Milk and Liquid Honey; Cheese and Crackers; Coffee.

BUTTER-CREAM FROSTING:

¼ cup butter or margarine (be sure it is colored), 1 egg yolk (left over from making cake), ¼ teaspoon vanilla, few drops almond extract, 2 cups sifted icing sugar, 1 tablespoon (or more) cream.

Cream butter or margarine until very soft. Add egg yolks and beat until very fluffy; mix in vanilla and almond extract. Add sifted icing sugar, alternately with cream, combining well after each addition — use just enough cream to make an icing of soft spreading consistency. Beat well. After spreading on cake, sprinkle top with remaining toasted cocoanut.

If this is to be served at a tea party, lower a tiny vase or cup in hole in centre and fill with short-stemmed lilies-of-the-valley or other tiny flowers.

CAMPBELLFORD

Hospital Board Holds Annual Meet

CAMPBELLFORD — Following a dinner held in the Board room of the Campbellford Memorial Hospital attended by the members and their wives, or husbands, and Miss V. Hitt and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Surwest, the annual meeting of the hospital board was held with the president C. H. Davidson in the chair.

Mr. Davidson welcomed the members to the dinner and you called how the original seed for the hospital was sown in the Campbellford Rotary Club. Carrying on with the history of the hospital, Mr. A. J. Meyers, R. J. Locke and W. F. Scott recalled some of the early difficulties.

S. N. Carr, treasurer, spoke briefly, expressing pleasure in his service. Reeve O. H. Mumby spoke of the work of the original board and its amalgamation with the Building committee of the new hospital.

Mr. C. H. Davidson paid tribute to Miss Hitt and the staff of the hospital and stated that he would prefer to have someone else elected as chairman for 1963-64. He gave comparative figures testifying to the growth of the hospital from 1954 to 1962.

In 1954 the total income of the hospital was $84,154, compared with $404,292 in 1962. Salaries and wages in 1954 to 28 employees were $61,463 and in 1962 to 89 employees, $338,050. Nearly twice as many patients were treated in 1961 as 1954, but the increase in patient days was much greater, 7,855 as compared with 23,173.

The budget for 1963 showed expenditures of $441,781 as projected.

Mr. S. N. Carr gave the treasurer's report. This showed the total assets at December 31st as $96,196. He paid high tribute to the work of the Hospital Auxiliary, a report of which separation was given by Mrs. W. F. Scott.

NINE YEARS' CONTRIBUTIONS

Mrs. Scott gave high acclaim to the staff and the Board. She said that contributions in the nine years of operation to the hospital by the Auxiliary amounted to just less than $34,000. This of course, takes no account of the innumerable number of hours of work involved in sewing or raising the money by bazaars.

Mrs. J. F. N. Douglas gave the report of the late A. R. MacFadden Co. auditors.

Reeve George H. Free was asked to assume the chair for the election of officers. He paid tribute to the 1961 Board which was then re-elected. They are C. H. Davidson, S. N. Carr, T. G. Linton, R. J. Locke, Mrs. Vera Locke, J. F. N. Douglas, and W. F. Scott.

Several folk from this community attended the funeral of Mr. Ross Sprague at the Hicks Funeral Home, Consecon on Thursday afternoon. Sympathy is extended to the family.

Reports Linking Smoking With Lung Cancer Bring Anti-Tobacco Campaign

By ANTHONY WEST

LONDON (AP) — New medical reports linking smoking with lung cancer have brought anti-tobacco campaigns in Britain, Denmark and Italy.

Italy has banned all tobacco advertising. The British government is censoring a public campaign, saying smoking is a hazard. In Denmark, cigarette sales are dropping.

It all began with a report by a panel of doctors from Britain's Royal College of Physicians declaring that heavy cigarette smoking is a cause of lung cancer.

Major British tobacco companies quickly responded to the plea by the doctors that children should be discouraged from smoking. The companies announced they will take tobacco advertisements off television during children's viewing hours.

One company took out a circular to 1,000 vending machines where children could buy cigarettes and will remind all said they will remind traders more pointedly in the future that it is illegal to sell cigarettes to those under 16. The law is widely flouted in Britain.

TURN TO PIPES

While there are no figures to indicate Britons are smoking fewer cigarettes, several pipe manufacturers report a 30-per-cent increase in sales.

"Many women are taking up pipes," one trader said. "We have always made pipes suitable for women but we have sold more of them in the last month than in the last five years."

Denmark's smokers are taking the warning seriously. Publication there of the British report was followed by similar findings by Danish doctors.

Danish manufacturers reported a drop in cigarette sales. Women are changing to small cigars and more men to pipes as the result of persistent claims that a pipe or cigar is less dangerous than a cigarette.

Leaders of Denmark's tobacco industry voluntarily agreed to cut off all tobacco advertising except in daily newspapers.

BAN ADVERTISING

The government asked the health and education ministries to arrange school lectures on what it says is the dangers of smoking. Just how seriously the government is taking things is indicated by one fact: It has a monopoly on tobacco sales.

West Germany's ministry of health obtained a copy of the British report far study, but there is no way of knowing whether it will go further then that.

Norwegians are smoking about as much as ever.

No one seems to be giving up smoking in Switzerland, where cigarettes are cheap (as low as 15 cents for 20) and there is no age limit for smoking.

Swedes are sticking to their two main tobacco habits—cigarettes and snuff.

SOME SMOKE ON

Australia—Somewhere you have to be 18 before you can smoke legally—there seems to be no age limit on snuff. Nobody can, in fact, a bill is being prepared to lower the smoking age limit to 16.

Yugoslavs also smoke on, with cigarettes at only 10 cents for 20.

Frenchmen seem to have shrugged off the British doctors' report as just another in their series. France's tobacco industry is also a state-run enterprise. There is no tax and no law to say when you can begin smoking.

One result in France ran directly against the anti-smoking current. The post office issued a stamp honoring the 19th century French diplomat, Jean Nicot, generally credited with having introduced tobacco into Western Europe, or at least into France.

He gave his name to nicotine.

United Nations' Scoreboard Series of Small Successes And Some Costly Failures

By BERNARD DUFRESNE

LEOPOLDVILLE (CP) — The United Nations' scoreboard in The Congo is, from available evidence, a series of small successes and some costly failures.

It is difficult, and perhaps too early, to determine whether the UN's multi-million-dollar effort is letting The Congo out of its state of collapse.

"The Congo is like the eye of a storm. Nothing seems to be happening, but there is danger on all sides. The worst of it is that nobody can say—or even guess—what tomorrow may bring."

One sure thing is that the UN will have to remain here many years because the Congolese are nowhere near being able to cope with their problems alone.

While the UN may not save the country's economy, its military force of 16,000 remains a powerful inducement toward law and order and may eventually set the stage for a safe and peaceful climate that will again make The Congo an attractive place for foreign investment.

TRAIN DOCTORS

1. Crash training programs for some 1,600 Congolese in such fields as medicine, law, public administration, education, communications, weather forecasting, social welfare services and police work.

2. Maintenance of law and order in at least the major centres representing a third of the country's 14,500,000 population. Nobody knows what is happening in the remote bushlands where tribal differences are often settled by primitive warfare.

3. Minimum public services have been maintained wherever they had been established under Belgian technicians caused a Lubumbourg, capital of Kasai, where floods and the lack of Belgian colonial rule, except in Leopoldville in water and electricity supplies.

4. Public works, limited to pressing requirements of The Congo's transportation network of interdependent railway, river and road facilities, and land-clearing and housing in agricultural Kivu province. Jobs provided: Up to 5,000.

5. Quick action in providing vaccination and inoculation services whenever there has been a threat of epidemic.

6. Financial assistance totalling $35,000,000 in the last 30 months to help the central government pay up its army and civil servants and provide foreign exchange for imports of essential goods.

UNEMPLOYMENT HIGH

The failures are not mentioned in official UN reports. From the UN point of view these failures can be blamed on the political instability of The Congo.

However, diplomatic and military observers see many mistakes due to a lack of planning and to a sometimes unfortunate choice of policy-makers and of personnel to carry out policies.

These observers include among the failures:

1. The lack of any program to bring about the economic recovery of a practically bankrupt country and to provide jobs for an unnumbered number of unemployed. Leopoldville alone is estimated to have 100,000 jobless out of about 700,000 population.

2. Pressure, at the start of UN operations in 1960, to keep out Belgian colonial administrators and technicians who had fled to safety. There now is a shift in UN thinking and efforts are being made to bring them back.

3. Armed UN intervention to kick foreign mercenaries out of Katanga's security forces. In the eyes of some military observers, the fighting around Elizabethville last autumn was ill-advised and badly planned and did not strengthen materially the UN's position in the autonomy-minded province.

TAKES MIDDLE COURSE

In all that it does, the UN has to walk softly for fear of displeasing any of the various factions. Wherever it has tried to take a strong stand it has lost, and so must adopt a middle course that is not always best.

His position often suffers from politically tinged actions that are usually interpreted by politicians here as unwarranted interference in the country's domestic affairs.

A recent example followed the appointment of Dr. Sture Linner, former chief of civilian operations here, as special UN representative in Brussels to negotiate for Belgian technical assistance in The Congo.

Justin Bomboko, Congolese charge d'affaires in Brussels, greeted the appointment with a bitter statement indicating objection on the ground the move was an affront to his country's sovereignty. He was not objecting to the return of Belgian aid, but to the fact that the UN, acting on its orders, is trying to obtain it.

Some UN personnel say their dealings with government officials often are tricky because of sudden changes of mood, and indecision, and procrastination on the part of the Congolese. This may be due to the fact that UN officials do not understand the mentality of the Congolese.

"We are slow to learn and to think and to act. It takes us a long time to understand things and we forget quickly what we learn."

If his description is accurate, the UN has a long tough road ahead.

Opponents Say Jagan Seeks To Make British Guiana First Outpost of Redism

By BURCHELL O. WILLS
Press Correspondent

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana (CP) — The opposition moves to hammer away at the government of leftist Premier Cheddi Jagan as this British colony tries to recover from disastrous February riots.

Charges have been made that the premier is seeking to make British Guiana the first outpost of international communism on the South American continent.

This the premier denies, saying British Guiana will not be allowed to become a base for communism and the Russians, or "for an attack on anybody."

A new wave of protests was directed his way when he announced consideration is being given to establishment of a national army. Counties bargaining for independence, he said, always consider it the setting up of a national army as a means of defence and unity.

YEAR INTERVENTION

One of the premier's opponents has asked British to make sure British troops now in the colony are not used to permit the Jagan government to impose any "new Communist measure" on the Guianese.

The troops were hurriedly summoned Feb. 16 to quell riots that capped a weeklong general strike against a government budget imposing heavy new taxes on the working class. Six persons were killed and 300 injured in the riots. More than 80 businesses were destroyed by fire and damages from the flames and looting was estimated at $30,000,000.

Hugh Fraser, British parliamentary undersecretary for the colonies, came here to study the situation in the wake of the riots which he described as "truly tragic" for a country so near independence.

He declined to say what effect the riots might have on Premier Jagan's request that British Guiana be granted independence this year. Talks scheduled for May are reported to have been postponed. What this country needs, said Fraser, is stability and calm.

TROUBLESHOOTER FROM LONDON—Hugh Fraser, British parliamentary under-secretary for the colonies, visited British Guiana following riots that caused an estimated $30,000,000 damage and killed eight persons. He declines to say what effect the riots will have on the South American colony's hopes for independence this year. (CP from UK communal army organized to protect communal interests. He will decide when his army is to be used, and when the opposition threatens to overthrow the government.

"This country is balancing precariously on the edge of a precipice. We saw signs of the gorge below on Feb. 16 (the day of the riots). A communal army levying reprisals against the opposition can only inspire protectionist measures. The significance of this is both horrible and horrifying."

DOCTORS TO MEET

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP) — Nearly 1,500 physicians are expected to attend the Ontario Medical Association's 52nd annual meeting which opens here Monday. Among speakers will be Dr. Ian MacDonald, president of the Saskatchewan College of Physicians and Surgeons.

PICTON

Dept. Will Not Grant Rebate On New Street

PICTON—The Ontario Department of Highways has changed its mind regarding granting a rebate on the new street built on the extension above Mayor H. J. McFarland told town council Monday night. He said that on receiving verbal assurance that $12,000 would be rebated on its construction cost, which amounted to $21,000. The street was opened on property owned by the mayor to accommodate a new industry locating there.

The mayor apologized to finance chairman James Bird who had prepared the budget on the assumption that such a grant would be forthcoming, and asked that no change be made. "I feel something can be worked out," he stated, expressing the thought that construction had proceeded faster than legal ground work in order to accommodate the new industry.

"The government seems to forget that a navy bean and trawler coming to the Provincial Dock there pays a rebate on the tax they use," commented the mayor.

Better news was forthcoming from the mayor who stated the Bank of Nova Scotia is planning to demolish the present structure on Main Street and erect a new building.

Town treasurer W. D. McArthur was instructed to contact the Ontario Municipal Board for approval to issue debentures amounting to $225,000 for conversion of the town's sewage plant, which has been ordered by the Ontario Water Resources Commission.

Fruit and Vegetable Processors Join Forces to Boost Canadian Exports

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadian fruit and vegetable processors have joined forces in a combined effort to sell their products in export markets under a single brand name.

A unified sales company and an industry council, both with the joint goal of overcoming the differential between higher Canadian prices and lower world prices, have been incorporated within the last week, trade sources here report.

The fruit and vegetable industry thus becomes the third industry to take advantage of federal legislation in 1960 which waives the strict terms of the Anti-Combines Act where co-operation for export business is concerned. Officials here said they aren't at liberty to identify the other two industries.

The brand name under which its products will be sold abroad hasn't yet been chosen.

But the organization itself has a snappy, multi-initial name—FAVPEP—meaning Fruits and Vegetable Products Export Promotion.

The FAVPEP council will provide the machinery for negotiations aimed at overcoming price spreads between domestic and overseas prices.

Favpeapples Limited — standing for fruit and vegetables export sales — is the exporting company, the charter limits it to the export market. It will have long-term agreements with Canadian processing firms agreeing to supply part or all of the products' output of certain products. It will aim only at covering its costs.

Officials say it's hoped that the economies resulting from larger production and a central sales organization will cut unit costs.

The joining for export approach, adopted with success by industries in other countries, is seen as the best method of gaining export markets for small firms which are either intimidated at the prospect of tackling world competition or feel they can't afford the extra cost and effort.

The fruit and vegetable plan is ringed with safeguards. Besides a ban on sales in the Canadian market, there is a clause that no domestic producer is required to join, but the sales company must be available to all producers. Member firms can continue to export under their own brand names.

First Canadian Ambassador Leaves for Central Africa

OTTAWA (CP) — Fulgence Charpentier, Canada's first ambassador to the Second World War and a former French - language journalist, leaves Ottawa today as Canada's first ambassador to four newly - independent French-speaking nations in Central Africa.

The countries — Cameroon, Congo Republic, Chad and Gabon—are former overseas territories of French Equatorial Africa that gained their independence less than two years ago.

Mr. Charpentier, 64, a lawyer who graduated from Toronto's Osgoode Hall in 1924, served for several years as parliamentary correspondent in Ottawa for Le Droit and Montreal La Presse and was elected president of the Parliamentary Press Gallery three times.

He joined the external affairs department in 1947 and served Canadian embassies in Haiti, Paris, Uruguay and Brazil.

The decision to established diplomatic relations with the emergent French-speaking nations was announced in the Commons Feb. 27 by Howard Green, external affairs minister.

Mr. Green said the government took the step because of "the growing importance of African in world affairs and the growing influence of these countries, both in Africa and at the United Nations."

Mr. Green also said he assigned to Mr. Charpentier is the study of the types of assistance Canada can give to these countries.

Aid from Canada should be warmly received, he said in an interview, because Canada is regarded as "an older brother with much good" in escaping colonial status and its industrial development is well advanced.

Mr. Charpentier said aid is needed most in developing capable administrators and a sound educational system.

Mr. Charpentier, a native of Ste. Anne de Prescott, Ont., plans to make his home in the Cameroon capital of Yaounde, site of the Canadian Embassy. He is to be accompanied by his wife Louise and their youngest son Jacques, who is to continue his studies in Cameroon.

Labor Officials Never Granted A Meeting

- Douglas

WELLAND (CP) — T. C. (Tommy) Douglas, national leader of the New Democratic Party, said Tuesday night he bor officials were granted a meeting with the Saskatchewan cabinet to discuss proposed medical care insurance.

He was replying to a statement by Walter Erb, who resigned from the CCF government and the party last Thursday in a move linked with the province's controversial medical care plan. Mr. Erb was minister of health and welfare at the time and was holding the public works portfolio at the time of his resignation.

Mr. Erb said Monday night that certain labor officials were granted a meeting with cabinet ministers Oct. 5, 1962, to discuss draft legislation for the plan, and that a similar meeting was denied the Saskatchewan College of Physicians and Surgeons.

Said Mr. Douglas Tuesday night, in an interview following a campaign adress:

"It is very simple. When we received the report of the Thompson commission (which prepared recommendations forming the basis of the health plan) it included two minority reports from the doctors and the Saskatchewan Federation of Labor.

We met with both groups but at neither meeting did we discuss the draft legislation. It was not shown to either group. These meetings were merely to hear representations on each of the minority reports."

Labor Thinks Princess Should Fix Own Home

LONDON (Reuters) — Labor MPs Tuesday demanded a government reply to their criticism of the £35,000 in public funds being spent to renovate the new London home of Princess Margaret and the Earl of Snowdon.

Labor MP Michael Stewart asked in the House of Commons whether it was not the general policy of the government that subsidized houses should not be occupied by persons who could afford to buy their own home.

Works Minister Hope replied that Princess Margaret would meet the cost of boilers, kitchen equipment and some decorations and special fittings not included in the appropriation to repair the Kensington Palace house in London's west end.

Labor MP William Hamilton asked whether it was not normal practice, in historic buildings of this kind, for the owner or occupier to meet half the cost. Hope said it was not a comparable case.

Psychiatrist and Lawyer Agree Rights of Individuals Are Sometimes Violated

TORONTO (CP)—A psychiatrist and a lawyer agreed Tuesday that current methods of assessing the mental competence of a person to stand trial violate the rights of both the individual and society.

Dr. Schmeiser at the American Psychiatric Association annual meeting here, John H. Hess, the instructor of psychiatry at the University of Michigan Medical Centre in Ann Arbor, presented a report on a survey of a person to stand trial violate the rights of both the individual and society.

But psychiatrist complains that the law disregards psychology and psychiatry. The lawyer often feels that psychiatry is out of touch with the facts of life in the courts regarding procedures to protect society and the individual.

Dr. Hess and his team studied the records of accused persons who had been committed to trial and committed to Ionia State Hospital in Michigan.

INTERESTS NOT SERVED

He concluded that the roles of the courts, the hospitals and the doctors often are perverted and the interests of the accused are not served.

The Michigan practice, the same or similar to most other jurisdictions in North America, results in "incarceration, often for life, of persons without benefit of trial."

Dr. Hess formed the opinion that many of those committed to Ionia Hospital were competent to stand trial and the majority of the rest could have been made ready for trial for treatment within six months.

Common law holds that the court decides whether an accused is competent — whether his mental status permits him to plead and be tried on a criminal charge, understanding the proceedings and assisting in his own defence.

But in Michigan, and other jurisdictions, the statute embodying the common law principle refers to the sanity of insanity of the accused, not his competence.

URGES WIDER USE

Wider use of a drug which produces symptoms characteristic of schizophrenia was urged by Dr. Gustav R. Schmiege of the Carrier Clinic in Belle Mead, N.J.

Dr. Schmeiege said that use of LSD (lysergic acid diethylamide) has produced encouraging results in cases of alcoholism, sexual perversion and other personality disorders.

Members of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce Tuesday had the opportunity of discussing resolutions to come before the chamber convention of the Ontario Chamber to be held at Niagara Falls.

Approximately 50 local members attended a general meeting at the Bridge Quality Dairy afternoon and following a social hour discussed the various resolutions to go before the Ontario body.

Those who didn't see eye to eye with the resolutions there was a suggestion the relevance committee headed by Gerald Wishart, immediate past president of the Belleville Chamber.

Heading up discussions on the various resolutions were representatives of Belleville's business and professional life.

Chairmen for the various discussion groups were as follows; education: Jack Cousins; health services, Dr. J. Russell Scott; tourism, Ernest Kneisel; industrial development, Jack Ireland and Gerald Joyce; taxation, Ronald W. Cass, Q.C.; retail business practices, Irvin Shilman and Ben Corke; municipal affairs, John Barlow, David Luon and Harold Farrow, and fluoridation, F. H. Bellyfeld.

TORONTO (CP) — Doctors' acceptance of pro-rated fees under physician-sponsored medical insurance plans has made life difficult for Ontario's regional medical insurance co-operatives, the Royal Commission on Health Services was told Tuesday.

Co - operative Medical Services Federation of Ontario, a group representing medical co-ops in 33 of Ontario's 65 counties, said in a brief to the commission that the reduced fees might be considered "unfair competition."

The brief said the largely farm - based, autonomous regional co-ops also suffer from having a "disproportionate share" of older people in their membership of 372,000.

Federation president W. C. McCoig said his organization would be "very receptive" to the idea of setting up a co-ordinating agency for the 40-odd non-profit plans in the province.

The brief, one of five presented to the Commission Tuesday, said any government-supported health care plan in Canada will have to be mandatory in order to be effective.

ALSO PRESENT BRIEFS

The other four briefs came from Associated Medical Services Incorporated, Physicians' Services Incorporated and Windsor Medical Services Incorporated, all doctor-sponsored plans; and Trans-Canada Medical Plans, an organization coordinating activities of 11 doctor-sponsored plans across Canada.

AMS general manager, Dr. J. A. Hannah, told the commission there are signs serious illness is becoming a "pork barrel" enjoyed by others at the patient's expense.

Responsibility for rectifying the situation, he said, rests on the medical profession.

In his brief Dr. Hannah was severely critical of the medical profession for its attitude toward insurance and implied that doctors have been taking economic advantage of the physical distress of others.

But the answer was not government legislation.

"Anything which tends to remove direct responsibility from the shoulders of the doctor will tend to foster this attitude and the cost, and the tendency, on the part of the profession, to further disclaim responsibility."

MAY SOLVE DIFFICULTY

The solution, he said, appears to lie in a return to a direct relationship between the doctor's economic status "and the outstanding efficiency of the cost of medical care as a whole."

Dr. Hannah also called for establishment of a permanent federal commission to promote prepaid medical care across Canada.

Earlier, Dr. J. O. Lockhart of Hamilton, president of PSI, said under questioning he personally would support a government under which PSI would administer a government - sponsored, province-wide program for as long as range available to all regardless of economic circumstances.

Trans-Canada medical plans and Windsor Medical Services both suggested government subsidies to the non-profit medical plans to allow them to serve those who cannot meet their health insurance needs.

The month-long commission hearings here continue today.

METAL WORKERS STRIKE

VIENNA (AP) — Austria's 280,000-member metal workers' union went on strike today to back up demands for an 11 to 17 per cent minimum wage boost. The walkout was expected to spread to the state-allied steel industry unless management and the metal union can reach a compromise. Union and management representatives spread after night long negotiations to continue talk.

Maiden Flight Of Space Rocket Ends Abruptly

The blazing blowup of the 29,000,000 - pound, 32 - foot rocket 85 seconds after it was launched was a severe setback to the United States plan of developing Centaur as a workhorse booster to triple present U.S. space payload capability.

It also could delay the forthcoming orbital flight of astronaut Malcolm Scott Carpenter, set for May 17, if the trouble can be traced to the first-stage Atlas. Another Atlas of the same model is to be the booster for Carpenter.

No payload was carried on this initial flight, which was intended as a brief 15-minute, up-and - down journey to check rocket systems. This is the first of 10 planned launches in a three - year Centaur research and developmental program.

The failure upset plans to gather the first extensive flight data on performance of high - energy liquid hydrogen fuel, the ambitious engine which PROVIDES MORE THRUST — that which delivers 40-percent more thrust, than conventional rocket fuels. The second stage did not fire on Tuesday's launching.

The U.S. has made a heavy commitment to use liquid hydrogen to fuel the upper stages of its big boosters for several years, included are Saturn and Nova rockets now under development which will carry American astronauts to the moon later in this decade.

Once operational, hopefully in 1964, Centaur will be able to lift 8,500-pound satellites into an earth orbit, and 2,500 pounds on the moon, or send 1,300 pounds to the vicinity of Mars and Venus.

Child Is Killed

LONGEAC, Ont. (CP) — A five-year - old girl was killed and two boys injured Tuesday when a shotgun with which a five-year-old boy was playing discharged.

Police said the blast from the 12-gauge shotgun struck Minnie Martin of the Martin Falls Indian Reserve, 30 miles east of Longlac. Police also struck Terrance, 5, and Clarence Charles, 4.

Preliminary Scratching In Crime Probe Indicates Ground for More Excavating

By JOHN LAGLAND

TORONTO (CP)—A gambler in a white Cadillac on the prowl for fastidious police secretaries . . . a policeman posing as a crook to find a companion . . . crooks posing as policemen . . .

Leaks from the top police office . . . tapped phones . . . wealthy policemen . . . $4,000 cash in a suitcase . . . bribe propositions from $25,000 . . . plus a basket of fruit . . . a gambling look tossed a $60 tip on the table while his detective's unsuspecting husband works on new ways to outwit him. . . .

It could be a combination of Oppenheim and Mickey Spillane with touches of Runyon, but it has been "unfolding before a royal commission investigating big-time crime in Ontario. . . .

And preliminary scratching around indicates there is ground for plenty more excavating. Public hearings have produced 720,000 words of after-explosive evidence since March 31; secret sessions presumably were at least as revealing.

REACHES HIGH PLACES

There have been references, publicly, to "Mr. X" and "Mr. Blank," an assortment of "Mafia-type figures" and "senior officials. A policeman hinted at an as-yet-unnamed Mr. Big in the shadows behind organized gambling.

Some of the originally anonymous persons are getting named piecemeal. One, Mr. Big Porter, who is a former attorney-general; the deputy attorney general, the director of public prosecutions, an M.L.A., a former M.L.A and a clutch of miscellaneous policemen, municipal officials and magistrates.

Ontario Provincial Police headquarters here has been pictured as an echo chamber where an honest officer could turn in a confidential report and quickly have its contents repeated back to him by an underworld figure. One anti-gambling squad member was reportedly ousted as having retired with $100,000 in protection money; another as having made $30,000 before being sentenced to prison.

RE-VIVIFIED BIG BRUTE

An inspector now in charge of a major OPP district was reported by evidence as having been described by a gambler as willing to "do anything for a dollar," but has disclaimed any mob connections.

Other officers have testified to rejecting gamblers' bribes that have included variously $1,000 a week, $2,000 a month, a $30,000 - $60,000 motel plus $25,000 home, the lion's share of profits from an Ontario-United States border gaming club and a partnership in which gambling flourished in a restricted tideway, the latter described by the wrangled-for MLA. Mahoney before he became minister.

Much of the evidence has been hearsay, several degrees removed from the source; some originates with convicted lawbreakers; denials "break" on the skill of accusations, and there are memory lapses.

All the evidence up to now, before a one-man commission run by Mr. Justice W. D. Hossack of the Ontario Court of Appeal, has been virtually restricted to gambling as the commission looks into suggestions of influence - peddling in the attorney-general's department under one of its terms of reference.

STYLISH GAMBLERS

That aspect is by no means complete, and still to come is a broad inquiry into Ontario's crime generally and the capacity of law enforcement agencies to deal with it. Suspected ties with U.S. crime syndicates—lightly touched on up to now—undoubtedly will be probed.

The gambling revelations so far have centred around the young policemen and "two entrepreneurs" of stylish dice establishments, Joseph McDermott, 38, and Vincent Feeley, 36, who do not at all fit into the conventional picture of gambling hoodlums.

They wouldn't rate a second glance among the briefcase-toting young executives of Toronto's financial Bay Street. In fact, they have been large-scale operators in mining and real estate ventures. Feeley flits an expensive type plane and drives a white Cadillac. McDermott it was who bugged $44,000 cash into a bank-he prefers dealing in $100 bills to cheques—to get a draft which he used to buy a helicopter.

The personable Feeley, according to evidence, in 1956 launched an ardent wooing of gambling squad Cpl. W. Jack Shrubb, now police chief of Peterborough, the alleged bribe rebuffs amiably, passed on tips on how to knock off gambling rivals and overheard wary conversations were being duly reported to the OPP.

WAS UNDERCOVER AGENT

Partner McDermott, according to evidence, hooked up with Detective Robert Wright, whom suspicious superiors, eventually transferred off the squad. Then, in 1960, Const. George Scott of the squad moved into the picture and began collecting for tipoffs.

Only after a few months Scott was revealed as an undercover agent for the OPP, and his disclosures led to the conviction of McDermott, Feeley and Wright this year on charges of obtaining police information illegally. Appeals have been entered.

All three are expected to appear before the commission, perhaps in secret session.

Scott has testified Wright told him of making $30,000 for tipoffs and of squad Sgt. John Cronin mopping up $100,000 before returning to a moral business.

As by-products of Scott's infiltration, two other squad constables were given a going-over, ending a minor league "bribing police chiefs" fad on the side—were allowed to resign.

DAMPER ON RAIDS

Staff Sgt. John Anderson, who succeeded Scott as anti-gambling branch after Cronin and Wright, also was an undercover diarist, reported he found it unusual that in 1957 three McDermott-Feeley clubs got provincial charters without government officials asking for prior police reports.

He was unhappy, too, when Attorney-General Kelso Roberts directed that social clubs as a rule should not be raided except on complaint, a ruling.

For all the limelight on them, Sgt. Anderson does not regard McDermott and Feeley as Ontario's gambling kingpins. He expressed belief there is "someone in higher authority," and he was to supply some names privately.

The sergeant told of getting one $1,000-a-week bribe offer, but details were not given. The next-to-last police provincial election-club profits offers were received orally by the late E. J. McNeil, OPP, commissioner until 1958, but kept others locked up until now.

POSED AS POLICE

Skimming the highlights of Scott's testimony:

Feeley described veteran Peterborough district chief Insp. Allan Stringer as a tipster "a good man who would do anything for a dollar. (The inspector said he knew fellow officers suspected him but denied everything. He could not account for $4,000 in cash which he received by Shrubb, from a number used by the gamblers to the inspector's house.)

2. Feeley claimed Deputy Commissioner James Bartleit phoned tips to several people on a planned mass descent on Hamilton gambling joints in 1957. The raids failed.

Feeley said he and McDermott, posing as gambling squad officers, were able to see police records of calls made by squad members.

4. The gambler-boasted of advance information on raids, apparently knew of confidential OPP reports and knew the identities of OPP undercover men trying to work their way into clubs.

Feeley, according to the evidence, also made an occasional play for OPP office secretaries, apparently with no practical result. But his boldest pitch was to get acquainted, behind Shrubb's back, with the officer's blonde wife.

WIFE ADMITS MEETINGS

Just as her husband finished tearing the old Mrs. Gladys Shrubb took the stand to tell of Feeley gaining a seemingly accidental introduction, at a cocktail lounge, bombarding her for dates, of meeting him three or four times in 1957 and eventually breaking off the acquaintanceship when she realized it was a mistake.

Shrubb had learned of the association — a hitherto - undisclosed item in a Scott diary—only a few days before her commission appearance.

Mrs. Shrubb testified she had known Feeley's profession but had not knowingly given him any information (she had none to give anyway, she said); and she specifically denied an allegation (by Wright, as noted in a Scott diary) that she was paid $2,000 to try to get her hard-drinking husband to transfer from the anti-gambling squad.

She described the association with Feeley as confined to the occasional, seemingly coincidental, meeting plus one prearranged date, in a dining lounge, where he left the change from a $60 bill on the table.

DENIES PAYMENT

Scott's diaries revived much McDermott talk involving big names. The gambler was quoted by Scott, via Wright, as saying McDermott once paid Deputy Commissioner Bartleit $1,000 at a party, OPP Commissioner W. H. Wright later testified Bartleit denied this.

McDermott told Scott that Deputy Attorney-General W. B. Common was "getting a lot of money from the gamblers" at the time of the constable's undercover job in 1960. But again Commissioner Wright said the deputy attorney - general had denied this.

One or possibly more this one—"senior officials" in the attorney - general's department has been mentioned a number of times with the name, or names, kept off the public record.

A "senior official" in the Toronto area was on the Feeley telephone-calling list. A "senior official" according to Shrubb satisfaction, for a "special reason," at a meeting of a club operated in opposition to McDermott-Feeley enterprise. Another was reported as having received $800 a month from gamblers at one time.

At one point in his testimony, Shrubb reported Feeley telling him this club could be raided with an assurance of "no repercussions" from the attorney-general's department.

FOUND-INS RELEASED

Police witnesses earlier had expressed dissatisfaction with the outcome of a 1954 raid on a McDermott - Feeley gambling operation at nearby Cookeville. Some 30 found-ins were turned loose after questioning, and the officers refused second-guidehand talk that this had been done on instructions from Dana Porter, then attorney-general, with the knowledge of then Premier Frost.

Mr. Frost and Chief Justice Porter denied this on the stand. Mr. Old Frost, officials contacted) denied knowledge of it. Former MLA Arthur E. Jolley of Niagara Falls denied ever talking to Feeley, whose phone number he had given Shrubb as the Jolley home while he was in office.

Two local Niagara Falls politicians denied receiving calls listed as from Feeley's number. The Niagara Falls police chief denied a Feeley allegation that his force was tipping a non-Feeley - McDermott club to raids.

Two Toronto area magistrates denied "fixes" in gambling cases alleged by Feeley. Another magistrate—same undisclosed—was found in McDermott's company on a club raid but was apparently not before the commission.

DROWNS DOCUMENT

Toronto lawyer David Humphrey denied knowledge of a mystery document which in 1958 illustrated a plan for closing the McDermott-Feeley rival in Niagara Falls.

Various witnesses said the nine-page document was written by Humphrey, then lawyer for the busy pair, with the help of Wright, and that it passed through the hands of MPA Mahoney (not yet minus minister) on it way to the OPP anti-gambling squad.

Insp. Stringer testified to getting it in the mail at Peterborough and delivering it secretly to squad chief Anderson at Toronto after a phone call from a man purporting to be Humphrey. Stringer could not explain the roundabout delivery method or why he was ordered from some 1,200 provincial police by a man he didn't know.

Anderson admitted falsifying his official police diary to omit the Toronto trip, and also to other falsified entries such as visiting Shrubb in Toronto and Sgt. Jack Hatch at Windsor, another memento of gamblers, to obscure their possible transfers to jurisdiction.

Eight New Members at United Church

STOCKDALE — Stockdale United Church was pretty well filled on Sunday morning, for the reception service and the minister's sermon was addressed to the young people being received into the membership of the Church. "Christ loved the Church," the minister quoted from Ephesians, "and gave Himself up for it."

Miss Martha Crowe and Miss Linda Holland, contributed a vocal duet to the ceremony, at the close of the direction of Mrs. P. Hobbie, organist, song Entered Hastily, "Breathe on Me Breath of God". The minister was assisted by Mr. Hobbie, clerk of the session, and the following were received into Church membership: Mrs. Clinton Hobbie and Betty Hobbie, Linda Holland, Elaine Mayhew, Marilee Crowe, Grant and Glen Hannah and Barry Kidd.

Scientist Makes Rats Shed Skins Like Snakes, Young Made Old and Vice Versa

By KEN SMITH

MONTREAL (CP)—Dr. Hans Selye's restless search for the key to life has led him into a mysterious world where rats can be made to shed their skins like a snake's, where the young are made old and just possibly vice versa.

For 15 years the famous scientist has had assistants have been injecting rats everything from the result, he says, already is most amazing but has come seven in 35 years of basic research into life.

The right that brought this exclamation from the gentle-spoken, world-renowned researcher who 25 years ago gave the world the theory of stress, was two rats of the same chronological age.

His skin is wrinkled and blotchy and its pelt is bedraggled. Its movements are slow and feeble, its feet look like prickle-crippled hands. Its arteries are hardened and eyes pocked with cataracts.

The other rat?

Under the same experimentation with only one more step added, it looks, albeit and vigorous. Its skin is smooth and supple, its muscles firm and sawyer. Dr. Selye says seems at his fastidious young. It is peddler and keeps himself from any of its untreated contemporaries.

He doesn't know where the research will lead but basic research aims only at answering life's ever-present "why," leaving it to other studies to find out how to apply the findings for the benefit of man—but already several bodies have shown great interest in the program.

One is the Canadian Cancer Society, which sees in the research a possible pointer to new aids in combating cancers or even offering a clue to a cure.

HAS WRITTEN BOOK

Dr. Selye talked to a reporter about the research program just before going to Rome to outline the experiments in aging to a scientific congress.

He also has written a book, entitled simply Calciphylaxis, published today by the University of Chicago Press. The book reviews the experimentation to date and theorizes about where it will lead.

Calciphylaxis essentially means abnormal sensitivity to calcium deposits.

Calcium, of course, is essential for a healthy life. An animal — including man — grows old, however, calcium can collect around arteries, hardening them. It can gather at joints, crippling them.

The experiments in calciphylaxis actually had their origin in some of Dr. Selye's first research work 35 years ago in Vienna.

Working with a vitamin D derivative, he found that if a pregnant rat were injected with this substance, some of the litter could be born with broken bones and hard calcified patches on the skin.

Interested in another aspect of the work, he didn't pursue the finding.

"Why, I'll never know," he says.

RECALLED EXPERIMENT

Recently, however, an assistant at the Institute of Experimental Medicine and Surgery at the University of Montreal cards across essentially the same phenomenon. Pointed out to Dr. Selye, the sight triggered the memory of that 35-year-old experiment and he was off, chasing another elusive "why."

Dr. Selye and his co-workers soon found that, by carefully controlled injections in experimental animals, fantastic results could be obtained.

After a certain time, the animal is injected again with what is called a challenger — mineral salt or albumen.

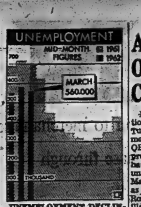
The research has been pushed to the stage where calcium can be deposited in almost any part of the body, forming a calcified tissue, or in the membership of the Christian Church, by profession of faith, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lott, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Voorhourst, Mrs. Pratt nursing baby, Mrs. Gerald Barrington, Mrs. Donald Jewell, Mrs. Edward Howard, Mrs. Harold McLeod, Mrs. Vernon Wannamaker, Mr. Aris Ag Barr, Mr. Kenneth Cornelius, Mr. Peter Selar, Miss Marilyn Phillips and Miss Shirley Nicholson.



The choir, under direction of Mrs. Karl Austin, organist, sang, "In Heavenly Love Abiding." The altar was adorned with white trillimums and red roses for the occasion. Every available seat was occupied.

FRANKFORD

United Church Admits 16 New Members

FRANKFORD — At Frankford United Church on Sunday morning, the minister preached a sermon on the place of the Church in the Christian gospel, from Paul's letter to Timothy, "The Church of the Living God the pillar and ground of the truth", and with the assistance of Mr. Walter Morrow, clerk of session, received into the membership of the Christian Church, by profession of faith, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lott, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Voorhourst, Mrs. Pratt nursing baby, Mrs. Gerald Barrington, Mrs. Donald Jewell, Mrs. Edward Howard, Mrs. Harold McLeod, Mrs. Vernon Wannamaker, Mr. Aris Ag Barr, Mr. Kenneth Cornelius, Mr. Peter Selar, Miss Marilyn Phillips and Miss Shirley Nicholson.

The choir, under direction of Mrs. Karl Austin, organist, sang, "In Heavenly Love Abiding." The altar was adorned with white trillimums and red roses for the occasion. Every available seat was occupied.

UNEMPLOYMENT DECLINES—Unemployment in Canada declined 23,000 from February's mid-winter high to 560,000 at mid-March, 145,000 lower than the jobless total for March of last year. The mid-March unemployment represented 6.7 per cent of the labor force.

Graph shows unemployment trend for 1961 and 1962. Totals include those on temporary layoff as well as those without jobs and seeking work.

TROLLEYS HALT

LONDON (AP) — After 31 years of silent service, London's fleet of trolley buses finally reached the end of the line Tuesday night. They will be replaced on all London routes today by diesel buses.

BIG ISLAND

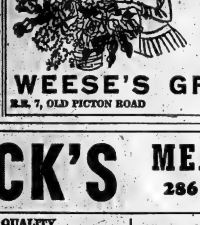
PICTON



Area Officer On Hand at Camp Picton

PICTON — Annual inspection was held at Camp Picton Tuesday afternoon, when Commander A. J. B. Bailey, DSO, QBE, ED, CD, of Kingston was present for the occasion, and read Paul's letter to Timothy, units which were on parade. Many spectators were present, as few such occasions for the Royal Expedition School of Arts, Army are expected in Picton. This fall, when the Canadian Guards return from Germany they will be stationed at Picton.

WILL EXTEND WHARF

The public wharf at Picton is to be extended, said C. A. Milligan, M.P. for Prince Edward-Lennox, as he released a letter from the Deputy Minister of Public Works, H. A. Young, Ottawa. The present wharf runs in front of the Prince Edward Yacht Club. Under the Department's plans, there will be four finger piers, each forty feet long, placed perpendicular to the existing marginal wharf. Tenders are to be called in a few weeks' time.

The news was welcomed by town and yacht club officials as lack of docking facilities has been felt more greatly every year with more and more pleasure craft calling each season.

The Tracks

Dreyer, making his Canadian debut, won three consecutive races—the second, third and fourth—but the third race was taken away from him on a disqualification. Welcome Effort, owned by Max Bell of Calgary, established himself as a definite threat for the Queen's Plate when Dreyer guided him to victory in the fourth race.

Dreyer whipped Mrs. Cessford to a photo finish victory over Track Rhythm in the second race and won the third on Ontario Holiday but was disqualified and placed fourth when the stewards ruled that Ontario Holiday had blocked Jumper Mitten coming around the final turn.

Welcome Effort, established as a two-year money favorite by the crowd of 8,215, defeated the pacemaker Blue Blue by one length. Welcome Effort paid $4.20 to win.

The daily double of Saugeen Linder and Mrs. Cessford in the first two races paid $67.

Referee Lives With 'Nightmare'

NEW YORK (AP) — "I smoked eight cigars a day before the fight, now I'm up to 18. I couldn't tell you how many sleepless nights I've had."

Ruby Goldstein, the referee, is still living with the nightmare of the death from ring injuries six weeks ago of Benny (Kid) Paret, the Cuban fighter.

"To say I had some (sleepless nights) would be pulling it mildly, even though I felt then, as I do now, that I acted properly in halting the bout when I did," Goldstein said in an interview.

"Any human with respect for his fellow man, with sentiment and sympathy, would react the same way."

Goldstein, a veteran official, was the third man in the ring at Madison Square Garden that fateful night of March 24 when Emile Griffith hammered Paret into insensibility in the 12th round in a fight for the world welterweight championship.

Paret remained in a coma for 10 days and finally died in the early morning of April 3. The tragedy brought down a landslide of criticism on Goldstein and worldwide demands that boxing be banned.

A former fighter himself, Goldstein said if he had a choice today he wouldn't go into boxing and wouldn't permit his son to do it, but he would not outlaw the sport.

Goldstein said the harrowing experience had convinced him that there were more reasonable than unreasonable people in the world. Of the some 125 letters he had received after the fight, only 19 were critical, and 10 of these, he said, came from apparent crackpots.

Would he continue refereeing?

"Why not?" Goldstein replied. "I'll work if they call me."

London Little Theatre After Third Festival Title

By WARREN MacDOUGALL

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — Four women and three men enacted a drama set in a Berlin apartment will try to give London Little Theatre its third victory in the Dominion Drama Festival.

The seven will perform in I Am a Camera at the festival in Winnipeg May 14-18 as Western Ontario representative.

The group is an old hand at Dominion festivals. It has appeared in eight, winning two, since 1947. It won in 1948 with Saint Joan and in 1950 with Six Characters in Search of an Author.

Peter Dearing, the bearded Englishman who is executive director, said London Little Theatre has gradually expanded since it bought the 1,100-seat Grand Theatre 15 years ago. This season it had 8,200 paid subscribers and produced eight plays, each of which had an eight-day run. It grossed $100,000 in the 1962-63 season.

I Am a Camera was adapted by John van Druten from Christopher Isherwood's Berlin stories. It is a chronicle of the lives of seven persons in Berlin in the lazy year of 1930.

"In the play, Mr. Isherwood is likened to a camera with its shutter open," says director Douglas McCullough. The camera records all that happens in a faded bed-sitting room.

"Her irresponsible search for pleasure and the unpleasant price she must pay constitute the main story line," McCullough said.

Beth Lockerbie, the adjudicator who selected five groups for the Western Ontario regional festival in March, said the performance was as nearly professional as amateur theatre can be.

Her husband, Ezse Ljungh, national supervisor of drama for the CBC and regional adjudicator, gave 1A7 the nod with the comment that the job was "well-nigh professional."

Allen Ludden Will Quit College Bowl This Year

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — Allen Ludden will quit College Bowl at the end of this fall's first six years as master - of - ceremonies and stay on with Password in its daytime and evening versions.

The decision was forced on Ludden when CBS decided to put the evening edition of Password into a Sunday spot next season, separated only by a half - hour from College Bowl. The sponsor of the latter program, felt that, even though College Bowl was earlier, the two programs, so close together, might prove a little too much Ludden.

Ludden, who was enthusiastic about his long, happy association with the quiz show, said he "finally decided I should go along with a program that had grown from a daytime game 'how to a prime-time evening bow.'"

"Password offers scope, and I enjoy performing," he added. "It has turned me into a fulltime performer. Besides, I'd done the other show for a long time, so couldn't prove anything much to me if I did another season of it."

Ludden's Dr. Bean Canny posting an IQ quite a bit of weight-particularly around the jowls? Better it should go into the ABC series' scripts, which have been showing some signs of malnutrition lately. Also many of the variety shows scheduled for next fall, name prices for talented guest stars, especially singers, are reported to be increasing with the demand. Good prices for name talent now runs between $2,000 to $7,500 an appearance.

Phil Silvers' Only Trouble Is His Inferiority Complex

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Phil Silvers is a charming, intelligent and talented comedian.

How do I know that?

He told me.

"Tell you how to start your story," said Silvers in his rat-a-tat style. "Phil Silvers is a charming, intelligent and talented comedian."

Now, to get on with it. Phil was making a sentimental return to 20th Century-Fox, where he spent eight of his youthful years.

"Just dropped in to see my old friend, Spyros Skouras, and what happens?" he said, indignantly. "They put me to work."

The work is playing a cameo role as an insurance man in Something's Got to Give. Silvers made it seem more like play than work as he and Marilyn gagged back and forth between and during scenes.

"This is your world," Silvers soothed, "mine is the theatah. Ah, to be back on the boards again."

The boards will have to do without Silvers for a while. After winding up Do Re Mi in Detroit, he moved his family here. He is cast in three films currently shooting. Besides this one, he is to play Tony Curtis' boss in 40 Pounds of Trouble and is on man in It's a Mad, Mad, Mad, Mad World.

NOT THE SAME

Silvers admitted things weren't the same at Fox on his return: "I'm not following John Payne around."

He has a routine about his eight - year stretch of playing the leading mans buddy. He claims his character was always called Biddle. Said he:

"My first line in every picture was: 'I've got the stuff.' In the car:' I never did find what 'the stuff' was."

Silvers added: "Making pictures was a lot more fun in those days. We used to sit around on rehearsal bungalow and have a ball. Every now and then Zanuck or a producer would come by and ask to see the number we were working on.

"Nick Castle, who was the dance director, was never at a loss. He'd put us through a routine that was always better than the one that finally appeared in the picture. Then Zanuck or the producer would go away, and we'd go back to having a ball."

RARE, MEDIUM, WELL-DONE

By GEO H. CARVER, Sports Editor

Mr. Speer Annis, 1340 Trentway Vista, Peterborough, is the new secretary of the Ontario Baseball Association. He succeeds Thomas Rowdon of St. Catharines who held the position for the past eleven years.

The announcement was made yesterday by Ken Carson, OBA president, who feels that Mr Speer is particularly well qualified for the position. He should be, since he was the secretary-manager of the Western Counties Baseball Association for seventeen years.

The new secretary who recently moved to Peterborough was the choice of four applications. The selection was made by the OBA executive as a body.

That ancient Mesphisto down Stratford way might be interested to know that the Intercounty Baseball League moguls headed by President Reid Buck attended the OBA session in Milton.

Carson had learned of the formation of a junior baseball league under the aegis of the Intercounty and he warned the IBL bosses that any "promotion" to the intermediate or senior loop ranks would bring down the wrath of the OBA insofar as eligibility is concerned.

And off-stage, Chick, rub old goat, the estimable president of the OBA 'n'er feelin'." He is not in the habit of going around throwing warnings unless he plans to follow it with action, drastic or otherwise.

He is not accustomed to running from anybody—even if he could. I know. He took me over the bumps once and you could light a cigaret off either of my ears for the next ten days.

And if Carson's plans and hopes materialize the Toronto Baseball League may be back in the Ontario Baseball Association before too long. The TBL has been operating as an independent organization for the past six years.

Committees of the TBL and the OBA are getting together in an effort to iron the wrinkles of difference that has divided them over the years.

"It looks very good at the moment," Carson says. "A committee of the OBA has met with officials of the Toronto League and my last reports have it that there is little separating the two organizations."

It seems the Metro set-up has a lot to do with the TBL again affiliating with the OBA. Teams on the outskirts want the opportunity to play for provincial championships. Under the present set-up this is impossible.

Closer to home the Kenmore' senior baseball squad is rounding into some sort of shape. Coach Sid Forster has had a squad of some 22 players out and it won't be long before he cuts the team down to competitive size.

A full practice has been ordered tonight at six o'clock at the Fair Grounds with other practices tomorrow night and Sunday. It is likely Forster will send two teams through an inter-squad game.

Manager Ken Soden said that six pitchers, one a left-hander, have been working hard for the mound positions. He, with the coach, believe that three hurlers should be able to carry the mound duties. No selections have been made as yet. The Kenmore's will carry 14 or 15 players during the season.

Efforts are being made to secure a Kenmor entry in the South Hastings League as a farm team for the senior squad. A SHBL meeting was held a few days ago but this agend was informed nothing of a definite nature resolved itself, although it was stated a midget entry from the city was accepted.

The Kenmors open in Peterborough on May 21st, with their first home game scheduled for the Fair Grounds Wednesday, June 9th. All the Kenmors' home games will be on Wednesday nights starting 8.15.

Wild Spree In 7-4 Win

KITCHENER (CP) — Three goals in a minute and 23 seconds of the third period Thursday night brought Hamilton Red Wings their first Memorial Cup.

The scoring spree, climaxing a wild game that took 3¼ hours to complete, gave the Wings a 7-4 victory over Edmonton Oil Kings to wrap up the best-of-seven series for the Canadian junior hockey championship 4-3.

It was played before a screaming, sell-out crowd of 7,071 who paid a gross gate of $16,402 at the beautiful Kitchener Memorial Auditorium well worth more than $3,000 to the two clubs and the biggest gate in the hockey history of this city, the home of Kitchener-Waterloo Beavers of the Eastern Professional League.

It was a lot of hard work by a lot of good hockey players that won it for us," summed up Hamilton coach Eddie Bush after the smoke had settled.

FIGURE STANDS

And smoke there was — not only on the ice but in the stands, where two fights developed.

One involved Bush, Det. Sgt. Charles Bignell of the Kitchener police and Howie Young, explosive former defenceman of Detroit Red Wings who was demoted to Edmonton Flyers of the Western League last season in hopes of cooling him down.

Bush emerged from the little unscathed. The policemen went to hospital with facial cuts and Young wound up the jug awaiting possible charges.

The spectators, doing their best to prolong the struggle, littered the ice with debris including a bottle of green ink. A further delay was caused in the third period when Harrison Gray, Edmonton's brilliant goaltender, was struck in the head by the puck and had to retire for stitches.

The Kings, trying desperately to keep alive, more than held their own until Hamilton cut loose in the final period.

Lowell MacDonald scored twice for the new champions as ever professional hockey.

COACH PHILOSOPHICAL

Edmonton coach Buster Brayshaw, who has led the Wings in two of three successive Memorial Cup defeats, was philosophical.

"I thought we deserved a better fate tonight," he said. "I thought we more than matched them, but they only count the shots that go in."

In shots on goal, the play was close, Gray stopped 28, Buddy Blom of Hamilton 22. There were 19 minor penalties, of which the Wings drew 10.

Hamilton was lucky to emerge from the first period with a 2-0 lead as goals by Henderson and MacDonald, the latter deflecting past Gray off Bourbonnais' skate.

Edmonton scored twice in half a minute of the second period to tie it up on goals by Dufour and Bourbonnais and Paul put them ahead with a 40-footer through Blom's legs. Martin quickly put that one back, setting the stage for the final onslaught.

WHOOPS IT UP

Young had been serving as self-appointed cheerleader for the Oil Kings the previous two games. Tuesday night, dressed in black 10-gallon hat and cowboy boots, he was leaping to the rail and whooping it up for the western visitors.

Eventually he was asked by J. M. Crosby, manager of Kitchener Memorial Gardens, to take his seat.

Jack Roxburgh of Simcoe, president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association said he will recommend to the association that Young be barred from all rinks staging CAHA games.

Roxburgh also said he will make a full report of the matter to Clarence Campbell, president of the National Hockey League, who has jurisdiction

'Dozen People In Stands'

Case Says 'Must Be The Weather'

CHICAGO (AP) — Casey Stengel peered out of the dugout at Wrigley Field — the first time he had been there since leading his old Boston Braves against Chicago Cubs in 1943.

"Must be a dozen fans up in them stands," said the New York Yankee manager. "Must be cold weather. It couldn't be because the Cubs are playing us."

The opening of the three-game series—the battle of the National League cellar—actually drew 1,326 customers Tuesday. It was the smallest Wrigley Field gathering of the season.

The Cubs lost 3-1 as Jay Hook stifled them on four hits in his second route-going performance of the 1951 campaign. Fielding errors by Billy Williams and George Altman gave the Mets two unearned runs as they climbs out of the basement for the first time while the Cubs dropped to the last spot.

Stengel was in a talkative mood. He told reporters:

"Our pitching staff is really shattered and I always have a lot of rearranging to do.

"And that reminds me. We bat nine of 11 games at home in the New York Giants. The secret there — and I found out what I was playing for the Giants in 1923-24-25 — is to keep the pitchers low and the ball in the dirt in centre field. If you have a good centre fielder you are all right. . . Apparently we aren't getting our opponents to hit to centre field."

"Spending Into Bankruptcy"

Warns Pro Grid Leagues

NEW YORK (AP) — Professional football is spending itself into bankruptcy "trying to keep up with the Joneses," owner Harry Wismer of New York Titans' warned Tuesday. He urged adoption of a reserve clause, similar to that in baseball.

"The B. C. Owens case is a perfect example of the salary merry-go-round we're getting into," Wismer said. "The war between the National and American leagues has boosted club payrolls 25 per cent. Now the tug-of-war for players inside the league will take it another 15 per cent.

"In a majority of the cases, in both leagues, players are making more money than the owners."

Owens, a six-foot-three, 185-pound end who distinguished himself as a pass - catcher with San Francisco 49ers, played out his option with the National League Club, shopped around for offers and finally signed Monday with Baltimore Colts of the NFL.

"This is just one case but it raises a vital question," Wismer said. "If Owens can do it, what is to keep Paul Hornung of the Green Bay Packers or Johnny Unitas of the Colts from playing out their options and then putting themselves on the block to the highest bidder?"

In baseball, when a player signs with a club, he becomes the club's property for life—or until he is traded or sold. The pro football contract, which may be for any specified length of time, carries a one - year option.

The Trots

MONTREAL (CP) — Domon Dandy, Key Tone and Dandyboy each won a division of the featured $7,100 Projectile Trot Stakes at Richelieu Raceway Tuesday night.

Demon Dandy won in the fifth and paid $10.50, $4.40 and $2.80. The Ottawa-owned horse covered a fast track in 2:09.

Key Tone, owned by A. A. Y. Sinaki and Harry Brake of Hamilton, Ohio, won the sixth race, trotting a mile in 2:08 4-5 and paying $2.80, $2.50 and $2.50.

Devilby won in the ninth in 2:08 2-5 and paid $3.40, $2.60 and $2.30.

Liston-Patterson In London

Solomon's Bid For Bout

LONDON (AP) — Promoter Jack Solomon said Tuesday he is bidding for the heavyweight title match between Floyd Patterson and Sonny Liston.

Solomon said he cabled his offer to Cus D'Amato, Patterson's manager - adviser, and hopes to promote the fight at London's huge Wembley Stadium Sept. 11.

In New York, D'Amato said: "A promoter already has a contract on the fight. To the best of my knowledge they (Championship Sports) are going to promote the fight."

Solomon said: "I'm confident I could put on the fight if they're interested. They would be fashbergtated at the offer I could make."

TABLE APPLICATION

NEW YORK (AP) — Baltimore's application for a franchise in the American Hockey League was tabled Tuesday by the club owners until the annual business meeting. The meeting will be in Cleveland June 11-13.

Alouettes Sign Three

MONTREAL (CP)—Montreal Alouettes of the Eastern Football Conference today announced 1952 contracts have been signed by newcomer end Ron Dundas and holdovers Ed Learn and Hal Krebs, all three Canadians.

No terms were disclosed, the club's regular policy. Eleven players have been signed by the Als to date.

Dundas, 23, a two-way performer, comes to the club from Edmonton Eskimos of the Western Football Conference.

All three are to report when the club opens its training camp July 1 at Joliette, Que., 50 miles northeast of Montreal.

First Memorial Cup

Wings Whoop It Up!

"It was a tough series, too," provide talent for this year's championship team. Hamilton is an Ontario Hockey Association Junior A farm team for Detroit.

"It's the biggest thrill I've ever had," forward Lowell MacDonald said. "You don't very often get a chance to win the Memorial Cup."

TEEPEE TOUGH TOO

MacDonald, who scored eight goals in the series, 24, in the playoffs and 70 over the entire season, felt the only other club to give the Red Wings as tough as Edmonton was the Toronto Marlies Teepees in the OHA semi-finals.

Bush added that his club had played 68 games this season and lost only 17.

"Thats a lot of hockey and I thought we were starting to run out of steam in the last two games of this series."

Seven of the Red Wings were playing their last junior game in addition to Macdonald, Howie Menard, Roger Leftevre, Larry Zilliotto, Ron Harris, Joe Bujdoso and Wayne Rivers go over age this year.

General manager Leo Leclerc of Edmonton added one bright note despite the fact his team had just gone down to its third straight Memorial Cup defeat. Leclerc said gate receipts from the five games of the series were just about the best ever as far as he was concerned.

Nudge Cards 4-3

Surging Giants Stretch Lead To 4

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

San Francisco's surging Giants march on while other National League contenders stand still—or worse. And whatever became of that multiple-team, wire-to-wire pennant race?

Taking to their closest pursuer and an old pitching nemesis Tuesday night, the Giants carried away a 4-3 victory over St. Louis Cardinals, boosting their lead to four games.

To gain the narrow win, the Giants had to beat Larry Jackson—who'd whipped them eight straight times over a two-season span—and withstand a late Cardinal threat. But they did both on the pitching of Gaylord Marichal (5-2) and the hitting of Orlando Cepeda, winning for the 12th time in the last 13 games.

Meanwhile, Los Angeles Dodgers counter - rallied against Houston Colts for a 9-6 decision in 10 innings, Philadelphia Phillies trimmed Cincinnati Reds 4-2 and New York Mets got out of last place for the first time in their young history and Chicago Cubs into the cellar by downing them 3-1. The Braves and Pittsburgh Pirates were rained out at Milwaukee.

The Marichal-Cepeda combination paced the Giants, with Felipe Alou and Ed Bailey chipping in with timely hitting help. Cepeda slugged a two-run double against Jackson (3-3) in the first inning, then he and Alou connected for successive fourth-inning doubles in the eighth, breaking a 2-2 tie. Bailey came through with a single, delivering what proved to be the winning run.

The Cards hit the long ball against Marichal, a homer and double by Stan Musial, a homer by Carl Sawatski and Ken Boyer's double, Sawatski's homer and Boyer's double came in the bottom of the ninth, but Marichal smothered the uprising for his fifth complete game and the ninth in 11 games for Giant pitchers.

The amazing 41-year-old Musial, with a host of records already to his credit and on the way to more, climbed into the league batting lead with a .388 average.

The Dodgers dissipated a five-run lead against the rambunctious Colts but pulled it out behind the hitting of rookie Larry Burright and Maury Wills. Burright, who walked and doubled earlier, legged out a bunt single off Bob Tiefenauer in the 10th to send the Dodgers away in the 10th and moved to third on Frank Howard's pinch single. Wills crashed in the winner with his third single of the night, then two more runs scored on Dick Farrell's wild pitch and catcher Merritt Ranew's bad throw.

The Colts collected 10 hits against Sandy Koufax and Larry Sherry, who also gave up a bases-filled walk apiece.

Cincinnati was given one chance after another by Philadelphia's shaky pitching and defence, snagging out 13 hits, drawing four walks and helped along by three Phillie errors. But the telling figure was the 16 runners stranded by the Reds. Hitting southpaw Chris Short (1-1) yielded 12 hits before he was replaced in the eighth by Dallas Green, who was tagged for Frank Robinson's two-run single, Jack Baldschun took over in the ninth with the on, gave up two singles, then set down the final three batters.

Billy Klaus' two-run homer was the big hit as the Phils built a 4-0 lead against Jim O'Toole (3-4) and they nailed it down with two more off Monte Wise in the sixth.

The Mets eased out of the cellar with help from the Cubs' erratic outfield. One New York run came when Cub Billy Williams muffed a pop fly for his second two-base error of the game and Joe Moe wrapped up when Phillie Manilla's base single skittered through George Altman's legs.

Donovan Beats Twins

Indians Nudge Yankees

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cleveland general manager Gabe Paul has come up with a pair of key additions to the Indians in pitcher Dick Donovan and outfielder Willie Tasby.

The two ex-Washington players, both acquired from Washington Senators, carried the Indians to a 6-3 triumph over Minnesota Twins Tuesday night that pulled second-place Cleveland within one game of the American League-leading New York Yankees.

Paul got Donovan in the trade that sent Jim Piersall to Washington and raised a howl from Cleveland fans. He picked up Tasby for two lesser lights in a deal that raised not an eyebrow.

The 29-year-old Tasby, who hit .293 last season, made his first start for the Indians and responded with a 2-for-3 performance, knocking in three runs, including what proved to be the clincher in a two-run seventh inning.

In that stanza, Donovan added his own cause with a bases-loaded single that accounted for the only runs before Tasby stroked his hit.

Tasby's clincher provided Donovan with his fifth victory without a loss. The 24-year-old righthander, who led the AL in 1958 with a 2.40 earned-run average while posting a 19-8 record, last season was the first hurler in the league to win five.

Meanwhile, Al Kaline drove in four runs with his eighth homer, a triple and a single, leading Detroit Tigers to a 10-1 triumph over Los Angeles Angels in the only other game played. Boston-New York, Kansas City-Baltimore and Chicago-Washington were postponed due to rain.

Houston had a 6-1 lead going into the ninth when the Twins with a four-game win streak on the line began to make menacing gestures. Lennie Green's homer after Bernie Allen's single chased Donovan. Reliever Barry Latman gave up singles to Rich Rollins and Harmon Killebrew before ending it by striking out pinch-hitter George Banks. Jim Kaat (1-4) was the loser.

The Indians had just scored two insurance runs in the top half of the inning as Tony Cloninger ran out and the other scored when Don Dillard crashed into Twins' first baseman Don Mincher as he stretched for a bad throw. Mincher had to be carried from the field, and was taken to a hospital with a possible concussion.

While Kaline was providing the hitting, Phil Regan provided solid pitching for the Tigers to snap a five-game losing skid. Regan (3-4) fanned four and was winners of four in a row, to six hits—one a homer by Jimmy Piersall. Eli Grba (1-1) took the loss after allowing Kaline's first inning two-run homer and opening the door for a five-run third with a two-base throwing error.

Cantabs Bench Elliott

CAMBRIDGE, England (AP) Herb Elliott, Olympic 1,500-metre champion and former mile record holder, was benched by the Cambridge University track team Tuesday for Saturday's traditional dual meet against Oxford.

It was another sign of the end of the road for the once great Australian runner, who is studying for a science degree here and who recently announced his retirement.

Last Saturday, Elliott, whose 3:54.5 record for the mile stood for almost four years, ran a last in a half - mile race of the British Amateur Athletic Association.

Labor Circles and NDP React Violently to Program ConC Operation Freedom

By FORREST REDDIE
Canadian Press Business Editor

It is not what you do but how you do it.

This old saying may be in the minds of members of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce as they contemplate the furore caused by the Chamber's Operation Freedom.

Labor circles and the New Democratic Party have reacted violently to and assailed the program "root, branch and stem" as "Hitlerian" and "McCarthyism."

A number of local chambers and business and trade associations that make up the Chamber's membership also oppose the program or at least refuse to co-operate in it.

These local bodies don't question the principles behind it, they think the manner of the program's presentation, opens the chamber to misunderstanding and criticism.

For example, in policy statements adopted at annual meetings, the chamber has stated in one form or another that the purpose of its policy "is to support the existing system of private enterprise," that it considers the system necessary to build the strength and extend the standards of living and ways of life.

FAMILIARITY BREEDING IT

It recognizes that there are things that private enterprise cannot do—that in these things government has a role but it opposes government in the things that it feels should be done by private citizens.

Statements to this effect, widely reported annually, caused no observable public excitement.

This year, however, the chamber decided on a special campaign and the present controversy resulted.

In policy statements adopted at last fall's annual meeting in Halifax, the chamber stated in its usual emphatic support of private enterprise: "Nowhere, however, did it use the word "socialism," and a declaration on economic issues is not a statement of the system's objectives.

The pamphlet introducing Operation Freedom, however, says the objectives are:

"To rouse Canadians from apathy and indifference into action against the growing threats of socialism and communism and to inform Canadians of the freedoms enjoyed under the democratic form of government and the benefits of the economic system of private competitive enterprise.

CHARGES BIRTHLESS

This linking in wording of socialism and communism apparently has led to the charge that the program equates socialism with communism, and a charge of "Hitlerism" and "McCarthyism."

It charges that Operation Freedom "as such wasn't organized to or approved by the Halifax annual meeting," a chamber spokesman says:

"The convention in its 'freedom of enterprise' statement recommended that the chamber promote a greater appreciation of the economic system of competitive enterprise. Following of the convention the board of directors decided that something should be done to implement the recommendation, and the executive committee set up Operation Freedom."

The chamber's voting members consist of about 850 local boards and chambers — each with one vote — the majority from small communities, made up of a majority of small businesses but including farmers, doctors, lawyers and other occupations.

The 80-odd pages of chamber policy, however, can be regarded as purely representative of local chamber views, or as good a compromise as can be achieved.

The first published disagreement from member ranks regarding Operation Freedom came from the Board of Trade of Metropolitan Toronto, whose general manager, James Wakefield, said:

"We agree that we have an obligation to expound to the people of Canada the values and virtues of free enterprise. But you're not going to convince the man in the street by talking in generalities. The only way to sell it is by practical, day-by-day demonstration of how it works. While the aim of the program is good, it exposes the organization to criticism and misinterpretation."

Published comment from other chambers included the following:

G. B. Grant, president, Regina Chamber, which found the program unacceptable in its present form:

"We object to the lack of recognition of the value of government services, the lumping of socialism and communism as equal threats to democracy, for over-simplification of economic arguments and for failure to recognize some of the problems created by large corporate enterprise."

W. P. Figott, president, Hamilton Chamber: "We feel there is a great need to explain the free enterprise system to citizens but we feel Operation Freedom is not the right approach and not sufficiently broad based for our economic system is concerned."

W. D. Rutherford, manager of the Brantford, Ont., Chamber, which is studying how parts of the program can be implemented: "We are not in favor of the whole program. I think the program is being judged on its separate components with communism."

H. W. Pitfield, president of the Edmonton Chamber, said the chamber's executive manager of promoting the program, Oakville, Ont., decided not to implement it and Galt, Ont., gave what a spokesman described as "a positive reaction" by sending the literature to the chamber's publicity committee.

Reaction by judgment of the chamber's board from publicity are these expressing disagreement and little or no reaction. Meanwhile, the many hundreds of chambers and boards are not heard from.

The Woodstock, Ont., board, however, endorsed the operation as a positive step in action aimed at bringing to all Canadians a better understanding and appreciation of our economic system of free enterprise."

DEFENDS OPERATION

Capt. Joseph Jeffery of London, Ont., a former president of the Canadian Chamber, defended the program strongly. He said:

"Many who are against the program don't like it in this pamphlet are mainly against the way it is presented. Nowhere has it stirred up by the socialists is an example of how good it is as an educational tool it has been we thought."

"It is not a drive to "McCarthyism" a spokesman pointed to the Canadian Chamber's Canada Freedom literature which says:

"Don't jump to conclusions about people who are loyal to Canada just because he doesn't agree with you. Everybody Leave Communist - hunting to the RCMP."

To the charge of "John Birchism," he said:

"That is absolutely false. The chamber is just as opposed to Fascism in any other form of state socialism."

To the charge that the program is a "Conservative" and New Democratic Party, he stated:

"The chamber by its by-laws is politically impartial and does not support any one party or party. It is opposed to those policies which are in opposition to private enterprise enterprise no matter what their source. We have always stood by them if they come from one party or the other. We favor principles and policies and we oppose principles and policies—not parties."

EXPLAINS STAND

In regard to charges that the chamber is against social welfare measures, he said:

"That is not so. We are in favor of a well-balanced system of social welfare consistent with what the economy can afford. But we are opposed to excessive welfare statism."

The Operation Freedom pamphlet comments: "The chamber is in favor of a well-balanced program of social welfare without damaging the incentive system, which produces the tax revenues to support welfare projects."

Claude Jodoin, president of the Canadian Labor Congress, has launched a attack on the program in Vancouver, accused the chamber of seeking to tar socialists with the brush of communism.

He added that no one had fought communism harder than the labor movement. It would continue to fight communism and at the same time fight "the type of corporate Birchism typified by the Chamber's campaign."

D. C. Douglas, national leader of the New Democratic Party, said Operation Freedom is one of several signs of the emergence in North America of neofascism, a movement that it had "borrowed all the techniques of Communist organization, infiltration and propaganda," with operating instructions sent out from chamber headquarters.

G. E. Hunter, president of the Winnipeg Chamber, described some of Mr. Douglas' comments as "incorrect and irresponsible." He added:

"If Mr. Douglas and his associates are determined that in Canada there should not be a climate in which free enterprise will be continued, then I suggest the come out positively and declare himself opposed to the Canadian way of life."

W. S. Kirkpatrick of Montreal, the chamber's president of the Canadian chamber, said local boards and chambers are completely autonomous organizations and are free to use or not to use any or all of the suggestions.

He added that chamber programs are normally under constant review and the methods and procedures of Operation Freedom would be reviewed by the national board of directors when it holds its next meeting in Montreal May 15.

Prime Minister Carries Fight Into East Ont.

By JAMES NELSON

RIMOUSKI, Que. (CP) — Prime Minister Diefenbaker moved his campaign for re-election March 31 from the south shore of the lower St. Lawrence to a difficult region of Eastern Quebec today, then to Ontario west where it is generally conceded his party's prospects are good.

Mr. Diefenbaker was scheduled to fly to Trenton, Ont., for the Conservative party's chartered Canadian Pacific Airlines DC-6B, the Empress of Lisbon, and then make a sentimental return to the Ontario constituencies Toryism, Kingston, he was a big rally tonight at Brockville.

He was in Kingston that the party's founder, Sir John A. Macdonald first prime minister of Canada, and one of the Fathers of Confederation, had his law practice.

Earlier, Mr. Diefenbaker visited Macdonald's old summer home at St. Patrick, Que., near Riviere - du - Loup, now owned by R. A. Symington, vice-president of Trans-Canada Air Lines.

The Rimouski Tuesday night Mr. Diefenbaker said he had been "overjoyed" two days visiting with the people.

"The only way to understand the great and real ideals of the people is by visiting with them individually," he said. "The last government closed down because it lost touch between the Canadian people and we do not intend to have that happen to us."

Earlier in the day, Mr. Diefenbaker told a luncheon for Tory party workers at Rimouski that at the grass roots or individual level leaders must get out and work to convert the undecided element in the electorate to Conservatism.

Apparently taking cognizance of views that his campaign has got off to an oddly mildly enthusiastic start—frequent statements have been a jumble and his audiences only fitfully responsive—Mr. Diefenbaker said he at ways went into the most difficult areas and that's why he found more promising ones later in the campaign.

That was the reason, he said, for going to Brockville for a rally tonight. It is the centre of Leeds constituency, won by the Liberals by a majority in the last Parliament after being held for many years by the Conservatives.

Mr. Diefenbaker drove from Quebec where he opened the Quebec section of his campaign Monday night in Montreal's St. Hubert Air Defence Command to date Tuesday and then flew to Rimouski.

When the DC-6B landed there was no ramp and he had to be "off-loaded," in baggage parlance, by means of a freight truck.

In Rimouski, he told an audience of some 1,000 at a community centre that he will expound a policy of "Canada first" when the all-day parties. We favor Canadian policy will not be dictated by anyone else and "this is one of the subjects I will elaborate upon in the coming weeks."

Liberal Leader Ends His Visit To Home Riding

VANCOUVER (CP)—The National Social Credit party leader Robert Thompson said Tuesday night Canada's growth economy are "withering on the vine" because of the outmoded policies of the "old-line" parties.

"We are not meeting the challenge of the day and are standing still," Mr. Thompson told a Vancouver Columbus Day meeting.

"We haven't discovered how to distribute the fruits of our labors."

He declared that a Social Credit could do that. It would straighten out the road.

The meeting was about 120 people braved a rain to attend nominated by a secret ballot George Hahn, 30-year-old provincial party president to represent the riding in the June 18 election. Mr. Hahn was Social Credit MLA for South Westminster from 1953 until he defeated in 1957.

WON FULL SLATE

Mr. Thompson said it was the party's 1952 nomination across the province. Social Credit candidates in the June 18 federal general election, Mr. Thompson said that if Canadians want a more socialistic it will become a nation of look - alikes and think-alikes.

Such welfare programs run by party workers at Rimouski that at the grass roots or individual level leaders must get out and work to convert the undecided element in the electorate to Conservatism.

Socred Leader Says Canada's Growth Withers For

By ARNOLD McINTYRE

WEYBURN, Sask. (CP) — A long hard day of driving over Manitoulin Island's twisting roads ended Liberal leader Pearson's two-day visit to his Algoma East riding Tuesday.

In schools, curling rinks and community halls he and his wife renewed old friendships and enlisted he has represented since 1958.

Then, bundling into two float planes, the party flew to Sudbury for a commercial flight to Toronto Tuesday night and a through into Thursday and Hamilton today in the election campaign leading to the June 18 balloting.

The last of eight brief addresses was delivered at this Algoma reception centre where Mr. Pearson has about 400 voters this riding against some 75 in other elections. All Indians how have not yet compensated with only veterans in previous years.

AN MEMBER

Mr. Pearson spoke to about 100 persons of an Ojibway band at Wikwemikong, Manitoulin Island's 12,000 residents are Indians.

Each flying Pearson visit Tuesday kept up the pace of quick stops, handshaking, speeches and being enriched by homecooked pies, cakes and cookies.

INTERVIEWS STATION

Shorter visits to Algoma East are scheduled later in the campaign, including Monday night at Espanola, the Pearson party interviews at Elliot Lake on the Lake Huron island for a coffee break and a quick visit by the Liberal leader to a few shops and the hospital.

It was overcast and some wet snow fell. At West Bay, Chief Gus Debassige headed a small welcoming committee. Lunch was taken at Gore Bay where Mr. Pearson left 126 people in the town hall that he thinks a Liberal government can do better than the Progressive Conservative government.

Then he was to be able to give a holiday when he faced the voters again in Providence Bay. He got three cheers. At Spring Bay, he chatted in a farm kitchen.

TALKS TO CHILDREN

More than 400 children from Indian and non-Indian schools poured into the community centre at Mindemoya, "the best welcome in my campaign," Mr. Pearson said. He would not speak politically to them, he did tell them that elections are important in an age when communists rule the earth.

There were 15 persons waiting with cake, doughnuts and sandwiches at the Manitowaning Curling Club, the second last stop. Dropped from the Liberal party at the last moment was Kilmer Corbiere, who did not show for Mr. Pearson—an hour behind schedule—had planned to land briefly in the float plane en route to Sudbury.

FIRE ON CROWD

LISBON (Reuters) — One person was killed and nine injured as police fired on anti-government demonstrators in Lisbon Tuesday night. The firing followed a clash between stoned steel - helmeted Police. Police forced them to disperse.

Douglas Pledges Cabinet Ministry For Consumers

By REN WARD

WELLAND (CP) — T. C. Douglas pledged Tuesday night that his New Democratic Party will set up a cabinet ministry to take consumer interests if it takes office after the June 18 federal election.

The NDP - seat - held meeting here was the fifth rally for the return to the campaign trail after a two-day interruption to shake off a bothersome bout of stomach flu.

"I'm now feeling in first class condition," he told an audience which filled the 850-seat Knights of Columbus Hall at a joint rally for the ridings of Welland, Lincoln and Niagara Falls.

CCF candidates, ran a poor third in all three ridings in the 1958 election.

TO GO TO GAIT

Mr. Douglas and his party drove to St. Catharines after the meeting and spent the night here. He planned to visit Galt this afternoon en route to a night meeting in Kitchener.

The CCF leader, former Saskatchewan premier, who cancelled a Cornwall speech Monday because of his illness, addressed the Welland rally for an hour and a half. He outlined NDP intentions for another half-hour and spent another 30 minutes shaking hands.

He kept assuring well-wishers that he was "getting fine, just fine."

Earlier in the day, however, NDP organizers cancelled a press conference, a coffee party and Mr. Douglas's scheduled role in a motorcade which covered Fort Erie, Welland, Thorold and Niagara Falls, for an hour before the meeting.

He was cool and wet in this cold rectangle of Ontario Tuesday and organizers were anxious not to expose Mr. Douglas to the cold.

In the consumer protection pledge, he said an NDP government would set up a special minister to guard the public from what he termed the economic dictatorship of the cartels.

TELLS DEFIANCE

Mr. Douglas said it is deplorable that Mrs. Rose Cooke Lincoln, newly-nominated NDP candidate in Lincoln, has been suspended from her job in the St. Catharines area office of the federal income tax department after accepting nomination.

The government had again demonstrated its belief that Canadians are second-class citizens and that the rights and privileges of citizenship.

He said the NDP would allow civil servants to run for any office and avail themselves of full collective-bargaining rights

Accused Denies He Cut Throats Of Slain Couple

TORONTO (CP) — A Detroit man, charged with murdering Theriand Crater, 45, and the girl with whom Crater was living, denied Tuesday that he had cut their throats.

Arthur Lucas, 34, is charged with the Nov. 17 capital murders of Crater, Crater's body and that of Carol Newman, 23, with the throats of both cut, found in Crater's burning house where they shared an apartment.

Lucas, testifying in his own defence, said he had known Crater about 16 years and that they had discussed opening a brothel in Toronto.

Lucas denied any connection with Gus Saliadeis of Detroit, against whom Crater was to have been a witness in a narcotics prosecution, and said he could not have used narcotics nor lived off the narcotics traffic. He denied admitting about three purchases of narcotics from Crater in 1961 but said he bought them for a girl who was a drug addict.

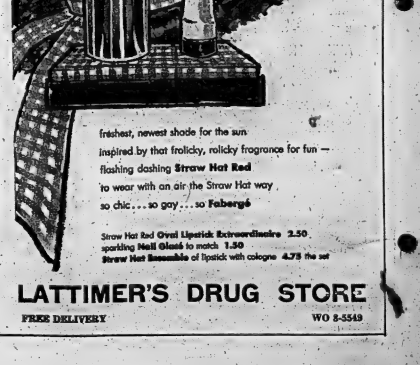
Lucas said Crater, Newman and Lillian Boykin, his own girl, had worked as prostitutes in Detroit.

He said that on Nov. 16, 1961, he drove from Detroit to Toronto and visited Crater and Miss Newman in their room-and-house apartment. He left between 8:30 a.m. and 9:00 a.m. Nov. 17, after the three had shared most of a bottle of whisky, he said.

Both Crater and Miss Newman were alive when he left them, he said. Lucas was arrested when he returned to his own home in Detroit.

Earlier Tuesday, a firearms expert testified he found gunpowder on Lucas's hand the day after Crater was murdered.

Sgt. Neil Leslie of the Detroit police said he had used a microscope on Lucas's hands and found that he had fired an old and defective gun.



He testified one of four bullets found in Crater's body came from a blood-stained .38-calibre revolver found on the Burlington Skyway Nov. 19 and that this revolver has been identified by Lucas's apartment in Detroit to the skyway catwalk.

For Thursday, May 10

By SYDNEY OMARR

Aries (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19)—Try to "hang on" even when those around you urge flat decision. You can actually gain in long run by delay. Caution must be key, especially in romantic and legal matters.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20)—Lowering head and rushing into situation could cause many regrets. Study situation first. Take care of details and reflect on what a modern move can mean to security.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21)—Through combination of humor and diplomacy you could get almost anything you go after now. Make sure, however, to avoid misunderstandings. Say what you mean clearly.

Cancer (June 22 to July 21) Put ideas into action. Write down thoughts, plans, suggestions. Today could be most significant. Don't waste it!

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21)—Friends will mean(ing) but they do not have authority to do what they say. It is up to you to stand up for beliefs. Don't appear against you, but your personal cycle is at peak.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 23) Avoid tendency to try to be at too many places at same time. Delegate authority. Trust loved ones. Otherwise furore unsettled and accomplishments delayed.

Libra (Sept. 24 to Oct. 22)—Do not confuse aspirations with money-making. Your reaction may not be closest to heart's desire. Try to understand yourself. Personal sensitivity helps to express freely.

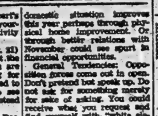
Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 22) —Take time to know what the situation is and what you are to do about it. Reading for the sake of speed could lead to accidents. Tendency to see what you want to see instead of truth.

Sagittarius (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21) — Could be lack of confidence that immediately results aren't forthcoming. Overcome this tendency. Those who "commit" seem to notice your efforts. Constructive activity will bring rewards.

Capricorn (Dec. 23 to Jan. 20) —Temporary setback in connection with money matters can be overcome. Best course is no pressure. Take it easy where emotional ties are concerned and gather inner strength.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — Getting in "too deep" could be mistake. Moderation should be key. Time to "take your time". Realize responsibilities and show gratitude to one who has been loyal.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Good for finding better than beginning. Find fulfillment by completing unfinished projects. Diplomacy important. You gain by "winning" your way not forcing it.



If today is your birthday . . domestic situation improves this year perhaps through physical home improvement. Or through better relations with Normally could see spurt in financial opportunities.

General Tendencies: Opposition forces come out in open. Don't pretend but speak up. Do not ask for something merely for sake of asking. You could receive what you request and find yourself with "white elephants."

27-Car Freight Hits Rockslide, No One Injured

VICTORIA (CP)— "You could only see about three car lengths ahead because of the curve.

"Then the engineer yelled 'Look'—and we hit the slide.

That was the story of Don Dommett, fireman of a three-man train crew who rode with a 121-ton diesel engine as it slammed into a rock slide 15 miles north of here Monday and severed down an embankment.

Trees stopped the heavy Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway engine about 50 yards down the slope.

"It started to slide again, about 12 inches, then it stopped," Dommett said. "We looked up and saw the second engine teetering on the bank, right above our heads. We got out of there fast."

Dommett and fellow trainmen Walter Shaddick and Bill Watson, all of Victoria, escaped severe injury.

The two-engine train, pulling 27 freight cars, was headed for Esquimalt from Nanaimo when it struck the rockslide on a 65-degree curve.

Fishing Derby Was Success Directors Told

PICTON—The Pickerel Fishing Derby sponsored by Prince Edward Chamber of Commerce was a success not only from the number participating in catches and publicity given the Bay of Quinte, but financially as well, Jay Hepburn told Chamber of Commerce directors. With donations and registration fees, expenses had been met, leaving a balance around $215. Of the 577 registering, 364 had never before visited this district; he said, and many expressed a desire to return.

There had been constructive criticism following this first attempt, included were more points, including resorts, where registration forms could be secured; restaurant and service station hours to accommodate those who arrived at them when none were open.

President Gerry Morrison expressed thanks to J. Hepburn, Phil Dodds, Jack Colden, Sam Gerow, the committee on a "wonderful job," biologist Jack Carlisle for Conservation, and donors of prizes.

DOLLAR MOVEMENT — For the first time since 1950 the Canadian government has undertaken to maintain the value of the dollar at a fixed rate.

Finance Minister Fleming announced May 2 that the foreign exchange rate of the Canadian dollar had been pegged at 92½ cents in terms of United States currency.

eral derby of 1963 might be advertised in resorts during the current tourist season, and Phil Dodds was requested to proceed with publicity.

The Chamber will reconvened to the 1965 executive that the Derby be continued and that a committee be named in February. Members were unanimous that it is worthy of promotion another year.

For G.I.T.A., Bill Smith said the basket operators reopened and the value of the derby and would likely benefit to a greater extend next year.

INDUSTRIAL SURVEY

Past president George Morden presented three motions which were adopted. Town council will be asked to take advantage of an industrial survey under the direction of the Lake Ontario Development Association; welcoming Dept. of Trade will be invited to name a representative to the Pr. Ed. Chamber directorate; a letter is to be sent congratulating Wellington Bantam Hockey Team on winning the Ontario championship.

Mr. Morden suggested an open meeting before the June 16 election when all candidates would be invited to speak.

Thanks was expressed on the Historical Society for gathering over the weekend.

BREWERS' STORE

Mr. Hepburn reported some dissatisfaction with the present hours of operation of the Brewers' Retail Store. His motion that the Chamber write the Brewers' Association expressing the appreciation with present hours, and asking a six-day week with the former hours, was endorsed by Bill Smith and passed by members.

The meeting was attended by 22 directors.

Neutral Leader Orders Red Ally To Withdraw

Prince Phouma of Laos Wants Truce Observed

• VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Prince Souvanna Phouma has ordered pro-Communist Prince Souphanouvong to withdraw his Pathet Lao troops from Nam Tha and Muong Sing to behalf the original cease-fire line, informed diplomatic sources said today.

The informants said the neutralist leader sent a cable from France to Souphanouvong, his half-brother and ally, demanding the seizure of the two government outposts in formation of a coalition government.

CONFERES WITH PREMIER

Phoumi said Macdonald expressed hope his talks with Premier Boun Oum and neutralist leaders in Khang Khay would bring "good results."

Crown Claims Slain Man Was Hunted Down

TORONTO (CP) — Theriam Crater of Detroit was hunted down in Toronto and slain deliberately, Crown counsel Hyam Bull contended Wednesday.

Mr. Bull summed up his case as the capital murder trial of 34-year-old Arthur Lucas of Detroit neared its conclusion before Chief Justice J. C. McRuer with charge to the jury today.

Crater, 43, was found shot and slashed in a rooming house here last May. 17. Alan Lucas' brother slashed, was 23-year-old Carol Newman, with whom he had been living. Lucas is charged only with the death of Crater.

Mr. Bull said Lucas came to Toronto looking for Crater, found him and killed him. Then he disposed of the woman, the only witness, who had fled down stairs and was trying to telephone for help.

He said Crater and the Newman woman had been charged with keeping a bawdy house and had visited a lawyer's office the day and night. It was possible Crater was entered by the women's room after the killing, left Lucas' ring beside his body and called a lawyer in blood.

Lusitania May Have Carried Munitions

LONDON (AP) — An American skin diver who plunged 300 feet in the wreck of the Lusitania has reported evidence that the Germans may have been right in saying the liner carried munitions when they sank her 47 years ago.

The famous British passenger ship went to the bottom of the Atlantic May 7, 1915, 20 minutes after being struck by a German torpedo off the Irish coast. Of the 1,198 dead, 128 persons on board, 1,238 died.

John Light, 32, of Rimbrook, N.Y., led a team of divers to investigate the wreck 10 miles off the south coast of Ireland. Underwater pictures by his expedition were shown on British television Wednesday night.

Light's findings led him to believe the wreck of the Lusitania has been tampered with. A section of steel deck appears to have been cut away with a torches. He also photographed a heavy steel door, a watertight cardboard, sheared from its fastenings.

THING THEORY WAS BLAST

"Everything suggests an explosion on the side away from the torpedo," said BBC commentator Patrick Procktor.

There is no dispute that the ship was designed to carry guns. The British claim, however, it was unarmed when torpedoed. Light found no gun on the foredeck as shown in the ship's plans.

There is more evidence that the Lusitania was carrying ammunition, Light's assistant, Leslie Marsh, told BBC television producer Maurice Harvey, showed the cargo included thousands of small arms ammunition.

At least one survivor remembered hearing their explosions. The log of the German submarine U-20 shows that it fired only one torpedo and that the detonation was followed by a larger, internal explosion.

Map-Making U.S. Satellite Fails to Orbit

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—An Atlas rocket carrying a flashing light geodetic satellite into orbit failed today when the booster rocket and the launched vehicle did not ignite.

If successful, the satellite named Anna would have helped make more accurate maps of the world.

The 265-pound payload was launched at 8:08 a.m. by Thor-Able-Star rocket from the early portion of flight appeared normal, but the satellite failed to ignite, streaked swiftly from sight.

The Defence department announced about 20 minutes later that "preliminary information indicates that the Anna satellite has failed to go into orbit, because stage ignition was not achieved."

The announcement said receipt of radio signals from the vehicle are being studied to determine the exact cause of the ignition failure.

MUNICIPAL ACT CHANGES CAN CREATE PROBLEM

Mayors, Reeves To Debate Moves

TORONTO (CP) — Municipal officials in Ontario pondering the sticky question of conflict of interest might get study a case suggested Wednesday by Mayor Gernet Newkirk of Chatham.

He cited a member of a municipal council who is also the president of a large trucking firm which makes deliveries all over Ontario. One of his trucks delivers a package to the door of City Hall.

Under present Ontario legislation that councillor can be disqualified from office, the case as outlined by Mayor Newkirk is hypothetical only because the man he was thinking of has retired from municipal politics.

For Mr. Newkirk and other officers of the Association of Ontario Mayors and Reeves there was a distinct shock when they were told of the severity of recent amendments to the province's Municipal Act.

WOULD ELIMINATE MANY

"This could deprive municipalities of the worthwhile services of many excellent people," Mr. Newkirk said when the association began it's meeting here. Prince Boun Oum's rightist regime formally requests resumption of talks on formation of a coalition government of neutralists, Conservatives and pacifists.

Souphanouvong's pro-Communist rebels also were reported ready to return to unity talks.

Nuclear Arms Issue Rages On Campaign Platforms

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Prime Minister Diefenbaker says Canada will not join the nuclear club as the rest of the world can hitch its hopes on new disarmament.

The Progressive Conservative leader injected the nuclear issue into the election campaign for the first time Wednesday night at a rally in Brockville, Ont.

Earlier, in Calgary Liberal defence critic Paul Hellyer said commissance role to be performed by CF-104 Star-fighter squadrons of Canada's NATO Air Division in Europe.

And in Ottawa, Ont., T. C. Douglas declared that the New Democratic Party rejected nuclear arms completely—without qualifications.

Wednesday saw Mr. Diefenbaker, M. Douglas and Liberal Leader Pearson all campaigning in Ontario, with Social Credit Leader Robert Thompson in his home province of Alberta.

Today the political chieftains' electioneering was to move onto a broader front, with more activity on the Prairies.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker was to speak in Nanaimo and Brandon, Man.; Mr. Douglas was to remain in his Regina headquarters; and the Social Credit leader scheduled a party seminar in Creston, B.C., before going in Ontario was Mr. Pearson, who planned a day's whistle-stopping by car through the tobacco country bordering on Lake Erie.

Mr. Diefenbaker flew from a stay in Bermuda Wednesday morning to campaign in sunbaked Brockville, downriver in Ontario. He visited the RCAF station at Trenton, Kingston and the Thousand Islands area before delivering his main address in Brockville.

"We persist intend to expand or allow the expansion of nuclear weapons beyond those who have them," he said in Brockville. "We want disarmament."

U.S. Seeking Clarification Of Adenauer's Berlin Views

WASHINGTON (AP)—In an effort to restore Allied harmony, the United States is reported seeking clarification from the West German government of its stand on exploratory talks with Russia about terms of an East-West agreement on Berlin.

President Kennedy also made clear at a press conference Wednesday that he wants to see secrecy restored to allied consultations on proposals put to the Soviet government during the talks. He seemed to be addressing Chancellor Konrad Adenauer in a diplomatic way to stop debating the issue in public.

Other officials said there is considerable confusion here over what Adenauer is driving at. His public criticism of the U.S.-Soviet discussions is out of line with West German views communicated through official channels, they said.

He noted that Adenauer had said in Berlin earlier this week that he was not optimistic about the outcome.

The United States has "never been unduly optimistic" about achieving an East-West agreement, the president said, but "we believe there should be a serious effort to see if there is." The West German government, he added, has supported continuation.

Kennedy said further that the U.S. proposal that would give East Berlin and East German membership on the German authority. He is strongly opposed to any agreement with Russia which in his view would afford a degree of recognition to the East German Communist regime.

Kennedy was told by questioners that yesterday Germans generally fear some kind of U.S. move toward East German recognition. He denied there is any basis for such fears.

EIGHT MOSLEM WOMEN KILLED IN REPRISAL

European Woman's Murder Revenged

Of Irene Kenders-AP

ALGIERS—The Secret Army Organization unleashed another wave of terrorism in Algeria today and 83 persons were killed and 137 were wounded.

Eleven of the dead were in Algiers and 12 in western Algeria's port town of Oran. All took one of the dead and all but one of the wounded were Moslems.

Eight of those killed were Moslem women, shot dead in the streets of Oran.

After the quick series of attacks, the Secret Army Organization tried to enter the European quarter to vent their anger. French police and troops hurried to the scenes and dispersed the crowd. No casualties were reported.

The killing of the Moslem women was closely in reprisal for the death of a European woman Wednesday. European Irene Kenders was shot by a Moslem disguised as a European in robe and veil.

In the city, the European terrorists shot down Moslems on sight as they shuttled frantically between the two sides of Oran's second city.

The bloodletting followed a night of machine-gun chattering in various sections of Oran and several bombs explosions. There was no information on who was wounded in the darkness or if there were casualties.

FLOUT WARNING

The terrorists paid no heed to a broadcast warning from Premier Ben Youcef Ben Khedda of the Algerian provisional government that they would be jeopardizing their future in the country if they keep up their attacks on the European population.

Ben Khedda from his headquarters in neighboring Tunis in a broadcast monitored in Algeria, Ben Khedda called on the European "to open your eyes to the Algerian reality."

The Europeans have their place in the Algeria of tomorrow," he declared, "but it is up to them to decide if they want it."

The cease-fire pact reached by the nationalist rebels and France provides for equal rights for Europeans when the Moslems take over the government.

UNDERMINE PEACE

But Ben Khedda charged "ultra-Salanist elements" have organized secret army with the help of "certain French political authorities", were undermining the peace agreement with the Algerian people.

As he spoke, the terrorism went on. By Wednesday's toll was 37 dead, 33 of them Moslems, and 36 wounded, 22 of them Moslems.

The Moslems have been kept almost completely in check by their leaders, but Ben Khedda warned: "Neither will the Algerian masses is growing. This situation cannot continue."

Ben Khedda, considered by a moderate, appealed to his people to "keep calm" and "do not get provoked into the civil war that the Secret Army is trying to start." He said the Secret attempt to block Algerian independence.

Meanwhile, French authorities, responsible for law and order, until the country is handed over to the Moslem leaders, ordered Europeans to stay off the streets in all their weapons before May 20 or face automatic confiscation of their weapons.

The order was one of a series of anti-terrorist measures announced Wednesday by President Charles de Gaulle's envoy to Algeria, Christian Fouchet.

Boy, 14, Says He Can't Remember Stabbing Owner of Toronto Store

TORONTO (CP)—A 14-year-old boy testified Wednesday that he couldn't remember stabbing a Toronto candy store owner. But he added that since no one else was in the store at the time, "it must have been me."

The boy is on trial in juvenile court in charge of juvenile delinquency in the fatal murder March 4 of Stefan Turkewich.

He testified that he had been loitering outside the store wondering whether he should return home—he had run away the previous day—when he decided to go in and ask for work. "I don't know why," he was said, "So I asked if I could look at some books."

Tiring of the books, he said, he asked to look at a toy gun, his soldiers and a knife in a display box. As he examined the articles the storekeeper turned away.

"I was looking at the knife and my reflection in the blade of the knife," he said. "I saw some money on the counter, and the man's back. Then the next thing is his body."

Pressed by Crown counsel Herbert Rowland to what happened between the time he saw the knife in his hand and in the man's back, he replied: "I've tried to remember everything that happened, because I've had to. But I just don't remember that."

A psychiatrist testified that the boy was "as much the victim as the deceased."

Inspector Hatch Closed Club Despite Leaks

Offered $500 Month For Advance Tip-Offs

TORONTO (CP) — Inspector Jack Hatch, head of the provincial police anti-gambling squad, told Wednesday how he got down a notorious Windsor gambling casino despite obvious information, leaks to the gamblers, he said.

In forwarding testimony to the royal commissioner crime, Mr. Hatch said he was offered by a Detroit gambling czar who said he and Toronto gambler Sam Gold "and associates" would pay $500 a month for advance tip-offs.

Hatch, who is now retired, testified to enter the European quarter to vend their anger. French police and troops hurried to the scenes and dispersed the crowd. No casualties were reported.

Salinger Talks With Schroeder, Phones Kennedy

BONN (Reuter) — Observers today waited the next development in the Berlin crisis after Pierre Salinger's attitude-probing American-Soviet talks on Berlin.

Wednesday a government spokesman said Salinger had telephoned President Kennedy in Washington. It came after Salinger had talks with Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's chief statesman's throughout cold water on the talks and while House press secretary Pierre Salinger was invited to a sudden private conference with Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder.

The chancellor held the Bonn conference during a two-day visit to Berlin that Soviet-American talks on the divided city had not the least hope for success.

The talks were held in Washington during the last month between Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin and Soviet Ambassador-Ambassador Georgi Bolshakov. They have been those when Bonn returns from a world-wide round of conferences.

The latest statement in West Germany's government spokesman Friday, was Reuters said Wednesday that Adenauer's statements had been misinterpreted.

He said Adenauer's recent comments that the Berlin situation talks had made "no reason whatever for optimism."

"These latest statements that have been made by Bonn several times," Wednesday said.

Atom-Powered Sub and Freighter Collide off Coast of California

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A nuclear-powered submarine and a freighter collided 30 miles west of the Golden Gate today, but sub churned into San Francisco bay under its own power to-day, followed by the freighter. Due to be commissioned in less than three weeks, the submarine was escorted by a navy tugboat.

No injuries were reported among 137 crew members on both vessels.

The 12,000-ton freighter also proceeded into port without assistance.

The crash occurred in calm seas at the Farallon Islands in the Pacific between the 300-foot submarine Permit and the 459-foot, 8,000-ton freighter Hawaiian Citizen.

The navy said the submarine, with 99 men aboard, was on an operational cruise from Portsmouth, N.H.

The freighter, with a crew of 47, was inbound from Honolulu for nearby Alameda, with a mixed cargo.

Heathman Sent To Mental Institution

VANCOUVER (CP)—Charles Heathman, who sold a Vancouver newspaper April 21 he killed a "devil" and that "the devil was controlling his soul" in considering his verdict, but in the evidence bidore him he could make no other choice.

Magistrate James Bartman said he found Heathman, 38, would receive treatment that would give him a better chance of living a normal life.

The magistrate said he had "his reveries" in the evidence of his soul" in considering his verdict, but in the evidence bidore him he could make no other choice.

Magistrate Bartman said Heathman's case would be reviewed from time to time before any decision was made on his release.

Heathman was twice sentenced to be hanged for the murders of Mrs. Ethel Gerald Donald Ottley in Vernon, B.C., Labor Day, 1960. He was later freed when the B.C. Court of Appeal.

Under the law or double jeopardy a man finally acquitted of a charge after due process of law cannot be tried again on the same charge.

Heathman told Magistrate Bartman Wednesday his story told to Sun city Jack Brooks and reporter Shimae Holt was not true, and that he was not drunk when he killed them in a long session Good Friday.

The Sun paid Heathman $500 for his story, stipulating the money was not used for psychiatric treatment.

Traffic Club Hears Address By Ald. Temple

Ald. Harold Temple first traffic Club when addressed by Alderman Robert Temple on the third meeting of the club held in the Knights of Columbus hall on Wednesday evening. Mr. Temple endeavored to convey to his audience some of the problems that confronted he had travelled through Europe.

In addition to Brother Horace's seasoned traveller and went on to explain how he became interested in the subject after his little boy riding he was compelled to ride in the same car.

He started by pointing out the difficulties of crossing the park roads as an attempt to determine who were responsible for the accident at the same time was conducted.

GREB PATENT OFFICE

Soon afterward, he testified, he was offered $300 a month for advance upon the city and on the day he said he became came from a friend, Leslie Trumble, who told him he had Trumble he wanted to deal directly with the principals. Nothing more developed.

Investigation of the club continued through the summer and until August, 1957, when Earl Attwood, a Montreal printer, was arrested. His name was found in a Postbox, Mich., grand jury three days later he had been seen at the club.

Rep. Rabin indicated several meetings, and the first distance little light on the murder, which recently celebrated.

The following month he went to Toronto to meet with Deputy Attorney General Roy Mc-mon, Commissioner R. V. Mc-Hall, the force, and Chief Deputy Commissioner James Bartlett and four others.

He said he considered his superiors with suspicions that Trumble was getting favors due to confidential reports to the commissioner.

INSPECTOR'S CONCLUSIONS

Insp. Hatch said the commissioner had been "very perturbed" by a report considered the sergeant's "putting the finger on him" but at a later meeting apologized. Insp. Hatch said "since learned there was a lot of truth in Trumble's story."

He said the commissioner told him a large-scale raid on Hamilton and several downtown areas had to be cancelled at the last moment because of a tip-off.

The inspector's testimony indicated information leaked out even as high-level meetings called to discuss moves against the bookmaking and gambling rings had obtained permission to operate against the club without advising headquarters. In one case, modest fund to buy information, and to use as informant whose life might be in jeopardy, if his name became known.

After the meeting he said, Deputy Commissioner Bartlett said the informant whose name, He had refused to give it on grounds Mr. Commissioner said: "I don't want to be bothered with it."

He said that shortly thereafter he had received telephone calls, purportedly from city officials, newspaper man, asking when he planned the move on the Rose-mont club. In a court check showed the reporter had not made the calls, but the identity of those who had transpired at the Toronto meeting.

"I didn't even tell my own men who worked with me," he said.

LIST OF ENCOUNTERS

The inspector also told of several encounters with OPP chief Allan Lamport, who had tried to have him transferred to his headquarters in Orillia, which he refused.

Insp. Hatch said that when he told Commissioner McNeil of the encounters the OPP chief had denied them, and said Premier had once been in trouble over selling a gun to Insp. Hatch said he had reported the Stringer overtures to the commissioner because, from things that were happening, they did not seem to be "on." But, to the best of his knowledge, no actions had been taken on his reports.

Earlier in the day Arthur Maloney, Progressive Conservative member of the last parliament for Toronto Parkdale, denied accusations that his late brother James, former Ontario minister, tried to influence a magistrate in a gambling trial.

And Toronto lawyer David Humphrey, former legal counsel for McDermott and gambler Vincent Feeley, told once gambling at a McDermott-Feeley operation along with Premier Frith, now president of the Ontario Liberal Association. He could not recall the date.

closed the OPP anti-gambling squad by meeting with Premier Frost at Kingston, that, in April, 1957, seven to took personal interest in the case, and that work in his area, he began his own campaign to close the clubs.

He started by posting men to watch the clubs, then by purchases in an attempt to determine who were involved. Later, the force was conducted.

New Directors Are Chosen By Chamber of Commerce

TRENTON — Twenty-seven members of the Trenton Chamber of Commerce met at the annual meeting of the re-activated chamber, yesterday. The meet-to-be-re-elected on year were Mayor Hollis Gilbert, at the same time as Prime Minister Diefenbaker was visiting Trenton.

Just preceding second a committee met and conducted the second election of directors, and officers. Ballots were placed on executive from directors George Kempf, Doug Wilson, Ken Bailey, Jim Dunning, Ben Kovacs, Jack Goldberg, Bob Hamilton, Don Robertson, Mrs. Helen Upper and James Wannsley, as a director meeting to be held in the near future. Nostrand Sprague will continue as secretary of the chamber.

George Kempf, 1962 president, announced that there will be a more active membership, and that much was left to do.

Mrs. Upper reminded the members that Trenton has a great tourist trade, potentials and suggested that the chamber exploit local landmarks. Mrs. Upper singled out Mount Zion Church and Glen Miller Rock and suggested that this be done immediately.

Percy McDonald suggested that a more active membership drive be conducted and that all of local interest be included in the monthly news letter sent out by the chamber.

These are some suggestions will be taken under advisement at the next meeting of the directorate.

Two Girls Win Gold Cords

TRENTON — Two girls from the Northumberland Girl Guide Division have qualified for a Gold Cord in Guiding.

MUNICIPAL ACT

"We all know that life in the political arena is not an easy one, but it must be carried on.

The new ward are likely to hit hard at small communities. In larger municipalities, there is a big field from which candidates for public office can choose, and the loss to public affairs businessmen dealing with the city would not be felt.

But in a small village or township, where qualified candidates are at a premium, the threat of disqualification could mean a high incidence of newly needed candidates.

DEPENDS ON RATEPAYERS

In such communities much will depend on the responsibility of the ratepayers. If the president of the local trucking firm was elected, declared his interest in the firm and was retained from voting when the municipality still owns a horse council, it might be enough to satisfy the ratepayers that no conflict of interest was involved.

But broad as the new legislation is — and it will probably come up for the provincial legislature at annual meeting of the Mayors and reeves in Port Arthur last week — the 1962 association said it is still not tight enough.

Reeve Mel Swart of Thorpe Township, president of the association, said the municipal officials want lawyers, architects and other professional people specifically included in the act.

Mr. Swart cited the case of a municipality where two lawyers, representing subdivided in the area, sat on council and vote on matters affecting their clients. They are not affected by the present act.

TEDDER BALE

WINNIPEG (CP)—The Manitoba government is selling burned-out timber in selected areas in order to clean up its fire - damaged forests and to clear away usable wood before it can be attacked by insects. Mines Minister C. H. Witney says it is necessary to clear almost 200,000 acres.

IN MEMORIAM

JONES — In loving memory of my dear father, William Jones, who passed away May 10th, 1961.

What would give it we could
Hello, Dad, in the same old way;
To see your face, to hear you smile,
To sit with you and chat awhile.
To tell you all the things we've done,
To listen with rapt care
To all the things you've learned the hard-
Till you see his vacant chair.
—Sadly missed by his loving daughter, Lila, sons-in-law Ed and Jack, grandchildren Lorna, Ronald and Keith.

JOHNS — In loving memory of dear husband and friend, Ernest Johns, who passed away May 10th, 1959.
What could I say or things he
His happy face to see
To hear his voice and see his
To me.

FRENCH — In loving memory of dear father, Ernest J. French who passed away May 7th, 1957.

Rodney Webb of Norwood Chosen as PC Candidate For Hastings-Frontenac

Riding representative since he was elected four years ago to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late Sidney Smith, Mr. Rodney Webb, Norwood, electrical contractor, is nominated yesterday as the Progressive Conservative candidate for Hastings-Frontenac.

Mr. Webb won the nomination over Gary Maxwell, principal of Madoc District Collegiate, who was the only other nominee. Rick Bell, Belleville, member of Labor in the Diefenbaker cabinet, was the guest speaker.

The Madoc Armouries was jammed with close to 800 party supporters as riding Conservatives hurried out en masse to re-nominate the man who had represented them at Ottawa for the past three years.

And, always on the job was the way which Mr. Webb was described by several party stalwarts, who spoke during the convention.

MANY SPEAKERS

Speakers other than Mr. Starr included M.A.'s Clarke T. Rollins and W. E. Babcock, representing Hastings East and West, respectively; Keith Brown of Peterborough and Jack Stinson of Frontenac-Addington.

Also heard were Lee E. Grills, Hastings South representative at Ottawa for the past four years and Senator George White of Madoc, who introduced the guest speaker. Hastings county warden Harold Varty and Madoc reeve Thomas Burnside, also addressed delegates to the convention.

Congratulatory party delegates Labor Minister Michael Starr in "again picking a winner" in Rodney Webb as their candidate for the June 18th election.

"Rod may not be vociferous, but he is hard working and conscientious and that means more to me and being just talkative," he assured.

HELPED WORKING CLASS

As labor minister in the Diefenbaker government, Mr. Starr outlined what the Progressive Conservative party had done for the working class.

He said the Conservatives were going to the country on their record of the past four-and-a-half years, while the New Democratic Party and the Liberals were still searching for an issue to carry into the campaign.

"I am proud of what the Diefenbaker government has done", said Mr. Starr, "we have bolstered a sagging economy and put Canadians back to work."

"And yet the Liberals say we have failed", he said.

Mr. Starr claiming 16 the Liberals had remained in power there would be now only a half million persons now unemployed in Canada.

In its program to put Canadians back to work, Mr. Starr referred to the decision to train workers and with the provinces was spending $357 million in the construction of vocational training schools.

INCREASED PENSIONS

He had introduced a municipal winter works program which has seen $700 municipalities participating.

Most needed now was legislation bringing in a contributory system of old age pensions with the lowering of the pension age to 65 years.

"Provincial approval was necessary before this could be done", he said.

KICKED RECESSION CLEAR

No government had done so much in so short a time to put the economy of the country back on feet.

"We have licked the recession which started in 1957 and which the Liberals did nothing about."

Poking a bit of fun at the new party, Mr. Starr said the initials NDP stood for "No Down Payment." We'll Take It Out of Your Union Dues."

The Labor Minister denied the existence of an official report on unemployment which according to Liberal leader Lester Pearson predicted a 34 per cent increase in unemployment by 1963.

He said that no government department had the responsibility of doing a survey to predict unemployment.

"Actually", he said, "there are now 545,000 more Canadians working than in 1956 and there are 145,000 fewer persons unemployed than there were; last year."

Mr. Starr defended the government action in pegging the Canadian dollar at 92½ cents American.

He said this action merely stabilized the dollar which for months had been fluctuating at around the 92½ cent mark.

The pegged rate would help Canadians to import goods to other countries at competitive prices.

Guest speaker was introduced by Senator George White of Madoc.

Detroit Paper Strike Ends

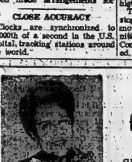
DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's month - long newspaper strike appeared settled today. Members of the Pirate and Paper Handlers Union removed their picketz from the Detroit News Building after a meeting Wednesday night.

Robert Buhr, secretary of the Newspaper Publishers Association, which represents both papers, said he was pleased by the outcome of the union meeting. He said Detroiters could look for their papers Friday.

Fifty Assessors From 4 Counties Attend School

Approximately 50 municipal assessors from the four counties of Hastings, Prince Edward, Lennox and Addington and Durham and Northumberland area are attending lectures today and tomorrow at the Hastings county courthouse building.

Addressing the two-day session will be Mr. P. Gillis and Mr. Reginald Bailey, supervisory assessors from the Ontario Department of Municipal Affairs.



All assessors in the above four counties, including those from cities, towns, villages and townships, are invited to attend the lectures at which recent changes in assessment regulations and the assessment act in general are covered.

At the opening session this morning the visiting assessors were welcomed by Hastings county Warden Harold Varty, the group to meet in Belleville.

County Court Docket Heavy, One Jail Term

The docket was heavy in county magistrate's court this morning with charges ranging from speeding to careless driving.

An Oshawa youth, William Walter Duncan was committed by the Magistrate to drive a motor vehicle, anywhere in Canada for one year, when he was found guilty on a dangerous driving charge. He was further placed on suspended sentence for a period of one year. The magistrate warned him if he was caught driving within that time, he would go to jail.

A Maple Street resident, McMourne J. E. Barrieau was fined $50 and costs when found he was found guilty on a charge of impaired driving.

The accused pleaded not guilty to a charge of drunk driving. He was defended by Robert Temple and the charge was reduced to impaired driving.

Harry E. Reid, was sentenced to 30 days in jail and his driver's licence suspended for one year, when he was found guilty on a charge of drunk driving. The accused pleaded guilty to the charge.

Evidence was that the accused had been travelling at a wrong late on highway 401, east on the westbound lane.

After meeting some 20 oncoming cars and narrowly escaping head-on collisions, he was eventually stopped by a Scarborough motorist proceeding in the right direction only in the eastbound lane of highway 401.

Bombardier Gets Stiff Reprimand At Court Martial

By DON HANRIGHT

OTTAWA (CP)—Brig. Oliver Francis Johnson received a severe reprimand by a court martial Wednesday for obtaining opium from a Chinese civilian in Laos while on duty last year, intending to smuggle it to South Viet Nam.

Johnson, 51, drew the military rebuke despite a charge of theft that prevented him from actually carrying out the smuggling. He told the court he was afraid he would get caught and returned the opium to a corporal who arranged to get it for him.

The court martial nevertheless convicted him for "conduct to the prejudice of good order and discipline." He is chiefly the victim of an army order that forbade all military personnel from delivering packets and letters for civilians into or out of Laos.

A severe reprimand, near the bottom of the military scale of punishments, means that the sentence is merely recorded on his service record, but it might affect future promotion.

LIGHTEST OF SEVEN

It was the lightest of seven punishments open to the court martial army so far to military personnel involved in the smuggling of gold and opium. The last sentencing last year with the international Control Commission in Indochina.

On Tuesday, a staff sergeant was dismissed from the service and last week courts martial demoted two corporals to private and gave them jail terms.

Earlier, a sergeant and two corporals were brought before a senior officer in Indochina and given severe reprimands, plus fines of $150 each. Two civilians identified as military department employees also have been disciplined.

What he believed to be the last such case will be heard by court martial here Saturday when the trial of Maj. William A. Platt opens. The army has not yet revealed the charges against him, or identified him further.

Girls' Track Meet Slated For O.S.D.

The Quinte District COSSA girls track and field meet will be held at the Osterick School for the Deaf on Saturday starting 10:30 a.m.

Seven secondary schools of the district will be represented by some 200 girl athletes.

The Lloyd Ross and Ann Bapaan Trophy will be presented to the team with the highest points aggregate. A ribbon given by Mr. Hayman for annual competition for girls' track and field.

The winning team will represent the Quinte district at the COSSA meet scheduled for Saturday, May 19th, at Peterborough.

The COSSA boys' track and field meet is slated for Trenton High School also on Saturday. The winning team will compete at the July meeting in Peterborough.

Trenton Man Acquitted on Theft Charge

William Hudgin, aged about of Trenton, was acquitted, by Hastings County Judge J. C. Anderson on a charge of theft at a TV from a Division Street resident in Trenton on last January.

Hudgin accused was arrested by Trenton police a short time after the disappearance of the set, and at the preliminary hearing elected to be tried by judge and jury. He later elected trial by judge alone and yesterday appeared in county court before Judge Judge Anderson who acquitted the accused for lack of evidence.

Mr. Hudgin was represented by Belleville lawyer Louis Marsaka, who acted as legal aid.

BARE GETS CURFEW

YOKOSUKA, Japan (AP) — The U.S. Navy today slapped a 1:30-5 a.m. curfew on this naval city of 250,000 for all United States military personnel and their dependents. The navy said the curfew had been under consideration for some time, but it apparently resulted from the fatal shooting of a Japanese policeman in a scuffle with five navy seamen early last Saturday.

Few Things Are Fair

"It isn't fair!"

How often have you heard a weeping youngster register his or her violent protest against some parental edict in these three words? Hundreds of times.

Probably there is no other magic phrase so likely to win a reappraisal of the situation and reconsideration of the order; the youngster is pleading . . .

Like the youngster, the parent gives first priority to fairness. This is certainly true amongst most present-day Canadians and is probably true throughout the English-speaking world and possibly in many other lands where similar cultures exist.

For, of course, this is a delusion. There is nothing fair about the way in which life treats us. We do not come into this world equally equipped: some are blessed with sound bodies and sharp intellects; others inherit disease and stupidity. The treatment we receive from the world is more likely to aggravate than to compensate for these initial inequalities. Misfortune and bounty do not fall evenly on all alike, like the rain from heaven, but are sprinkled unevenly, like grains from a salt-shaker now, unchalantly wielded. The child whose outraged "It isn't fair" signifies his surprise and anguish at some early discovery of the true state of affairs has a long and bitter road before him.

Fairness is nothing more than ideal vituperously to be sought by men in their dealings with their fellows, for the sake of their own consciences, and gratefully to be received and long remembered when accorded us by others.

But it is not practical to expect it as a rule of conduct, of individuals or of institutions, including governments.

For one thing, what is fair is sometimes difficult to determine, and even more difficult to achieve.

In no field is this more true than in taxation.

Thus, when Prime Minister Diefenbaker proposes to establish a royal commission to review Canada's taxation system, to see that its burden is fair and equitable on all taxpayers, he promises a course of action which will appeal to all. But, perfect as this field is unattainable. There is no such thing as a tax which is fair to all, because individual circumstances vary so greatly. The best that can be hoped is to eliminate some of the more evident inequalities —and to devise a tax system which, if sometimes not fair, fulfills the primary aim of providing the government with necessary revenues while encouraging, rather than discouraging, economic activity and growth.

Significant Weathervane

The most noteworthy feature of the new outbreak of hostilities on a relatively major scale in Laos is not that this should have occurred but the realistic attitude towards the fighting being taken by the U.S.

While officially, of course, the U.S. will deplore this infraction of the existing cease-fire agreement by the red-tinged Pathet Lao, it is doing little to conceal from pro-western Premier Boun Oum its conviction that his latest woes serve him right.

It has been Boun Oum's intransigence, or rather that of his "boss," strong-man Phoumi Nosavan, which has prevented the formation of a coalition government with neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma and communist Prince Souphanouvong, as sought by the big powers, including Russia, at Geneva.

All of these Laotians are no more than pawns in the big power game. The notable features of these big power manoeuvres are twofold. Firstly, there is the Russian willingness to see Laos pacified by a compromise, a willingness for which the most popular, and most reasonable, explanation is a dislike of the prospect of China's influence becoming paramount in this section of South East Asia. Secondly, in the sharpest contrast to the general U. S. attitude little more than a year ago, when there were even suggestions that the U.S. was prepared to go to war over Laos, there is the present U.S. readiness, even eagerness, to accommodate Russia on this issue, an attitude which many will interpret as American acceptance of the theory that Russian and Chinese interests are not likely to run parallel in the years ahead.

Joey's Political Clowning Embarrassing to Liberals

BY RICHARD JACKSON
(From The Ontario Intelligencer's Ottawa Bureau)

OTTAWA — Before this campaign gets very much older, the Liberals are going to have to lock up Premier Joseph R. (Pat Boy) Smallwood of Newfoundland.

Seems Joey has too rich for what Premier likes to call "Mainland" Canadian blood.

This never has been much of a secret around the Liberal headquarters in Ottawa, but it has managed to keep him confined to his third little island off the coast of Labrador.

But even when Joey was there, he managed to get a few nasty thoughts on his own transgressions, the unwritten law that "what happens in Newfoundland stays in Newfoundland" and the old custom of his words and weekly wordplay not reaching the mainland Canadian public.

Like the other day when Liberal Leader Mackenzie was touring Newfie and Joey's flamboyant style rolled into the limelight.

He made an attack on Prime Minister Diefenbaker that was in such crushingly bad taste that he (Joey) and his party thought sure they might keep it quiet.

Catch was that the CBC and some others made a tape of it and broadcast it.

It is now being replayed widely over the radio networks, too — with the Liberals suffering the backlash of a reaction of disgusted Canadian people who don't consider Joey's clowning either funny or in anything but the most unfortunate taste.

PIPE DOWN

The damage done — and still continuing — by the Smallwood tape remains high on the political list parade as the unhappy Liberals ponder on the next best thing . . . rounded up hope and pray . . . Pal Joey.

The Smallwood sound-off went like this:

". . . John Diefenbaker before he was Prime Minister Mulroney had never been elected to anything in his life . . . never elected a damn thing, not even councillor . . . or even dog-catcher. . . .

". . . He had been a lawyer doing all the wonderful works of defending criminals and bamboozlers and manslaughterers. (Howls of wild laughter) . . . Diefenbaker is a fine fellow (Howls of wild laughter) . . . any thing you like to call him, but he is not a statesman."

. . . There has never been such a busy Prime Minister in all history . . . and I'm not referring Canada . . . he did not have the time that — he was too busy . . .

". . . So what did he do . . . he went from country to country the world — to England (chuckles), to Japan (cackles), to Indonesia (cackles), to Pakistan (hoots), to Tanganyika (howls), . . . and he even went to the UN and made speeches (belly-laws) . . . even Khrushchev was shaking his head (hoots and bellers)."

All the time, Mike Pearson was on the platform, looking pained and waiting for Joey to stop making a political clown of himself, so that he, as National Liberal Leader, might outline party policy and make a serious appeal for votes.

Some chance. Not a hope.

But Joey was just warming up:

". . . And Diefenbaker travelled all over Canada (shrieks of laughter) . . . any little hoped club that wanted a speech, he made it . . . and if it was a university wanted a prize like an honorary degree (howls) why then he made it . . .

". . . The only trouble is they can't get him to stay long enough to collect it . . . before the letters pile up — con-two-

Most Charity Deals With Symptoms

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

Family Personal Problems:

There is no more dangerous delusion in the world than that we are devoid of delusions; the man who most prides himself as a clear-eyed realist is the most likely to be deluded in the deepest part of his personal life.

Most charity deals with symptoms, not with causes; and we are willing to pay a great deal to alleviate the symptoms so long as we do not have to trouble ourselves about the causes.

Man is the only animal who, is frustrated when his desires are not satisfied at once; he has no patience.

Married women who complain about their mates' defects should heed the words of Lord Halifax, said three centuries ago: "A wife is to thank God her husband has faults; a husband without faults is a dangerous observer."

The function of the Anglican Young People's Association of St. Thomas' Parish, entertained a number of visitors on initiation from the numerous parishes in this district at the present from Wellington, Frankford, Picton, Stirling and Trenton. STRENGTH FOR THE DAY
THE BURNING BUSH

The story of Moses hearing the voice of God speaking to him out of the burning bush is familiar to every Bible reader. "And Moses said, I will now turn aside, and see this great sight why the bush is not burnt. And when the Lord saw that he turned aside to see, God called unto him out of the midst of the bush, and said, Moses, Moses, and he said, Here am I." (Exodus 3:3-4).

It was when Moses turned aside to see that God spoke to him. Moses might have watched this phenomenon from afar but nothing is appealing through fear or perhaps being too indifferent to approach. But he turned aside to see, and when he turned aside, God spoke to him.

There are burning bushes in the your pathway and mine, if we pass them by, they have no message for us, but if we turn aside to see, God speaks to us out of these things.

To the unbeliever there may be circumstances in home, office, shop, and factory with a message from God. Disappointment and frustration are often God's beacons. Opportunity for advancement in the world is sometimes the means by which God speaks to us. Social opportunities we should embrace and others we should turn from, usually live within God's will for the heart of God himself.

Watch out for the burning bushes along the pathway of your life, God will speak if you turn aside to see.

To Your Good Health

Lump Occurring in Breast Not Necessarily Malignant

By JOSEPH C. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I would like to pass along my experience to "F.D." in a response to her questions about a breast lump.

Two years ago when I was 18 I discovered a lump in my left breast.

My doctor supervised that it was removed.

The operation was minor and the lump was a benign cyst. I have had no trouble for two days and my scar is very small.

I've had, by circumference, a sign of another lump. I hope this is of some value to "F.D." — M.M.

It should be, and thank you for writing.

There seems to be a great deal of misunderstanding about a "lump in the breast."

Since breast cancer is the most frequent malignant type in women, there is every reason to keep people aware of the danger. Treatment as soon as possible is the way to cure it completely.

But it's wrong to assume that every lump is cancer. The ratio of non-malignant lumps to cancers is approximately 25 or 30 to one.

For this reason women should not postpone examination of a breast lump for fear of cancer. It is cancer." Most of the time it will not be — and in the small proportion of lumps that are, indeed, malignant, speed is the people to safety. Any delay is an invitation to misery and death.

Where the lump is not malignant, there is no reason to be alarmed. But even a benign non-malignant lumps should be removed, some in order to eliminate pain, discomfort or risk of infection, others in order to allay fears. Only a doctor is able to definite decision as to whether malignancy exists. In a good many other cases, the doctor will be able to remove the lump without surgery, that the lump is harmless and may safely be ignored.

There is, among some women at least, a fear that surgery at all is going to result in "disfiguring surgery." This simply is not true, and today's latter is one excellent example of how simple the removal of a benign lump can be.

Don't delay examination because of fear or any other motive.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am a boy of 15 and have a problem that I haven't heard of before.

My facial hairs are coming out very dark, tough and heavy. Every time I shave, they grow out worse. What should I do? Should I continue to shave? — S.D.

Son, I doubt if you have a problem except that your beard has arrived a little ahead of the rest of the gang. About 16 is average, but it can vary a year or so in either direction. Shaving won't make the beard heavier. The growth occurs in the hair roots under the skin, and cutting off the tops of the hairs has no effect. So all I can say is welcome to the ranks of razor-users, good luck and don't cut yourself.

Dear Dr. Molner: When I am at home I never have trouble with constipation, but as soon as I go on a new job, vacation, or even just a weekend, I have terrible trouble. I know it is probably the diet, but since I'm not a healthy eater, I don't know anything one can do about it? — M.M.

It may not be the diet at all. It may be inactivity while travelling, excitement and nervousness; or bad timing of bowel action because you have to fit into a different routine. A mild laxative, perhaps even a glycerine suppository is quite effective for this type of constipation.

Hemorrhoids can be cured! If troubled with fissures, fistulas, itching and other rectal disorders, write Dr. Molner in care of The Chicago Tribune Syndicate, 360 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago, Ill., requesting a copy of the booklet, "The Real Cure for Hemorrhoids," describing a long, self-addressed, unstamped envelope and 10c to cover cost of printing and handling.

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

Certain individuals and organizations are getting away with some pretty disgraceful conduct recently about the coolness and general physical deterioration of Canadians. Indeed it is being granted to the chief medical question, and to the discovery of physical inferiority even among muscles.

It should be interesting to examine the grounds on which it based the estimates of our deterioration. It is by the first world war that Canadians became aware of the fact that they were in good shape and as, if not a little better than most other peoples. They proved it when, on their four infantry divisions being organized a corps to fight in a thrilling campaign on the western front, one of the recognized shock troops of the world, was stood by the enemy and held in admiration or envy by their allies.

Then, after the Canadian force, no such standards of physical fitness were even employed in enlisting for the second world war were applied. Indeed, all over the country and bush, the run-of-the-mill Canadians, if not in the first colors and went to live for four years in a sunder, filth, hardship and want did not feed that can hardly be conceived today. They are much more to manhood than muscles.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

DELICACY

The breath of Nature is one of delicacy. We know about the spring breeze when it passes, hoping to catch a little warmth, and the fragrance from the rainbird skirts.

That which we hold longest in our hearts of a woman's presence, is her delicacy, her gentle refinement and modest manner.

We call one day when a bookman handed me the first edition of a lovely book, done up in a delicate binding. I looked and thought it had been a new baby placed in my arms. I knew I was looking upon a treasure which bettered the spirit of a great mind and noble character.

If we give to our tasks a delicacy of workmanship, we need have little fear as to what the nuclear family. The main purpose should be to achieve disarmament with some kind of world-wide inspection.

NUCLEAR ARMS

He said the Liberals have been "shuffling, shilly-shallying and shifting" on the nuclear issue, and their stand was "confused, incoherent and contradictory."

ALREADY ARMED?

Mr. Hellyer told reporters in Calgary that Canada had already assumed "nuclear responsibilities" with the strike-reconnaissance role assigned to the CF-104 in NATO.

"Whoever accepts it is in a nuclear role," he said. "But the government refuses to confirm or deny whether the CF-104 will be so armed."

He later told a Vancouver press conference that the Bomarc missile isn't "worth a damn" and the U.S. should be asked if it was worth maintaining.

The Liberal MP for Toronto Trinity advocated a reorganization of Canada's defence forces into an integrated mobile striking force capable of being put into quick action anywhere in the world.

SAYS UNDER PRESSURE

In Galt, NDP Leader Douglas said the government is under "a lot of pressure from the U.S. and "our own military people" to equip its forces with nuclear weapons.

The NDP, he told reporters, was the only party which had a firm stand on the nuclear question.

At a Kitchener rally, he warned that unemployment in Canada would become much worse if either the Conservatives or the Liberals won the election. Canada needed "an economy of the people, run for the people and operated by the people."

In an earlier appraisal of the campaign prospects, he said it was a battle between the NDP and the Conservatives in all provinces except Quebec and Newfoundland, where the Liberals were the main opponents.

STRIKES AT NDP

Liberal Leader Pearson, speaking in Hamilton, looked at the campaign fight in another light. A vote for the NDP, he said, was a vote to keep the Progressive Conservative government in office.

"There is only one way in which they (the Conservatives) might conceivably cling to office, that is if the vote against the government is spread too much among the other parties."

Mr. Pearson's speech is the final city, with a big labor vote, was mixed with criticism of the Conservative record on employment, finance and administration. A Liberal government would get things done, propel the economy forward again and keep it moving.

The Liberal chieftain drove to Hamilton along the Toronto lakeshore, stopping to shake hands, sign autographs, pose with pretty girls for photos and chat with housewives. His afternoon included knocking a home run on a boys' scrub baseball lot at Oakville.

REFORMS NEEDED

Social Credit Leader Thompson told Social Credit party candidates in Edmonton that tax reform was needed as part of a program to avoid economic stagnation and recession. Government had to be put on a pay-as-you-go basis.

He later took time out from campaigning to attend the 60th anniversary celebration of the arrival of the Thompson family in the rich farming area of Red Deer.

Guests included his 74 - year-old father and more than 100 persons, among them many of the region's pioneer families.

FAMILY FAIR OPENING — A new store, Family Fair, opened its doors to the Belleville and district public this morning at 10.00 o'clock at the local shopping plaza. Deputy Mayor Ben Corke officially opened the new premises to a large crowd of waiting customers.

WOODSTOCK, Ont. (CP) — Reginald Patrick, a spry 82-year-old, recalls the early years of the century when the top pay for a young man was $1.25 for a 12-hour day.

Not only that, but if the youth worked with animals he was likely to be called on to work Sundays as well without extra pay.

It seemed only natural, therefore, for the ambitious sort to want to go into business for himself.

Mr. Patrick tried it in 1918 when he opened a feed store in Ingersoll, Ont., where he continued for 44 years.

Eighteen years ago the Patrick Feed Store was caught up by progress and he had to move a block east to make way for construction of a bus terminal.

STILL HAS STOVE

Things haven't changed much, though. There are still the clean smells of oats, barley, chows, hay, sunflower seeds, bran and straw. A large pot-bellied stove around which farmers used to warm their hands on cold winter days still stands in the centre of the room.

Even a large black cat strolls couchalantly around looking for mice. And yellowed old posters and testaments can be found lying in a corner of the store.

Mr. Patrick, a native of Birmingham, England who lived for a time in London, Ont., and worked in such other western cities as St. Thomas and Galt before coming here, recently celebrated his 50th wedding anniversary with his wife Bessie. They have three daughters.

A look at his store suggests time has almost stood still, but it won't stand still much longer. In July of this year many old buildings will be torn down to make room for a new federal building.

One will be the Patrick Feed Store.

37,320 Voters Are Listed for Hastings South

According to the preliminary voters' list as obtained by the election enumerators who completed their jobs last week, there are 37,320 voters in Hastings South eligible to cast their ballots.

Riding returning officer William VanTassel said today that lists from all enumerators were now in and had gone to the printer. The lists will be posted and persons finding they have been left off will have the opportunity of having their names added.

Mr. VanTassel said the final voters' list could see "several hundred" names added throughout the riding. There are 159 polls in the riding.

The preliminary voters' lists in the last federal election saw 34,830 names tabulated in Hastings South.

New Zealand Annoyed by U.S. Quota on Cheese

AUCKLAND (AP) — The United States appears to approve trade restrictions as long as they affect other people, the chairman of the New Zealand Dairy Production and Marketing Board said today.

The U.S. gives a strong impression it wants a genuine free trade for its exports while continuing embargoes against countries trying to sell goods to the United States, said P. R. Marshall.

"For months we have been waiting for a U.S. presidential decision whether the American quota on cheddar cheese is to be relaxed," he said.

The United States Tariff Commission recommended Dec. 1 hold the quota at the present absurd level of 868 tons more than 1,000 tons a year still lag on the presidential tables," he said.

Marshall added that while New Zealand have been waiting for the United States has announced a liberalization by 25 per cent of the blue mould cheese quota of nearly 2,000 tons for the benefit of European countries, not for the benefit New Zealand which has no share in that quota.

"Some might wonder whether there is any link between this decision and the United States' attitude of endeavoring to free trade channels between the United States and EEC (Common Market) countries."

Final Annual Inspection Of Quinte Air Cadets Held

It was a beautiful afternoon for the seventh and final annual inspection of Quinte Secondary School's Royal Canadian Air Cadet Squadron No. 608 and the squadron's cadets and officers together with members of the school's band, responded to the occasion with a first rate show.

During its brief lifespan the local squadron won the coveted Strathcona Trophy for the best Ontario school squadron in 1959 and followed this up in 1959 and 1960 by winning the Strathcona Trophy for the best school squadron in the Air Cadet pool-al marksmanship competitions.

It was, therefore, with considerable justification that the inspecting officer, Wing Commander C. W. Blain, C.D., of RCAF Station Trenton drew attention to the "commendable organization" and the "good showing" of the officers and cadets of the squadron during his inspection.

He urged the cadets to pay close attention to the advantages which were offered them during their school careers and to make the maximum use of the excellent educational facilities available to them.

Wing Commander Blain also expressed his regrets at the termination of the school squadron and at the leaving of Squadron Leader E. A. Craighead, D.F.M., who has commanded the squadron for most of its existence. He also complimented the school and the Bay of Quinte District High School Board for their support and sponsorship of the squadron over the past seven years.

School principal Leslie F. Reid, speaking as chairman of the sponsoring committee, mentioned that it was with "mixed feelings" that he viewed the "magnificent job" which the squadron's officers and cadets, together with the school band, had done on the inspection.

He expressed the deep appreciation of the sponsoring committee for the efforts put into making the squadron such a success by Squadron Leader Craighead, his officers and instructors, by the Air Cadet League of Canada and its local representative, Mr. Douglas Whitley, and by RCAF Station Trenton.

HOPES IT CONTINUES

Mr. Reid also stated that he hoped the squadron would continue as an open squadron in Belleville.

Mr. Doug Whitley, representing the Ontario Provincial Committee of the Air Cadet League, echoed Mr. Reid's hopes for the continuation of Squadron 608 this fall under Association sponsor. He intimated that there was the possibility of such a sponsor in the offing.

He also expressed the thanks to the retiring sponsoring body and complimented the cadets and the band on their fine showing.

Flight Sergeant Peter Lewis was presented with the RCAF Association Trophy for being the top cadet in the squadron for the past year. The RCAF Association Marksmanship Award was presented to Air Cadet Gilbert Dodd.

Beach Cover-Up

By VERA WINSTON

Here is a beach costume designed to set as cover-up protection from sun and wind. The fabric is striped cotton in beige and white and multi-colored print.

The attached hood can be dropped to form a novel collar effect. Elastic is run through at an Empire waist and there are deep patch pockets.

Jewelry With A Twist

By ALICE ALDEN

The good designer is always an coursel with trends, fads and fancies. So it isn't too surprising to find Trifari introducing jewelry called "The Twist."

Gay indeed is the plan of twisted medallions of pseudo turquoise, coral and jade or combinations of these colors made to twist around one's neck or wrist. The matching dangling earrings look good, particularly when one is in motion, twisting or turning.

'Books for Children' Topic Discussed at Women's S.G.

The Women's Study Guild met at the home of Mrs. J. R. Reynolds. The secretary had brought a picture and history of the Tunisian protogee, which was studied by the members.

The devotional, based on St. Matthew 19, was in charge of Mrs. H. G. Wylie, and a medition on "Children and Dependency" was most thought-provoking and a fitting prelude to the topic of the evening, "Books for Children." This was handled in two part. The first, on the library, by Mrs. George Wishart, was a review of the growth of libraries in general, with particular stress on the Belleville Children's Library, which now has branches in seven schools. The library is felt to be an essential part of the school system as established in the 1800's by Egerton Ryerson. The city now supports the library to the extent of $1.30 per capita, and this was brought to be a wise investment, as children who read widely usually develop into good citizens.

Part 2 was taken by Mrs. H. G. Boulet, school librarian at Prince of Wales School. Mrs. Boulet had a display of some of the books available to the children, and outlined the content of quite a few, stating why they were suited to the age group suggested.

It is quite interesting to note that 80 percent of the Jesse grades use the school library, while only 75 per cent of the upper grades are card holders. Some of these older children, of course, use the downtown library.

It was agreed that the practice of taking all eight grade students on an instructional tour of the main library so that they can learn how to make use of the services available, was a highly commendable effort.

Quested on the reading preferences of the children, Mrs. Boulet said that there was a definite interest created by current TV and movie programs and, of course, hobby books are always in demand. Some books are enjoyed more when read aloud, particularly those in a humorous vein, as Mrs Boulet proved by telling a delightful little story which demonstrated the power of the spoken word.

A social time was enjoyed with hostesses Mrs. H. C. Bolton and Mrs. G. H. Trill in charge.

R. M. Teachers Hear Report Of Convention

On May 2nd, the Registered Music Teachers met at the home of Mrs. O. F. Sexsmith, Eleanor Gardens after the president, Miss Gertrude Howse, welcomed everyone present the secretary's report was read and the business meeting got under way.

Miss Flora Moore was a delegate to the 31st annual convention of the Ontario Registered Music Teachers' Association held at the Royal Macdonald Hotel, in Ottawa, April 24, 25 and 26th. Miss Moore gave an interesting account of the lectures and classes and brought back special information and material for the members.

Miss Moore attended lectures by Frances Mann, who is a director of the Preparatory Division of the Juilliard School in New York. Miss Moore spoke on "The Development of Rote Reading and Reading Skill," "Picking up the Pieces" and "Motivation of Music Education To The General Education."

Dr. Fred J. Norwood, who is a member of the faculty of the Royal Conservatory of Music in Toronto, gave a series of lectures on "The Art of Teaching Theory."

While at the convention, Miss Moore attended several recitals and the auditions for the "Young Artist Series" one of the winners being Gregory Butler, of Belleville.

Miss Moore thanked the teachers for having had the opportunity to attend the convention, and Mrs. Turcotte thanked Miss Moore for her full report on the activities of the convention.

Mrs. G. M. Stratton, accompanied by Miss Lecos Riggs played several violin solos, after which coffee and refreshments were served by the hostess.

Physical Education Explained At BCIVS H-S Association

On May 7th BCIVS Home and School Association held its annual meeting in the girls' gymnasium at Grade II. Over the dinners of Mr. Bathour, presented a practical demonstration of the physical education program in the secondary schools.

Mr. Bathour explained how, in Grade 7 they begin the program and, in Grade 8 progress through high school, he participants in the program as given from read-to-wear.

The Grade 7 girls' hour they begin a class with a "warm-up" period before proceeding to the period activities. Mr. Bathour explained to the parents how each new piece of equipment is given a full explanation of its proper use and of the reason for using it right to ensure no injuries. He took the examples as he went along and proceeded as he would if he were explaining its proper use to a class for the first time ensuring all that it can be safe if properly used.

Following this, several teams of boys and girls gave demonstrations of gymnastic methods to demonstrate what is used and taught in a gym class. This was followed by a display of amateur wrestling.

The demonstration of Music is roughly enjoyed by all and the chair of the Home and School Council, Mrs. R. Sexsmith, were expressed by Mr. A. Wynne.

On returning to the girls' gym, the president proceeded with the business meeting. Upon the presentation of the new list of Mothers' Helpers and School officers for the new year, they were duly installed by president of Belleville and District Home and School Council, Mrs. R. Sexsmith.

MAY HAVE LAYOFFS

LETHBRIDGE (CP) — The Herald says two Lethbridge meat packing plants, Canada Packers and Canadian Dressed Meats, will lay off employees as a result of the lower rate in the Canadian dollar. While no shutdown of the two big plants is planned, officials of both firms said there will be big cut - backs in production. The Herald says. About 75 to 80 workers are employed at the two plants.

COLD STORAGE
BY Woodland

The weathermen two-ored with brilliant sunshine for the annual V.O.N. "Spring Tea" which was held in Christ Church parish hall, yesterday afternoon, with conveners Mrs. J. Nelles and Mrs. R.B. Brain in charge, for this delightfully successful event.

Receiving the many patrons at the door to the appropriately decorated hall were Mrs. Frank Follwell, and Miss Dorothy Connor, V.O.N. nurse in-charge of the Belleville branch. The hostesses presiding the guests to the tea room were: Mrs. A. E. Mills, Mrs. E. E. Morton, Miss L. Reynolds, and Mrs. W. Fox.

TRADITIONAL DECOR

The complete decorating scheme in the auditorium was in keeping with the traditional blue and white of the V.O.N. and everywhere the eye turned this theme was evident. The tea room was divided from the other portion of the hall with blue and white streamers and at each side of the entrance were large pots of pure white mums foregrounded with the familiar hat and bag of the V.O.N. nurse. Each of the quartet tables was covered with a snow-white cloth or a deep blue with the V.O.N. insignia. Centring these were miniature hat and bag sets on a square white doily with the V.O.N. crest of colored posies.

ATTRACTIVE TEA TABLES

The twin tea tables were ideal attractive with their white linen cloths centred with artistic arrangements of white daisies and yellow and white tinted cone and flanked by tiles and white tapering candles in tri-branch silver candelabra. Gleaming silver tea service and pretty adorable serviettes added to this pretty setting. Those responsible for this appropriate decorative scheme were: Mrs. D. Fisher, Mrs. H. Ford, Mrs. Wm. Fox, Mrs. P. Marshall, Mrs. R. Stewart and Mrs. G. Pringle.

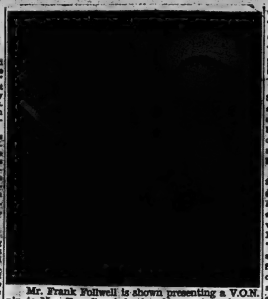
Those pouring tea for the afternoon were: Mrs. H. Spencer, Mrs. J. D. Cowgan, Miss M. Kilpatrick, Mrs. H. Francis, Mrs. W. H. Cowgan, Mrs. R. Grant, Mrs. A. M. Haig and Mrs. G. Horne. Those serving were: Miss A. Enright, Mrs. D. Fisher, Mrs. H. Andrews, Mrs. C. James, Mrs. A. Dunsmore, Mrs. W. Bates, Mrs. J. Nelles, Mrs. C. Morgan, Miss M. Townsend, Mrs. N. Edwards, Mrs. D. Lee and Mrs. E. MacDonald; also serving for the afternoon were the V.O.N. students from the B.G.H.—the Misses Bercbeck, Weaver, Kernaghan, Henderson, Crabbe, Tait and Woodcock.

TASTY DISPLAY

Backgrounding the three sales tables was an eye-catching display depicting the pottery worthwhile services performed from day to day by this fine organization. Literature pertaining to VON work were placed on tables at each side of the hall and were available to all. Large pots of greenery, interspersed with multi-colored tulips and potted golden 'mums, decorated the platform and piano.

The candy table held an abundant supply of sweets ranging from light and dark fudges, maple cream, divinity fudge, to homemade chocolates all nicely packaged in boxes or cellophane bags. Those in charge of sales here were Mrs. C. Vader, Mrs. F. Murray, Mrs. W. Cavers and Mrs. J. MacDonald.

The miscellaneous table with its varied assortment of articles including aprons, pink and white pumpkins, egg cup, cake plates, table centrepieces, costume jewelery and African violets was in charge of Mrs. A. Cornish, Mrs. S. Lathemore, Mrs. A. Finch, Mrs. K. Burkett and Mrs. J. Macill.



TASTY HOMEBAKING

The homebaking table was most enticing with its varied array of sweet goods, some of which were pecan and cherry pies, raspberry and butter tarts, assorted cookies, banana fruit bread, date and nut loaves, cup cakes, cofee rolls, as well as an assortment of jams, jellies and relishes. This table was convened by Mrs. R. L. Smith, Mrs D. Boyd, Mrs. R. Booth, Mrs. W. Love and Mrs. O. Clarke.

Mrs. J. Boyd was ticket convener and treasurer for this special event, and others who assisted were, replenishing, Mrs. N. Williamson, Mrs. J. Sly, Mrs. H. Brown and Mrs. B. Root; helping in kitchen — Mrs. G. Mountford, Mrs. D. Poulter, Mrs. F. Sorensen, Mrs. R. Rushton, Mrs. W. Robbin and Mrs B. Bishop; arranging plates — Mrs. T. Smith, Mrs. H. Smith, Mrs. H. Allred, Mrs. F. Benson and Mrs. A. W. Athey.

APPRECIATION EXTENDED

Appreciation is extended to members of the several church congregations who were in charge of the various services and who helped contribute to the success of the VON tea.

By JANET MOREN

MONTREAL (CP)—One of the most pungent critics of the influence exerted by the United States on Canadian affairs is, oddly enough, herself an American citizen.

Miriam Chapin, author of Quebec Now, Atlantic Canada and Contemporary Canada, is a tall, sturdily attractive 70-year-old grandmother who moved to Montreal with her husband and family 30 years ago.

She began writing about 10 years later, going to action primarily by the lack of nursery school facilities in Montreal for children of munitions workers.

The schools eventually were organized, but by this time Mrs. Chapin was so wrapped up in the character of the province she kept on writing. Becoming Quebec correspondent for the Christian Science Monitor, she developed a prose style that has been called "brisk," "sensational" and even "brilliant," and which helped make her first book, Quebec Now, both a penetrating and remarkably readable one.

OUTSPOKEN — A UFE BOOK—Miriam Chapin, author of several books on Canada and Canadian-American relations, was born in the United States but has lived in Montreal for the last 30 years. A prolific writer, she is best known for her blunt criticism of U.S. influence on Canadian affairs. (CP Photo).

MAY ABSORB CANADA

In Contemporary Canada, published four years later in 1959, Mrs. Chapin begins her first paragraph with a bang: "Canada confronts its time of decision. Within the next few years Canadians will know whether or not they can maintain political independence of the United States now that economic and cultural integration are both so nearly complete."

Asked recently if she still doubts Canada's ability to retain sovereignty, she said: "Yes; and (absorption) would be a pity from the United States' point of view, too. It would be much better for it to have a friendly neighbor that can express an independent view and go its own way."

Other works by Mrs. Chapin during her 20-year career include a book on languages, hundreds of articles and a recent translation of Les Insolences du Frere Untel.

The book, a criticism of some of Quebec's most cherished institutions by a teaching brother from the Lake St. John region, has sold more than 200,000 copies in Canada.

FLUENT IN FRENCH

The fact that Mrs. Chapin, who had never spoken French until 20 years ago, was asked to do the English translation is a credit as much to her understanding of and friendship with French-Canadians as her hard-earned proficiency in their language.

Indeed, Mrs. Chapin feels so much at home here that when she tried to transplant herself three years ago, sub-letting her Montreal apartment and taking a furnished one in New York, "I got so homesick I had to come back."

She still spends the summer months in the United States, in a hill-side cabin not far from the Rutledge area where she grew up.

A sickly child who didn't go to school until she was 14, she developed her voracious literary appetite at home where her father, a lawyer turned farmer, kept a complete library of classics.

PLAYS CHESS

She married soon after graduating from the University of Vermont, with a major in mathematics and moved to Cuba with her husband, an executive for a sugar firm. During subsequent moves to other parts of the Caribbean and Central America, Mrs. Chapin kept occupied by acting as teacher to her four children and by learning Spanish.

Her husband, from whom she says she is "amicably separated," now is retired and lives in Connecticut. Two of her three sons—the youngest was killed in the Second World War—also live in the U.S., and her daughter lives in England.

Mrs. Chapin maintains a small, comfortable midtown apartment in which the walls are decorated with paintings by artist friends. She entertains frequently and also likes playing chess and travelling. She recently returned from a month-long tour of Greece.

Eric F. — She should help him accept being short.

Rose H. — It worries him and I to hear of the subject.

* * *

Eric F. — My sister has an 8-year-old son who looks like a so far as his height goes. Otherwise he's more like a 10-year-old — he's very full company, bright, wiry and athletic. I have wonderful times with him, bike riding, ice-skating, swimming. Since my own children are daughters, and still under 4, I spend much of my free time with Ernie.

But last week I had a disturbing experience. His mother asked me to take him shopping for a suit. She told me to pretend. I was getting him a size 9, even though he takes a 6. This became awkward because Ernie heard the saleslgirl say, "Here's a 9!" I winked at her and mumbled something about it being marked wrong. We wound up with a 7, but Ernie thinks it's a 9. I want my sister to be honest with him.

* * *

Rose H. — I'm worried enough about Ernest's short stature and I don't want him to worry about it any more than necessary. I have hopes that our doctor will do something about it if Nature doesn't bring Ernie up to size within a year or so.

Meanwhile, I see nothing wrong in using a few ruses to make him feel more like the other boys in his class. If he's 8 he should take size 8 or 9, he thinks. Usually I shop without having him along and remove the labels. But once when he accompanied me, and heard me ask for a 6, he began to cry, "But 6's be sobbed, although I was getting him baby clothes.

I even transferred him from a play group, where he was the smallest child with preschool boys where he's one of the tallest.

* * *

The Council: That word "average" can be a cruel one and, humanly speaking, there's no such thing. No individual is really average. He's himself and, as such, someone special. So Mrs. H. would do better to prepare Ernie to grow to be himself, rather than to be average. And if that self is destined to be on the dwarfish side, it can still be a happy, useful and most precious self. No subterfuges, and certainly no spoonfuls, are necessary!

* * *

While the subject of Ernie's stature won't be changed, we neither ought it be side-stepped as awkwardly as Mrs. H. has been doing. Out shopping, tell him we're buying this size because this is the size that fits. Never mind what it's called. If it's 8 and you're 9, so what? You're reading "Dick & Jane," aren't you? You're keeping up with class 3? accomplishments, even size 10, according to Uncle Eric.

As to the play group, Mrs. H. may be right in gymnastics, phonics, spelling bees, art contests and formations, more balanced. But once Ernie gets a realistic attitude being short, he should have his choice between the young kids for the sake of good races and bouts? Or more into his age group and find other contact his brain, as well as nimbleness, make up for his limited reach.

We don't know the family graph of hereditary height characteristics so we can't predict whether Ernie will stay short, or whether he may undergo a growth spurt during adolescence. Whatever, hope for the best.

Meanwhile, short people continue to be "giants" among us in their fields. Mrs. H. might quote Victor Hugo to Ernie: "Nature has given you a thing of little country. The greatness of a people is no more determined by grit number, than the greatness of a man is determined by his height."

Women's Activities

COLLEGE HILL U.C.W.

The United Church Women of College Hill United Church held a general meeting in the church, with the president, Mrs. C. Bailey, in charge. She welcomed the members and everyone for the success of the turkey supper and for the call-ing at a recent wedding.

During the business, Mrs. E. Hilts reported that the living room drapes had been installed in the manse, and plans were made to purchase drapes for the bedroom windows and also more furniture. It was decided to enter the Canadian UCW meeting on June 8th was read by Mrs. K. Jackson, of the study and white basket for the "Overseas Clothing Appeal." Mrs. E. Hilts and Mrs. C. Read moved that proceeds of the turkey supper be given to the building fund. It was also decided to save nylons again this year to be sent to Korea. A Japer colony off the coast of China is said to be in need of old and mismatched shoes and collars.

The devotional was led by Mrs. W. McFlquesham with several members taking part and a solo was sung by Mrs. R. VanLantern with Mrs. Blakely at the piano.

The next general meeting is to be held on May 23 when the guest speaker will be the Rev. Duncan White, field secretary of old age homes.

Thirty refreshments were served by the evening unit of the group.

ALTHOUGH your child may not be doing very well in all his school work, there are undoubtedly some areas worth praising. It's essential that praise always should be balanced by occasional compliments. Often a word from the president, Church Grey, who in turn introduced those at the head table.

The president's message was, in part, "Today we are here to celebrate the coming of an important milestone along life's busy highway. Back in January, this particular milestone seemed a long way off for many of us. For some of us the landscape seems less than for others. The final result is a tremendous gain for all of us.

"It is quite obvious that there was a sincere desire in each and every one of us who took the Dale Carnegie course. A desire for self-improvement, a desire to overcome self-consciousness, for various other individual reasons — we enrolled for the course.

"We have found sincere friendship with each another, we have a desire to help each other. The accomplishments have been beyond expectation.

"The instructors and graduate assistants have been unanimously admirable. I have never witnessed greater dedication. They have persevered with us; they have inspired us with their enthusiasm; they have instilled in these men, of whom Mr. Carnegie would be justly proud.

"In closing I want to put forth in our different ways of life, with our new-found self-confidence, with our better understanding of our fellow man. By living the rules taught by the Dale Carnegie Course, we cannot fail."

Instructor Stan Heather made suitable presentations to the four graduate assistants in appreciation of their help. These were Harry Hutt, Ed Virgin, Ken Hartman and Al Loney. The instructors were paid tribute by Harry Hutt, proposed the toast to the graduating class, instructor Stan Heather informed the members on how to start an Alumni Association in the fall.

He was introduced by Margaret and Sammy Cyril Ball.

Instructors Stan Hebbner and Earl Smith made the presentations to the following graduates: Enid and Mac Bellamy, Belleville; Dan Moore, RCAF Station, Trenton; D.O. Reynolds, Picton; Patricia Merrill, Stirling; Helen Mercier, Belleville; Alec Johnston, Bellevills; Gerry Ball, Picton; Ronald Hanes, Plevna; Joe and Dorothy Black, Belleville; Dan Wilson, Stirling; David Owen, Demorestville; Jerry and Peggy Cochrane, Belleville; Bill and Eileen Scring, Belleville; Ivy Pettit, Belleville; Eleanor Welsh, Belleville; Margaret Hott, Belleville; Archie Frost, Trenton; Eleanor Lounds, Bancroft; Bruce Clarke, Belleville; Clarence Gray, Belleville; Ben Parks, R. 2, Bloomfield; Audrie Moorman, Belleville; Ken Pickett, Belleville; Mac Crawford, Picton; Elmer Hare, Belleville; Hank Gerlich, Belleville.

Class books were given out by Mrs. Stan Heather with a few well-chosen remarks. Mrs. Heather has been secretary for years to come.

A sing-song and ten manouse dance presided over by Pat Merrill, entertainment chairman, and Gordon Hall enjoyed the remainder of the evening.

Numerous prizes were given for spot dances, helping to make the occasion one to remember.

U.C.W. Plan Coming Activities

JOHNSTOWN—The U.C.W. meeting of Johnstown was held on May 2nd at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alva Meyers. Mrs. Kerl Stickle, the president, opened the meeting with the devotional period.

Mrs. Clayton Curtis and Mrs. Alva Meyers were in charge of the devotional period, the theme being, "What is the task of the Church?"

During the business session, it was noted that Mrs. Ernest Bush, Mrs. Fred Meyers, Mrs. Clayton Curtis and Mrs. Kerl Stickle meet and make out the lists for the "Spring Tea" and this is to be held by Johnstown U.C.W. on the evening of May 23rd at 7.30 p.m. at Glen Miller Hall.

Mrs. Glenn Stickle and Mrs. Fred Stickle are in charge of the church for the month of May. At the June meeting Mrs. Fred Meyers will have the devotion period.

It was arranged that a strawberry social will be held at the Acme Community Hall in late June. The sandwiches, cake, strawberries and ice cream will be put on the tables so everyone can help themselves to as much as they please.

A thank-you card was received from Mr. C. B. Bonisteel and also from Mrs. Everett Clapp for plant received and cards while in hospital.

An invitation from the Presbyterian Ladies of Trenton was received to attend their "Lilac Tea" on May 25.

The program committee took over the meeting, (Mrs. Harder and Mrs. Arnold Harry). Mrs. Harder read a chapter from the Study Book on "Family Life." Mrs. Harry read a story called, "Jeanie".

After the meeting closed, lunch and a social hair hour followed.

31 Dale Carnegie Graduates Honored by Gala Banquet

On the evening of May 5th, the Knights of Columbus Hall was the scene of a gala banquet and dance for 31 Dale Carnegie graduates and their friends.

Following the dinner, Audrene Bloomfield introduced the guest president, Church Grey, who in turn introduced those at the head table.

The president's message was, in part, "Today we are here to celebrate the coming of an important milestone along life's busy highway. Back in January, this particular milestone seemed a long way off for many of us. For some of us the landscape seems less than for others. The final result is a tremendous gain for all of us.

Friendship Guild Holds Meeting

GILEAD—The Gilead Friendship Guild held the regular monthly meeting on Friday night with 50 in attendance.

The president, Ben Clute, opened with a call to worship. The hymn, "Let Me Carry Home" by J. B. Creegan for the gift of chairs. The next meeting is to be held on May 25th with Mrs. George and Elsie Clare.

Mrs. Harold Bowen had charge of the following program: —"The Easter Parade" by the Junior choir under the direction by Janice Dawson; a solo by Janet Hoar, "Here Comes Peter Cottontail"; solo by George Clare, "Somewhere the Sun is Shining"; a reading by Mrs. Harold Bowen; song, "The Hat," by the junior choir with Harry Hoffman taking the solo part; flute music by Wayne Dawson; Harry Hoffman gave a reading on his electric guitar and musical program.

Mrs. Gerald Sisco conducted a contest.

Lunch was served which was in keeping with Eastertime.

Large Number Honor Couple At Presentation

STIRLING — Last Saturday evening a large number of relatives and friends gathered in the I.O.O.F. Hall, Victoria Street, Stirling, in honor of the newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Hoskin (nee Shirley Ann Fullerton).

The group included Helen's neighbors and friends, residents in the Williams School section, Larry's former relatives and friends from Roseire, and the patrons of Central Cheese Factory, where Larry is employed.

Mrs. Ralph Hall was chairman and spoke briefly. Mrs. Thomas Sarles led the singing and Mrs. Carleton Pettit was pianist for the evening. Mr. Orrin Sharp showed several reels of pictures while on his recent tour of England, Scotland, France and Europe. Miss Sally McAdam favored with a lovely number and Mr. Kalvin Sharp and Miss Joan Sharpe contributed a humorous vocal duet.

Larry and Helen were given reels of home movie presentations of dollar bills were made. Mrs. Ralph Hall read an address on behalf of Helen's neighbors and friends and Lorraine Short on behalf of Larry's friends. Ralph Hoard read an appropriate address on behalf of Williams School section S.S. No. 4 at Mount Pleasant and Jim Johnston made the presentation.

Lindsay McKeown, president of the Central Cheese Factory spoke on behalf of the patrons of the cheese company where Larry is employed and made the presentation. The honored couple responded with appreciation for the generous gifts.

Brief addresses were given by Messrs. George Carlisle and Ralph Hall, each extending best wishes for happiness.

Refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed.

ATLAS ABSOLVED

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. Camera's and radio data recovered Wednesday that the cause of the explosion that wrecked the maiden flight of the high-energy Centaur space rocket Tuesday was certain. Operations can proceed as planned Thursday. Unaffected by Scott Carpenter's orbital flight, set for May 17.

SPEAKING of MANNERS

PATRICIA LEWIS

KIND THOUGHTS FOR A RAINY DAY

When you get caught in a sudden downpour, let good manners be part of your foul weather gear.

Don't let your hair, laundry don't be a sin.

Unfortunately, courtesy often goes out the window when the thundercloud puts in an appearance. Everyone is not polite enough to get drenched in a rainstorm without sprouting an umbrella, a raincoat and rubbers.

Yet, this is exactly what so many of us do without thinking just in the way we try to shake the effects of a fortnight storm.

To avoid putting a dampener on others, here are a few thoughts to tuck away for a rainy day.

Be careful how you shake water off your coat and hat when you get inside. Often, the impulse is to shake like a poodle and let the drops fall where they may. It's better manners to check first and make sure no one is within spattering range before trying to dry out.

If you're entering a crowded elevator, it's a polite gesture to remove a sopping topcoat or shawl drenching others who are still dry. It's also courteous to shake off a wet umbrella so you won't drip on others as you take a seat.

In an office, park your wet coat and umbrella someplace else than a desk. Give a thought to the Johnny-come-later who might sit down dry and get caught in the backwash. An office receptionist will gladly direct any dripping visitor to a coat rack and umbrella stand which are much safer repositories.

Naturally, you can't remove your coat on the bus or streetcar but in either case you'll most likely be rubbing shoulders with fellow passengers who are just as damp-anxiety.

An umbrella is the pitfall here, and precautions should be taken to keep it from dripping on others. If you're seated, hold it point down and close to the seat so it won't slop against legs of standees. If you're standing, try to keep it close to your side so it won't slash at the faces of seated passengers or interfere with movement in the aisles.

Usually, the driver doesn't have to remove his hat when he enters a public vehicle, but when it's raining it pays to be double downpour polite, if only to let the water run off the brim. This extra little act of politeness can prevent your trickling water down the neck of a neighboring sardine when you tip your head.

Even if you're snug and dry inside a car, you can still practice courtesy that will help others to master pedestrians to weather a storm. Drive slowly, of course, and be especially careful going through puddles to avoid splashing people waiting at intersections.

If good manners such as this that gives any cloud at least some glimmer of a silver lining.

Bethel-Zion W.I. Names 1962-3 Officers

HALLOWAY — The recent meeting of Bethel - Zion Women's Institute was held at the church hall with a fair attendance.

The president, Mrs. Roy Sills, presided and opened the meeting with the W.I. ...bridge party Marianne was having.

Her friends praised them exceedingly, I remembered them when my sister asked for an idea for food, for a post-convention executive committee meeting. For twelve in her home on a Saturday morning. I jumped at the chance to try these rolls again. She wisconsin. When the little party was over she telephoned to say they raved over them.

Since the rolls were worthy of repetition, the recipe is too. But this time I doubled it to serve 12 or 14.

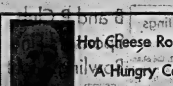
½ cup butter or margarine, 6 tablespoons flour, 2 tablespoons sugar, 4 teaspoons salt, 2 cups milk, 1 cup water, 2-oz. jar cheese whiz (pasteurized process cheese spread), ½ cup well-packed grated old Cheddar cheese, ½ cup lukewarm water, 1 teaspoon sugar, 1 package granular yeast, 7½ cups sifted all-purpose flour, plus additional ½ cup flour for rolling out (see below).



In a heavy large saucepan mix together over low heat until blended the butter or margarine, flour, sugar and salt, then stir in the milk and 1 cup water until thick then add the cheese whiz and grated cheese and stir to blend and allow to cool to lukewarm. Add the 1 teaspoon of sugar to the ½ cup lukewarm water and sprinkle the yeast over and let stand 10 minutes. Stir yeast liquid into lukewarm cheese mixture and stir in all of the sifted flour. Sprinkle board with ½ cup flour. Turn dough out on it and knead 25 to 30 times. Scrape down bowl, press dough into rounded mound, put in bowl, cover with wax paper, then a plate and store in refrigerator or cold place overnight. (Dough may be allowed to rise at room temperature if you wish, but rolls the same day.) About 4 hours before serving time remove dough from refrigerator and let rise, until doubled. Punch down and turn out on floured board and knead steadily for 2 minutes. Shape into oval and cut into 4 uniform quarters. Press and roll one quarter into a rectangle about 7" in diameter and about 14" long. Cut into 12 equal squares. Put cheese whiz in bowl. Flatten the 12 pieces into rounds ¼" thick. On each put ½ teaspoon butter and 1 teaspoon raspberry jam. Roll up. Dip half of each end and press edges to seal them. Line them up in 3 rows of 4 each on a buttered cookie sheet and let rise until doubled. With the next quarter of dough make Apricot Swirls: Shape your dough into a roll, cut into 12 even pieces as above but roll these under your palms on well-floured board into 8" rolls about ½" in diameter and 10" long. Coil them neatly into buttered muffin tins. On top of each drop ½ teaspoon apricot jam (or marmalade) and let rise until doubled. Poppy Seed Rolls: Shape next quarter of dough into 12 coils as above. Coil four coils together in 12 even places and shape into balls. Dip top into undercoating white then in poppy seeds (in shaker layer on a saucer). Place seed side up on greased baking sheet. Allow to rise until doubled. Sesame Seed Rolls: Same as poppy seed rolls but dip tops of rolls in egg white then in sesame seeds and continue as above. Serve hot with unsalted butter. Sensational.

NOTE:

These rolls may be frozen in aluminum wrapping after they have risen and before they are baked. Defrost half hour and bake as above.

Women's Institutes

UNIONDALE W.I.

The May meeting of Union-Women's Institute (Hastings-West) was held at the home of Mrs. Bert Bush, 4th Concession of Sidney with 23 members and five visitors were present.

As this was the first meeting for the new officers and the visit of the district president, Mrs. Percy MacMillan, the meeting proved most interesting. She explained the many functions of the Women's Institute organization and its many benefits. She stated that the growth of the Women's Institute organization and its many benefits. She stated that the growth of the Women's Institute is astonishing and that there are 1472 W.I. branches throughout the world, in places such as India, Australia, Ireland and many others. The River Valley Branch exchanges papers and gifts with a W.I. branch in England.

The reports of the conveners were given as follows: agriculture and Canadian industries — Mrs. A. Donald; historical research — Mrs. Ralph Sills; citizenship, education — Mrs. Dayle Cranston; recreation — Mrs. H. Robson; home economics — health — Mrs. G. Tuxmore; reference news — Mrs. Percy Ray; public relations — Mrs. Lorimer Ketcheson.

The topic, "A wedding takes a Lifetime" was given by Mrs. M. Emerson and was most interesting.

The Club Girl's, under the leadership of Mrs. Wellman and Mrs. Tufts put on a skit, "Bedroom Accessories", and had on display a made-up bed with matching drapes. The girls also displayed cushion and dresser scarves which they had made.

At the close, Mrs. Tufts and Mrs. Sills presented each girl in the club with an award.

Lunch was served by the girls.

ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER

'Lines on Life'

By Dr. Dinnet E. Rosenberg

Many [illegible] sto-ries of Julius Caesar envied Alexander, and for all we know, Alexander envied Hercules whom he never existed. Instead of depriving these men from what they had. They were valued by what others had. Men achieve greatness, too often, because they want to be greater than someone whose position they envy. But for all their greatness are they really happy?

Envy is closely connected with the drive to compete. Rogers are driven into mental frenzies, not by the sight of millionaires, but when they see more successful beggars. An artist dreams of resplendent, unblemished beauty. But listen to him destroy the reputation of his fellow artists.

Fyalus is writer in the presence of a colleague, a preacher before a fellow-preacher, a scientist in the face of a fellow worker—a breeding of jealousy are likely to result.

Competition, it turns out, is a double-edged sword. Listless, lazy students need to be prodded into action to find themselves. They never rise on their ground, if not challenged by someone else to soar above their threshold, some incentive.

Often, however, long after we've discovered ourselves, we go too far afield in response to the challenge and thereby lose our real identity. When we look at best — look at ourselves and our real needs.

For we are so preoccupied measuring our lives by someone else's yardstick, that we are permanently overshadowed by what we think we're missing by "contrast" by what we've already got.

It is doubtful, however, if Napoleon envied the musicians of his court or if Caesar was jealous of the sculptors and architects of Rome. They were not expected to be "competent" with such as these; they were statesmen, not artists.

They know who they were and could not be challenged or goaded into blind jealousy by not being someone else. And yet, always our minds play tricks on us: we forget that we cannot be someone else.

Napoleon would still like to be Caesar, Caesar desires to be Alexander, and Alexander dreams of Hercules — and Hercules never existed.

Here is the real moral of the story, of life. If we want to be competent we had better forget about striving to be as those who do not even exist. Glass, a teacher once explained, has three principal uses: It can be made into a telescope, to help us see what is remote; or microscopes — to help us examine what is close at hand. It can also be silvered, as a mirror — to let us look at ourselves.

Telescopes are deceiving — we only see what is far away, but do not really come close to it. Microscopes are confusing— we sometimes look too closely at what is really trivial and petty.

We need more mirrors — to see ourselves, to know who we are and what we possess. Perhaps, then, instead of wanting to be somebody else, we'll learn to be happy working at becoming ourselves.

Here is the real challenge: to measure our qualities in relation to others — and not vice - versa. First comes the mirror — without it no tele, scope or microscope.

All of which serves as commentary to the quaint but incisive story of a man named Zusya. Before his death he wept. "In the coming world God will not ask me: 'Why were you not as Moses?' because I am not Moses.

God will not ask me: 'Why were you not as Isaiah?' because I am not Isaiah. "But God will ask me: 'Why were you not Zusya?' And what shall I answer?"

KUM DOUBLE CLUB

HALLOWAY — Members of the Halloway Kum Double Club met in the Orange Hall on Wednesday evening and enjoyed a humorous supper prepared by the ladies on the losing side of the battle for the membership drive. There was only by a small margin, with a total amount of money realized from the two sides for the month, Lorna Hough expressed appreciation.

A short devotional period followed with instrument Jacklyn and Gene Kelly in charge. Mrs. Ed Emerson gave the meditation. The Bible was taken from Luke 24: 13-32.

The business was conducted by the president, Pat Robson and minutes were read by Ruth Rolls. Thirty members answered the roll call and there were two visitors. The treasurer's report showed a nice sum on hand. A committee consisting of John and Pat Robson, Earl and Bea Snider were appointed to see about purchasing a stove for basement kitchen. The progressive supper in May 9th was mentioned and the committee in charge is Verna Townsend, June Donaldson and Lorna Hough.

The "flowler" was read by Ruth Rolls. Members were reminded to pay their pencils, and Mrs. Arthur Hall of Plainfield, Hall showed pictures he had taken of places and scenes near and far and which were most appreciated by those present.

Norman Townsend on behalf of the group thanked Mr. Hall for the interesting pictures, to-ward the evening's entertainment.

U. C. MESSENGERS

WELLINGTON — The Messengers of Wellington - United Church held the closing meeting for the season last Friday evening, with 17 members and their mothers and a few visitors met in the centennial parlors.

The room was tastily decorated and a bread array of handiwork was displayed, which the children proudly explained.

The meeting was called to order by Sharon Morco who repeated the "Members Purpose". She also welcomed the mothers and visitors.

The program then followed during which time Sharon Morco read a poem, "May Is Here". Nancy Morris, Jane DeVries and Sally Russell explained the different symbols of the church which they took to with the Rev. Truax at an earlier meeting. Roger Struthers and Ricky Marcoux explained the "Mobiles" telling the different things done when one goes to church.

The model of a village was described by several boys and girls. This consisted of houses, garages, store and a road, and two churches were the outstanding building in the village. Judy Dettingill sang "Two Little Hands to Work for Jesus". Jane Marcoux and Bryce Crook told about the pictures in the mural. Margaret Adams gave a synopsis of the Study Book "Timmy's Team". She had played and sang, "This Old Man" and the rhythm was played on bones they had made themselves. Nancy Hall read a poem "Mother's Day".

A short worship conducted by Mrs. Truax followed and several boys and girls gave verses of Scripture which was the theme of the worship during the winter.

The offering was received and was dedicated by all singing "Father Bless the Gifts We Bring Thee," after which the children joined hands and all repeated the "Mizpah Benediction".

Lunch was served by the leaders and children and each mother received a little gift from the children.

It was noted that leaders went to thank the mothers for their fine co-operation during the winter and for the interest shown by coming to the final meeting.

Successful Living

Wants to Keep Hubby Home

DEAR DORIS:—I was married last year. We about 14 months now I've been studying nights for a high school diploma. I have found it a long hard grind.

Recently I became interested in selling insurance, but my wife seems to think that if I were to work for an insurance company, I would run around. Whatever gave her that idea I'll never know. After some discussion we finally got about insurance.

Two weeks ago I went to the Nation- DORIS CLARKE al Employment Office and had a chat with the manager. I explained that I wish to better myself and he had only one good solution: He told me that the Government had openings in trade schools in another city. I would receive $7.00 a day for each day that I attended school. The course I found interesting would take ten months.

Being happy about the opportunity at no cost to me, I told my wife that since the insurance job would not suit her, I'd go to school. She in turn told me that I'd have a ball running loose there and her alone here. What can I do to better myself and please her too?—BAFFLED.

* * *

DEAR BAFFLED—If wifey thinks she is going to prevent you from running around by keeping you in a glass case, she's wrong. Anybody who works as hard as you have for an education deserves all kinds of encouragement; not suspicion.

You wouldn't have married at all if you wanted to run loose. Yet you do want your wife's thorough understanding. Is it possible that she could go with you to where you would be taking a course and stay there during your period of learning?

She may be afraid of being lonely. But she will have to grow up and share your load if your future together is to be prosperous and happy. She does not want a frustrated husband, little as she realizes this right now.

* * *

DEAR DORIS:—I am very interested in becoming a stewardess after I am through school. Could you please give me the address of someone whom I could write to where I could get some information on qualifications, etc?—STUDENT.

* * *

DEAR STUDENT:—The place to obtain information is the T.C.A. Personnel Department, 663 Yonge Street, Toronto, Ontario.

I have already been in touch with their office and they will be sending you some preliminary information about this interesting vocation.

* * *

TO BARBARA:—You can have a correspondent who lives in another country and who speaks English. The thing to do is write to Mrs. R. Tanner, Overseas Correspondence Department, United Nations Association in Canada, Markham, Ontario.

I was not able to send a personal reply as you did not enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

* * *

DEAR DORIS:—I have been going out with a girl for about two years and am very fond of her. I think she feels the same way about me.

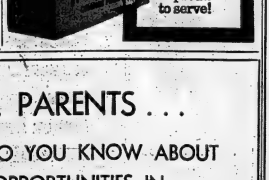
However, I am rather shy. When we come home from a date I just stutter and stammer and cannot even get up enough courage to kiss her goodnight. I want to but just can't. What is wrong or what's the approach?—POOR TIMID.

* * *

DEAR POOR TIMID:—Have you tried holding her hand? Do you ever put your arm around her? Add she doesn't bristle? If so, bend.

After two years, a little affection is overdue. Stop stammering before she stops standing for it.

* * *



CONFIDENTIAL TO MOTHER OF THE BRIDE:—The bride who has been married before does not wear a wedding veil nor a white gown. She chooses a costume in keeping with the time of day and the formality of the occasion. She wears a shoulder bouquet or carries a small bouquet of other-than-white flowers.

Her head covering may be the "wedding ring" her you mention. Or a flower arrangement.

It would be quite nice to have her young son take part, perhaps as a ring bearer. No, the father does not give her away.

* * *

UCW Meetings

SHANNONVILLE U.C.W.

On Thursday, May 3, the Shannonville UCW held a pot-luck dinner and quilting in the church hall with a good attendance.

At 2.30 Mrs. Asa Cook, president, opened the meeting with the singing of "O Love That Will Not Let Me Go," followed by prayer.

Mrs. Malcolm Little, leader for the community friendship and visiting committee, took charge of the worship service on the theme, "Our Church In Our Community." She said, in part: "Our churches are not set on little holy islands, but in a community. We are part of that community and we must learn to know it, and to understand it and to love it."

Mrs. J. Kick read the Scripture lesson, taken from Matthew 5. Mrs. F. Dorland led in prayer for the community, its leaders, teachers, doctors, clergymen, parents and children, and that the community may become a better place in which to live.

The business was conducted by Mrs. Cook.

Mrs. D. Thompson, on behalf of the choir, thanked the ladies for the new hymn books. She also asked the ladies if they would give their favorite recipe to one of the choir members by a recipe book they are compiling.

Mrs. Vivian read acknowledgements of appreciation from those who had been remembered in the month.

An invitation was received from the Canadian UCW in their spring tea on the evening of June 4.

A brief discussion followed regarding the annual strawberry supper in June, the date was set for June 20, and final plans were made for the spring tea.

Mrs. D. Hinchey reminded all, if they wished the "Observer" to contact her or Thomas Hinchey.

The next regular meeting will be held June in the evening at the church hall.

Quebec Tourist Bureau Plans Camp Sites 100 Miles Apart Along All Highways

By JULES LEDUC

QUEBEC (CP)—Take a half-dozen rolls of roadside campsite and a hill with a view of the surrounding forest. Provide facilities, let gasoline and food vendors and traders and build a dock for pleasure boats on a nearby lake.

Put in an information booth and tourists, a look-out, or summer house, and another booth offering packaged handicrafts for sale, and Then, within the next 100 miles apart along all Quebec highways.

Five of the sites already have been purchased and are to be opened to the public this year.

Also planned are twice as many picnic grounds—smaller than campsites—spaced 50 miles apart on the province's highways. These, too, will have an individual touch—a lookout with a view or a fireplace in addition to the usual picnic tables.

STARTED ON $225,000

The Provincial Tourist Bureau, with Robert Prevost as director, was established by an act of the legislature April 1, 1961. It was given $225,000 last year to cover purchase and clearing of campsites.

The first five are along the Trans-Canada Highway between Montreal and the eastern tip of the Gaspe Peninsula.

Mr. Prevost said the location of at least 10 more campsites and picnic grounds will be announced within a few weeks.

He singled out Mont Louis campsite as an example of the individual attractions each of the roadside spots will offer.

A site was chosen first west of the village, 300 miles northeast of Quebec City on the south shore of the St. Lawrence.

THREE DOCKS

Three docks provide access for pleasure craft to the bay, to the river. A nearby road leads to Mont Jacques-Cartier, where Mr. Prevost said is the highest peak in Eastern Canada and one of the few places caribou can be seen outside captivity.

Mont Louis itself is a fishing village where tourists may charter boats for deep-sea fishing.

Each of the other locations offers similar natural advantages and most are surrounded by a number of historic sites, Mr. Prevost said.

While the primary aim is to attract tourists from outside Quebec, the director felt the campsites would also get more Quebecers to tour their own province during summer, something many had hesitated to do when they were compelled to live in hotels and eat in restaurants.

Madoc Junction

MADOC JUNCTION — Mrs. Maurice Clancy and Mrs. Norman Fitchett attended the May meeting of the West Huntingdon United Church Women, held at the home of Mrs. Howard Cooke last Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Clancy assisted on the program by giving a thoughtful prayer, prepared on "Faith."

Mr. Ripley Holdenfield called at several of the homes in this community on Thursday.

Mr. Maurice Clancy, W.M., and Mr. Clarence Fitchett, were among those from Stirling Lodge A.F. and A.M. No. 69 G.R.C. who attended the reception given in honor of Rt. Wor. Bro. H. G. Bates D.D.G.M. when he paid his official visit to Belleville Lodge A.F. and A.M. No. 123 G.R.C. at the Masonic Temple in Belleville on Thursday night.

Mrs. Warren Harlow and Mrs. Carl Bridges visited Mrs. George Dyson, of Thomasburg, on Friday afternoon.

Glad to report that Mrs. Charles White was able to return home from Belleville Hospital on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mr. Clarence Fitchett attended the funeral of their cousin, Mrs. Ralph Irvine, of Tweed, on Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Stapley and Lin spent last Sunday in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Murray of Wellman, Ontario, visited Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Fitchett, on Monday.

GENEREUX AND WIFE — Dr. George Genereux, Olympic gold medallist, will not compete for the Canadian trapshooting championships this year. He is studying at the University of Minnesota in Minneapolis. The 27-year-old Saskatoon doctor has married the former Lee Ockenfold of Kindersley, Sask. Miss Saskatchewan Boughrider of 1960. (CP Photo).

Champion Trapshooter Will Not Compete This Season But Will Shoot in U.S.

By PETER FRASER
Canadian Press Correspondent

MINNEAPOLIS (CP) — Dr. George Genereux, a Canadian who has been respected by the best trapshooters in North America, will not be among the competitors in the Canadian championships this year.

Instead the sharpshooter and Olympic gold medalist plans to compete in the United States.

The 27-year-old doctor from Saskatoon said in an interview that it may be 1965 before he again enters the Canadian competition. He started a three-year specialist course in radiology last January at the University of Minnesota Hospital.

He explained it would be difficult to take time off from studies to defend his Canadian titles. The 1962 Canadian Trapshooting Association's finals will be held in Edmonton July 6-8.

However, Genereux said, he intends to enter the Minnesota State Shoot at Blooming Prairie July 12-13. Jimmy Robinson of Minneapolis, noted trapshooting and outdoors writer, has described Genereux as one of the leading contenders for the state title.

Jumping to Conclusions, Do You Agree With Them?

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions—and how many do you agree with?):

The idea of courting and phantoms thing about war is that it tends to make the individual feel more important. He does is peace. He is swept by a thrilling feeling of mutual effort and excellent unity.

The greatest trouble with peace is that it doesn't give we eagles inside the average man. It doesn't stir him, as war does, to a realization that the welfare of the group he belongs to is high dependent on the quality of his own individual performance.

A caged lion in time becomes grateful for the bars that fence him in. After all, they protect him from the wildness of tame people.

When surrounded by beauty, we tend to become chilled by it—as with a surfeit of any kind. How often does a dairy farmer pause to admire a sunrise?

A bank teller, who spends his life counting out money to other people, has to become one of two things: a philosopher—or a thief.

On the night of the big spring prom, a high school girl would rather have appendicitis than a pimple on her nose.

HOPELESS EGOIST

You can tell when a man has had one too many at a cocktail party. He says what he likes to women, by the way her hair becomes untidy.

Life is getting harder for politicians. They no longer even can safely praise motherhood—for fear an opponent will spread the rumor they are advocating over-population.

Most famous actors and actresses are a disappointment in person unless they continue acting. They are bad conversing in the role of themselves. Any author who says he welcomes honest criticism is either a hypocrite or a liar—or both. All authors want pride laid on with a shovel, not a trowel.

If singers are in a woman, it is a social gathering event. "Oh, I don't do anything—I'm just a housewife," Mo says, as the craftsman who isn't proud of his trade.

If I had to live a second life on earth, I cast think of any fate happier than being born a bird dog in a field full of quail.

TWEED

Lumber Co. Employees Hear Safety Talk

TWEED — Employees and office staff of the Dawson Gold Lumber Company, Tweed, attended a safety meeting held on Wednesday night at the Municipal Building.

Mr. John Twigg of Kingston, local field representative of the Industrial Accidents Prevention Association was the guest speaker and outlined in detail the company's accident record and the general picture of accident prevention in similar plants throughout Ontario.

Two films from the Accident Association film library were shown, one of which depicted scenes of employees being hurt, some fatally, in woodworking shops.

Coffee and sandwiches were provided by the Sawyer Skill Company.

Mr. M. S. Ormsbee, the general plant manager, was in attendance, while arrangements for the evening were in charge of plant superintendent Stewart Lessard.

Encouraging Secondary Forest Industries Urged In Policy Adopted by C of C

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP) Encouragement of secondary forest industries is urged in a policy statement adopted by the Ontario Chamber of Commerce.

Backed strongly by northern local chambers, the statement asks the provincial government to take steps to encourage them to make timber available to secondary forest industries on a long-term contract basis.

The industries envisaged include production of timber, railway ties, poles, bridge and drainage timber and marketable products. The statement said such industry constantly faces problems in financing, production and marketing due to uncertain long - term sources of supply of raw material of the forest.

The resolution has been referred to committee for referral back to the sponsoring Fort William chamber for more detail. The committee commended the contents for the type of industry proposed were shorter than for the pulp and paper industry, and added, "secondary industries of this kind require a different kind of wood. Forestry experts maintain that there is a shortage of this kind of timber in the area to which the declaration refers. The government position is that it cannot grant long-term licences if the timber of this kind required is not available."

NEEDS ACCESS ROADS

There is also the problem that the timber available in certain areas presents a formidable problem that would require government expenditure on access roads. How much this is a prerequisite problem is an uncertain issue.

They stated that most of the industries suggested wouldn't require roads and, if they did, new activity created, would more than pay for them.

T. H. Ainley of Kitchener, chairman of the committee that had handled the resolution, said it didn't have the information now presented by Fort William and he would not oppose the statement but he thought the committee's analysis represented the government's viewpoint.

SHORTEN STATEMENT

A long statement from last year's policy on teaching the history of totalitarianism was shortened, on committee recommendation, to one reading:

"The chamber will continue to promote understanding amongst people of all ages and occupations of the privileges and responsibilities of free men and endorses and advocates great emphasis on education on responsible citizenship education."

The original suggested statement would have added the words "through comparison between conflicting ideologies."

The words were dropped after the Toronto board suggested they would bring political issues into the schools and Windsor said teachers of great experience and knowledge would be required to implement them.

Stella Church Well Filled For Ordination

AMHERST ISLAND — St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Stella, was filled to capacity recently when Chrysler Alexander (Sandy) Dunn, B.A., B.D., was ordained to the Holy Ministry by the Presbytery of Kingston. The Moderator of Presbytery, Rev. M. C. Young of Gananoque, conducted the service of worship and the service of ordination, in which with the hideens laying on of hands by the ministers of the Presbytery Mr. Dunn was set apart to the office of the ministry.

The sermon was given by the Rev. Norman Hutchison of St. Columba Church, Belleville, on the theme, "The Man of God." The Rev. Stanley Self of Strathcona Park Church, Kingston, read the Scripture and led in prayer. The address to the newly-ordained minister was given by his father, Wing-Commander Rev. James Dunn, who for a number of years was a Protestant chaplain at the RCAF Station at Trenton. The address to the congregation was given by the Rev. D. C. Semble of Picton.

Since Mr. Dunn has been ordained as ordained missionary to the pastoral charge of Amherst Island and Amherstview, the Presbytery formally recognized the appointment and established the pastoral relationship with a service of recognition conducted by the clerk of Presbytery, Rev. A. L. Sinclair of Madoc. The newly ordained minister announced the benefiction.

RECEPTION HELD

Following the service a social hour and reception was held in the village hall. Greetings and good wishes were expressed by three fellow members of Mr. Dunn's graduating class, A. J. Heron, W. H. McIlveen and William Pearce, Mr. Bruce Caughey of Stella welcomed Mr. and Mrs. Dunn to the charge of Amherst Island and Amherstview and presented them with a gift on behalf of the congregation.

Mr. Dunn graduated from Queen's University with a B.A. in 1959. On May 1st last he graduated from Knox College, Toronto, with the diploma of the College and the degree of Bachelor of Divinity. At the same Convocation his brother was honored with the Degree of Divinity, (honoris causa).

Mr. Dunn is the first settled minister of Amherst Island Presbyterian Church in many years. He will be particularly busy occasion for the people here.

COLUMNIST DIES

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP)—Joe Haas, 85, Pontiac Press columnist and known as Michigan's oldest active newspaper man, died Wednesday. He joined the Press in 1944 after sale of his own weekly, and wrote a daily column called Man About Town.

Enthusiastic Reception Given P.M. on Short Visit to Trenton

TRENTON — "He came. He saw. He conquered".

There just isn't any other way to put it.

The flying visit of the Rt. Hon. John G. Diefenbaker to Trenton, Wednesday, didn't last later any Tory votes - and probably won over a few Grits.

Mr. Diefenbaker was charmed and, from the time he stepped off the plane (which was built an hour late) at RCAF Station, Trenton, until he waved his last to the large crowd assembling at the CNR station, north of the town, Trentonians liked the route of the cavalcade from the air station and the Progressive Conservative leader to the railway station. At one point, the crowd broke into a spontaneous cheer for Prime Minister and Mrs. Diefenbaker.

Mr. and Mrs. Diefenbaker mingled with the spectators while they waited for the train (which was to take them on to Kingston and Brockville), to be loaded with baggage. Hands of young and old were shaken in a sincere manner. "How are you?" Mr. Diefenbaker would ask, as if he really meant it.

"I couldn't agree with you more", was Mr. Diefenbaker's reply.

There was no formal address. The Prime Minister seemed to be bent on getting acquainted with the people of Trenton and official protocol was disregarded. On one occasion he admitted that "I'm a Scot", to another that "the party had an uphill fight in 1957".

Tub-thumping Timothy Leahon of Catherine Street in Trenton got the biggest cheer during from Mr. and Mrs. Diefenbaker. Tim rekindled, as he later, when the Prime Minister and his wife were about the train, bearing the Prime Minister and his wife moved slowly out of the station area, gathered speed and was gone.

The Prime Minister had come to Trenton.

Persons Living in Poorly Organized Areas Are More Likely to Have Mental Ills

TORONTO (CP)—Persons living in poorly organized communities are more likely to develop mental disorders whether they live in rural Canada, midtown Manhattan or changing West Africa, according to a research team at Cornell University, Ithaca, N.Y.

Papers presented Tuesday and Wednesday at the American Psychiatric Association annual meeting showed mental ill-ness more prevalent in the "disintegrated" communities of a Nigerian village and the Canadian Maritimes as well as in eastern Nigeria.

Dr. Barbara Kaplan of the Canadian-Nigerian surveys, presented by Cornell psychiatrists Alexander and Dorothea Leighton, compare closely with the results of the New York City study published by another Cornell team in the big year.

Mrs. Leighton's study in Canada—an unidentified county of 30,000 people living in small hamlets and one town of 3,000 produced evidence that about one-third of the population was significantly impaired by mental disorder.

MANY NEED HELP

"It appears that at least 30 per cent of the general population has definite need for psychiatric help, while a larger percentage would presumably be assisted by preventive or therapeutic measures," the report said.

Her husband's study, among villagers and town-dwellers of the Yoruba people around Ibadan in western Nigeria, showed 16 per cent of the population significantly impaired.

The New York report rated more than 23 per cent of the population as seriously impaired.

The researchers consider the most significant finding was that mental illness in social cohesion is directly relatid to mental illness.

INTERDEPENDENCE

They describe characteristics of a disintegrated community as including homes few and far between, social associations, inadequate transportation and communication facilities, hostility, poor maintenance of law and order, inadequate government services, poverty, cultural confusion and a drift to the cities.

In the Canadian study, where a sampling of 1,010 households was examined, emotional psychiatrically, the percentage of symptoms was double the percentage of men.

Cases of disorders are not what is usually thought of as "mental illness" but rather "neurotic" symptoms.

Dr. Leighton himself that the lower the social position and occupational status, the greater the risk of mental disorder.

FILE LOSS HEAVY

TORONTO (CP)—Toronto (CP) Fire of undetermined origin caused an estimated $750,000 damage Wednesday night to the Bonnamour Building on Dorchester Dec. Forges, Dept. Police said the three-storey brick building housed dress stores, a dance studio and various offices of a finance company and an insurance firm.

Primary Issue In Election Said Peace

WINNIPEG (CP) — Leslie Morris, leader of the Communist party in Canada, suggested Wednesday night that peace is the primary issue in the June 18 federal election.

Speaking to about 300 persons at a joint meeting for candidates of the Winnipeg North and Winnipeg Centre ridings, the Communist candidate for Winnipeg North candidate Bill Ross, provincial party leader.

Mr. Morris, 57, said peace is a symbol for all progressive Canadians in the world at this time.

WARNS OF FASCISM

"Let no one be under the illusion that democracy in the United States and Canada is so strong that it cannot fall under fascism from within," he said.

Canada needs a policy for peaceful co-existence in the world, a policy for national survival and a policy for economic survival."

Mr. Morris said Canada should "get out" of the Western military bloc and support the "liquidation of all military alliances, including NATO and the Warsaw Pact."

"The researchers consider the most significant finding was that mental illness in social cohesion is directly relatid to mental illness.

Youth Charged With Murder

HULL, Que. (CP) — Gilles Laurin, 22, of Hull, was charged with capital murder Wednesday night after a coroner's jury ruled he was "criminally responsible" in connection with the death of the 5 - year - old woman there May 1.

Theophile Roch of Mme Bernadette Rochon of Hull, was found at the rear of a shed on Eardley Road after the main street of this city across the Ottawa River from the capital.

Dr. Jean - Marie Rousset, a Montreal medico - legal expert, testified Wednesday night that the woman had not been raped as at first reported.

The doctor, who earlier performed an autopsy, said the woman had died of asphyxiation and had probably been strangled with her own clothing.

U.S. Approach on Berlin Shakes W. German Faith

By CARMAN CUMMING
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Both Washington and Bonn have moved quickly to heal their latest rift over Berlin policy, but damage has been done that will not be easily repaired.

During his controversy-packed visit to Berlin Monday and Tuesday, Chancellor Adenauer was quoted as saying that U.S. proposals on Berlin access routes were "impossible to accept" that he hadn't "the slightest hope" of results from U.S. - Soviet exploratory talks and that "I see no ground for continuing the talks".

In Bonn Wednesday, a government spokesman said undue emphasis had been given to certain of Adenauer's statements, adding that "basically, the chancellor has said hardly anything different from what the U.S. foreign minister, Dean Rusk, has said."

And in Washington later in the day the issue became thoroughly confused as President Kennedy stated flatly that the Communist government is part of the position that the talks should continue. Adenauer, he said, had made the statement that the talks should not continue.

BYPASSED ENVOY

Whatever the actual degree of unity or disunity, the latest hassle points up communications difficulties that have existed between Washington - Bonn relations for some weeks.

There has been friction in Washington between the government and German Ambassador Wilhelm Grewe, leading the U.S. government to take the unusual step of bypassing Grewe in its reports to Bonn on the Berlin talks.

Grewe, whose recall has been announced, was rumored to have been responsible for a leak in Bonn of American proposals for a 18-nation commission to govern access to Berlin. The West German government denied that Grewe was involved. There has also been confusion over German and American policies toward putting nuclear arms under NATO control.

Defence Minister Franz Josef Strauss was quoted as saying in Athens that West Germany's next week's NATO ministerial talks should propose a NATO nuclear force would have to be accepted or rejected by the alliance.

Later he explained that he had expressed himself improperly in English that he had no new proposals.

CONFERENCE RETAINED

The U.S. announced at Athens plans to put missile-firing Polaris submarines under the NATO command, while at the same time retaining operational control.

Despite the troubles, the attitude on both sides has been that the United States and West Germany have too many interests in common to permit a deep and lasting division.

The Kennedy administration has repeatedly stressed that it will accept no Berlin solution without West German approval, and Adenauer himself, his government spokesman noted, has expressed "great confidence in and gratitude to the Americans" for their Berlin policy.

NEEDS STRENGTH

LONDON (CP) — Colonial Secretary Maudling told West Indies leaders Wednesday that a strong federal government is the first essential of their plan to create an eight-island federation in the eastern Caribbean. Maudling was speaking at the opening of a constitutional conference with delegations led by Premier Errol Barrow of Barbados and the chief ministers of the seven governments of the Windward and Leeward Island group.

Premier Urges Doctors to Give Plan Fair Trial

REGINA (CP)—The Saskatchewan government will stand firm on implementation of its medical care insurance plan as long as Saskatchewan people want it, Premier Woodrow Lloyd said Wednesday night.

Speaking on a government-sponsored telecast, Mr. Lloyd urged people to be firm and make clear to their own doctors they wish the health plan to have a fair trial. He also urged doctors to give the plan a fair trial. The plan is scheduled to go into operation July 1.

Mr. Lloyd promised that "no one will have to leave the province because of government interference in doctor-patient relationship."

He added: "One more thing: I promise, that your government will not be stampeded by any lies we know that the people want a health insurance plan in this province, we can stand whatever pressure opponents of such a plan may be able to apply."

He termed "a new kind of medical law" the decision by legislation to provide emergency medical services only if they can't get practice outside the Medical Care Act.

"Do you diagnose yourself and decide what's an emergency? What about the patient relationship in such a case?" He asked.

Mr. Lloyd said the issue is "whether the people of Saskatchewan shall be governed by a democratically - elected legislature, responsible to the people or a small, highly - organized group."

He noted the president of the Saskatchewan College of Physicians and Surgeons had said there was a plebiscite favoring the plan would make no difference in their attitude.

Prime Minister Not Convinced Says Smallwood

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP) — Premier Smallwood Wednesday night criticized Prime Minister Diefenbaker's handling of a term on Canada's union in 1949 with Newfoundland.

In a speech at an election campaign meeting, attended by an estimated 1,500 persons, Mr. Smallwood said John Bassett, chairman and publisher of The Toronto Telegram and now a Progressive Conservative candidate in Toronto Spadina, had attempted to convince the Prime Minister to give Newfoundland a better deal when Term 29 of the Confederation agreements.

Both Mr. Bassett and Allister Grosart, "who organizes they elections," called on the party Mr. Diefenbaker that Newfoundland should get more money under the term, the premier said.

Mr. Smallwood said Michael Wardell of Fredericton, publisher of The Gleaner, had also met with the prime minister for two hours, but had failed to convince him.

Term 9 provided for a grant commission to recommend for eight years after Confederation what sum financially ailing Newfoundland might need to continue services at the standard reached at that time without heavier taxation than that in the other Atlantic provinces.

A federal royal commission appointed by the PC government which reviewed Term 29 had recommended that Newfoundland receive $6,000,000 annually as long as it was needed.

Mr. Smallwood said, but Mr. Diefenbaker had decided it should be paid only until 1962 when Canada's payments under the term would "end forever."

The payments were later extended until 1967. The premier did not mention this in his speech.

Hillary, Piccard Travelling World To Raise Money

TORONTO (CP) — The man who has climbed higher than anyone and the man who has gone deeper than anybody plus they have one problem in common—lack of money.

Sir Edmund Hillary, conqueror of Mount Everest, and Jacques Piccard, explorer of the deepest part of the Pacific Ocean, met Sunday for the first time. Both said they regret having much of their time raising money for expeditions.

They are travelling the world to collect funds to enable them to undertake their dangerous explorations.

Sir Edmund, a lean, rugged New Zealander, is visiting here a Chicago motorcycle firm which will sponsor his next expedition. He plans a return to the Everest area to set up stations to study the effects of hardy mountain people who are stated to live on his future expedition.

Students Take Off Clothes To Study 5 Nudist Camps

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — It was for science and he proved it. Dr. Ilfeld studied students at Yale took off their clothes and went to five nudist camps.

And the two students who did the investigation say they gathered a lot more information than the professor Calhoun in the free-thinking era of naturally, completely unclothed.

Applying recognized anthropological methods to their clothing study, they went to the nudist camps, stayed for days and, using participant observation, tried to find out why people join, and the background of the movement.

Ilfeld said Dr. Sadowski and I, one of the students, said in practice, every nudist won't reveal their identities to each other. They prefer to use only first names or pseudonyms.

NO SMOKING

Another interesting finding, Ilfeld said, is that nudists have an almost puritanical fear of sexual activity in the camps.

"One of the unwritten rules of nudism," he said, "is that no one ever touches anyone else, except to shake hands. And liquor is also found universally banned from camps."

But Ilfeld said the research indicates "there is some sexual basis for nudism. The 'look-but-don't-touch' idea shows there is something more to it than just comfort . . ."

Nudism seems to be a family affair, he findied. Research showed, and the researcher finds it difficult to be admitted to such camps or clubs.

"And once admitted," Ilfeld said, "any man who acts in a sexual manner is immediately subject to expulsion."

Ilfeld admits that the research did not fully answer the basic question of why nudists become nudists, but says they "are not cultists or crackpots."

The study, he said, revealed that the nudists themselves offer inadequate reasons—like "comfort" or "relaxation"—to explain their practices.

The research also showed what the students called an astonishing growth in the nudist movement among Americans. In the last 10 years, Ilfeld said, nudists have increased about 300 per cent—from about 2,000 to 10,000. There are about 100 clubs in the United States, with the heaviest concentration in California, Washington and Oregon.

A basic insecurity may be the drive behind the nudist to convert others to the practice, Ilfeld said. People who are unsure of themselves, he said, try by nature this insecurity by converting others to their views.

The nudist, Ilfeld said, usually conceals his practices from people who know him in the outside world.

"Your next - door neighbor might very well be a nudist," he said.

White's District

WHITE'S DISTRICT—Church and Sunday School services were held at White's Church on Sunday morning with the Rev. T. F. Townsend in charge. In the absence service the Misses Caroline Woody and Cathleen Jones conducted the anthem with Mrs. W. Jeffery as pianist. Next Sunday Tea with Sonia from the National Film Board.

Apply for recognized anthropological methods to their clothing study, they went to the nudist camps, stayed for days and, using participant observation, tried to find out why people join, and the background of the movement.

Ilfeld said Dr. and I, one of the students, said in practice, every nudist won't reveal their identities to each other. They prefer to use only first names or pseudonyms.

NO SMOKING

Another interesting finding, Ilfeld said, is that nudists have an almost puritanical fear of sexual activity in the camps.

"One of the unwritten rules of nudism," he said, "is that no one ever touches anyone else, except to shake hands. And liquor is also found universally banned from camps."

But Ilfeld said the research indicates "there is some sexual basis for nudism. The 'look-but-don't-touch' idea shows there is something more to it than just comfort . . .

Word 'Disarmament' Opens Doors of Inner Sanctums To Advisers of Kennedy

By HAROLD ROBINSON

WASHINGTON (CP)—All you know about the Chinese have have to do these days to get appointment with some of Kennedy's inner sanctum of advisers is to use the word "disarmament." Doors that have been closed suddenly are whipped open.

The Kennedy administration has made it clear that it wants to assure the world is well set-organized with some last minute shots. Another term is stage disarmament plan.

Almost daily, foreign correspondents based in Washington are invited to a briefing session on the plan placed before the 17-country Geneva disarmament conference, where it was immediately rejected by the Soviet Union.

But the more seriously the discussion the more obvious it becomes that a basic American plan contains a number of concessions to Russian views, substantially put together in phrases that even the realities of today should be shorn of.

A WORLD FORCE

The Soviet high-placed American authority put it: The plan envisages a political world organization. That is today. Old ideas of sovereignty and national freedom will have to be discarded. Old ideas of nations having defensive forces of themselves will have to give way to agreement to disarm to a force—The United Nations — to take over responsibility for that defense.

"We are beginning to have a feel for this concept of it," one official in a burst of enthusiasm over the American plan told a visitor. "It is obvious that big enthusiasm was shared by Mr. Khrushchev.

Nor, it might be suggested, would it be shied by a large portion of the American Congress, especially the right-wing element to which has criticized the Kennedy administration for placing too much reliance on the UN.

One of the major contradictions that comes to the sticky issue of international inspection and control is that each country actually carries out pledged arms reductions, Russia maintains that exactly is a new attempt by the Americans to spy on Russian defences. The Americans counter that on-site inspection is absolutely essential to make sure there is no cheating.

SHARP DETECTION

Yet at the same time one of Kennedy's closest advisers confided that the United States is so advanced in detection that it not only knows what Russia has in the way of military goods and soldiers, it also knows what the Chinese have have to do these days to get appointment with some of Kennedy's inner sanctum of advisers is to use the word "disarmament." Doors that have been closed suddenly are whipped open.

Hugh Farley, executive director of the service, said at a press conference that the present basis for direct food distribution is a ration card system under which local governments furnish lists of recipients. The U.S. government and the church agency approve the lists.

The complexity of this system," Farley said, "has impeded an administrative burden on the Taiwan (Formosa) churches and their relief channels and makes it difficult to ensure equitability and freedom from possible abuse in the general family feeding program."

Black Market Forces Churches To Abandon Aid

NEW YORK (AP) — Church World Service, the overseas relief agency of the National Council of Churches, plans gradual discontinuance of its mass distribution of food—most of it U.S. government surplus — to families on the nationalist Chinese island of Formosa.

Black marketing is a factor in the decision.

The family feeding program discontinuance will extend during the next 18 months. In the plans, the relief agency will inaugurate a program of technical assistance and other self-help projects.

Hugh Farley, executive director of the service, said at a press conference that the present basis for direct food distribution is a ration card system under which local governments furnish lists of recipients. The U.S. government and the church agency approve the lists.

Exclusive Rights to Fish N.B. River Bring Cost Of Salmon to High Figure

By FRANK SULLIVAN

HALIFAX (CP) — To the American sportsman who paid several thousand dollars for exclusive rights to fish a stretch of a New Brunswick river for the next 10 years, the rates will never match the investment.

Basing it on the river's best return to the latter year, the $5 salmon per rod-day his salmon will cost him about 430 apiece. If the 1965 rod - day figure of .37 salmon for the same river were taken, the silver fish could cost him close to $15 each.

All this assumes that he fishes practically every day of the season. It doesn't take into account travelling expenses, lodging, licences, entertainment and guides.

Add these together, plus the fact he's likely to fish at most about four weeks, and the whole thing could come to about $500 per fish.

He's a true angler, at any rate.

RISING PRICES

Angling leases on choice rivers have risen dramatically as salmon and trout-waters were sold at auction recently.

Although the sales mean the provincial treasury will reap $118,000 a year for the period, the transaction is adding into the domain of the casual resident and non-resident fisherman.

For, a section of the Nevogle River in the northeastern part of the province, the government swallowed the lure of $7,000 offered by a St. Louis man. The bid was almost six times the upset price of $1,200, lowest sum for which the lease would be sold.

The angler who used to fish freely on 35-mile stretch of the Kedgewick River in central New Brunswick found himself casting a fly in the eye of the New Yorker who paid $20,000 for exclusive rights to the section. Upset price was $12,000.

General season for salmon in New Brunswick extends for varying periods, by areas, from May 15 to Oct. 31. Even with some of the more abundant pools marked lease there are plenty of good open spots to fish.

1961 POOR YEAR

Even in the poor season last year, for example, the Miramichi River yielded 14,498 salmon to sportsmen. It had recorded catch of 43,007 in 1958 and had been 32,000 or better every year since 1948.

Nova Scotia doesn't lease water rights. Although the total yield from all rivers in the province normally is lower than that of New Brunswick's Miramichi system, there is a variety of streams in Nova Scotia to please ardent anglers.

The Medway River gave up more salmon than other Nova Scotia waters last year with a yield of 819. The LaHave gave up 646, St. Mary's 451, the River 310, Moser 250 and Margaree 167.

The Nova Scotia season opens around April 1 on western rivers, and May 15 and June 15 on streams flowing into the Bay of Fundy, Northumberland Strait and the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

Plan to Spray Death Impractical Atom Bombs Give Better Results

WASHINGTON (AP) — The idea of radiological warfare, in which deadly contamination would be sprayed or otherwise spread over an enemy area, is cost.

U.S. experts say the plan considered during the Soviet years but isn't practical. Moreover, better results could be obtained by exploding nuclear weapons at low altitudes to spread them with lethal poisonous material.

The radioactivity of materials which could be used wouldn't last long enough in a stockpile to be useful, their strength would diminish too fast.

This fanning of the idea of radiological warfare — where radiation would be the principal killer instead of just the byproduct of a nuclear explosion—apparently does not throw out the concept of a neutron bomb.

The theory behind the S-bomb, or death ray, is that a precisely controlled neutron explosion would be made to produce a burst of intense radiation without the intense heat and radioactive contamination of present bombs. This it would kill without destroying. But what work if any is being done on the idea is secret.

For the first time, the government has released figures on the explosive capacity of nuclear weapons in the U.S. stockpile. It says the total is equivalent to 7,200,000,000 tons of TNT, or enough to fill 720 million trains.

The figure did not take into account the megaton bombs carried aboard B-52 bombers and Polaris missiles in submarines. Each of these is said to be the equivalent of 20 million tons of TNT.

Descriptions of some of these secret would be forerunners of the spectacular to be carried out during the current U.S. series in the Pacific.

Rylstone

RYLSTONE — At the annual meeting of Rylstone Women's Institute recently, the officers of first and second vice-presidents were not filled. Since then, Mrs. Lindsay Anderson has consented to be 1st vice-president and Mrs. James Milne has accepted the position of 2nd vice-president. Congratulations ladies.

Mrs. Fred Petherick visited her daughter, Mrs. Doug Rendore and family in Campbellford on Thursday last.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Mosley, Springbrook and Mr. and Fred Crowell, Edmonton called on Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Spencer and family on Friday evening also on Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McKeown, Paul and Agnes on Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Petherick spent Sunday at Oshawa where they visited their daughters, Mrs. Wally Jackson and Mrs. Roly Jackson, their husbands and daughters.

Glen Stewart of Peterborough Teachers' College has been successful in obtaining a school for the coming term. He has been hired to teach at the River Valley School near Stirling. Donalda Kerr, Petherick Corners has been engaged to teach in Stirling Public School.

Mrs. Murray McMillan has re-hired to teach at the Seventh Line School and her son Denton will likely be teaching again at Wellman's Corners. Mrs. Jim Heath and Mrs. Chris Reid have been re-hired to our two schools, the Ninth Line and the Union School.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Jones were dinner guests with their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Mosley, Springbrook and cousin Fred Crowell of Edmonton at Springbrook, on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Finch and sons attended the change-of-command at the Belleville Plans on Sunday when Lieut.-Col. J. Black took over the Prince Edward Regiment from the retiring Commander, Lieut.-Col. Angus B. Duffy.

Mr. and Mrs. Finch's eldest son, Laverne is an enlisted member of the "Hasty Pees".

Mrs. Spencer accompanied her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harper Bateman and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Vance to Belleville on Sunday afternoon where they visited her aunt, Mrs. Theda Nobes and other friends in Belleville General Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Murray Fleming of Detroit spent the weekend at their cottage near here.

Parents, Five Children Enjoy Old 1889 Music Box

KITCHENER, Ont. (CP) — Ing it to vibrate and producing they have television, hi-fi and radio at the home of Carl Metz. But the five children and their parents frequently switch off these modern gadgets in favor of the soothing sounds of an 1889 music box.

Manufactured in Rahway, N.J., by the Regina Company, the instrument came to the Metz family via California and Preston, Ont.

About 15 discs came with the machine, including dances and popular tunes of the day. Two of the songs are "Paw Thee Well Mind Darling" and "Idaho Song."

STEEL DISCS

The discs, about twice the size of an average record, are made of steel and are practically indestructible.

At the disc revolves, humps of teeth, each representing a note, come into contact with pins on a steel shaft, causing it to vibrate and producing the music.

The machine plays 20 minutes on one winding and cannot be overwound. This, and a switch that changes pitch levels, were considered "deluxe features" of the instrument which sold for $145. Extra discs were 60 cents each.

Discs are no longer stocked in the United States, Mrs. Metz said, but she understands they are still available in Germany.

"I often play it while working and in the winter in particular the children frequently insist on turning it on during breakfast. You never seem to tire of the soothing sound. Some neighbors have suggested we pipe the music to the outside during the Christmas season so that others may enjoy it."

Cross Canada Survey

Only Que., New Brunswick And Prince Edward Island Prevent Civil Marriages

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Nova Scotia has become the seventh province in Canada to allow civil marriages.

A bill passed by the legislature permits county court judges to perform marriage ceremonies.

Representations have been made, unsuccessfully, to get a bill introduced in Prince Edward Island. There have been no indications of any demand for changes in Quebec or New Brunswick.

The Anglican church was a moving force behind the Nova Scotia move. The Diocesan Synod went on record in 1960 as favoring civil marriages and decided to seek legislation for both Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island.

It was successful in Nova Scotia but the P.E.I. cabinet rejected the proposal on the grounds that it was not necessary.

FOR NON-RELIGIOUS

The synod resolution said: "It is meaningless and unrealistic to use a Christian ceremony as the basis for marriage of two non-Christian persons not desiring or professing Christian marriage, nor having the intention of becoming Christians."

The submission to the cabinet said it is a "denial of the basic freedom of man" to require of anyone that he make or subscribe to vows and declarations [such as the church requires in the marriage ceremony] which are not in accord with his convictions."

With Anglican clergy prohibited by church law from marrying divorced persons, "many clergymen are embarrassed by having to send applicants to clergy of other churches who are known not to have any such obligation."

Regulations differ widely in the seven provinces that allow civil marriage.

NEWFOUNDLAND STRICT

In Newfoundland licences to perform marriage in isolated areas may be granted to laymen if recommended by the church, but only in exceptional cases may they be granted without church recommendation.

In both Alberta and British Columbia a long list of government-appointed officials — often civil servants — is empowered to perform marriages. The system is also employed in Saskatchewan but on a more limited basis. Civil marriages have been allowed in B.C. for as long as marriage laws have existed and in Alberta, for more than 30 years.

County court judges in Manitoba have been authorized since 1931 to perform ceremonies. In Ontario judges and magistrates were given the same authority in 1952.

Attorney-General Richard A. Donahoe, who introduced the bill in the Nova Scotia legislature, said it has been many years since civil marriages were permitted in the province. In early days when there was a shortage of clergy, such persons as military commanders could under special circumstances perform marriages. There is no change in the ordinary license procedure and witnesses are still required.

Sports Snapshots

By JACK SULLIVAN
Canadian Press Sports Editor

Canadian professional football has been riding high off the hog for years. Now, the time has come for officials to take a hard look at its financial structure.

Just about everybody concerned with the game predicted a great new era when the East-West partial interlocking schedule was introduced last year. That was when the flowers were blooming in July and when the nine pro clubs were prepping for several all-star material for the edification of their fans.

But it was a cold, bleak winter when the accountants took over.

Attendance was down right across the country. The defending champion Ottawa Rough Riders (again!) even quit the park in a sudden-death playoff game. There were gaping holes in the stands in the Western playoffs.

Edmonton Eskimos reported a loss of nearly $74,000. Calgary Stampeders lost $86,000. British Columbia Lions reported a 30,000 drop in attendance and a loss in the thousands of dollars.

General managers and coaches received the United States in search of talent for 1962. Many of them, naturally, were not signed. For instance, Montreal Alouettes signed all-American quarterback Sandy Stephens of the Minnesota Gophers for a reported three - year no - cut contract calling for $20,000 a season and a bonus.

What is the reason for the attendance decline in the Eastern and Western Conference?

No one has yet come up with a clear-cut answer, but one thing is clear: The partial interlocking schedule, the first of a two-year experiment, wasn't a howling success.

Indirectly, the highly-successful National Football League in the U.S. may have had something to do with the attendance failoff, although games in this league didn't clash with the Canadian Football League schedule.

NFL ON TV

Fans from the Maritimes to British Columbia were exposed to NFL games via television for the first time in 1961 and it may be more than a coincidence that, for the first time in three years, attendance showed a drop in this country.

Now, as team officials are deep in preparations for the 1962 season, they might consider the success story of Green Bay Packers. They play in the smallest park in the NFL—seating capacity is only 39,000—and this week they reported a whopping $533,141 in the bank.

The Packers are community-owned with 41 directors, seven executive board members and 7,698 stockholders of 4,721 shares. They came into being in 1919 with no money. They passed the test to pay expenses of the non-profit group.

The Packers survived many bleak years. This week, general manager and head coach Vince Lombardi reported to stockholders that net profits of the club in 1961 were $178,975—highest in history and more than 30 per cent above 1960 figures.

Season ticket sales at Green Bay's City Stadium are almost 37,000. Those figures would make any Canadian club official drool.

Leafs Nip Suns 9-8, Bisons Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A timely single by Bobby Morgan and the continued pounding of Tom Masseau helped Leafs beat Indianapolis 9-8 and move into second place in the International League.

Morgan's 10th - inning single drove in the winning run in Buffalo Bisons' 4-3 win over Atlanta Crackers Wednesday night, pulled the Bisons into a first - place tie with Louisville Suns, who bowed 9-8 to Seattle Rainiers.

Syracuse Chiefs blanked Columbus Jets 5-0, breaking a seven-game drought in the Windy City, and Nat Martinez of Rochester Red Wings homed a three-hitter in shutting out Richmond Virginians 5-0.

Morgan's single drove in Norm Gigon with the winning run in Buffalo's home opener before 20,169 fans. Atlanta led 3-2 going into the last of the ninth, but Mickey Mikkelsen forced it into extra innings with a solo homer. Gigon, also had a homer for the winners. The crowd fell short of last year's record of 27,437.

Toronto's hasty hitting, which included home runs by Ed Burton, Steve Demeter and Lou Jeffson, provided the streaking Leafs with their fifth straight victory as a crowd of 9,818 looked on. In that stretch they have pounded out 82 hits, including 19 home runs, and scored 67 runs.

Chris Cannizzaro's grand-slam home run was more than enough working room for Marden. His blow broke up a scoreless duel with two men out in the sixth inning after three errors helped the Red Wings load the bases.

Syracuse hadn't beaten Columbus in Columbus since August, 1953, going into Wednesday night's game. The Chiefs lost all 11 in Columbus last year and were sort of the league front-runners through 1960.

But Zipfel was the big gun for the Chiefs, blasting two homers and driving in five runs. Lefty Carl Mathias threw a four-hitter in getting the shutout.

Ridan Not Sure for Preakness

CHICAGO (AP)—It will be three or four days before Monty Jolley, one of Ridan's owners, decides whether the broken forearm of the Kentucky Derby will be shipped to Pimlico for the $150,000 - added Preakness May 19.

Jolley said Wednesday he knew of no "scuff" or any other injury to Ridan.

All this talk about the horse hurting his foot is a lot of newspaper talk. He looks all right to me. We may gallop him at Washington Park tomorrow. But with Ridan, you don't ever know just what you will do."

John L. Greer of Knoxville, Tenn., one-third owner of Ridan, said from his home Monday that the horse suffered a foot injury in the Derby and was shipped to Chicago for x-rays. Moody and his son, Leroy Ridan's trainer, denied the report.

JOHN FIELD

BALTIMORE (AP) — Roman Line, runner-up in the Kentucky Derby, and Crimson Satan joined the party at Pimlico Wednesday, swelling the $150,000 - added Preakness May 19.

Also checking in as a possibility for the 1 3-16-mile race was Christiana Stable's Smart, Already on hand Derby winner Decidedly, Sunrise County and Greek Money.

Pitchers Big Cut Targets

NEW YORK (AP)—Witnessing was a bad day for pitchers around the league's baseball diggings getting didn't dispel the gloom and woe. The calendar, did.

Midnight Wednesday was the deadline for major league clubs to trim their rosters to 25-man limit. Pitchers were the chief targets of managerial parings and slicings.

Joel Horlen, Joe Horlen, Thornton Kilmchkovich and Jim Cicotte and Jim Umbricht were among the hurlers benefiting or involved in the shuffles went through their last screening to reach the final. Several teams had reached the limit well in advance of the deadline.

McMahon, the veteran who helped Milwaukee Braves to two National League pennants and a world series victory, was dealt to Houston Colts in an outright sale.

The other hurlers drifted back to the minors. Umbricht, once a steady performer with Cincinnati Reds, was released by Los Angeles Angels.

HAS SIXTH SWOONER

Jones, expected to be one of New York Mets' starters, was 0-4 and relegated to the bench when the new National League club decided to option him to Syracuse Chiefs of the International League. Cicotte and Umbricht were optioned by the Mets to Oklahoma City of the American Association, which also will get outfielders Al Heist and Don Demeter from the new Houston club.

McMahon, a right-hander who has been in the majors with Milwaukee, tailed off to 0-4 last season and was 0-4 this year after a long spring holdout.

The Braves also optioned utility infielder Lou Klimchock to Louisville of the American Association.

Baltimore optioned pitcher Bill Short and utilityman Cuzo Fred Virgil to Rochester Red Wings of the International League and made room for the return of pitcher Jack Fisher from the disabled list by selling first baseman - outfielder Art Throckmorton to the Mets. The Mets will get one more player when Throckmorton reports Friday.

SIXTH ROOKIE WEST

Other last - minute deals included:

Cincinnati — Shipped rookie pitcher Sammy Ellis (1-1) to San Diego of the Pacific Coast League.

Washington Senators — Sent rookie pitchers Jim Hannan (0-3) and Carl Bouldin (0-0) to Syracuse and lefty relief man Fred Green (0-1) to Jacksonville.

Cleveland Indians — Sold infielder Jim Mahoney to Louisville.

Detroit Tigers — Recalled pitcher Ron Nischwitz from Syracuse and optioned infielder Reno Bertoia, who grew up in Windsor, Ont., and pitcher Fred Gladding to Denver of the American Association.

Los Angeles Angels — Sold outfielder Chuck Tanner to Dallas-Fort Worth of the American Association.

CRASHES DURING TEST

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Leon and (Gig) Stephens, 35, of North Reading, Mass., crashed into the outer wall at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway Wednesday but escaped injury. The car, owned by Harry Turner of Kenosha, Wis., was damaged but probably can be repaired. Stephens, director of cargo and military sales for Northeast Airlines, was working on the 135-mile-an-hour phase of his speed-rookie driver test when the car got away from him on the southeast turn.

Palmer Seeks Third Crown

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Muscular Arnold Palmer, master of almost everything but the Colonial golf course, heads a field of 36 into today's first round of the $40,000 national invitation golf tournament.

Palmer, the tour's leading money-winner and holder of five current titles, will be seeking his third straight crown and a first-place paycheque of $7,000.

Paired with South African Gary Player in the first round of the 72-hole event, Palmer is seeking his first championship here in eight appearances. Doug Sanders won last year with a one-over-par total of 281.

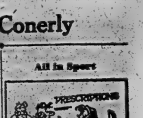
Navy Coach Quits Game

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Eddie Erdelatz, 49, who rose to football coaching heights with stunning Navy victories over Army, then was fired by the Oakland Raiders of the American League has quit the game "forever and without regrets."

He said Wednesday he is going into public relations work for a financial corporation.

WAS MAJOR LEAGUER

WEYMOUTH, Mass. (AP)—Frank A. (Buster) Lovell, 85, the oldest living former major league baseball player according to the Baseball Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, N.Y., died Tuesday at a nursing home. He began his baseball career in the old New England League and later played with New York Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers.



Will Act As Coach
Saskys Get Conerly

REGINA (CP)—Charlie Conerly, veteran quarterback star of New York Giants of the National Football League, will attend the Saskatchewan Roughriders training camp as an assistant coach, the Western Football Conference club announced today.

Conerly, who played six of his 14 seasons under Roughriders coach Steve Owen when Owen was head coach of the Giants, will principally handle the quarterbacks, the club said.

Bob Ptacek, who came to the Riders in a trade with Cleveland Browns of the NFL, has signed his 1962 contract, the club also announced today. Ptacek, a quarterback, ended up last year as a WFC all-star linebacker.

Giants Obtain Guglielmi

NEW YORK (AP) — New York Giants, Eastern Conference champions of the National Football League, today obtained veteran quarterback Ralph Guglielmi from St. Louis Cardinals in exchange for rookie backfielders Bill Triplett and a high 1963 draft choice.

Guglielmi, a four-year NFL veteran, will back up veteran Y. A. Tittle for the Giants, who also have holdover Lee Grosscup.

Triplett, whose brother Mel plays for Minnesota Vikings after being traded last year by the Giants, was New York's No. 6 draft choice this year after returning at Miami (Ohio) University.

Guglielmi, 28, saw considerable action for the Cards last year while their top signal-caller, Sam Etcheverry, former ace with Montreal Alouettes of the Eastern Conference, was hampered by a sore arm. Guglielmi completed 58 of 118 passes for 867 yards and five touchdowns. He once played with Washington Redskins in the NFL.

"Tittle will remain the No. 1 quarterback, of course," said New York coach Al Sherman. "But in getting Ralph, we'll have the benefits of youth and experience. He's been with two Y. A. Tittle for the Giants, who also have holdover Lee Grosscup.

Simmons Whips Giants

Frisky Musial Nears Wagner Mark

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Thanks to a comeback pitcher, a reserve catcher and a living legend, St. Louis Cardinals have halted the San Francisco runaway, at least temporarily.

In the National League's top battle Wednesday night, southpaw Curt Simmons maintained his unbroken record with batting help from Carl Sawatski and Stan Musial as the Cardinals whipped the Giants 7-3.

Simmons, an ailment-plagued reject whom the Cards picked up from Philadelphia Phillies two years ago, now has a 5-0 record and is the first pitcher in last nine innings against the league leaders this year. Sawatski contributed four runs batted in on a homer and two singles.

Musial, the frisky 41-year-old, hit a pair of singles that lifted his league leading average to a sensation .364 and banished to within one hit of Honus Wagner's NL record of .3.430.

But more important for the runner-up Cards was shaving the Giants' pace-setting margin to three games.

Meanwhile Los Angeles Dodgers move into their place by slamming Houston Colts 9-0, Cincinnati Reds topped Philadelphia Phillies 7-4 on pinch-hit Bob Purkey won his fifth in a row and Milwaukee Braves outlasted Pittsburgh Pirates 4-3.

SURVIVES HOMERS

Simmons, a 31-game winner for the Phils in his top season of 1950, was rapped for three homers among the nine hits he allowed but kept the league leaders in check. San Francisco blaster Orlando Cepeda hit homer No. 9 against the lefty in the fourth, and reliever Mike McCormick and Jim Davenport connected in the seventh.

Sawatski boosted his average to .326 with a two-run single against Jack Sanford (3-2) in the first, his homer in the fourth and a run-scoring single in the 12th. Curt Flood contributed a triple and two singles for the 13-hit Cards.

Nicking Dean Stone (3-2) for 11 hits and four runs in seven innings, the Dodgers made it a rout with five more runs off Dave Giusti and Hal Woodeshick in the ninth. Jim Gilliam and Wally Moon had three hits each while Podres and Willie Davis netted a double and single apiece. Merritt Ranew gave Podres the most trouble, with two triples and a single.

RED HATS ACTIVE

Cincinnati also gave Purkey heft support, hammering Phils pitchers for 15 hits. Purkey yielded only five hits and two earned runs. They scored twice off Art Mahaffey (3-4) in the first and were ahead 6-1 after three.

Frank Robinson, showing signs of breaking out of a prolonged slump, singled three times and knocked in three Cincinnati runs. Wally Post weighed in with a homer and single and John Edwards and Eddie Kasko each added three hits.

A 15-hit barrage led by Joe Adcock and Frank Bolling and a neat stint of thirds relief by rookie Hank Fischer carried Milwaukee over the Pirates. Adcock homered and singled and Bolling stroked three singles as Milwaukee took a 6-1 lead, but the Bucs threatened in the eighth by loading the bases against winner Ron Piche (3-0) of Yerkes, Gen. Fischer came on with none out and allowed the Pirates to salvage only one run out of the rally. Bob Friend took the loss, his second in six decisions.

Primary Aim of Group to Deal With Truth About Modern Man

By JANET KASH

MONTREAL (CP) — Montreal's La Compagnie des Satellites, winner of the Western Quebec regional drama festival for its production of Jean Tardieu's I.A.B.C. de Notre Vie, is a young, dedicated group interested in developing a theatre "of the people and of the age."

Average age of the 30-member group is 22. Jean Perrand, 21, directed the winning production which also won first prize for the best set design.

"We want to dramatize in new things," says Gilles Normand, co - director of the Satellites, "but not necessarily avant-garde or excessively abstract like Ionesco." The primary aim of the group was to "deal with the truth about modern man."

Jean Tardieu, 50 - year - old French author of I.A.B.C. de Notre Vie, is not well known but the play is representative of the Satellites' choice of mood and subject matter. The one-act dramatic poem portrays in fashion a quarrel between protagonist's view of mankind of the given day and that of the next, even generations hence.

In a concerto, with the protagonist as sole instrument against an orchestra of unusual sound and lighting effects and the chorus, Tardieu is a television director in Paris and has been writing short, experimental plays for several years.

This is the first time the Satellites have participated in a Dominion Drama Festival.

This is the first time I.A.B.C. has been performed in Canada. The Satellites, described by their directors as "a group of young professionals acting as amateurs," devote almost all their time to the theatre. All are studying drama while working part-time at acting, writing, or doing clerical work in theatres. Several act on television.

The group was founded five years ago by Janou St. Denis, now studying theatre in Paris. Until this year they have done one play a year, rehearsing in the Centre d'Essai Hall in Montreal's Rocde des Beaux arts and touring Montreal suburbs. Last fall, they produced a series of dramatic sketches by French-Canadian silk-singer and playwright Felix LeClerc.

Next season they hope to do a Tennessee Williams play because French Canadians are "more American than anything else."

"We are linked to the continent by language only," director Bernard says, "and even then the French idiom is very different from our North American French." They want to do the American play translated into Canadian French.

FTC Persuades Company To Change Its Commercials

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—The Federal Trade Commission, which takes a dim view of television commercials the way the Federal Communications Commission watches the program flock, recently has been rounding up some strays.

Among other activities, it persuaded one company to shoot down a shaving cream commercials showing a razor shaving sandpaper that was not really sandpaper but glass sprinkled with sand. It ordered toothpaste and shaving cream manufacturers to stop making disparaging comparisons of rival products with their brands.

Effect of the activity has been to push commercialmakers into using the real thing, not doctored-up products or reasonably exact facsimiles.

One of the trade magazines recently conducted an investigation into current commercial-making practices and found some changes in progress.

For instance, a cold-remedy company requested the services of a girl model—who was suffering from a head cold. A cereal company, which once used plastic fakes that would not melt under hot lights, now uses real candy.

DEEP SOUR CREAM

A depilatory, which used to do a film demonstration by using sour cream (instead of the product) on the model's legs, now uses the real stuff—but what fibre several models became numerous applications of the depilatory for endless retakes crease burns.

Male-models in those shaving ads may have blades in their razors. One company uses five or six shavers, models a commercial because the lads must look into the camera—not into a mirror—and often pick them-

At the Belle

William Holden Battles Satan in Epic Pearl Buck Drama.

Following the tradition of "The Good Earth", Pearl Buck story has been transferred successfully to the screen. In Leo McCarey's story of faith, courage, innocence and beauty, "The Devil at Seven Sleeps." The 20th Century-Fox CinemaScope-Deluxe Color drama, set in China and Formosa, stars William Holden, France Nuyen and Clifton Webb, and arrives today at the Belle Theatre.

This turbulent story describes the unique relationship between two priests and a young Chinese maiden who takes refuge in their mission. Since these men of the cloth represent freedom and love to the poor villagers of Kwangtong they are tortured, ridiculed and shamed in attempts to make them forsake their faith.

Director Leo McCarey, who will be remembered for the award-winning "The Bells of St. Mary's" and "Going My Way", has fashioned an authentic, stark human drama of conflict.

Academy Award winner William Holden, making his first film with an Oriental locale, stars as the young Father O'Benlon who gains a deeper understanding of his vows, while lovely France Nuyen, who scored in the screen version of Rodgers and Hammerstein's "South Pacific", portrays Su-Lan, a young girl searching for the meaning of love.

Veteran actor Clifton Webb makes a sharp departure from his usual witty portrayals (remember Mr. Belvedere?) and appears as the defiant and courageous Father Bovard.

FIRST BACKER INJURED

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — First baseman Don Mincher will be out of action with the American League Minnesota Twins for a week or 10 days as a result of a concussion suffered in Tuesday night's 6-3 loss to Cleveland Indians. Mincher was knocked unconscious when he collided with Cathercal Thomas of Indians in a ninth-inning pursuit attempt.

Marriage Serious Business Says Actor Rod Taylor

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Marriage is a serious business. You have got to work hard at it. That's why we're not going to be rushed into anything."

This was Australian actor Rod Taylor speaking about his engagement to his Swedish fiancee, Sukin Ekberg. Reports from Sweden last week that they would be wed on the weekend. They weren't.

"Yes, I know there are people who are eager for us to get married," said Taylor. "But we aren't going to do it just to beat out the rumors . . . and we have certain things to work out."

For one thing, Taylor is still enmeshed in battling The Birds, Alfred Hitchcock's new horror film about a future battle of man vs. bird. When I saw the actor on the movie set, he was bandaged and bloody from an encounter with a sea gull.

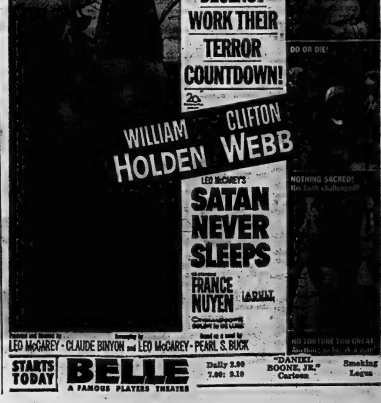
"I'll be tied up in the picture for at least until next month, maybe longer, the way things are going; these birds are tough to work with," said Taylor. "It wouldn't make much sense to get married until I am through. Meanwhile, we can be together, even if we're not 'married'."

CAREER PROBLEMS

What problems remain to be worked out?

"Career problems," he explained. "Anita's career is in Italy, mine is here. I don't blame her for liking to work over there. Hollywood treated her pretty shabbily, in Italy she is a real star. And it's treated like one.

"But I am just old-fashioned enough to believe that the husband should be the boss of a family. We are not intending going to Rome and hanging around the sidelines while I make a movie. I don't want to be known at this stage in my career as the husband of a star. I'm a film star."



Taylor thinks Anita feel about all this?

"She understands," Taylor said, adding with a smile, "she is a good, healthy Swedish girl who still says she wants the home and children and the whole bit".

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

WELLINGTON — "Dutch," the undertaker, finally buried the hockey Ears of this lovely lakeside village, and came up with a provincial championship. Manager Wilson Ainsworth, who says little and does a lot, guided his hardies "D" squad to the OMHA title and the waterfront community did him and his gallant youngsters the honors last night.

They feted the kids at a lovely turkey banquet with proud village, county and OMHA officials looking on and distributing the fancy trophies to the clean-cut youngsters.

The town hall was packed with some 150 proud villagers, out-of-town newspapermen and two fine chaps who were the vice-presidential insignia at the Ontario Minor Hockey Association.

Reeve Clare Field, the popular chief magistrate of the community and his co-president Douglas Patterson of Stirling, after the second helping of delicious turkey, paid official tribute to the young champions as did this agent, and fellow-townsmen either Dr. Biddell.

Mr. Watkiss and only brought official greetings and congratulations, but paid faithful tribute to the men who behind the scenes do a grand job in seeing to it that Young Canada is led along the right paths of its various hockey leagues.

Since the day Cle Smoke Reynolds led his Mohawk warriors and peleface buddies along the hockey warpaths on the frozen surface of the lake otherbore here, village hockey teams have sought championships.

They were always "brilliantsalls but never a bride" until Coach-manager "Dutch" led his proud bantam "D's" to the 1961-62 title.

Bob Boyce greeted Coach-manager Ainsworth with a whirlwind chapter and presented Larry Mc-Kenzie on behalf of the club, gave "Dutch" an outdoor barbecue. All the popular coach has to do now, a player said, is to supply the hamburgs and trimmings.

Newsman Dodds in a fine address, said the county and "Carver-dubbed Spaniards" were proud of the accomplishment of the lakeside champions. He said the spirit behind the team and the village as a whole should be proud of the youngsters.

"We in other parts of the county watched with pride this fine young club as it marched to the championship. The final game played in Picton," Phil said, "was a masterpiece of hockey and the Wellington youngsters were full value for their victory and championship."

It was a grand party. The town hall was packed with a fine, representative crowd. The ladies of the women's auxiliary had done us in fine county. lived up to their reputation. This agent, whose Knife and Fork League turkey patrols are such that he is afraid to look an honest bird in the eye, forged calories and whatnot and beat the Waldie-Patterson duo to the dinner punch at least one pistoful. I even nudged Deep Throat Stirling's champion "white-monster" to the rose for the platter.

Deserving tribute was paid to Mrs. "Dutch." The coach's good lady was, with other "gals" of the village, one hundred per cent behind the team and their efforts, and were no small factor in the young squad's success.

Yankees Whip Red Sox

By MIKE RATHBY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Al Kaline continues to roll, Rocky Colavito seems to have taken his first wobbly steps and Detroit Tigers may finally be ready to settle in the American League pennant chase.

With hot-hitting Kaline driving in two runs with a double and homer No. 9 and slamming Colavito's seeding three across with a triple, the Tigers belted Los Angeles Angels 6-3 Wednesday night for their second straight victory after halting a five-game skid.

Kaline, who has never hit more than 27 homers a season in his 10-year career, is off to a fast start with a .363 batting average, ranking him third in the league, 27 RBIs, tying him for the top spot, and the surprising nine homers, also tying him for first with the Angels' Leon Wagner.

Colavito is on the other end of the fan bat race by regaining his touch. He's batting a total .190, has yet to hit a homer and has driven in nine Detroit runs in 22 games. Quite a step down from the lofty pace he established in the 1961 campaign with 45 homers and 140 runs batted in.

YANKS WIDEN LEAD

The victory left the Tigers four games behind the pacesetting New York Yankees, who broke up Bill Monbouquette's no-hit bid in the seventh inning with four unearned runs in whip Boston Red Sox 4-1. Minnesota's third - place Twins shoved the runner-up Cleveland Indians two games back by edging them 3-2.

Baltimore Orioles defeated Kansas City Athletics 6-3 as Brooks Robinson tied a major league record by hitting his second grand slam homer in two games and Washington Senators and Chicago White Sox split a bet-night doubleheader, the Senators winning the first 3-2 with the Sox taking the nightcap 7-6.

Colavito got the Tigers the decisive runs with his bases-loaded smash in the fifth inning, then protected the lead by robbing Billy Moran of a three-run homer with a fine catch in front of the left field seats in the seventh; Jim Bunning (4-1) won it, beating the Angles for the sixth straight time. Ted Bowsfield of Penticton, B.C., (3-1) took the loss.

Held hitless for 6 1-3 innings by Monbouquette (3-3), the Yanks struck suddenly after Tom Tresh beat out a bunt. Roger Maris' liner was dropped by Gary Geiger and one out! volved."

Later Yogi Berra walked to load the bases, Elston Howard cleared them with a double, Moose Skowron drove in Howard with a single and Whitey Ford (5-1) spaced seven Red Sox hits to record the victory.

The Twins gave Jack Kralick (3-2) all he needed with a pair in the first on Harmon Killebrew's single that scored Leroy Green and a double by Zoilo Versalles that sent Rich Rollins across. Kralick allowed only five hits—one John Romano's third inning homer—before he was lifted in the eighth for reliever Ray Moore. The loser was Gary Bell (3-3).

Robinson's grand slam capped a six-run surge in the second inning. Ed Rakow (3-2) that proved to be the Orioles' total output for the night. It was enough for Milt Pappas (3-1), who held the Athletics to five hits, struck out 13 and retired the last 16 men in order.

Southpaw Don Rudolph (1-0), appearing for the Senators for t hfirst time, stopped his former White Sox teammates in the opener with an eight-hitter. He was tagged for Jim Landis' eighth homer but got some run support from Gene Woodling, who hit two, and Dale Long and John Buhardt (4-2) was the loser.

The White Sox earned a split by chasing rookie Steve Hamilton (0-1), another trick circulation, in the seventh as a Smith drove in the decisive run with a single. Joe Cunningham's two-run homer in the sixth had put the Chicagoans even. Ray Herbert (3-1) was the winner.

Canadien May Buy Canucks

VANCOUVER (CP) — Frank Selke, president and managing director of Montreal Canadiens, said Wednesday the club "will definitely make an offer" to buy Vancouver Canucks of the Western Hockey League.

The franchise is up for sale by the Pacific National Exhibition, which has set a May 15 deadline for offers.

Selke declined to elaborate, except to say that any other announcement "will have to be made by the local people in-

Court Feud With Manager

Johnson Threatens To Pull Out

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Elderly Johnson says he doesn't feel like the fight - heavyweight champion that he is and threatens to pull out of his title bout against Doug Jones Saturday night as the result of a court feud with his manager over money.

Johnson, recognized as king of the 175-pounders by the National Boxing Association, made the comment Wednesday.

But Alfred M. Klein, a member of the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission, said "there's not the slightest chance" of the bout being called off.

"We'll get it straightened out," Klein said as he prepared for a conference today with lawyers for Pal Olivieri, Johnson's manager. "I'm surprised he (Johnson) talked that way. All bouts will go on and we'll have it worked out."

Johnson said in an interview he will pull out of the 15-round scrap here if his purse is held in escrow by legal action of Olivieri is allowed to take the manager's share immediately after the fight.

Olivieri subpoenaed Johnson in court Wednesday to testify at a hearing at which the manager sought a preliminary injunction to block Johnson from going through with any matches not arranged or approved by Olivieri.

HE'S UPSET

Johnson said he didn't feel like a champion because he felt he was being treated unfairly and dragged into court when false accusations were made about him that he owed Olivieri money. He said the whole thing has upset him.

"Nothing ever happened to me like this before," he said. "Now it's just like something is drained out of me. My mind all pointed to Mayo and after I throw a few punches and get hit a few I'll probably forget the whole thing."

Olivieri's court action was aimed at George Gaisford, Johnson's adviser and manager in New York state, who has been negotiating a match Jone title fight with Gustav Scholz in Germany, provided Johnson defeats Jones.

Any injunction action, which the court took under advisement, would not affect the bout, Klein said. It was arranged by Olivier last year.

WELLINGTON — "Dutch," the undertaker, finally buried the hockey Jinx at this lovely lakeside village, and came up with a provincial championship. Reeve Clare Phail, the popular chief magistrate of the community and his council were, with other village representatives, so proud as peacocks. Warden John Farr of Picton, OMHA, with Reeve Jack Moore of the same village, brought the congratulations of the county and there was pride in their voices as they paid verbal tribute to the youngsters who brought the village its first provincial hockey title.

OMHA first vice-president Albert Watkin of Peterborough, and second vice-president Douglas Patterson of Stirling, after the second helping of delicious turkey, paid official tribute to the young champions as did this agent, and Picton Gazette sports editor Ken Dodds.

Mr. Watkin not only brought official greetings and congratulations, but paid rightful tribute to the men who holding the scene do a grand job in acting to it that Young Canada is led along the right paths of its winter hockey heritage.

Since the day Cle Smoke Reynolds led his Mohawk warriors and paleface buddies along the hockey warpaths on the frozen surface of the lake offshore here, village hockey teams have sought championships.

Deserving tribute was paid to Mrs. "Dutch." The coach's good lady was, with other "gals" of the village, one hundred per cent behind the team and their efforts, and were no small factor in the young squad's success.

Kralick allowed only five hits—one John Romano's third inning homer—before he was lifted in the eighth for reliever Ray Moore. The loser was Gary Bell (2-3).

Robinson's grand slam capped a six-run surge in the second inning. Ed Rakow (3-2) that proved to be the Orioles' total output for the night. It was enough for Milt Pappas (3-1), who held the Athletics to five hits, struck out 12 and retired the last 16 men in order.

Southpaw Don Rudolph (1-0), appearing for the Senators in his first time, stopped his former White Sox teammates in the opener with an eight-hitter. He was tagged for Jim Landis' eighth homer but got more than support from Gene Woodling, who hit his first of the season, and John Buzhardt (4-3) was the loser.

The White Sox earned a split by chasing rookie Steve Hamilton (0-1), another trade acquisition, in the seventh as Al Smith drove in the decisive run with a single. Joe Cunningham's two-run homer in the sixth had pulled the Chicagoans even. Ray Herbert (2-1) was the winner.

Canadien May Buy Canucks

VANCOUVER (CP) — Frank Selke, president and managing director of Montreal Canadiens, said Wednesday the club "will definitely make an offer" to buy Vancouver Canucks of the Western Hockey League.

The franchise is up for sale by the Pacific National Exhibition, which has set a May 15 deadline for offers.

Selke declined to elaborate, except to say that any other subscriber will have to be made by the local people involved."

Court Feud With Manager

Johnson Threatens To Pull Out

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Hot-cold Johnson says he doesn't feel like the light - heavyweight champion that he is and threatens to pull out of his title bout against Doug Jones Saturday night as the result of a contract feud with his manager over money.

Johnson, recognized as king of the 175-pounders by the National Boxing Association, made the comment Wednesday.

But Alfred M. Klein, a member of the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission, said "there's not the slightest chance" of the bout being called off.

"We'll get it straightened out," Klein said as he prepared for a conference today with lawyers for Pat Olivieri, John son's manager. "I'm surprised at Johnson. I talked that way. All hands will confer and we'll have it worked out."

Johnson said in an interview he will pull out of the 15-round scrap here if his purse is held escrow by legal action or if Olivieri is allowed to take the manager's share immediately after the fight.

Klein recommended Johnson into court Wednesday to testify at a hearing at which the manager sought a preliminary injunction to block Johnson from using more than any matches not arranged or approved by Olivieri.

HIS INTEREST

Johnson said he didn't feel like a champion because he felt he was being treated unfairly and dragged into court where fake accusations were made about him that he owed Olivieri money. He said the whole thing has upset him.

"Nothing ever happened in my life like this before," he said. "Now it's just like something is drained out of me. My mind is all jumbled up. I'm afraid I'll throw a few punches and get hit a few I'll probably forget the whole thing."

Olivieri's court action was aimed at Bernard Baldwin, Johnson's adviser and manager in New York state, who has been trying to arrange for a June title fight with Gustav Scholz of Germany, provided Johnson defeats Jones.

Atty. Harold Levin, which the court took under advisement, would not affect the bout, Olivieri said. It was arranged by Olivier last year.

THEY'RE OFF — Forty-nine secondary school harriers from the district are away and running at the BCIVS campus yesterday in the 18th Ken Colling Memorial cross-country run.

Bill Vermilyea Wins Cross Country

By GARRY ALEXANDER
Staff Sportswriter

Moira Secondary School's Bill Vermilyea joined select company as a three-time winner of the Ken Colling Memorial cross-country run yesterday afternoon when he chalked up his third straight win over a field of 49 secondary school harriers.

This was the 18th running of the district's top distance event and it may have been the last one, at least over the present four-mile course.

The race committee has been advised by the city police department that the present course over busy city streets, must be abandoned. Horner "Red" Townsend of BCIVS expressed confidence that a new course will be settled upon before next year. The OSD area was mentioned as a possible site for a new four-mile course.

Vermilyea took the lead early in yesterday's event and, as last year, found his toughest opposition to be from the Ontario School for the Deaf.

The winner stayed in front all the way with OSD's Adrian Ainsworth second and schoolmate Fred Singleton third. The trio moved along Station Street in that order with Vermilyea about 40 yards ahead of Ainsworth and Singleton about 20 back of him.

Vermilyea increased his lead a little at the top of the Church Street hill but his time was below the meet record he set last year. He ran it in 19 minutes and 46 seconds yesterday while in 1961 he set the present record of 19:30.2.

Ainsworth's time was 20:8.4 and Singleton's was 20:30. In fourth place was Francis Provost of Tweed High School in 20:35. Madoc's Cliff Brooks was fifth in 20:47 and right on his heels was Bruce Symons of Quinte Secondary School, finishing sixth, in 21.17. Lenny Lalonde, Tweed, and Robert Morris, of MSS, were right behind in seventh and eighth but finished just out of the top six prize list.

Mr. Cleo Colling, brother of the late Ken Colling, presented Vermilyea with the trophy in the ceremonies in the BCI gym following the completion of the race. Vermilyea keeps the trophy as his own, because of the three wins, but Mr. Colling assured those in the gym that he will only be too happy to donate a new one for next season.

Fifty boys had entered the race and the day seemed ideal.

Bird of Moira, Crozier were presented to the first 36 finishers by Mr. Jack Sisson of Quinte Secondary School. The first six finishers received prizes presented by Fred Weir, President of the Boys' Athletic Society of BCIVS.

The only other three-time winners of the Colling Trophy are George Ewald, who won the race in 1948, 1949, and 1950 and Jim Green, who won in 1956, 1957 and 1958.

The OSD team's fine showing, placing two men in the top three, was much the same as last year when that school took second, third and fourth behind Vermilyea. The OSD runners then were Eugene Fowler, Fred Kreiger and Don Richardson, none of whom were present for yesterday's race.

Father McGee, of Nicholson College, was the starter yesterday with leaders from the district schools serving as official timers. A good crowd attended the race in fairly sunny weather.

The Tracks

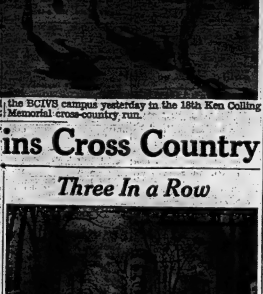
Coup d'Etat, owned by Les Lear, won the $15,000 Dawson River Handicap at Gulfstream and finished second to the great Jilly Cicada in another race at the same track.



Scratch Off paid $12.70 to win as the ran the mile in an unspectacular 1:39. That's Jerr, a stablemate of the winner, finished third, four lengths behind Scratch Off.

The daily double of Stone of Gold in the first race and Rascally in the second paid $148.20. The quinella of Elated's Pal and Soups On in the fifth paid $20.70. Attendance was 7,695, wagering $400,414.

Meanwhile, apprentice jockey Jimmy Dreyer, who made a spectacular debut in Canadian racing Tuesday when he rode three winners—one of which was disqualified—received a 10-day suspension. He will take an enforced holiday beginning Friday and he won't return to action until May 25.

Dreyer, 21, a native of Scranton, Pa., won Tuesday's third race on Ontario Holiday but the horse was disqualified for fouling Junior Edition. After reviewing the film patrol pictures, the stewards ruled Wednesday that Dreyer's carelessness had been responsible for Ontario Holiday fouling Junior Edition.

Three In a Row

THREE-TIME WINNER — Bill Vermilyea, 19-year-old grade 12 student of Moira Secondary School, becomes the third man in the 18-year history of the Ken Colling Memorial cross-country run to win the race three years in a row. He completed the four-mile course in 19 minutes and 46 seconds, seven seconds off his record time of 1961.

Softball Meet Sunday

A meeting of the Belleville and District Softball league has been called for Sunday afternoon at the Club Canara at two o'clock.

Harold Marsden, assistant league commissioner will be in charge of the meeting in Commissioner Cliff Belch's absence. Marsden has asked that all teams be represented.

The league schedule will be presented to the teams at the Sunday get-together and any other odds and ends still unsettled will be cleaned up in preparation for the May 24th league opener.

Rollies Construction Juniors and Joyce Real Estate will play a 6.15 fixture at the Belleville Fairgrounds on the Victoria Day holiday to get the schedule under way.

Pearson Urges NDP Supporters To Vote Liberal

By ROBERT RICE

HAMILTON (CP) — Liberal Leader Louis St. Laurent and Secretary Lester Pearson today rejected an invitation to form a Liberal-NDP party support ers to vote Liberal in the June 18 election to ensure the defeat of the Progressive Conservative government.

Mr. Pearson in the Liberal party's a vote for actually achieving some of the objectives of the NDP," said Mr. Pearson at a public rally in a theatre in this industrial city.

"But what is a vote for the NDP? In its practical effect, it's a vote for the Tories. It's a vote for keeping the Diefenbaker-Fleming government in office."

Before a 45-minute, meet-the-public drive from Toronto to Hamilton, plus a 10-mile cavalcade through the Niagara fruit belt ridings held in the last Parliament, Mr. Pearson told reporters he found a cheering, chanting audience of 4,000 at a Liberal rally in Toronto last night. He continues his swing through Kitchener, Guelph, Galt, electing up tonight at St. Thomas.

MEET AT TORIES

He criticized the Conservative term of office as "wasted years . . . lacking government and leadership" and said a Liberal alternative was efficient, progressive and socially just. Then laid it on the about the NDP.

The ideals and ultimate objectives of the CCF party, he said, aren't very different from the ideals and objectives the Liberal party."

Main difference between the two parties seems to be that Liberals set priorities, backed by practical programs aimed at achieving their objectives.

"I would say to many of the people who may be inclined to support the NDP—and this is the NDP says it would do it it were in office. But don't give the party to be in office. It's a little to promise without being able to fulfil performance."

CITIES POLL

Mr. Pearson cited the latest Gallup Poll figures, made public on Wednesday, which he summed up this way:

"Liberals 37 per cent; 19 are for the government. Of the remainder, in round figures, 20 per cent of the people back up their media. Nearly four out of 10 intend to vote Liberal and two other parties together have the support of only a little more than one-third of the people."

His conclusion from the figures:

"The Tories aren't going to get the votes of a majority of Canada's people, and they'll only one way in which they might continue in office. That is if the vote against the government is spread too much among other parties."

He said Social Credit — the party which has made the issue its election fight—is a "regional father than a national party."

THE WAR WIN

He added:

"I believe that we can look to the future of this election with confidence. If we have the will, and if we work, we will win the battle for unity and that our victory will be Canada's victory."

This was the theme as Mr. Pearson called earlier at Liberal party headquarters in Ed Fort Cardt, strolled into an outdoor rally and shook hands with the cheering crowd and met party workers at Burlington during his drive to Hamilton.

He also joined a scrub baseball game of boys at Oakville, batting out four balls to eager youngsters. He was accompanied by Leonard (Red) Cahill, star forward with Toronto Maple Leafs, who proved a skilful attraction with the young people.

Canada Will Remain Out of Nuclear Family

— Diefenbaker

By JAMES NELSON

BROCKVILLE, Ont. (CP)—Canada will remain out of the nuclear family so long as she is "sitting pretty" as the world's Prime Minister Diefenbaker told a Monday audience.

In effect the Conservative leader, campaigning for re-election June 18, subscribed to the ben-the-bomb position with but one qualification: that the public rally a theatre in this industrial city.

"But what is a vote for the NDP? In its practical effect, it's a vote for the Tories. It's a vote for keeping the Diefenbaker-Fleming government in office."

Douglas Sees State Medicine Around World

By RUSS WARD

KITCHENER (CP) — Canadian doctors opposed to national health insurance might find themselves practising in Saskatchewan before long, T. C. Douglas said Thursday night.

The national leader of the New Democratic Party said medicine is rapidly advancing across the free world and doctors soon will have no choice but to accept it.

"It's all over Europe and in Britain now," he told a crowd which filled a fifty-seat collegiate auditorium here.

National health insurance is one of the main planks in the NDP platform and Mr. Douglas vowed that it would be one of the first actions of a CCF federal government.

Doctors with the door for those against what the party would do if doctors opposed a national health plan. Saskatchewan doctors are opposing the new medicare plan due to go into implement July 1.

Mr. Douglas indicated that he did not envisage compulsion in a federal health bill, which would probably be operated by the provinces with Ottawa paying 50 per cent of the cost.

Means Socialism

But he warned that doctors who refused to work under such a plan would find themselves unable to locate anywhere else.

The meeting opened Canada's first CCF council to take control of a large urban area. Old Kitchener handed power to NDP councillors after a 30-year reign. He ran third as a CCF candidate in 1938, coming far behind Conservative Dr. Fred Wetchel who won the seat.

Mr. Douglas said unemployment will become much worse under the Conservatives or Liberals win the election.

Mr. Douglas said there are 400,000 unemployed and higher unemployment.

From the steppe jubilee Sigma of today. Next, the postwar baby boom was due to produce 1,000,000 new workers into the labor market by 1955, and the automation was rapidly reducing labor-needs.

"By 1970 one in every seven jobs held today will be wiped out by automation."

He declared that only the New Democrats have the policy which can create full employment in Canada."

DESERONTO

Electors Vote June 12th on School Issue

DESERONTO — At the regular council meeting on Monday night the date was set for the vote on the school question. Council passed a by-law setting the date for June 12th when the people will be asked to decide if the Napanee High School will join the Napanee and District School Area. There was some discussion introduced by Councillor Almond, in regard to the facts to the voters before the election. Councillor Delow advised that the Temperance Association had been trying to get the details of cost but so far had been unable to do so. As there was no one to second the motion the mayor could not ask for a vote. Some councillors felt that they should take no sides as the people were being asked for the decision.

On recommendation of the police committee council will advertise for applications for another police constable for the town. Council stated that the work was too much for one man. The salary will be $2,400 per year. Resolution was made to open the applications at the next meeting of the police committee. The new constable, if one is hired, will be on probation for one year.

In the correspondence a letter was received from the Department of Highways referring to the town complaints and requests for damages resulting from the pothole at the railway crossing on the canning factory. These claims were turned over to the insurance companies.

A complaint from Father R. J. Fraser about the street in front of St. Vincent de Paul Church was turned over to the street department.

Tyendinaga township council advised the clerk that the name of the road formerly known as the Boundary Road will hereafter be known as Deseronto Road.

The clerk was instructed to contact the McFarland Construction Co. regarding some work on the culverts. The committee was given permission to purchase 300 feet of hose and two new valves for the fire pump.

Astrological Forecast

For May 11
By ROBERT OMARR

Aries (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Tendency to throw caution to winds could cause you to be somewhat reckless. Best to keep tight hold on pocketbook. You cannot buy admiration or friendship with money.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20): Member of family could bring great pride. Check temptation to "tattle-tale." Lack of knowledge. Trying to tell young person what to do could create friction.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21): Restlessness appears to be key. Make most of day by finding constructive outlet for energy, finishing job. Otherwise, you "smolder" into trouble. Stay out of arguments!

Cancer (June 22 to July 21): Trying to "bluff" only reveals fear you are trying to hide. Be yourself. If you don't know, ask. No time to permit secret fears, false pride to cause setback.

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21): Cycle up . . . but you must be willing to take a chance. Be the leader. Push ahead. Show others that your originality is backed by solid knowledge.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 23): Show ability to analyze situation. Nothing to fear if you are frank, truthful. Attend to minor details personally. Others apt to be careless. Be on the job early.

Libra (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): If you are asked question by one at your place of employment, be truthful. No time for cover-up attempts. True friends will stick by you. Others are not worth wasting words on.

Scorpio (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): Expect some opposition, but accept it as challenge. Though you have something to hide, don't admit it at all. Tuboy stirs for recently heard on ability and desire to produce.

Sagittarius (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Others may brag about how someone has handled situation. Your task is to be diplomatic yet firm. Your vision especially clear for dealing with. Trust your own abilities, intuition.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): One who may pose as friend could stand a bit of questioning. Where money is involved, this is day for you to exhibit curiosity. Don't be afraid to ask questions.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Lunar aspect today shows you can face issues, persons. Time for "showdown," and not beating around bush. Listen, but also let others know you have mind of your own.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Memory in section of chart here to do with security, older member of family, means you could receive valuable ideas. Be willing to pull yourself out of . . .

If today is your birthday . . . you are very fond of luxury. Lesson to be learned is that spending money merely to show is carried. You have talents, ability to get what you go after. You are distinctly a giving, creative . . .

General Tendencies: Cycle up for Cancer, Leo, Virgo. Day for reflection, evaluation for Libra . . . when remembers apt to be. They overlooked some facts, while overstressing others.

Police Report Given Lawyer For Gamblers

Disclosed Document Came From Dept.

TORONTO (CP) — A lawyer had accepted for gambling house clients information from Ontario's royal commission on crime that he has a copy of a confidential police document and a covey of his legal colleagues want to know how he got it.

Explanations are being demanded by lawyers for the Liberal and New Democratic parties accredited to the commission, denied access to the document, while Commissioner Mr. Justice W. D. Roach considered overnight a course of action in the bombshell dropped at the inquiry late Thursday.

The party counsel described the issue as "serious" after drawing from Toronto lawyer Walton C. Ross the reluctant admission that F. L. Wilson, a counsel in the attorney-general's department, had given him an investigators' report made the past life of two key witnesses who have testified under commission summons.

TESTIMONY A HIGHLIGHT

The witnesses are Police Chief J. Neil Shrubb of Peterborough, former provincial police gambling squad member whose 183-lifting testimony has been a highlight of the first part hit bloody nose and who has testified to associating with some of Rowe's gambler friends while her unknowing husband was on the squad.

The report disclosed publicly — was prepared by the OPP for the attorney-general's department early this month after Mr. Shrubba testified, and copies are understood to have been served with the force at Chatham before lifting the anti - gambling squad in 1955. The report is dated May 7.

Under prodding by the party lawyers, and to the obvious annoyance of the commissioner, Mr. Ross said the document was obtained by him by the commission lawyer after he had seen it being read by Wilson and Deputy Attorney - General W. B. Common in the inquiry standard.

It was still at his counsel's table as he testified at a witness — decided primarily on another aspect of the inquiry — that the commissioner did not demand its production for the time being.

Purpose of the attorney-general's department obtaining the report was not disclosed. Liberal party lawyer D. A. J. Edmison mentioned only that it dealt with "certain matters" at Shrubb supple in Chatham. He did not indicate how he came by knowledge of it. Mr. Ross's hands he to spread fire on the familiarity lawyer.

13 GAMBLERS' LAWYER

Rose is counsel for Joseph McSweeney and Hugh McSweeney, most potent of Ontario gambling big shots so far disclosed by the inquiry, and for the OPP constable Robert Wright, who had been associated with them of obtaining police information illegally, and Frank Cleveland and 32 relatively small-time gambling associate in Windsor.

Gardner testified at a secret session, with his evidence made public later, that the Rose charges under summons to appear before Chief Shrubb and his wife to be cross - examined by Mr. Rose on their earlier testimony.

The wife had told of meeting and receiving phone calls from Fraley but has denied knowingly giving information or accepting $2,000 in the alleged gratic husband off the gambling squad.

Other denials of reported connections with gamblers came Thursday from OPP deputy Commissioner James Barbatt.

Earlier evidence from gambling circles relayed second hand by police witnesses, indicated the deputy commissioner had provided such tipoffs to McDermott for pay and once

He had never provided tipoffs for accepted money, he said, though in 1957 $1,000 had turned up in a flowerpot under his back porch.

Of the $1,000 incident, he said he had a call in July, 1957, from a man identifying himself as Feeley — whom he did not know at the time — and making an appointment for the following night. Feeley and McDermott arrived next night in a cream Cadillac and began talking about departmental policy regarding gamblers.

Before he accorded them to the door, McDermott had talked of acquiring a property on Highway 400 for a service station and had referred to a "good friend" of Bartlett's in the attorney-general's department. Later, he said it may have been a reference to Wilson, who had done the past life of two key witnesses who have testified under commission summons.

AT LEAST NINE DIE IN BLAST AT TOLEDO FIRM

41 Persons Injured At Chemical Plant

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — A chemical plant, exploded with blinding flash, rocked four down town Toledo Thursday, killing at least nine persons and spewing wreckage over a five-block area.

The explosion and subsequent fire injured 41 persons and left one employee of the Monsanto Chemical Company unaccounted for. Firemen discovered five of the dead as they dug through the charred debris of the three-storey plant Thursday night.

Great clouds of multi-colored smoke—at one point it was a brilliant orange—rolled over the city as chemicals in the plant burned.

FEELS JARRED

"I'm deemed lucky to be alive," commented Wilfred Lauer, passenger a grocery store across the street from the plant. The plant was located on the east bank of the Maumee River. The downtown area is on the west bank, less than a quarter-mile away.

Lauer said he and a customer fled the store after one minor explosion inside the plant. When an alarm stopped ringing, the grocer said he returned to his store.

Then "there was a terrift ere-plosion . . . there were debris flying . . . the building just-sort flopped," he added.

The cause of the blast?

"It could have been caused by a lot of things . . . we just don't know," said R. H. Bahl who, company chief engineer.

Officials declined to estimate the amount of damage.

A building across the street sagged under the force of the explosion. Homes were jolted, cracking plaster, floors and ceilings. Police and firemen evacuated families from the area, shook homes and the possibility of additional explosions threatened.

Campaign Fight Continues To Be Focussed on Prairies

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

A Liberal government, says party leader Lester Pearson, would give Canadians a national nutrition program and an equal deal for Eastern and Western farmers.

He told a rally in the sagging Ontario farm centre of St. Thomas Thursday night the program would include nationwide provision of milk in school children at low cost.

He said Canada's annual milk bill is more than a billion gallons to the West in the Manitoba rural community of Neepawa, where farm spokesman Gordon Churchill described the Liberal farm plat, form as "pie in the sky."

The Progressive Conservative leader declared that a vote cast June 18 for the Tory party would mean a vote in favor of cancelling acreage payments of $40,000,000 a year.

CHAMPIONS CAUSE OF PLAN

Conservative Party Leader T. C. Douglas took a day off from campaigning in Regina, NDP National President Michael Oliver championed the party's medical care program.

He said in Montreal he NDP is the only party serious about a medical insurance plan that would be nation-wide in scope but administered by the provinces.

Social Credit Leader Robert Thompson disagreed. He told a Regina nonbinding meeting no part accept socialized medicine as the only way out until we are certain that conservative methods cannot be provided in other ways."

Today the campaign fight continues in Saskatchewan, Prairies. Mr. Diefenbaker is headed for Lethbridge and Medicine Hat, Alta., Mr. Douglas for Saskatoon and Mr. Thompson for Winnipeg. The Liberal leader planned a tour through Quebec to Eastern Townships with an evening rally in Sherbrooke.

Saturday, Mr. Pearson wound up a two-day southern Ontario campaign swirch with a 125-mile whistle - stop drive from

Royalists Flee to Thailand As Reds Grab All of North

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Royal Laotian Army troops reported fleeing across the Mekong River into friendly Thailand today as government forces in Pathet Lao forces seized Houei Sai more than 100 miles beyond the ceasefire line.

The Pathet Lao troops captured the government outpost on the Mekong border and completed their occupation of northwestern Laos. Houei Sai is manned by neutralist General Prince Souvanna Phouma. Reds flee their battle offensive.

The shattering of the year-old truce stirred growing concern in the U.S. government, which has been pressuring Prince Boun Oum's anti - Communist Vientiane regime to come to terms with the neutralists and pro-Communist Prince Souphanouvong and form a national unity government.

The Vientiane defence ministry announced the pro-Communists moved into Houei Sai Sat today after overrunning government forces holding a rearguard action Wednesday.

U.S. military sources said the Communists were continuing the river into Thailand Conservative Party Leader Diefenbaker, but they said they don't know exactly what happened then.

Royal army units had fought a five - hour battle with the Pathet Lao troops at Tha Pal, 20 miles north of Houei Sai, but failed to check them, the de-

British Tories Swamped In Municipal Elections

LONDON (CP) — The ruling Conservative party today faced the gloomy fact of a mass antigovernment swing on the municipal level.

The Tories on the basis of almost-complete returns lost 561 seats — plus control of 36 town councils throughout England and Wales Thursday, giving way to the Labor party and the resurgent Liberals.

The Conservatives won a scant 13 seats in the key day of the week - long municipal contests. Their net loss was 315 seats in 66 boroughs.

The municipal contests serve as a barometer of the national government's popularity and indicate how the country might vote in the next general election—in 1963 or 1964.

The middle-of-the road Liberals, who recently shocked the Conservatives by capturing the once - impregnable Orpington parliamentary seat, increased within a few votes of another at Hudgood, led Thursday's result with a gain of 339 seats while losing 12.

Before the balloting, they had hoped to gain 50 seats.

Independents shared the Tories' gloom, dropping 122 seats and gaining 23.

The campaign was fought almost entirely on domestic issues, particularly the government's new restraints on wages

LARGEST FIELD IN HISTORY WILL COMPETE

776 Candidates Already Named

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

The list of candidates for the June 18 election is mounting rapidly in what appears to be the largest field in Canadian history.

With the June 4 official nomination day still more than three weeks away, 776 candidates have been named at conventions or by their parties in the 265 federal ridings. The record of 954 was set in 1945 when 1,195 names were entered.

With the choices of Wednesday's meetings included, the Liberals head the list with 266 candidates, followed by the Progressive Conservatives with 262. The New Democratic Party has 238 men and women in the race, the Social Credit 149 and the Communists 13.

The 265 and 1958 totals of 262 and 231 candidates respectively should be passed within a week as the parties seek to complete their slates.

In Ontario, 258 candidates have been named so far for 85 seats, topped by the Liberals with 84, and in Quebec 196 names have been listed for 75 seats with Social Credit in front with 67. There are 67 candi-

Women-Killing Duel Leaves 21 Dead In Algeria

Mother and Daughter Slain in Retaliation

ALGIERS (AP)—Every murder-Secret Army slaying of Moslem women and girls was feared today following the threat of killing of a European mother and daughter.

European terrorists slaughtered 18 Moslem women and a young girl in Algeria Thursday after Moslems were blamed for the slaying of a pregnant European woman in Oran Wednesday.

During the bloody European rampage, the bodies of Mrs. Aiden Pratt, 56, and her 24-year-old daughter, Colette, were found with their throats cut in a villa across the street from government headquarters in Bâbe, outside Algiers. Their slayings were blamed on Moslems, and officials feared that this would incite the French Army to furious new attacks on veiled, white - robed Moslem women and girls.

French authorities today feared that the mother and daughter of Moslem women has pushed Secret Army organization, of Algiers and Oran near the breaking point.

MAY LOOK FOR CONTROL

The authorities feared that Moslem insurgent agents, now helping French police make truth order in Algeria, might be responsible for the mass retaliation in face of the daily reports murders by European fanatics.

The slaughter of Moslem women began at 8a. start of this week, apparently ordered by the Secret Army command as one of the last desperate tactics of their terrorist strategy.

Wednesday, they struck at homes in Oran, enraged by the shooting of seven women, gunned down in the Moslem quarter Thursday bent on vengeance and fighting Moslem gangs encasing their homes.

The Moslems tried to force their way into the homes in two racks, but soldiers and gendarmes intervened, forcing them to their quarter without incident.

Terrorist attacks took 55 lives —all but nine of them Moslem — in the North Africa territory Thursday. Another 28 persons, all of them Moslems, were wounded. Most casualties were concentrated in the Oran and Algiers area, scene of the outlawed Secret Army's clandestine war to block Algerian independence and keep Algeria French.

TAIPEI, Formos (AP) — Twenty-four Chinese actors and actresses have become Buddhists as a film made in Formosa on the life of Siddhartha Gautama, Buddhist faith at a ceremony in the Shan Tho temple in Taipei today. They also reportedly learned about the life and teachings of Siddhartha Gautama so that they were impelled to become Buddhists. Most of them previously had no religion.

Soldiers, Some Carrying Arms, Streaming Into British Colony

HONG KONG (AP) — Hundreds of soldiers and militiamen — some carrying weapons with them—were among refugees streaming into the British Crown colony from Communist China Wednesday, local newspapers report.

Government officials refused to comment on the reports, and reporters are barred from the border area.

Five Hong Kong newspapers, including the conservative English - language Hong Kong Standard reported streams of refugees, during the night and forcing the closing Wednesday of the barbed wire. The paper said villagers along the border and more than 30,000 to 50,000 Chinese were waiting in villages and hillsides on the Chinese side for a chance to slip over.

The Chinese - language New Life Evening Post said it had information from Canton "trusted agent sources" that the communists were planning to let 400,000 leave the country. A newspaper from Canton on May 9 had been "extremely illegal" in handing one-fear from panuits.

Detroit Man Found Guilty Of Murder

TORONTO (CP) — Arthur Lucas of Detroit was found guilty Thursday night of the throat-slashing murder of Theresa Crater last Nov. 21 and was sentenced to be hanged July 25.

The assize court jury deliberated five hours before returning its verdict on the capital murder charge against the 54-year-old Negro.

After the all-male jury delivered its verdict, Chief Justice J. C. McRuer sent the jurors back to their room to decide whether to recommend clemency.

Twenty minutes later they returned and said they did not recommend mercy.

Lucas took the verdict calmly.

During the 10-day trial, the Negro heard evidence from 27 witnesses and examined 185 exhibits.

Crown counsel Henry Bull alleged that Lucas killed Crater in the process of attempting rape against Gus Saunders, also of Detroit, in a narcotics prosecution.

The Crown's case was that Lucas came to Toronto looking for Crater, found him and killed him, and then dressed of Miss Newman, the only witness.

The woman had fled upstairs in the house where the slayings took place to phone police. Her threat was cut.

sed dividends and the uncertainties over Britain's prospective entry into the Common Market.

The swing against the Conservative, in local voting Thursday, almost wiped out the gain of 700 seats the Tories picked up in local "mid-term elections" during the last three years.

Bible Society Names Officers

Some fifteen Belleville churches were represented at the annual meeting of the Belleville Branch of the Canadian Bible Society held in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

Rev. Colin Budd, B.D., secretary for the Quinte District, conducted the worship service.

Reports by the Canadian Bible Society in the total world effort. This included one-quarter of the work in the Far East centred in Hong Kong, one feature of which is the printing of the new Chinese Bible. Another area in which the Canadian Bible Society has a primary responsibility is the many newcomers met each year.

Advice, Psalm of Canadian church schools share largely in this work. A new effort this year was to place a million gospels on the Lord's Day, Sunday. The response of the children was so enthusiastic that instead of one million there were three and a half.

Mr. Budd showed a film depicting the work of the Bible Society on behalf of the Blind.

Officers elected for the ensuing year were: president, Rev. J. E. F. Dresselhuis; vice-president, Rev. Lorne White; secretary, Mr. Mervyn Crewson; secretarial association members, Rev. Arthur Page, Mr. Howard Hall and the president of the Ministerial Association.

The annual meeting was presided over by Rev. R. D. MacLean, the retiring president. Lunch was served by the Ladies of the Sunshine Group of St. Andrew's Guild served an excellent supper.

Deseronto Pupil Expelled For Refusing Oral Vaccine

DESERONTO, Ont. (CP) — A seven-year-old rade 2 pupil at Deseronto Public School has been expelled from classes because his father refused to give permission for her to receive Salk oral polio vaccine.

Donald Gregory was absent from Wednesday on instructions of Dr. D. C. McVicar, Hastings County health officer.

Deseronto is the only municipality in the district that has adopted a compulsory vaccination program.

The boy's father, S. K. Gregory, said if his son is not allowed to return to school he will take the vaccine to produce a doctor's certificate saying it is not advisable for him to take the vaccine.

Deseronto is about 30 miles west of Kingston.

'Career Fair' To Be Held At Hospital

Do you know what it takes to be a nurse? What qualifications would you need to be an X-ray technician? What opportunities are open to you in the field of medical Psychology? Dietetics and other professions, can be answered at the hospital's "Career Fair" on Saturday, May 12th, from 2.30-4.30 p.m. in Education Hall at the Belleville General Hospital.

This is the second year the hospital has held its Career Fair. Medical Nursing, Obstetrics, Occupational Therapy, Physiotherapy, Laboratory Technology, Medical Records, Social Work, X-ray Technology, Cardiology, Technology and Medical Photography — are some of the career possibilities available in the modern hospital setting.

All the above professional personnel contribute significantly to the patient's care and rehabilitation. The "Career Fair" gives you an opportunity to find out first-hand information from the actual people working in these professions.

Booths and displays will be set up, and pertinent literature will be available.

The program is of particular interest to students, parents, and educators. But there is also other aspect as well. This is the community event, everyone has had some connection with it, either as a patient or as a patient's family, and each individual can learn more about what goes on between the time of admission and discharge. The public is cordially invited and urged to attend the "Career Fair" this Saturday.

Edward Loucks Pres. Frankford Liberal Assoc.

FRANKFORD — The Frankford Liberal Association's new executive for the coming election was decided Thursday night when Mr. Temple Bowen, town ball with Ed Loucks gaining the presidency. Mr. Loucks succeeds F. E. Sanderson. Vice-Presidents Mrs. Grey Hird and second and the secretary-treasurer's post was won by Mrs. Ruth Bowen.

Following a welcome by Reeve Frank Rabbe, Liberal candidate Mr. Temple Bowen in a closely attentive audience on the need to provide the fullest possible education for upcoming generations.

He agreed with the standard that any youth capable and eager to achieve his education should be able to go, whether it be technical, professional, practical or skilled and that labor should be given the opportunity of doing so. Education costs being absorbed by the government.

For those seeing advanced education or training at universities, colleges or technical institutes but were unable to do so because of their financial position, he revealed the government should make available interest bearing loans to them once the student had graduated and was working. Mr. Temple said He promised to fight for the establishment of such a policy and its existence for the youth of the country if elected to Parliament.

Turning to political matters Mr. Temple stated he did not recommend the Prime Minister's decision to call an election by saying the Conservative Party's record in governmental finance was "deplorable". He stated that this record exhibited "irresponsible, miraculous" financial management and "irresponsible" financial policies that raised Canada's National debt to such a height that her interest and debt charges, according to Hansard by the drop of the dollar, was in serious jeopardy.

Mr. Temple noted that a seven-billion dollar was now $61.6 billion the last year of the Liberal government (1958) but which now worth $58.6 billion — almost five years of Conservative mismanagement.

He also attacked the Tory government's record regarding U.S. development of Canada's resources. This, he noted, has deteriorated to a point where it is unable to keep up with Canada's natural population increase.

He emphasized that in 1958, the year Diefenbaker, Canada's gross national productivity has increased by 18.7 per cent as compared to the United States' record of 2.5 per cent during the past year.

Mr. Temple exclaimed that this situation was not good enough for Canada, that it was imperative that the country progress at a rate that it would be available for all. A Liberal government would be able to do this, he added.

Permits Total $206,445 for Month of April

Permits for the construction of 18 new residences with a value of $176,900 were taken out in Belleville during April, it is noted by Building Inspector Grant Sickle. Total permits for the month amounted to $206,445, including $17,500 for repairs, and $13,000 for commercial construction.

There were no industrial or institutional permits issued during the month.

Since the beginning of May, however, a permit for $60,000 for the construction of the new Bay "A" office building on Pinnacle Street has been issued.

And a demolition crew is at work tearing down a residence at the southwest corner of Dundas Street and Bleecker Ave.

The reason, to provide a better view and approach to the Mead Johnson Company plant on South Bleecker.

Cloud Hangs Over British Market Talks

By DAVE CANCIA

LONDON (CP)—The shadow of a cloud conjured by international politics appears to hang over the Common Market as ministerial negotiations on Britain's application to join the European trading bloc get under way.

In a profusion of editorials and newspaper articles almost every national newspaper reflect a degree of uneasiness that has been absent from most reports in the past.

One Conservative newspaper The Daily Mail—says Europe has been "plunged into crisis" on the eve of what most papers term the crucial phase in the Common Market talks.

Says The Mail in a frontpage story:

"Two angry old men, Chancellor Adenauer and President de Gaulle, are threatening to shut Europe's door in Britain's face, if they can't make it as hard as possible for her to get in."

The Manchester Guardian, a Liberal newspaper, speaks of an "atmosphere of mild, if suppressed, gloom" in Brussels where the talks begin today.

The jittery atmosphere was partly induced by reports quoting the German chancellor as saying he thought Britain should become an associate member of the German Market because of her Commonwealth commitments.

This was promptly denied by German spokesmen in Bonn, who stressed that Germany always had urged full British membership and that there had been no policy change.

British commentators, however, linked the Berlin crisis with speculation that French British entry to the Common Market might upset his political designs for Europe.

De Gaulle's designs are usually interpreted as calling for a tightly-knit European community revolving around a Franco-German nucleus.

Hamilton, through Caledonia, Cayuga, Port Dover, Simcoe, Port Rowan and Tillsonburg.

"We will apply to agriculture in Central and Eastern Canada the same attention that has been given to the Prairies," he said. "Agriculture is a very important part of our economy," he said in St. Thomas.

The Liberal party would not only continue a subsidy to reduce the selling price of nickel but would expand markets for all kinds of dairy products, A program to industrial activities program would include, in co-operation with the dairy industry and provinces, a school milk scheme.

Mr. Pearson blamed his party for a deficit — ready to clean up Canada after 10 years of Conservative rule.

In 1957, he told some 3,000 persons in an old airport hangar.

He quoted Mr. Pearson as saying that sovereign payments should be made "cautiously because they are based on "haphazard and irregular revenues."

The prime minister also quoted former CCF-NDP House leader Hazen Argue, now a Liberal candidate, as saying the screws applied was "excessive and a pittance" and added that Mr. Argue now was accepted into the Liberal councils of the Liberal party."

Mr. Diefenbaker also spoke to a Neepawa high school and took a dose of cabin oral polio vaccine as part of a local immunization program.

It was on the health question that NDP and social credit spokesmen took issue.

National NDP President Oliver said the fate of the Saskatchewan medicare plan may determine whether a Canada - wide medical insurance scheme is adopted.

NO ONE FORCED

"The plan doesn't force anyone to do anything against his will," he told a Montreal party meeting. "All doctor - patient relationships will not only be protected but reinforced because the patient will not be oppressed by excessive costs of treatment."

Mr. Thompson's view was that "no thinking Canadian denies that health is our most important asset, but it is not necessary to sacrifice freedom to safeguard it."

"Surely we are not yet tired or lazy enough to believe that tasks the easy way out and let the government handle everything from bottle - warming to that last spade pat at the graveside," he told Ma Regina audience.

A properly - designed health insurance plan could work, and there was no reason for anyone to go without health care under the right program, regardless of his ability to pay. The calculations could also be kept to a minimum.

STATES LABOR PLATFORM

If elected, the party would set up a labor-management advisory council, Fact-finding, conciliation and mediation facilities would be provided to solve any disputes which fell under federal jurisdiction.

"Disputes which might harm the national economy or security, which create an emergency threatening the life, well-being or safety of any segment of the Canadian public, will be referred to a special tribunal whose decisions will be final . . . but only when normal procedures fail."

The booklet voiced opposition to outside control of Canadian unions and condemned "flow out of union dues" across the border could be more profitably spent in promoting "the real interests of organized labor in Canada."

Wednesday evening Fire Chief Cecil Ellis of Trenton (left) was presented with an engraved gavel in recognition of his term of office as president of the Hastings and Prince Edward Mutual Aid Association in 1961. The presentation was made by Fire Chief Gerald Vance of Belleville, at the Trenton fire department's annual banquet.

Mr. Thompson's view was that "no thinking Canadian denies that health is our most important asset, but it is not necessary to sacrifice freedom to safeguard it."

"Surely we are not yet tired or lazy enough to believe that tasks the easy way out and let the government handle everything from bottle - warming to that last spade pat at the graveside," he told Ma Regina audience.

A properly - designed health insurance plan could work, and there was no reason for anyone to go without health care under the right program, regardless of his ability to pay. The calculations could also be kept to a minimum.

STATES LABOR PLATFORM

If elected, the party would set up a labor-management advisory council, Fact-finding, conciliation and mediation facilities would be provided to solve any disputes which fell under federal jurisdiction.

"Disputes which might harm the national economy or security, which create an emergency threatening the life, well-being or safety of any segment of the Canadian public, will be referred to a special tribunal whose decisions will be final . . . but only when normal procedures fail."

The booklet voiced opposition to outside control of Canadian unions and condemned "flow out of union dues" across the border could be more profitably spent in promoting "the real interests of organized labor in Canada."

Says Music Has Strong Power To Ease Tension

TRENTON — The theory that cultural exchanges between the West and Iron Curtain countries could do much to ease world tensions, was advanced by Mrs. Dan Cook, Community Concert Association representative from New York at a meeting of the Trenton Kiwanis Club last night.

Mrs. Cooke said that it was a known fact that music had a strong power to ease tension. She told that Community Concert artist had been received with enthusiasm in Russia and that Russian artists had met with a similar reception in Canada and the United States.

Mrs. Cooke spoke of the concert series of being "an asset to Canada." She commented briefly on the Trenton membership campaign, commending the newspapers and the radio for outstanding publicity. Mrs. Cooke said that the local organization had started the campaign with little or no money but that the newspapers and radio station CJBQ had cooperated fully and supplied free advertising to the point where it was considered the best publicity the membership campaign had ever received.

Lt.-Gov. Even Black making his third official visit in the city presented concert standard bearer badges to Jack Richmond and Dieter Hilly, the nine-foot perfect attendance badge will be given to Dean James at a later date as Mr. James was unable to attend last night's meeting.

President Howard Aziz relayed an invitation from the Kiwanis Club of Cornwall to attend its 25th anniversary celebrations. Kiwanis International president, I. R. Wiltbank will be an honored guest. Dates are May 26 and May 27.

Continue Probe Into Cause of $82,000 Fire

TRENTON — Inspector Det Hope of the Ontario Fire Marshal's office of Belleville, told The Intelligencer yesterday that he was continuing investigations into the cause of last Monday's fire at the Canada Crocoting Company plant in Trenton's west end.

Last week's fire, the second in a year at the company's stockpiling yard, estimated $82,000 damage to piles of creosoting poles in the yard.

Fire in Trenton for the month of April is estimated at $100,000.

AHEAD OF SCHEDULE

Assessment commissioner Alan Smith reports that he and his assistant, Cecil Charlton, are one month ahead of schedule in field work connected with the 1963 assessment of residential, industrial and commercial property. In 1961, liable assessment for the town was at $15,000,000. By the end of this year, says the assessment commissioner, his department has added another $60,000 in new building and additions to existing buildings to the total.

Taxes for last year, which must be paid this year, are based on a rate of 67 mills for residential property and 95.4 mills for commercial and industrial property.

Tax bills for 1961 were mailed out on April 30. First instalment of taxes is due May 15, the last date, interest will be charged.

Trenton's tax collector Allan Warren says that tax collections are about normal for this time of year.

Ask Government To Build Dock North of Bridge

TRENTON —Montreal Sprague, secretary of the Trenton Chamber of Commerce, said yesterday that he had written to the Department of Public Works in Ottawa, on behalf of the chamber, asking that some consideration be given to extending the government dock area at Trenton.

Chamber members feel that if another section of the present dock was built north of the bridge (on the west bank of the river), transport ships, even though the town bridge, would be facilitated.

Montreal Sprague, Mr. Sprague said, several boats could pass through the bridge at once, and tie up at the proposed north-side dock.

Mr. Sprague has been advised by the Hon. Leon Balcer, minister of transport that the chamber letter has been turned over to the Department of Public Works, which will be responsible for improvements to the Trent waterway system. Mr. Balcer informed Mr. Sprague that the suggestion would be given every consideration.

Truck Ditched, Road Binder Spilled Out

TRENTON — In the past few weeks, many of Trenton's dirt and gravel roads have received surface treatment. A tanker, driven by Gordon Hinds and Dench Company operations, has been spread on the streets by the dust layer.

Last week's fire, the second in a year at the company's stockpiling yard, estimated $82,000 damage to piles of creosoting poles in the yard.

Fire in Trenton for the month of April is estimated at $100,000.

Ratepayers' Association Is Organized

TRENTON — On Monday the newly-formed Trenton Ratepayers' Association will hold its first public meeting in the town hall over the police station. Already the group has been named chairman of the new organization.

Aims of the new group, as outlined in a draft of the bylaws, are to:

(1) Promote greater interest in local affairs amongst all property owners and tenants.

(2) To voice opinions of the ratepayers in the municipality and protect their interests.

(3) To promote efficiency and economy in local administration.

(4) To obtain just and equitable assessment on all properties.

(5)To promote and obtain a close contact between council, boards and commissions and property owners.

(6) To formulate remedial measures and recommendations to the municipal and advisory bodies with a view to obtaining correction of any injustice to ratepayers.

(7) To co-operate with similar organizations, when desirable, to obtain civic benefits from Federal or Provincial governments.

All persons whose names appear on the municipal voters' list are who are eligible to be municipal votes, are eligible to to join the Association.

An Understatement

The New York Times says that President Kennedy has directed that orders of nuclear warheads be reduced by several thousands.

Most of the reduction will be in the small battlefield type of weapons.

In part, this policy is the result of an already adequate supply of such weapons.

But there is another factor.

"The fear is that the profusion of these weapons increases the chances of accidental explosion or, in the case of conflict, their unauthorized use," we are told.

The reference to the chances of accidental explosion being proportionate to the number of such weapons appears reasonable and logical.

As for the profusion of such weapons increasing the chances of their use in the case of conflict, that must surely rank as the understatement of this or any other year.

If battlefield units possess these weapons, they will almost certainly use them unless they are facing a very weak foe.

To argue otherwise is to ask us to believe that it would be the invariable rule, with no exceptions, that a unit being pounded to pieces by an enemy with superior conventional firepower would choose annihilation or capture, before it would use a weapon which could give it a quick and easy victory over its assailants.

If the British cornered on Crepe, the Russians in the ruins of Stalingrad, the Americans at Corrigedor, the Japs on Iwo Jima, the Germans feeling across the desert before the Eighth Army—all of these forces had possessed tactical nuclear weapons, is it reasonable to suppose none of them would have used them if under orders not to do so.

Possession of nuclear weapons by units in the field almost inevitably means that nuclear weapons will be used. There is nothing to be gained, and much to be lost, by deceiving ourselves on that point.

One Step Remains

Only one small step now separates the European Secret Army in Algeria from the deepest pit of bestiality.

Since the signing of a cease-fire between the Algerian rebels and the French Government, its aim has been to prevent the Moslem population's initiation of terror and counter-terror.

The Secret Army murdered Moslem men indiscriminately, cutting them down on the streets with automatic weapons, blowing them to bits with plastic bombs.

The Moslems remained calm.

The Secret Army has taken the obvious measure. It has started to murder women.

The Moslems are restless.

The Secret Army can probably reap the whirlwind it has been seeking if it will but make the final, logical move.

Murder children.

But perhaps the OAS is afraid.

Perhaps it is afraid the enraged Moslem men will not play fair, will only kill European adults.

Perhaps it is afraid that, if the Moslems' restraint keeps them from matching the OAS in bestiality, the French soldiers may judge the combatants by their deeds and not their creeds, by the color of their acts and not the color of their skins.

And then the Secret Army would be dead.

Which would be as it should be.

Three Bright Students

Members of Hastings County Council last week heard three young students who had won distinction in the county's public schools speaking contest.

Two of the students were twelve years old; one was nine. Two of the students were Canadian-born; one was born in India. Two of the students spoke on "Living Home Town"; one spoke on the need for world government.

High school students studying permutations and combinations could probably tell us the mathematical chances of the one who was nine being the one who was born in India, and the one who was born in India being the one who spoke on world government.

The odds against such being the case are, we feel sure, quite high (being a Canadian we cannot be expected to remember mathematical formulae learned 35 years ago.)

But really, is it any surprise to learn that it was, indeed, a 9-year-old girl from India who dealt with a highly controversial subject of international importance.

Never give way to melancholy; resist it steadily, for the habit will encroach.—Sydney Smith.

Big Appetite For Reading

Oshawa Times

Canadians have been accused of being poor readers, but, according to a recent UNESCO study, Canada imports more printed matter than any other country in the world "and by a sizeable margin," the report says, but it shocks figures. The report shows Canada importing books, magazines and newspapers worth $52 million a year; the United States is a poor second with $24 million, Britain third with $15 million, with France and Belgium well back in fourth and fifth positions.

Commenting on the report, the Financial Post says that "the U.S., British, France and Belgium have highly civilized and literate nations with 200 million inhabitants, together take less than abroad than 56 to 16 million Canadians. The Post goes on to say:

"Canada has no reason for pride in the fact that per capita we import 30 times as much reading matter as the American, or 15 times as much as the mental satellitism rather than mental health. The true explanation of our unique position is that the publishing industry in this country is unable to print sufficient.

Ottawa's present plans for implementing the recommendations of the O'Leary Royal Commission will help somewhat, but even then press would suffocation. But, plainly, if Canada is to survive as a nation with an identity, the fraction of our reading matter supplied by Canadian publishers will have to be greatly increased."

We cannot agree that O'Leary proposals will make any substantial difference in circulation figures. They may give the Canadian publishers a better financial break, but they will not produce more readers. Canada, according to Geneva copyright convention, commercially closer to the other day, will certainly put Canadian books in publishers a strategic position and better able to compete with their American brothers.

American newspapers are not competitive to Canadian papers the lesser bill is accounted for largely by magazines and books. Canadian readers may have a tendency, to underrate the Canadian product, but they cannot be made to shoulder more than a small part of the blame, because at a cost of $28 million, there are not enough of them to support everything like the massive U.S. publishing industry. They may not be big enough, as a group, to support more and better books and magazines than are now available to them.

Our Society Extravagant

Victoria Colonist

There isn't a household in Canada that does not throw out items that would be a godsend to people in other parts. The fancy packaging by stores of goods alone. We speak of the vast extravagance in wrapping paper, reflects the high, wide and handsome living built by society in general in practically all its detailed aspects.

Few, if any people, practise economy in little things in South American valleys, and turnover is the magic word which keeps the economic machine going.

Mr. Philip Gaglardi, British Columbia's minister of highways, has regained his driving licence with the end of a period of suspension and says he may never drive again.

"What can you do," he asks, "with so many after you all the time?"

The answer seems simple enough: exercise the law, as most drivers do.

'I'll read the really private bits out in a whisper.'

If the plans of the Parks Commissioner attain realization there will be ball games at the Belleville Exhibition Park every night in the week throughout the summer of 1942. The Commissioner sold the men's softball moguls on the advantages of playing their league games at the Fair Grounds and the chairman of the park now has most of the Belleville and District Softball League play games at the Exhibition Park each Monday, Wednesday and Friday throughout the season.

Many hundreds of cents years and under will be conspicuous by their absence from city streets as a recommendation passed by the city council in Victoria Day will be put into effect. The city fathers recommended strongly that the Belleville Police Commission give the city police force to enforce the provisions of a by-law which states that shoes of size seen and under must attend school from city streets after nine o'clock.

The City Council in committee on Monday Thursday night, recommended that a donation of one thousand dollars be given to Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic Fund. This amount will swell the total already contributed for the maintenance and support of the Clinic. Members of the Hastings Patriotic Committee has signified its intention of donating a like amount, while Prince Edward County has already contributed $500.

Wages Climb In Europe

Wages are beginning to climb in Europe.

Reports of the firms from the United States are finding the low rates no longer adequate. With plenty of unemployment, men and women can pick and choose. They can seek jobs paying more).

The 'Real Thing'

Kitchener-Waterloo Record

Real gold, rather than gold-plated jewellery, is the latest costume jewelry cheaper and more durable, paradoxical as it seems.

The trick developed by a research laboratory is to deposit a fine film of gold on steel wire, then cut the wire to make costume jewellery in place of the solid brass or brass-coated wire normally used.

The result is the "real thing," even if only five-millionths of an inch thick.

Strictly Personal

Most Censors' Cultural Level Low

By SYDNEY J. HARRIS

A friend of mine wanted to know what all the fuss was about in the current "Tropic of Cancer." He walked into his neighborhood cigar store, which also sells books, and asked for a copy.

"We don't deal that sort of thing here," said the proprietor smugly. My friend looked at the bottom shelf of the rack, on which were displayed dozens of cheap, pitiful magazines and pornographic booklets.

As the late Elmer Davis' words: you can't keep a good thing down. "It would almost favor a censorship myself if I thought we could get one that would pass Aristophanes and suppress Mickey Spillane," he said, "if we could get it under say political or police supervision, would probably be a board that would pass Carroll and suppress Aristophanes."

For some strange reason that only a psychiatrist could explain, Americans have found ways cracked down on serious works of art, while permitting the most vicious trash to go unmolested. Our greatest playwrights, novelists and poets are the censor's wrath, but the lewd magazines, the barbarous comic books, the sadistic fiction continues to cater to depraved tastes.

Plays suppressed

As far back as 1926, the play "Sapphira" was suppressed in New York — because the heroine carried a baby out of a man, Ibsen's "Ghosts" was taboo for many years, as was Garden's presentation of Salome," Shaw's "Mrs. Warren's Profession" was censored in this country.

Eugene O'Neill's "Strange Interlude" was cut out of Boston in 1929, along with Sean O'Casey's "Within the Gates." Lillian Hellman's "The Children's Hour," was suppressed in New England, Providence and Chicago, while "Of Mice and Men," Memphis banned out Sherwood's "Idiot's Delight."

Good literature has suffered even more than the drama. Before censorship was alone, Boston removed from its shelves Dark Laughter by Sherwood Anderson, "What I Believe" by Bertrand Russell, "An American Tragedy by Theodore Dreiser, "Jurgen" by Cabell, "Elmer" by Sinclair Lewis, "The World of William Clissold" by H.G. Wells, "The Genius" by Theodore Dreiser, and "Arrowsmith" by Sinclair Lewis.

During a wave of "obscenity" hysteria in the 1930's, U.S. customs officials seized a wide-scene such classic works as Aristotle's Poetics, and dramatic (which is included in the Great Books course), Defoes "Moll Flanders," Boccaccio's Nights in the Boston transcript, Voltaire's Candide, Rabelais' "Droll Stories, and Voltaires' Candide.

And, during the same time, the police commissioner in Chicago banned the production of Sartre's serious drama, "The Respectful Prostitute, while the movie censors banned such films like "Maid in the Ozarks ran for years. Only the name of the censor, and the reason he must be fought: his motives must be unmasked, or the cultural level is generally zero.

Babies Should Be Fed Vegetables at Six Months

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: My three-year-old granddaughter refuses to eat vegetables.

Isn't this wrong? How can we get her started on them? She hasn't been eating well for a year. — Mrs. C.H.

Of course it's wrong, but it's rather late to capture an easy solution. A child should be given vegetables at about five or six months — and always have had them, or proved very distasteful long before that.

There may be a little fuss in some instances over the change from purees to a lumpier consistency, but the babies soon get over it.

Evidently your grandaughter wasn't started properly. Perhaps vegetables weren't offered at the right time; possibly (and this does indeed happen) some adult in the family refuses vegetables, and the child has learned to refuse them, too.

The main point to bring out at the ages of three, it will just cause a ruckus and upset everybody. Eating, like all else you can with juices, purees, applesauce, occasional meat and potatoes.

Then, at dinner offer a small serving of cooked vegetables, a puree or squash, all of which are to be tasted, but not forced. One of these days she will try a taste — and find that vegetables are not bad, after all.

Be interim, keep her diet well-balanced.

She should be checked by your doctor to see if something more chronic infection may be interfering with her appetite.

Dear Dr. Molner: After taking birth control pills I get terribly dizzy and nauseated, with headache and backache, and am wondering why some people are allergic to them, while others have no trouble at all. I have heard there is a new pill on the market. — Mrs. K.M.M.

I doubt that "allergic" is the correct word to describe the drug is potent, and like any powerful drug, can have side effects. Some people can't tolerate it, others can.

The symptoms may be due to the drug and are not unusual with it. There may also have been other conditions which may (or may not) be triggered by it. Refer your doctor and let him decide what is involved, or whether you can tolerate drugs with out you.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have read a great deal about the odors of the human body and bad breath. Why is milk singled out? Is it more responsive to infection than other foods? — D.H.

One very good reason is its universality. We use it and the test milk constantly in all regions of the country. It is a product that is fresh daily. We can take samples, under identical conditions, at points thousands of miles apart, and thus get a comparison. No, milk is not more sensitive to radiation. It's just an excellent gauge for us to use.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am 19 years old, five feet seven inches tall and weigh 136 pounds. I am flat-chested. Which my mother attributes to constantly slouching as a child. She suggests hormone shots or pills. What is your opinion? — Sara S.

Your weight is about right for height and age — and if your bust develops in the future, it won't be the first time this has happened. Feminine figures vary greatly. Stooping on your shoulders certainly has nothing to do with it. Unless some proved deficiency in health or abnormality of endocrine cycle is present, stay away from hormones.

An Arms Race Which Is Won

Denver Post

The world is terribly concerned with the big arms race between Russia and the West to be ahead. Happily, we have discovered a great arms race in the key that appears to have been settled.

The electrical industry for many years has been fond formidable offensive weapons in the hands of small forces. Bill pellets and rocks propelled in the Slingshot David.

Now engineers at General Electric have developed the ultimate defensive weapon. They have lamp refractors of plastic which are virtually indestructible. Rocks and BB pellets bounce off them.

In a real arms race, of course the small boys would be seeking a way to overcome the defensive weapon. In this case, fortunately, commonsense ordinances in many communities serve as a check against the use of more powerful weapons. Whether weapons of residential areas prohibit the firing of that ultimate offensive weapon, the BB gun.

We wish world affairs were this simple.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

ON BEING HARD BOILED

I believe we all have quite the average number of faults and minor vices attached to the ordinary human being, but let us work to the end that we are trying to combat hard-boilerism and prevent it from mastering us!

How much better to take up our residence in the "soft" rather than "hard-boiled" house! Not that we all are not exactly this at times, but the important is to come as free from this disease as is humanly possible.

To be "hard-boiled" may save you money in certain instances, but it is sure to lose you friends. And a friend is beyond all price.

The long game is the only game worth playing in life.

Hard-boilerism is a short cut to wealth, but the endless route in this world to personal happiness!

When it comes to success and happiness, take the longest route. It is not only the safest, but the only one that gets you to the destination you desire.

One of the most beautiful stories I ever read was "The Mansion" by Dr. Henry Van Dyke, who died in 1933. It was published in a very popular man, is' business who became hard-boiled" toward those who confided most, and especially toward his son, that it took the sweetness out of him to wake him up.

He seemed to see the poorest of earth as the greatest, and the richest as the poorest.

When he was free of this mortal tree take upon color and begin to feel gently to the lap of immortal influence, then a man is made to feel the futility of all effort, all gain, all acclaim, excepting as they sweeten, glorify and refresh the faint, frail heart groping for hope and courage.

Hospital Assoc. Against Moves Aimed to Abolish Schools for Nursing

By JACK BENT

TORONTO (CP)—The Canadian Hospital Association planned a campaign in Ottawa Thursday to counter attempts at abolishing or abolishing hospital schools of nursing.

Nurses hospitals are the largest single employers of graduate nurses, they must continue to play a large part in the field of nursing education," it said.

The royal commission on health services.

The association, the nation's central forum with Canada's professional nursing organizations, which have been advocating gradual shift away from hospital schools, some provincial governments and officials of the hospital association.

The Canadian Hospital Association was backed up by the Canadian Nurses Association. Both organizations presented briefs to the royal commission on health services.

The briefs were made to get away from using nurses to "fill in the gap" on hospital staffs when graduate nurses are not available for duty, said Miss Girard, acting director of nursing at the University of Montreal.

If the student is at the hospital, she is "inevitably accessible" to the ward.

Mother Mailla, Quebec province's chief inspector of Catholic Hospitallers of St. Joseph and a director of the CHA, replied that nurses' hospitals' staffs are used only to the extent necessary to give quality training.

Miss Girard said the public "doesn't feel we are getting good nurses any more."

Chairman H. H. Hall interjected that no one has told the commission that Ad nurses are not graduates of a hospital in Canada. Those trained in this country were "welcome in any part of the world."

TOO MUCH PUBLICITY

Mrs. J. A. Ayles of Ottawa, honorary vice-president of the hospital association, said too much publicity has been given to the alleged "drudgery endured by student nurses."

In its formal submission the hospital association said: "Even if the theoretical aspects of nursing education are taken away from the hospital, the nurse must still obtain her clinical training and practical experience in the wards of the hospital.

The Ontario Hospital Association touched on the same point, saying: "We do believe practical experience in the actual hospital environment continues to be a most important ingredient.

The CHA nevertheless welcomed a study being carried out by the Canadian Nurses Association on how nurses should be educated to meet the needs of the community.

To Start Giving Sabin Vaccine Next Friday

Administration of Sabon oral vaccine for the prevention of Polio and possible cure will be started in this city next Friday according to the Medical Officer of Health, Dr. McColl Metcalfe. This vaccine will be administered in addition to any polio vaccine that has been taken before and every member of the family from the youngest to the oldest is recounted to take it.

The first clinic will be held in the schools one week from today, May 28th and will be continued until all schools have been covered. In addition to the pupils, there will be clinics at all schools in the reformatories where adults may receive their vaccine. The regular clinics will be held in the Health Department offices on Pinnacle Street.

The schedules for the different schools and clinics will be published next Monday.

Film Council Gives Course To Operators

There was a meeting of the Belleville and District Film Council at the Corby Public Library on Thursday afternoon.

In the absence of Mr. Wright, the president, the meeting was called to order by Mr. G. Hotchinson. Several items of interest were brought before the council.

Of interest to many is the course being given the projectionists. Such a course will be given tonight at the library by Mr. Skillings, the National Film Board representative from Kingston. Films of various nature made available for this course being given to 18 who had registered for the same. Mr. Skillings attended the meeting and remained in Belleville to give the course Thursday night.

Miss Doherty, on behalf of the council, expressed appreciation to Mr. Skilling for taking charge of this course. Mr. Skillings has had much experience in giving such courses and stated that the results had been most satisfactory.

ZONE MEETINGS

The annual zone meeting of the Film Councils will be held in Peterborough on Saturday, May 15. Miss Durie, the Reverend J. Irwin of Cavy-ing Place, and Mr. Hotchinson will attend the meeting as representatives from this district.

Mr. Hotchinson welcomed to the meeting Sergt. Bletchford, Belleville Safety Officer, who is keenly interested in the use of films and in film work. He has some plans in the making and Miss Delaney pledged the support of the Belleville and District Film Council in aiding him in this very worthy undertaking.

There is an excellent Walt Disney film, "I'm No Fool in Water," which deals with water safety. Due to the number of requests for this film, especially at this time of year, it was suggested by Miss Delaney that perhaps we might consider adding this film to the Film Library. This met with the approval of all and the film will be obtained as soon as possible.

Other items of interest were dealt with satisfactorily by the executive. Some matters will be looked into before the next meeting which must receive further consideration.

Glenn's God Not So Small As to Be Seen

SEATTLE (AP)—The Russian says no God in space, but American didn't think it's to see one.

"The God-I pray to," said astronaut John Glenn Thursday, "is not small enough that I expect to see him in outer space."

When Russian cosmonaut Gherman Titov was here Sunday he was asked about his religious feelings during his 17 orbits of the earth. He replied:

"I looked around. I saw no God nor angels."

"I don't think my belief in my God can be limited to any little trip into space, I might take," was Glenn's answer to the same question.

Today the Vatican radio criticized Titov for his remark:

"It was no wonder that Titov saw neither God nor angels during his flight," said the Vatican broadcast.

"Neither did Glenn, a believer, see them. But he insisted them, certain that they saw him."

10th Belleville Scouts, Cubs Hold Father-Son Banquet

A social highlight of the 10th Belleville Cubs and Scouts season, with approximately 100 in attendance was the banquet held on Monday (May 14th) in the Scout Hall.

Mrs. Dan Ross (B.C.) issued a call to order, at 6.30 p.m. and the Rev. C. W. Coleman asked grace, followed by the singing of the National Anthem. Toasted the Queen, and Scout Brian Smith offered a toast to the Visitors, and to Mr. Ross for so ably giving an appropriate reply.

With the conclusion of these opening ceremonies, all present sat down to the Cubs and Scouts dinner served by the Ladies' Auxiliary under the leadership of Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Bertrand. Once the dinner was over Mr. Ross expressed a few words to those present and introduced the head table which included the Rev. C. W. Coleman; D.D.M.C. Harold Parkinson; A.D.C. Gordon Russel; Erick Tuck (group committee rep.); Cub Master Thomas; William Riddle (rep. from Dept. of Lands and Forest).

Scout Victor Sharat thanked the ladies for the wonderful dinner and Scout Secretary Gordon Bunell gave a short speech on Scouting in general and presenting to the Thomson newspapers in the British Isles. He graduated from Ryerson and advertising supervisor for the London (Ont.) Free Press. Mr. Alexander will be flying to London, England, May 19, returning to the end of June to be married to his wife Gwen, Joyce Alexander, and their two children, to England by sea. Mrs. Joyce Alexander was also born in Belleville, being the daughter of Mr. T. M. (Tom) Webster, formerly manager of T. and J. Cash in this city.

International Soroptimists Hold Conference in Toronto

Women's Institute

ELDORADO W.I.

ELDORADO—The Eldorado and Shannodokam Women's Institute held its May meeting at the home of Mrs. William Irwin with 15 members, three visitors and four children present.

The president, Mrs. Clayton Blackburn opened the meeting and Mrs. Harold Chambers, secretary-treasurer read the minutes of the previous meeting. Correspondence was read and business was dealt with mentioning the district annual which will be held at Ivanhoe on May 17th and everyone is invited to attend. On May 9th at the Institute hall one of the Belleville Sales Barns.

After business Mrs. Rex Rollins of Cooper, district president was introduced. With this meeting dealing with agriculture Mrs. Rollins chose as her topic "Agriculture by F. Young of Guelph" and also read a paper on gardens by Mrs. McKeither.

Mrs. William Robinson gave the medic entitled "Love of the land lies deep in the heart of man" and Mrs. Arthur Robinson read a poem. A reading was given by Mrs. Clayton Blackburn "Planning your own garden" and also readings were given by Mrs. Ken Bateman.

A vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. Rollins and also to Mrs. Irwin for her hospitality and to all those who had helped with the program.

Refreshments were served by the hostess and her assistants, after which a social hour was enjoyed.

Ideal Govt. Girl Will Be Chosen May 16

OTTAWA (CP)—Lost in the bedrock of the big promotion campaign is a delightful rash of sentiments in Ottawa that will lead up to the May 16th balloting for the ideal government girl.

This is no ordinary, Miss Universe competition. It's a job to finding the finest grain of sand on Prince Edward Island.

Ottawa possesses about 18,000 females in permanent service. And if you view them pouring forth from their offices at noon hour you get the impression they are all beautiful, brainy and bountiful.

However, each year since 1954 the Civil Service Athletic Association has been genially sifting through nominees and contemplatively surveying the girl—as a spokesman put it—"that you would most like to have in your office."

None of the nominated so far immediately brings offices to mind.

Want Certain Detergents Outlawed

TORONTO (CP)—The Ontario section of Canada Thursday passed a resolution recommending legislation to outlaw the use of certain synthetic detergents.

The resolution was passed on the last day of the division's annual meeting and asked that the matter be studied at the association's national meeting in Montreal next month and submitted to the federal government.

Synthetic detergents commonly in use in Canada, the resolution said, have a molecular structure not susceptible to biological decomposition and cause many problems in sewage treatment.

Dr. D. E. Dickey, past-president of the London, Ont., CAC section, moved the motion which was passed that the incoming executive request a meeting with vice-president, Ottawa, a vice-president.

WEDDINGS

MANN — FLEMING

A lovely doubleringing ceremony was performed in the Trinity United Church, Meaford on Saturday, April 21st at 2.00 p.m. when Marilyn Joyce Fleming, Meaford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Fleming, Meaford, was united in marriage to Gerald Mann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mann. The Rev. R. A. Milley, officiated for the double ring service. White gypsophilia and yellow snapdragons and yellow candles.

Mrs. Emma Reid, church organist, rendered the wedding music and Mrs. Jean Reid, soloist. Mr. James Churchill, of Toronto, was organist. The bride, who accompanied herself on the harp, wore a floor length gown of white satin and chantilly lace over taffeta. The fitted bodice with sweetheart neckline was accented in pearl and crystal and the tapering sleeves ended in lily-points over the wrists. She wore a tiara of pearls and crystals with shoulder-length veil of French lace and carried a cascade of red roses mingled with lily, stephanotis and ivy.

She was attended by Mrs. Kenneth Adams, of Meaford, sister of the bride, as matron of honor, and by Mrs. Donald Fleming, of Meaford, and Miss Jean Mann, of Foxboro, as bridesmaids. Little Barbara Armstrong, was flower girl.

The matron of honor was gowned in yellow nylon, styled with lace bodice, having a sweetheart neckline and short sleeves, with full skirt.

The bridesmaids were identical gowns to that of the matron of honor's, in turquoise shades. They wore matching head dresses, shoes and short white gloves and carried cascade bouquets of yellow and turquoise shaded 'mums with green fern.

The flower girl's dress was in yellow nylon, with long sleeves and frilled bodice. She wore a headband of daisies and carried a tiny basket of turquoise and yellow 'mums with ivy.

Mr. Arthur Mann, father of the groom, attended as groomsman, while Donald Fleming, of Meaford, and Mr. Ross Fleming, of Foxboro, ushered the guests.

The reception, which followed the ceremony, was held at the I.O.O.F. Hall, where the bride's table was appointed with white damask and centred by a three-tier wedding cake, topped by a miniature bride and bridegroom and misted about the base with white tulle. The bridal bouquets added a lovely touch.

The guests were received by the bride's mother in a floor length lace dress with nylon overlay, matching accessories and corsage of red roses, for the daughter's marriage.

The bridegroom's mother also assisted in the receiving line wearing a two-piece gown in turquoise shades with white matching accessories, and corsage of pink 'mums.

For the wedding trip around Lake Ontario, the bride chose a navy blue double knit suit trimmed with white and red; white accessories and corsage of white 'mums.

Out-of-town guests present from Ottawa; Toronto; Peterborough; Belleville; Foxboro; Picton; Wellington; Maxwell and Ricconfield.

The bride was entertained prior to her marriage at a kitchen shower at Madoc, with Mrs. G. C. Moon, as hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Mann are residing in Belleville.

REGIN FESTIVITIES

REGINA (Reuters) — Three days of festivities began here today in honor of the wedding Monday of Princess Sophia of Greece to Don Juan Carlos, grandson of the Spanish pretender. Some 70 members of Europe's royalty, including King Olav of Norway and Prince Rainier and Princess Grace of Monaco, will take part in the celebrations.

PEAKE — REID

Bridge Street United Church was the setting on the Trinity Sunday, April 15, at 2.00 p.m. for a very pretty wedding when Marilyn Jean Reid, Sherry St., Davis, pastor of the church, united in marriage Vera Beth Reid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Reid, of Plainfield to Ronald Francis Peake, also of Belleville, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Peake of Campbellford, Ontario.

The bride was attractively gowned in a suit of white, with white accessories and white orchid corsage.

Mrs. John Green, attended her sister as matron of honor, gowned in light-green suit with white accessories and corsage of yellow roses and white feathered carnations.

Mr. Robert Peake attended his brother.

The reception was held at the bride's home, which was tastefully arranged with pink and white streamers and pink wedding bells, which cascaded to the four corners of the bridal table, centred with a tiered wedding cake upon a white lace cloth, topped with a tiny bride and bridegroom and flanked with pink and white candles in silver holders, the bride's bouquet and that of the matron of honor adding a pretty floral accent.

The bride's mother, who was gowned in navy blue sheer with white accessories and corsage of red roses and white feathered carnations, received the guests, assisted by the bridegroom's mother, who was in royal blue with white accessories and corsage of red roses mingled with feathered white carnations.

For the honeymoon in Niagara Falls, the bride travelled in a white suit with green accessories and cedar corsage.

Guests attending were from Belleville; Plainfield; Campbellford; Point Anne; Peterborough; Hastings and Trenton.

Mr. and Mrs. Peake are residing at Belleville, R.R.1.

The bride was the honored guest at a shower given by the staff of Dr. and Mrs. Cash Company, of which the bride is an employee and at another with Mrs. Raymond Cassidy as hostess and Mrs. Bill Crozier as co-hostess.

Community Friends Honor Young Couple

2ND THURLOW — Mr. Sam Dean attended the wedding of his brother, Mr. Garnett Dean, the RCAF, Camp Borden, to Roberta, formerly of Moneymore, who was married at the home of the bride's parents at Owen Sound, recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean, of Mt. Sherman Reid and Mr. Sam Dean of the community joined with friends, relatives and neighbors at the LOL hall at Moneymore on Friday evening and Jean were presented with a substantial gift of money.

In the evening a well-attended social was held, with all the guests taking part with the occasion, caused lots of excitement.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean will reside at Cold Lake, Alberta, where the bridegroom is stationed wit hthe RCAF.

OPEN CANUCK SHOWING

BORDEAUX, France (CP)—A big exhibition of Canadian art opens today in this city of southwestern France. The exhibition, part of the annual festival of Bordeaux, involves more than 200 works.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Webb are shown following their recent marriage in St. Thomas Anglican Church, Belleville. The bride is the former Lou Ann Jean Stickle, daughter of Mr. Guy Stickle, Belleville, and the late Mrs. Stickle. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Webb, Wallaceburg, Ontario. WEDDING — STICKLE

A pretty springtime wedding was solemnized in St. Thomas Anglican Church, Belleville, on Saturday, May 5th, at high noon when Lou Ann Jean Stickle, daughter of Mrs. Guy Stickle, Belleville, and the late Mr. Stickle was united in marriage to Mr. Gordon Clement Webb, Cockville, only son of Mr. and Mrs. George Webb, of Wallaceburg, Ontario. The Rev. Canon E. R. McConnell, rector of the church officiated, assisted by the Rev. Gordon Holden, Wallaceburg, grandfather of the bridegroom.

Pink and white carnations adorned each side of the chancel steps and white aisle bows designated the guest pews.

Your choir boys accompanied by the church organist, Mr. D. Davenport, provided the traditional wedding music preceding the ceremony sang "Praise My Soul O King of Heaven".

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Ray Stickle of Bralorne, British Columbia was radiantly lovely in a floor-length bridal gown of imported brocade, featuring a round neckline and princess style bodice with full-length sleeves. Her headdress was a cluster of tiny seed pearls which held in place an elbow-length veil of silk net, adorned with pearls and sequins. She carried a bouquet centred with a solitary white orchid interspersed with lily buds and white heather bells.

The bride's attendant, Miss Alma Webb of Wallaceburg, sister of the bridegroom, was dressed in blush pink street-length dress of nylon chiffon with taffeta and organza bodice and matching headdress and white accessories.

The groomsman was Mr. Alex Stickle, Oshawa, brother of the bride and the ushers were Mr. Harold Wood, Belleville and Mr. Arthur Brewster of Trenton.

Following the ceremony the reception was held in the Masonic Temple where the hall was appropriately decorated with pink streamers and pink white carnations and the bridal table was most attractive, centred with a three-tier wedding cake and bridal bouquet, flanked by silver candelabras. The bride's mother received in a tiba and white figured silk linen sheath and matching dusty rose lace accessories and corsage and Mrs. Webb wore accessories matching her gown, assisted by the bridegroom's mother, who wore an Elizabeth Taylor blue sheath dress, pink carnation corsage and navy and white accessories.

For the wedding trip to Wallaceburg, Virginia. Jamestown and points south the bride chose a beige wool suit with pink collar, green and brown accessories and a bronze 'mum corsage.

Out-of-town guests were present from Dorrie; Lindsay; Wallaceburg; Orillia; Bralorne, B.C.; Brampton; Mallorytown; Frankford; Kirkland Lake; Cockville; Toronto; Colborne, and Carrying Place.

Prior to her marriage the bride was honored at three showers, a pantry shower at the home of Mrs. Harold Wood; a miscellaneous shower arranged by girl friends and at a crystal shower held at Tea Pond, Montreal by her co-workers.

St. Andrew's WMS Discusses 'Downtown Church Work'

At the regular monthly meeting of the afternoon group of the Women's Missionary Society of St. Andrew's Church, members received a most interesting talk concerning the topic, "Chase Up" read by the president, Mrs. J. Bagshaw.

The feature of the meeting was a panel discussion on "Downtown Church Work", presented by Mrs. John Craig and assisted by Mrs. Ross Sprague and Mrs. L. Eggleton with Mrs. C. Clarke as moderator. Mrs. J. B. Miller and Mrs. E. Pidgeon, who were reported ill, and for whom Mrs. Craig requested remembrance in prayer, are now home from their early recovery.

Mrs. Craig pointed out that the subject would be dealt with in two parts, the second part to be presented at the June meeting.

Many problems of the present day downtown church were brought to the attention of listening members. A letter received from an interested group in one church in Montreal was read and a request for suggestions as to how they might overcome their problems. Also a letter from Korea to greatly decreased membership, due to the past few years despite increased population.

QUESTIONS

Such questions as how to keep people interested in the church during the long summer supply of leaders; how to overcome lack of interest in trying to deal with the situation, were listed. Another important problem was that of where to start in dealing with these problems.

A search for some of the answers was made in open discussion by the congregation which felt that the place to start was with the young and continued private prayer by individual members of the church as well as by the congregation as a whole.

Several other thoughtful suggestions were offered and discussed, forming a basis for the continuation of the study group of this important study.

In response to a vote of thanks, by the president, of the County Home Visitation from June 3 to 9, services will be enhanced.

It was noted that the summer Presbyterial rally would be held at Amherst Island on May 31st, rather than May 30th as previously indicated. The speaker for the occasion will be Mrs. Ryal Gerrard, provincial president. All members wishing to attend will be transported by chartered bus leaving from the church at 8.30 a.m.

The president announced also that a W.M.S. mission study would be held at Albert College from July 9 to 13. The opinion was expressed that this is a most worthwhile course of study and members are urged to attend. The appointment of an official delegate is pending but it was suggested that the past member of the W.M.S. may attend the evening sessions.

Following the close of the meeting, a social half hour was enjoyed with tea and cake.

U.W. Club Closes Bridge Marathon

The closing party of the Unlimited Workers' Club Bridge Marathon was held last evening at the home of Mrs. H. W. Burns, Dundas St. E.

Prize winners for the evening were Mrs. H. T. Floyd, Mrs. A. S. Lewis, Mrs. J. Rae and Miss K. Daly (hidden score).

In the marathon play-off for top position, Mrs. P. T. Siebert and Mrs. R. G. Walsh won honors from Mrs. J. L. Acton and Miss Frances Maine.

For the lown Miss E. Ferguson and Miss N. Merry were the victors over Mrs. R. G. H. Cuthbert and Mrs. L. R. Findlayson.

All seven tables enjoyed a pleasant evening.

Mrs. J. E. McArthur expressed the appreciation of the players to the convenors, Mrs. J. L. Acton and Mrs. J. E. Pugh.

Sunday School Lesson

Battle for Survival

By ROY L. SMITH

The Roman Catholic Church martyrs who died that the faith has rendered all of Christendom might live, a service of inestimable value by keeping alive, through the centuries, the memory of the goes on without being compelled to face the issue of martyrdom. True, there have been those occasional incidents on the mission fields when individuals have been subjected to indignities, and in a few cases actual killings. But generally speaking, the Church has lived at peace with the world.

CHINA AND CHRISTIANS

As far back as 1938 the Chinese Communists gave warning of what the Christians might expect if Communism ever came to power. Outrages were perpetrated on individual missionaries and missions but the temporary victory of the Chinese nationalists held back the flood for a few years. With the takeover of 1949, however, the floodgates were opened and communist hatred of Christians and Christianity was given free reign. The stories that have come out of China since that time have rivalled anything that occurred during the days of the Roman persecutions.

CHINA AND THE TIBETANS

No more tragic story will ever be told, once all the facts are brought to light, than the true story of Tibet. Politically speaking, China has some small claim to the land by virtue of ancient treaties, occupation and international agreement. But when the Red Chinese moved in on the land in violation of treaties, agreements, and international law, the mercy-dyrdoms mounded to the point that they were quite equal to the horrors of the Nazi concentration camps. The fact that the chief sufferers were Buddhist priests does not, in any way, mitigate the record of killings and outrages.

CHINA AND CUBA

Following the lead of Russia and China in the manner of mercy-dyrdoms, the communist government of Cuba has added a long list of names to the tragic roll of Catholic martyrs. In the implacable hatred of all communists for religion, we can get a fore-glimpse in Cuba of the fate that awaits the Christian forces wherever communism comes to power.

The International Sunday School lesson for May 13: "Suffering for Christ's Sake." Acts 12:1-5; 1 Peter 4:1 through 5:14.

RUSSIA AND RELIGION

Ever since the Revolution of October 17, 1917, in Russia, incessant war has been made upon all the institutions of religion. And yet the church has survived — in part at least because it has come to terms with the government (whatever its relations may be with the Party). But vast sections of the land have been left without religious guidance, and literally thousands of communities, especially in the rural districts, have been deprived of their priests, their churches, and all lay ministrants.

It is a fact, of course, that the Russian Church, as an institution, has survived, but its activities have been curtailed strictly, and its field of operations has been reduced decade by decade.

There is a war on against organized religion on every continent on the globe. It is a time verily of battling for survival. A defeat anywhere is a defeat everywhere.

Farm Policy Unveiled by Liberal Leader

By ROBERT RAE

ST. THOMAS (CP)—A "farm policy of expanding markets designed for both eastern and western farmers was advanced Thursday night by Liberal Leader Lester Pearson.

He unveiled the policy at a public rally here, the wind-up point of a two-day motor tour that took him from Toronto to industrial Hamilton, then into the heart of Ontario's rural southern counties—the tobacco country.

"We will apply to agriculture in central and Eastern Canada the same consideration, the same attention that has always been given to the grain-growing part of our economy," he told about 1,000 persons at the Elgin Collegiate, biggest hall in this town of 22,000.

The Liberal leader was to fly today in a chartered plane from London, Ont., where he spent Thursday night, to Montreal to take his campaign into Quebec's Eastern Townships.

TIES UP TRAFFIC

His cavalcade Thursday rolled through ridings held at the last Parliament by Conservatives, with stops for brief receptions at seven communities, then to St. Thomas where a gala welcoming parade tied up traffic along the main street for almost an hour.

Mr. Pearson was escorted into the town in a cavalcade here that included pipe bands, bugle bands, drum majorettes, mounted horsemen, Indians and honking automobiles.

He told the night rally that Liberal farm policy "will recognize" that there has been a shift in farm problems, with western wheat surpluses reduced but other farming troubles "relatively more severe."

"No farm problem in Canada today is more important, more critical than that of the dairy industry."

He said the butter surplus must be reduced through rubbles reserves announced by the government but must also be tackled by widening markets for butter.

A national nutrition program "which will enlarge markets for dairy products" will be energetically studied by a Liberal government. He did not give details of this program, except to say an important element would be the provision of milk at schools.

"In co-operation with the provinces and the dairy industry, a new Liberal government will be ready to help in ensuring that the schools can distribute milk daily at 'low cost'," he said.

For, Mr. Pearson, it was another meet-the-voters-day. He shook scores of hands, signed at least a dozen autographs, picked up a can of maple sugar in Cayuga, a box of apples and a cup and saucer in Simcoe, an idea of tobacco auctions in Delhi and a wooden key to Tillsonburg.

IGNORES CAR

In Simcoe, Mr. Pearson ignored his waiting car and walked down one of the main streets shaking hands.

He told party workers at Liberal headquarters that the June 18 election is "the most important peace-time election in our history" because of domestic and international problems.

At Delhi, heart of the tobacco country, he pledged that a Liberal government would help to find new markets to reduce tobacco surpluses.

He also told his farming audience at the Delhi Tobacco Co-operated Tobacco-Growers Auction Exchange that Canada has to get back to "the days when we can bring people into Canada from overseas and give them good and rewarding work to do."

Many of his listeners were of European origin.

At Tillsonburg he called for the "freest kind of trade" based on good foreign relations and designed to boost production, sell surplus commodities and reduce unemployment.

Socred Leader Gives Details Of Health Plan

REGINA (CP) — National Social Credit Leader Robert Thompson, outlining his party's health plans, avoided direct reference last night to the government-doctor controversy in Saskatchewan over the province's compulsory medical care hospitalization plan.

Mr. Thompson, speaking at a nomination meeting attended by about 150 persons, said if a Social Credit government were elected in the June 18 federal election it will assist provinces in taking care of the people's health needs.

A Social Credit government would underwrite a group insurance policy for senior citizens' health needs, issuing vouchers for the plan which would be administered at the local level, would be recognized by private medical care plans and would be paid for by the federal government.

The vouchers, based on approximate cost of the total health requirements of senior citizens, would provide at least minimum health care.

Mr. Thompson said a Social Credit government would pay 4 per cent physical fitness grant to the provinces and give greater assistance in hospital construction.

His government would create a municipal development bank within the Bank of Canada which would buy debentures from municipalities for capital works.

"This would save our taxpayers 40 per cent. Every public works project would be financed this way, saving 40 per cent through interest charges."

"We must bring back our health professions to the area of respect as far as our young people are concerned.

"What has happened in Saskatchewan is doing more to drive out our young people from the health fields than anything in Canadian history."

LOANS TO STUDENTS

Social Credit would provide interest-free loans to students in the health fields.

In an indirect reference to the Saskatchewan medical insurance pain, he said he is against "the idea of drafting doctors into the government medical service."

"What we want is health service to meet the needs of the people as they develop. The government is not concerned with personal health services. It is concerned to abdicate freedom to obtain health services.

"Let us not accept this socialistic paradise that state ownership is the answer. It is possible to guarantee health needs in a private, free enterprise system."

Prime Minister Back in Form On Prairies

By JAMES NELSON

NEEPAWA, Man. (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker flew to Lethbridge and Medicine Hat today, taking his campaign for re-election June 18 into the fourth province in four days.

Victorious observers said he seemed to hit the stride of the 1958 campaign here Thursday night when he spoke to 3,000 in an old airport hangar, ridiculing the Liberals for promising "all in the sky" programs.

It was the largest audience he has drawn anywhere since he opened the campaign in London, Ont., before an audience of 5,000 drawn from all parts of Ontario for a provincial Conservative convention.

The Neepawa audience was drawn mainly of district farmers and retired farmers living in this community 180 miles from Winnipeg and its surrounding area. Veterans of the 1958 sweep, Churchill, seeking reelection in Winnipeg, said the big gathering was a testimonial to the prime minister.

"Every man in this audience has more money in his pocket than when we came into office," Mr. Diefenbaker said.

ARE PROMISING

"The Liberals are promising —oh, how they are promising. It's the greatest pie-in-the-sky policy ever brought before the people of Canada.

"You'll get it when you get into the sky."

The speech in Manitoba followed one Wednesday night in Brockville and another Tuesday night in Rimouski, Que.—almost 2,500 miles from Neepawa.

It was a speech of rapid-fire delivery and short, punchy phrases.

"They say in the past I have been the leader for the West," he observed, "I dont accept that. What we have been doing is increasing opportunity in all parts of Canada.

"The Liberals say 'Let's go back to 1957. Do you want to go back?

"Do you want to go back to a government which sold wheat right before world prices?

KNOW HOAXES

"They talk about selling wheat to China. Hazen Argue former House leader of the CCF who now is running as a Liberal candidate in Assiniboia, Sask.) said it was a hoax. He knows what hoaxes are.

"Some nations feel we ought not to deal with Communist nations. The only way we can break down communism is by cultural and trade relations. When people are hungry, it is not enough to consider what people's ideological views are.

"We sold wheat to China. We were ridiculed by the Liberals and laughed at by the CCF. But Mr. Pearson says if they are returned to power, they would carry it on."

Mr. Diefenbaker said that pegging the Canadian dollar at 92½ cents in United States funds meant a six - cent - per - bushel price increases for wheat farmers. This, he said, brought the farmers returns above the $2 a bushel advocated by the opposition.

Today, Mr. Diefenbaker was to fly to Lethbridge for a luncheon with party workers and a reception, and then drive to Medicine Hat for a public meeting in the high school auditorium tonight.

On a last-minute switch of plans, instead of flying Friday night back to Ottawa, the party now will make a day-long trip, arriving at Ottawa at 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

Teen-Age Canada

A Columnist's Apology to You

By JACK HUTTON

(The following is an open letter to all readers of Teen-Age Canada from Jack Hutton on the anniversary of his column.)

DEAR READERS:—It has now been slightly more than one year that we have been getting together here each weekend—and I want to issue an apology here and now.

Why the apology?

Well, it is because when I first started writing for you 13 months ago I wondered whether some adults or others were correct about what interested you.

This was, as you may know, the first national teen-age column in Canada. And it would be difficult to describe my feeling the first day I sat down to write to Teen-Canadian Teen-Ager.

I wonder how many teen-agers are aware of the importance which newspapers and other media of communication attach to them today. Look at ten Canadian newspapers and you'll probably find teen news that wasn't there three years ago.

What do teen-agers read? It may interest you to know that 18 months ago I first started reading everything published for teen-agers and at the same time gathered together an "advisory board" of teen-age friends.

FOR GIRLS

First, the magazines. Have you ever read them? My impression is that 90 per cent of the so-called teen magazines which we see are directed at girls—and don't credit them with much intelligence.

I picked up a recent sample. The first page I read began: "The girl who wants to get roped and tied will . . ." I clipped a page and found a "typical teen-age snack" that would empty any household budget for a week.

Secondly, my young advisers . . . "Teen-agers have very narrow interests," they emphasized. "We're different, of course, but others will only read about rock'n'roll, dating, clothes or cars."

I want to thank you because you've proved them wrong. You might be interested to hear which columns struck the most interest.

1. Shortly after his space exploit, I asked you to figure the average speed in orbit of Yuri Gagarin, the Russian astronaut. Your response—the record so far—totalled 334 letters.

2. A short time later we heard from a prairie reader interested in the number 9. A grand total of 149 readers, including some adults, kicked this question around—and suggested we explore it later on.

3. We pursued the question of big bands versus rock'n'roll and decided that big bands were definitely coming back. This drew more than 100 letters, but it was still behind the realm of higher mathematics and space exploration.

Our conclusion? The Canadian teen-ager is infinitely more interested in what is going on in the world than my own generation of teen-agers was a short 10 years ago.

Your range of interests so far exceeds that of any previous generation in Canada that it makes all the rest of us feel like we lived back in the Middle Ages, leading sheltered lives at that.

I've learned a lot from you so far. Keep on writing those letters and maybe that "relic from the Middle Ages" will keep on learning some more.

STUDY TIPS

Two readers have kindly volunteered their own study suggestions. So we'll turn the floor over to them.

Gwen Ross of Halifax writes: "I enjoyed your letter-handed column on how to study. But I wondered if you emphasized enough something I consider quite important.

"Up until one year ago I had one horrible time getting organized to study. There seemed to be so much wasted time during the day, and most of the study time was spent wondering if I was concentrating on the right things.

"I can't describe the help which I've found in a deck of plain white cards. I've jarked out my difficult French vocabulary on cards with translations on the opposite sides. The cards are small and quickly shuffled through on the bus or over coffee. Perhaps you'd like to pass this on."

John Harris of Vancouver has another tip. "Haven't you forgotten that the teen-ager likes to eat?" he queried.

"If you're making an exhaustive list of study tips, remind your readers to have a box of crackers or something similar along to the room. By now I find I just don't study, without munching something all the time."

What do young Canadians read? Jack Hutton suggests that they have a range of interests far greater than adults—reaching into mathematics, politics and even electronics, as shown above.

Principal Denies Pupils Stripped To Underwear

BURLINGTON, Ont. (CP)—A report submitted by the principal of a Burlington public school Thursday denied reports that pupils were stripped to their underwear in a search for $60 alleged to have been stolen from a teacher's purse.

The report, in his report to the board of education, said approximately 300 of the 700 pupils at Wellington Square Public School were searched for the money Wednesday while they were kept after classes because of the alleged theft.

Douglas Lawless, superintendent of public schools, said investigation by the board showed that reports the pupils were stripped to their underwear were grossly exaggerated. He said the pupils were patted around the waist and on the back by teacher during the search.

Mr. Robbins' report said some of the older boys were asked to take off their shoes and socks and some of the pupils wearing a sweater over a shirt or blouse were asked to remove the sweater.

That, the report said, was as far as the stripping went.

PARENTS COMPLAIN

Earlier, parents had complained that the students were kept after school to 5 p.m. and that they were taken, in groups of three into rooms and made to strip to their underwear. Girls, the parents said, were searched by woman teachers and the boys by men teachers.

The report said pupils in Grades 1-3 had only their desks searched.

An empty wallet belonging to a Grade 5 teacher, Miss M. Wicker, who had said it contained the $60 was found Thursday by a janitor in a waste bin.

Board officials said they will talk to all teachers involved in the incident to corroborate Mr. Robbins' report.

Premier Smallwood Denies Offering to Quit Liberals For Recognition of Term 29

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Premier Smallwood said Thursday he has never offered to quit his party and lead the Liberals into the Progressive Conservatives, although he might have been willing to pay "even that terrible price" for Newfoundland's rights.

The Liberal premier commented on a statement earlier in the day by John Bassett of Toronto who said Mr. Smallwood had been prepared to "abandon" the federal Liberal party if Prime Minister Diefenbaker would agree to recognize Term 29 of the terms of union (under which Newfoundland became a province) as part of the constitution of Canada, and therefore not subject to change.

Mr. Smallwood said Thursday he had been prepared to resign his office and rest in the Newfoundland legislature and "retire completely forever" from public life if Prime Minister Diefenbaker would recognize Term 29 as a permanent part of the constitution.

Mr. Bassett, chairman and publisher of the Toronto Telegram and a Conservative election candidate in Toronto Spadina, said he and Michael Wardell, publisher of the Toronto Gleaner, met Premier Smallwood at a party in Fredericton two years ago and Mr. Smallwood told them he was prepared to support the Diefenbaker government if Newfoundland got its way with Term 29.

IT DEPENDS

Mr. Wardell said Thursday that Mr. Smallwood made that place, but the Fredericton publisher said it "depends what you mean by support."

"I think that Mr. Bassett meant that Mr. Smallwood would have no reason to do anything but support Mr. Diefenbaker if he could get his $8,000,000-a year under that award, I am sure that Mr. Bassett doesn't suggest that Mr. Smallwood was going to cease to be a Liberal and become a Conservative."

Mr. Bassett said he had relayed the offer to the prime minister but Mr. Diefenbaker said he "was not interested in any political deal."

There is called for appointment of a royal commission within eight years of the date of the 1949 union to review Newfoundland's financial position and" recommend what payments, if any, were necessary "to enable it to continue public services at the levels and standards reached subsequent to the date of union, without resorting to taxation more burdensome, having regard to the capacity to pay, than that obtaining generally in the maritime provinces."

The royal commission reported in 1958. It recommended additional financial assistance of $8,000,000 a year, less sums already paid as a transitional grant, for the fiscal years 1957-58 inclusive, and thereafter $6,000,000 per annum."

Mr. Smallwood's feud with the prime minister began when Mr. Diefenbaker in 1959 announced the $6,000,000-a-year payments would end in 1962. Mr. Smallwood said the financial solution to follow. Subsequently in 1961 he announced the payments would be continued until 1967.

The core of the Newfoundland position was that the proposal cut-off, and review was not in accord with Term 29. Mr. Smallwood insisted that "thereafter $6,000,000 per annum" meant forever.

Pilot Reports Seeing Objects At Great Height

SEATTLE (AP)—The second instance of observation of unidentified objects at high altitudes was reported by pilots of X-15 pilot Joe Walker.

Walker told a scientific conference that films taken during his record flight to a record height of 346,000 feet showed the presence of five or six objects at approximately his altitude some distance from the plane.

They mysterious objects, apparently disc-shaped, showed up on the film as the X-15 arced over the top of its flight and headed back toward earth.

"I don't feel like speculating about the nature of these objects," Walker said. "All I know is what appeared on the film in later study. I saw nothing myself during the flight of this nature."

Walker mentioned the objects only briefly in his formal discussion at the second annual conference on the problems of gravity "free-flies" during his orbits of the earth.

No Political Meeting Held On Flight

WINNIPEG (CP)—Party politics were put to a test Thursday aboard a Trans-Canada Air Lines flight from Toronto to Winnipeg.

Sharing two double seats in the first - class section were Liberal Paul Martin, Progressive Conservative Trade Minister George Hees, New Democratic Party Leader T. C. Douglas and Social Credit Leader Solon Knowles, former executive vice-president of the Canadian Labor Congress.

Asked whether they held a political meeting on the way out, Mr. Hees said, "We had quite a confab aboard the plane with Tom Stanley, Tommy and I sharing two seats."

Soviet Union May Be Using China as Front

By HAROLD MORRISON

WASHINGTON (CP) — Congressman Mitchell Feighan speculated Thursday that the Soviet Union may be using Communist China as a front in the purchase of Canadian grain "to rescue the Russian empire from economic collapse."

The Ohio Democrat told the House of Representatives he had been told by officials that some Canadian grain shipments designated as China had been delivered to Albania and East Germany and that the Chinese have been "changing cargo destinations in mid-ocean."

An embassy official confirmed that Feighan had made inquiries and had been told that what he termed "leaks" in public by Canadian government officials—that the Chinese had diverted some of the wheat and barley to Albania and East Germany.

The official said Feighan also has asked for further information on the "sudden increase" of grain shipments to China from Canadian east and west coasts. The congressman will be given any information that is in the public domain, the official added.

LAND IN EUROPE?

Feighan said he is certain shipments of grain ordered by Communist China from eastern Canadian ports land in Europe.

"It would be typical of the Russian situation to seek camouflage Tor (their crop) failures and to use the Red Chinese as a front in securing food from the free world to aid their empire builders," he said.

A state department official said he had heard views similar to those expressed by Feighan voiced in other quarters but these are not accepted by the state department.

Heavy Smoker No Better Than Drug Addict

TORONTO (CP)—The heavy smoker is not much better than the drug addict, a research psychiatrist told the Canadian Psychiatric Association Thursday.

Dr. Peter H. Knapp, research professor at the Boston University Medical School, told the APA its conventioners that heavy cigarette smokers smoke in an attempt to experience effects similar to those sought by some mild, but persistent, amphetamine addicts.

Amphetamine is a nervous stimulant and the heavy smoker's continual "state of intoxication by nicotine" also produces a state of hyperactivity, Dr. Knapp said.

The stimulation is preceded by a relaxing satisfaction which interferes with an individual's right to privacy, including, privacy on the telephone, the doctor said. Indicated that it was essential for the public good."

"Nothing that I have seen or read or heard up to the present time has convinced me" that wire-tapping serves the public good.

Reviewing Canada's Criminal Code and in particular its section on gambling, Mr. Roberts said some laws "are very definitely not acceptable to the Strong Personalities Can't Accept Gracefully Death Idea Says Psychiatrist

TORONTO (CP) — The person of strong character is less likely than the weak personality to accept calmly the prospect of death, a Chicago psychiatrist said Thursday.

Dr. C. Knight Aldrich, chairman of the psychiatry department at the University of Chicago, said his studies show there can be no hard and fast rule on whether to tell a patient that he is dying.

In a paper presented at the annual meeting of the American Psychiatric Association, Dr. Aldrich said:

"The fact that some patients appear to accept death with real equanimity may turn out to be evidence neither of personality strength nor of weakness but of depression. "Their apparent realistic courage may indicate only that they have given up on life and are welcoming death.

Dr. Aldrich said that while religious belief can help dying patients, his evidence "does not seem indicate that belief in a benign hereafter . . . is crucial in distinguishing between patients who face death with equanimity and those who are depressed or who resort to denial."

SUFFERS GRIEF

The person who knows he is dying suffers grief and mourning similar to that suffered by friends and relatives who contend the prospect of separation, but can be affected by faith in a reunion in the hereafter, but the separation itself appears to be a more significant factor and is brief than the fate of the person who is departing.

Since on emeasurement of personality strength is capacity for human relationships, the "strong:" person who is dying faces a greater loss than the "weak" person and consequently more grief and suffering.

The person whose response to stress has been the unconscious mental process of denial—discovering reality to avoid anxiety —should have an easier time dying than the person who has faced and accepted reality throughout life, Dr. Aldrich said.

COMMON TO CONDEMNED

Another study presented at the APA meeting said denial was the most common mental defence among convicts under sentence of death.

A study of 19 condemned men in Sing Sing prison at Ossining, N.Y., was reported by Dr. Harvey Bluestone, chief of the prison psychiatric service, and Dr. Carl L. McGahee, visiting psychiatrist at the prison.

The subjects, who had been in the death house from one to three years, "showed a severe overwhelming anxiety or depression," the study found.

The denial mechanism was expressed in failing to accept the effect of mechanisms, minimizing the possibility of execution and in one case fostering a delusion that a pardon had been granted.

As denial becomes less workable with time, the condemned men adopt delusions of persecution and depression, the related stress was found to be "obsessive ruminations" — turning into intellectual pursuits such as studies of religion and philosophy or writing extensive reviews of their own trials.

There is a great element in much of their thinking . . . they desperately want to show that their deaths will have some meaning."

Normal Judicial Procedure Superior to Any Repressive System Says Kelso Roberts

WELLAND (CP) — Attorney-General Roberts repeated Thursday night his belief that normal judicial procedure is superior to "any repressive system which permits punishment on suspicion or belief rather than upon proper proof of guilt."

Mr. Roberts, criticized in recent months for statements which opposition politicians took as criticism of the powers of royal commission on organized crime, was speaking at an international meeting of judges and police from Erie and Niagara counties in the Empire State New York state.

As in a previous speech on the subject, he made no reference to the royal commission being conducted by Mr. Justice Wilfrid Roach.

Mr. Roberts said:

"It has always been my view that the way to deal with crime is to bring out the perpetrators when a crime has been committed, bring them before the courts and have them disposed of by our courts in line with the well-known rules of evidence and proofs that are required. BELIEVES IN SUSPICION

". . . We all know that there is a high price to pay for our liberty. We know that our system means that a number of guilty people will go free even though standing trial. Yet we believe this system is much better in the public interest than any repressive system which punishes people on mere suspicion or belief rather than upon proper proof of guilt.

"In my way of thinking, it is essential that we maintain these principles of British justice if we have inherited and that we pay the price of liberty . . ."

The attorney - general also came out against wire-tapping of telephones. He indicated some doubt about federal laws on lotteries and lotteries.

Speaking of recent manoeuvres in the United States to make wire-tapping legal for obtaining evidence, Mr. Roberts said he "would be very much against any action which would lead to interference with that safeguard that 'a man's home is his castle'."

OPPOSES INTERFERENCE

He said he would oppose any interference with an individual's right to privacy, including, privacy on the telephone, the doctor said. Indicated that it was essential for the public good."

"Nothing that I have seen or read or heard up to the present time has convinced me" that wire-tapping serves the public good.

Reviewing Canada's Criminal Code and in particular its section on gambling, Mr. Roberts said some laws "are very definitely not acceptable to the

Nine Members Of Sect Given 15 Years Each

NELSON, B.C. (CP) — Nine members of the Doukhobor sect charged with conspiracy to place bombs around a power pylon, destruction of which caused rail disruption in British Columbia's East Kootenay, were sentenced Thursday to 15 years.

All of the Freedomites also received an additional 15 years concurrent for actually placing dynamite around the 300-foot, 300-ton power pylon of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company.

The massive pylon was toppled March 4, putting many operations out of action and about 1,000 men out of work.

When the nine were found guilty earlier this week they refused to leave the dock as Justice Alan Maclean ordered them to before he remanded them for sentence.

Thursday there were no pleas for the prisoners to sit on.

Mr. Justice Maclean told the nine that he was convinced that anything he said would help.

"You've done a great deal by your actions that you're not fit for society."

A few Freedomite women in the gallery shouted prayers for sentencing but there was no demonstration.

Successful Living

(A Question Social Worker Helps with Human Problems)

Do You Eat Food With Fingers?

DEAR DORIS—Recently at a 4 H party we had a deep-fried chicken supper. I did what some of the others did, picked up the chicken in my fingers. That way it seems to have more flavour.

What bothers me is that a certain person tried to pick at the chicken with her fork and therefore couldn't get the meat off, so it was mostly wasted. Every time I picked up my chicken she would stare and it seems like she was trying to look right through me. There were about 24 of us in a group and I don't see why she should snub me just because she's got new friends now.

BONNIE CLARK

Anyhow, I just wondered if it is right or wrong to pick up certain kinds of meat with bones (especially fowl) in the fingers to eat it if in a large crowd. I know the crowd shouldn't change the manners of—H. H.

DEAR E. H.—The only time fried chicken should be eaten with the fingers is at picnics. Otherwise, you manage as well as you can with knife and fork. . . .

Every life is somebody's business to try to correct your manners. The very best etiquette rises from true interest in the other fellow's comfort—not in making him feel less comfortable.

A story is told about Queen Victoria, whose guest, a man, poured his tea into his saucer to drink it. Her Majesty didn't bat an eyelash as she emptied her own cup into her saucer. Such is the courtesy of queens! . . .

DEAR DORIS—I find your column very interesting.

Before Christmas I had a permanent for the first time (I'm 14 years young). The problem is, I want to get my hair cut, but I'm afraid it will have frizzy ends. . . I can't stand my hair how it is so I've got to do something.—UNSURE.

DEAR UNSURE—If the permanent was before Christmas, it has grown long by now. Cutting your hair shall probably take it all off, and you need not worry about frizzy ends.

Sometimes a neat short hairdo does look best on a young lady. Go to a good hair-dresser for the hair-cut and follow her suggestions about how to style it.

Permanent waves are a wonderful help in keeping hair nice. But they do tend to be drying and you can avoid using a tonic.

overcome this quite often by regular hair brushing and using a tonic.

(Doris cannot begin to answer all enquiries in the column. Remember that stamped, self-addressed envelope).

Miss Carol Sharpe, vice-president, gave the call to worship and all sang "Lord Speak To Me." Miss Gail Scott read the Bible lesson and Fred Baldwin gave the prayer. The worship closed with "A Charge To Keep I Have."

The Wellmen's group served refreshments.

FOXBORO — The May meeting of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Guild and W.M.S. was held recently at the home of Mrs. John Juby with the theme based on "Study to show thyself approved unto God." . . .

Miss Watt opened the meeting in the usual manner, followed by the Scripture lesson taken from Corinthians. The meditation and prayer were given by Mrs. Juby. Reports of the various committees were given as well as a report on cards sent and sick calls made. Plans were made for catering at Scott's Sales Barns sometime soon. Readings were given by Mesdames Bussard, Bartlett and Chapelle.

Mrs. Juby served lunch and a social hour followed.

QUESTION:

I wonder if you would have a recipe for a cake called Bachelor Cake made with grated raisins instead of nuts for the filling . . . I. B.

ANSWER:

I think you are referring to what I call . . .

GRAHAM CRACKER TORTE:

(It is possible, but not advisable, to make this without preheating the crust.)

18 graham crackers, rolled finely, ½ cup butter or margarine, melted, ¼ cup sugar, ½ teaspoon cinnamon.

Mix well together and reserve ¼ cup for topping. Put remaining prepared crumbs into deep 9" pie plate and press with fork. Bake at 400 deg. Fahr. for 5 to 10 minutes or until lightly browned. Serve cold.

FILLING

Yolks of 2 eggs, ½ cup sugar, ½ cup milk, 1 tablespoon cornstarch, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 cup whipping cream.

Combine cherries, pineapple, almonds, ½ cup sugar, salt and cornstarch in saucepan. Remove from heat and add rum extract. Soak gelatin in cold water for 5 minutes. Put milk, sugar and gelatin in top of double boiler and heat to scalding. Beat egg yolks, add some of the hot milk, stir well, then return to double boiler and continue cooking and stirring until mixture coats a metal spoon. Remove from heat and add soaked gelatin and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Add cooled fruit mixture by folding, stirring until vanilla. Stand in pan of cold water to cool to consistency of soft jelly with occasional careful stirring. Beat cream until stiff, then cut and fold gelatin mixture lightly but thoroughly into it. Turn at once into pudding mould — if mould is not available use shallow dish. This is often garnished with macaroons.

PINEAPPLE-CHERRY RUM PUDDING

2 tablespoons finely chopped maraschino cherries, 2 tablespoons crushed pineapple, 2 tablespoons chopped almonds, ½ cup sugar, 1-3 cup sugar, 1-3 cup water, 2 teaspoons rum extract, 1 tablespoon granola, ½ cup cold water, 1 1-2 cups milk, ½ cup sugar, ½ cup heavy cream, 2 egg yolks, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon vanilla, 1 cup whipping cream.

Combine cherries, pineapple, almonds, 1-2 cup sugar, salt and cornstarch in saucepan. Remove from heat and add rum extract. Soak gelatin in cold water for 5 minutes. Put milk, sugar and gelatin in top of double boiler and heat to scalding. Beat egg yolks, add some of the hot milk, stir well, then return to double boiler and continue cooking and stirring until mixture coats a metal spoon. Remove from heat and add soaked gelatin and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Add cooled fruit mixture by folding, stirring until vanilla. Stand in pan of cold water to cool to consistency of soft jelly with occasional careful stirring. Beat cream until stiff, then cut and fold gelatin mixture lightly but thoroughly into it. Turn at once into pudding mould — if mould is not available use shallow dish. This is often garnished with macaroons.

Bonnie Hayden Dance Pupils Present Colorful Recital

FICTON — Pupils of Bonnie Hayden Dance studio presented a colorful recital before a large and appreciative audience in Queen Elizabeth school Tuesday night.

The variety of the offerings, lovely costumes and lively music by the pianist, Mrs. Helen Scott, contributed to the evening of enjoyment.

The pupils presented Miss Hayden with a sheaf of pink roses and Miss Scott with a corsage of white carnations. These were presented by Debbie Lastin and Rhonda Lee Wilkens.

A capable master-of-ceremonies Carl Reid, highly complimented Miss Hayden and her pupils on their excellent progress. Miss Hayden expressed her appreciation to students and parents.

Emma in red with white for trim, Picton majorettes opened the program with a precision number. They were Pauline Soules, Kathy Trumpour, Angela Reed, Janice Burkman, Laurie Scott, Janice Istead, Donna Hevery and Bonnie Hayden.

Debbie Lastin, cute in a pink ruffled dress, delighted in "Aint She Sweet". Florence Slaven and Brenda Pierrail, in green, were snappy in a tap routine; Michael Jackson's cowboy outfit was as fascinating as his dance.

A tambourine tap by Janice Buchanan and Laurie Scott, wearing mauve aprelles, and a ballet tap by Angela Reed, in blue and silver were good.

APPLAUDED SELECTIONS

The four members of the Robinson family were much applauded with their groups of vocal, and instrumental numbers.

Miss Hayden, a clever artist in her own right, provided a highlight with a baton number and a solo tap.

Also a vocal solo tap, Donna Havery wore a black and white costume with sparkle hat and cane. Valerie Jackson was cute in a coolie hat and jacket for "China Doll".

Another guest artist was Lesie Woolmore-Goodwin, whose two numbers were danced to "Summertime" in red with Debbie Lastin, Michele Fogarty and Florence Slaven did "Beginning to Twist," while Angela Reed with "Military Man" did her number on a drum.

Others taking part were Debbie Lastin, Laurie Scott, Janice Buchanan, Valerie and Michael Jackson, Donna Hevery, Florence Slaven and Brenda Pierrail.

Final numbers by the chorus line were the "Can Can", "Charleston" and the "Twist."

GIFT SITE

Housing Hints

Q. Can an architect help me build a new home if I've already made a home plan and a builder?

A. He certainly can. For example, an architect can assist in drawing up specifications. Remember, he has a better than average knowledge of building materials and how they can be adapted to a purchaser's plan. After all, that's his specialty. He can also assist by checking the construction to see that the right materials are going into the building. With his experience, an architect can tell at a glance whether the framing, insulation and other vital parts of the house are being built exactly as called for in the plans and specifications.

Q. Does the average purchaser shop around many times before buying a house?

A. He certainly does and he should, but it's possible to shop around too much. The ladies know how difficult it is to make a decision on a dress when the racks are full of bargains. Well, seeing too many houses can make the purchaser's decision just as difficult. Your realtor can save you time by eliminating aimless searching for a home. Tell him the type of house you want, the neighborhood you want to live in and the financial outlay you're prepared to make. He may have just the house you are looking for in his listings. Remember, not all good house buys are advertised.

Q. How does a person go about buying a home under the National Housing Act?

A. A home may be purchased from a builder who has already obtained NHA financing or a person may borrow on his own account to build on land that he owns. NHA loans are made by approved lenders such as life insurance companies, trust and loan companies and chartered banks. However, if a would-be homeowner is not able to arrange financing through an approved lender because lenders are not making loans in his area, then he can make application to the nearest office of Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation.

Q. Can a realtor save you money when buying or building a house?

A. He certainly can and in many ways. A realtor can guide you to the localities or spots that may arise in closing a real estate transaction. And his services can mean important savings to you in both money and time. Being familiar with the local housing market and knowing the selling prices of various types of houses, your realtor can ensure that you're not paying too much for the value you're receiving in a new house. In addition, a good realtor will see that any property that he has listed for sale is not priced out of the market. Remember, in purchasing a house there may be many good buys, but there are no bargains.

THE FAMILY COUNCIL

Mrs. V.K. — Most men marry kids; he's interested in old women.

Gerard K. — There's something genuine and subtle about Adele.

Mrs. V.K. — My son is only 23 and he's planning to marry a much older woman. I've tried to show him the dangers and disadvantages of this, but he's against the established custom of our times.

Gerard K. — Adele and, although she claims to be 35, I'd say that under all the pancake and rouge she's at least 40. Does Gerry realize how she'll look when he's 60? And how about children? She'll look more like their grandmother than their mother.

As for me, in a few years people won't be able to guess who's Gerry's mother and who's his wife.

I'm fed up with him to think twice here. He can still meet lots of their listlessness. They may be attractive to look at and ornamental, but for compatibility they're not my mother's. I'm joining, and I'd like to spend it all with you.

The Council: The only point at issue here seems to be Adele's age. We prefer to believe that she's closing 35. A woman about to wed a man, especially a mature and intelligent woman, won't lie about her age because she knows the truth will out eventually. It's revealed in case of illness when her physician must know whether he's dealing with a 35-year-old combo or a 45-year-old problem. They're different. It comes out also, in matters of close members, old friends, old records. So let's say Adele's really 35, a youthful 35, in a few years' time. Let's add, right, that while it's not common for Mr. 25 to up with Miss 35, it's eminently possible for them to live happily ever after. With Gerry seemingly a mature 25, and Adele a youthful 35, the difference is almost erased. But since it cannot be entirely

Question: I always prefer phoning friends instead of sending notes when inviting for whatever. Recently, a visiting aunt took me to task for doing this, saying it's not proper to invite people verbally. Phoning is the custom in our area, so it doesn't majority rule, in effect, make it correct? — Mrs. R.W., Westburgh, L.I.

Answer: It's just as correct to issue informal invitations verbally as it is to send a written note. The chief advantage to phoning an invitation is that it saves time. It also gives the hostess a chance to be specific about all details — from time and date, to how to dress. Typically, a phoned invitation gets a prompt "yes" or "no." Recipients of written invitations sometimes procrastinate about replying, and a follow-up call has to be made eventually anyway. Naturally, invitations to more formal parties should be issued in writing. But for run-of-the-mill invitations, a phone call seems to be the preferred method.

Yvette Mimieux Married, Not Willing to Admit It

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Why would a film actress want to hide her marriage?

This question has puzzled Hollywood as it studies the case of Yvette Mimieux. She is one of the town's most promising actresses.

She is reliably reported to have wed a psychology teacher named Evan Zugber 3½ years ago.

What did Yvette have to say about the whole thing?

"Apparently you are married," I offered as an opening gambit.

"Whether that is apparent or not is up to you," she said. "I can't help you with it."

But why all the secrecy about a matter which most people are happy to tell about? She explained.

"I feel very strong about this. I have seen people in this town destroyed by living their lives in public. If it comes to the point where I have to do that, I'll quit acting. I hope I don't have to do that, because I love to act.

"But more important than that is my self - respect, my own sense of dignity. If I can't preserve that, then all the rest doesn't make anything."

Yvette said the Roman ruckus of Elizabeth Taylor confirmed her beliefs.

THREE PHASES

"It's wrong to blow up publicity. Or even if it did happen the way it appeared, it didn't deserve all that publicity. Things like that happen every day with other people. But because it happened to movie stars, the press was only too eager to point out their human failings.

"There have been three phases in shooting movie stars in Hollywood. At first there was no audience; the stars were perfect. That wasn't very realistic.

"Then there came a time when the stars were made to seem like everybody else. That wasn't very glamorous.

"The present phase seems to be a delight in pointing out the weaknesses and errors of the stars. It is all so destructive."

The Trots

LONDON, Ont (CP) — Stewart Simpson, making his first start since a bad spill at the Glenpine Fall Races in September, drove Harmony Chips to victory in the 4th race at the Western Fair Raceway Thursday night.

Harmony Chips, four-year-old gelding, ran the mile in 2:10.2, paying $6.60 for a $2 bet.

In the seventh race, Willy Tass, driven by Oscar Zirnis, was put into fourth-place finish from third for cutting over. Tim's Ace was placed third behind Scamp McKinney and Dusty Brooks.

Johnny's Girl and Lady's Lee collided and tumbled on the first turn of the fourth race. Neither the drivers, Bill Harvey and Stan Williams, nor the horses were hurt.

TOPS WORLD RECORD

LONDON (AP)—Yuri Vlasov, Russian holder of the world record for heavyweight press weightlifting, bettered his own mark with a heave of 456½ pounds today, Moscow radio announced. Vlasov, competing in the U.S.S.R. championship at Tbilisi, went 5½ pounds better than the record he set a month ago.

Touchy Subject of Birth Control Well Discussed

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—The basic disagreement in the touchy subject of birth control results, as commentator Eric Severeid pointed out Thursday night, from the differences in the current attitudes of Catholics and non-Catholics" on the subject.

Controversy notwithstanding, CBS Reports Thursday night tackled the subject on a broad front, providing plenty of opportunity for both sides—and some caught in the middle—to express their views. While it had no conclusions to make, the program did suggest the time had come for all concerned to sit down together and find a solution.

Without taking sides, the program emphasized that "High birth rates go hand in hand with poverty." It first considered the situation in Chicago, where controversy flared over an alleged ban on family planning and birth control services in public hospitals and clinics—and forbidden by law. Then, it moved to Connecticut, where an old law forbidding the dissemination of such information is currently under attack.

It was a thoughtful, stimulating and level-headed presentation.

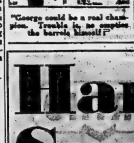
Conerly May Play For Riders



REGINA (CP)—The Leader-Post says veteran New York Giants quarterback Charlie Conerly is "a good bet" to sign with Saskatchewan Roughriders for the 1962 Western Football League season.

The club announced Thursday that Conerly, who retired this year after 14 seasons with the National Football League Giants, will attend the Riders training camp as an assistant coach.

The newspaper quotes Roughriders president R. A. Kerasner, as saying: "Once Conerly gets here, there's no telling how long he'll stay. The fans can rest assured we will have a talk with him about staying on."

Conerly played under Roughriders coach Steve Owen for six years when Owen was head coach of the Giants.

Will Try For World Relay Mark

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — A means of pace will be the means for San Oregon State University relay of his outstanding distance runners try to set a world four-mile relay record.

Dyrol Burleson, Archie San Romani Jr., Vic Reeve and Keith Forman, he said, will do their individual best miles of the season, which run the laps in 16 minutes 14.7 seconds well under the world mark of 16:23.8.

Thus it's no surprise that promoters of the West Coast Relays have failed to come up with any quartet that figures to give Oregon much of a race.

The program also features John Unitas, and Dave York, the world's only 14-foot polevaulters, and four sprinters who have run 100 yards in 9.3, including Harry Jerome of Vancouver, running under Oregon colors.

Bisons Whip Crackers, Take Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A grand - slam homer by rookie Bob Lipski and the seven-hit pitching of lefty Bill Smith has boosted Buffalo Bisons into control of the top spot in the International League.

Lipski's hitting and Smith's pitching were the chief weapons the Bisons used in a 6-2 verdict over Atlanta Crackers Thursday night. It pulled Buffalo into a half-game lead over the idle Jacksonville Suns.

Ho hester Red Wings romped over Richmond Virginians 11-4 and the streaking Syracuse Chiefs stopped Columbus Jets, also 11-4, in the only other games.

Lipsi unloaded off loser Hal Deitz (0-2) with two out in the fourth after an error, a walk and an infield single had loaded the bases. The homer wiped out a 2-0 Atlanta lead and gave Smith (1-1) all the working room he needed.

STRIKES OUT ROBERT

Smith struck out eight and retired 13 straight over the stretch, stopped by Joe Morgan's homer in the ninth. It was Atlanta's seventh straight loss.

Rochester jammed to six runs in the second inning then roasted in against Richmond. A three-run double by Sam Bowens was the bit hit and planned the loss on starter Frank Carpin (0-1). John Miller (1-1) went the distance and drove in two runs on a bad-hop single.

Syracuse got together a 17-hit attack en route to its fourth straight victory and sixth in its last seven starts. The features included a six-run Syracuse first inning, Sammy Drake's three - run homer in the third and four hits by Tony Asaro.

The Tracks

TORONTO (CP) — Son Dan won the feature race for seven Queen's Plate candidates at Old Woodbine Thursday. Son Dan, cleverly ridden by Pat Remillard, flung on to defeat King Gorm by a nose in the seven-furlong Rosedale Purse.

Arthur H. stablemate of King Gorm, finished third.

King Gorm, impressed the railbirds who are attempting to select a winner for the 103rd Queen's Plate, which will be raced at Woodbine June 16. King Gorm charged from fifth place in the final three furlongs and just failed to catch Son Dan.

Son Dan ran the distance in 1.37 as he registered his second win in two starts this year. He was the favorite with the crowd of 6,000 and paid $4.60 to win.

Victoria Will Be Back

Report Comets Will Fold

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Sun says a deal is brewing within Western Hockey League that will see Spokane Comets fold and ship players they own to Seattle Totems.

At the same time the newspaper reports Victoria will be back in the WHL next winter. If Toronto Maple Leafs let the National League will supply the players.

Sun sports editor Bruce Larsen says Spokane owner Mel Smith lost money with the Comets in the three years Spokane has been in the WHL.

In a separate story, The Sun says a Victoria group, led by 29-year-old John Bassett, Jr., son of the Toronto Telegram publisher who is a Toronto Maple Leafs director, will put up a $7,500 good-faith bond to support its pitch for re-entry of Victoria into the league. Victoria left the league last year when the Cougars corner, Jim Pigott, transferred his team to Los Angeles.

Meanwhile, in Vancouver, where the Pacific National Exhibition has put its franchise up for sale, a group headed by Pedil Bentley has reached agreement with Montreal Canadiens of the National League to make a bid for the Canucks.

Former Vancouver mayor Fred Hume said Thursday he is going in a 50-50 financial bid to buy the Canucks.

Fish, Game Regulations

Act Proclaimed In Fall

TORONTO (CP) — A new Game and Fish Act, passed at the recent session of the legislature, "will not be proclaimed until sometime in the fall of 1962," Lands and Forests Minister Stoner announced Thursday.

The delay will allow the department to prepare new forms required by the act, consider regulations suggested since the act was passed, and allow the conditions of the act to become public knowledge, Stoner indicated in a press statement.

The act, largely a rewriting and consolidation of former statutes, passed the legislature without serious opposition. Unlike most legislation, which becomes law when signed by the lieutenant-governor, the act is to become effective on a date to be named by proclamation.

"In the meantime," Stoner said, "the existing Game and Fisheries Act continues in force."

"It's statement specifically (herwright title).

Wins Zone Track Meet

WELLAND (CP) — Port Colborne High School ran off with the Southern Ontario Secondary Schools Association zone track championship Thursday for the third consecutive year, registering seven of the 25 records set during the meet.

Port Colborne earned 126 points in the unofficial standings, 35½ ahead of the runners-up from Hagersville.

E. Johnston of Pelham High School was the top individual performer. She won four first-place ribbons—in the senior girls' hop, step and jump, 75-yard hurdles and 75-yard dash.

More than 1,000 students and a dozen schools participated.

DENIES CHARGE

VANCOUVER (CP)—A Vancouver bookstore named in Washington as a distribution point for Soviet propaganda is no such thing, its owner said Thursday. William Philipovich, 46 - year - old former Canadian paratrooper, said in an interview the official Russian documents translated and published in New York and handled by his People's Cooperative Book Store, are not propaganda but statements of fact.

Palmer Off to Another

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Arnold Palmer whittled three strokes from Colonial's par-70 course Thursday and snatched the first-round lead in the $40,000 national invitation golf tournament.

Gary Player of South Africa shot a 68 and shared second place with Doug Ford and Bo Wininger.

The players broke par and slight equalled it.

Defending champion Doug Sanders had a 71, Ben Hogan, trying for his sixth Colonial championship and the accompanying prize of $7,000, shot a 72.

George Knudson of Toronto shot a 38-36—74.

PLAN REGATTA

MONTREAL (CP)—The Boy Scouts of Canada will stage a sailing regatta Aug. 15-24 at Valois, a western suburb of Montreal. Earl T. Moore, president of the Quebec council of the Boy Scouts of Canada, said Thursday two crews of two boys each are being invited to take part from each province. The 13-foot fiberglass "Sting Junior" class boat will be used in the meet for the first time.

RARE, MEDIUM, WELL-DONE

By Geo. H. Carver, Sports Editor

A wire story from Chatham, Ontario, says that Tommy Jaques, manager of the Chatham senior hockey Maroons, plans to call a meeting soon of interested clubs to reorganize the senior hockey league of the Ontario Hockey Association.

Jaques is reported as saying in an interview that his plan includes salaries for players, league schedules and fewer teams. He says that Ontario Hockey Association president Lloyd Pollock of Windsor, has encouraged the plan.

Mr. Pollock has also agreed, the story says, with a suggestion that Ernie Gosman, manager of the Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen two years ago, should take over the leadership of the league.

The present convenor, Pat Patterson, is too burdened with other duties to handle the job properly, says Jaques. "I feel we have got to raise the calibre of the league."

Mr. Jaques said he is at present acting on his own initiative and does not have the official backing of the Chatham Hockey Association.

I wish Mr. Jaques all the success in the world. I believe he is an optimist from outer space. The world is now loaded with optimists, from astronauts, fakers, money and material. Mr. Jaques forgot to mention in his interview where the "better calibre" players and the necessary funds is coming from.

Reports from Western Ontario regarding senior hockey are good—there isn't a "poor" area. The local encouraging as far as box-office support goes. In fact Appel's hinterland fared not much better, if any, than did this part of the Ontario post-of-the-earth.

Mr. Jaques says his plan "includes salaries for players." Unwittingly, unless Mr. Jaques has tapped an unknown source of wealth, he picked up the death weapon that was responsible for the demise of senior "A" hockey in Ontario.

Here in Eastern Ontario we had a brief but highly enjoyable era of senior "B" hockey. For two or three years we whopped the bejabers out of anything Western Ontario had to offer championship-wise. One Wren Blair figured he had the league, and rightly so, were good enough for the exalted senior "A" league of Western Ontario. They laughed at him and told him to take his team back where they belonged.

Blair had other ideas. He figured Eastern Ontario was ripe for senior "A". It was. It made the leap and in two years its representatives won the Allan Cup and world championships.

But it was the beginning of the end. The sharp, but death-dealing point of the "players' salaries" dagger inserted itself. In short, senior "A" hockey all over the province prized itself out of existence. It might have survived had the players abided by rules and OHA regulations. Salary "minimums" were nothing more than a joke.

I do not know how Mr. Jaques intends to "raise the calibre of the league." I mean a mad exodus of senior type players to United States leagues has left Ontario "dry" of this calibre player. The Galt Terriers of last season, minus their world tournament reinforcements, were not much better calibre-wise than a good intermediate "A" club.

And I wonder what sort of a magic wand Mr. Jaques expects to wave over fandom generally to get it clicking at the turnstiles. I've heard it said that if you can give the public what it likes, it will beat a pathway to your door. Last season, down-stream at least, and I believe it was general, green grew over the fields in every town box office. It was folded through lack of fan support. Others were on the verge.

I am not putting the blast on Mr. Jaques. I would like to see the old-type senior hockey return. I am just wondering what the Jaques method is and how it will be, Gomm, Pollock, et al, expect to put senior hockey back on the old footing, or at least "raise the calibre" and bring Joe Fan back into the fold.

REJECT BAN

LONDON (Reuters) — The House of Lords Thursday night knocked out a bill to ban professional boxing in Britain.

The bill, introduced by Lady Edith Summerskill, a medical doctor and long-time foe of prize boxing, was defeated 29 to 22.

Lord Saltoun, undersecretary for home affairs, said the government feels there is not yet enough evidence to justify banning boxing, but would give any help it can if the Royal College of Physicians, Britain's top medical body, sets up an inquiry.

Teams Play 4-Game Set

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Fresh from a successful road trip and with first place in their sights, Cleveland Indians now go for broke—in a four-game series with New York Yankees that may prove the most telling of the young American League season.

Sparked by rookie outfielder Ty Cline, the Indians rapped Minnesota Twins 9-4 Thursday and inched within 1½ games of the front-running Yankees, who had the day off. That was the Tribe's fifth victory in seven games, four at Kansas City and three at Minnesota.

Cline had a pair of two-run singles as the Indians roared away from the Twins with four runs in the fourth inning and four more in the fifth, and also chipped in with another single in the game's 13-hit offensive.

Jim Perry survived an early shelling and went the distance for the Indians, allowing eight hits.

Also in the AL, Early Wynn registered pitching victory No. 294 as Chicago White Sox beat Washington Senators 3-1, Los Angeles Angels downed Detroit Tigers 6-4 behind some nifty relief work by Ryne Duren and Bob Lee, pitching by Chuck Estrada, and Hoyt Wilhelm led Baltimore Orioles over Kansas City Athletics 5-2. Boston Red Sox, like the Yankees, took the day off.

HOUR RESPECTS TRIBE

The Indians, who took two of the three from the Yanks last month in the first set between the two clubs, have the solid respect of New York manager Ralph Houk, who commented:

"Maybe they didn't figure too high in the beginning, but they sure do now. They showed me something."

For tonight's opener, Cleveland's rookie manager, Mel Harder, gaba has Jim (Maddcat) Grant, loan from the army, set to go against Ralph Terry, who beat the Indians four out of four last year.

Thursday against the Twins, Perry got bombed for homers by the first two men he faced, Lennie Green and Vic Power, and fell behind 3-0 after the first, doubled in another run in the second. But Indians rocked loser Don Lee, Georges Maranda and Ted Sadowski for their five-run bursts in the fourth and fifth, making it a breeze for Perry the rest of the way.

Jerry Kindall matched Cline's three singles for Cleveland, while Green added a single to his homer and double.

Wynn checked the Senators on seven hits and was two outs away from the 4th shutout of his 23-year career when doubles by Dale Long and Gino Woodling produced the Washington run. The White Sox broke a scoreless tie with two runs off Bennie Daniels in the sixth and got another run on Al Smith's homer in the eighth.

NEEDS SIX WINS

Wynn, 3-1 for the season, now needs six more victories to become the 34th 300-game winner in major league history.

Duren, making the fourth save in his last five appearances, stifled the Tigers on just one hit over the final three innings in preserving the victory for Jack Spring and the Angels. Detroit powered to a 4-3 edge in the fifth when Jake Wood smacked a three-run homer and Al Kaline hit his 69th.

But Billy Moran's triple and a single by Leon Wagner tied it in the bottom of the fifth, and Albie Pearson's sacrifice fly scored the winner in the sixth. Doug Gallagher was the loser.

Supported by homers from Jim Gentile and Charley Lau, Estrada and Wilhelm teamed on Baltimore's fifth victory in seven outings. Estrada, who was nicked for three singles and two runs in the first, but after Detroit single by Don Demeter Jerry Walker in the second he held the Athletics without a hit through the eighth. The loser's managed only a walk and Wilhelm in the ninth.

Gentile connected with one on the second, tying the score, and Lau homered in the fourth for the go-ahead run.

Connaught Opens Saturday

HULL, Que. (CP) — Connaught Park Race Track, the grand-daddy of racing in the capital area, begins its 50th season Saturday with a conspicuous glance at a new whippersnapper moving into its territory.

On the south side of the Ottawa River, a few miles from Connaught, a $7-million dollar's newest race track, the Rideau Carleton Raceway, the 100,000-plant is scheduled to start operations Sept. 1.

Frank Gorman, who owns Connaught with his brother Joe, says the new track "may not do too much harm to his gate. Some 200,000 customers and $2,241,000 in $2 bets at Connaught last year.

The new track, opening into its 10th season of harness racing, will have 96 nights of racing this year—only Aug. 15 day before the opening of the Exhibition. The season for the new track stretches to Dec. 5—if snow doesn't interfere.

Seventh Time In Career

Doug Harvey Is Top Defenceman

MONTREAL (CP) — Doug Harvey has been picked best defenceman in the National Hockey League for the seventh time in his career, the NHL announced today.

Harvey gets $1,000 and the Norris Trophy for his performance in 1961-62 as a player with New York Rangers, the team he also coaches.

Sportswriters in the NHL cities gave Harvey 102 points out of a possible 126. Pierre Pilote of Chicago Black Hawks was far behind with 47 points and Jean-Guy Talbot of Montreal Canadiens was third at 46.

Harvey, 37, the second-oldest player in the league, was earlier selected to the NHL's first all-star team. His play and his coaching carried the Rangers to their first Stanley Cup playoff berth in four years.

The Norris Trophy, established in the 1953-54 season, went that year to Red Kelly, then of Detroit Red Wings. In 1955-59 it went to Tom Johnson of Montreal.

Every other season Harvey has won it. His first six wins were as a member of the Canadiens.

Harvey polled 83 of the possible 90 points in the first-half balloting for the trophy. Talbot had 7 points and Pilote two. In the second half, with the Rangers a distant third, Harvey earned 17 points, Pilote 45 and Talbot 33.

Yesterday Stars

Pitching: Billy O'Dell, Giants, shut-out the second-place St. Louis Cardinals 6-0 on four hits, evening only one-run pitching duel between the two National League leads to four games.

Batting: Ty Cline, Indians, drove in four runs with a pair of two-run singles and added another single in Cleveland's 9-4 victory over Minnesota Twins.

Commercial Would Like Another Team

The City Commercial Softball league, set to open the 1962 schedule with five teams, gave any other possible entries until midnight, Monday, May 14, to file entry as a league meeting last night.

Definite entries are Point Anne, Lightfoot Construction, Trudeau Motors, the Pepsi's and Wood's Construction. A sixth team will be welcomed but if none is available by Monday, the above five teams will constitute the league.

New entries are advised to contact league president Don Shiloh at 13A Cedar Street, telephone 2-0682.

The league will open its schedule on Tuesday, May 22 when last year's champions, Trudeau Motors, will play host to the Point Anne Cementmen in a 6.30 game at the CNRA Park. A full schedule will be available shortly.

O'Dell, Drysdale Headed For Stars

By HUGH BRADLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Billy O'Dell and Don Drysdale, tested aces who gave the Baltimore Orioles and Los Angeles Dodgers good reason to think their best seasons may be ahead.

O'Dell, who last year became the only pitcher to win 20 games, pitched a seven-hitter for his fifth victory against one defeat Thursday night as Baltimore defeated Washington 3-2 in 10 innings.

Drysdale, a right-hander, moved third-place Los Angeles within six games of the leaders with the runners-up Redbirds with a three-hitter, setting down 17 consecutive batters during one stretch of the Dodgers' 6-3 triumph over Houston Colts.

O'Dell's best year came in 1960 when he posted 14 wins at Baltimore. In his two previous seasons with the Giants he has won eight per season. Drysdale's 6-5 record during the 1961 campaign.

Drysdale has been tagged "20-game winner" since his debut with the Los Dodgers, then in Brooklyn, during the 1956 season. He has posted 13-10 and 12-9 records before last year dipped to 13-10.

O'Dell's other game was played in the NL. Milwaukee Braves edging Pittsburgh Pirates 4-3 on Frank Bolling's ninth-inning homer before 3,746 fans—lowest turnout at home in Braves' history. The New York Mets-Chicago Cubs game again was postponed due to cold. Philadelphia and Cincinnati had an open date.

O'Dell remained unbeaten and hurled his third complete game in a row by battling the Cards and record-seeking Stan Musial until relief was hailed by rain with two out in the last of the ninth. Musial needed one hit to tie Honus Wagner's league record of 3,430 hits but went 0-4. It was the first time the Cards had been blanked this season.

Musial, meanwhile, struck for two runs in the fourth against Bob Gibson (3-3) on a single by Willie McCovey, Orlando Cepeda's double and a double by Felipe Alou that chased both home. McCovey, playing in the absence of Harvey Kuenn, then iced it in the fifth with a three-run homer. Kuenn left the club to attend his father's funeral.

Drysdael, who has lost once, allowed both Colt runs on homers by Roman Mejias hit in eighth, an inside-the-park job in the first inning, and Carl Warwick got the other with two out in the ninth. In between, Drysdale was virtually untouchable, permitting only a leadoff double by Merritt Ranew in the second.

Held to six hits by Bob Bruce (1-1) and Don McMahon, the Dodgers took a lead they never relinquished as rookie Lenny Burright tagged his first major league homer right over the left-field scoreboard in the fourth. Burright, who has been sidelined with an eye injury, later drove home the tying run with a double in the seventh and the 11th in 12 innings when Roy Sievers lofted a single to right.

Ryne Duren (2-0) was the winner in relief for Baltimore, who opened the season with a record-tying 16-game winning streak. Bolling spoiled the crusher, swatting a 3-2 pitch in the ninth with a homer off Elroy Face (1-1). The Braves had pulled even in the eighth when Mack Jones homered after a walk to Hank Aaron and Joe Torre's run-scoring single. Rookie Hank Fischer (1-1) working in relief of Bob Hendley, picked up the victory.

Sailors Win Second Int. Title

PORT COLBORNE, Ont. (CP) — Port Colborne Sailors took their second straight Ontario Hockey Association intermediate A championship with a 6-5 win over Meaford Chevys in the sixth game of their best-of-seven series Thursday night.

Chester Warchol paced the Sailors with five goals and assisted on the other three. Jim Robertson fired two and Neal Pastoor one. Stay McCabe, Frank Bergeron, John Macdonald, Don Bernard and Arnold Smith scored for Meaford.

THE FINAL

GLASGOW (Reuters) — Alfredo of Madrid and Fiorentina of Italy, the cup holder, drew 1-1 after extra time to decide the European Winners' Cup final Thursday night. Both goals came in the first half.

Ryan Drives Test Race

LONDON (CP) — Canadian driver Peter Ryan Thursday won a race against the clock in preparation for his first big British car race.

For the past week, the 21-year - old driver from Moot Tremblant, Que., has been working overtime preparing the machine he will drive in Saturday's Formula Junior event at Silverstone, Northamptonshire, one of Britain's major motor-racing tracks.

Ryan arrived here just before Easter not knowing he would have to help build his own car, which is apparently an old British custom. Since early last week he has been helping mechanic John Pledger and fellow-driver Paul Hawkins put together his £2,000 Lotus, starting practically from scratch. They finished Thursday.

"Some nights we have worked past midnight," Ryan told a reporter.

Ryan was signed last week to a three - week contract by the Lotus group and loaned to the Ian Walker team. The field is strong for the race and Ryan doesn't rate his chances highly.

Wins Blind Bowling Title

MONTREAL (CP) — George Mills of New Westminster, B.C., Western Canada blind bowling champion, won the Canadian championship Thursday, defeating Earl Schwanz of Peterborough, Ont.

Mills rolled 416 in three five-pin games.

Schwanz, Eastern Canada champion, got a case of the jitters and was far off his usual form. He rolled a total of 372.

In the tournament, for blind bowlers and people only, contestants use a guide rail to line themselves up with the alley.

New Pennies Bad Luck For Pitcher

BRUNSWICK, Ga. (AP) — They gave away 500 lucky pennies, but all 12 bought one $5 worth of many bad luck for Bill Candill, 21, the hard left-hander of Brunswick Cardinals.

Pitching St. Louis farmhand suffered his fourth loss of the season Thursday night and was relieved in the fifth inning by professional baseball to 9-12 when Dublin thrashed Brunswick 11-9 in a Class D Georgia-Florida League game.

Fans and club officials decided to try to do something about the bee that has pursued Candill since he signed with the Cardinals organization. The officials gave the fans bright new pennies, and the fans brought four-leaf clovers, rabbits' feet and other assorted good-luck charms.

"As usual, the Springfield, Ill., jinx worked well for a while, but Dublin scored seven runs in the seven innings and Candill was the showers.

He yielded 12 runs in 6 3-3 innings, but only six were earned. His teammates erred seven times.

Candill will rest his tired arm and his bruised ego for a few days, then make another stab at his first professional triumph.

Quinte COSSA Track

Dozen Schools Enter Meet

Twelve district high school teams entered some 450 boys in the Bay of Quinte COSSA Track Meet to be held Saturday at Trenton High School beginning at 10 a.m.

The addition of the new Junior-wide Age Group and 120 high school boys will make this class the largest entry by at least one, this year.

The year's winner of the Ken Colling Race, Bill Vermilyea, will be competing in his last Bay of Quinte Track Meet and is keen on making it a winning one.

The only individual appearance, former track star, last year in Ron Faulkner of Moira who won the Junior 100, 220 and 440. He will be competing in the Intermediate class where it is expected he will meet very stiff competition.

At least 10 records will be set as there are that many new events being held but if the weather is poor, the keen competition could produce several new records.

ORDER OF EVENTS

Track events in the morning activities feature heats for all age groups in: 100 yd. dash, 220 yd. dash, 120 yd. hurdles

Finals in all 220 yard runs.

Afternoon sees the final in all events as follows:

1:30 - 1:20 — 120 yd. hurdles

1:20 - 2:00 — 100 yd. dash

2:00 - 2:20 — Intermediate 1-mile.

2:20 - 2:30 — 220 yd dash for all age groups.

2:30 - 2:50 — Junior 1-mile.

3:00 - 3:20 — 440 yd dash for all age groups.

3:20 - 3:30 — Relay finals for all age groups.

Field events starting at 10.30 a.m. comprised: high jump, pole vault, shot put, discus throw, broad jump, hop-step-jump, with seniors, juniors, juvenile and intermediates taking part.

Astrological Forecast

For May 13

By SYDNEY OMARR

Aries (March 21 to April 19) Work close to home today could prove more beneficial than you might imagine. Let others come to you. If you press, seek, try to push doors open, you defeat own purpose.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20) Could be night of celebration. But parties moderation. Be constructive, not destructive. Do not join merely for sake of being "in" with group, but contribute something.

Interior Painting and Decorating
Wood Finishing a Specialty
H. EATON
22 Burrell St. WO 2-4321

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) Shoot straight from shoulder. For too long you have been "carrying" one close to you. Now is time to put cards on table. By so doing, you help self, find other person, too.

Cancer (June 22 to July 21) Emphasis on versatility, on ability to make impression on new persons, capability of facing new situations, perfect for entertainment tonight.

Leo (July 22 to August 21) Going all out could cause regrets. Be generous, pay your way. But avoid tendency to grab for complete "lab." Earlier, best to attend to details.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 23) Cycle up, but you must be willing to "take a chance." This means meeting others more than halfway. Display interests and let others know what makes you "tick." Be confident!

Libra (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) There is more concern on your part than on the part of those you are trying to impress. Relax. Don't create problems. There is really nothing to fear.

Scorpio (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22) Not time to make demands. Best to take it slow and easy, especially on affairs of heart. Trust friends, loved ones. By trying to "take over" you alienate those important to you.

Sagittarius (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21) Trusting your own judgment, intuition of paramount importance. Otherwise, everything may fall apart. Give yourself thorough cross-examination. Then decide.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Like Aries, it's a mistake to force your way. You gain by waiting, planning, exhibiting charm, exchanging ideas, especially at social gathering.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Too much concern leads to brooding and accomplishes nothing. Best course is to relax instead. Tonight show loved ones you care. And practise moderation.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Follow intuitive intellect. Judge people as you would have them judge you. Extend hand of friendship. Relax, enjoy yourself.

If today is your birthday you have excellent sense of humor and this gives you need it! Cycle begins to move up later and until then you should prepare, plant seeds which bear fruit later.

GENERAL TENDENCIES—Many advocate taxing down in order to rebuild. Cycle up for Leo, Virgo, Libra. Watch for news concerning city planning and stories which spotlight "dreams" of future.

Few Unanswered Questions Piling Up In Inquiry

$1,000 Left in Pot Followed Long Route

TORONTO (CP) — Unanswered questions are piling up as Ontario's royal commission on crime weaves its way through a maze of often-conflicting evidence in the current search for links between gamblers and officialdom.

New ones that cropped up or gained more emphasis during the present week of testimony before Mr. Justice W. D. Roach included:

1. What is the extent of United States gangster influence in Ontario's seemingly lucrative gaming business?

2. How the Ontario pickings really been so lush and the protection machinery so well oiled that Detroit's top gambling boss, as he is reported to have told his friends, would willingly have swapped his empire for the $1,000 a week Joseph Bernardo Zerilli and Vincent Feeley?

3. What became of the $1,000 a week the Ontario pickings really been so lush and the protection machinery so well oiled that Detroit's top gambling boss, as he is reported to have told his friends, would willingly have swapped his empire for the $1,000 a week Joseph Bernardo Zerilli and Vincent Feeley?

4. Was the $1,000 a week the Ontario pickings really been so lush and the protection machinery so well oiled that Detroit's top gambling boss, as he is reported to have told his friends, would willingly have swapped his empire for the $1,000 a week Joseph Bernardo Zerilli and Vincent Feeley?

While police were questioning the four subsequently charged with checking of play underway at the Seneca Hotel, other workers hopped the last on five police officers and set fire to it.

A call for assistance made to every detachment of the force in eastern York County was answered by seven cruisers and police headed up a search party that found Mr. Smith's car.

Charged by the anti-gambling squad are:

Marshal G. Douglass, 38, Toronto; Alex Gordon, 32, Revesby, Ont.; Fred Lackey, 39, town of Cornwall, and George Marshall, 38, of Toronto.

Newsmarket provincial police said there were no injuries reported when the fire broke out. Shrubb's workers were dismissed after a fire call was sounded.

Shrubb's wife, important commission witness, was in court when the verdict was read.

RESUMES MONDAY

The saga of the $1,000 a week Ontario pickings really been so lush and the protection machinery so well oiled that Detroit's top gambling boss, as he is reported to have told his friends, would willingly have swapped his empire for the $1,000 a week Joseph Bernardo Zerilli and Vincent Feeley? resumes Monday when the commission hearings resume. Friday, the commission tracked developments in the trail pointing in the direction of McDermott and Feeley but ended the day for the week without a minor gambling point junction with the two.

The deputy told of finding the money in the flower pot on the apartment balcony and attached after a voice on the telephone—that of Joseph Bernardo Zerilli—directed him to look under the porch.

Concluding it was one or six-figure sum, the roll of bills and $9 to Clayton Keyhoe, a Detroit friend of Zerilli's and Feeley interprise.

Riggs testified he passed it along to Keyhoe, who identified the money part - owner and a beneficiary of the Seneca Hotel to McDermott. That was the last he heard of it, McLaughlin said.

Mass Fight Follows Gambling Raid

AURORA, Ont. (CP) — Four men were arrested by the Ontario Provincial Police anti-gambling squad Friday night after a raid at the Royal Canadian Legion community midway in this town 35 miles north of Toronto.

While police were questioning the four subsequently charged with checking of play underway at the midway, other workers hopped the last on five police officers and set fire to it.

Central Figure In Kidnapping Dies Suddenly

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Former Police Lieut. Leigh Shoulders, 61, a central figure in the disappearance of $200,000 of the Greenlease kidnaping ransom, died of a heart attack Friday.

Shoulders had been transferred to a hospital for a heart condition in 1957 after his release from the United States Medical Center for federal prisoners at Springfield, Mo., where he had served a two-year term for perjury. His conviction resulted from the search for more than half of the $600,000 ransom.

He died between one of the most controversial figures in the mystery that still has the attention of the FBI.

Shoulders was known as a fearless officer. He reached the peak of his career when he arrested Carl Austin Hall, 27, kidnap - killer of little Bobby Greenlease, the night of Oct. 6, 1953.

He was called as a hero at the time Hall was tried and convicted about half of the ransom money could not be accounted for.

Shoulders and his companion, Patrolman Elmer Dolan, arrested Hall and took Hall and two accused women, holding the ransom money to the police station. When it was discovered that about half of the $600,000 ransom money was missing, Shoulders and Dolan came under intensive questioning.

Both were later indicted for perjury in Kansas City for falsely testifying about the manner in which the two officers were handled when Hall was brought into the station.

Shoulders was sentenced to three years in prison and Dolan two years.

Hall and his accomplice, Bonnie Brown Heady, died in the Missouri gas chamber.

Today's Chuckle

One of the greatest puzzles in life is how frail and how much money got together in the first place.

PRINCE PHILIP ARRIVES TODAY FOR CONFERENCE

Will Deliver Keynote Address

MONTREAL (CP) — Prince Philip will arrive in Canada by air at 1:45 p.m. EDT today for his first visit in nearly two years.

The prince will go on to Ottawa almost immediately, arriving at Uplands Airport at 2:45 p.m. and spend the week-end in the capital before returning to Montreal to open the Commonwealth Study Conference Monday.

In his capacity as conference president, Prince Philip will deliver the keynote address at the first plenary session of the conference at the University of Montreal.

On arrival in Ottawa today, he will be met by Governor-General Georges Vanier and Vincent Massey, Canada's first High Commissioner to Britain, on his return to Ottawa after a long absence.

Mr. Massey will be a weekend guest of the Governor-General and Mme. Vanier.

The prince last visited Canada during the summer of 1959, when he opened new Houses of Parliament in Ottawa and Toronto making plans for the Commonwealth Study Conference.

HOST FROM OUTSIDE

Some 200 delegates and observers from outside Canada will gather in Montreal during the week for the conference.

The first was held in Oxford, England, in 1956.

The conference will be a cross-country affair, winding up with meetings in Vancouver. The three-week period delegates will hear speeches, have round-table discussions, join in community study-projects and take a first-hand look at the effects of Canada's industrialization on hinterlands.

After four days of plenary sessions in Montreal and Ottawa, delegates will break up into groups of 30 next Thursday to visit industrial communities in the Atlantic provinces, Quebec and Northern Ontario.

The Commonwealth Study Conference has been organized by Canadian industrial firms and labor organizations under the auspices of the province, but governments participate in any way and its sessions will be closed to the public.

INVITE DELEGATES

Delegates from various states of the United States and the Commonwealth will be attending by invitation.

Addressing a dinner of the Canadian War Correspondents' Association in London in May, 1960, Prince Philip said: "I am particularly delighted that the Commonwealth conference is going to be in Canada, because Canada has developed a unique blend of industrial communities and each has some business to serve.

"Delegates, mainly between the ages of 25 and 45, have been selected for their present and future potential as leaders of management or labor organizations."

REFUSES FLAME PERMIT

OTTAWA (CP) — De Havilland Aircraft of Canada Limited has been refused permission to sell an Otter aircraft to Air Kenya, a Canadian trade department official said Friday. It was understood the refusal was motivated because of the plane's potential role as a military weapon.

Some Indian Tribes Do Not Want Any Part of June Vote

OTTAWA (CP) — The white man is reeling before an onslaught by the enfranchised members of their race voting in the June 18 federal election. Canada's first presidential Indian war are the Caughnawaga Indians reservation near Montreal and the St. Regis reservation, one on Cornwall Island, Ont., and the other on the mainland on the Quebec side.

The Mohawks of Caughnawaga want their brothers of the Six Nations and the St. Regis reservations have passed resolutions that they want no part of their new right to vote in federal elections.

The white man has taken them at their word, but has made preparations—if the reservations—for them to vote just in case they change their minds by June 18.

Chief John Sharrow, a member of the St. Regis band on Cornwall Island, said Friday.

Voters have been enumerated using lists provided by the federal Indian Affairs branch. Officials of the branch say the lists are up to date.

Former Liberal Policies Under Attack in Campaign

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Prime Minister Diefenbaker launched the former Liberal government's record — a list whose sole policies in speeches to audiences in Ontario and while Liberal Leader Pearson intensified his party's bid for Quebec votes.

Mr. Diefenbaker told a Conservative rally in Hamilton his government has cut the spiral of inflation. It inherited 10% unemployment, he told a Toronto, Que., Mr. Pearson called the Tory policy "one big zero" in federal provincial relations aimed at helping the richer provinces get richer. Still failure in their way to work.

City Hall Bowling League Holds Annual

The City Hall Departmental bowling league concluded its season's schedule Saturday night with the annual banquet held at Club Canara and Night.

Mayor Alexander Hume was the guest speaker. Trophies for the seasonal championship and runner-up were presented, with the league's most consistent bowler receiving the Memorial Trophy. The league's past president was chairman.

Individual members of the winning team received miniature bowling trophies donated and presented by Maurice Rollins, Members of the team were Jack Bowen, Alice Biddle, Margaret Jones, Don Kearney, Ed O'Meara and Jack Kane. Charles (Al) Mott, the league's high single bowler with his 302 average winning the silver trophy.

High triple prizes were won by Fred Hall and Joyce Glenn. Winners of the high average awards were Jack Elliott, Jr. and Mona Kane.

Dancing wound up a highly enjoyable evening.

United Church Group Meets At Queen's

Approximately 430 delegates, and an equal number of equal numbers, representing 193,000 church members, will meet in Queen's University, Kingston, for the five-day Bay of Quinte Conference of the United Church of Canada, May 28th, 29th, 30th, June 1st, 1961.

The conference this year involving five days of business, discussion, inspiration, education, and the growing Service Fund of Christian Evangelism, which it shares with other churches. The United Church movement, in last year in the planning stage, is now an accomplished fact, and echoes of it will be heard, as has given a great impetus to the Church work.

The delegates, representing Kingston, Brockville, Belleville, Smith's Falls, Pembroke, Whitby, Lindsay, Peterborough and the great rural areas and ministers of Eastern Ontario, will be presided over by the Conference president, Rev. R. C. Bowles, B.A., of Cobourg, Ontario.

WHY PHYSICIANS PRESCRIPTIONS ARE MORE HELPFUL?

Patient medicines and home remedies can often relieve a temporary, non recurring symptom. But, they can never be really potent because they are made for the average person.

A physician's prescription has the exact dosage your body requires for the physician regulates the amount in proportion to your weight and condition. And, only a physician can diagnose the exact sickness.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription at shopping nearby or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we dispense yours?

MAJ. J. M. STGOTT
Campbellford

CAMPBELLFORD — Major John Montgomery Sygott died in hospital here on Tuesday, May 9th, 1961 at the age of 71 years. He had been in Campbellford Memorial Hospital for about a week. Previously he had been in poor health for only a few months.

Born in Rawdon township, the son of the late James Wilson Sygott and Jane Montgomery, he attended school in Stirling and as a youth, enlisted in the CNR station in the village. He rolled this occasion and prior to World War I, was station agent at Lakefield. He enlisted with the 93rd Battalion and was overseas leaving the rank of Captain. Overseas he was promoted to rank of the Imperial Army. Twice mentioned in dispatches he returned to Canada in 1919 to the Canadian National Railways in Campbellford. In 1920 he family came here and set up in home on what is the Bridge Street West, making it his permanent residence.

He served in the community in council, in counties council, and as mayor. He was active in the Conservative party.

Major Sygott was a warden of Christ Church for many years and a valued member of the choir. He was a life member of Golden Rule Lodge, A.F. and A.M. No. 126 and held the unusual honor of having been a Mason for more than 60 years and a Past Master for more than 50 years. He was a Master of Clement Lodge, Lakefield. He was also a member of the Canadian Legion Branch 103 and served that organization faithfully, serving as president during World War II.

Interment was made in telegraphy, which became a hobby with him following his retirement from the Railway in December.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. J. E. H. Free (Helen) of Agincourt, and Mrs. W. A. Nelson (Elsie) of Campbellford; son, Jack, of Scarborough, and five grandchildren. Mrs. Sygott, the former Annie McNabb, and a daughter, Kathleen, died in 1944. A niece, Florence McNabb, a member of the family since childhood, also survives.

Golden Rule Lodge, A.F. and A.M. held a memorial service at the Major's late residence on Monday night.

Funeral services were conducted at Christ Church on Wednesday afternoon by Rev. Owen G. Harvey. He was assisted by Canon of the Masonic Lodge. Graveside services were conducted under the auspices of the Canadian Legion. Interment was in Christ Church Cemetery.

The bearers were Messrs. Charles Simpson, Franklin Lucas, Forrest Dennis, Ralph Locke, Charles Davidson and Hilton Beatty.

memory, notably points involving the late Mayor McDowell, Gaetley Interests in the Jordan Harbor area and the Veterans Club at Cookville.

He revived, quickly, one of the Council's old cries of trouble later, and finally was left with only the "Mayor's Ball" with its recollection refreshed.

Mayor reported owing cuts in grants and loss of revenue by the two clubs but said he never would "go out in the red" to come tax returns, though, he said he had a 1962 net worth of $40,000 which he could use despite his potato chip salary of $5,000 and $6,000 as Mayor.

He could not remember "exactly" how his stake got built up.

HONORED BY N.E.—Robert S. Baverstock is feted by Northern Electric Company officials and fellow employees. Above, Mr. S. Stilltoe, in the absence of Mr. D. A. J. MacDonald presents Mr. Baverstock with the President's Wallet in commemoration of 38 years' service.

Girl Is Killed On Highway, Struck by Car

A nineteen-year-old girl, resident of this city, died en-route to Trenton Memorial Hospital early today after being struck by an automobile near White's cemetery on Sir Trent Road.

Frances Christine Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Brown, 134 Wright Ave., was struck by the car shortly after 12.30 this morning, while walking with a friend on the highway.

Police did not release the identity of Miss Brown's companion.

The fatally-injured girl was rushed to Trenton Memorial Hospital, but succumbed before arrival.

The two pedestrians were walking along the highway when Miss Brown was struck by a car driven by Lloyd Gerald Bowman, 36, of Middleton Park. Bowman was accompanied by an unidentified passenger.

The fatality was investigated by Ontario Provincial Police Constable W. G. Willis.

Miss Brown was born in Belleville and had lived in the city all her life.

She was an employee of the Northern Electric Company and had formerly worked at Lafleur's Dress Shop. She was a member of the Anglican Church.

Surviving besides her parents are a brother, Donald Richard, and a sister, Dorothy Jo Ann, both at home.

'Family Night' Again in Vogue At Drive-in

Following numerous enquiries and requests from Belleville and district residents, the Bayshore Drive-In Theatre will again have "family night" this year, according to manager Willard Fawcett.

We have been literally swamped with calls asking why we don't have a "family night" and I have persuaded our company to go along with the idea, Mr. Fawcett said.

So, commencing next Wednesday night, "family night" will again be introduced at the local drive-in.

"As long as they can get into one car, all go in for the one price," the manager noted.

R.S. Baverstock Honored by North Electric

Robert S. Baverstock, 21 Boswell Street was honored recently on his retirement from the Northern Electric Company here following 38 years of service.

Plant officials and colleagues paid tribute to Mr. Baverstock at a "farewell" dinner held at the Sirtis Club.

Mr. S. Stillton presented the guest of honor with the president's wallet. Other presentations were made by S. Creeper on behalf of the Sirtis Athletic Club; C. W. McSwraith, Bell Telephone and M. Wilkis on behalf of fellow employees.

British-born Mr. Baverstock joined the Northern Electric Company in Montreal on January 7th, 1929. Previously he was associated with the Grand Trunk Railways and the CNR, also the Montreal Locomotive Works.

During his tenure with the company Mr. Baverstock served in various departments. Seventeen years ago he was promoted to department chief of equipment assembly department.

He served on the N.E. Benevolent Association committee, Montreal for five years and was its Belleville representative for 15 years. He was a member of the company Letterman's Club, executive for a year and a committee member for five years.

He was a charter member and first president of Special Products Foremen's Group, former member Montreal Foremen's Club and a member of the Quinte Foremen's Club.

Sportsman Mr. Baverstock was an executive of the Montreal Wanderer's Soccer Club and was active in organizing a soccer league in Belleville in 1946. He is a former president of the company's Manufacturing Hockey League and served on the executive of the Bowling league.

Mr. and Mrs. Baverstock, the former Nora Ada Cavener, came to Belleville in 1947. They have one daughter, Patricia, to whom are associated with the Northern Electric Company.

Robert S. Jr., is a section chief in the Sherbrooke Street plant in Montreal. Mrs. Alice Mason works in the office staff of the same plant while Mrs. Dorothy M. Nolan is a member of the business staff here. Another daughter, Patricia is associated with the administration staff of the Belleville General Hospital.

DESIGNERS DRAG

MOSCOW (AP)—The newspaper Sovietskaya Rossia says that of 1,200 designers at Moscow's Likhachev auto plant, only 12 did any effective designing in recent months. The result is under fire for labor mismanagement and failure to produce new car models.

Bay of Quinte Conference on May 28-June 1

The Bay of Quinte Conference of the United Church of Canada will meet at Queen's Dalrymple in Kingston from May 28th through June 1, 1962. Some 420 delegates are expected, with equal representation of clergy and lay delegates; they will represent 183,000 church members in an area bounded by Kingston, Brockville, Smiths Falls, Pembroke, Renfrew, Peterborough, Bobby and Lindsay.

Highlights of the Conference will include the annual communion service, to be presided over by the Rev. A. W. Ockenden, B.A., B.D., of Pembroke; discussions on church extension; unity with other churches; and the Work Plan of the United Church (elected by other Conferences); the devotional addresses by the Very Rev. W. G. Jordan, C.B.E., D.D., LL.D., the past moderator; the profession to the ministry of candidates, with the Conference president, Rev. E. C. Kellogg, presiding; and preaching and the ordination service, with the General representative of the General Council of the Church, Rev. James Fraser, B.A.

The Rev. E. C. Kellogg will preside over the sessions, which will be held for the most part in Dunning Hall of Queen's University, and Kingston United Churches. Delegates will be accommodated in the University residences.

It will be remembered that the United Church of Canada was among the first of the great denominations in Canada, to welcome women, on a basis of equality with men, to all of the offices of the church, including the ministry. The United Church women movement had years in the planning stage, this year is to be accomplished fact, and echoes of it will be heard, as it has given a great impetus to the church work.

New Skating Rink Possible For Tweed

A new skating rink is in the offing for the village of Tweed and surrounding community.

Cost of the rink with an inside surface of 180 by 80 feet is estimated at $70,000 with financial support expected from both Tweed and Hungerford municipal councils.

The township of Hungerford has voted $18,000 toward the project with the proviso that the rink be built on the Tweed fair grounds. A grant of up to $25,000 is expected from Tweed village.

The new rink would replace the structure which collapsed several years ago.

Charge Three Speared Fish With Lights at Bruno Lake

TWEED — Ontario Lands and Forests Department officials made one of their largest catches of illegally caught inland species game fish early yesterday morning when three local residents were caught allegedly spearing fish with the use of lights in Sheffield Township near Bruno Lake.

They were caught with two maskinonge, one 39½ inches long and the other 37 inches in length; three pike, two measuring 26 inches and the third 19 inches; and a black bass measuring 11½ inches. Besides the out-of-season game fish, the suckers and an eel had been speared.

Hugh Dornan, senior conservation officer for Tweed district, described the case as being a good example of why Lands and Forests officers do not favor people going out at night "just for a few suckers". Usually their wind up with almost any species of fish and ruin fishing for everyone else, he advised.

Mr. Dornan also passed comment on the use of spears for fishing, noting that a number of municipalities had outlawed their use at any time and for any species of fish, and suggested this device had sufficient any reason for use as a sporting means of catching fish.

Charges are pending against three persons. The fish will be sent to the Hastings County Home.

Local Market Colorful With Transplants

The local farmer's market was a colorful scene this morning as a large quantity of transplanting flowers were being offered for sale at 40c per berry box.

Many different varieties were being offered such as petunia, snapdragon, aster, zinnia, hyacinth and phlox.

Various vegetable plants such as tomatoes, celeries and cabbage were also selling for 40c per box.

Fresh asparagus sold for 30c a bunch and rhubarb at the same price.

Apples were selling for $3 per bushel and strawberries in six quart basket and 35c a small bag.

Berry plants, strawberry and raspberry sold at 10c a plant or $1.20 per dozen, and beans were offered at 50c a quart berry box.

Eggs remain steady, selling for 40, 45 and 50c a dozen for small medium and large.

With the warm weather encountered in the city a good crowd of both vendors and purchasers was seen.

Three Students To Compete at Science Fair

Three B.C.I. students will be competing in the first Canada Wide Science Fair to be held at Carleton University, Ottawa, May 11th and 12th.

Those participating who were first prize winners at the recent Science Fair held in Belleville Collegiate Institute are: Miss Beverley Davies, 138 William Street, who will demonstrate "Wave Patterns"; Donna Hennessey, 301 Dundas Street W., will present "Ancient History"; and Vincent Miller, R. R. 1, Carrying Place, has chosen "Reproduction of Life". All three students are in Grade 11 at the Belleville Collegiate Institute.

There will be two grand prizes awarded one each for the winning boy and girl and this will be an all expense paid trip to attend the International Youth Fortnight at London, England, from July 30 — August 3rd.

citizenry of Stormont while the other two reservations are in Chateauguay - Huntingdon area, prairie.

Col. H. M. Jones, federal director of Indian affairs, says he is mystified over why the Indians object to exercising their franchise to vote in federal elections. This right was provided in legislation passed by Parliament in 1960.

Col. Jones said there seems to be an impression among some Indians that they will lose some of their rights if they vote. However, he said that Citizenship Minister Fairclough told Parliament April 11 that no rights of Indians would be affected.

Chief Sherrow of the Caughnawaga reserve said Friday night, however, that "there will be no Indian vote in this election."

"We have never voted in any election, federal, provincial or municipal, and we do not intend to start now," he said. "They know [illegible] and trying to make us violate our own constitution.

Chief Sherrow said any Indian on Cornwall Island who votes will no longer be a band member.

"Those are their words," he snapped, "they can take up the white man's ways."

Canadian Attitude to Courts

Sydney J. Harris, whose penetrating observations on a multiplicity of subjects appear regularly on this page, recently compared British and U.S. courts, to the detriment of the latter.

He quoted a British jurist as saying American criminals had contempt for the law, while British criminals actually respected it. The difference, it was argued, stems from the U.S. system of electing district attorneys, so that they try to compile an impressive list of convictions to help them gain re-election.

There is enough logic in this argument to trap the unwary. We are apt to conclude that, because our Canadian system is based on British principles, the results will be the same. They are not. Whatever may be the case in Britain, few Canadian criminals respect our courts. Like criminals in the U.S., they have contempt for the law and for the same reason—they do not believe they always get a fair deal.

Their attitude stems largely from Canada's proximity to the U.S. and from our familiarity with the defects in the processes of justice in that land.

But this, alas, is not the only explanation. Their feeling concerning the courts has some sound basis in facts. Crown attorneys here are sometimes as eager to obtain convictions as any elected district attorney in the U.S. Courts sometimes appear to favor those with political name or position, particularly in respect to publicity given cases. We recall one member of the Ontario Legislature, a minister of the Crown, who was charged with failure to file correct income tax information and whose case was heard in the afternoon, instead of the regular morning hours, in order to avoid publicity. Even when courts do not hide information from newspapers, newspapers themselves sometimes treat well-known citizens differently from the "little man."

Unwise appointments are sometimes made. We recall one county where the magistrate was a former provincial policeman, the judge a former crown attorney. Given the already-existing scepticism as to the fairness of the courts, a combination like this was certainly unwise, no matter how scrupulously magistrate and judge might endeavor to hold the scales of justice even.

Most of our real criminals feel, in the words the British jurist quoted by Harris used to describe American criminals, "that the processes of law and justice are rigged against them, and they are bitter."

But these men and women are wrong in their estimate of Canadian courts, that in the vast majority of cases these courts are as scrupulously fair as their British counterparts, does not remedy the situation, while the few exceptions exist. We have given examples which make it unrealistic to hope for a basic change in the attitude of wrong-doers towards our courts unless these exceptions are wiped out.

Vandalism A Problem

At Trenton, acts of vandalism have been committed in public parks. Small trees have been ruthlessly chopped down. Picnic tables have been smashed. Benches have been carried away and abandoned.

To say, such acts are not uncommon throughout the province, and indeed the country.

E. M. Parker, Jr., chairman of Trenton's parks board, says that if anybody guilty of vandalism is caught, the board will, and we quote, "make it d——— uncomfortable for him."

We applaud this intention.

Nor are the actual perpetrators of these acts always the only ones who should be punished.

Wednesday of this week the Ontario Legislature's select committee on municipal law heard a delegation from the Association of Ontario Mayors and Reeves suggest that parents be made liable for restitution of up to $200 for each case of wilful damage to public property by their children.

At present parents are not legally responsible for such damage, or for damage, either accidental, or intentional, to private property, unless it can be proven that the parents were negligent in failing to control their children.

George Gordon, Liberal M.L.A., for Brantford, put his finger on the reason for this law when he said that some children could ruin their parents with actions over which the parents had no control.

Alfred H. Cowling, Government whip, replied that it would be a good thing if some parents were ruined. He is right. The difficulty is in making certain that the ruined parents are those who deserve it.

Olive Diefenbaker Wins Votes Without Knowing It

BY RICHARD JACKSON

(From The Ontario Intelligencer's Ottawa Bureau)

OTTAWA — "What would he ever do without her!" How often hear that said these days out on the campaign trail, when people wonder, as they must, about John and Olive Diefenbaker.

He so intense.

She so serene.

But perhaps they aren't being asking that question the country over since back in the 1917 "conscription" election? John Diefenbaker, almost single-handedly, fought his way to power, and his principal ally of the Prime Minister's office.

"Almost single-handedly," I say here, because that's the way it was.

He did it with the absolutely irrefutable, even indispensable help of Olive Diefenbaker.

So the answer to that question, "What would he ever do without her?" remains the same as it has all through the past five years: the world do all right certainly, but perhaps not just quite as well.

Olive Diefenbaker could be incorporated into the Cabinet and has made the difference between great, and spectacular, success.

To begin with, she has a compelling, attractive, that's more important, she communicates it. . . but terribly persuasive personality. And amazingly radiating it.

HERE THE TOUCH

Married nine years to a working politician, she has been come something of an indestructible in the art of politics.

And with Olive Diefenbaker, it is an art.

For she has grown into being a veteran campaigner . . . a great vote-getter without giving even the faintest suspicion that she is trying to get votes.

Her role is in the background in relation to the Prime Minister.

She seldom makes a speech. And, when she does, it's usually just a few gracious words to thank some gathering or small group for the courtesies shown her husband.

"I think it best for me to remain in the background," she said the other night. "After all, it's John they come to see and hear."

But try as she might to remain in the background, inevitably she comes into focus, being her to the forefront.

She never makes a mistake.

Relaxed, enjoying people, she has a talent for putting them, at once, at their ease.

She does the little things that are so important and does them well.

She jots down the names of people she meets, sends postcards to her and her husband — both in election campaigns and on and off the campaign trail alike — and later she writes to all of them personally, with appreciation of their thoughtfulness.

Perhaps it is because she likes her job . . . and it is far from being a chore . . . that she is so good at it.

HER SECRET

Because of the very repetition of the things that have to be done, she has created simple, tasteful gestures which, out of sheer self-defence, have become routine.

When you go through the same drill day after day, year after year, you can't forever be thinking up new ways to say the same things.

So, now, when she's presented a bouquet by a small school girl, she has made a pleasing custom of snapping off a bloom and giving it to the youngster.

The flowers all taste go to an orphanage in Ottawa.

While Olive Diefenbaker, as a point of political practice, never makes a speech of the Prime Minister, she shines with a light all her own.

And if he were to turn around some day up there on the platform and find her gone, he would very likely would feel lost.

For Olive Diefenbaker is perhaps the Prime Minister's most important "idea man."

She makes suggestions . . . and he listens, which is something he doesn't do to just anyone.

She takes notes, and she is a skilled pro at shorthand and typing. Whatever she does for Diefenbaker, be his office manager and confidante, secretary in the three years between the time of their marriage and his becoming Conservative Leader.

She keeps lots of memos and addresses and, also in fact, an essential part of his "memory" and an infallible reminder that he has three jobs a basic and fundamental role for a working politician, especially in election campaigns.

THE SENDLESS ROUND

She poses for pictures. Signs autographs.

She can shake a thousand hands in a year and maintain a pleasant smile all afternoon, and evening, too.

Deal on the floor for a political with . . . and an attractive, personable woman decorating the public platform is an absolute imperative for the candidate . . . and she has the knack of being able to regard any "Mrs. Jones" at the front door . . . and Canadian women, be they in Halifax, Vancouver or the Yukon as neighbor who has dropped in.

Olive Diefenbaker has precisely the right touch to campaign life, with its endless round dress, upstaging the average woman, with its cool and expensive fashion.

Nor does she play down to them in less fortunate circumstances by deliberately contriving to appear dowdy. She is drab side.

She seems to give everybody, men and women alike, the impression that she is just herself.

No airs. No posturing. No pretentiousness. Just Olive Diefenbaker, friend and neighbor.

It's been said that behind every great man there is usually a woman.

John Diefenbaker was a long way up the ladder of success when he married Olive Palmer back in 1953.

But there's no doubt that she helped him, as few men have been helped, to get to the top faster and to stay there.

STRENGTH FOR THE DAY

DR. EARL L. DOUGLASS

WE MUST TRUST

If there is one fact in our religion which stands out with unavoidable prominence it is that mere belief is not enough to make say of us Christians.

Belief is important. Faith is even more so. For faith is belief in action. But when one probes down into faith to find what is at its very centre, he discovers that the centre of faith is trust. We can believe in God. We can have such faith in Him that we are thoroughly convinced of His every statement and yet His laws still remain unobeyed. Even belief and faith do not make a Christian until a person has learned how to trust God.

We have to trust that the Bible is God's message to us even though we do not fully understand some of its teachings. We have to trust that God who made us, and who so often seems indifferent to us and at times even harsh, is nevertheless a God of love. We have to trust Jesus Christ as the One appointed to be our Companion reality in such a way that we are ready to extend to us a friendship which will make all other human relationships seem a poor sort. Sea Water De-Salted

BBC London Letter

In a recent edition of the "Science and Industry" program broadcast each week over the BBC (Overseas Service), Bryce Silcock quoted a fortcast made by the managing director of a British company specializing in steam-engine condensers, that in five or ten years time de-salted sea water might be delivered for two shillings a thousand gallons. This would be a boon to what some British citizens are already paying for fresh water from lakes and rivers and in drier climates water for the British Empire is valuable for drinking — can be much more expensive. Unfortunately, said Silcock, there was the prospect of a sea-water conversion plant producing fresh water so cheaply if that plant did nothing else. The secret of cheapness was to use the waste heat version plant with a power station, preferably a nuclear power station.

The most hopeful process for de-salting sea water, he explained, was that known as the "vapor flash" process. "Heated sea water passes through a series of low pressure chambers and in each chamber some of the lowered pressure, some of the water flashes into vapor. This vapor is then condensed to give fresh water. The heat the vapor gives up in condensing helps into water is used to warm the incoming cold sea water, which helps to make the heater." One of the most hopeful plans for water supplies the Channel Island of Guernsey with half a million gallons of fresh water a day.

Obviously," said Silcock, "the process would be a lot more economical if a variety of waste heat-water was available, and that's why it's so promising to combine a conversion plant with a power station. Power stations discharge enormous amounts of warm water from their cooling towers, the average power station has enough hot water to de-salt that used for power. In some ways the de-salting plant is like the nuclear power station. Neither can compete with conventional sources, except in very special circumstances, but both are the world's supplies of fresh and salt won't last for ever, there is going to be considerable pressure and underground water available."

Prices for all lines of produce and the local market held approximately the same levels as last week's quotations, with favorable weather bringing in large attendances. Grade A" large eggs brought 23 cents; butter sold generally at 40 cents the pound; the appearances of broilers in the price quotalities resulted in the chicken offering being slightly larger than usual, but prices for well-finished fowl held at the usual 22 cents per pound. Transplanting stocks, including all kinds of perennials, were offered freely with cabbage, tomato and celery plants prominently offered at 75 cents per large flat.

Evidence of the enthusiasm and spirit they are putting in their constribution to the war effort, is seen in the announcement that the Belleville Women's Conservative Club finished serving lunch to 1,500 men in the Dominion in each consecutive day at the Mobile Canteen Fund of the Women's Conservative Clubs of Canada. Through the generosity of these organizations, four canteens already have been donated to Britain, and three more will be on the way in the near future.

Heart Murmurs Can Mean Many Different Things

Dear Dr. Molner: What is the difference between a functional heart murmur and a leaking valve or rheumatic heart? Can you explain? Could there be any relation between gastric colon and rheumatic heart or a diastolic heart? — R.H.

A functional murmur is a faint swishing sound that can be heard when examining the heart, but it does not change even when the patient quickens the heart rate by exercise.

A murmur of this kind is not uncommon among children and young adults, and it doesn't signify heart disease. In short, it represents a sound caused by some odd little quirk in the way the blood happens to swirl through the heart's valves.

A faulty heart valve resulting from rheumatic fever is entirely different.

It, too, produces a murmur, which is simply a variation in the sounds made by the blood as it flows through the heart's valves through the heart.

An important difference is that the murmur of a faulty valve will increase with exercise. There are two other important aspects: the location of the murmur, and the direction in which the blood is transmitted.

In such cases, it usually is possible to trace the murmur of rheumatic fever.

Murmurs can often be people who have overactive thyroid problems, anemia, and congestive heart disease. In fact, the presence of a murmur is only a starting point from which the doctor must investigate whether it means nothing, or means a heart condition, or if it does, it means the presence of some ailment quite apart from heart disease.

Myocarditis is inflammation of the heart muscle, usually from a "heart attack brought on by interference with circulation of blood to the heart muscle). It is, of course, a serious matter even though not as dangerous as the severe heart attack, and can be temporarily disabling. It can follow virus infections.

There is no relation between a spastic colon and rheumatic fever or heart except that sometimes people with a spastic colon may tend to have a rapid heart rate. This is because of nerves, not the colon.

Dear Dr. Molner: My son who is a diabetic is going to marry a girl who has asthma and thyroid trouble.

If there are any children would they be affected? — Mrs. W.F.

The children would have some tendency toward diabetes, asthma or some other type of allergy.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is there any treatment other than going to a specialist to retard development of cataracts? — D.M.

No, there is no way to retard them, besides going to a specialist. Cataracts grow at different rates. Therefore in watching we know how to do. Some are extremely slow, some rapid. It is only by going to a eye specialist inspect cataracts possible to know how he can gauge the rate of growth and choose the best time to remove them. If at all. (A few grow so slowly that they never seriously affect the vision.)

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

ACTING FOOLISH

Science is going to do many things for us. How many it is impossible to say. But I am willing to bet that it will never do away entirely with the human race.

I should like to abolish old age. I believe there are many who would vote for me should I run for office.

It is really quite possible to do. Many have done so for themselves. Youth is a spirit. It can be had by the man who chooses to what some British citizens are already paying for fresh water from lakes and rivers and in drier climates water for the British Empire is valuable for drinking — can be much more expensive. Unfortunately, said Silcock, there was the prospect of a sea-water conversion plant producing fresh water so cheaply if that plant did nothing else. The secret of cheapness was to use the waste heat version plant with a power station, preferably a nuclear power station.

The most hopeful process for de-salting sea water, he explained, was that known as the "vapor flash" process. "Heated sea water passes through a series of low pressure chambers and in each chamber some of the lowered pressure, some of the water flashes into vapor. This vapor is then condensed to give fresh water. The heat the vapor gives up in condensing helps into water is used to warm the incoming cold sea water, which helps to make the heater." One of the most hopeful plans for water supplies the Channel Island of Guernsey with half a million gallons of fresh water a day.

Obviously," said Silcock, "the process would be a lot more economical if a variety of waste heat-water was available, and that's why it's so promising to combine a conversion plant with a power station. Power stations discharge enormous amounts of warm water from their cooling towers, the average power station has enough hot water to de-salt that used for power. In some ways the de-salting plant is like the nuclear power station. Neither can compete with conventional sources, except in very special circumstances, but both are the world's supplies of fresh and salt won't last for ever, there is going to be considerable pressure and underground water available."

There's a suggestion that the U.S. national emblem be changed from the eagle to the penguin. The argument: none that the country is more like the penguin because, like it, it's long and flat, and always flapping while the body concerned steadily ahead on two feet.

A Lift For Living

Family Bonds Made in Heaven

By Dr. RALPH W. SOCKMAN

The second Sunday of May has come to be observed as Mother's Day. There is no more tender emotion than mother-love. There is no nobler sentiment than a person's love for his mother.

But the best mothers I know do not desire lavish praise. They would forget themselves in furthering the ones they love. Hence, the expressive churches are using this Mother's Day as a Family Week.

Let us consider today the principle of fellowship in the family. When a man and woman fall in love and form a home — if it is true love — it is with the feeling that they are "just made for each other." When children are born, parents do not say: "Now we shall take the care of these youngsters so that when they grow up they can take care of us." No; parents love their children because they are made that way. A mother does not say, "Go to, I'll be good to my brother because we have to live in the same house and it is better to be agreeable." A brother loves his brother because life is made that way.

The bonds between members of a family differ from those in planned organizations. Men may organize themselves into a company to conduct business. But a family is more than a corporation. Men may organize themselves into a labor union for collective bargaining. But the family is more than a trade union. Men may join together into a club for social fellowship based on similarity of tastes or interests. But the family is more than a club.

The family is not founded on the principle of profit or similarity of taste or identity of opinion, but upon the affinity of nature. You do not choose your mother or brother or sister. Love between members of a family exists because it is in the very nature of things. We are made that way.

Dr. Daniel Poling, editor of the Christian Herald, reports how he was once telling his little daughter about the marvelous place of the various members of the family in the family's travels. It happened that one was born in Oregon, another in Indiana — in Ohio, another in Pennsylvania, another in New York, and so on. After listening to the account, the little girl looked up and said, "Isn't it wonderful, Daddy, how we've got together?" Yes; it is wonderful, but the wonder is part of the mystery of life. It is the way we are made.

This God-made bond of unity in the family is normally stronger than more man-made fellowship. Suppose a group of persons meet at church on Sunday and go out to dinner together. Finding themselves congenial, they decide to repeat the practice next Sunday. They keep on doing it. Thus they develop a spirit of unity.

But alas at church on Sunday is a family. The members go home in dinner. They may not be connected at the moment. The children may be leaving each other and fisher may be out of sorts. Nevertheless there is a unity under it that is not of men. They were born with it through the blood.

And that family unity is stronger than the spirit of unity developed in the group which merely dines together. Let one member of the family be criticized or attacked and all the members rally to him. Let a member of the luncheon group fall under social criticism and he is likely to be dropped.

Now it is this God-made fellowship in the family which the Bible declares exists also in God's church. Saint Paul called the church, "the family of God, the household of faith." He goes so much deeper respect for the church. So many look upon the church merely as one of our many social institutions, started by human organization.

Too many look upon the church as an institution which belongs to us and which we feel we have a right to support. The church is of God, and its support basically is from God. That is why the church endures despite its human defects. Its all-too many divisions and its frequent mistakes.

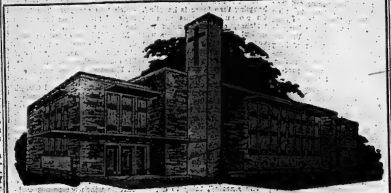
Sometimes I hear men say, "Why, if I am my business as my church was its business, I would be bankrupt in a week." To be sure, every one of our local churches do fall flatteringly far from the church of the living God as an outward, human, every institution, organized by men.

And one sign of hope on the horizon today is that more and more church leaders are seeing the church for the family of God. They are seeking church unity not merely as a bigger and better organization. They are trying to restore the family spirit which God made.

MAGIC VEILS

The first bridal veils were worn in ancient Greece and Rome to protect the brides from evil spirits.

Stories of Famous Hymns



HERE, O MY LORD, I SEE THEE FACE TO FACE

Here, O my Lord, I see Thee face to face;
Here would I touch and handle things unseen;
Here grasp with firmer hand eternal grace,
And all my weariness upon Thee lean.

No communion hymn is more precious to Christians around the world than is this one. It was written more than a century ago by Dr. Horatius Bonar.

Most twentieth century church hymnals contain a number of Bonar's hymns. He wrote, "I Heard the Voice of Jesus Say," "I Lay My Sins On Jesus," "I Was a Wandering Sheep," and many others.

The distinguished theologian, poet and preacher was born in 1808 and died in 1889. He was known as "the prince of Scottish hymn writers." He was educated at Edinburgh University and was ordained in the ministry at Kelso, Scotland, in 1838.

CHRISTENING RITE

On Sunday afternoon, May 8th, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Terrance R. Wright, 24 Wright Avenue was baptized at Bridge Street United Church by J. R. Cragg, Officiating Minister. Mrs. W. G. Tryon, of Consecon, great grandmother of the baby and Mr. Carl Wright, Belleville, uncle of the baby.

Following the ceremony, friends and relatives were served tea and christening cake by Mrs. Wright, assisted by Mrs. D. Cook, at Mr. and Mrs. Wright's home on Wright Ave.

Albert College Guild Stresses Harmony Theme

Albert College Guild met in the manse on the May meeting, with the president—Mrs. F. Wilson, in the chair.

While this was the final meeting for this season, the members were not saying farewells, since they will be working together preparing for the convocation reception on Tuesday June 6th and serving the afternoon of that day. The committee in charge is Mrs. K. Fleming, Mrs. W. Dallas and Mrs. F. Wilson.

The program was conducted by Mrs. C. W. Smith, the theme "Harmony" was in keeping with the flowers blooming in the garden, the bird song and the sunshine streaming into the gracious old rooms.

Mrs. Smith read a passage from the Gospel of St. John, opening with "Let there All May Be One". The Master's wish for His own is that as Christians they should live and die; that the world, may believe, their influence drawing the world into the fellowship.

Mrs. Smith introduced Miss Marjory Woodard, director of music in Albert College. With her, were a number of her pupils — Debbie Twiddy, Diane Martin, Arlene Gill, Miriam Carter, Louise Martin, Lorraine Hall and Joan McGill gave us pleasure with piano solo and Marilyn Hurst with her sweet young voice, in "Our God is Love" by Vincent Knight.

Mrs. F. Davidson thanked the program convener for the delightful afternoon of harmony, which ended socially around the attractive tea table where Mrs. G. Moore and Miss F. Downs presided.

Women's Activities

PARKDALE BAPTIST L.M.F.

Mrs. Charles Brenton, Belleville, was hostess to the Parkdale Baptist Ladies' Missionary Fellowship on the 2nd May. The president, Mrs. R. Bruce, opened the meeting, and a number of familiar choruses were sung.

Following the business period, Mrs. T. Mitchell, secretary convener, spoke of the wonderful missionary work being done in South Africa by radio. Radio contacts more people faster than any other means of communication. It penetrates iron curtains, crosses colour bars, leaps over walls of prejudice and revolutionizes security against Radio receivers are the key to opening a vital part of African life.

FREE RADIO RECEIVERS

"One new nation is planning to distribute one million radio receivers free in the next four years, all in the interest of effective communication. The South African government is using a new 50 kilowatt network of 4 hours daily to reach her African people for the month. Small investments in gospel radio broadcasting pay high dividends."

Mrs. Mitchell also mentioned Miss Marie Armstrong who is leaving to do South African mission field but who will shortly be returning to this country on furlough.

Mrs. Marion Foster, devotions convener, gave a most interesting reading of Christian family life and highlighted her talk with excerpts from the book "My Adventures With God" by Jane Scott. A poem, "Where is a lad here" based on the story of Christ feeding the multitudes and beginning with the words Broadworth of Stirling, was read by Mrs. Stone.

Following a short period of prayer, the president brought the meeting to a close. The ladies then enjoyed a delicious lunch and a time of fellowship.

Alpha Lambda Marks 31st Anniversary

Members of Alpha Lambda recently joined together with other Belleville sorority chapters, as guests of Trenton's Delta Alpha, to celebrate the 31st anniversary of Beta Sigma Phi.

The Founder's Day banquet was held in Trenton, and, following a delicious dinner, a warm welcome was extended to the guests by hostess Mrs. F. Riley of Delta Alpha. Mrs. D. Bridge of Xi Zeta replied with greetings from Belleville.

A message from Mrs. Walter Ross, founder of Beta Sigma Phi, was read by Mrs. J. Hayman of Alpha Lambda.

Following the closing ritual, Mrs. Riley introduced Mr. Ken Winn as speaker for the evening. Mr. Winn, who, as a former Trenton High School teacher, now works on a part time basis while studying for his degree as master of theology, chose for his topic, "Poetry". This he handled in a highly interesting manner, describing poetry as the language of the giants and quoting from such poets as Shakespeare (whose works date back to 400 B.C.), Shakespeare, Tennyson, and several other great poets.

Upon his conclusion Mr. Winn was thanked by Mrs. Riley and presented with a token of appreciation on behalf of all present.

EXAMPLARS RITUAL

Mrs. J. Sisson of Alpha Beta Mu, conducted the beautiful Exemplars Ritual during which three members of Alpha Lambda received their Exemplar degree. These were Mrs. E. Dovey, Mrs. N. Desmond and Mrs. B. Kostashuk.

New Stocking For Women To Be Made

HAMILTON (CP) — Phanion Industries Ltd. announced Friday it plans to introduce a run-proof stocking for women in late June or early July.

Martin L. Dorman, general manager of the Phanion plant here, said the new stockings will retail "somewhere between $1.00 and $1.15 a pair."

Current brand names of nylons sell in a range of $1 to $1.65 a pair.

While the new stockings are run-proof, they are not hole-proof. A hole in the stocking may get bigger, but because of its "locked - stitch" design, it will not run.

"No other hosiery companies are also planning to produce this new nylons. Kayser-Roth of Canada, London, Ont., is already producing pilot quantities and expects to begin marketing them in early fall. Superslik Hosiery Mills Ltd., also at London, expects to begin retailing the new stockings by October or November.

Titov's Wife Finds Styles Too Colorful

HALIFAX (CP)—The pretty wife of Soviet cosmic spaceman Gherman Titov says she likes many North American fashions but finds many styles too colorful.

Answering occasional questions at a press conference for her husband, Tamara Titov said: "I only dislike moments of a 12-day North American trip is a New York fashion parade."

She said she will decide when she gets home whether she likes the latest wife and shower fashions if she does she will make them.

Mrs. Titov was well-dressed during the 1 - hour news conference, wearing a light yellow dress and a pink dress and red flat-heeled shoes.

The Titovs said they had a generally good idea of what to expect in North America but added some information comments about two items of North American life which often get similar treatment from North Americans—toll roads and automobile horsepower.

Titov said one of the biggest surprises was the extent of tolls on bridges and roads. He wondered, with a smile, what tolls the Americans were planning for outer space.

He also wondered about the safety of 200 horsepower in a car he saw in a New York showroom this week. He said more Americans have been killed in auto crashes than in wars.

'How to Catch Cold' Film at Centre U.C.W.

The U.C.W. of Centre Street Church held their regular monthly meeting in the school room. Mrs. Longhurst called the meeting to order with tribute to Mother's Day.

For the devotional Mrs. Grace Wood read the Scripture, 1 Chronicles 29:10-13. Meditation was given by Mrs. Retta Thompson.

Mrs. K. Ferguson, Christian education convener, spoke on "Mother Love," and also gave a reading entitled "Mother."

Mrs. Wood gave the financial report.

The ladies wish to thank the College Hill UCW evening group for the invitation to join them for the evening of May 23.

After new business, Happy Birthday was sung to Mrs. Wood.

Program convener, Mrs. Hudgins, showed a film, "How To Catch A Cold."

The ladies had an auction of home-baked goods, Mrs. Hudgins being the auctioneer. This was much enjoyed by all.

Mrs. Ferguson and Mrs. Collins served a dainty lunch.

'Legion of Mary' Topic at Fatima P.T.A. Meeting

At the last meeting of the season of Our Lady of Fatima P.T.A. held in the school on May 3rd, Mrs. K. Pitowarski was elected president of the association, succeeding Mr. J. Howe.

Other elected officers are vice-president, Mr. Earl Rivers; secretary, Mrs. H. Frisk; treasurer, Mr. Robert Roleton.

The nomination of officers was conducted by Mr. J. Ryan and installation was by Mr. H. Brown.

All parents were invited to attend the first convention of the Kingston Archdiocesan P.T.A. held in the Cathedral school hall, Kingston, on May 16 and 17.

The main address at the banquet on Tuesday evening was by Father Caddell, of Toronto, this fall in preparation for the ministry.

Everyone welcome.

GUEST SPEAKER

Mrs. Pitowarski introduced the guest speaker for the evening, Dr. McSherry. His talk was on the "Legion of Mary."

Dr. McSherry stated this was an organization of a degree of importance. It was started in Dublin, Ireland, 40 years ago and spread over the world. Protestant women were visiting poor and destitute people who were forgotten until death.

An altar is set up at meetings of the Blessed Virgin, with flowers and candles. The purpose is sanctification of the member by prayer, and co-operation, with help from the church in crushing the head of the dragon. Results, set for in the words of God. The spirit of Mary, herself, her faith and purity.

A Legionary must see the Blessed Lord in everyone and must in every thought, word and everything must be done in the closest union with "Our Lady."

ENLARGED UNDERSTANDING

Youth needs adults to enlarge their understanding of this new world and act as a bridge to it. The answer to this problem is a Junior Praesidium of the Legion of Mary which exists "primarily to spiritually enables people to discharge their duty in the apostolate and therefore rounds out the Christian life.

Dr. McSherry was thanked for his inspiring message by the vice-president.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. F. Cain, Mrs. B. Mainland, Mrs. R. Harrell and Mrs. Williams.

Bargain-Hunting Travellers Find Hong Kong Is Paradise

By SHIRLEY and BOB SLOANE

Hong Kong — Deciding where to shop here is almost exactly like deciding where to eat: in New York or Paris, except that you don't have Chinese communist restaurants in New York or Paris, but you do have Chinese communist department stores here.

Most travellers come armed with a set of guide books, references or recommendations from friends who quite by accident stumbled on a place where they bought a bargain and came to the conclusion that is the only place in Hong Kong to buy anything.

Here, in their infinite wisdom, decide to seek and ask the most what is the finest jade emporium. They often ask a tour guide who returns 15 minutes later for his commission. The commission is the difference between the price and what it would normally cost if the tourist hadn't been "recommended."

As a generality, centre of free port and the largest in the world, Hong Kong is without normality. Only a few of the "accidents" items that come from China. Typical Chinese products are ivory, linens and furniture. In practice, up to $50 worth of these items may be "duty free customs" officials, mainly to avoid penalizing Hong Kong merchants too, swipe over the dam.

CERTIFICATE OF ORIGIN

Normally, however, a certificate of origin is required. This is a document that certifies an item was made entirely in Red China or of Chinese materials.

Certificates usually cost 90 cents (Hong Kong dollars) and may be used to cover up to $1,000 worth of merchandise. It is advisable to buy as many certified products as possible in a single shop.

One misconception about Hong Kong is that it is a city of gaudy and cheap stalls and pushcarts, behind which artisans and craftsmen hide their talents from all except those who are adventurous enough to seek out the backstreet shops. Most, of course, exist, particularly in the congested Chinese sections of Victoria City on the island of Hong Kong.

But shopping in these sections is pretty much like shopping in a flea market, requiring great patience and perseverance to pull an occasional pearl out of a bed of oysters. The tourist does most of his shopping on the peninsula called Kowloon, a bustling city of sleek, modern department stores and suave specialty shops. They provide bargains enough for the most astute shopper.

The greatest of these are in tailor-made clothing, an area in which Hong Kong has some variation as in any other city. You have smart chrome-and-glass establishments like those of the most successful department stores in the world, run by a spate of ebullient brothers from India. The tailoring is good, the materials imported from England and America, the prices are both haggle-proof and eminently reasonable.

Excellent men's tailors like Jimmy Chen charge somewhat more but the workmanship is almost indistinguishable from

U.C.W. Meetings

COLLEGE HILL, DUW

The Afternoon Unit of College Hill U.C.W. held its regular monthly meeting in the church with Mrs. Hunter and Mrs. Dick Sea in charge.

The devotional period in charge of Mrs G. Jamieson, opened with a hymn followed by Scripture read by Mrs. C. Bailey. Mrs. D. Hunter read a story about the ground and Christ's creation of the earth and appointment of angels to guard over each living thing. Duet numbers attended to their tasks well except the one in charge of the ground and the devil was too ordinary, neglected his duties. As a result every other living thing suffered, which points out that no task is too common; all duties are important in the sight of the Heavenly Father.

A poem entitled, "Your Mission," was read by Mrs. A. Greenwood and devotions closed with prayer by Mrs. Hunter.

There were 26 sick calls made by the members.

Business was conducted and it was decided to attend Centenary UCW meeting on June 6th, which was accepted. The UCW baptismal service on May 14th Madoc was announced.

Mrs. Dickens called on Mrs. C. Bailey to perform the pleasant task of presenting a UCW life membership pin to Mrs. Ward. Mrs. Ward, who was one of the pioneer members of the former Bridge Street Church W.A., and held a life membership in the latter organization. Although taken completely by surprise, Mrs. Farnsworth most graciously expressed appreciation and speaking briefly of the progress that has been made in College Hill Church since it came into being.

Mrs. Farnsworth closed a Bible study period in the form of a "drill" in which the members participated and Instructor had gathered at the home of Mrs. Hunt for morning coffee and their discussion led them to a study of John 1 verses 1-18.

THE FAMILY COUNCIL

Mrs. H.Y.: I wouldn't know where to turn if Uncle had acted up like that again.

Mr. H.Y.: He gets over his fits himself. If not, his favorite bartender helps him.

Mrs. H.Y.: My husband's uncle, whom I'd never met in the two years of our married life, died in Sydney, New Mexico and is staying with us until the new gold climb nearby is built. He's to be the caretaker.

But something mysterious is bothering Uncle Bud. We can't find out much about his past life. He is Harry's brother, and she died long ago. All Harry knows, is that his uncle is about 80 years old, had a miserable marriage which ended in a divorce, and went once a golf champion. Out West he was a gold prospector. He asked to leave and accept the caretaker job around here. He'll have his own room in the clubhouse.

Last week he became violently agitated. He began to pace, bang things around, and then slumped into tears. We called our doctor who administered a sedative. But our doctor is leaving for a convention soon. If there's a repeat I'll be lost. He should be hospitalized.

The Council: There's a basic question that needs to be asked of Mrs. H.Y.'s name probably appears in that space on Uncle Bud's record. At any rate, Mr. Y. is nearest geographically if Uncle requires care or, if it be, as well as his wife, who will be called in case of trouble or emergency.

That's why Mr. Y. can't shrug off Uncle Bud's problems as his behavior. We prefer his wife attitude, as Mr. Y. tends to be a problem for Uncle. It's to call in an emotional emergency. In this modern decade this may be possible, even easy. Its being done here and there, but rarely, in Mr. Y.'s case, as Amsterdam, Holland where one can dial a friend to bring psychiatric help to the door, within minutes.

Mr. Y., at least, will know what Uncle Bud needs.

We wish we could just spell out a few handy prescriptions for Uncle's ills. It's a problem of factor, just in case, to Mr. Y.'s which ends up to, Mr. Y. will know, and if it does, we'll come. But right now when we come to it, suppose Mr. Y. should be the neglectful one? Mrs. Y., at least, will know of Uncle Bud's

Greatly Increased Demand For Recreation in Forests Adds to Hazards of Fire

MONTREAL (CP)—Last year was one of disaster for Canada's forests and this summer may be just as bad, says P. L. Harrison, president of the Canadian Forestry Association.

"Disaster is the only word. More than 9,000 fires, 10,000,000 acres burned . . . We obviously have a tremendous job of education to do."

Mr. Harrison's remarks were tied in with the observance of National Forest Conservation Week May 13-19 in which government, private industry, the National Gallery, recreation associations and conservationists play a part.

"The population is growing and there is much more leisure time than there used to be. That means, greatly increased demand, for recreation in the forests. Camping is getting more and more popular.

"All we need is an abnormally dry summer like last year and the fire toll will be worse than ever."

FIRES MAN-MADE

There is no mystery about the cause of fires. A 10-year study here showed that only 19.1 per cent of all fires in Canadian forest were started by lightning—the natural cause.

The other percentages: Smokers 18.4; campfires 14.1; railways 14.1; settlers 8.4; industrial 6.1; incendiarism 5.8; public works 1.8; miscellaneous 12; unknown 4.5.

"Hot, dry weather is a double menace. It pets the woods in condition to burn and fitters thousands of city-dwellers into the cool countryside to burn them.

"It's the people who own the woods and use them for recreation," Mr. Harrison said. "They must be taught to protect the woods for themselves."

Alan Field, director of the Canadian Forestry Bureau, one of the co - operating organizations, says thousands of dollars of potential tourist revenue are lost when forests burn.

L. G. Rousseau, deputy minister of the new federal forestry department, emphasized that when crown land burned for wood-cutting is burned the public loses more money from timber leases.

NEED RESEARCH

Mr. Harrison said the new federal department contributes to the fight against the fire menace by providing facilities for research in detection, prevention and suppression of forest fires as well as a direct link with the federal department for quick authorization of the use of servicemen to fight blazes.

In connection with conservation week, the National Gallery of Canada, the C.P.R. and Canadian Lumbermen's Association sponsor a nation-wide poster contest for schoolchildren. Last year 50,000 students sent in posters.

The CFA is a non-profit federation of eight provincial organizations. Pulp and paper associations, banks, railways, industries, fish and game associations and governments help defray its expenses. One activity is sponsorship of the rural 4-H Clubs' conservation programs.

Dear Henry—I am 10 years old and in Grade 5. All the girls my age and younger have wrist watches and alarm clocks. I have neither one. My mother thinks I am too young to have one. What do you think?—NORMA.

Dear Norma:

Do you have to have what other girls have? Why not be different and not have a wrist watch till you are older? This way we'll be able to tell the difference between a Norma and a Mary.—HENRY.

Dear Henry:

I am 10 and have a 14-year-old sister. Every time she gets mad, she takes it out on me. What could I do?—BLACK AND BLUE.

Dear Black and Blue—When Sis takes it to you, take it to your parents.—HENRY.

Dear Henry—I have a terrible problem speaking out of turn. I have tried to bite my tongue and to cover my mouth with my hand, but nothing works.

What do you suggest I do?—TONGUE BITER AND MOUTH COVERER.

Dear Tongue Biter and Mouth Coverer—And taping up your mouth or stuffing paper into it would not help either.

Use your will power to stop blurting out. Just say: I AM NOT GOING TO TALK OUT OF TURN," and don't say that out of turn!—HENRY.

Dear Henry:—I have a problem and would be very grateful for your help. This doesn't happen very often but when it does it can be very nasty. Most of the time my husband and I get along very well but once in a while we fly up at each other. I get mad and curse and call names. I have six children and every time I get mad they are all around.

In the course of three or four hours it is all over. When I am mad I say almost anything and throw almost everything in sight. I am sorry for it after I cool down but I can't seem to undo what I've said.

What do you advise?—A MAD WIFE.

Dear Mad Wife—There is nothing worse when a kid sees his parents fighting. You lose respect and when a kid doesn't respect his parents it's not a healthy thing.

You can stop teaching your kids to swear. Instead of saying a bad word to your husband, just clinch your fist and say some word which isn't swearing.—HENRY.

Dear Henry—My name is Penny, I am 11 years old. I have a brother who is 3 years old. He loves horses and treats me like on. He gets on my back every time I sit down and expects me to take him for a ride. What should I do?—HORSE.

Dear Horse—Write to tedd him will make you sit the mare a horse.—So giddy-up.—HENRY.

Topics This Week: Power lawn mowers, childlessness and black widow bites.

BEWARE POWER MOWERS

There are millions of power lawn mowers in use and now, with summer and grass-cutting days here again, power mower users should beware.

Dr. Erich M. Clarke and John L. Chamberlain III of Vanderbilt University cite cases where power mowers usually rotary types, catch objects in the lawn and fling them outwards, sometimes hitting innocent bystanders, or sometimes even the user of the mower himself.

There is a local ordinance in Louisville, Ky., making it illegal to employ anyone under the age of 18 to operate a power mower, and similar laws have been proposed in New York, New Jersey and California, the doctors say.

The cause of accidents is sometimes poorly designed mowers, sometimes carelessness by the operators. Removing debris from the lawn before mowing can often prevent accidents.

BABY BLOCK

The subconscious mind can keep a woman from having children, Dr. Irving C. Fischer, New York obstetrician, says.

The unconscious desire not to have children can produce a physical climate where miscarriages occur, he writes in the physicians' newspaper, Factor. The same is true of men who subconsciously want to avoid fatherhood, he adds.

Tension and anxiety can affect the reproductive organs, much as they can affect other glands and organs in the body, For example, he says, the desire to remain childless may trigger spasms in the fallopian tubes, preventing the union of male and female sex cells. Normal fallopian changes can cause miscarriages, he believes.

WEIGHT HAZARD

Women who are overweight are more prone to gynecological problems than women of normal weight, reports Dr. William Surwell, Sugar of Richmond, Va.

He says obesity handicaps the physician in detecting some disorders, and that the operation is more risky for faces higher risk from surgery.

Garden Notes

Gladiolus for Every Garden

By FLORA M. SAVILLE

Good gladiolus corms, like any other plants marigolds, are cheap. It will pay you to buy the best and increase your stock by replanting the cormels that form beside the mother corms.

Corms that have been grown from cormels have long necks and are not flat and full at the top. These will flower for you for the first time and the bloom will be at its best, but they will have flowered before yield in their blooms.

Gladiolus like loamy soil. When your soil is not of the best build it up with a generous application of manure, either composted or fresh. Follow up a quantity of fertilizer. Use sheep manure or a balanced chemical fertilizer. Goes one that is low in nitrogen and high in potash. Later the plants can use an application or two of liquid fertilizer.

Start planting the corms by mid-May, or earlier if you have warm soil. Make new plantings every ten days as long as enough stock is available. This insures a long season of bloom for cutting and garden color.

SOAK IN INSECTICIDE

The corms should be soaked before planting in an insecticide to kill thrips. A three hour soaking is recommended. Hedges gets the new plants off to an earlier start and the plants are less subject to attack than those from unsoaked corms.

Where the glads are planted in groups in shrubery or the perennial border, they look best in circle or semi-circle. Nature does not plant her flowers in straight rows. The corms should be planted seven to nine inches apart. Those that spend the weekend with their brothers Messrs., Gerald and Andrew Whalen.

Successful Living

(A Canadian Social Worker Helps with Human Problems)

Giving Nephew Cash A Pleasure

DEAR DORIS—I'm a widower 70 living on my farm with a hired man. I believe two daughters, married nice guys, good jobs.

I raised a nephew, no farmer, gave him a good education. He's 23, married to one of the nicest girls in the world, one son 14 months, one son 3 weeks. He's got a good job. He visits, always stops, stocks enough for three days, nothing any trouble to him.

BORIS CLARK

Every time I see this boy I give him $20. I can't help it. I'm living my life over again. I can't spend money; a young man can.

He kicks, but why take my one pleasure away? I think the world of this guy, it's what they call love. I had no son. Son-in-laws would be insulted if offered money. Nephew understands the old man; always did. This boy worked for me for years, made a real man. Always spends the money for his wife and kids.

Think I am doing him an injustice or is it common sense? —AGED UNCLE.

• • •

DEAR AGED UNCLE—Does he need the help? If your gifts of $20 are swamping him, I'd say it was too much, too often.

Is he really kicking or is his protest rather weak? If he and his wife are struggling along without something they would love to have (a television or hi-fi set, or a good oriental rug for the living room) you might be wiser to save up several fifty dollar gifts and buy it for them, having discussed it with them first.

Your gifts of money mean pleasure to you and your nephew wants to share his life and his family with you. This is the essence of happy living.

Just tread carefully, remembering he wants to feel he is adequate to provide the necessities for his brood.

• • •

CONFIDENTIAL TO MRS. J.:—This is an age-old difficulty. The man comes into marriage expecting the straight-forward physical act of love. The woman being less aggressive and more delicately set up just cannot respond in kind.

Unless some kind of compromise is achieved, any such marriage leaves much to be desired. The art of successful love-making takes attention, thought and a great deal of understanding. The results are worth the effort, believe me.

You can still learn what it is all about if you really want to. He must not blame you; you must not blame him. If a counsellor is just out, how are you at reading books? It's all there for you. I am sending you the names of two books which I particularly recommend.

Need I say that your husband's prying into other people's private lives is additional evidence of frustration?

• • •

DEAR DORIS:—Four years after we were married my husband met me for another woman. Later he wanted a divorce, but in the meantime I had become pregnant (not my husband's) so he cancelled the divorce proceedings and began visiting me on weekends. He did it to keep up appearances that the baby was his.

His insurance paid for the hospital and everything. I registered the baby in his name, but I didn't see him again for almost two years. Then he started dropping in occasionally, sometimes staying overnight. We became intimate again and the baby called him Daddy. Now he has disappeared again! I haven't seen or heard from his since 1958.

I am unable to work at present having broken my leg and then complications set in. Can I claim any support at all?

I know if I started to dun him for money he would be terribly vindictive and perhaps tell the whole story disclaiming my child, who, is of the age now that would be hurt terribly by the truth.

But I'm in desperate need.—REGRETFUL.

• • •

DEAR REGRETFUL—Your wandering spouse let bygones be bygones once—by returning and living with you —and he is the child's legal father. So he could be sued for support.

If you try to find him and can't, you are entitled to a government allowance.

Have you enquired about Unemployment Insurance benefits? Benefits now provided when one is laid off due to illness or accident might apply in your case.

Hot Engines Arrive With Summer Heat

By EUGENE R. WILSON

If engine temperatures are pushing toward the torrid point, the trolling motor this summer can still really cook up trouble. The routine maintenance is sensible and flushing the cooling system . . . may lower engine fever, but in most cases it doesn't work a complete cure simply because something else is wrong.

It may be a slipping fan belt or water pump, the thermostat which won't open fully, a hose which is collapsing a bit and speeding or trotting inside and chocking water flow, or a defective water pump.

If the entire cooling system proves in good shape, check up on ignition — late timing, fouled spark plugs, bad points, loose or worn cables. Any of these will contribute to engine overheating. Even a too rich or too lean mixture, a partly clogged muffler, exhaust or tail pipe or a slipping clutch or automatic transmission. And, of course, anything which builds up rolling resistance — dragging brakes, soft tire, tight wheel bearings, sagging pavement, or in boats — will make the kettle boil.

• • •

W.I. asks: "If distributor points have to be replaced because the current area is too much across them, does this mean the condenser is not right?"

(A) Either that or its connections are loose.

• • •

P.T. writes: "I had a tune up recently, and one of the charges ($2.50) was for cleaning out distributor cap sockets which held the spark plug wires. Is this actually needed in a tune up?"

(A) Corrosion in the cap sockets is one of the more common causes of poor engine performance. At least $2.50 is certainly a bit steep.

• • •

T.G. asks: "What causes a hesitation or momentary pause in the motor as it suddenly tramp down on the gas pedal?"

(A) This is called a flat spot and is usually due to a faulty accelerator pump. Sometimes a low carb float level or a mild form of vapor lock which hinders normal fuel flow.

• • •

M.H. asks: "Does a tan or yellow-white coating on the spark plug firing points indicate anything serious?"

(A) White, light brown or yellowish powdered coating on electrodes will normally develop. The color depends on the type of fuel used and speeds at which car is driven.

• • •

S.E. writes: If I were to advance the spark timing a bit more, would I get better engine power and gas mileage?"

(A) If the timing is now as specified for your engine, a change will usually encourage spark knock and rocky idle. Not more power, without helping performance or economy.

A STAR IN DISCOVERERS!

A University of Minnesota astronomer says he has discovered the nearest known star to date. It is smaller than the moon but hotter than the sun.

The star is a white dwarf, Muhlenbein says. Dr. Peter Vedder, of Princeton, reports the discovery of its companion star.

Lions Club Hears Topic on Code of Ethics

CAMPBELLFORD—The regular meeting of the Campbellford Lions Club was held in the form of an inter club visit when they played hosts to 30 members from Kingston, and from the Havelock club.

Guest speaker for the evening was International Councillor Richard Taylor from Rouyen, Quebec Lions Club. He spoke on the Code of Ethics of the Lions Clubs, stating that the working together movement can enjoy the fullest heritage of their country. He urged the members not to hold any race a prejudice as the international union of Lionism covers the world and all races are represented. He asked that the members not be prejudice and forget his words but always think of Lions the world over.

He was introduced by International Councillor Ross Burns of Kingston, and by Past President Lion Leith Cruse, of Campbellford.

Marshall Sills and Mrs. C. Towns entertained the group with several numbers on the marimba and piano which were enjoyed by all.

CAMPBELLFORD

Newest Member Gives Talk on General Motors

CAMPBELLFORD — Charles Hyde, a newly elected member, gave his classification speech at Monday's meeting on General Motors, the history and accomplishments of the "Corporation."

"It is a long step from the first scale which drove people in the streets of Springfield, Mass., in 1893, to the industry which in this country directly or indirectly employs one man in every seven."

During the past 39 years, there have been 2,500 different makes of cars produced. General Motors, strange to say, was not founded by a car maker but by a stock promoter, Willie Durant. He printed stock in General Motors but in 1908 in exchange for the Buick and Oldsmobile plants outstanding. He nearly purchased Ford in 1954 but could not raise the three million dollars cash.

Following the war years of the 40's, cars were scarce and the demand outran the supply. Business was easy to come by until 1955, when it became a "dog-eat-dog" proposition and many dealers had to succumb to competition.

General Motors Corporation is the giant of a gigantic industry. More than half of the domestic cars sold are produced by G.M. The first Oldsmobile was produced in 1901 and the first Cadillac in 1902. In 1911, Willie Durant "teamed up" with Louis Chevrolet, a racing driver and put out the famous Chevrolet in 1914. The Chevrolet Company purchased General Motors, so specializing in the Light Chevrolet.

General Motors owns many other companies in the automotive field, but 20,000 independent suppliers sell to them.

General Motors of Canada was founded in 1918 with Willie Durant motoring near Oshawa, required twenty of his car. He was directed to McLaughlin's Carriage Works for the repairs and the name they he and McLaughlin signed the partnership agreement. Workers of Canada. In Oshawa seven cars and two trucks are produced in a single market, which is the U.S. each plant is designed for a single make.

The General Motors Corporation is most interested in welfare and scientific promotion. They provide much free academic training, loans of scholarships and a research centre for such projects as the eliminations of cancer and heart disease.

The speaker was introduced by president Bill Dawson and thanked by Rotarian Archie Crawford.

DEPOSITS RATIFICATION

PARIS (Reuters) — Lionel Roy, Canadian permanent delegate to the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization, Thursday deposited with Rene Maheu, UNESCO's acting director-general, Canada's instrument of ratification of the universal copyright convention. Canada was the 61st country to join the convention, designed to fill gaps in existing international copyright legislation.

RARE, MEDIUM, WELL-DONE

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

Travelling up and down the "turkey trail" at this time of year, stretching the waistline and giving rightful resuscitation to bowling, hockey and other athletic champions, I hear a lot of credit given the stars of the games, their managers and other officials directly associated with the clubs.

All to the good save more hockey banquets that honored minor champions, or runners-up, this season, the trades and accolades have come to the proper people, but little is mentioned of the "brass" behind the scenes who apart from an occasional pat-on-the-back, are more or less unsung heroes of the winter's activities.

Ontario Minor Hockey Association president Ted Kennedy of Cliff, his vice-presidents down the line, and members of the executive, do not have a "get-together" meeting or convention in ever. They do, and it is general, take a personal interest in the affairs of the teams and leagues in their own immediate district. They travel hundreds of miles over a season, helping coaches, managers, etc., and climaxing the season with the presentation of trophies.

This part of Ontario from Peterborough to Gananoque, comes under the supervision seats of OMHA first vice-president Albert Wattin of Peterborough and second vice Doug Patterson of Stirling. At Wellington the other night when the village's first provincial hockey champions were feted and honored, these "vices" of the OMHA were present.

The youngsters, proud as peacocks and dressed in their Sunday best, were given their rightful congratulatory accolades by county, village and township. Warm tribute, too, was paid by the "vices"—Wattin and Patterson.

Somebody, sometime, somewhere along the line should make it a point to "polish the brass" a bit. It would help an end to "salving" the citizens unfair criticism that comes only too readily.

The success of minor hockey in this part of Ontario is in no small way due to the outstanding efforts, year after year of Messrs. Wattin and Patterson. Their OMHA colleagues in other parts of the province are doing an equally fine job under the guiding hand of Percy Elsegg and that astute, hard-working secretary Gary McLeod.

These people are not in the habit of going around looking for pats-on-the-back. Their reward is pride of achievement. If minor hockey as a whole benefits from their efforts, then they believe they are well paid.

And you can imagine the OMHA executive of the 1961-62 season if they go around with the chests expanded a trifle. They are proud of their achievements. They have done a fine job. The statistics prove it.

For the OMHA announced today a record player registration of 51,446. This figure is made up of 15,389 registered for OMHA grass-roots or tyke to play-downs and 29,160 local league registrations.

OMHA teams registered for playdowns totalled 820, an increase over last year's total of 820 squads. Some 1958 local league teams played minor hockey across the province as compared to 1744 for last season.

Wellington bantam "D's" were the only Eastern Ontario team to win a provincial title. Peterborough furnished a runner-up in the peewee "A" finals. Trenton's midget "A Minor" were defeated in the provincial finals by Wallaceburg. Kingston's midget "A's" bowed to Sarnia in the finals.

Toronto teams captured all titles in the juvenile "A-Major" midget, bantam and peewee series. Brampton, Hamilton, Barrie and Sarnia took the juvenile "A" series. Whitby, Wallaceburg, Midland and Leamington are the "A-minor" series champions.

Juvenile "B" champs are Hespler, Elmira, Parry Sound (bantam and peewee.) Watford, New Hamburg, Dresden and Bradford won juvenile "C" crowns. Nobleton, Wellington and Cannington won the "D" titles with juvenile champions still undecided between Attwood and Minden.

Moves Centre Of Operations

PETERBOROUGH (CP)—The operations centre of Mosport car-racing will be moved here, it was announced Friday by city, John Bowes, president of the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce, and Harold W. Hunter, Mosport Limited vice-president.

The Mosport track is located just outside Orono, Ont., and the operations centre is at present in Bowmanville. Future race headquarters will be the Empress Hotel in Peterborough, where upwards of 100 officials and drivers are expected to be quartered during each race here.

"We felt it was time we associated ourselves with a larger city," said Mr. Hunter.

RAISE PRIZE MONEY

MONTREAL (CP) — Dick Borthwick, president of the Canadian Professional Golfers Association, Friday announced that prize money for the annual CPGA championship has been doubled to $10,000. The championship is to be held at Toronto's Scarboro Golf and Country Club Aug. 23-25.

Angels' 'Wing' Wins Fifth

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer.

Bo Belinsky went to Los Angeles Angels' training camp more celebrated as a pool shark than as a pitcher. But he is finding it just as easy to pop the ball into the catcher's mitt as it is to put on in the side pocket.

Making his first start since he pitched a no-hitter last Saturday, the rookie lefthander won his fifth game without a loss as the Angels whipped Chicago White Sox 4-2 Friday night and moved into third place in the American League pennant scramble.

Belinsky reported to the Angels with a 9-10 record at Little Rock, Ark., in 1960, as his most interesting pitching credentials—and immediately became a holdout when the Angels wouldn't give him as much for more than the minimum salary of $7,000.

He finally signed but wasn't impressive in spring training. Since the regular season got under way, however, Belinsky went to work. He has made five starts, won them all and collected the first no-hitter by a rookie since Bobo Holloman did it in 1953.

ALLOWS 8 HITS

Belinsky held the White Sox to six hits and two runs before a crowded by Al Smith in the eighth inning bounced off his leg and forced in the winning run. He struck out 11 men, lowered his earned run average to an amazing 1.70 and joined Dick Donovan of Cleveland Indians as the circuit's only five-game winners.

The Indians got a solid pitching performance from army private Jim (Mudcat) Grant, who limited the league-leading New York Yankees to give hits in a 7-1 victory that pulled Cleveland within a half-game of first place. The Angels are 2½ back.

Detroit Tigers beat Boston Red Sox 5-1 behind Paul Foytack's five - hitter Washington Senators used an 11-run inning to clobber Baltimore Orioles 12-1 and Kansas City Athletics edged Minnesota Twins 5-3 in a game baked by rain three two men out in the last of the eighth inning.

The White Sox scored the first run off Belinsky in 14 1-3 innings with a walk, a single by Smith and an infield out in the sixth inning. They got their run when Smith's single drove in Ellie Fox and drove out Belinsky. Jr. Ruff Fowler came on to finish up.

The Angels put the victory away in the fourth inning, getting two runs for a 3-0 lead when Joe Koppe singled with the bases loaded.

DRIVES TWO HOME

Grant (2-0), on furlough from the army, had a string of 16-2-3 scoreless innings before Moose Skowron accounted for the Yankees' only run with a homer in the eighth inning. The Indians jumped off to a 3-0 lead against Ralph Terry (4-3) with three runs in the third as Don Dillard homered and John Romano tripled, then used Woodie Held's two-run homer to spark the rally.

Foytack (1-0), getting the start because two Detroit pitchers are ailing, allowed only an unearned run, a two-run homer by Chuck Hernandez off Tex Schwall (1-4) in the second inning and Gus Triandos' single in the sixth inning. Tigers closed to within 5-0 in the sixth with his eighth homer, cracking a record-tying shot for only the 31st fair ball ever it out of Tiger Stadium.

Gene Woodling's grand-slam homer was the big blow in the Senators' 11-run, six - inning explosion that beat the Orioles. Ten consecutive batters reached base before pitcher Dave Stenhouse popped up to end it. Stenhouse (2-0) went the route for the victory with a six-hitter. Art Quirk (1-2) absorbed most of the punishment and the loss.

The Twins had the tying runs on base when, after an hour's wait, the game was called. The Athletics snapped a 3-3 tie in the sixth inning on singles by Norm Siebern and Orlando, two walks and an error, then got the big insurance in the weather. Dave Wickersham (5-3) won with Camilo Pascual (4-2) the loser.

World Light-Heavy Bout

Favor Johnson Over Doug Jones

By RALPH BERNSTEIN

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Harold Johnson, seeking the fame and fortune he feels have eluded him during his 16 years in the ring, defends his light-heavyweight championship against the strong challenge of Doug Jones.

Johnson, 33, of Philadelphia, and his 25-year-old opponent from New York's Bronx, collided in a 10-round bout set between scheduled 15-round championship fights at 10 p.m.

Johnson, the National Boxing Association champion, can earn recognition of New York state and Empire by defeating Jones. New York and European officials have withdrawn recognition of Archie Moore as 175-pound champion for non-defence of his title.

Also, for the first time, Johnson sees ahead the big money and better deals. For one night's effort he is guaranteed $50,000 and 40 per cent of the gate, if more than 25,000 pay. Jones gets $17,500 plus training expenses. Moore got $15,000 per bout clause in the contract.

Johnson, although he has been upset by a tough battler with manager Pat Olivieri over money and their contract, is at least an 8-to-5 favorite to turn back the relatively inexperienced challenger.

Jones has won 19 of 20 professional bouts. His only defeat was by Eddie Machen, a heavyweight licked by Johnson, Jones fought almost 10 rounds with Von Clay in three fights, while Johnson polished off clay in seven.

Recognized as a master boxer, Johnson has been unable to get a perfect foil. The counter-punching champion can expect Jones, under to orders of Olivieri, to carry the fight in customary aggressive style.

The challenger, who started as a pro in 1946, has won 67—31 by knockout—and lost only eight in 10 decisions, three times losing the title from Jesse Bowdry in February, 1951, but defended twice, knocking out Clay in two, and outpointing Eddie Machen.

The boxing commission says the championship eight counts a case of a knockdown will be in effect and any boxer knocking down his opponent three times in a round wins automatically by technical knockout. Three judges and a referee to be named at ringside will score the bout with a five-point-a-round must basis.

Pakistanis Defeat Oxford

OXFORD, England (Reuters) The Pakistani cricket touring needed only 105 minutes to complete victory against Oxford University by an innings and 103 runs Friday.

Oxford, resumed needing 175 to avoid an innings defeat, lost its remaining five wickets in rapid succession and was all out for 144.

Final scores: Pakistanis 412 for 5 declared: Oxford University 165 and 144.

Problem Has Many Facets

Doug Harvey Undecided

NEW YORK (AP)—A couple of kids, 38-year-old Legs, English spelling, the French language, skating facilities and arithmetic.

"And they get away from the French language in New York. Also, I've always wanted my little boy to play hockey. They more than Jean Gui Talbot of don't have the skating facilities Montreal.

"Those are the principal factors—in no particular order—that may end the career of one of professional hockey's great defencemen.

"Doug Harvey, player-coach of New York Rangers and 1961 winner of the Norris Trophy as the outstanding defenceman in the National Hockey League, is wrestling with the question of whether to end his long career and seller private business.

"It's a problem," Harvey admitted by telephone from his home in Montreal Friday after learning he had won the Norris Trophy for the seventh time in nine years. "Not the sort of thing you make a snap decision on."

And his problem is complicated by pressure. This pressure comes not from the Rangers—"They've been very nice about it, told me to take my time" nor his wife ("she says any decision I make is fine with her") but from a couple of school-age Harveys.

PRESSURE FROM CHILDREN

"The children are putting a little pressure on me, even if they don't know it." Harvey said. Harvey, a longtime star with Montreal Canadiens, came to the Rangers last season and established his family in a home on Long Island. When the season ended, they returned to Montreal.

"This moving back and forth. It's no good for the children. They just get adjusted in one school, then they go to another. It's not the thing to do.

"Besides, we feel they're ahead in spelling (in New York) but behind in arithmetic. After

Dodgers Clip Giants' Margin

Cardinals' Minoso Fractures Skull

By BO BGREEN'
Associated Press Sports Writer

It was a said, frustrating evening for the suddenly-stricken St. Louis Cardinals.

Los Angeles Dodgers, apparently on the move, whipped the Cards 8-5 Friday night and replaced St. Louis in second place in the National League race.

Of even more importance, however, was the skull fracture suffered by veteran Cardinal outfielder Minnie Minoso in a crashing headlong into a concrete wall while chasing a fly ball.

The 39 - year - old Minoso, rounded on to give the Cards important hitting help, was knocked unconscious. The fracture is just four inches above Minoso's right ear. He will be out of action indefinitely.

The victory extended the Dodgers' modest string to four straight and—with a big assist from former teammate Dick Farrell—allowed them to clip a full game off San Francisco Giants' league-leading margin.

SHUTS OUT GIANTS

Farrell, a big righthander obtained by Houston Colts from the Dodgers for $125,000, helped his club's relative standing with a 7-0 shutout for the Colts over San Francisco that cut the Giants' lead to three games.

Cincinnati Reds scores a 3-2 decision in 10 innings over Pittsburgh Pirates. Milwaukee Braves beat New York Mets 8-6 and Philadelphia Phillies blasted Chicago Cubs 13-2.

Minoso was hurt while chasing a pinch-hit triple in the sixth inning by veteran Duke Snider that drove in three runs and snapped a 3-2 tie and put the Dodgers ahead to stay. Rookie Larry Burright also drove in three runs with two singles.

Stan Musial, one short of Honus Wagner's National League record of 3,430 hits, was held hitless for the second straight night.

STRIKES OUT NINE

Farrell, a six-foot-four, 220 pounder, struck out nine men in handing the Giants their first shutout of the season. He was touched for six hits but got tough with men on base. Farrell, now 3-2, also stroked a solo homer as he went the distance for the second time in a row.

It was the first shutout of a lefthander major league career for the former relief man, who had never started a game before this season.

Del Crandall drove in four runs with a double and two singles in Milwaukee's victory.

Don Demeter was the big gun in Philadelphia's 16-hit attack against Chicago. He drove in six runs on the second grand slam home run of his career, a single and a sacrifice fly.

Moss Hopes To Return To Racing

LONDON (AP)—Stirling Moss still hopes to get back into automobile racing, even though doctors have indicated his career is practically through.

The British driver had more strength in his shattered left leg Friday and the hospital reported "slow general improvement" but the hospital said weakness of the left side persists and he may never fully recover from the accident suffered Easter Monday.

His career on the track on the Goodwood circuit at 100 miles an hour. Doctors said his brain was partly damaged.

"His ambition is to get back on the grand prix circuits," said Moss' father, Alfred Moss, a former driver himself, and mother and I hope he will decide against racing again."

34 ELIGIBLE

TORONTO (CP) — Fifty-six three-year-old trotting colts are eligible for the 102rd running of the Queen's Plate, it was announced Friday night by the Jockey Club. The 1½-mile classic will be raced at suburban New Woodbine June 16. The field was reduced to 56 position starters when a payment of $200 became due May 1. Originally there were 92 nominations for the $50,000-added race.

Martin Gets Wilson Trophy

Red Wings' Star M.V.P.

TORONTO (CP) — Hubert (Pit) Martin of Hamilton Red Wings Friday was declared the winner of the Albert (Red) Tilson Memorial Trophy, awarded annually to the player voted the most valuable and sportsmanlike in the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A Series.

The trophy is in memory of an outstanding junior hockey player with Regina and Oshawa teams who was killed during Canadian Army service in the Second World War.

Martin, a native of Normedia, Que., has been with the Wings since 1958 and will play again next year while he finishes his final year of a McMaster University arts course. He was No. 2 scorer in the league last season with 88 points, including 42 goals.

In second place was Lowell MacDonald, Martin's team-mate. A scant point behind MacDonald was Roger Crozier, goalie for St. Catharines Tepees.

NO MORE NUDES

CANNES, France (Reuters)—Police have been ordered to end the Cannes Film Festival tradition — starlets posing in the nude for photographers, as occurred in past years. Twelve riot police mingled with the 1,000 movie personalities at the annual festival press party on nearby Ile Sainte Marguerite.

Suns Shade Leafs 2-1, Bisons Lose

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Jacksonville Suns were back in first place in the International League today with a big assist from Atlanta Crackers.

The Suns defeated Toronto Maple Leafs 3-1 in 10 innings Friday night, but the victory would have not meant a thing if the Crackers hadn't snapped a seven-game losing streak by downing Buffalo Bisons 6-5.

That pushed the Suns a half-game ahead of the Bisons. Rochester Red Wings hung a game and a half out with a 9-5 victory over Richmond Virginians, while Syracuse Chiefs won their seventh game in their last eight by turning back Columbus Jets 6-2.

Casey Wise blasted a double in the 10th inning to score two mates and new things up for the Suns, who had taken over first place Sun. Ellis Burton hit a homer for the Leafs in the bottom of the 10th frame, but Art Kay came in to put out the fire.

BIZARRE LOSING STREAK

The Crackers not only broke their own losing streak, but they snapped a bizarre three-game skein with the Virginians. George Bisby made it come to pass in the 11th inning and the Red Wings took advantage of it. Joe Donahan singled home one run and Chris Cannizzaro got another in a fielder's choice.

Syracuse, which had an 8-6 record at the start of the season, now is 8-8. Winning pitcher Greg Powell knocked in two runs with a double in the ninth inning when the Chiefs broke a 2-2 tie. Ray Apple, Syracuse starter, struck out nine men in the first four innings.

Roberts Seeks Job With Birds

BALTIMORE (AP) — Robin Roberts, former Philadelphia Phillies pitching ace, visited Baltimore Orioles Friday in search of a job.

The 35-year-old righthander, recently released by New York Yankees, threw for 30 minutes and apparently made an impression on Orioles manager Billy Hitchcock and pitching coach Harry Brecheen.

"He threw better than I've seen him pitch in quite a while," Brecheen said.

Coach Darrell Johnson, who did the catching, said Roberts was quicker than at any time last season.

Hobbs can't blow the ball past the batters any more, but there was no evidence that his shoulder is bothering him any more," said Johnson.

Hitchcock said: "I understand he's going to work out with several other clubs, I don't know when we'll see him again."

Comets Merger 'Up in Air'

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—Roy McBride, general manager of Spokane Comets of the Western Hockey League, said Friday a reported merger of the Comets and Seattle Totems is "still up in the air."

McBride said Montreal Canadiens hold the key to Spokane's hockey future. If the National Hockey League acquires the Vancouver WHL franchise, it will mean Spokane would lose seven players owned by the Canadiens, McBride said.

"It would be too hard to replace those seven players," he added. "It's our nine of our players but trying to build a championship team would be too much of a job."

McBride denied that the merger had been prompted by financial reasons.

Bettor Made Three Errors

TORONTO (CP) — Dan Mehrle's first mistake was backing the wrong horses.

His second mistake was cocking up the losing ticket and trying to collect a $44 payoff on it at Old Woodbine Race Track.

Then he came up before Magistrate C. S. Bigelow, who sentenced him to three months for uttering a forged document.

Magistrate Bigelow also chairs the committee of the Ontario Racing Commission.

Sports Snapshots

By JACK SULLIVAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

The International Baseball League season opened in Toronto this week and, for a refreshing change, there wasn't a serious mention about the city getting a major - league franchise. People know better.

Politicians, promoters and baseball enthusiast visiting the city with an eye to a catchy newspaper headline have been telling naive Torontonians for years that their wonderful town is a natural for the majors. Don't miss, they kept on telling people.

The same old stories were rehashed year after year, down to sunny May 4, 1958, afternoon in Philadelphia when hotel owner Jack Ford, the commissioner of baseball, told a reporter:

"A third major league is as inevitable as tomorrow. Montreal is a major-league city now and Toronto, with its Sunday ball, is getting there. . . .

STADIUM TOO SMALL

That was good for a front-page headline. Since then, until about a year ago, it has been an unusual summer month that someone, somewhere, hasn't proclaimed that the major leagues are certain to embrace Toronto and Montreal.

Toronto has the money, population (nearly 2,000,000) — just about everything a major league city could wish for, but no stadium of major league proportions. A park of 19,000 just wasn't big enough, they kept saying.

Montreal was a thriving baseball city when Frick made his unfortunate prediction 13 years ago. At that time they roped off left field to take care of the overflow 30,000 crowds. Then gradually attendances became so slim that reporters could count the fans at the park.

Montreal gave up the ghost in 1961, dropping out of minor league baseball after 91 years.

Jack Kent Cooke, a bubbling Toronto sportsman and businessman, bought the Maple Leafs in 1951 and he dreamed and talked of a major league franchise until the horrible truth dawned on him a year ago: Toronto hasn't a chance. It's not city in the country.

LEFT IN COLD

The majors quickly squelched any ideas Cooke and his colleagues of the would - be Continental League had of forming a third major league. The National and American Leagues suddenly decided to expand and Toronto wasn't even considered.

Hopes of a major league franchise for Canada were probably highest back in 1953 when St. Louis' Browns decided to look for greener pastures. They moved to Baltimore in 1954. Philadelphia Athletics decided to move. Cooke made a bid but they went to Kansas City.

On and on it went. Boston Braves moved to Milwaukee; New York Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers moved to the West Coast.

With all of these shifts the politicians and promoters in Toronto and Montreal realized that they had been led up the garden path. Of course, they had done nothing but talk about it.

Cooke had made various proposals, including one that he would build a $6,000,000 park if the city donated the land. Nothing doing, said the city fathers, we're not in the baseball business.

Talk continued while attendances at Maple Leaf stadium gradually sagged down from a peak 459,717 paid admissions in 1954 to fewer than 200,000.

METS CUT PITCHER

NEW YORK (AP)—New York Mets of the National League Friday optioned Robert G. Miller, a left-handed pitcher, to their Syracuse farm team in the International League to cut their roster to the 25-man limit. He came to the Mets Sunday from Cincinnati Reds, along with third baseman Cliff Cook, in a trade for third baseman Don Zimmer. He was optioned to make room for Harry Chiti-berry, an outfielder-first baseman purchased from Baltimore.

Cash Homer Sixth Hit Out of Park

DETROIT (AP) — Norm Cash looked at the ball with the black scuff mark — and hit the sixth fair ball ever hit out of Tiger Stadium—and walked away disinterestedly.

The Detroit first baseman had hit a home run over the Tiger Stadium roof before.

The fellow who got the biggest kick out of Cashs homer was Paul Foytack, winning pitcher in the Tigers' 5-1 victory Friday night over Boston Red Sox.

Foytack, too, had seen home runs whacked over the 94-foot-high, triple-deck stands in right field.

"I'm not even bothered by those things anymore," said a grinning Foytack, a spot starter who turned back the Red Sox on 7½ hits. "I've been on the wrong end of too many of those."

Cash is the only Tiger to hit a homer clear out of Tiger Stadium. He has cleared the roof twice. Ted Williams did it once, as a Boston rookie in 1939, Mickey Mantle of New York Yankees did it three times. Two of the Yankee slugger's roof - clearers were hit off Foytack.

"It's nice to see somebody on my side do it while I'm pitching," said Foytack.

Cash's homer sailed out of the park in a majestic arc at the 350-foot mark in right-centre.

Spaniard Defeats Fraser

ROME (AP) — Jose Manuel Couder of Spain outlasted Stanley (Pancho) Fraser of Australia Friday and pulled off the biggest upset of the Italian International tennis championships. The young Spaniard, No. 2 on his country's Davis Cup team, beat the 29-year-old left-hander 8-6, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4 to reach the tournament's quarter-finals.

Francois Godbout of Waterloo, Que., and Luigi Pirro of Italy lost their second - round matches. Godbout fell to Jon Douglas of Santa Monica, Calif., and Ed Rubinoff of Montreal, Fla.

The Tracks

TORONTO (CP) — Beauty Strip defeated a field of three-year-olds Friday to collect her fourth win in six starts this season at Old Woodbine.

Buzzin finished second in the mile run, half a length behind the winner, Levalia was third.

It was Beauty Strip's third straight success and she returned $16.40 to win.

In the first race Jockey Alex Wells gave Tavern Boy Around, fell off shortly after the start.

The daily double of Kings Wish in the first and longshot Tantrum's Last in the second paid $216.80. Tantrum's last returned $25.

Bill Holden in the Orient
A Familiar Part of Call

William Holden, currently the biggest male box-office attraction on the screen, returns once more to the Orient which has provided the locale for many of his previous successes. Now, in the role of a writer intent on gaining a deeper understanding of his religious vows, he appears in 20th Century-Fox's "Satan Never Sleeps," A love story of faith, courage, beauty and romance set in today's China, the Leo McCarey production co-starring Clifton Webb and Francis Nuyen, is showing today for the last times at the Belle Theatre.

A dramatic and moving role, Holden's characterization is interesting with humor, romance and that colossal physical action in which he excels.

"The Bridge on the River Kwai", "Love Is a Many Splendored Thing, "The World of Suzie Wong" and "The Bridge of Toko-Ri" starred Holden in Asiatic locales.

This is not my favorite picture in ten years of film-making exclaims Holden, that people seem to think it's all I do. It's like an actor wearing glasses two prescriptions in a row. If he does he's "typed"

One of the busiest film stars, Holden's next assignment is in Samuel Engel's, "The Lion".

Francis Godbout of Waterloo, Que., and Luigi Pirro of Italy lost their second - round matches. Godbout fell to Jon Douglas of Santa Monica, Calif., and Ed Rubinoff of Montreal, Fla.

Astrological Forecast

For May 13th
By SYDNEY OMARR

Aries (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Ideas could come fast and furiously, but best to regard this as day of rest. Jot down ideas. Patience could be key to ultimate profit.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20): If you can make loved one happy by attending lecture solo or final gathering, you will also benefit personally. Day to be with one who has been loyal.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21): You are apt to experience confusion about whom to follow. Best to remain loyal to person who has proved himself in past. Work out future plans. Conservatism advised today.

Cancer (June 22 to July 21): Plan for getting house in order, doing cleaning, and for giving thanks for wishes, hopes, prayers that have been fulfilled. No time for dawdling.

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21): Would be wonderful day to "get cooking," to be with those who respect and love you. Also good for seeking advice about budget. Be with those who trust your judgment.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 23): If you try to be yourself, shorn of any protective shell or coloring, you make most of this day. Cycle remains up. Be firm, but fair. Make resolutions you can keep.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): This is day when Mother is to be honored, appreciated. It is time to allow appreciation, to be said a loyal friend. Let Libra sense of justice shine through!

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): In many sections of world, Mother is honored today. You should also honor friends. Those who have taken trouble to help and understand you deserve recognition.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Be universal in outlook. Petty action is self-defeating. Strive for understanding but be generous in trying to understand those who lack this quality.

Capricorn (Dec. 23 to Jan. 20): Time has come to "get up and dime." You have delayed long enough. Make plans, decisions. Before day is over, confide in loved one or spiritual mentor.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): You're favored in way of personal magnetism, Stress charm. Express ideas. Be active, especially in church, community projects. Show others you care.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Relax today. It is best thing you can do, both in health and financial purposes. Cycle is such still you do best by waiting rather than "running and pushing."

• • •

If today is your birthday . . . could be year in which you come to fruition. But paradox is you must first be willing to give, to sacrifice, to take chances on own ideas, talent. August outstanding month.

• • •

General Tendencies: Truth seems to come rushing to forefront. Means "bluffing" tactics bound to fail. Look for pressure to be laid. Watch March and September to make news headlines.

• • •

You May 14

Aries (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Conservation key word. If you can leave the sensationalism to others, you will benefit. Day to be completely yourself. The "golden rule" is great asset.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20): So much potential is emphasized, there's danger you will crawl into shell. Come out and show what you can do. No time to suddenly rely on past history to speak for you.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21): Choice may boil down between the practical and the adventurous. Emphasize practical. Control restlessness; do what has to be done.

Cancer (June 22 to July 21): Be gracious and hopes and wishes may seem to coincide with practical desires. This is no day to compromise. Stick to dreams, or you lose out completely.

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21): Tendency is to lack confidence. But this indicates strength. Accept gracefully. Be willing to back the odds. Solar and lunar cycles are favorable to you.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 23): What is "close" to you is best and most important. Anything else today must take second place. Keep this in mind and day will prove very beneficial.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): Self-doubt is to be thrown out like any other burden. Take time to think, and through knowledge throw off fear. Then day will be very productive.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): If you depend upon friends to "do the job," then you have much to learn. This is one day in which "hard" lessons are learned. Do what you must "on your own."

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Think and plan. If one chose to you makes you feel "inman," this is the person for you. Don't demand until you are sure. If right, ultimate happiness will follow.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Don't push too hard. A bit of indecision today could be the answer. Delay works in your favor. Those who try to "push" you may mean well, but better to study the situation first.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): One who is close to you deserves an audience. If you attempt to be aloof, you ask for trouble. Keep mind and heart open. Message is clear if you will but listen.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Get work organized. Playing "waiting game" could be wise. Let no one push, force or cajole you into making foolish decision. Do not be too impulsive.

• • •

If today is your birthday . . . you are never satisfied merely to be told. You want facts, reasons. This year you find that your tendency to investigate "on your own" pays off.

General Tendencies: Cycle up for Leo, Virgo, Libra. Those born under Pisces advised to apply the "brakes."

HUNT JACKALS

KAMPALA, Uganda (AP)—Local chiefs are organizing tribal hunts to bring out a spreading epidemic of rabies in the South Kigezi region of Uganda. The disease is being transmitted by jackals to other wild beasts, and to dogs, sheep and cattle. Two Africans have died after being bitten by infected animals. Rabies has been a problem in The Congo and its neighboring Rwanda Urundi for the last 18 months.

Prime Minister Attacks Former Liberal Govt.

By JIM NELSON

MEDICINE Hat (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker—today completes in the foothills of the Rocky Mountains a week-long election tour which started last in Montreal Monday and touched also on the Gaspe coast.

He was scheduled to return to Ottawa by charter Canadian Pacific Airlines DC-63 before meeting out again next week in Quebec and the Maritimes provinces.

Friday night in Medicine Hat he spoke, before an audience which Conservative speakers on the platforms described as usually large for the area—there were 3,200 in the arena at the start, though some, who had standing room only, drifted away.

He accused the former Liberal government of failing to take the initiative in wheat sales, the opposition government, Mr. Diefenbaker said, had sent roles missions around the world for agricultural and other Canadian products.

Touching on Liberal criticism of the government's recent devaluation of the Canadian dollar—listed at 95½ in U.S. Diefenbaker quoted the record of the postwar years before his government took office.

'SLASH INFLATION'

Between 1946 and 1957, he said, the purchasing value of the Canadian dollar dropped 45 cents—an average of more than three cents a year.

"We have slashed the galloping spiral of inflation from more than three cents a year to less than cent a year."

He said the government had devaluated and pegged the Canadian dollar "to expand our trade . . . to put Canadians in a position where they won't be unfairly challenged in imports."

The result was that Prairie farmers now were getting "more for their 57" a bushel for wheat.

His government had made mistakes, he said, but added:

"Show me the man that hasn't made any mistakes and I'll show you a man who hasn't done anything."

SEEDS DANGER

Earlier in the day, Mr. Diefenbaker spoke at a high school assembly in Lethbridge in near-campaign terms, urging young Canadians to pursue their ideals, and to give their public reception at which he urged good neighbors to organize differently.

There was a danger of a party becoming complacent, he said, and five years in office is too long.

He said in his Medicine Hat speech he recognized the plight farmers had of drought conditions, and spoke of the government's programs for the conservance, fodder storage, and acreage payments. Friday that wheat growers extra income for their wheat consumed in Canada.

One of the features of his visit to Alberta, he said, was the welcome he received which cut across party lines. On hand to greet him were Mayor Henry Viner of Medicine Hat, Senator F. W. Gershaw, Liberal senator for Medicine Hat, and Mark Sirington, Liberal candidate in Lethbridge.

Pearson Makes Bilingual Bid For Que. Votes

By ROBERT RICE

SHERBROOKE, Que. (CP)—Opposition Leader Lester Pearson launched a bilingual bid for Quebec votes Friday night, calling on the province to send an all-Liberal team of 75 members to Ottawa.

Speaking 2½ almost an hour, chiefly in French flavored with an Ontario accent, Mr. Pearson told a public rally in this city of 47,000 that Liberalism stands for a "real Canadian Confederation."

"We, Liberals of all this country, want to give a new orientation to Canadian Confederation because we believe firmly that, French-speaking Canadians as well as English-speaking Canadians are equal partners in this Canadian country of ours.

"We sincerely believe that the only candidates of the Quebec Liberal team are Liberals party of Canada are right in Ottawa for a real Canadian Confederation."

APPEALING EFFORTS

An audience of about 600 persons crowded the St. Francois Xavier Church auditorium smiling and applauding his determination to speak French in a city that claims to be the most bilingual community in Canada.

"I wish I were the most bilingual man in Canada," he said.

The Liberal chieftain, who flies to Sudbury after a two-day tour of Southern Ontario, outlined a new "flexibility formula" aimed at helping the provinces "achieve their full potential in their own way."

He said the formula would allow provinces to choose how they want federal assistance in such joint Dominion-provincial fields as taxation, scholarships and university grants either as a direct grant through provincial taxation, with federal taxation lowered accordingly.

"Any such provinces could then use such monies for the purpose of the joint program or for any other purpose it may prefer."

Mr. Pearson was to continue his Quebec election tour today in Three Rivers, Granby, Marieville, Farnham, Iberville and St. Johns before flying back to Ottawa tonight from Montreal.

Malraux, a close associate of President de Gaulle, said in Paris that France is backing Britain's entry into the group "because Britain is sure and a democratic country."

British foreign secretary the Earl of Home, told a conference of Scottish Conservatives in Edinburgh Friday that the British government will demand "complete safeguards" to preserve Canada's special system before the Common Market.

NO TV INROADS

AUCKLAND, N.Z. (CP) — Although television now is established in the main centres of New Zealand, movie attendances have not suffered, Official figures show admissions in 1960 an average of 17 per capita, from 18.6, in the past year. World's highest is said to be Australia, with an average attendance of 17.4 per capita annually.

Ald. Leslie W. Digby Named NDP Candidate at Nomination Meeting for South Hastings

Bellevilla Alderman Leslie W. Digby, well known in local Legion and football circles, won nomination last night as the New Democratic Party candidate for South Hastings.

The thinly attended party nominating convention was held at the Canadian Legion Hall on Pinnacle Street, with Mrs. Eileen Coutts, NDP candidate for Durham county, as the guest speaker.

There were only two nominations for the party candidacy. The other nominee for federal honors was Milton Quist, withdrew.

In accepting the role as party standard bearer for the riding Mr. Digby (also president of the NDP riding association) said he had not actively sought the nomination but had actually been looking forward to being campaign manager of someone else.

Referring to the June 18 election, Mr. Digby said that "now is the time for a change and we'll not get that change merely by putting Pearson in Diefenbaker's place."

CRITICAL OF BUDGET

"The only difference between the two old-line parties is that one is in and the other is out," he said.

The candidate was critical of the recent Flemings budget which will result in 80,000 fewer Canadians paying income tax.

The remarkable thing about it was that the 80,00 Canadians would not now be making enough money to be required to pay income tax. These people would be saved something like five cents per week in tax, he said.

But the budget also provided something for the poor "starve-ly" oil, paper and mining companies.

The reason these firms were granted concessions is that it was election year and the oil lobby parties expect contributions from the big firms for their campaign funds.

Employment conditions in Canada leave big room for improvement. "That is could be done has been proven in England, Sweden and in West Germany," he said.

But the key point in the New Democratic Party program was its health program.

Mr. Digby said the Liberals had been talking of a health program since 1919 and the Diefenbaker government had dilly-dallied around to promising a royal commission to study the need.

AWARE OF NEED

"I am sure that we are all aware of the need, and if the New Democratic Party is elected there will be a health program."

Mr. Ernie Arnold, representing the Canadian Labor Congress, spoke briefly on the NDP for the duration of the election campaign, compliimented local party supporters on their choice of Mr. Digby as their candidate.

"If you want a job done well, get a busy man to do it" he said.

And that Mr. Digby is a busy man is indicated by the fact that he is a member of city council; is actively engaged in the work of the Canadian Legion and is a member of the parks board. He is employed in the sales division at Northern Electric.

Guest speaker Mrs. Eileen Coutts said there was a closer alliance needed between the government and the farm labor force, asserting that farmers were the "most exploited people in the country."

DEALS WITH AUTOMATION

She said automation was rapidly catching up with the farmer with less an less manpower being required to supply the nation's food requirements.

The trend, she said, would see more and more small farmers go down the drain.

Automation is also being drastically felt by the factory workers, the tragic thing being the displacement of workers from a way of life which they know and understand.

Declaring that the year 1961 would go down in Canadian history as one of the worst for unemployment, Mrs. Coutts said a program of urban area development could be undertaken to provide work for thousands. Conservation measures, research and development of technical and vocational training programs were other ways to defeat unemployment.

But wherever co-operation, government level was the only way to solve the problem and the only party prepared to give that co-operation is the NDP party.

NOTES SPREAD FREE

Noting the price spread between raw farm products and the finished commodity, Mrs. Coutts said the farmer received only 35 cents of each dollar spent for bread.

"I wonder where the other 65 cents goes?" she asked.

What is needed is leadership in government, she said, and she said the manpower and resources are there. The New Democratic Party would supply the leadership.

She said the NDP won't the only party not aligned with those who want to maintain the present economic status quo.

People have the right to eat the bread they have earned by the sweat of their brow and the NDP government of tomorrow will continue to face poverty and insecurity.

In conclusion, she said, it will mean a new day for Canadians," she promised.

Five Teen-Agers At Chatham Open Grave

CHATHAM (CP)—Five teenagers, after watching a television horror show, drove to a county cemetery and opened a grave, court was told Friday.

A 17-year-old Chatham girl, involved in the incident, gave police a statement saying the five had no urge for excitement and could think of nothing to do after watching the show. The statement was read into the record by Crown counsel Blake Ward.

The five were charged with mutilating a tomb.

The girl who gave the police the statement pleaded guilty and another girl accused with her also was convicted. Both were remanded out of custody for sentence June 1.

Still to be tried are Barry Burke, 18, Leonard Lonne, 19, and Robert Dunlop, 18, all of Dover Centre.

The cement cover of the coffin, weighing about 700 pounds, had not been lifted.

Two of the boys testified Friday under the Canada Evidence Act and said the girls did the digging while they remained in the car.

Kennedy Meets Top Advisers On Laos Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy called in his senior military and diplomatic policymakers today amid reports he is planning to strengthen U.S. military power in Southeast Asia to meet a spreading crisis in Laos.

It was understood U.S. Navy forces may be sent to the area in the next day or so.

Summoned to the White House for the mid-morning conference of Laos were Secretary Rusk, Defence Secretary McNamara and Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff.

All returned early Friday night from trips around the world. McNamara spent considerable time in Southeast Asia, where the new outbreak of fighting between Laos government forces and Communist-backed Pathet Lao rebels is proving a source of great concern in the U.S. government.

Kennedy is reported considering strong measures to deal with the situation, assuming that diplomatic efforts to bring the store a year-long cease-fire in the embattled Kingdom prove futile.

Corner Tavern Soon May Have Sing-Songs

TORONTO (CP)—The corner tavern in Ontario may soon be featuring a rousing sing-song with its beer.

The government is expected to approve shortly a change in policy allowing certain classes of public drinking places to have sing-songs for the patrons, it was learned Friday.

No change in law or regulation is required. A reliable source said it would involve a new look by the Ontario Liquor Control Board at the stand on what constitutes "orderly conduct" in a licensed premises.

Implementation of the change would rest with the owner.

A spokesman for the hotel industry said many taverns and lounges will not be interested in adopting sing-songs.

"But there are some which have the same groups drop-ping in and the regular pat-trons from the neighborhood bowling alley or places which cater to a particular type of patron These would be most likely to be interested."

It was understood that a few licensed premises have already been operating with sing-songs and were allowed to continue by the liquor board "to see how it worked out."

Bond Market Prices Weaken In Light Trade

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Prices weakened in light trading on the Canadian bond market Friday as declines in most issues were down as much as 50 cents.

Day-to-day money was available at 2½ per cent for the first three per cent, The 81 - day treasury bills averaged 2.24 per cent and the new bills 2.26 per cent.

On the government bond market the Canada 4½-per-cent 1988 issue was quoted at 101¼, the Canada 4½-per-cent 1983 issue at 94½ and the CNR five-per-cent at 89¾.

There was no new provincial and corporate financing and changes in outstanding issues were minor.

On the municipal market there were two new issues. The city of Peterborough came to market with a $750,000 3½-per-cent issue divided into two sections. The first was a one-to-10 year issue priced at 4.90 per cent, the second 11-to-15 years offered at 5.05 per cent.

The city of North Bay offered $260,000 in three sections, the first due/being due in two years at 4.75 per cent; the second six-to-10 years at five per cent and the third 11-to-15 years at 5½ per cent.

Africans to Play Leading Part in Parley Which Prince Philip Opens at Montreal

MONTREAL (CP) — African leaders in our country," said delegates can be expected to play a big part in Prince Philip's opening of Commonwealth Study Conference, opening today in Montreal.

More than 50 strong—out of a total of 300 delegates—they all come from countries newly independent, or about to become independent, and range with vast problems of mass education and industrial growth.

They have a wide range of experience of industrially developed countries—and avoid their mistakes.

These nations—poorly endowed with natural communities, towns depending too much on one industry, narrow or unbalanced vocational training, to name a few examples—are the reason for the conference.

EXCHANGE IDEAS

No formal recommendations or reports will come out of the conference, meeting in various cities across Canada for the next three weeks. The delegates are here to exchange ideas about the human and social side of industrial development and see something of the ways Canadians deal with their problems.

Prince Philip is expected to underline the conference theme, "The Human Consequences of the Changing Industrial Environment," when he gives the keynote speech at the first plenary session this today at the University of Montreal.

The conference, organized and financed by Canadian industry and labor organizations, is a sequel to one in Oxford, sponsored in Oxford, England in 1956.

This is an entirely new group of delegates, however, although it is the same type of people. Most are between 30 and 50 and will hold responsible positions in industry, labor organizations or government departments.

And this time most of the African delegates come from countries that have become responsible for their own affairs and are aspiring toward economic and social progress. Most of the present African members of the Commonwealth was independent in 1958.

FINANCED TRIPS FOR VACATIONS BY GAMBLING

Jack Riggs Admits Being Bookmaker

TORONTO (CP)—Jack Riggs, who described himself as a $100-a-week photo cigs salesman, said today he financed trips to Florida with the proceeds of gambling.

Riggs told the Ontario royal commission on crime that he was an associate of Joseph Mc-Cauliffe and Vincent Foley in the now-defunct Veterans' Club of Cockerville and said he has been a bookmaker on his own for the last 10 years or so.

He told the morning recess, evidence dealing with his bookmaking activities was cut off when he said the examination would be "unfair" to himself and other men awaiting trial at Oshawa on charges of conspiracy to run a gaming house.

When the session resumed, Mr. Justice W. D. Roach closed the hearings to allow Riggs to continue his testimony in camera.

Stanton Hogg, associate counsel for the Liberal party, suggested during the examination that Riggs' children attend Bloorstein of Toronto and John

Franco's Choice as Spain's King Is Married to Princess of Greece

OF from AP-Reuters

ATHENS—Prince Juan Carlos of Spain and Princess Sofia of Greece were married today in a joyous wedding that thrilled peasants and royalty alike both countries.

The 24 - year - old prince, groomed by Generalissimo Francisco Franco to occupy the throne of Spain, and Sofia were married to the 23 - year - old princess in the Greek Orthodox cathedral in Athens in a ceremony that ended the princes' faith.

Pope John gave special approval of the Catholic-Orthodox union after the princess pledged that she would bring up her children in her husband's Roman Catholic faith.

Church bells rang, artillery guns roared out a salute and a gathering of 120 royal guests looked on with excitement as the prince and princess took their vows with "I will" — a cer-

Greek word that sounds like "nay" but means "yes."

Among the guests were Princess Irene, Roman Catholic Archbishop of Athens, officiated at the ceremony in the Cathedral of St. Denis.

Juan Carlos, a curly - haired six-footer, wore the uniform of Spanish Army officers.

The tall, slim bride — known as "the Red - eyed princess" — smiled happily and was so excited she almost tripped over the long train of her wedding dress. The gown had a regal bridesmaids, all princesses of the royal houses of Europe.

Outside the church, Spanish royalists shouted "long live the king" as the couple bowed under the swords.

Diefenbaker, Pearson Again In Quebec Wooing Votes

By THE CANADIAN PRESS.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker and Lester Pearson, refreshed after a brief Sunday pause at home, planned a fresh test today of their bilingual campaigning in Quebec.

For the second Monday in a row at Quebec Jaurès—this time at Nicolet, Sorel and St. Hyacinthe—started the week's campaigning for the Conservative leader. A flight back to Ottawa from Lethbridge, Alta., Saturday rounded out last week's 10,000 miles of travelling around the hustings.

In the case of the Liberal chieftain, who flies to Joliette, it was a matter of resuming where he left off. He launched his Quebec province campaign Saturday in the Eastern Townships with a promise to be a "good partnership" for English- and French-speaking Canadians.

It was to voters of Romanian and Ukrainian origin that New Democratic Party leader T. C. Douglas appealed during weekend campaigning in his home constituency of Weyburn, Sask. Spent Sunday night in Calgary and was to speak tonight in Cranbrook, B.C.

A wee bit of Scotland was included in Mr. Douglas's Credit Weekend with announcement of the adoption of a Thomson family from Scotland. They are Robert Thomson in Hamilton, his wife in Vancouver and districts of Rouyn - Noranda in northwestern Quebec and Kirkland Lake in Ontario today.

Mr. Pearson, only party leader with a bilingual campaign program on the hustings, stopped frequently to use both speeches, mainly in French, during a drive through the Eastern Townships.

At a combination political meeting and fundraiser night before last at St. Johns, Que., he said Quebec wants more than the symbols of a bilingual Canada to display Canada's unity.

"People are more concerned with action than with talk," he said. "All they are more conscious about the realities behind the symbols."

Mr. Pearson took time in Granby to attend a civic reception and visit an old folks' home for a chat with 103-year-old Aurélia Dion Black—the oldest Liberal supporter he knows of.

With Mr. Diefenbaker praising Magsley bonds from Alberta, the Conservative banner was taken by 39 cabinet ministers. At least 19 made public speeches during the period.

External Affairs Minister Green declared in Chilliwack, B.C., that Liberals are "shouting bite rein but what national development program would they have us throw out?" The "Pearson team" ought to be "Pearson and his ministers."

Solicitor - General Browne, speaking in St. Johns, NFld., said the great issue of the June 18 election campaign is comparison of the records of the two governments now under Liberal predecessor.

Health matters were discussed by Health Minister Monteith in Cape Que., by Real Caouette, deputy Creditiste leader, in Montreal. His party would provide each family in Canada with a $60 annual subsidy for the purpose of paying hospital insurance premiums.

"Under our administration Canadians would be completely free to choose their own arrangements for medical care through private insurance plans of their choice. . . . As it is now the government decides."

In London, Ont., Kenneth Hayden, NDP member of the Ontario legislature, Norman Woodhice, charged that the national Liberal party has withdrawn its medical care proposals in deference to private insurance companies operating privately plans.

2 Jewish Boys in Algiers Found With Throats Cut

ALGIERS (AP)—Two Jewish children were found dead in their homes today with their throats cut.

Police said they suspected the killings were in retaliation for the European Secret Army's murder of Moslems, hunted a Moslem maid.

Three Europeans—two priests and a Protestant minister—reported to have vanished in Algiers during the weekend, apparently were spirited away by Moslems.

The Jewish children were Patrick Ainuan, 6, and his brother Bruno, 7. Their father businessman Robert Ainuan, reported to Moslem police on the kitchen floor. The maid was missing.

FEAR REPERCUSSIONS

Troops were sent into the neighborhood to hold down any repercussions. They said the search for the double might be used as an excuse for more random shooting of Jews by Moslem snipers in the streets.

The body of a Moslem woman was found in the European workers' district of Bab El Oued. It was wrapped in a blanket and tied to the back of a Moslem donkey. The sign read "I was for the (Moslem personalist) FLN." The OAS (Secret Army Organization) was watching me."

Man in Space Unnecessary Says Scientist

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. James A. Van Allen has downgraded the U.S. man - in - space projects, contending that "for the same investment of effort much more will come out the man."

Van Allen, discoverer of the earth-encircling radiation belts named for him, ventured the opinion in testimony before the senate space committee. His suggestions were made public today.

"A monkey made the first orbital trip and he made out all right," Van Allen told the committee.

He said he doesn't view astronaut John Glenn's trip in the earth orbit of Feb 20 "as a reason to believe that a man is necessary for the operation of present day spacecraft."

Kennedy's Press Secty. Visits With Nikita

UKOVO, U.S.S.R. (AP)—Premier Khrushchev played host to Pierre Salinger, President Kennedy's press secretary, and U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson Sunday at a surprise luncheon meeting believed to have included discussion of Laos, Berlin and other world crises.

Thompson confirmed that he and Khrushchev had a short serious talk during the five-hour luncheon which included Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko. Thompson refused to disclose what was discussed.

Khrushchev unexpectedly arranged the luncheon the day after he had given Salinger his first private audience with the premier.

Salinger flew here by helicopter at a seven - hour meeting at which the Premier's son-in-law, Alexei Adzhubei, was host.

ATTEMPT ON LIFE OF SUKARNO UNSUCCESSFUL

Five Officials With Him Hurt

SINGAPORE (AP) — President Sukarno of Indonesia was reported to have escaped another attempt on his life Sunday when an assassin tried to gun down Sukarno at an outdoor prayer meeting in Jakarta.

Jakarta Radio said Sukarno escaped unscathed but that five other persons — including two government officials — were injured slightly. The broadcast said police had seized the gunman, who was arrested following an order of the Darul Islam group of Moslem fanatics.

Because today is an Indonesian national holiday, commemorations were brought together in Jakarta and the outside world. Because of the confusion, there was no immediate reports of the shooting were being held up by censors.

J. Mosher, information officer of the Indonesian Consulate in Singapore, said at Tai Ch'ih, Que., by Real Caouette, deputy Creditiste leader, in Montreal. His party would provide each family in Canada with a $60 annual subsidy for the purpose of paying hospital insurance premiums.

"Under our administration Canadians would be completely free to choose their own arrangements for medical care through private insurance plans of their choice. . . . As it is now the government decides."

In London, Ont., Kenneth Hayden, NDP member of the Ontario legislature, Norman Woodhice, charged that the national Liberal party has withdrawn its medical care proposals in deference to private insurance companies operating private plans.

2 Jewish Boys in Algiers Found With Throats Cut

ALGIERS (AP)—Two Jewish children were found dead in their homes today with their throats cut.

Police said they suspected the killings were in retaliation for the European Secret Army's murder of Moslems, hunted a Moslem maid.

Three Europeans—two priests and a Protestant minister—reported to have vanished in Algiers during the weekend, apparently were spirited away by Moslems.

The Jewish children were Patrick Ainuan, 6, and his brother Bruno, 7. Their father businessman Robert Ainuan, reported to Moslem police on the kitchen floor. The maid was missing.

FEAR REPERCUSSIONS

Troops were sent into the neighborhood to hold down any repercussions. They said the search for the double might be used as an excuse for more random shooting of Jews by Moslem snipers in the streets.

The body of a Moslem woman was found in the European workers' district of Bab El Oued. It was wrapped in a blanket and tied to the back of a Moslem donkey. The sign read "I was for the (Moslem personalist) FLN." The OAS (Secret Army Organization) was watching me."

Wants To Land Combat Marines In Country

Aircraft Carrier Task Force Moves Into Area

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. forces throughout the United States and the Pacific area were on the alert as government officials awaited today to land U.S. combat marines in Thailand, which borders on embattled Laos.

That officials were expected to agree promptly to the U.S. request for landing of the marines in the little pro-Western kingdom.

The move involving the marines was ordered by President Kennedy as part of a program aimed at getting U.S. troops into position to make intervention in Laos should he decide such action is necessary.

The marine detachment of 1,900 combat-ready men moved out Sunday before Kennedy announced that the first contingent of an aircraft carrier task force of the U.S. 7th Fleet. Other elements of the 7th Fleet were steaming toward the area from Subic Bay in the Philippines Saturday.

The president put on alert land, sea and air forces in the United States and the Pacific area. But the move was designed to let Red China and Russia know that any threat of the type of wrecking that could be given to troops in the event of war.

FLIES TO THAILAND

Gen. Paul D. Harkins, commanding officer of U.S. military advisory forces in South Viet Nam, flew to Thailand to confer with officials at Bangkok.

Kennedy's order that the military take "precautionary measures" was designed to put Thailand on the Laotian front in a position to meet any threat of aggression, short of the type of wrecking that could be given to troops in the event of war.

Indonesian Embassy in Tokyo said the injured were Zainul Arifin, speaker of Indonesia's House of Representatives; R. S. Sudibjo, Sukarno's deputy speaker of the Consultative Congress; Brigadier Sudarso, inspector I. Dajat and Police Brigadier Sudiono, Sukarno's bodyguards. Sudarso is Indonesian Navy, a palace official. The gunman was not identified.

SNEAKS PAST GUARD

Reuters reported from Hong Kong that Sukarno's bodyguards there told reporters the would-be assassin had managed to sneak past a security police guard into Sukarno's Merdeka (Freedom) Palace where the president was leading a prayer meeting.

The man shot at Sukarno but missed.

However, after the attempt Sukarno was unable to deliver a prepared speech and it was read by Dr. Subandrio, foreign minister, Gen. Abdul Haris Nasution.

The Darul Islam sect launched a rebellion against the government in 1953. Two years after the 3,000 East Indies islands became the Republic of Indonesia they were granted sovereignty by Queen Juliana.

The group has fought the government ever since in an attempt to set up a Moslem state. Government military action has reduced the size of the Moslem bandit groups that carry on terrorism in rural areas.

One-Time Heir Apparent to Tito Faces Trial Over Bomb on Stalin

BELGRADE (Reuters) — Milovan Djilas, former Yugoslav Communist leader, went on trial today on charges of disclosing official secrets in a book called Conversations with Stalin.

Djilas protested vigorously after the presiding judge ruled that the public should be excluded from the trial — the fourth in a month — of Yugoslavia's once - president of Yugoslavia and close friend of President Tito.

Reading a statement to the court, Djilas said in a strong, firm voice: "There is no legal and no human reason for the trial to be conducted in secret.

"I have the right to defend myself publicly because I have been publicly defamed." The fifty-year-old Djilas told the court.

He said the charges against him was "artificial" and full of falsehoods and was aimed at obtaining a court verdict.

Wearing his glasses at the start of the trial, he said: "If it is not public, I shall not answer any questions and I will not defend myself."

The judge, the president and his two assessors then withdrew once lawyer interrupted Djilas and asked that the trial be held in public. But Milan Mirkovic, chief judge, refused the request on the advice of the court's decision to make the trial closed.

Djilas left his seat and walked to the middle of the courtroom, where he argued loudly with the three men. Then he proposed that part of the trial be public

TIMETABLE

TWENTYFOUR, Leos (AP)—American diplomats worked toward bridging the yawning factions in Laos today as the leaders of the leading princes to say could not agree on conditions for the resumption of peace talks.

Reliable sources said the U.S. diplomatic effort, initiated up by a new effort of military attaches, was making little headway toward getting the Laotian Government forces back behind the 14th parallel.

Prince Boun Oum's royal government cabled Prince Souvanna Phouma, neutralist leader vacationing in Paris, to return home for peace talks.

Souvanna agreed, but only if Boun Oum sent a delegation to the Plaine des Jarres for talks with the rebel leader Prince Souphanouvong. Boun Oum refused.

U.S. ambassadors in Vientiane, Laos, and Bangkok, Thailand, are coordinating in delivering the message. Neither the government of Laos nor Souvanna showed any inclination to modify their positions.

There was no word of further talks between pro - Communist Pathet Lao guerrillas, who overran government and outposts in northeastern Laos, and 2,000 royal troops fleeing across the Mekong River to neighboring Thailand.

Diplomats in touch with rebel headquarters in Hanoi said Pathet Lao leaders wanted to see Souvanna before they went any toward getting up a coalition government. But the rebels' demand for a "transitional period" before the cease-fire. But in a week, the rebels have reported the Royalists' weakening and all-out offensive makes a political settlement unnecessary.

Sourvanna, backed by Soviet Russia, United States and Britain, was designated by King Savang Vatthana ago.

Souvanna was reported in Paris today to be considering the terms of the prince's stay said in Paris but was opposed to any U.S. military intervention in Laos for fear it would touch off a major conflict leading to Communist Chinese troops.

Africans to Play Leading Part in Parley Which Prince Philip Opens at Montreal

MONTREAL (CP) — African leaders in our country," said delegates can be expected to play a big part in Prince Philip's 2nd annual Commonwealth Study Conference, opening today in Montreal.

More than 20 strong—out of a total of 300 delegates—they all come from countries newly independent, or about to be, and are preoccupied with vast problems of mass education and industrial growth.

They have had little or no experience of industrially developed countries—and avoid their mistakes.

These mistakes — poorly planned or unplanned communities, towns depending too much on one factory, narrow or unbalanced vocational training, to name a few examples—are the reason for the conference.

EXCHANGE IDEAS

No formal recommendations or reports will come out of the conference, meeting in various cities across Canada for the next three weeks. The delegates are here to exchange ideas about the human and social side of industrial development and see something of the ways Canadians deal with their problems.

Prince Philip is expected to elaborate upon the conference theme, "The Human Consequences of the Changing Industrial Environment," when he gives the keynote speech at the first plenary session late today at the University of Montreal.

The conference, organized and financed by Canadian industry and labor organizations, is a sequel to the one first sponsored in Oxford, England in 1956.

This is an entirely new group of delegates, however, although it is the same kind of group. Most are between 30 and 50 and will hold responsible positions in industry, labor organizations or government departments.

And this time most of the African delegates come from countries that have become responsible for their own affairs and are striving toward economic and social progress. Many of the present African members of the Commonwealth was independent in 1956.

AIR OF IMPATIENCY

"There is an air of impat-

George Hayford, 31, of Accra, Ghana, personnel manager for a construction and engineering firm.

"Our generation—all over African countries—has raised standards of living are possible," said Hayford, an earnest, articulate man." It is probably the first generation of Africans ready to be educated, of Asians, too.

E. A. Ladele, 44, general manager of a civil engineering firm in Ibadan, Nigeria, father of 10 children, said "education is our biggest need. A lot of progress has been made in Nigeria in the last few years but we need more trained men, especially in rural areas.

Ladele, a Yoruba, of Accra, personnel manager for a soap-manufacturing firm," said delegates should be able to benefit from Ghanaian experience in dealing with the practical problems of industrial change.

John Burke King of St. Lucia, president of the Trade Union Bar Party and a senator of the West Indies federation, said

"we shall try to pick out the virtues of Canada and pattern ourselves after them."

The 79 - member Canadian delegation, largest national group at the conference, includes the chairman of all 70 study groups that will meet next week in different communities from the Atlantic to the Great Lakes after the Montreal sessions end Thursday.

Other large delegations are those from Britain, 44; Australia, 18; Federation of Rhodesia and Nyasaland, 15; India, 15; Nigeria, 12, and New Zealand, 10.

After the week of separate study groups the delegates reassemble in Toronto May 26.

Franco's Choice as Spain's King Is Married to Princess of Greece

CP from AP-Reuters

ATHENS—Prince Juan Carlos of Spain and Princess Sophie of Greece were married today in a joyous wedding that thrilled peasants and nobility on both countries.

The 24 - year - old prince, groomed by Generalissimo Francisco Franco to occupy the throne of Spain, and Princess Sophie married to the 23 - year - old daughter of Greece's ruler is a Roman - Catholic ceremony.

Within two hours they went through a second ceremony in the Greek Orthodox cathedral according to Greek law and the princess' faith.

Pope John give special approval of the Catholic-Orthodox union after the princess pledged that she would bring up their children in her husband's Roman Catholic faith.

Church bells rang, artillery guns roared out a salute and a booming gathering of 129 royal guests looked on with excitement as the princess and princess took their vows with "aid."

Greek word that sounds like "may" but means "yes" in Spanish.

Archbishop Chrysostom Printesis, Roman Catholic Archbishop of Athens, officiated at the ceremony in the Cathedral of St. Denis.

Juan Carlos, a curly - haired six-footer, wore the uniform of a Spanish Army officer.

The tall, slim bride — known as the "iced greek princess" — smiled happily and was so excited she almost tripped over the long train of her wedding dress. The gown had a regal setting skirt with a tightly fitted waist and long sleeves.

Sophie was attended by eight bridesmaids, all princesses of the royal houses of Europe.

Outside the church Spanish royalists shouted "long live the king" as the couple bowed under the swords.

FINANCED TRIPS FOR VACATIONS BY GAMBLING

Jack Riggs Admits Being Bookmaker

TORONTO (CP)—Jack Riggs, who described himself as a $100-a-week potato chip salesman, said today he financed trips to Florida with the proceeds of gambling.

Riggs told the Ontario royal commission on crime that he was an associate of Joseph Morrelli and Vincent Feeley at the now-defunct Veterans' Club at Cooksville and said he has been a bookmaker on his own for the last 10 years or so.

At last Friday the morning recess, evidence dealing with his bookmaking activities was cut off when he said the examination would be "unfair" to himself and other men awaiting trial at Oshawa on charges of conspiracy to run a gaming house.

When the session reconvened, Mr. Justice W. D. Roach closed the hearings to allow Riggs to continue his testimony in camera.

Stanton Hogg, associate counsel for the Liberal party, suggested during the examination that gamblers Max Bluestein of Toronto and John

Diefenbaker, Pearson Again In Quebec Wooing Votes

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Prime Minister Diefenbaker and Leader Pearson, refreshed by a brief Sunday pause at home, planned a fresh test today of their bilingual campaigning in Quebec.

For the second Monday in a row a Quebec leader was due to tackle Nicolet, Sorel and St. Hyacinthe—scarred the week's beginning for the Conservative leader. A flight back in Ottawa from Lethbridge, Alta., Saturday rounded out last week's 7,000 miles of travelling around the hustings.

In the case of the Liberal chieftain, who flies to Montreal it was a matter of resuming where he left off. He launched his Quebec province campaign Saturday in the Eastern Townships with a promise of a "new partnership" for English- and French-speaking Canadians.

It was to where the Romanian and Ukrainian origin that New Democratic Party leader T. C. Douglas appealed during weekend campaigning in his home constituency. He was to have spent Sunday night in Calgary and was to speak tonight in Cranbrook, B.C.

A wee bit of Scotland was included in the Tory leader's weekend with announcement of the adoption of a Thomas tartan for the province of Quebec by Robert Thompson in Hamilton. He was to wind the tartan-clad tricots of Rouyn - Noranda in northeastern Quebec and Kirkland Lake in Ontario today.

Mr. Pearson, only party leader with a bilingual campaign program on the hustings, stopped frequently to make brief speeches, mainly in French, during a drive through the Eastern Townships.

At a combination political meeting and Saturday night hop at St. Johns, Que., he said Quebec wants more than the symbols of power. Canadians want to display Canada's unity.

"People are more concerned with action than with talk. Above all they are more conscious about the realities behind the symbols."

Mr. Pearson took time in Granby to attend a civic reception and visit an old folks' home for a chat with 103-year-old Susan Black—the oldest Liberal supporter he knows of.

Least 19 made public speeches during the weekend.

External Affairs Minister Green declared in Chilliwack, B.C., that the Liberals are "shouting like rain but what Quebec province running-dog would they have us throw out?" The "Pearson team" ought to be called the "Pearson Commu-nists."

Solicitor - General Browne, speaking in St. Johns, Nfld., said the great issue of the June 18 election is whether it is permission of the records of the Conservative government and its Liberal predecessor.

Health matters were discussed by Health Minister Halpenny at Val d'Or, Que., by Real Caouette, deputy Social Credit leader in Ottawa. His party would provide each family in Canada with a $50 grant annually for the purpose of paying hospital insurance premiums.

"Under our administration Canadians pay to corporations free to make their own arrangements for medical care through insurance companies of their choice. . . . As it is now the government decides."

Hazen Argue, NDP member of the Saskatchewan legislature for Rosetown-Biggar, charged that the national Liberal party has written down its medical care proposals to deterence to private insurance companies operating private plans.

Kennedy met with his top military and diplomatic advisers Sunday for 70 minutes, his third conference on the Laotian situation in three days. At the meeting were Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, and others.

Undersecretary of State George W. Ball left the conference to appear on a television interview during which he said the U.S. would intervene if possible if the Soviet Union intervenes.

ASKS FOR FULL-BACK

Ball said the United States would be willing to have the pro-Communist Pathet Lao guerrillas pulled back to the Laotian capital of Vientiane. The retoration of the cease-fire would lead to revival of negotiations for a coalition government in Laos. Ball made clear that is the immediate U.S. objective.

Deputy Foreign Minister Yakov Kuznetsov of the Soviet Union is expected to confer with British Ambassador Sir Frank Roberts in Moscow today on what the Kremlin still wants from a settlement.

Ball said he was not certain by any means that it was the Soviet Union which "called off the shots" when the Pathet Lao launched their attack on the Laotian town of Nam Tha, capturing it from royal Laotian

All three parties have candidates in Hastings-Frontenac, the 9,000-square-mile riding where Marmora is one of the main centres.

Said Mr. Page, who is a Social Democrat: "As far as I am concerned this riding has been made for gerald by the Conservatives and Liberals."

But Mr. Johnston said: "I'm pleased about Johnson's decision."

Mr. Johnston, 58, has been a lifelong Liberal and was vice-president of the Liberal Association, he said, for a number of years before becoming president last fall.

$12,000 Blaze In Snackbar On Dundas St.

Early this morning the Belleville fire department was called to 52 East Dundas Street, where a fire was doing damage of $12,000 damage to a snackbar and restaurant, operated by P. Zagaroulis.

The blaze was discovered shortly after 3.00 this morning and firemen were able to control the blaze in 45 minutes.

Cause of the fire is as yet undiscovered, and is presently under investigation by the fire marshal's office.

Fire Chief Gerald Vance said the premises contained a large quantity of stock which was severely damaged.

No one was in the building at the time. The upstairs apartment was vacant as it was being redecorated.

Fire fighters from both stations attended, the blaze and were assisted by the police force until around 4.00 a.m., watching the smouldering ruins.

Chief Vance said the front part was not destroyed, the interior was badly damaged.

Fire Chief Vance said it was an accidental fire and he was at a loss as to the cause.

Mr. Zagoulis is an employee of Lobbezoo's store on Pinnacle Street. This has been the first major fire in the city since January, when a fire destroyed nearly half a business block on Bridge Street East.

A quiet weekend was reported by the Ontario Provincial Police officers and the city police department.

Beagle Club Holds Second Field Trial

The Quinte District Beagle Club's second field trial was held Saturday and 20 dogs entered in the successful event. Dry running grounds, which make a grueling test for the dogs, failed to mar the event as the competitors found a challenge to a swampland area and a fine trial was enjoyed by the club's 50 persons present.

The 13-inch class was run in the morning and the dog of R. Wilcox of Cobourg took the class championship. Other top dogs in successful events were tied by Bill Peebles of Foxboro and Wilson and Nelson Hammond of Trenton. The reserve prize was won by another of Mr. Wilcox's dogs.

In the afternoon the 15-inch class championship was won by the entry of Jim Carruthers of Cobourg's following by the entries of Dan Bremott of Belleville, R. Timmerman of Kingston and Ted Locke of Bellevillle. The reserve prize went to Bill Peebles of Foxboro.

Tuesday evening the club will be providing a guest speaker for said film in the Fish and Game Club meeting at the Club Casara.

Rhodesian Police Charge Negro Strikers

SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia (Reuter) — Police with clubs and shields charged a crowd of Negro strikers and in another incident used tear-gas during a 24-hour strike called by the Southern Rhodesia African Trade Unions Congress.

The crowd quickly sized a truck driven by a white man in the shopping centre. Two Rhodesian television cameramen were also stoned, but they escaped unhurt.

Tear-gas was used by police to disperse Negro workers, but no arrests were made.

A. B. Abrahamson, Southern Rhodesia's labor minister, said final reports showed the strike was about 40 per cent successful.

The strike followed series of meetings in Negro townships Sunday at which Dr. Nkomo president, T. Masuku, said the strike would be "a warning shot to the government and employers." Other action would follow if it was ignored, he said.

Dr. P. Jewett, Robert Nixon, Address Rally

TRENTON — Some 400 persons attended a Liberal rally held in the Saturday night Trenton Memorial Community Centre. Fairlie Jewett, Liberal candidate for Hastings South, started with becoming introductory while campaign manager WM Hamilton read the opening paper from a hand-around pamphlet, highlighting the career of the party. Liberal heads consider her "the brilliant young candidate" and Hamilton described her outstanding authority on political matters, and "one of the best of the brightest stars in the Liberal party."

Dr. Jewett captivated the audience as soon as she got on the platform.

"That flattering introduction was enough to make any candidate proud of his party," she said, "but I must tell you about my personal reactions which brought me down to earth. I had just left the kitchen sink with the lady of the house for a moment; learned that she was a Liberal and then I heard the phone: "who's our candidate?"

"I told her, 'Well, I am.'"

"You are?" she asked, then added, 'Well, I'll get elected on what name will they send to Ottawa, Mrs. Jewett or you?'"

WILL RECEIVED

Dr. Jewett said that she had been encouraged by the considerable reception accorded her in the county and that she thought it augured well for the Liberal chances in the forthcoming federal election. She went on to say, "I will get elected on my own merits" and listed the important features in the Conservative Government's record during the past five years. She said that Canada's deficit was mounting, that it had got out of control, where the country was losing money at the rate of a million dollars a day.

Dr. Jewett said that a Liberal government would have no "deficit or two," but that money would be found for jobs and employment, "and it wouldn't have been frittered away on Bobby Baker, or the revival scare or whatever it's called."

The Liberal government, she said, would have made it possible for municipalities and industry to invest in the factories by making loans available at a lower rate of interest.

The Conservative government seeing the Diefen Jack all the time, turned its back on free trade with Britain," she said. "Then British turned towards the European Common Market and all the Conservative government contributed is carping criticism."

R. NIXON SPEAKS

Mr. Robert Nixon, MPA for the riding of Brant, had more to say about the record of the Conservative government.

Mr. Nixon, who said he was "steeped in politics like a cold tea bag left in the pot over the weekend," is the son of Harry Nixon, former Liberal premier of Ontario.

Mr. Nixon said that "Mr. Diefenbaker's pegged dollar—the Diefendollar" would have the end result of increasing the price of farm machinery.

Finally, said Mr. Nixon, the Conservative government had offered tobacco farmers in Southern Ontario a multi-million dollar "bribe" to assist them in their economic difficulties. In making this "deathbed repentance," said Mr. Nixon, the Conservatives were underestimating the intelligence of the electors.

As to the government's 1961 wheat sales to communist countries Mr. Nixon said that had emptied the western farmers' granaries, he said that he was "willing to give credit where credit was due."

But," said Mr. Nixon, "certainly the Conservatives have got to take credit for the fact the 500 million starving communist Chinese were willing to sell their souls for something to eat."

Mr. Nixon said that there were great days ahead for the Liberals, but he added a note of warning, "the Conservatives can afford to lose a lot of supporters and still win the election. Don't be overconfident."

Bullet Enters Abdomen of John Young

TRENTON — Hospital authorities at Trenton today report that John Arnold Young, 20, of 30 Hectric St., is in satisfactory condition, following an accident in his home on Saturday.

Police say that Mr. Young was cleaning a rifle in his home with a rifle in his hand, when the weapon discharged. A bullet entered Mr. Young's abdomen and lodged in his hip. He was taken to the Trenton hospital by ambulance, where the bullet was removed and further treatment performed.

Mr. Young told police that he was resting the gun down from a bedroom to clean it in the backyard. The gun caught on a protruding nail in the stairway and in trying to free it, Mr. Young pulled the trigger discharged it.

He told police that he thought the gun was empty, Mr. Young is married and the father of a small child. He is employed by the Canada Crushed Cement Company at Trenton.

U.S. Urges Pact To Ban Weapons In Outer Space

GENEVA (AP)—The United States urged disarmament talks negotiations for a treaty to prohibit the use of outer space for military purposes.

U.S. delegate Charles Stelle told the 17-nation disarmament conference. There was no immediate reaction from Soviet delegate Valerian Zorin. However, the Soviets have long called for a treaty against similar U.S. proposals during the last two years.

Stelle, sitting in for U.S. Ambassador Arthur Dean, suggested that the conference draft a treaty prohibiting any weapons of mass destruction in outer space, combined with necessary international control measures. He said this could form part of a general world disarmament treaty, but that it could come into force before the complex general treaty has been fully negotiated.

Barring the military development of outer space is "one of the most challenging opportunities" of the conference, Stelle said. He drew a parallel with the 1959 Washington Treaty banning the use of Antarctica for military purposes, and said outer space could be permanently demilitarized in the same way.

Moslem Suburb Under Attack By Secret Army

ALGIERS (AP) — A heavily-armed Secret Army commando group hammered bullets into a crowded Moslem suburban community for 12 minutes today, leaving an unknown number of victims.

The Europeans used a variety of automatic weapons and fired steadily, pausing only to reload bullet-clips on the fired pistol.

The commandos shot from the roof of a new European apartment building and then drove them a clear field of fire into the Moslem suburb of Belcourt, a squalor and tin shantytown populated by brush fascists.

The attackers quickly pasted up their weapons and disappeared. Then the Moslems, wild with fury and exoitement, rushed ground tending to the casualties.

Police had no idea of the number of victims because the Moslems take care of their own dead and wounded in their own quarters. However, civilians who heard the firing said there must have been many casualties.

'Team Work Approach to Illness, And Rehabilitation' Topic at B.G.H. Career Day Fair

By MRS. M. B. WEESE

Closing National Hospital Week in which a silent, yet invisible industry is lead to the birth on May 12th, 1820, of the saintéd nurse, Florence Nightingale who, through her courage, sacrifice and sacrificial death, laid the foundation for a new era in nursing, at the "Career Fair" held in the Education Hall at the Bellwood Park Orphanage on Saturday afternoon, which proved most original and informative.

This was the second year the Hospital Board has sponsored the "Career Fair" and the attendance was evidence of the particular interest of parents, students and leading educators, both scientific and professional. The nursing profession was not unduly glorified but the modern image for a career was given practical information and treated advice.

LUNCHEON ENJOYED

The official opening of the "Fair" was preceded by a luncheon given by the Board of Governors with the "In-Hospital Volunteers" and members of the Women's Hospital Auxiliary as guests. This was held in the beautiful modern auditorium with its huge windows overlooking the shrubbery. The head table was centered with red and white carnations and seated there were Mrs. Ian McCrae, chairman of public relations, and Mrs. McGuire, Mrs. J. E. Marsh (Warden H.) Varty and Mrs. Varty, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Buchan, Mrs. F. L. Wood, president of the Women's Hospital Auxiliary; Mrs. Fred Beeby; Mrs. Gordon Hall, hospital superintendent; Mr. George Wishart, member of the Board of Governors, and Miss A. E. Macewen, the guest speaker.

Mrs. Percy McGeorge presided and Mrs. Marsh led in prayer. Warden Varty proposed a toast to the Queen and Mrs. Fred, president of the Auxiliary, expressed appreciation to Mrs. Buchan and presented her with a corsage. The ladies of the Auxiliary were introduced and Mrs. Buchan, director of volunteers, presented them with their pins. Mr. Deechael also expressed appreciation.

After introducing the guest speaker, Mr. Buchan stated that Miss MacEwen was born in Montreal and had graduated B.A. at Bishop's University in Lennoxville, and her M.A. at McGill University, Montreal. She is now Director of Social Work at Belleville. She spoke on the subject "Team work approach to illness and rehabilitation" and stated that this concept of body and mind is the most difficult to nurse and that team approach — the working together of doctor, doctor and nurses is necessary. Patient and family emotional reaction must enter the treatment plan and the social worker's job is to help patients, families or members of families, to discuss their feelings and to help them to work towards a goal which is realistic and satisfactory. Each team member must do his part.

TEAM WORK

Team work consists of different branches — doctors, therapists, physiotherapists, as no one is compelled to bring relief and help, all must work together as a group of professional personnel. This treatment requires much thought and patience by the social worker.

And the theme "was thanked by Mr. George Wishart.

A brief outline of the "In Volunteer" services was given as follows: serve on information desk; out patient hostesses; wedding gown service; hair dressing appointments; patients library; hospital guided volunteer typists and assisting in records (for juniors).

Names of "In Hospital Volunteers" who received their pins are as follows. Mrs. James Allen, Mrs. Ann Powell, Mrs. Jean McQuaid, Mrs. R. A. Dunscombe, Mrs. R. McDonald, Mrs. B. E. Burley, Miss Ann Middleton, Miss Gloria Noyes, Miss Marion Pringle, Miss Linda Thomson, Miss Beryl Campbell, Mrs. E. E. Hall, Arthur Barnes, Miss Olive Delaney, Mrs. William Lockyer, Mrs. W. J. Musgrove and Mrs. J. E. McFarlane.

The various "Career Fair" booths had many fine displays. The first was a large neatly arranged display and outline of a nurse, her studies and activities from her entrance to her graduation. On the wall behind was arranged the various caps and uniforms worn with each; completion of studies and also a large book of the "Life in Training". Literature and information was given out to nurses at this booth.

The medical booth was in charge of Dr. Douglas. Dr. McSherry and Dr. Birchard, who as recreative aid to the medical staff answered questions re medicine as a career.

The Women's Hospital Auxiliary booth was in charge of Mrs. Fred Beeby, assisted by Mrs. R. N. Smith (books), Miss Gladys Hall (cards), Mrs. Allcore (puppets; Mrs. C. Campbell (Opportunity Shop); and Mrs. Ralph Hall (Gift Shop).

Dietetics booth was in charge of Miss Janet Weese (Dietitian) assisted by Mrs. Gordon Ewen, the guest speaker.

Occupational therapy, physiotherapy and rehabilitation with Mr. Leo Fortin, pharmacist, all had booths. Other courses open were in lab technology, medical records, library, X-ray technology and medical photography.

There was a booth in the hospital setting and with separate departments. In connection with the crowded conditions a film was shown revealing the difficulties in these overcrowded buildings and perhaps an outpatient home.

The four of these booths were much enjoyed and an impromptu lunch was served by Miss Shirley Kelleher and valuable information was given.

The afternoon session at 3 o'clock closed with the serving of tea in charge of Mrs. R. Keerbs and Mrs. J. B. Casey with beautiful volunteers serving.

Ladies assisting were Mrs. Ward Varty; Mrs. F. C. McGuire; Mrs. W. H. Finkle; Mrs. W. Deechael; Mrs. G. Archie. Ladies assisting were: Mrs. W. G. Harvey; Mrs. H. Bradshaw; Mrs. J. W. Johnston; Mrs. Ann Cavers; Mrs. R. O. Clark; Mrs. C. McFarlane; Mrs. R. A. Dunscombe; Mrs. Jean Bell and Mrs. T. Phaedias.

Thus another National Hospital Day has passed and for those attending it has meant a renewed vision of all that is required in the training and knowledge of all who seek a "Career in our hospitals".

Mentally Retarded Infants At Plainfield Home Now Have New Wing Addition

MILESTONE FOR RETARDED INFANTS' HOME

—The new south wing of the home for mentally retarded Infants at Plainfield was opened this past Saturday by Arthur Duncan in the absence of Senator Hugh Roberteon. Shown in the picture above are (left to right): Oriel Griffiths, president of the board of governors; Mr. Duncan; Mrs. Leonora Velleman, superintendent of nurses; Mr. Leonard Velleman, executive director.

Close to 50 people were present to witness the official opening of the new wing of the Ontario Home for Mentally Retarded Infants at Plainfield Saturday afternoon. Arthur Duncan, of Salsaw, cut the ribbon to officially open the new wing.

In his remarks Mr. Duncan commented that he felt it was especially appropriate that the opening was so close to Mother's Day, as it was so evident that the children at the home were receiving the same kind of love and care from the staff as any child would receive at home from his own mother.

The speaker suggested that there was a very great need for research into the disease and maladies which afflicted these children as well as to care for them. Money spent on less humanitarian objects might well be diverted to assist mankind in research which would bring about the cure and prevention of such afflictions in future generations, he advised.

The new wing provides 7 new quarters which feature isolation care, oxygen treatment, a diet kitchen, nursery room and a playroom for the children. Modern, fl. courtesies significantly towards relieving the overcrowded conditions which were experienced in the old quarters. There are still to be used, of course, and now allows the 52 patients to be comfortably accommodated.

The home commenced operation 21 years ago. It was founded by Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Velleman, who continue to serve as executive director and superintendent of nurses, respectively.

Originally set up as a sanctuary home the Plainfield Institution has developed into a well-equipped hospital with a staff of 32 members. Its patients are both severely mentally retarded and have a physical disability also and the home has developed to meet their needs as effectively as possible.

Following the opening ceremonies the guests had the opportunity to view the new wing's facilities at close hand and to visit with the staff and children.

10th Explosion Is Set Off In Pacific

WASHINGTON (AP) — Glenn T. Seaborg, chairman of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission, says indications are that the 10th blast in the series for the information it sought in the current series of nuclear tests in the skies over the Pacific.

Except for the remark Seaborg was as tight-lipped today as on a recorded television interview with Senator Kenneth Keating (Rep., N.Y.) as the government has been in announcing the firing of the tests.

The 10th Pacific explosion was announced Saturday. It was described as an air drop from a balloon. It was preceded by a blast equivalent to 20,000 to 1,000,000 tons of TNT. The government also announced an underground test of intermediate yield at the Nevada testing ground, the 32nd in that series.

FINANCED TRIPS

(The Enforcer). Papello of Hamilton had moved in on the McDermott - Feeley operation at Cobourg.

Riggs said he had never heard anything about these two bowling and also said he had never heard any discussion of Feeley and Feeley bringing in racketeers from Detroit to "deal with" Papello.

Riggs colleagued briefly during his opening testimony Monday and said he has made about five trips to Florida since he took up employment with a potato chip maker, described as the Joseph Price firm, in 1950. He said on one occasion he drove to Florida with a Mr. Joyce Miller and stayed three or four weeks with expenses running at around $60 a day.

Under examination about his finances, in 1958, he said that the cash price of a new Cadillac was about four - fifth of his potato chip salary for the year but said he had also made some money in stock transactions, which he had reported to the income tax department.

Riggs was indefinite as to his duties with the potato chip firm, saying that they consisted mainly in calling on prospective customers. However, he could not provide the names of any customers he had called on in the last year.

He had a desk in the Price firm's office and said he usually went to the office ever day, although he had no specific times for checking in or out.

Riggs explained he took the stand Friday to tell of his part in the handling of a $1,000 roll which Deputy Ontario Police Commissioner James Bariett said he found in a drawer put at his home in 1957 — supposedly from McDermott and Feeley — started him towards the gamblers through intermediaries.

Questioning of Riggs—who told of eventually passing the money on to another Cobourg hoodlum dead — switched to his own gambling activities. He said he had of bankrolling games at the Cobourg club and owning a small piece of the McDermott-Feeley Jordan club here.

On Friday, he said, he never had cleared enough from these games to report in income tax returns.

"Where did the money come from to finance trips to Florida?" Mr. Hogg asked today.

"From gambling," the salesman-gambler replied.

"Only gambling, you lost money?" he was asked.

"I lost and won but never wound up with any," he said.

When he went to Florida, he said he "usually broke even or won."

Under further questioning, he said he had been taking bets as a bookmaker for about 10 years, and that before the examination switched to this point that he objected on the ground it could affect the Oshawa prosecutions could be affected.

It Ain't Necessarily So

Russian commissar Ghermann Titov, visiting the U.S., recently told a press conference that he saw no God or angels in space, during his 17 orbits around the earth.

This statement was contained in an Associated Press story received in this office and by other newspapers on the same wire.

At the best, this observation, appears in execrable taste; at the worst, it seems to be a display of amazing stupidity.

The Oshawa Times, bearing an editorial on this despatch, seems to us to have been extraordinarily kind when it merely termed Titov's remark "flippant and naive."

It so happens, however, that we read a fuller report from another source. Titov's remark was made in answer to a question. The question was whether his trip into space had caused him to revise his atheistic beliefs.

This changes the whole picture. The question was stupid; Titov's remark, far from revealing ignorance, is a well-merited rebuff to any person who would suggest that a purely physical experience could ever be a sound basis for altering spiritual or philosophical views.

Of itself, this incident would hardly be worthy of comment. And any person who almost daily bases articles of opinion on necessarily abbreviated reports cannot help, if he is conscientious, being plagued with a constant fear that he will, like the writer of the Oshawa Times editorial, misrepresent circumstances through lack of complete information concerning what is said, or done.

This danger is ever present. The Titov remark is no isolated example. For instance, at present communists critical of the British health insurance scheme are being based on a remark made by a member of the House of Lords, concerning a shortage of doctors, with the resulting difficulties in providing adequate service. It is being concluded that this shortage is the result of doctors' dislike for the plan. But the reference in the House of Lords was to a decision made some years ago to reduce the facilities for training new doctors. This decision had nothing whatever to do with the health scheme itself—it was a miscalculation, the same kind of a miscalculation which any government which assumed the responsibility for meeting the costs of maintaining institutions for preparing young people for the professions might make, no matter what kind of conditions might govern the graduates' future practise of these professions.

This editorial is written primarily to call the attention of our readers to the fact that printed words possessed no magic quality which automatically makes everything printed true. One would not suppose that we would have to issue such a reminder, but it is amazing how many people accept as gospel anything which is published in a newspaper. No higher compliment could be paid to newspapermen. But it would be even less deserved than it is if we did not remind our trusting readers that "it ain't necessarily so."

College's Responsibility

Dr. Robert F. Gobeen, president of Princeton, thinks that "a college as an educational institution has always had the responsibility for the moral development and life of its students."

He was commenting on the dictum of Vassar College president Miss Sarah Gibson Blanding against premarital sex relations and excessive drinking.

In the sense that colleges have the right, and the duty, of endeavoring to instruct their students to follow the path of righteousness, Dr. Gobeen's remark is hardly open to debate.

But once this effort has been made, is the responsibility fulfilled, even if the desired effects are not produced?

Private institutions, of course, have a right to set whatever standards they choose for their students. But state-supported institutions, it seems to us, are treading on dangerous grounds if they follow a similar course. Providing the student believes properly in class, all that colleges are entitled to require is that he or she obeys the law of the state. To require more would be for the college to set itself up as a better judge than the state legislative body. By the time a man or woman reaches college age, he or she should not be forced to conform to any standards, except those legally established by the student's duly elected peers.

Would License Parents

Oshawa Times

Dr. K. S. Bernhardt, director of the School of Child Welfare at the University of Toronto, has put forward a plan to control at a sensitive subject this year in the first issue of the Provincial Bulletin issued by the Department of Children held in Toronto. He suggests that parents be required to prove they could maintain a minimum standard of child welfare before they were allowed to rear families, and said, "We license people to hunt and fish, and we certify teachers, but we say nothing about the parents' qualifications as parenthood."

Dr. Bernhardt can only concerned with the children, and what happens to them as they grow up, especially if they have exposed birth control to prevent the birth of children to certain kinds of people. "Insanity, epilepsy, paresis," we believe they're called in the social worker's jargon.

Shapely Blonde Strolls Streets In a Bikini

PETERSBOROUGH (CP)—The desk sergeant sighed and said yes, it was probably a publicity stunt—but it brightened up the drab old police station for awhile.

The occasion was the street Friday of a shapely blonde found strolling down busy George Street in a bikini. She was wearing a short jacket over the abbreviated suit, but flapped in the light breeze.

The girl said she was Paula Ann Gordon and claimed she was a magazine pin-up girl.

"People complained to us but we let her go when we satisfied ourselves her dress was not indecent," said Police Chief Jack Skrobo.

The girl left the station and walked off into the crowds, who before long had gathered this time.

The jacket was tightly buttoned.

Death Penalty For Offences Of Sabotage

CAPE TOWN (Reuters)—The South African government has proposed the death penalty for a sweeping number of offences classified as "sabotage."

Even certain types of trespassing would be punishable by death under new bill, introduced Friday in Parliament Friday and published during the week-end.

The minimum sentence for "sabotage would be a five-year prison term. The bill makes sabotage subject to the same penalties as treason.

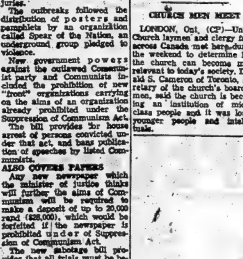
The General Law Amendment Bill, as it is called, describes "sabotage" for the first time. The definition ranges over a wide field and an accused person must prove the alleged offence was not calculated.

Stern government measures have been widely predicted since the a series of bomb explosions and arson attempts last December.

Six home-made bombs were exploded at electrical substations and local administrative buildings in Negro township near Port Elizabeth but caused little damage and no injuries.

The outbreaks followed the distribution of posters and pamphlets by an organization called Spear of the Nation, an underground group pledged to violence.

New government powers against the outlawed Communist party and Communists include the prohibition of new "front" organizations carrying on the aims of an organization already prohibited under the Suppression of Communism Act.



The bill provides for house arrest of persons convicted under that act, and bans publication of speeches by listed Communists.

ALSO COVERS PAPERS

Any new newspaper which the minister of justice thinks will further the aims of Communism will be required to make a deposit of up to 20,000 rand (£28,000), which would be forfeited if the newspaper is prohibited under the Suppression of Communism Act.

The new sabotage bill provides that all trials must be before a judge of the Supreme Court without a jury unless the attorney-general orders otherwise. The trial must be held summarily without a preliminary court examination. The Attorney-general must give written consent to trial for sabotage.

The court is specifically excluded from exercising leniency to juveniles as allowed under the criminal procedure act. Suspended sentences also are forbidden.

Argentine Army Considers Self at War With Opponents

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—When Prince Philip was in Argentina late in March, he may have touched a raw nerve in the army.

It happened just before the Argentine President Frondizi met the chief of staff to talk on the latest crisis.

Philip, chatting with a high-ranking Argentine general, asked: "Well, have you ever been in a war?"

The general shrugged spokenly, explaining Argentina has had no war since the one with Paraguay almost a century ago.

"Well," Philip is quoted as saying wryly, "I hope you're not going to start one here."

Argentina's army has had little to do—except for politicking—all those intervening years. Today it has found a way to fight. It considers itself at war against internal enemies. It sees these enemies as trying to reduce Argentina to chaos and then to pick up the pieces. The trouble is, the army itself also is having its own internal war.

IN MUCH CONFUSION

Much of the confusion swirling about the murky maze of Argentine politics comes from the fact the army is like no other army in the world. When regardless of who the Army, they mean the high command and senior officers. It seems less a military establishment than a select club of uniformed veterans whose chief purpose in life is to keep the politicians from killing each other.

The current crisis is only beginning. There is widespread fear among those who realize that another military showdown may be near, engendered by the military own internal squabbles and by pressures on it from outside—the navy, the air force, the industrial left, the gathering economic storm.

There are two military groups. Both are anti-Communist. Both oppose the return of dictator Juan Peron to power. Both claim to yearn for a constitutional atmosphere in government.

There is conflict, too, between army and navy.

DISLIKE FRONDIZI

There are things the military is united about. It regards the elected president, Frondizi, as a Machiavellian schemer. It points to his early Marxist background and suspects him of plotting for a Marxist state.

Frondizi, in turn, suspects this, however, in the streets of Buenos Aires. The visitor gets the distinct impression that the general public displays enormous apathy about the whole thing.

CHURCH MEN MEET

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—United Church laymen and clergy from across Canada met here during the weekend to determine how the church can become more relevant to today's society. Donald S. Cameron of Toronto, secretary of the church's board of evangelism, said the church is becoming an institution of middle class people and it was losing younger people and intellectuals.

Income Tax Explained

Written for The Intelligencer by a Chartered Accountant

The taxpayer who is not in a position to employ the services of a professional accountant, or visit an Income Tax Office,

By C. A. MILLER

Formerly Deputy Minister of Income Tax Department

Former members of the armed forces, when filing their first return of income for tax purposes, are usually all inclined to make the same error. They will claim full exemption for the entire year and in some cases report their income received while they were in the armed services.

Armed forces income should never be reported on an income tax return, unless such income was from a reserve unit. If the taxpayer is a civilian and turns out a night or so week with a reserve unit, then this income should be reported as the department of national defence will issue him a T4 slip.

When a taxpayer is a member of the permanent forces, his income tax, if any, is withheld in full each pay day and it is not necessary to worry any in this the first year he becomes a civilian. Discharged members of the permanent forces will in the year of discharge report only the income they received after their return to civil life.

As the reservist income only reports his civilian income, he may only have exemptions applicable to that period. The taxpayer was a single man and a civilian for half the year, would compute his exemption by dividing the $1,000 by 365 days and multiplying the result by 180 days.

This will give him his allowable exemption for that portion of the year he was not in the service. If the standard deduction of $100 is claimed, the allowable portion of it is computed in the same way. You should remember that the permanent forces do not issue T4 slips but the reserve forces do, so if you receive a T4 slip the income shown thereon is taxable and must be reported.

• • •

Question: I was discharged from the RCAF in May and immediately went to work. The Income Tax Department did not issue me the full $1,000 exemption. Why?

Answer: You may only have exemption for the number of days you were in the RCAF.

• • •

Question: I am a member of a reserve military unit and report for instruction and drill one night per week. Do I pay tax on this income?

Answer: Yes. It is considered earned income.

SHELL MATSU ISLANDS

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP). — The Chinese Communists shelled the Matsu Islands Sunday for the first time in almost 18 months, the nationalist defense ministry reported. The ministry said the Communists fired 22 rounds at the little islands at the northern end of the Formosa Strait.

31 Members Seamen's Union Are Arrested

TROIS-RIVIERES, Que. (CP) Thirty-one members of the Seafarers' International Union (Intl.) were arrested on charges of intimidation Saturday at a police crackdown on the waterfront here.

The men were hauled off in vans and in the dock area alleged by this St. Lawrence River community by 85 police constables in Dardenne, president of Trois-Rivieres Grain Elevators Limited.

He said "all authority is being flouted" by the SIU in a dispute between the Canada Cartier and Lakes Shipping Limited.

Trial on charges for intervention were sent to Prime Minister Diefenbaker, Labor Minister Starr, Transport Minister Balcer, Premier Jean Lesage and Justice Minister Rene Hamel of Quebec as well as the provincial police.

Four provincial policemen participated in the waterfront raid, along with a contingent of 25 municipal police.

SAM FEUDED

The SIU has been feuding with the shipping company since the recently-formed Canadian Maritime Union, (CLC) won bargaining rights for seamen employed by the carrier.

Mr. Davidson's elevator had been picketed by the SIU in protest servicing of vessels operated by the shipping company.

Last week the carrier obtained an injunction prohibiting picketing of company vessels in Quebec province.

In his telegrams, Mr. Davidson said his employees were unable to go to work without worrying about "those at home who will be next to be beaten or even killed."

He said thugs using baseball bats have already beaten one man and the man's wife in their own home.

Believe Elderly Man Bludgeoned To Death

PORT ARTHUR (CP) — An autopsy on the body of Matti Lamnela, 82, has disclosed the man died of bladder cancer in the bedroom of his isolated home in Ware Township, near Port Arthur, provincial police said Sunday.

The man's blood-covered body was found Saturday on the floor of his bedroom when police were conducting a routine missing persons investigation. He had not been seen since April 12.

Police said they had a "slight blunt instrument, probably used as a weapon in the slaying."

No arrests had been made in the case, they said.

ALL-TIME RECORD — Canada's cost-of-living index hit an all-time high April 1 when it rose to 130.3 from 129.7 a month earlier. Increase was due primarily to a rise in the price of food and health care costs.

Car Mishap Turned 'Loser' Into Second U.S. Astronaut

NEW YORK (AP)—Malcolm Scott Carpenter, scheduled to attempt this Saturday to become the second U.S. astronaut to orbit the earth, says that as a youngster he was a "loser" with no sense of responsibility.

Carpenter told a Life magazine interviewer:

"I stole things from stores and I was just drifting through sort of a no-good," he added.

Carpenter was only three years old when his mother, ill with tuberculosis, left her husband in New York and took him to Boulder, Colo., where his father, Victor Noxon, was editor of the Boulder County Miner and Farmer, a weekly newspaper.

After graduating from high school in 1943, Carpenter enlisted in the navy to become a flier. He had logged eight hours flying time as a cadet when the war ended and he went home.

"I had a horrible readjustment period," he said. He flunked out of the University of Colorado, was reinstated and flunked out again.

When he was 20, Carpenter was partying back to Boulder from a late party when he apparently fell asleep and his car slammed into three road posts before landing in a culvert.

He was unconscious for four days and remained in the hospital for two weeks. It was then, Carpenter said, that he determined to turn over a new leaf.

He went back to college, courted and married Rene, his wife, and rejoined the navy.

BELIZE NARCOTICS

CAIRO (Reuters) — The Cairo customs found has seized more than half a ton of narcotics worth $1,400,000 in a battle with smugglers in the Gulf of Suez, according to reports reaching here today. The newspaper Al Ahram said one smuggler was killed and three were arrested.

British Dock Strike Averted By Pay Boost

LONDON (CP) — The settlement that headed off a national dock strike 25 hours before the Sunday midnight deadline is a mixed blessing for the government.

Although a strike would have been a disastrous blow to Britain's economy, the award of an increase of close to four per cent to the 70,000 dockers is a severe jolt to the attempts of Chancellor Selwyn Lloyd to keep incomes down at 2½ per cent.

The decision the government had to make was whether or not a dock strike would do more damage to the economy than would the flaunting of its pay policy.

But, although Labor Minister John Hare is not in most of the negotiations, Lloyd was kept informed and Prime Minister Macmillan cut short a visit to Scotland to return to London. None of them apparently lifted a finger to influence the port employers to hold the wage line as the cost of closing down ports.

EXPECT SIMILAR DEMANDS

Now the government can expect that a number of other unions—particularly those representing the 30,000 men in other jobs connected with shipping—will demand similar treatment.

And the award will provide the ammunition for the growing public campaign on behalf of the nurses, most of whom earn less than $40 a week. They have termed the 3½-per-cent offer an "insult" and their case will come up for debate in the House of Commons.

EIGHT DIE IN CRASH

CAMP PENDLETON, Calif. (AP) — Eight persons were killed and four injured Sunday in a two-car crash on the sprawling marine base. Four of the dead were children. Camp Pendleton is about 30 miles north of San Diego.

Belgians Drink More Beer Than Anyone Else

LONDON (Reuters)—Belgians drink more beer than anyone else—nearly 40 gallons a person each year, a British brewers' society report showed today.

Next are Australians with 32.6 gallons, New Zealand and West Germany with 22.2, and Britain with 19.3.

The United States and Canada are fairly well down on the tippling list. For Canadians the figure is 18.2 gallons and Americans it is 12.5 gallons, the report said.

Watches While Father Killed In Accident

TORONTO (CP) — James Dicks watched Sunday as a man was struck and killed on downtown street — then learned after it was his 87-year-old father.

"I've just seen a terrific accident," he told his story over the telephone, describing to her how a car jumped the curb, struck the man and then crashed into a hardware store.

He broke down when he learned it was his father, George Dicks, who was on his way for a Sunday visit.

The elderly man died with criminal negligence causing death is Jack J. Rowan, 32, driver of the car.

Hunger Strike Has Weakened Dr. B. Moore

LONDON (AP) — Marathon walker Barbara Moore has reported losing strength rapidly today after six days of a hunger strike protesting her imprisonment for contempt of court.

She is "very pale and visibly weaker," Dr. Michael Ashby said reporters after examining her at Whittington Hospital.

He said he had promised that she could not be forcibly fed while under his care. Dr. Moore, who is 34, has said she will feed herself by holding her breath if she is forcibly fed.

"What is important to her medically is not our decision," said a home office spokesman, when asked if the government would order her fed.

Dr. Moore walked across the United States and then from Manchester to London in 1960. Earlier she had walked from Land's End to John O'Groats.

KOWS WITH WEIGHING

Dr. Moore was sent to prison for contempt of court after a row with a court order to remove a garden wall, flower tubs and a police board with which she was using her neighbor's access to his rooms to lobby Tory MPs, it was said.

Passing sentence for contempt of court, the judge asked her to think it over. When she indicated that if she complied with the order, she would be released.

The case will come up in court again Wednesday. Dr. Moore said she had rather go to jail than comply with the order and went on a hunger strike when she entered Holloway Prison, London, on all good and drink. Last Thursday she was moved to the hospital.

PRESIDENT SWORN IN

NEW DELHI (AP) — Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan, one of India's most famous philosophers, was sworn in Sunday as president. Rajendra Prasad, his scholar, took office as vice-president.

BURNER SERVICE:

Can save you as much as 2¢ on every gallon of oil you use

An efficiency-operating heating system can save you as much as 2¢ on every gallon of oil you use. We offer you burner service protection to keep your heating system working at peak efficiency.

Even the busiest family car does not put in as many hours of work in a year as the average heating system. Like a car engine your heating system must be checked regularly, and adjusted when necessary, to keep it using less fuel. Paris will also wear out more quickly.

Our 24 hour burner service guarantees you top performance all winter long. And it saves you money when you buy your winter fuel from every gallon of fuel.

2. By avoiding costly troubles before they become big ones. (A small adjustment or repair now may save you many dollars later).

3. By insuring you against unexpected repair bills—and by keeping your furnace in working order.

Now, with Shell Heating Oil and 24 hour burner service behind together, we can take care of all your heating problems.

Rev. F. Spring opened the service and Mrs. Rev. Murdock of Trenton led in prayer. Rev. H. B. Kelcher led in prayer. The announcements were given by the Pastor. Ushers E. Wright and H. Bebb received the evening offering.

Guest speaker, Evangelist, Rev. H. B. Kelcher of Flintstone, Maryland, U.S.A. brought a challenging message from Rev. 16-16, "Living Your Christian Life, Now in the Light of Eternity".

A time of prayer closed the meeting.

LITTLE MESSENGERS

RAWDON — The first meeting of the Little Messengers of Mount Pleasant-Rawdon United Church was held in the church hall under the direction of the president, Mrs. Garth Joslin. Her assistants are Mrs. James Hoard and Mrs. Clarence Scott.

Other officers are: president, Brenda Campbell; vice - president, Caroline Mumford; secretary, Larry Jeffs; treasurer, Jim Scott; pianists, Jean Jeffs and Donna Knight.

The various plans were discussed for carrying on the meetings in the future. A singsong of hymns and new songs as suggested in new course of study were enjoyed. Mrs. Joslin outlined the study course of "Junior Round-Up," which was based on "The Children of Canada." This study to help juniors gain some idea of the varieties of needs and of the many different types of communities served by the church.

Mrs. James Hoard gave the first chapter of the study, "Timmy's Town," to the primary children.

The worship service opened with quiet music by Jean Jeffs. Brenda Campbell gave the call to worship based on the theme "The Lord Reigns and Let the Earth Rejoice." The children sang "We Love the House of Prayer." Judy McAdam contributed a vocal solo. Brenda Williams read the meditation and Kenneth Couch and Randy Scott gathered the offering which was dedicated with a new hymn. Janet Scott rendered a solo and the meeting closed with prayer by Gordon Hoard.

Weddings

GRACEY — DELANGER

MARMORA — Kesler Hall and white gladioli decorated the altar of Sacred Heart Roman Catholic Church, Marmora, on Saturday, May 5th, for the wedding of Kathleen Marie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Delanger, Marmora, to Brian Gracey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gracey of London, Ontario.

The Rev. W. P. Healey, P.P., performed the ceremony and Rev. Father Delanger, brother of the bride, served at the altar.

Miss Linda Delanger, organist and John Marchen as soloist sang "Ave Maria," "On This Day, O Beautiful Mother" and "Panis Angelicus."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was beautifully gowned in a full-length white satin dress with a round neckline featuring a yoke of iridescent sequins and pearls and long sleeves. The fully pleated skirt was enhanced with a bustle back with chapel length.

A crown of seed pearls held her finger-tip veil of silk illusion and she carried a bouquet of red Sweetheart roses clouded in baby's breath.

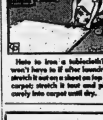
Miss Dianne Delanger was maid of honor for her sister while Miss Ann Marie Delanger and Miss Rosemary Boyd, attended as bridesmaids. The trio wore identical turquoise dresses of full-length chiffon with matching lined. The bodices featured scoop necklines.

They were necklets and earrings of pearls, gifts of the bride and bridegroom. Their headdresses were of turquoise organza with white rose veils, and they carried crescent-shaped bouquets of yellow carnations and mauve with stephanotis.

Little Bobbie Deering, niece of the bride, was demure in white taffeta with white satin bow headdress and carried a nosegay of red and white roses.

The bridegroom was attended by Mr. Charles Bourgeois of London and ushers were Messrs. Gerald Belanger and Fred Gracey Jr., brothers of the bride and bridegroom.

The bridegroom's party were white dinner jackets, with red rose boutonnieres.



The reception was held in the church hall which was decorated with pink and white streamers. The tables carried pink and white carnations and candles. The bride's table was centred with a three-tier wedding cake which was made by her great-aunt, Mrs. William Benbie, of Cobourg, Ontario.

Mrs. Belanger received in a pink dress of beige organza over flowered taffeta with three-quarter coat of same, and accessories in a shade of mauve. Mrs. Gracey was attired in a beige ensemble with brown accessories. Both had corsages of pale bronze roses.

For her honeymoon to Lake Placid, the bride wore a beige wool suit, brown accessories and corsage of red roses. The couple will reside in London, Ont.

Out-of-town guests attended the afternoon and evening at the Relen Club with a buffet supper at the bride's home.

Prior to her wedding, Mrs. John Gracey was honored at a shower by her bridesmaid, Miss Rosemary Boyd, of London, and also by the staff of the London Life Assurance Company, and a shower was also held at her home in Marmora by her girl friends.

Collegiate H.E. Department Stages Forward With Fashion

Last Thursday evening, the Home Economics Department of Belleville Collegiate Institute and Vocational School presented their annual Fashion Show, "Fashion Parade," in the Lady Dorothy Ross Memorial Library. Commentator, with the assistance of Mrs. Lloyd Hall, was fashion consultant, Mrs. Ada Belyea, who skillfully brought out the outstanding features of each ensemble, depicted both past and present styles and were made by the students themselves. The girls modelled by them, and by friends and members of the Board.

Seven - the number - fashion, which added greatly to the gaiety and charm was a prominent part of the woodworking department, under the direction of Mr. Lambert, and finished by the Keystone. The decorations of the hall were planned by the school for Mentally Retarded Children by Tony Parker and Meg Van Alstine.

TWO-PART PRESENTATION

The presentation was in two parts, the first, a group of costumes from the 1900's to the present day, and the second, a smocked dresses held the spotlight. These were the work of students in H.E. II and IIA.

Scene 2 showed school-girls dresses of the 1900's, all modelled made by 10 A, B, H, and sklirts and jackets by 2G, and jumpers by 10C. One jumper displayed was of red, medium-weight wool with skirt having a kilt pleat in the back. This was worn with a white blouse but is equally at home with a dressy blouse or sweater. Other jumpers were in greens and blues. Separate skirts and jackets were shown in brown with pink blouse, very pretty.

Scene III was given over to the favorite "dance" coats which is no nice school for the middle. One shown was fitted to match the wool and accented with brass buttons on jacket and sleeves. A red blazer had white collar, All blazers featured flare patch pockets and bound buttonholes. Sandra Scarr showed a navy with white collar fastened with matching lining and buttons. Green was also shown. Those were the work of Grade 12.

SUMMER DRESSES

Summer dresses were shown in Scene IV, and also yellow flowered blouses, as well as green printed. All were easy to assemble, using only two darts in the sleeved seams. Light green Arnell and cotton was quite attractive, having a scoop neckline and short sleeves. A navy mermaid lent a nice accent, and is perfect dress for summer-on-toponent.

Dress for summer is also holding the spotlight. One in pink, flowered acrel and cotton had fitted bodice with shirred, scalloped lower edge, with pink lining. The bodice featured a shoestring tie, and a pleated cummerbund - accenting the slim waist shown by the skirt. A cheery yellow flowered dress was of rayon acetate in two-piece style, with flared section added on lower edge, and closed with a zipper. The fitted bodice top is also scalloped and the skirt full and gathered at the waist. Green and white checks are also favored in cotton dresses. Those were made by 10 B, C, H, and 2 G.

BLOUSES AND SKIRTS

Separate skirts occupied scene V, and were of many shades, and materials. Some were of cotton, others of wool suitable for tailoring - a season, especially for picnics. Tapered slacks in rust shade, accompanied by any shade blouse. Another ensemble consisted of a blouse, slacks and jacket in denim, a sturdy material for most needs, with matching set in green, with tailored blouse. Grade 10J was responsible for these.

Mr. Mrs. Russell Ruttan Mark 25th Anniversary

On Saturday, May 5th, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Ruttan were honored by their family on the occasion of their silver wedding anniversary. Relatives, home and friends gathered in the evening for a surprise party. They were met at the door by the group singing "Happy Anniversary," and presented with a corsage and white carnation. They were led into the living room, which was decorated with pink and white streamers and a huge bell in the centre.

The address, read by Mrs. Hilda Rivers, stated: "Dear Mary and Russ: We are here together, your children, your mother, sisters and brothers, in honor of your silver wedding anniversary, to congratulate you and to wish you the best and happiest life together.

The balance of the evening was delicious buffet luncheon was served, topped off with a buoyant in dancing after which a tribal pink and white anniversary cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Ruttan were married in St. Gertrude's Church in Forest, in 1937, and have six children, three married and three still at home: Mrs. Michael (Mary) O'Brien, Mrs. Paul (Joan) Milone, Allan, Paul, Jane and Michelle.

Little Black Dress

BY ALICE ALDEN

The "little" black dress is as big as ever in the new season's sartorial scheme. But closely detailed, apparently simple dress of fine black silk has so many uses.

As Ben Reig does it, the dress, while slender, still has many fine details.

This one features pleats. Panels of fine pleats fall lightly below the neckline in front and back, revealing a deep V-bounce of matching fabric as an underskirt.

The pull is of the rich black silk.

For Two Starved Young Couples

by Mary Moore

My daughter-in-law Margy discovered this meal-idea one. She was so pleased and friendly-pleasing she told me about it that I resolved to pass it on to my column-friends.

She and her husband, another couple for dinner and they decided that they simply couldn't bear that the pie (below) will serve six people with nothing left over.

The Casserole of Noodles and Cheese is a glorified version of old familiar macaroni and cheese. Pale as the tender texture is appealing.

cheese and stir. Add onion, parsley and celery and salt (second amount) and pepper. Drain noodles and add to parsley mixture. Turn into greased casserole. Mix crumbs with second amount of cheese and sprinkle over. Dot with butter. Bake 30 minutes at 375 deg. Fahr. or until bubbly and golden. Serves 4 generously.

Margy made this in the morning and put it in the refrigerator before she left for the hospital (where she is a dietitian, you'll recall). When she returned home at 5.30 p.m. she preheated the oven to bake it for dinner at 6.30 p.m. She served it with broccoli and a tossed vegetable salad.

MONDAY

Dinner Menu

Grilled Ground Beef Cakes; Cucumber Relish; Cheese in Tomato Sauce; New Spinach with Lemon Juice and Nutmeg; Apple and Celery Salad with Sesame Mayonnaise; Banana Sundae with Chopped Nuts; Cookies; Coffee.

CASSEROLE OF NOODLES AND CHEESE:

(A one-bob-dish meals could.)

1 tablespoon butter or margarine, 3 tablespoons flour, ¾ teaspoon salt, 1¼ cups milk, 1¼ cups shredded old Cheddar cheese, 1 teaspoon chopped onion, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, 2 tbsp. celery (second amount), 2-3rd teaspoon pepper, ½ of an 8-oz. package broad noodles, ½ cup fine cracker crumbs or bread crumbs or crushed cornflakes, 1 tablespoon butter or margarine (second amount), ¾ cup grated cheese (second amount).

Cook the noodles 15 minutes in plenty of boiling salted water. Make a white sauce by melting the first amount of butter and stirring in the flour, first amount of salt and when blended stir in milk until thick. Add the 1¼ cups shredded old

Films loaned in April totalled 81. Film Council executive met in the library on April 13th. Arrangements were set up to plan a Projectionists' training course for Film Council members. Jim Skillings, National Film Board representative for this area, was present and agreed to conduct a course on Thursday evening, May 17th.

MEETINGS

A committee of the Central Committee and Home and School held a meeting in the library to discuss matters of libraries — particularly in the rural areas. The work-ers of Belleville Council and other county council officials were present at the meeting. The meeting was a very lively and interesting one. Mr. Hoodie, director of Provincial Library Service, is to be invited to attend the county council in May regarding a Hastings County Library. The committee was going to fashion a resolution of opinion from the library boards and, if they are willingness to co-operate with the county if some type of library service is organized.

Women's Institute

MADOC, Ont. — A highlight of the Wednesday night meeting of Marmora branch Women's Institute held at the home of Mrs. Ross Hall was a paper on historical research, by the Rev. Dean Wilson of Trenton and Deseronto.

Pictures were shown of the village when Main Street was a corduroy road. Mrs. Pearce Woollenmills were shown with the orchards bought and village tailors made into men's suits. The bricks for the old Court House came from the Nyrie brick yards just east of town. A picture of a three up team of logs was shown, when the Dave Lumber Co. and Rathbun Lumber brought logs down to Marmora where they were loaded by a hoist onto flat cars for Trenton or on wagon to the Perrett mill. Much more interesting data was given.

The business part of the meeting was arranging for the art and craft show to be held May 25th and 26th in the Town Hall which is in conjunction with the I.O.D.E.

With the occasion being grandmothers' night prize were awarded to the oldest and youngest grandmother, the one with the most grandchildren and the one with the youngest grandchild.

The contest "Creaming Pies" was won by Mrs. H. P. Nagler. There were 16 members and

TIPS FOR YOUNG JOB-HUNTERS

Looking for a part-time job this Summer?

Thousands of other teen-agers have the same idea. As a result, competition for a limited demand and the competition is keen.

When there are many applicants for a single opening, personality and reliability when meeting a prospective employer face to face.

Yes, even a letter can tell worlds about the writer. Those that end up in the wastebasket are usually sloppily written, addressed to the wrong person or are so long and rambling that the reader can hardly wade through them.

When writing about a job, it's important that the letter reach the right person. Instead of addressing it to the "Personnel Director," for example, do a little sleuthing and find out his exact name, so you can spell it correctly. What a job is at stake, such a minor point of courtesy can pay off in a big way.

Of course, if you're answering an ad that gives only a box number, that's the only address needed. The salutation then would be "Gentlemen" or "Gentlemen." The letter, in this case, should be addressed "To whom it may concern."

A letter of application should be typed if you have a typewriter. Use business-size paper, and preferably typewritten and double-spaced so it can be read easily. It should include information about your education, expected salary and any definite or related experience for the job in question. If you have references should be included. The letter should be neat and free of smudges and erasures, even if it has to be rewritten several times. Naturally, your return address should appear in the upper, right-hand corner and on the envelope.

The same sort of direct, businesslike approach also is an asset in a personal interview. Remember that this interview has a brisk schedule. Be on time, and have your credentials with you when you meet. At this time, you might include working hours, rate of pay and school records and letters of reference.

When answering questions, speak up. Look at the interviewer and answer fully. Even if you're nervous, try not to say "er" and "uh" between each sentence. Dress neatly and simply. Avoid a big splash of color and composed in your lap or on the floor. Remember, jet-set or small details make you a job candidate worth considering.

Question: After one has your crystal ware, what are vases, glasses, bowls, etc. for use in a private home. Should the small gold or silver paper marks on the items be removed or left on? — Mrs. H.S., Chicago, Ill.

Answer: The paper marks on the bottoms of these items are stock identifications and should be removed when put to actual use in the home.

Community Church Topic At UCW Meet

The Melrose United Church women met for their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Sherry Denville on May 10, with an attendance of 17.

Mrs. Grant McLaren, the president, conducted the worship service, the theme, "The Church in Its Community." "Our churches are not set on hills but in the midst of the community, we are a part of that community, and we must have love in which to minister and it and to love it".

After singing "Where Cross the Crowded Ways of Life" Mrs. Russell Manchester read the Scripture from Luke 15:3-7 and Luke 19:41-43. She said in part "Let each one of us clear our eyes — let us see in the eye of the mind our community place in which our church is set. Let us try to see it whole. In this place men, women and children live, work, play, learn, love and die. What is the meaning in the midst of this community become a place in which to live?"

After a reading by Mrs. A. Howard, "If Went Sing Snow-ed", Mrs. McLaren read the Bible study on "The Charge of the English Bible.

During the business session, Mrs. Ronald Grabanse and Mrs. George Shaffner were named as two ladies appointed to represent the United Church Women on the Building Committee for the new church.

The national study, which will be held in Mexico, on May 29, was announced and also the provincial study invitation to the ladies to meet with Canadian Mission Study Conference on June 6 at 8 p.m. The treasurer, Mrs. Sherman, gave her report and the meeting closed with singing.

At this time, Mrs. Leslie McLaren presented the program, using the chapter, "Youth In Transition" from the study book. "Do we really know our teenagers? It is very likely that we do not. And yet, in this rapidly changing world, they represent the hope of the future, the Canada of the future. Questions, such as: Are they more or are being adventurous, impulsive and rash. However, a great many are serious minded young persons are security-conscious. They are concerned that they actually were less freedom not more in many ways than their parents. Concerned about the thought of being drafted. Also concerned about the type of life they are going to lead, records and letters of reference.

THE FAMILY COUNCIL

Harry I. — Despite the past, I'd like to invite my brothers to my daughter's wedding.

Molly I. — How can he forget Mischief, after they've treated him like dirt?

Harry I. — Having done my brothers nothing but good all my life, and getting back nothing but evil, I'm about to invite them to my child's wedding and my wife says no.

I came to America from Europe in 1923. Despite the Depression, I got a job and was able to send for one brother in 1934, the other in 1936. My brothers started a textile business and prospered. But in 1940 when I needed a loan of $1,500 to purchase a share in a stationery store, they turned me down. Last year they informed me that since our parents weren't well, each son should contribute $25 a week and that, since we lived nearest, my wife should care for the folks four times a week. We couldn't comply. My parents died. There's been a complete estrangement since then.

But now there's to be a wedding in the family and I'd like my brothers there.

Molly I. — How can Harry be so weak? Where's his pride? If he wants his two rotten brothers at the wedding of the presents, we can get along without their checks.

Those fellows have certainly not acted like brothers. But, and forget 1940, Harry, they were both shovelling in their profits, but when Harry asked one for $1,500 he was told, "No. I just bought a new home and I have no money to lend." Brother No. 2 asked for collateral and security. Well, collateral, Harry couldn't get the loan and he'd be a wonderful chance slip away.

They and their snobbish wives don't have a heart as many other times. He's forgetting that they didn't help him when he was installed as a lodge officer. And lately we're not even on speaking terms. Now, if someone should ask them where they'd be today if Harry hadn't rescued them from the holocaust in Europe. But let's skip them for the wedding.

The Council: Harry's impulse to turn the other cheek doesn't mark him as a weakling, Molly. The Reverend Buckman's idea of the plan who continued saying "good morning" to a neighbour despite the latter's snarl in return. To a questioning friend he explained, "I'm not going to let his manners dictate what mine should be." Harry, he is a boor and he wishes I intend to be a gentleman."

Privately, Harry wishes to operate like a good brother and refuses to stop writing his name merely because he has poor taste in friends. He feels that his brothers' behavior is matter for them and their conscience, not his.

We agree with Harry that his brothers should be asked to come to the joyous celebration, if they decline — well, Molly will be happy, Harry, accept. Harry will be happy, and Molly will be philosophically mellow... we hope.

But, lacking any testimony from the fellow themselves, we wonder how many times in the past almost-20 years Harry has asked the big cools of 1923, 1934, 1936 and 1940. Harry, my boy, count nothing but your blessings, Cheer, Harry. You did a big thing in bringing the family over, rescuing them from disaster. But then what? How much of them do you owe? What limits are there to your claim on them? How much of their lives are their own, to plan and live the way they'd like, without being crazy? We get the impression that you may have hamstrung your self these two brothers, at every chance you get, with reiterations of how much you did for them. Chances are, if they came to the U.S.A. 25 a week and that, since we lived nearest, my wife should care for the folks four times a week. We couldn't comply. But parents died. There's been a complete estrangement since then.

But now there's to be a wedding in the family and I'd like my brothers there.

MISSED SUMMER

The year 1918 was called the year without a summer in Britain, because of continuous frost and snow.

'Hallowell' Sea Cadets Praised at Inspection

PICTON — "I commend you heartily on your wonderful turnout, range and various drills," Sub-Lieut. W.S. Fetherston-Godley, RCNR(R), Inspecting Officer of the Sea Cadets of RCSCC "Hallowell" Division of Picton at the annual inspection in Picton armouries, Thursday night.

However, the inspecting officer said that the Corps members were would benefit by having some kind of swelling, small or large, under their arms, since there is no substitute for practised support once. You have the natural abilities here, he reminded. No one is really a Navy man until he can handle a dinghy or yacht, he said. "Congratulations on how well you have done in sweating", he concluded the inspection. Lieut. Fetherston was attended by Lieut. Cmdr. D. Bowen, Kingston, assisted by Commissioned Officer A. R. Hill, Deseronto, assistant area officer.

The large crowd of spectators watched with pride as the cadets marched past the inspecting officer without a hitch. Smart in the Navy uniform, Bosun's mate the 14-18 year age group, they performed like veterans.

The corps was under the command of Lieut. Fred Rose, with Lieut. Bert Prior, executive officer. Lieut. Hillier was in charge of the Division, Lieut. Doc. Robson, the Band, and Chief Petty Officer Jack Cooper, stores, who also welcomed the visitors and announced the program.

Among awards on display were the replica of the plaque presented by the Women's Division of the Navy League of Canada for the most efficient RCSCC in Canada in 1960, the award won for several proficiency at HMCS Acadia in 1961 and the banner, "work-play-walk", won in 1958 at Acadia.

PARENTS THANKED

Lieut. Cooper pointed out that the Corps has lost a number of cadets through reaching the age limit or army pressures moving away, however, the younger cadets are endeavoring to maintain the high standards which "Hallowell" Corps has reached in past years."

He expressed appreciation to co-operation, the objective of ed by Mrs. Sutton, with their purchasing a dinghy to provide cadets with practical training. In addition, it has been reported the Parents' Association, heard Message from Prime Minister endorsing Navy Week in Canada, was read. As admiral of the RCS Cadet, Mrs. Sutton said, "Training for manhood means upon all that is best in our naval traditions is one of the most effective ways of introducing boys to the realities of adult life. Discipline, responsibility and the encouragement evidence which come from mastering the basic principles of a ship and commanding service, all form part of the valuable experience which can be gained from service with the Royal Canadian Sea Cadets."

The inspecting officer and staff were greeted by the traditional boatswain call on a bosun's pipe, used on ships for 700 years. The smart guard, at present arms, and the division, at attention, underwent close inspection. The march past the saluting base would have done credit to any military unit.

Eight cadets gained a decoration of 1st and tumbling, using both mats and "horse." Many difficult feats were accomplished without an error.

Rifle practice was demonstrated for the inspecting party on the range on the "lower deck" underground.

Several demonstrated their agility with rope climbing. A group arranged above the mat a tripod affair used to lift heavy objects about ship.

GIVE DEMONSTRATION

A demonstration of rigging a whaler showed how ropes are handled and knots tied. Stretcher lowering showed the use of the Robertson stretcher with the patient so wrapped that he can be easily moved without risk of further injury. Heaving lines showed how heavier lines are passed from the ship to the jetty when docking.

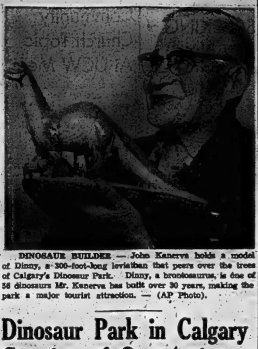
By means of breeches buoy the method of transferring a person from one ship to another was demonstrated.

The program ended with evening quarters, with the color party, the guard and division drawn up at attention as "Sunset" was sounded by the bugler and the Sea Cadet ensign on the signal mast yard arm slowly lowered.

Khrushchev In Bulgaria For Visit

LONDON (Reuters) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev arrived by air in Sofia, Bulgaria, today at the head of a Communist party and government delegation for a six-day visit, Sofia radio reported.

The delegation, including Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, was greeted by Bulgaria's Communist party leader, Todor Zhivkov, Premier Anton Yugov, and members of the politburo. In a short speech, Khrushchev said he and his delegation felt "a deep gratitude" for the invitation to visit Bulgaria.



"The relations between our parties and countries is particularly cordial," he said. "It can be clearly stated that between our parties and governments there always has been and is mutual understanding and complete unanimity of views."

275 Parishioners Protest Ousting Of Minister

DINOSAUR BUILDER — John Kaserva holds a model of Dinny, a 300-foot-long iguanodon that peers over the trees of Calgary's Dinosaur Park. Dinny, a brontosaurus, is one of 56 dinosaurs Mr. Kaserva has built over 30 years, making the park a major tourist attraction. — (AP Photo).

NEW YORK (CP-AP)—Morning services at the Broadway Presbyterian Church was disrupted Sunday when more than 275 parishioners walked out to protest against the ousting of their minister, Rev. Stuart Hamilton Merriam.

Removal of the minister last week touched off a controversy among Presbyterian clergymen here and drew criticism from the Canadian - born minister emeritus of one of New York City's largest Presbyterian churches.

The presbytery of New York removed Dr. Merriam and the session (elders) of the Broadway church from their posts.

The move was prompted, it was reported, because Dr. Merriam had introduced his dog during his inaugural sermon a year ago and by his interaction with the U.S. state department over an Iranian student at Columbia University who accused the Iranian government of torture.

The presbytery took the position that the incident threatened to embarrass the United States and cause difficulty for Presbyterian missions in Iran.

STAND UP, LEAVE

Just before Rev. J. Carter Swaim started his sermon Sunday supporters of Dr. Merriam stood up and filed out of the church.

Dr. Merriam was at the services. Immediately after the walkout, he attended a service held by his supporters in the church's basement.

About 1,125 persons remained in the church proper to hear Dr. Craydon McClellan, general presbyter of the New York Presbytery, read an explanation for the action.

He said:

"Dr. Merriam appears to have a compulsive desire for publicity. Dr. Merriam has displayed a degree of irresponsibility about his obligations to the agencies of the presbytery."

Dr. Merriam, 38, a bachelor, denounced the methods of the presbytery last week.

Rev. John Sutherland Bonnel, minister emeritus of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church and a native of Dover, P.E.I., called the step disturbing. He said:

"This exercise of power (by the presbytery) over a congregation is going to be disturbing to ministers and elders of the Presbyterian Church at large."

Dinosaur Park in Calgary Creation of One Artist

CALGARY (CP) — Thirty years ago John Kaserva saw the movie The Lost World and was so enthralled with the prehistoric animals he decided to recreate them.

Since Alberta was the home of many of North America's dinosaurs, he decided to build some and arrange them in a natural-looking setting.

For five years he plodded through books and experimented with construction methods. He asked the Calgary Zoo's permission to begin a park. The zoo agreed.

Mr. Kaserva, now 78, then began the art that became his life's work. His talent has given Calgary its Dinosaur Park.

He has built 56 dinosaurs for the park, which occupies a section of St. George's Island in the Bow River. His replicas are as perfect in detail as possible and his construction is so sturdy that even the huge hollow body of Dinny, the park's biggest dinosaur, will be around for centuries.

Next comes the model, made of wood to the exact scale of the drawing. Then the actual construction begins. A steel framework is made of rods, forming the hollow body, legs, head and tail. Then the inside of the frame is cemented.

The outside is cemented with from three to five coats of the mixture. The wrinkles in the "skin" are made when the last cement layer is drying.

After the cement is dry, the beasts are painted.

Dinny, a Brontosaurus, took three months to create. Six men worked five weeks on the main construction and Mr. Kaserva and his son Bill finished the job. Dinny is 105 feet long and 32 feet high. When he gets a facial, and he needs one every few years, it takes about eight days and eight gallons of paint to brighten his greenish complexion.

No more dinosaurs are planned for the Calgary park, but Mr. Kaserva plans to continue working a little on the old ones each summer.

Several offers to continue his work in faraway places have come Mr. Kaserva's way during his 30 years at Dinosaur Park. But he always turned them down.

224 Electric Toothbrushes Seized by Govt.

WASHINTON (AP) — The government announced Sunday it has seized 224 Vibra Dent electric toothbrushes on the ground their labelling does not warn of potential shock hazard.

The Food and Drug Administration said the motor and controls of the devices are not sealed and are capable of transmitting enough shock to the user after immersion in water.

The agency said in a statement that some 50,000 Vibra Dent electric toothbrush and gum massagers, distributed since last February by the Chase Manufacturing Company of New York, are in commercial channels.

It said steps are being taken to remove them from the market.

The agency warned particularly that the devices should be kept out of the hands of children who might dip or drop them into the washbowl.

The FDA said it has received no complaints about other makes of electrical toothbrushes now on the market and has no reason to believe that they are hazardous for users.

COLLAPSE KILLS PAIR

MADRAS, Ore. (AP) — Collapsing steel construction forms carried two workers to their death and hurt six others Sunday in a tunnel at Round Butte Dam. The eight workers were carried about 100 feet down the steeply-inclined spillway tunnel of the dam being built across the Deschutes River, 170 miles southeast of Portland.

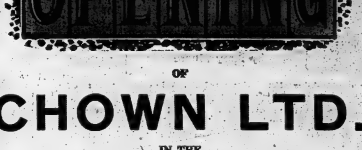
Relations Between France, U.S. Skid Toward Historic Low

By HARVEY HUDSON

PARIS (AP)—France and the two busy with its own defense United States have been split by the atom. Relations between the two old allies have been skidding toward a historic low.

Outwardly the bonds of friendship are as strong as ever. But an undercurrent of resentment, stubbornness of outright obstruction thwarts cooperation on almost any new project brought up for study.

President de Gaulle is expected to talk about Franco-American relations at a press conference Tuesday. Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville told the National Assembly's foreign affairs committee last week "it is clear-cut that there are differences and divergencies." But he insisted the rift was not serious.



De Gaulle's determination to make France an atomic power is at the heart of the quarrel.

FEARS FOR DEFENCE

The stern old general is convinced that France must have her own nuclear striking force to remain a first-rate power. He has said if war should break out, the United States would be in its Sahara testing ground.

Should I Take Him Back?

DEAR DORIS—Since we separated my husband started drinking and beating me. It got so bad he went away. Now he writes that he is through with drinking. Do you think I should take him back? Was it proper for me to answer all his letters?—WESTERN WIFE.

DORIS CLARK

DEAR WESTERN — More than proper—probably a life saver. An alcoholic needs to know he is still loved and wanted by somebody. Obviously the loss of his son was a heartbreak.

Not that he should have taken it out on you. On the contrary. And if he shows signs of lapsing, when you take him back (and I hope you will), waste no time in calling for help.

• • •

DEAR DORIS:—Please give me some ideas for opening remarks at a Home and School conference. This is my first experience at anything like this.

Perhaps I have made a mistake by taking on this responsibility. But I feel one only learns by doing, and I enjoy Home and School work. I love getting out and meeting new people.—NOT A SPEAKER.

DEAR NOT.—More power to you. Everybody has a first time. Having a part in Home and School is a wonderful way to tune in on what your children are learning and how you can help; besides the sociability which you love.

Strike a keynote by stressing the purpose of your group. Point out that people don't become child care experts by the mere fact of bearing children. That willy-nilly it's a parent's job to find out what makes Bobby tick and to help in shaping his thinking. That it's priceless for teacher and parent to get heads together.

Pay tribute to teachers, who patiently devote their lives to striking that spark of interest which is the beginning of education, and to following through.

A quote from Oliver Goldsmith's "Deserted Village" would be appropriate in speaking of a teacher with a child:

"And, as a bird each fond endearment tries
To tempt its new-fledged offspring to the skies,
He tried each art, reproved each dull delay,
Allured to brighter worlds, and led the way."

Then give it a light touch by telling of an incident or a schoolboy howler. Good luck!

Scoharie

"MOTHER"

"She loved this life, here was no face of gloom,
With joy she lived each day in shade or shine,
Patiently she bore her illness, but how soon
The Master called — we should not fret nor pine.

She passed from sight beyond life's sunset trail,
But still her spirit lingers very near,
Her kindly words, her love that never failed
In memory we hold them, oh so dear".

Nehru Declares 13, Not 1,000, Killed in Riots

NEW DELHI (AP) — Prime Minister Nehru told Parliament Saturday he was shocked at an American newspaper report quoting officials as saying 1,000 Moslems were killed in riots in the Middle district of India this summer.

He said the report was exaggerated and unfounded. Friday Nehru told Parliament the toll of Moslems killed in the Middle district was 13 and he affirmed today this was the correct figure.

Nehru said the American report published in the New York Times May 4 was prematurely based on accounts of Pakistani officials and Moslem refugees who crossed from the East Bengal trouble areas into East Pakistan.

National Unity Is Theme Of Talks by Diefenbaker In First Week of Campaign

OTTAWA (CP) — Prime Minister Diefenbaker travelled 5,081 miles and spoke in four provinces last week in the first full week of his campaign for re-election June 18. He preached national unity and accused the Liberal party of making extravagant promises.

Mr. Diefenbaker, with his wife and a staff of 12, flew back to Ottawa early Saturday night from Medicine Hat, Alta. The week's travels started last Monday with stops in Dorval and Quebec, then west and east on Tuesday to Rimouski on the Gaspe coast.

The week he returns to Quebec, then moves into the Maritime provinces and back to Ontario.

In Brockville he re-stated the government's nuclear arms position, saying Canada will not accept nuclear warheads for its weapons as long as there is any other source of supply for international disarmament.

In Western Canada, his speeches dealt mainly with farm policy. He said farmers with crop failures would continue to count on his government for financial help. Development of the Prairies would mean higher prices for export wheat. Through acreage payments the government had been subsidizing growers for what it had not grown.

The Conservative leader met mixed reaction. Speaking in Granby to a predominantly French-speaking audience came a cheer when he began in good French oratory and he had only interpreting to do during remarks prepared in French. The crowd grew restless.

Then last night in Rimouski, Mr. Diefenbaker interspersed his English speech liberally with brief passages of French and the crowd applauded his every move.

The crowds were thin in Kingston, Ont., where he laid a wreath at a monument in the city park to Sir John A. Macdonald, founder of the Conservative party, and Canada's first prime minister, then the only Sir adorn on hand. The party was in Toronto on Sunday.

That evening in Brockville, the 1,800-seat civic auditorium had to be opened to overflow room-only sign.

There he also made the most stinging attack of the week on the Liberal party's top strategists, Lester Bowles Pearson, Walter Gordon, Tom Kent, and Maurice Lamontagne, whom he called "the old bunch" who were behind the former Liberal government.

They are your potential masters, a conglomeration of hopers, hopefuls, hopefuls and the cave of adullam, where all the discontents in creation are gathered together—a cacophony of jargon."

In Neepawa, Man., with a population of 3,127, more than 1,500 persons from the town and surrounding area heard Mr. Diefenbaker speak in an old airport hangar.

He reminded the many new Canadians in the crowd of his intention to press for a United Nations resolution condemning Russia for swallowing up former independent middle European states. He said the former Liberal government had done little in the UN to protest the process.

Everywhere, he emphasized the theme of national unity—increased federal grants to the provinces were both the cause of the federal deficit and the key to restoring provincial rights, giving the provincial governments more money to fulfil their responsibilities.

It was true his government had made some mistakes, but "show me the man that hasn't made an mistakes and I'll show you the man who hasn't done anything."

And main-traveling in Bow Island, Alta., population 1,000, he encountered a whisker-growing contest to celebrate the community's 50th anniversary. He endorsed the contest and said: "May the best whiskers win."

43 Accidental Deaths, 33 in Traffic Mishaps

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Traffic mishaps accounted for 33 of the 43 accidental deaths in Canada during the weekend.

The death toll on the roads was highest in Quebec, where 13 persons were killed. Ontario followed with 12 deaths. Four died on the highways in British Columbia, three in Alberta and one in New Brunswick.

Newfoundland, Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia and Saskatchewan reported no accidental deaths in a Canadian Press survey from 6 p.m. local times Friday to midnight EDT Sunday.

Nine of Ontario's total of 18 accidental fatalities involved persons under 21 years of age.

Three drownings occurred in Ontario, two in Quebec and one in Manitoba.

One person died when scaled in Quebec, one man accidentally shot himself, and two infants died in their cribs—one of suffocation and one of strangulation—in Ontario. One person was killed in a gun mishap in British Columbia.

The list does not include industrial accidents, known suicides or slayings.

Ontario dead:

Tammy Ronald, three - year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ronald, Port Arthur, of suffocation Saturday when she became entangled in the blanket lining of her crib.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States conducted two more nuclear tests Saturday—an air drop near Christmas Island in the Pacific and an underground test in Nevada.

MASONIC CHURCH PARADE — Approximately 300 Masons from the Prince Edward District attended the annual Masonic church parade at Christ Church on Sunday. Seen discussing Masonry with Rt. Wor. and Rev. Frank Creeggan and Everett Wood.

Bro. Harry G. Bates, District Deputy Grand Master (third from right), with Past District Deputy Grand Masters Jerald Anderson, Ray Grant, Charles Buskin.

District Masons Attend Service At Christ Church

Over 300 Masons from Prince Edward District were in attendance at Christ Church, on Sunday afternoon to hear the Rt. Wor. Bro. Rev. Frank J. Anderson, Grand Chaplain of the Grand Lodge of Ontario, deliver a Masonic address on "Masonry" at the annual Masonic Service. Rt. Wor. Bro. Harry G. Bates is the District Deputy Grand Master of the district with Wor. Bro. Everett Paisman as secretary and Wor. Bro. Archdeacon A. B. Dowgan as chaplain. Archdeacon J. B. Creeggan conducted the service of worship and welcomed the Masons to the service. He was assisted by Very Wor. Bro. Rev. Everett P. Smith. During the service the choir of the church under the direction of John C. Wilbern delivered an anthem, the solo being taken by John Ireland.

The Masons under Wor. Bro. Bates, Pianist as marshal assembled on the grounds of Queen Mary school and marched to the church in a body and remarched the same route after the service to be dismissed after a few words by the District Deputy. Many quarterly breaks them for their attendance.

The Grand Chaplain took as his text the 24th verse, the streams whereof make glad the city of God; the holy place of the tabernacle of the Most High". In opening his remarks Archdeacon Anderson brought greetings from the Grand Lodge and thanked the congregation of Christ Church for allowing the brethren to assemble in the church for the service. He spoke directly to the brethren and showed how the text fitted into the precepts of the order. He stated that Masonry was secondary to truth, that it had a great deal of ritual and was a secret society. He claimed that the order was coming under criticism but it was founded on strong principles and would continue on through the years. He stated that masonry tells us something of man and he showed that the City of God was expressed in the Temple and found in each one of us.

Baby Sitter Saves Four In Heroic Act

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP) — A 16-year-old baby sitter, Ronald Rivers, saved four children from—a fire in a downtown Windsor apartment building Saturday night by passing them through a second-floor window to rescuers.

The fire, believed to have started in a garbage pile at the rear of the building, prevented Rivers from taking the young-sters out a doorway.

Rivers kicked out a window and screen and dropped Jimmy Brisson, 4, to a passing motorist, Ralph Smith. Two youths, Thomas Ochkos and Chester Thomson, both 18, brought a ladder. Smith climbed up and carried the other children down.

Rivers suffered a slashed thumb and shin when he broke the window. None of the children, Jimmy, 4, Jeff, 2½, Tammy, 1½ or month - old Timmy were injured.

Atlantic Alliance Shows Signs of Pulling Apart, Western Unity Old Problem

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atlantic Alliance showed alarming signs last week of being apart at the seams. A round of Western summit diplomacy may be necessary to repair the damage.

The matter of Western unity is an old problem which boils to or near a crisis point from time to time. What is new now is the direct involvement of the country and personal leadership of the heads of state and governments of the Allied countries.

In part the current splits are a product of real policy conflicts between West Germany and the United States, between Britain and France, between France and the United States, in part they result from personality differences among men like 44-year-old President Kennedy and 86-year-old Chancellor Adenauer.

In Washington there is a tendency to blame much of the trouble on Adenauer's great age, a suggestion that the strongman of post-war Germany is becoming crotchety, erratic, perhaps a bit senile. That the German chancellor is deeply disturbed, annoyed, even angry with Kennedy is beyond question. That he is senile has yet to be demonstrated.

RUSSIA COULD PROFIT

The crisis is actually and primarily a crisis arising from basic concepts of national needs and collective Western interest as the free world sees from which, in the long run, only the Soviet Union can profit. For that reason it probably will be patched without doing decisive harm to the alliance.

The U.S.-German flareup over Berlin talks with Russia is only the latest and most spectacular eruption to break through the placid surface of NATO unity to disclose the subterranean turbulence. The basic situation is not new. NATO has faced and survived serious crisis before and the fact that it has done so in 1956.

From those basic ingredients boils speculation that summit diplomacy — perhaps another Kennedy visit to Europe this summer—may be required to put NATO back on keel.

The West German government has for years been involved in about negotiations with Russia on the future of Germany or of Berlin. Its sensitivity often shows in extreme resistance to the development of any new proposals for East-West discussion.

The French government of President de Gaulle has sought close ties with the Adenauer administration, looking to the long future of French-West German relations. De Gaulle has been preoccupied with Algiers and the rebuilding of French military power in the nuclear age.

KEEP IN STEP

Adenauer and de Gaulle have tended to work together on East-West issues — Berlin and other problems. Hence, they are inclined to keep in step when they advocate a tough Western line.

Britain and the United States have been more concerned with easing tensions, usually was more ready to negotiate.

The latest outbreak of trouble arose because of what now can be seen as a basic change in U.S. strategy by Kennedy's decision. That is the change:

During the Eisenhower admin. istration the United States periodically favored negotiations with Russia on Germany and Berlin, on the assumption (1) that the Western powers wanted a settlement, and (2) they could not get one on any reasonable terms from Moscow.

The Kennedy administration is negotiating because it wants a settlement. It has rebuilded U.S. policy on Berlin and has increased the area of negotiation. This change has worried Adenauer and many other West Germans.

Philip Makes Bow as Author In New Book

LONDON (AP) — Prince Philip made his bow as an author, photographer and amateur ornithologist when his book Birds from Britannia went on sale today.

Already some reviewers have described the book as a kind of challenge to the Royal Family's former professional photographer, Antony Armstrong-Jones, now Lord Snowdon.

Opinions differed in London newspapers as to whether Philip is as good as Tony.

Prince Philip's book is built around pictures he took on two world tours in the royal yacht Britannia in 1956-57 and 1959.

The prince, now in Canada to participate in the Commonwealth Study Conference, has arranged for all royalties from the book to go to various funds in which he is interested.

He found penguins among the most enchanting of all his subjects. He wrote of them:

"There is a theory that, because both sexes appear to be identical, penguins must have matrimonial problems of a very special kind and that mating occurs somehow by trial and error.

"I find this difficult and rather depressing to believe. However, there is no doubt that courtship consists of offering small flat stones to each other for the purpose of making what passes for a nest.

"Cases have been reported of penguins offering stones to visiting humans. This didn't happen to me."

Prince Spent Quiet Weekend At Govt. House

OTTAWA (CP)—The Duke of Edinburgh spent a relaxed weekend here as the house guest of Governor-General Vanier before leaving for Montreal, where he launches the annual Commonwealth Study Conference today.

Prince Philip, who arrived from British Saturday, took advantage of the capital's sunny, warm spring weather to walk in the Governor-General House grounds and watch a cricket match. Sunday morning he read the lesson at Christ Church Anglican Cathedral.

He was at the controls of the plane when he took off Sunday afternoon from RCAF Station Rockcliffe to fly to Montreal, where he spent the night at the Windsor Hotel.

The prince made his departure with a minimum of formality. He drove along the Ottawa River Parkway with the Governor-General to the nearby Rockcliffe Air Station, said farewells to service representatives then climbed into the plane and immediately took his place in the pilot's seat.

The Queen's husband, making his first visit to Canada since the summer of 1860, flew were completed with a brief flypast over the home of Governor-General Vanier.

Saturday morning to Montreal's Dorval airport where he joined a regularly-scheduled commercial flight. Prince Philip flew aboard an aircraft of the Queen's Flight for the 100-mile hop to Ottawa.

PRINCE LEAVES BRITANNIA

Taking over the controls of the brightly-painted red and black Trans Canada Viscount brought the plane in for a perfect landing at RCAF Station Uplands.

As he stepped down from the aircraft onto the traditional Viscount carpet, he was welcomed to Canada by the Governor-General's aide-de-camp, Maurice Fleming, acting for Prime Minister Diefenbaker, who was absent on the hustings.

The royal visitor, loudly applauded by a crowd of about 50 camera-clicking spectators inside the terminal building, then Transport Command's 412 Squadron, was given a royal 19-gun salute, a 103-man RCAF honour guard, A 21-gun artillery salute fired by the 30th Field Artillery Regiment, an Ottawa militia unit

Sylem for his reluctant endorsement of de Gaulle. He was silent out of the Algerian command by de Gaulle, given two Frenchmen in Paris, then retired. This was the signal for Salan to do his opposition to de Gaulle.

Now, Salan's trial opens, four years and two insurrections after he first gave de Gaulle his timid backing.

Salan and three other generals briefly seized power in Algiers in April, 1961. But there was no repetition of May, 1958. De Gaulle's regime in Paris was firm, Many army leaders hesitated to join a new revolt. The opposition of the army's draftees finally punctured the scheme. The privates beat the generals.

Salan and Edmond Jouhaud, former chief of staff of the French Air Force, then went underground. They formed the Secret Army Organization and the backing of some all European settlers in Algeria. Under the impulsive, fiery Salan, they had been in May, 1958 — to keep Algeria under tight French control.

Salan and Jouhaud were stripped of their generals' ranks and sentenced to death in absentia. Jouhaud was captured, retried, and resentenced to life in prison. Salan was not, and it is his turn to appear before the bar of the military civilian court.

The prosecution is beating the drum loudly on the generals' revolt and the activities of the Secret Army. Salan has denied his part in either.

Salan Says He Is Ready To Die But Wants to Set Record Straight on Algiers

PARIS (AP) — Raoul Salan, France's most decorated soldier, goes on trial for his life Tuesday for treason against President de Gaulle's regime.

"I am ready to die," Salan has said, "but first I intend to defend my cause."

In doing this, he is certain to bring into focus his always fragile, often hostile, relations with Gen. de Gaulle.

On May 15, 1958, for instance, Salan, the supreme military and civilian commander in Algeria, stepped to a balcony at the height of a revolt of European settlers. He shocked his short audience to a crowd of about 5,000 with the ritual phrases Vive la France and Vive Algerie Francaise. The crowd roared on the square roared approval.

As the shouts faded away, Salan turned and left the scene. He never returned. Instead, he flew underground. They formed the Secret Army which had the backing of some all European settlers in Algeria. Under the impulsive, fiery Salan, they had been in May, 1958 — to keep Algeria under tight French control.

Boy Questioned In Stabbing

PORT WILLIAM (CP)—A 16-year-old boy was questioned Sunday night in connection with the fatal stabbing of Barbara Thompson, 17, whose father was in hospital with similar wounds.

The girl and Charles Thompson, 57, were stabbed in their home. Mr. Thompson was in critical condition when he was taken to hospital but officials said he improved somewhat after a few hours.

Police said the 16-year-old boy appear in juvenile court here today.

Magee New Pro at Bigwin Inn

TORONTO (CP) — Gerry Magee, a Toronto golfer who played 102 professional events for the last five years, has accepted a job as resident professional at Bigwin Inn Golf Club. The club is the only 18-hole layout in the Muskoka district.

Magee, who starts his job June 1, turned pro in 1957 after an outstanding success as an amateur. He had moderate success on the pro circuits.

'Jaipur' Wins at Aqueduct

NEW YORK (CP) — Jaipur, favorite at 5, eased at 20,000, drew away from the pace-setting Green Dolphin and stroked Saturday at Aqueduct and won the $38,600 Withers Mile with authority.

Jaipur was rushed to clash with Decidedly, the Kentucky Derby winner, in the $150,000-added Preakness at Baltimore Saturday.

Seven three-year-olds contested the 87th running of the Withers and Cyrano, making his first stakes start, was third.

Jaipur returned $3.20, $2.80 and $2.20. Green Dolphin paid $6.40 and $4.40 and Cyrano $2.60. Jaipur collected $38,080 for his victory, boosting his earnings to $280,174.

WINS CLOSE ONE

A lop-eared Celtic, Native Diver and Prince of Plenty bowled up in a stirring duel that confined Saturday's feature at Native Diver winning the $29,-800 Bowie Handicap at Greenwood Park, Black Sheep was third.

The winner paid $4.80, $3.20; Prince of Plenty $5.40 and $4 and Celtic Shoes $3.40. The victory was worth $17,050 to Native Diver's stable.

All Canadian Hatter Up captured the $34,725 Betsy Ross Stakes by half a length over Some Song. Sir Ivan was third. Hatter Up paid $6.20, $3.80 and $2.80.

Tennis Club Ready for New Season

The Quinte Skating and Tennis Club announced the opening of its tennis courts for the 1962 season and extended an invitation to new members.

The club's four lighted courts have been in the process of conversion to a new all-weather surface during the past two years. The conversion will be completed this year.

Club executives have announced that the new surface allows the courts to be watered and played upon much earlier than the standard clay surface. Two of the courts have been used during the past three years and the other two courts have been processed and are ready for play now.

D. Low, president of the club's tennis section, asks that anyone wishing to join the club contact him at WO 2-3581.

In addition to tennis lessons available for beginners on Saturdays, other activities include an outdoor basketball practice board and table tennis in the clubhouse.

The Tracks

TORONTO (CP) — All Canadian won the $8,695 Ultimus Stakes Handicap at Old Woodbine Saturday and shocked the Ontario racing season's largest crowd of 19,159 as he defeated Axeman by three lengths. Hidden Treasure, his favorite, was seventh in the 10-horse field.

All Canadian paid $42.70, $12.70 and $7.50 as he ran the mile in the creditable time of 1:36 4-5. Castleberry, another long shot, finished third.

All Canadian, which suffered from foot trouble last year, finished chit of the money only once in six starts at the select Fort Erie meeting. Saturday's purse of $4,905 was the largest ever won by the horse.

The daily double of On Leave and Perceptive paid $53.40. The quinella of Welland Canal and Solid Sid lost to the fifth paid $24.

The crowd wagered $881,040, highest of the current season.

Hair Specialist Here Tuesday

Will Show Men and Women How to Save Hair and Prevent Baldness

OTTAWA, Ont. New home treatment methods for saving hair and improving its growth will be demonstrated in Belleville Tuesday, May 15th at the Quinte Hotel.

Trichologist C. A. Tander will be in charge, representing the Modern Roberts Hair and Scalp Specialists organization. He will personally examine hair-worried men and women from 1.00 to 8.00 p.m.

This new treatment is nothing "mail order" nor "cure-all". It is adapted to the individual after a personal examination and progress is checked at regular intervals by a Roberts Specialist.

Who Can Be Helped?

Will the new Roberts treatment cure baldness? "No!" For we cannot help men and women who are slick-bald after years of gradual hair loss. But if you still have fuzz and your scalp is still creating hair, you can at least save and thicken what you have. Some conditions, such as "spot baldness" usually have complete coverage if caught in time!

Other conditions that usually respond are dandruff, hair-losing dandruff, itching, over-oiliness or dryness, follicle clogged with sebum or scurf — all can be corrected by the Roberts home treatment if caught in time.

"DON'T WAIT UNTIL IT'S TOO LATE"

Baldness won't wait for doubters to be convinced, you owe it to yourself right on losing hair "if you're bald —unless you get your scalp in healthy-growing condition again.

Examine You Free

We want to make it clear that we place no obligation or charge or obligation by coming in for an examination.

Your only obligation is to yourself. We do not accept cures that will not regrow.

Guarantee Satisfaction.

The Roberts Specialists will give you a written guarantee that you must be satisfied within 30 days or it will cost you nothing.

For a free examination and discussion of your hair problems ask the desk clerk for Mr. Tander's room number. He does not make appointments, as room is at your convenience.

Examinations are given in private.

Easter Hits 'Slammer', Leafs Split

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thanks to ancient John Easter, Rochester Red Wings still hold second place in the International League.

The 41 - year - old first baseman, making his first start of the year, crashed five home runs Sunday, including a grand-slammer in the ninth inning of the nightcap, as Rochester divided a doubleheader with Columbus Jets.

The Jets took the opener 13-4, ragging a four - game Rochester winning string but the Red Wings came back storming his nose-loaded homer in the ninth, won the finale 8-7.

Buffalo Bisons stopped leading Jacksonville Suns 4-2 after the Suns scored the first seven 4-2. Toronto Maple Leafs broke a three-game losing string by whipping Atlanta Crackers the Crackers took the first 4-1. Syracuse Chiefs beat Richmond 8-4 and the Virginians took the second 1-0.

HITLESS NO-HITTER

On Saturday leftwinger Al Browning clouted a two - run pitcher of Richmond's International League history to down Syracuse 4-0, in other Saturday games, Atlanta downed Toronto 4-1, Jacksonville flogged Buffalo 9-5 and Rochester blanked Columbus 3-0.

Relief Pitcher Courtable threw a seven-hanking, two-hit shutout for Rochester and Bruce Brubaker after the five-bit pitching of Bob Sadowski and home runs by Joe Morgan and Tim McCarver won the first for Atlanta.

Hal Stowe tossed a six - hit shutout and got all the run support he needed when Syracuse's Bvans Killeen balked in the winning run in the first inning of the nightcap at Richmond. Syracuse used a four-run sixth inning to pave the way to the decision in the opener.

CHOOSE OFFICERS

SUDBURY (CP) — George James of Chatham moved up from vice-president to presidency of the Ontario Tuberculosis Association Saturday night when he was elected unanimously to succeed W. D. Stewart of Kingston. Elections concluded a two-day annual meeting.

"My word, what an unusual hour. What have you been locking up against, sir?"

King of the Hill

In the "Head-to-Average" duel, Shirley Hodson had a sensational 1008 to beat her average of 975 by 33 points per game. Her closest rival, Lou Smith, rolled a 953 to better his mark by 25 points.

Smith faltered in the challenge match, dropping three points below his 173 average.

Two Drivers Qualify For Race

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Veterans Eddie Johnson and Bob Veith qualified cars Sunday for the 46th 500-mile race May 30 at gutty Indianapolis Motor Speedway three trials to a brief flurry of activity.

Johnson, of Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, settled for a speed of 146.592 miles an hour in the Polyarix Special on his second attempt.

Veith, of Fort Bragg, Calif., qualified the Meguiars Special at 146.157, also on his second attempt.

Sunday's limited activity put 21 cars in the field with 13 positions open for qualifications next Saturday and Sunday.

Four-Mile Relay Oregon Shatters Record

FRESNO, Calif. (CP-AP) — Dyrol Burleson, North American's fastest miler, raced the anchor leg in three minutes, 07.9, seconds Saturday as the University of Oregon mile relay team shattered the world record in the four-mile relay with a time of 16:46.9 at the West Coast Relays. We Brown of Vancouver, ran the second leg.

The time bettered by almost 15 seconds the record set last year by a New Zealand national team at 16:32.8.

Another member of the Oregon team, Olympian Henry Jerome of Vancouver, took the 100-yard dash in 9.3 seconds, tied with an aiding wind of 3.0 miles an hour, for above the allowable limit of 4.47m for record consideration.

Jerome, a native of Prince Albert, Sask., and the son of a railway porter, is attending Oregon on a scholarship. He is the co-holder of the world 100-yard dash record at 9.3 seconds, tied with Armin Hary of East Germany, at the Olympic 100-metre champion.

Oregon, with only six runners in the entire finished behind first places as Keith Forman, a member of the Canadian contingent, returned to capture the mile in 4:00.7, the fastest time of any runner in the world in 1962. The collegian this year is a regular middle man. Jerry Cain won the 120-yard high hurdles in 13.7 seconds.

The meeting between the world's only 16-foot pole vaulters, John Delans and Dave Tork, failed to live up to expectation as neither could clear 15-6 after going over 15-3½. The same as three other vaulters.

Briton Wins Close One In Seconds

SILVERSTONE, England (CP-AP) — British ace Graham Hill steered his high-powered BRM to a thrilling split-second victory in the final 25 yards over Jim Clark of England, driving a Lotus V-8, in the 152-mile International Trophy auto race Saturday.

Peter Ryan of Most Trophy last, Tow., watched the exciting finish as a spectator. Ryan was a reserve driver and no vacancy cropped up to enable him to compete in the race.

Clark led most of the way until Hill, a Scottish farmer, roared past him on the outside of the bend leading to the finish and won by less than a yard. They were so close at the finish that both were clocked in the same time of one hour, 16 minutes, 43.2 seconds for an average speed of 89.73 miles an hour.

REGAIN CROWN

DUBLIN (AP) — Down regained the all-Ireland Gaelic football title Sunday, defeating Dublin two goals, five points (11 points) to one goal, seven points (10 points). Down, which held the title in 1960, leaves Wednesday for a four - week American tour. Kildare defeated Wexford five goals, 12 points (37 points) to one goal, six points (nine points) for the Leinster senior football title.

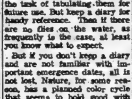
Deciding Which Fly to Use

Some years ago, at the conclusion of an after-dinner talk to an enthusiastic group of sportsmen, the president of the organization came up with the idea of throwing the meeting open to a question-and-answer session. I supposed to answer the questions. I replied that I would try but that I would guarantee nothing.

Back in the middle of the room a gentleman rose to his feet. "Mr. Knight," he said, "Suppose you go to a trout stream one morning, and the weather is fair. It looks like a good day for fishing, but there are no flies on the water and no trout rising. What fly would you put on to insure you a good day's sport and a good catch of trout?"



Immediately there were protests. "Hey, Jim. That's not fair." "What a minute, Jim. Nobody knows the answer, to that one." And so on.

I waited until the uproar had quieted somewhat. Then I told them substantially the following. The question was not nearly as unfair or as unanswerable as might be supposed.

First off — the smart dry-fly angler knows, practically in a diary, of the fly hatches that occur on the waters of his home trout streams. Emergence dates are important to the dry-fly man. For instance, he will be encounter a hatch of Quill Gordons or a hatch of Gray Quills on, say, April 22nd, the probabilities are that he will find those same hatches to be on the water on successive April 22nds for the years past. Nature has a way of scheduling these things so that they happen at the same times and in the same way on the same dates, year after year.

KNOW EMERGENCE DATES

The majority of the fly-rod fraternity are well-enlightened from ages fishermen in these decades of spinning rigs on trout streams) know the approximate emergence dates of the principal hatches and, as the Quill Gordon, Gray Quill, Red Quill, Dark Cahill, Light Cahill, Caddis, and so on.

But the smaller, intermediate hatches are so varied and so relatively unimportant that the human memory is not equal to the task of tabulating them for future use. But keep a diary for handy reference. Then if there are no flies on the water, as frequently is the case, at least you know what to expect.

But if you don't keep a diary and are not familiar with important emergence dates, all is not lost. Nature, for some reason, has a planned colory cycle that seems to hold good with dry hatches. At the opening of the season, when the weather is usually cold, colors like gray and olive seem to be indicated. Gradually the weather warms up and so, the color of the hatching insects changes with the weather.

Gray gives way to dark brown or red, then comes light cahill or brown, and, at long last, pale buff, oyster white and white. Usually the change from gray to brown takes place around the first part of May. The change to white about the third week in May and the light buff and white around the middle of June.

There are, of course, certain outstanding cases of the exception to the general color pattern. In Pennsylvania there is a small caddis hatch, light yellow, that happens right in the line for browns and reds in the color schedule. This is known as the Catskills as the Shad Fly (doubtless because it coincides with the heavy runs of shad in the Catskill rivers) and elsewhere as the Yellow Caddis. The Mike Fly is on, as a rule, for three or four days during which time the female insects lay a bright green egg sac.

OTHER CHOICES

Then, too, there are other choices available for the fellow who doesn't know his emergence dates. Fly for the day the season opens until its close in early fall. Why the Royal Coachman is such a good fish-taker always has been a mystery to me. One of them, particularly the fan-wing variety, is like nothing else in Heaven or in earth except, possibly, the Royal Coachman. Yet the fish take them readily, year after year.

There are other flies that are equally dependable — the Light Cahill (Cream variant) is the true pattern. Roy Steenrod, who tied the first Hendrickson, sticks to no such fine art of light and dark varieties) and the Adams, all of which will find customers for you, regardless of the time of year.

For some reason, nowadays you don't hear much about the spider and the variant. Ten or 15 years ago, no dry-fly man would be without a selection of them in his fly box. Now they and seldom used and I don't know why as they are excellent fish-getters.

There is one trick with these big flies that can come in mighty handy. Often it is not unusual to find yourself confronted by a school of rising trout but find it impossible selectively to a drifting batch of small flies. Practically you summarize, through your experience, but find nothing that will match the natural. Try pushing on a spider of the same color, the larger the better, as often as not it will take fish for you.

So, as I say, if there are no flies on the water in the morning is guide your selection, don't be too discouraged. Almost any of the above remedies will solve the problem for you.

Sport Snapshots

By JACK SULLIVAN
Canadian Press Sports Editor

In the good old days — let's say 1958 when Chicago Black Hawks were a sorry lot — the grandstand fingers was an almost unknown species in Canada. He was the cad who threw programs and peanuts at performing athletes from the safety of his seat in the stands.

Now, since the National Hockey League Black Hawks and their hopped-up fans have been exposed to television audiences across Canada at Stanley Cup time, more and more people are shedding their Millquetoast mantles and acting like a bunch of characters with weak minds and strong arms.

Their idea seems to be that anything the Hawk fans can do, they can do better. The grandstand fingers don't stop at peanuts, programs and overshoes, they go to hockey games equipped with such weapons as bottles of ink, steel files, eggs and other assorted trash.

They still have to graduate to go so catch up to the Chicago Stadium philistines who have developed the art of flinging to a fine degree. Literally, anything goes in Chicago and the unsuspecting Canadian counterpart a little time, after all, he's a neophyte at the game.

FRACTICE SPREADS

He did pretty well in the fifth Stanley Cup game at Toronto Maple Leaf Gardens between the Leafs and Hawks. That was the one for an outbreak of fingers and before long nets were thrown in the air after Hawk goals in games in Ontario. They finished off the season with a refreshing performance at Kitchener this week in the final game of the International Pro Cup for the Canadian junior championship.

These characters have all summer to plot strategy for the 1962-63 hockey season and Chicago Stadium will watch out. Canadians might even out-throw them.

This nonsense of tossing things certainly isn't limited to hockey.

One of the most dangerous spots in major league baseball is Detroit Tiger Stadium. Another is Yankee Stadium in New York.

Roger Maris of the Yankees had to run for cover in Detroit last month when someone threw a pop bottle at him. He said he rightfield bleacher fans went to the game equipped with plenty of ammunition but when Jim was bad, Maris didn't take any chances — he got on his plastic batting helmet.

PIERSALL PEPPERED

Willie Kirkland of Cleveland Indians was the target when the Yankee fans who amused themselves by hurling assorted garbage in his direction.

Jimmy Piersall, always a controversial figure, during the Detroit fingers are the loughest in baseball. Now with Washington Senators, he claims he has been hit by a hammer, a hairbrush, a rubber ball, a golf ball, ice and a golf ball. He keeps his cap on, but says hammers his way—sort of a museum.

But Detroit officials aren't impressed with the cases of the claims. They say he takes some of the objects to the park. Black Hawk brass might suggest at some future date that every-loving, gentle-hearted Louis Fontinato of Montreal Canadiens station himself with cans and bottles of ink in his pads whenever he plays in Chicago.

Jumble Would Be Better Word for Du Pont Show

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — Art Carney, walking out of the usual black background into the spotlight for his host chores on Sunday night's NBC Fads and Follies, described the program as a jumble. Jumble would have been more apt.

It was another in what is fast becoming a treasure series of clips from ancient movies showing early automobiles, Rudolph Valentino, the Charleston, suffragettes on the march, and Woodrow Wilson throwing out the first baseball of the season.

For no particular reason NBC also added some tasteless film showing Elvis Presley in action, Arthur Murray, Whitaker's mother and then saluted some U.S. states in song. In spite of the talents of Carney and comedienne Alice Ghostley, it was really a dismal effort. NBC is either going to have to find some old film or get off its nostalgic kick.

Earlier Sunday evening, CBS filmed actress Joan Fontaine, in a half-hour comedy made as a sample for a series which doesn't seem to have a niche in next season's schedule. The story, by Jane Hamilton and Walter Mosbaum and Anne Jackson, was fairly zingy as a city couple moving to the country.

"I've Montand on Broadway, singing and his records released — repeated by NBC Friday night after an airing earlier in the week on ABC, was one of the brightest, most engaging variety hours of the season. Montand had help from Polly Bergen and Bobby Van, but it was his show all the way.

RARE, MEDIUM, WELL-DONE

By Geo. H. Carver, Sports Editor

The eyesight, those amateur grabbers of the College of Applied Arts-and-Grabs, will make their 1951 debut in Memorial Arena some Friday evening.

Wahpper Watson, Pat Flanagan and the Class of '52 will be showing their wares and likely a number of new faces will greet the faithful on Friday evenings.

As of this writing there is no word as to be or nothing about, but I hear there has been some hoptlight "rumbles" doing their stuff up around Toronto way and other centres where the sport carries on all winter.

Dates through the years of covering wrestling bouts here I have seen some colorful figures. I have met and liked and disliked both the "bad guys" and the "good guys." The greater majority are very nice clean fellows minus in the ring sometimes believes their "off-stage" behavior.

I have met and interviewed the biggest from the world champions down to preliminary boys. One of the most popular favorites to perform here was, and still is in my book, the Whipper. Wattsel is the hero of thousands in both the United States and Canada. His work for boys, especially crippled children, will never be forgotten.

One of my earlier favorites, a real nice guy and a tough one was Jack Kilcoyne. Jack was popular here and recruited in the days of Bobby Managoff, Stewart Dunlop, Gentleman Jack Claybourne, Earl McCready, the Australian hardrock Prat Atkins, Leo "The Lion" Hamilton, Doc Hill, and a little Lord Athol Layton, Edmund Carpentier, the "Babe" and many others.

Came the era of the "dixieland" boys. We had Gorgeous George with his perfume, gold bobby pins and Miss Fifi. There was the Japanese pair, the Mexes, with their wooden sandals, kimonas and oriental rituals. Lord Layton sported a valet for a while but eventually gave him up—likely to write his memoirs.

We had a couple of Indian chiefs, resplendent in war bonnets and full feather regalia. We had that tough German pair, Von Brick and Klaus Hartman. There were the tough, but popular, "Kangaroos", two Aussies, complete with slouch hats and boomerangs. One of the most popular tag team pairs were the Sharpe brothers, big handsome clean-cut and humble. The only thing they carried on the ring was the tag team trophy.

On the tough side of the ledger were the crowd-baiting Miller Brothers, they had a third in reserve, the platinum blondes called the Gallagher Boys, and those bearded, sons of the steppes, the Kalmikoffs. They, too, had a third member of the family in reserve.

In the singles division we have had such "sales guys" as Gene Goodspeed, Johnny Bandit Marton, the Farmer Boy, Pat O'Connor, Tuksa Kris (a prime favorite any way you take him) and who can ever forget the heavily personal Pablo Manegre, and many others whose names escape memory.

I understand Maestro Frank Tunney has some excellent mat figures available this season, and Manager up north, expects a topflight card to open the season on Opsongo, expects a topflight card to open the season on Friday night.

FISH AND GAME

The Belleville Fish and Game Association collects for its monthly get-together tomorrow night at the Club Rooms starting eight o'clock.

In a recent column on fish derbies and contests I plumb forgot to mention the Belleville F. and G. Big Fish Competition. Secretary Earl Yorke informs the contest will be as big as ever this year with the same fine prizes available for lucky anglers.

Whether it slips angler minds or not, there is proof that many prizes locked a winner because the person who hooked it did not bother to contact the club. Only fellow had a prize-winner in his freezer and lost an expensive trolling reel because he failed to enter the basket.

A special event tomorrow night will be the draw for the handsome cartop cedar-strip boat built by Jack Kinchen. Also on "deck" will be two fine spinning rods and other prizes. Hay Morton will show 16 mm shots of the Colorado on movie film. Bob Riddell shows the latest in tackle.

National Sports Council

Doesn't Impress Kidd

OTTAWA (CP)—Bruce Kidd, the 15-year-old running sensation, says he isn't too impressed with the National Sports Advisory Council.

It is, he said in an interview, "nothing but a political body."

The 15-year-old student from the University of Toronto said the government could have made a better choice" in selecting members of the council.

"I don't think they have the executive ability that is required."

None of the members, he said, is even professional sport "and I don't think that is such a good idea." Amateur problems are not the same, he said.

"But in all fairness they have to give them a chance."

Tribe Has Indian Sign On Yankees

Win Twice, Take Top

By Joe Reichler
Associated Press Staff Writer

A year ago Cleveland right-hander Dick Donovan had a pitching percentage of .800 (8-2 for Washington). Cleveland second baseman Jerry Kindall was batting .667 (6-9) in seven games for Chicago Cubs) and the Cleveland team had a .429 winning percentage against New York (3-2).

Today, Donovan leads all pitchers in the American League with a 5-0 record, Kindall is batting .375 and has hit .364 in seven games against the Yankees and the Indians have beaten the world champions five of seven.

Three statistics more than anything else explain why the Indians are in first place, a ballgame in front of the Yankees whom they whipped in both ends of a Sunday doubleheader 8-4 and 5-3.

With only a little more than a month of the season gone, the Indians, under freshman manager Mel Harder, already have beaten the Yankees more times than they did all last year under manager Jimmy Dykes. In 1951, when the Indians finished fifth, 20½ games behind the Yankees, they won only four of 15 from New York.

Misnomer Ed Yerkes, competing with Cleveland for the No. 1 surprise in the American League, slung to third place, only 1½ games off the pace, crushed Kansas City Athletics 10-3. Chicago's fourth - place White Sox outslugged Los Angeles Angels 11-9 and Baltimore Orioles nipped Washington Senators 3-2. Detroit Tigers edged Boston Red Sox 6-5.

COLLECT FOUR HOMERS

On Saturday the Yankees downed the Indians 9-4, the Twins edged the Athletics 3-4, the Red Sox slammed the Tigers 5-3, the Orioles nipped the Senators 5-4 and the White Sox beat the Angels 7-6.

The Indians pounded Whitey Ford and four more New York pitchers for two dozen hits, including four home runs. Catcher Johnny Romano had a three-run homer in the first inning of the first game contributing largely to Ford's second defeat of the season.

Kindall had a three - run homer in the fourth inning of the second game, off rookie Jim Bouton. They were the first runs scored off the rookie right-hander in 15 1-3 innings and erased all but two runs of a 5-0 Yankee lead.

Cleveland added one more run in the fifth and five in the sixth to go ahead 7-3. Rookie outfielder Ty Cline's single tied the score and Chuck Essegian followed with a two-run single off loser Roland Sheldon.

Donovan's sixth straight victory came in the opener by way of a five-hitter. Sarry Latman, in relief, was credited with the second-game triumph.

WINS FIRST START

Veteran Vic Power and rookie Bernie Allen and Joe Bonikowski helped up to bring Minnesota its 11th victory in 15 starts. Power drove in five runs with a grand-slam homer and a single. Allen boosted his average 39 points to .320 with four hits, including two doubles and his 10th home run. The right-handed Bonikowski, in his first major league start, went the distance for his third victory in four decisions.

The White Sox send 12 men to bat in the eighth inning, scored seven runs and broke a 3-3 tie with the Angels. Mike Hershberger had two singles in the big inning and Floyd Robinson drove in two runs with a batter's choice at Lead Appelich scored all the way from second.

The 15 runs represented the Sox' biggest run total of the season.

Dick Brown and Dick McAuliffe got all four of Detroit runs and drove in all six of the Tigers' runs as Paul Foytack won his first victory over Boston. Brown had two home runs and a triple and drove in three runs. McAuliffe batted in three runs with a double after loser Chen Cisco had filled the bases with walks.

A disputed ninth inning home run by Earl Robinson snapped a 2-2 tie and brought victory to Baltimore over Washington. The ball banged the left field foul line and was ruled fair by third base umpire John Flaherty over the objections of Ben Washington team.

Jimmy Piersall, who had hit safely in twelve straight Washington starter, had to be removed in the 2nd inning because in left field to see if the ball had fallen behind a Stadium clear section at Baltimore Memorial Stadium fence which has in foul territory.

Toronto Runner Wins Race

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP) — Bill Wallingford of the Toronto Olympic Club was a handy winner of the first annual Niagara Run 15-mil race opening Festival Week here Saturday afternoon.

Wallingford, one-time captain of the track team of Michigan track team and now a lecturer at McMaster University in Hamilton, clocked one hour, four minutes, five seconds. He finished some 300 yards and almost two full minutes in front of runner-up Bob Martin of the Hamilton Olympic Club.

Thirty pieces went to bearded Don Smith, Hamilton Olympic runner for New Zealand, who was seven seconds behind Martin.

Forty runners contested the race, which wound along the Niagara Parkway, and all but one finished.

Defeats Jones Easily

Johnson Adds To Title Domain

By Ralph Bernstein

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Harold Johnson, light-heavyweight champion of all the world but California, will have to enroll the pleasure of a former Pennsylvania Supreme Court justice before he knows whom his next fight will be.

Johnson, of Philadelphia, successfully defending his National Boxing Association crown Saturday night, winning a unanimous 15-round decision over Doug Jones of New York, in so doing he added New York State, Europe and Massachusetts to his title domain.

New York, Europe and Massachusetts joined the NBA in unchecking Archie Moore and rec-ognizing the Johnson-Jones winner as undisputed light-heavyweight champion. California remains adamant in looking to its home-bred Moore as the rightful division king.

Johnson, 32, weighing a su-prisingly light 171½ pounds, lived up to his reputation as a master boxer. His 14 years' experience was written all over the ring as he outboxed the young Jones with jabs, battered him with overhand rights and outpunched the junior fighter into submission. Jones also weighed 171½.

ALL FAVOR CHAMP

Ringside officials were unanimous in their verdict, referee Dave Beloff scoring the fight 74-61, Nick Rogolo 73-63 and judge Zack Clayton 73-64. It was Johnson's 60th victory against eight defeats.

Jones, 28, was the aggressor and tried hard to break through the tight defence of the champion, but was outgunned and outclassed.

Madison Square Garden wants Johnson to fight Ezra Foiley in a non-title bout June 8. A Garman promoter wants Johnson for a title fight against Gustav Scholz in West Berlin, June 16. He has simultaneously.

Softball Schedule Ready Soon

The Belleville and District Softball League schedule, opening one week from today, will be available for release by the middle of this week it was announced at a league meeting yesterday.

Last year's champions, the Joyce Real Estate, will pry the lid off the 1951 season in a 6.15 game at the Fairgrounds on the Victoria Day holiday, Monday, May 21. The loop's new entry, Rollins Construction Juniors, will provide the opposition.

All games played in Belleville during the month of May will begin at 6.15. The lights will be turned on at the Fairgrounds on June 1 and all games thereafter will start at eight o'clock sharp.

The three Belleville teams, Joyces, Rollins Juniors and the Bobcats, will play all games at the Fairgrounds on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights. Trenton RCAF Flyers, the loop's fourth team, will play Wednesday night at Trenton Bay Shore Park, starting at eight o'clock.

Tentative schedule for the first week has Rollins at Joyces on Monday, Bobcats at Rollins on Tuesday, Joyces at RCAF on Wednesday and RCAF at Bobcats on Thursday, May 24.

The teams will play an 18-game schedule, ending July 19. The top three teams will take part in league play-offs.

Minoso Out for Six Weeks

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Minnie Minoso suffered a fractured right wrist as well as a fractured skull in his beaning death into a concrete wall Friday night, x-rays disclosed Sunday.

The 28-year-old St. Louis Cardinal outfielder was much improved Sunday night, but physicians said it will be four weeks at least before he can get on a uniform and five more weeks or conditioning before he can play.

Dr. Stan Loodon said there was no pressure on Minoso's brain but the fracture was near a blood vessel which could upset pressure and require surgery. He said this could develop up to four days after the injury.

Two Killed In Motor Bike Race

HELSINKI (CP-AP)—A Turnpike motorcycle driver and a Czech dominated the Helsinki motorcycle races Sunday, an event marred by an accident which killed a Finnish driver and a photographer.

Mitha Dudi of Toronto, driving a Matchless, took first place in the 500-c.c. category with a time of 34 minutes, 23.9 seconds. Frantisek Stastny of Czechoslovakia was second on a Jawa in 34:39.9.

Stastny came in first in the 350-c. class, still using a Jawa. His time was 35:41.6 for the 86-mile, 77-kilometre (1.3-mile) track.

The fatal accident occurred during the 500-c.c. competition. Orvo Lassila, on a Norton, lost control and hurtled off the track at high speed. He cart himself from the speeding cycle but was killed against a tree and killed.

The riderless motorcycle slammed into photographer Vilmo Turunen of the Helsinki newspaper Paivan Sanomat, who was sitting on a dump near the track. He was fatally injured.

KIDD SETS RECORD

HAMILTON (CP)—Toronto's Bruce Kidd paced himself perfectly Saturday to win the second National Steel Car Workers Association's Fly-mile junior road race in the record time of 11.36.3. He covered the five laps of the course 9½ seconds faster than the meet record he set last year.

Giants Hold Lead

Pinson Shining Brightly For Reds

By JOE MACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

"Saying Willie Mays can do Vada Pinson can do . . . well, almost."

That's Cincinnati manager Fred Hutchinson of the comment of two dazzling National League centre fielders, his own Pinson and Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants.

Hutchinson might be a less than impartial observer, but there is no doubt young Pinson established a real fine start this season as one of the game's brightest stars virtually every day. And there is no doubt the 24-year-old slugger has been the key man for the dazzling champion Reds in their uphill struggle to keep in the pennant race.

Vada had another productive afternoon Sunday with his fifth homer and a triple as the Reds won their fourth in a row, beating Pittsburgh's faltering Pirates 5-4 in 10 innings. Meanwhile Bob Purkey became a six-game winner with a seven-hitter.

The Giants and Jack Sanford (4-2) had little trouble romping over Houston Colt .45s 11-4 and holding onto their four-game lead.

Elsewhere in the NL, Los Angeles Dodgers swept two from Philadelphia Phillies 5-4 and 6-3 in second place, edging the Cardinals 4-3; Chicago Cubs eased out of the cellar in a doubleheader sweep over Philadelphia Phillies 8-3 and 14-3 with Lee Brewer Schultz winning both games; and Milwaukee Braves dumped New York Mets 7-3, trimming the Mets 3-2.

Drop Seattle Twice

In Saturday's games, the Mets took a doubleheader from the Braves 9-6 and 5-4, St. Louis outslugged the Phils 9-4, the Reds whipped the Pirates 5-4 and Giants whitewashed the Colts 11-0 and the Cards outlasted the Dodgers 6-5 in 10 innings.

Pinson took over the major league leadership in batting when he socked No. 11 against Duke Snider's 1-for-4 in the first inning. Then, after a three-run homer by Jim Marshall gave the Pirates in front 4-3 in the third, Vada tripled in the bottom of the inning and rode in on Frank Robinson's homer.

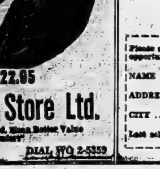
Hutchinson regarded the lead in the sixth when Leo Cardenas singled to Pinson, stole second and added another run in the eighth on two errors by Dick Groat, a sacrifice and a pinch single by Joe Gaines.

Purkey needed relief in the eighth after giving up two walks with two out.

For the Reds, the victory was the ninth in their last 11 starts in a surge that has taken them from eight place to fourth. The Pirates, meanwhile, continue to plunge on a 4-straight string of 10 in a row at the start of the season. They've lost nine straight and 14 of 15 since their fast getaway.

Orlando Cepeda, Jim Davenport and Jose Pagan gave right-hander Jack Sanford the prime support in the Giants' runaway over Houston. Cepeda and Davenport each popped hits each, while Pagan homered in the decisive four-run sixth inning and also had a single. Sanford (4-2) went the distance, scattering 10 Houston hits. Mejias' double and Norm Larker's single drove in the Houston runs in the ninth.

JOHNSON LOSES AGAIN



The loss went to winless Ken Johnson, now 0-5.

The Dodgers regained second by sliding in all four of their runs in the eighth, aided by Ken Boyer's throwing error after being held hitless by Larry Jackson (3-4) for five innings. The Phillies and Chuck Hinton drove to stem a six-hitting rally. Los Angeles starter John Podres (3-2) was the winner.

Stan Musial of the Cards, still trying to tie Honus Wagner's NL record of 3,430 hits, singled and did it. The 41-year-old ex-outfielder is batting .333 with 3,431 hits.

Schultz (3-1), a 26-year-old workhorse who's now pitched 18 innings in his last two starts, went a total of 4 1-3 innings; Bo Belinsky (4-0) and Chris Short (1-4) were the losing pitchers.

Frank Bolling's two - run homer in the eighth powered the Milwaukee Braves to a victory over the Mets on Cecil Butler (3-0) threw a no-hitter in his first big league relief role Monday. He came in and saved Against Jay Hook (3-2).

Second Quinte COSSA Title

Moira Wins Track Meet

Moira Secondary School won the Quinte COSSA track and field championships from a field of 11 other schools on Saturday.

Moira won its second straight title, defending Trenton High School which finished in the sixth annual competition for the Beach Trophy.

The meet, held at Trenton High School, attracted a record number of athletes with 350 competitors set seven of the fifteen meet records and break one of those former marks.

Over 400 students from the seven district schools took part in the meet held under ideal weather conditions. A rather slow track held the times for all events down.

Moira scored heavily in the new juvenile class as well as piling up sufficient points to top the senior class. Coach Don Bell's fine young crew set records in three of the four hurdle races, won three of the four pole events, and swept all four relays.

The champions produced two individual title-winners. Bill Vanalstyne winning the senior crown in taking the 440, 880 and mile events. Ken Faulkner won the 100, 220 and 440 to take the intermediate title.

Trenton's Ray Wittrick won the junior championships, winning both high and broad jumps and setting a record in the hop-step and jump.

The first juvenile champion is Bill Vandervort of Quinte Secondary School who took the 220 and placed second in the 100, and hop-step and jump.

Pigeon Racing Opens Season

The Quinte Racing Pigeon Club held its first old bird race of the season on Saturday from Trenton to Picton by Jack Simmon, of Plainfield, captured the first three places.

The race was held from Huntsville where the pigeons were released at 8.00 a.m. The Salmon birds paced the pack into Belleville at 11.10 a.m.

Woodcock's birds took the fourth, seventh and eighth positions. R. H. Sutton grabbed fifth spot. Carlos Steele sixth and Wels Wardrop the ninth and tenth positions.

COLOGNE TAKES TITLE

BERLIN (AP) — Cologne defeated Nuernberg 4-3 Saturday for the soccer championship of West Germany. It was the highest-scoring score in the national final since Hanover defeated Kaiserslautern 5-1 in 1954.

THE MARK

VILLANOVA, Pa. (AP) — Frank Budd of Villanova University, world record holder in the 220 - yard dash, tied the world record Saturday for the 220-yard dash in 20 seconds flat in a dual track meet with the Quantico, Va., marines. The record must be verified by the International Amateur Athletic Federation. Budd tied the 220 mark established by Dave Sime of Duke in 1958.

Playoff Today

Pott Ties Arnold Palmer

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)— Johnny Pott and Arnold Palmer wound up in a first-place tie in the $60,000 Colonial national invitation golf tournament Sunday.

Palmer and Pott, who moved into the clubhouse lead after being seven shots back, blasted today in an 18-hole playoff for the title and $7,500.

Pott, from Gulf Hills, Miss., fired a one-under-par 69 Sunday for a 72-hole total of 281, one over par. Palmer soared to a 76 and missed a 15-foot putt on the final hole that would have given him his sixth title of the year.

Australian Bruce Crampton had a 74 and finished third at 283, winning $2,500.

Jack Nicklaus registered a 69 which put him in fourth place with 284, good for $1,600. Jim Ferree and Cary Brewer shared fifth place with 285, Ferree closing with a 68 and Brewer with a 72. They split $1,350.

India Military Buildup Alarms U.S. Senators

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Senate's foreign relations committee, reported to be alarmed by India's rapid military buildup voted, Friday to slash foreign aid to that country.

Senator George D. Aiken (Rep., Vt.) said that while the U.S. aid programs does not include military assistance to India, the economic aid it provides enables India to use other resources for the purchase of arms from the Communists.

"You have to take with a grain of salt suggestions that India is building up its military forces as a defence against Communist China," Aiken told a reporter.

Senator Hubert H. Humphrey (Dem., Minn.), assistant Senate majority leader, and John Sparkman (Dem., Ala.), said they declined the cut and would fight in the Senate to have funds for India restored.

Canada Outdoors

By H. L. JONES

VANCOUVER (CP) — In harbors big and small up and down the British Columbia coastline the smell of paint and varnish is in the air.

It's that time of year again—time to get the pleasure boats ready for another season of seagoing fun in what are described as some of the finest cruising waters in the world.

From Prince Rupert in the north to Nanaimo, Vancouver and Victoria in the south the boaters are busy with sander, paper and shellac. The sore muscles that will ensue from the sudden surge of elbow - grease will bring only smiles because of all outdoors sports golfists, none is more enthusiastic than the amateur boatbreed.

Pleasure boating has become a multi-million-dollar business on the Pacific Coast. Where there were only a few thousand boats a few years ago, the number now is said to be more than 50,000 — everything from little outboards to big powerful yachts and the tall-masted vessels of the diehard sail men.

Spring is the big time of year for the boaters. Re-paint, repair, varnish and rope manufacturers. Thousands of boats change hands. Hundreds of thousands of dollars are spent on new outboard and inboard engines.

Actually, the boating season has already begun. Many owners have their craft in the water all year, going out on good days even in cold weather, but the cruising season is kicked off annually in these parts by an Easter weekend cruise sponsored by the Royal Vancouver Yacht Club.

This year the climb boats went up Howe Sound — a mountain-framed fiord stretching miles north of Vancouver—to Squamish. Then the boaters took off for fun ashore, dancing, skiing on the mountain slopes and barbecuing on the beach. Easter Sunday saw church services held at the docks.

The great upsurge in boating has made the waters very busy around Vancouver and the Gulf Islands, something akin to a busy traffic freeway about mid-afternoon. There are the hot-rodders with overpowered boats, the complete amateur who knows little or nothing about the rules of the road and the serious-minded, more skilled yachtsman who would think nothing of embarking on a 300-mile cruise to the north.

To meet the problem organizations such as the Canadian Power Squadrons offer courses to teach the amateur boats how to operate safely and what to do in emergencies. Local school boards also offer such courses, including boat and engine care.

The federal department of transport requires all power boats 10 feet or over to be registered and given a number.

There are strict regulations with regard to pollution. Boat owners are forbidden to throw garbage, oil or other pollutants into the water. Most boats are equipped with holding tanks for sewage which must be pumped ashore.

Boat owners are also required to have on board certain safety equipment, including lifebelts, flares, fire extinguishers and navigation lights.

The yacht clubs are trying hard to police themselves. The Royal Vancouver Yacht Club recently announced it is organizing its own search and rescue auxiliary among members.

Considering the number of boats, sea - going accidents are few. But the boat men want to keep them so, safely.

Science Now Shrinks Piles Without Pain Or Discomfort

(ADVT.)

Finds Healing Substance That Relieves Pain And Itching As It Shrinks Hemorrhoids

Toronto, Ont. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain and itching. Thousands have been relieved with this inexpensive substance right in the privacy of their own home without any discomfort or hospitalization.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and confirmed by doctors' observations.

Pain was promptly relieved. And while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to leave the hospital and say "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And all this without surgery! Now a new wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of even 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of fussy odor, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—the discovery of a famous scientific institute. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on the surface of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for it at any drug counter. Insist upon Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold in all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

TORONTO (CP)—A ratepayer in Oakville has been ordered publicly responsible for initiating court action to unseat an elected official when he believes the official has done wrong, a senior provincial government official of Ontario department said Friday.

J. W. Bell of the department's municipal affairs branch made the remark said in an interview that "no fee for the department has been set to charge" the procedure by transferring the initiative to the department of the local law enforcement agency.

He explained that for municipal affairs officials to assume responsibility could be regarded as an infringement of municipal autonomy, "an interference by Queen's Park."

On the other hand, a local politician, instituting action to unseat a municipal councillor would be in the "unhealthy" position of taking action against his employers.

The question arose as a result of recent discussion about the appointment to the Municipal Act which makes a municipal councillor eligible for dismissal, forfeiture of office or has a controlling interest in firm which does business with the municipality.

NOT AUTOMATIC

The disqualification is not automatic, but must arise as a result of a complaint filed by a ratepayer with a judge of the Supreme, county or district courts. To guard against frivolous or vindictive complaints the ratepayer must post a $200 bond.

The judge who hears the case may assess court costs against either the ratepayer or the municipal official.

Mr. Bell said an elected official can initiate court action by filing a "disclaimer" giving reasons for his office — within certain periods after he discovers that he is ineligible or after action is taken by a ratepayer.

BECAME LAW APRIL 15

The most recent amendment to the act became law April 15. It is believed that contracts agreed to before that date have not completed until afterwards would not be affected.

If court action is taken in regard to dealings after April 15 but before provincial officials had become aware of the new provision, Mr. Bell said he believes a "judge could not take it (the new regime) for the head of the department to decide" in London.

City clerks or other officials in almost every Ontario municipality receive copies of public bills brought before the legislature and notice of changes and amendments from the bills. A municipal affairs official said the department regards it as the responsibility of municipal civil servants to advise elected officials of legislation affecting them or their municipal administration.

As a further step, the department sends a report annually to each municipality, summarizing legislation passed at the previous session which affects municipal government. The summary for the session which ended April 15 is expected to be in the mail within a few days.

Following is a list of fines for breaking, putting in fear and five counts of rape.

Although Flaherty had a bad prison record when he was first jailed in 1952 the board said "there is no indication of additional violations since March 1956."

Among the earlier infractions was participation in a prison riot during which prison officers were held hostage at gunpoint.

Pearson Denies Statement Made In Newspaper

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The Washington correspondent of a weekend review published in the United Kingdom has sparked a new controversy in the Canadian election campaign by quoting Lester Pearson as saying he will quit politics if the Liberals don't win.

Mr. Pearson has denied saying anything remotely approaching" the statement attributed to him. C. Douglas, leader of the New Democratic Party, has said that if the statement is true it is "shocking" and that "all Canadians, no matter what their party affiliation, will obviously think twice before casting their vote for a party with a fair - weather leader."

Albert Moyer, mid - way through his column in Lighted Washington in the May 11 issue of the New Statesman, quoted the Canadian Liberal party leader as saying in Washington he will be in the "unhealthy" position of taking action against his employers.

Parole Board Turns Down Release Request

BOSTON (AP)—Love lost a round Friday in the case of Joseph A. Flaherty whom the state parole board turned down the convict's request for immediate release to allow him to marry a Canadian girl.

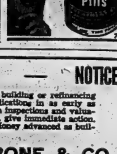
In a recommendation that Flaherty, 42, not be released from Walpole State Prison now or ever, Massachusetts Governor John A. Volpe by Cornelius J. Twomey, chairman of the parole board, the vote was unanimous.

On March 23 he pleaded his case at a hearing before the advisory board of pardons, pointing out that his love for 28-year-old Fran McKearney, had changed his entire life and had completely rehabilitated him.

The board said "there was nothing in Flaherty's petition that called for any extraordinary consideration."

Miss McKearney, who also testified at the hearing, planned to marry Flaherty as soon as possible following his release. She first learned of him through newspaper stories and eventually they corresponded. Formerly of Fort St. John, B.C., she now lives in Somerville.

Miss McKearney said the board's decision was disappointing news, but it won't change anything. I'll wait for him."



The board's report stated that the essence of Flaherty's petition for freedom was concerned with his last four or five years in prison during which he demonstrated traits of character never before shown in his life.

NO JUSTIFICATION

"On the basis of the necessity for equal and consistent judgment in the cases of other prisoners there was nothing extraordinary in his petition which would justify his release at this time."

Flaherty will be eligible for parole as routine fashion in June, 1964 at the earliest and December 1964 at the latest.

Flaherty is serving terms aggregating 31 to 45 years for a variety of convictions including burglary, attempted burglary, possessing burglary tools, housebreaking and attempting safe-

Astrological Forecast

For May 15

By SYDNEY OMARR

Aries (March 21 to April 19) Pay heed to associate who has been attempting to steer you away from recent course of action. Responsibility, loyalty are keys. Check facts, no day to act on impulse.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20) The pressure is on for performance. No more time for promises, cajoling, counterdemands. Now action pays off. Proceed with work plans previously thought out.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) Everything in your favor if you will but put best foot forward. No time to hide light or be overly modest. Strive for change, emphasize personal magnetism.

Cancer (June 22 to July 21) Could be one of your top days because your intuition works overtime. Better trust your impressions. Listen to the experts politely, but then act on personal beliefs.

Leo (July 22 to August 21) Don't high-pressure today. Not time to stick neck out. Let others do leading. No blasting or extra showmanship. Observe. Form opinions for future use.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 23) What you hear or "take in" today could be deceptive, so making long-range plans. Do not become discouraged, or overly enthusiastic on basis of today's events.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) Cycle at top and you can prove it by being confident, dynamic. You can do much by expressing ideas. You aid yourself and others by action with all your work plans.

Scorpio (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21) Time to face facts, to bring into open any disagreements, problems. Have cards face up on table. You are likely to have "ice-in-the-tube." Full speed ahead with work and decisions.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Expression of love, confidence in loved ones could work wonders. Up to you to give encouragement. No time to hold back on business activity or friendships.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Time for expansion, not for retreat. Today excellent for making plans which affect your future. No use delaying. Sense of humor and diligent effort get results.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Progress indicated, accomplishment is key word. Practice thrift, push forward. There are details which could discourage you. But if you take "cold plunge" and get them out of way, you succeed.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to March 20) No time for "halfway" measures. Your cycle does not call for attempts to land on middle ground. So, don't start something you do not intend to completely finish.

If today is your birthday you could gain much from appreciation of music, and indications are that you have prodigious "ear for music." Emotional pressures you have experienced "lighten" toward end of year.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Events could be disclosed, which occurred in recent past, that rival science fiction. Good day to believe. The fantastic apt to turn to reality.

Evidence Proves Continued Existence of Eastern Panther In New Book by Zoologist

By JOHN MORRIS

FREDERICTON (CP) — Evidence proving the continued existence of the eastern panther, once thought extinct, is recorded in a new book by Bruce B. Wright.

"We know that today there lives on our middle a surviving remnant of the greatest predator this continent has known since the Pleistocene," wrote Mr. Wright, stationed at the University of New Brunswick here as director of the Northeastern Wildlife Station of the Wildlife Management Institute of Washington, D.C.

A chapter on panthers is only one of many in the 288-page Wildlife Sketches — Near and Far, published and printed here by the University of New Brunswick Press and Universities Press). Others range from New Brunswick to the far North and once thought extinct, is recorded in a new book by Bruce Africa.

The station here has the last moose preserved as specimen of the eastern panther—its western subspecies is known as mountain lion or cougar. This specimen, trapped and shot near the Maine-Quebec boundary in the mid-1930s, did not come to general public attention until the winter of 1959-60, when a game official saw the mounted cat and shot in the parish hall at St. Pamphile, Que.

MANY SIGHTINGS

In 1932, Hawkeye Robertson of Mundleville, N.B., and Roy Grant of Halifax trailed, shot and skinned a panther near Mundleville.

Wildlife Sketches says the station here has a record of more than 100 New Brunswick panther sighting reports "that there is no reason for rejecting." In addition, plaster casts of panther tracks made in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia have been positively identified at the U.S. National Museum.

"Track casts and skin records have also established its continued existence in the mountainous area of the Quebec — Vermont — New Hampshire border area, and in Minnesota at the head of the Great Lakes."

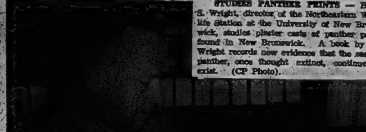
The book recalls that one authority considered the moose decline in New Brunswick after huge forest fires in 1825. Caribou disappeared from Nova Scotia in 1924 and from New Brunswick in 1927 as a result of timber cutting, fires, bodyworm outbreaks and hunting. After reviving, moose began to decline in 1930 while deer thrived.

DEER DOMINANT

Mr. Wright says experience in Newfoundland suggests that moose and caribou can live together successfully, "but if deer are present also and conditions favore them, disaster results eventually to the other two."

Nova Scotia's deer herd "has already outstripped the carrying capacity of its range in certain areas and is damaging forest regeneration despite a very heavy kill. New Brunswick is only slightly behind and is catching up fast."

Another rise in the moose population has resulted in hyper-cutting in small tracts here. Two sidelights of the present high deer population are the return of the wolf and recognition of the panther.



"The wolf of New Brunswick today is a veritable wolf of a deer, but he is a brush wolf to a zoologist. He is very shade from pebad, and from straight wild dog, to pure coyote. The return of these two predators to the scene is good evidence that the natural balancing factors are beginning to work and that the deer population must be nearing its peak."

Other observations: black ducks "We say reasonably assured that the (Atlantic) flyway is being overshot;" bald eagles in the Maritimes—"Before too long they may be all there are left in the east;" the beaver—"We may be thankful that there is still with us today in numbers;" sharks—"We have little to fear from short attacks upon bathers. However, attacks on boats have occurred . . . in Canadian waters."

"Just a Second"

"How many times do I have to tell you! In this business bulge is a curve."

STUDIES PANTHER PRINTS — Bruce B. Wright, director of the Northeastern Wildlife Station at the University of New Brunswick, studies plaster casts of panther prints found in New Brunswick. A book by Mr. Wright records new evidence that the panther, once thought extinct, continues to exist. (CP Photo).

Magistrate Says Minister Tried To Aid Gambler

Claims Kelso Roberts Seemed to Disbelieve

TORONTO (CP) — A magistrate told Ontario's royal commission on crime Monday that a former provincial cabinet minister made improper approaches about a gambling case before him.

The magistrate, Frederick Thompson, said he felt intimidated by Attorney - General Kelso Roberts, who seemed to disbelieve his report of the incident.

Magistrate Thompson said he had been shocked to get two telephone calls in 1959 from the late James Maloney, former mines minister of the province, about the trial of Kenneth Dozier in Toronto.

The minister's brother, Arthur Maloney, Progressive Conservative member of Parliament for Toronto Parkdale, was one of the defence lawyers in the case. Magistrate Thompson convicted Currier on a charge of keeping a gaming house and fined him five two months.

IDENTIFIES SELF

The magistrate said the first call came about a week or two during the Currier case from a man who identified himself as James Maloney.

"I was stunned at the call. I was shocked that he realized the trial wasn't over, but his brother was worried about the case. I told him I thought the personal interest in the case."

He said the telephone conversation unsettled him so much that he fumbled out a few words, hung up and his wife thought he was going to faint.

He said he got another call from Maloney a few days later and a third call was reported to him by the department's head while he was in hospital with a heart attack.

Magistrate Thompson told the commission that, after he got out of hospital, he reported the calls to Deputy Attorney-General W. B. Common, who appeared annoyed when he read the story and said Maloney "had been" in the department's hair before."

TELLS OF CALLS

A week later Mr. Common took him to Mr. Roberts and he told about the calls again.

"The attorney-general cross-examined me severely . . . suggesting that I was not telling the truth," stated Mr. Maloney . . . and that I was exaggerating. After Mr. Maloney was under the influence of alcohol at the time, I found this insulting."

Magistrate Thompson testified he felt "slightly intimidated" by Mr. Roberts' manner of questioning him.

He said the feeling of oppression . . . I was a little sorry I came" was due to the feeling of opposition.

He said Mr. Roberts gave him the impression that he could not believe Maloney's friends in high leagues could be involved in such a way.

Andrew Brewin, counsel for the New Democratic Party, asked about the trial and if money being drunk when the first call was made—at breakfast time.

"Well, some of my newspaper friends at Queen's Park say this wouldn't be abnormal," replied the magistrate.

Magistrate Thompson, a former newspaper reporter himself, said he first met Maloney through his brother, whose sister-in-law he later married, being made a full magistrate, actually, he is a deputy magistrate.

Open Season In S. Ont. for Deer Planned

TORONTO (CP)—A three-day open season on white - tailed deer throughout southern and southwestern Ontario is being planned for next fall to reduce damage to agricultural land, cut highway accidents caused by deer, Lands and Forests Minister Spooner announced Monday.

He told a press conference he has written to officials in 30 southern counties, proposing Nov. 5-7 — coinciding with the opening of the deer season in regularly hunted areas—as an open season.

Although the dates are in the form of a suggestion to county officials, Mr. Spooner said they will be effective "unless there are very strong and substantial objections." He wrote to county officials that he is receiving an increasing number of complaints about crop damage.

In addition, the Ontario Veterinary College at Guelph is studying evidence that suggests deer may be carriers of a blood parasite called Babesia, which produces abortion in domestic cattle.

There have also been complaints following collisions between cars and deer, in eastern areas such as Lake Erie and Lake Simcoe, where the deer are tamer and lose their natural fear of highways, as many as 200 collisions a year are reported.

By declaring the whole of Southern Ontario open for a short period, the department hopes to discourage an unwieldy come influx of hunters to agricultural areas. The season would apply only to Ontario residents and "firearms would be restricted to shotguns.

U Thant Gets Two Rent Bills

NEW YORK (AP) — Rent-troubled U Thant, acting secretary-general of the United Nations, got a double dose of it this month in the form of two rent bills.

One was for $462.50, the maximum legal rent. The other was for $400, for use of the furniture in the Sutton Place apartment owned by Mrs. William F. Whelan.

On the advice of Robert Herzman, the state rent administrator, U Thant paid only the first bill.

U Thant, who rublesses the apartment from Mrs. Whelan's husband, the prime minister of Burma, is paying $1,200 a month—almost three times the legal rent.

He declined to press charges, but Herzman filed suit in State Supreme Court on his behalf, asking treble damages totalling $31,200.

Herzman, who disclosed the two rent bills, said the bill for the furniture was contrary to the rent law.

PLANE FORCED DOWN

CARACAS (AP) — A Venezuelan transport plane returned Monday after being forced to land in Cuba by two of Fidel Castro's MIG jet fighters. The pilot and co-pilot said Cuba officials released them after brief questioning at the Camaguey airport in Cuba. The plane was returning to Miami, Fla., with cargo when the MIGs appeared.

MOSLEMS LOSE THEIR PATIENCE, SLAUGHTER 26

Native Commandos Rage Through City

ALGIERS (AP)—The European Secret Army stepped up its killing of Moslems today in retaliation for the first major Moslem terrorist attack since the March 18 cease-fire.

Nineteen Moslem men and a Moslem woman were killed in Algiers and nine Moslems wounded. The gunmen concentrated their shooting in the Hussein Dey quarter, where many Moslems live.

One European was killed and one wounded.

Police said 26 persons were killed and 88 wounded Monday by Moslem commandos who drove through Algiers with machine-guns blazing. Twenty of the dead and 76 of the wounded were European.

The Secret Army's terrorist toll Monday was 10 Moslems, three of their women.

The Moslem rampage ended only after authorities imposed a curfew in the city and ordered police to shoot on sight anyone caught on the streets. Before the violence stopped, police had killed some of the Moslem commandos and arrested a number of others.

STREETS EMPTY

By nightfall Algiers' streets were empty except for long columns of French army vehicles and heavily-guarded barricades thrown across major streets.

The Secret Army's goal has been to provoke the Moslems into reprisal attacks on European in hopes this would bring the French Army over to its side and torpedo the Evian peace agreement. But the Secret Army has failed to trigger a mass Moslem uprising, not cold - blooded killing by commando forces using the same tactics as Sieki.

Even at the height of Monday's Moslem attacks, nationalist agents roved through Moslem districts holding the people in check with the same iron discipline that has prevailed during the last two months.

The Moslem commandos' intent apparently was to warn the Secret Army—and to prod the French government into more vigorous measures to crush the European terrorism.

Politics Invades the Home As Drive Takes to Screen

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Campaigning for the June 18 federal election made its first major invasion of TV screens Monday night.

Along the CBC's 82-station English network viewers saw Prime Minister Diefenbaker and Liberal Leader Pearson during 30 minutes of prime time usually occupied by the Danny Thomas Show.

The CTV private network of eight stations presented Robert N. Thompson, the national Social Credit leader, and two prominents of the New Democratic Party.

All four filmed programs, 15 minutes each, were part of the free time being made available to the four parties.

The party leaders themselves were left to watch the operators. They were too busy with "live" appearances on public platforms across the land.

Mr. Diefenbaker and Mr. Pearson moved through separate sections of Quebec, while Mr. Thompson visited Northern Ontario, T. C. Douglas, the New Democratic Party chieftain, went after support in Britain Columbia.

Out on the hustings, the prime minister and the Liberal leader both spoke in French for a good part of their Quebec visits and both elected to say something about the Canadian dollar, pegged at 92½ cents in U.S. currency earlier this month.

Mr. Diefenbaker, who delivered half of a 25-minute speech in his Arnprior in French, said the new dollar rate will give

SGT. SAYS HE TRIED TO STOP SMUGGLING

Gives Evidence At Court Martial

OTTAWA (CP)—The message was "not to send any more chocolates."

It meant to halt shipment by indochion of string - wrapped brown paper parcels containing gold, Sgt. J. H. Champagne told a court martial Monday.

Champagne testified that he received three parcels from Mel. P. Lee although Lee wanted to call it quits after the first. He read a handwritten letter he said he received in Saigon from the major, Part of it said:

"I received your verbal message too late . . . I will send no more until I hear from you."

SEND BY POUCH

"Please send a letter for Thursday's plane . . . If you think we should send once a week by plane big (diplomatic pouch), please advise. It should be able to make 100 or so a month quite easily. If you think situation too tricky say so and we'll discontinue."

It was initialled W. A. P., said the sergeant, and bore the notation "Please burn after reading."

Sgt. Champagne was the first prosecution witness Monday following a four-point defence presentation seeking to have the case declared beyond the military court's jurisdiction. Each point was rejected. The case continues today.

Prince Philip Tells Parley To Think About People

MONTREAL (CP) — Prince Philip advised 200 business and labor leaders of the Commonwealth Monday to forget for a while about competition and think instead about people.

Delivering the keynote address to the opening session of his Second Commonwealth Study Conference, he told the conference delegates that no matter what successes they attain in other fields, they will have to be judged by their effect on the lives of individuals.

The prince, who received prolonged applause at the end of the 40-minute speech, presented this plea to the delegates:

"Spend time discussing education for industry, technical training and the youngster in his first job.

"Think also about the family with both parents working and their relationship to the community in which they live. Talk about immigrants, seasonal employment, the older worker, dying industries and worked-out mines, redundancy and resurgence of labor.

Prince Philip presented the plea in outlining the aims of the conference, of which he is president.

The official theme of the conference is the Human Consequences of the Changing Industrial Environment, a title that Prince Philip laughingly described earlier in the day as "a too big a mouthful even to remember."

As he moved up the steps to the main entrance, a group of the male students standing in nearby shouted "Vive Philippe."

The prince told the delegates that unless people who have responsibility for the lives of others have a "sense of the intermeting of a notion" of where they are going, "we shall merely blunder about and persist in making the same mistakes generation after generation."

Troops Oust Negro Strikers From Hostel With Bayonets

SALISBURY (Reuters)—While troops with fixed bayonets followed behind, police fired gas attack to clear several hundred Negro municipal workers from their lodging today after they refused to return to work in the wake of a 24-hour strike in Southern Rhodesia Monday.

The workers were cleared from their rooms in a city hostel. Hundreds of strikers massed in the hostel courtyard fled as police lobbed in gas grenades.

Then troops of the Rhodesian light infantry with fixed bayonets entered the hostel and made a room-to-room search.

Today's action came as the government announced it was rushing troops and police to another trouble spot, the town of Umtali, 130 miles southeast of here.

Disturbances in Salisbury followed a flare-up of violence Monday and early today in the city's Negro townships in which at least three Negroes were killed.

All three died in the hospital after being wounded by Negro police during the disturbances, police said. Six others were kept in hospital and one was released after treatment.

The defence ministry said a company of the all-white Rhodesia light infantry and police reinforcements were being sent to Umtali to "meet the eventuality of any troubles arising in that area."

Reports from Umtali today said disturbances there increased following arrest of L. J. Takawira, external relations officer of the banned African People's Union.

Takawira was arrested while speaking to a political rally. He was held on a charge of contravening law and order.

A report from Umtali said two Negroes were shot and wounded there while resisting arrest. Police said 10 arrests have been made in the town so far today.

A police statement said 27 Ne-

Kingston Mayor Plans New Firm So He Can Do Business With City

KINGSTON (CP)—Mayor W. T. Mills has announced plans of letting new legislation amending the Ontario Municipal Act enforce him out as Kingston's chief magistrate.

Mr. Mills told council Monday night he intends to remain in office despite his plans to form a new Office Suppliers Limited, does business with the city.

New legislation bans business between municipal bodies and firms in which municipal representatives belong in an executive capacity.

Mayor Mills said "I will create a new company to which council cannot object, and will. The new company would seek business from municipal bodies, he said.

"My business is my bread and butter. If I had to make a choice, I would resign from the council. But it appears at least from information I've received that I can continue in the direction of a new business structure that may alleviate the situation.

"Public life is tough enough as it is", he said, "without being subjected to such injustices. I had intended to submit my resignation and enjoy life once more, but the more I thought about it I become convinced a stand must be taken."

There have been a few municipal cases dealing in various parts of Ontario, he said, but they were "isolated cases."

CNR Trainmen Plan To Call Strike On June 4

10,000 Yard and Train Workers Would Be Out

OTTAWA (CP)—The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen (CLC) announced today it plans to call 10,000 yard and train employees of the CNR out on strike June 4 to back demands for higher wages.

The country-wide strike was set officially for noon, local standard time, Monday, June 4 —just 20 days from today and just two weeks before the federal election.

Union spokesmen said they are ready to open "immediate and continuous" negotiations with the CNR in an effort to avoid disruption of service on the publicly-owned railway.

The strike announcement was made in a statement issued by G. C. Cole of Montreal and W. P. Kelly of Ottawa, vice-presidents of the 19,000 - member trainmen's union.

They said local chairmen across Canada would meet tomorrow in favor of strike action against the CNR.

The walkout would involve CNR conductors, brakemen, yardmasters, switchmen, helpers, car retarder operators and switchtenders.

WAGES IS ISSUE

Key issue in the dispute, brewing since the union filed its contract demands last January, is wages.

The union originally sought an 18-per-cent pay boost.

A majority report of a federal conciliation board headed by Judge John B. Robinson of Sherbrooke, Que., recommended a 6½-per-cent pay boost, payable in five steps over a three-year contract ending May 31, 1964. The present contract expires about a year son.

A minority report, signed by Senator Arthur Roebuck of Toronto, union nominee on the three-man board, urged a settlement based on the eight-per-cent wage increase spread over two years.

Union officials said they are willing to accept the eight-per-cent increase.

At issue besides wages are a number of rule changes and fringe benefits, including changes in rules governing work jurisdictional disputes and seniority rights for yardmen and trainmen in Eastern Canada.

The majority report was signed by Judge Robinson and Company nominee A. W. Deghen of Montreal. Made public April 13, it included the official report of the board but is not binding on either party.

Judge Robinson is also chairman of another conciliation board involved in a dispute between the trainmen's union and the privately-owned CNR. This board is due to resume hearings June 11.

IN LAST GROUP

The trainmen represent the last of three groups of employees in the CNR to go on strike tracks with which the CNR is trying to reach a contract agreement. Locomotive firemen previously agreed to a three-year wage increase over a three-year period.

The non-operating workers—about 104,000 on the CNR and

Kennedy Orders 1,800 Marines Into Thailand

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy has ordered 1,800 additional U.S. marines into Thailand.

Kennedy announced his action in a statement which said that:

"These forces are to help insure the territorial integrity of this peaceful country."

The statement mentioned only the dispatch of "additional elements of the U.S. military forces, both ground and air."

An administration official said the additional elements consisted of 1,800 marines who will be landed at the Bangkok naval base at 10 a.m. EST today.

He said they are being moved in by units of the 7th Fleet.

They will supplement an army battalion of 1,600 men already in Thailand for Southeast Asia Treaty Organization manoeuvres.

Kennedy said the sending of additional U.S. forces to Thailand was considered desirable "because of recent attacks in Laos by Communist forces, and the subsequent movement of Communist military units toward the border of Thailand."

CPR—are still at the conciliation stage in their dispute with the two major carriers. These companyplaces, the ones who do not contract out, are seeking a 25-per-cent wage increase plus job security per cent.

In today's statement, Mr. Gale and Mr. Kelly said that CNR, with CNR, after the conciliation board report was made public "have made no significant results" and were adjourned May 9.

We have been without a contract for almost one year and the situation is becoming intolerable," they said.

The strike ballot was prepared by the union's 26 local chairmen, who endorsed the action at a meeting of union negotiating committee authority to reach a settlement "on such terms and conditions as may . . . be deemed advisable."

Smoke Fills Spacecraft in Orbit But It Is Just Test Exercise

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—If Malcolm Scott Carpenter had been aboard his "Aurora 7" spacecraft on its latest simulated mission, he would have been choking on fumes in orbit misses.

Control room men made several things go wrong just to show what could happen to the astronaut during the actual flight today.

Everything appeared to progress smoothly on the first orbit. Then problems popped up in rapid succession.

The attitude control system acted up, making it difficult to keep the heat shield forward. Then an inverter, an instrument which changes direct current to alternating current, overheated. Normal readings showed a minor problem with the equipment transmitting the astronaut's pulse rate.

Suddenly, the electronic clock aboard the capsule, which automatically fires the reserve rockets to bring the craft out of orbit, began losing one second every minute.

Smoke from the unknown source filled the capsule and began filtering into the pilot's pressure suit.

Aurora 7 was ordered back to earth after three orbits instead of the intended, three, and the capsule landed in the Atlantic ocean 86 miles from the planned recovery ship.

The simulation was a gem—a deadly serious game the Mercury control centre played to sharpen its ability to direct Carpenter safely through space.

Carpenter blasted off today in this simulation. His backup pilot, Walter Schirra, "flew" the land-locked capsule, including the launching phase, then monitored the flight status around the world read the part written for the astronaut during the flight.

The Mercury team has played the game more than 40 times in preparation for Carpenter's 4½-hour orbital flight, many times with Carpenter seated in the capsule now in place atop the Atlas booster rocket.

One more full dress rehearsal is scheduled Thursday.

SPEAKER CALLED AWAY FROM MEET

Local Rotarians got a first-hand insight into the life of a doctor yesterday when Dr. Ralcid Villeneuve, who was to have given his classification address, had to absent himself from the meeting due to an emergency call.

Vice-president Harry Burns conducted the meeting during which club members honored the birthdays of Enos David and Cleary Hodgson and enjoyed several sing-songs led by Jack Duncan.

Parkdale Baptists to Extend Bldg.

At the quarterly church meeting held last Wednesday evening, plans for extending the present building by 40 feet at the rear of the church, were submitted by Mr. Steve Blaicu.

The new building will provide space for a large instrumentals department as well as more rooms for all the other departments of the Sunday School.

Dr. McVicker later denied he had tried to make the vaccine program compulsory.

He said the clinic was extended to apply only to the Gregory child.

Population is about 14 miles east of Belleville.

RETURNS FOUND $18

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Eugenio Angelo Dierdiananlo of Los Angeles has sent Police Commissioner Albert Brown $18, saying he found a wallet containing that amount in Philadelphia in 1957 but did not report it. Brown says he will check to determine if the $18 loss was reported. If not, the money will go back to Dierdiananlo.

Pupil Allowed Back at School At Deseronto

DESERONTO, Ont. (CP) — Seventy-year-old Daniel Hagerman was allowed to return to Deseronto public school today.

Daniel had been sent home Tuesday after his father, Frank Gregory, refused permission for him to be given the Salk oral polio vaccine.

During the weekend the local board of education received a letter from Toronto lawyer Allan Blow, who said that neither the school principal, Peter Roach, nor the local medical officer of health, Dr. C. C. McVicker, had any right to suspend the child from classes. The lawyer said legal action would be taken if the boy was not allowed back.

Daniel was back at school this morning—without having taken the vaccine.

He was sent home after the school principal had received a letter from Dr. McVicker which said in part:

"... all pupils should take the new Salkin vaccine unless they have a signed statement from a medical doctor that it would be inadvisable for them to take the vaccine. Otherwise they will have to remain out of school until a certificate is produced."

Dr. McVicker later denied he had tried to make the vaccine program compulsory.

He said the clinic was extended to apply only to the Gregory child.

Population is about 14 miles east of Belleville.

New Telephone Directories Are Now Ready

The 1962 edition of the telephone directory for the Belleville-Trenton territory is being distributed and directories will be in the hands of subscribers by the weekend of May 18.

Mahlon Sweezey, Bell Telephone manager in the city says that in 1962 directories can be a new look this year. Replacing the green and white color combination will be turquoise and white front and back pages.

The cover illustration, too, is new. This year it shows the Prince Edward County War Memorial in Picton, replacing the 1961 illustration of the main building of Albert College.

Inside, more new features have been added to make introductory pages, containing instructions for telephone usage; covering all Bell customers in the municipalities included in the directory, and several pages of Area Code Numbers in Canada, the United States, for use in long distance calling.

Circulation of the directory this year will be 40,000. Delivery will reach more than 44,500 copies, an increase of more than 1,500 over the 1961 circulation figure.

Towns and villages covered by the directory are: Bancroft, Bicroft, Bloomfield, Brighton, Cobourg, Consecon, Delhi, Deseronto, Frankford, Gilmour, Lonsdale, Madoc, Marmora, Marmouth, Northbrook, Picton, Plevna, Stirling, Thurlow, Trenton, Tweed, Wellington and Wooler.

The directory does not go into effect until May 20, the date Belleville is converted to all-number calling and dial service.

Customers are also reminded that no long distance charges apply between Frankford, Trenton and Wooler.

TORONTO STOCKS

TORONTO (CP) — Gains outweighed losses during light morning trading on the stock market today.

Abitibi, Traves Canada Pipe Line, Imperial Oil and Aluminium all rose in a ¼ to ⅝ range, while BC Power and Interprovincial Pipe Line both gained ⅛.

Moore Corporation advanced ½, BA Oil ¼ and Consumers' Gas ⅛.

Royal Bank, Distillers Seagrams, Bell Telephone and Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce, all were off in a ⅛ to ¼ range.

On the exchange index, industrials climbed 1.77 to 603.80, base metals 1.14 at 209.27 and western oils .30 at 108.86. Golds slipped .30 to 99.41. The 11 a.m. volume was 410,000 shares compared with 718,000 at the same time Monday.

Ventures paced base metals with a gain of ⅛. Labrador rose ½, Falconbridge ⅛ and International Nickel ⅛, while Consolidated Mining and Smelting dipped ⅛.

The market snapped its extended losing streak Monday, but not before industrials had slumped to their lowest level of the year. . .

By noon, the industrial index had dropped almost four points to 597.35—its lowest since last October. Then came the sharp comeback which pushed them more than a point above Friday's closing level.

In the main list, Algoma Steel, BA Oil, Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce, Salada Foods, Imperial Oil and Toronto-Dominion Bank all closed showing gains in a ¼ to ⅜ range. Ogilvie Flour, Wholesale, A gained 1.

Interprovincial Pipe Line dropped 1, Bank of Montreal ½, Consolidated Paper ¼ and Steel Company of Canada ¼ to a year's low of 1944.

On index, industrials gained 1.02 to 602.13, base metals .72 to 208.13 and western oils .86 to 108.30. Golds slipped .48 to 81.71. Volume was 2,332,000 shares compared with 2,270,000 Friday.

Base metals featured a jumpy performance by International Nickel, which dipped to a 1962 low of 76¾ before gaining strength to close at 79¾, up 1¼. Noranda gained 1¼, Hudson's Bay Mining ¾ and Denison ⅝, while Ventures dipped ¼.

Among western oils, Hudson's Bay rose 1.

Starr Main Speaker

Lee E. Grills Unanimous Choice of Conservatives as South Hastings Candidate

The Progressive Conservative nomination convention for a standard bearer for the riding of Hastings South, moved along smoothly last night, despite a plea, plea, by its opening vocal soloist to Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker, through his unanimous election of Lee Grills as the party's candidate, via a veritable flock of nominations from every part of the riding. A crowd estimated at 800 persons, who present representing all parts of the riding, at the DCI auditorium.

Federal Labor Minister, the Hon. Michael Starr, provided the politicat thunder for the occasion with a forthright attack on the other political parties in the campaign and a stout defence of the Conservative government's record.

Noting that many candidates have yet to be announced, he warned that there existed a certain lack of interest which Conservatives should not allow to turn into apathy and urged them to put their whole-hearted effort into the election campaign for the candidate of their choice.

He accused the Liberals of not having any genuine issue to fight an election on and submitted that an issue did exist to determine whether a government elected by the people is to continue to put its policies into effect or whether the government is to be turned back to the "bureaucrats" or into the hands of a party such as the New Democratic Party whose "planning" is equivalent to "regimentation".

Mr. Starr said that the Liberals were only out to back into power so that they can turn the Canadian economy to the bureaucrats and disregard the people of Canada.

The Conservatives on the other hand, go along with the idea that if the people are not satisfied with what is being done in Ottawa they can vote out the government they have elected and accused the Liberals of ruling by bureaucrats and not by elected representatives.

The Conservative Party stands for the freedom of the individual and now stands before the people of Canada with the most massive economic and social program in Canada's history, he emphasized.

BACKWARD ATTITUDE

Mr. Starr described the New Democratic Party of a backward attitude and cited the action of its elected representative in criticizing the Conservative government's expenditures on education as being indicative of this attitude.

The Conservative Party is the only party of action in the country, he said, and "no recession" he said, commenting that the Liberals had nothing to offer and that their predictions of "gloom and doom" for up to two years ahead could only be described as useless when his own department's 143 experts could only make predictions up to four weeks ahead.

He pointed to the increase in the national average weekly wage income from $69 in 1956 to $79 in 1962 as being indicative of the beneficial effect which the government's actions had on the country's economy.

The labor minister predicted that in August of this year employment would be at its highest and emphasized that the government was fighting unemployment by the most massive public housing program in the country's history and by a series of public works projects amongst other things.

The government is prepared to deal with unemployment with all the means at its disposal, he declared.

Mr. Starr decried the opposition's claims that Canada's reputation abroad was suffering and called External Affairs Minister Howard Green "one of the big world figure in the fight for peace".

He also accused the Liberals of indecision in their criticism of the Conservative government and not knowing whether to criticize the Conservatives for doing too much or too little.

Mr. Starr defended the deficit which his government had incurred and termed the money spent as an investment in the people of Canada and not a loss. He promised that the Conservative government would continue to provide a stimulus for the economy and would continue to tackle every problem which arose.

BOOST CNE PENSIONS

He announced that after four years' consideration the Prime Minister has prevailed upon the Canadian National Railways to increase the pensions of its workers. Such increase would not, of course, be retroactive for those already on pension, he advised.

Mr. Starr emphasized that the Conservative plan to promote free enterprise and to protect the rights of the individual and would not interfere in Saskatchewan is the type of dictatorship which may be expected from the socialists in Canada, he exclaimed.

The labor minister concluded by promising that jobs would be supplied for every Canadian who wished to work. Those present gave him a standing ovation for his address.

Lee Grills, again the Conservative standard bearer for the riding, accepted his unanimous nomination with mixed feelings — all good" and expressed his sincere gratefulness and humility for "the position of responsibility which you have given me."

Ever since his election in 1958 his one ambition has been to be the most useful representative he could be, Mr. Grills stated. He stated that he was not trying to outdo anyone but sought to be useful to everyone and expressed his appreciation to those present for "the biggest thank you possible" they had given him for his past services they intended to him their unanimous support.

Mr. Grills said that during his last tenure of office he had not moved out of the riding to Ottawa and that his thoughts were always "home" there. He stated that he always sought to keep the riding in the forefront at Ottawa and that, without going into the details "as you already know" he was the first MP to represent Canada at the Canadian Exhibition

Fountain of Youth—And Problems

Dr. Hans Selye, the Montreal research scientist who is already world famous for his theory of stress and the paramount role he believes it plays in diseases and disorders, is well launched in exciting search for basic facts.

This time, if he is successful, he hopes to ascertain why certain substances appear to induce premature aging or to retard this process.

If he finds the answers to his questions, it may be possible one day to restore youth to the old, or at least to retard the aging process.

Dr. Selye is not the first scientist to conduct experiments which might eventually lead to such a development. It is one of the oldest dreams of man. Long before Ponce de Leon, other adventurers sought the fountain of youth.

Few men, either today or yesterday, seem to have spent any time considering the fearful problems which would attend such a discovery. The ancients may be excused. In their day, circumstances would have made these problems less acute. But there is scant excuse today, when we have already had a foretaste of the nature of some of these problems, because of the success of scientists in reducing mortality rates and extending the average life span.

Although he is experimenting in this field, Dr. Selye's responsibility in this matter is no greater, and no less, than that of all the rest of us. He is engaged in basic research, seeking only to ascertain the facts about unknown, as a research scientist has every right to be, with the uses to which a knowledge of these facts may be put by others. But let us suppose, for a moment, that as a result of his research man is one day able to extend life, in a state of physical and mental vigor, indefinitely.

The world is already getting overcrowded, as the result of the success of other scientists in combatting various causes of death. If the people who are already on this earth could be kept permanently youthful, there would be little or no room for a new generation.

Would we really want a world where there were no babies, no toddlers, no marble-playing boys, no doll-cuddling girls, no mooning couples stricken by calf-love, no middle aged people growing fat and mellow or thin and cranky, no old men endlessly repeating stories of yesteryear, no grey-haired grandmothers?

Even if we were ready to accept such a world as the price of our continued existence and participation in its affairs, would it be a progressive world, a happier world? One may be tempted to say yes. It is a maxim widely accepted, especially amongst the aging, that years bring wisdom. But is this true? Do not new discoveries, new literature, new music, new social mores, all demand new blood? Without this new blood, would not the world stagnate?

Of course, we will have to have our new blood and our everlasting life, too. This would necessitate continually culling out the existing population, deciding who was to be denied the youth serum and allowed to age and depart. What process would the reader suggest be followed? Who should be weeded out? The rich? The famous? The productive? The wise? The happy? What would the burden of making such decisions do to those entrusted with the task? If birth control is today considered by some to be immoral, what chances are there this decision would not be considered as such?

Perhaps, after all, death is the last great gift which man cannot afford to do without.

June 18 Test

Mrs. Dorothea Leighton, a Cornell University scientist, conducted a study in an unidentified Canadian county. As a result, she concluded that one-third of the population was significantly impaired by mental disorder. Before one dismisses this contention as ridiculous, one might reflect on the fact that on June 19 more than two-thirds of a select group of Canadians, above average in intelligence, will be willing to certify that a clear majority of the Canadian people are nuts. Successful candidates who will have other views on the matter will be in the decided minority.

Carabid beetles, ladybird larvae, centipedes and spiders are, by and large beneficial; but they go about their business of doing good in a spirit of vindictive puritanism, which makes them unlovable.

Snails, by contrast, have no pretensions to virtue, but because they crawl slowly about doing wrong in an amiable and slightly guilty way one is almost inclined to forgive them.—Martin Wells, Demonstrator in Zoology at Cambridge University.

Ottawa Offered Liberals Fail to Make Most Of Small But Powerful Team

BY RICHARD JACKSON
(Of the Ontario Intelligencer's Ottawa Bureau)

OTTAWA.— Isn't it strange that in this election campaign which rests as much as it does, as well on making use of their best asset . . . the Opposition "team" in the House of Commons.

It isn't a big team.

But it's pretty good.

It comprises . . . .

Paul Martin, canny old politi-cal pro of nearly a quarter century in Ottawa, quotable and good humored, and by no means a stupid man; Ernest Lapointe, prime ministers, well and favorably known from one end of the country to the other, a man of tremendous talent for politi-cal . . . .

J. W. (Nod-so-lofty John) Pickersgill, one-time "flock-room Boy," who, under two prime ministers, ruled Parliament Hill as the somewhat mod-ified throne, a tough, dang-er and the rest.

This is a "team." The Liberals have also, too, but for some difficult - to understand reason, seem to prefer to keep it confidential.

Change Style On New Liners

St. Thomas Times-Journal

The directors of the Cunard White Star Line announce that when the Queen Mary and Queen Elizabeth are retired, they will not be replaced by similar ships but by smaller ships with cafeteria service. Anyone who has crossed the Atlantic in a big liner and taken part in a conducted tour of the ship must have been astonished at the gigantic size of the kitchens, the dining rooms stretching from side to side. They take up a great deal of space, and a more compact system of cooking, and eating, will enable a smaller number of passengers to be carried in less space.

The world probably mean cheaper fares, because the ship could be handled with a smaller retinue of waiters who would not have the elaborate meals to serve that are a feature of the big liners. Passengers would be served cafeteria style. They would pay for what they select and eat, not for meals they did not have.

By that, we recall the experience of a young lady who sat opposite us at a dining table. She was in the shorthand class after leaving Liverpool and did not see her again until a week later when she was sailing up the St. Lawrence. But she—or rather her father who had returned up for all meals—had paid for a week's board she did not have.

Haunting Inequality

Montreal Gazette

There are many ways of illustrating the inequality that exists among the nations of the earth. Among them is the estimate of life expectancy.

Today in Canada the life expectancy of a male child is 59 years, and of a female child, 73 years. But in India neither male nor female child has a life expectancy much beyond 32 years.

The difference between the figures comprises not only the expectancy of years, but rather all that goes to favor life expectancy. The difference is striking — and haunting.

Strength for the Day

DR. EARL L. DOUGLASS

WHY GROW OLD?

Why should we grow old? What makes people old? Doctors have many answers to questions such as these. There can be no doubt that certain deteriorations take place in the human structure as the years pass, producing gray hair and feeble bones, trembling hands, stiff joints, dull ears, and eyes that have lost power of their vision.

But there is undoubtedly a psychological aspect to the situation also. We cannot stay young simply by determining that we will be young, whether or no, but certainly we can make ourselves old by dwelling too much on our selling powers. Those who believe in the sovereignty of God do not doubt but that the moment of their departure from earth is determined and arranged by God, but how we are going to live before that time arrives is something that is largely up to us. If we eat too much, worry too much, long to have people wait on us, and give in on all occasions to irritation and anger, we may shorten our days old prematurely. If we strive to live a useful life, continue our activity to the very limit of the reasonable, be cheerful, take an interest in our fellows, and love all men, we may expect to live long.

A man was telling recently about the passing away of a man almost a hundred, "And did he die of old age?" someone asked. "Oh, no," was the reply, "he fell out of an apple tree."

Unheralded and unsung, members of the Citizens' Committee of the Women's Canadian Club here, have been doing a most splendid piece of work during the past seven months. Proof of their success and untiring efforts is seen in the fact that over $1,000 has been turned over to the Belleville Hospital. Finally, the job reached such proportions that the committee found it necessary to continue. They have surrendered their charter, but have done so with all flags flying; they have set a splendid example of patriotic endeavor.

Many Debates Colossal Waste To All Involved

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

Not long ago, I served as the moderator of a panel discussion sponsored by the local society of architects. It was part of an all-day conference on the problems of urban living.

What distinguished this session from so many others was that the participants were not only architects, but also city planners, housing officials, land economists, designers, builders, developers and engineering leaders.

This sort of cross-pollination is badly needed in every profession. Too often, members of a profession, for business or craft) spend most of their time talking at one another, nurturing stroking their egos, or emitting futile complaints, which nobody but themselves hear.

So many trade conferences, professional conventions, and such assemblages are a colossal waste of time for all involved — exactly because they fail to effective communication between the different groups and groups. The different stands, for instance, taken by the American Medical Association and the American Hospital Association indicate the lack of understanding between groups even in closely related fields.

In some of our arts and universities, there is now arising a movement to do away with "interdisciplinary studies." All this formidable phrase means is that you don't study any one subject if you know only your subject well. But a group of one's subject involves knowing how it relates to other subjects and how they all fit together to make a sensible whole.

Conventions usually leave the impression of caring little about the real purposes of the conferences often seem to think more of geometry than of people. Developers and mortgage men talk in terms of "units" exclusively in terms of money. Yet it is impossible to have a flourishing city or community unless all these factors are judiciously balanced and sensibly inter-related.

This insularity reminds me of a story I heard many years ago about the three men who were praising the glories of their respective professions — a doctor, an architect, and an economist.

"Mine is the most venerable of professions," exclaimed the doctor. "It's obviously the oldest — in the Bible, Eve was created from a rib of Adam, which was the first surgical operation."

"That's nothing," retorted the architect. "Long before that, in the Book of Genesis, it says that order was brought out of Chaos. An architectural job, of course."

The economist merely smiled and inquired blandly, "But, gentlemen, who do you think was responsible for the chaos?"

Pityriasis Rosea Common Unexplained Skin Disorder

Dear Dr. Moiner: Please write about the skin disease, pityriasis. If it is not contagious, how might one get it? — R.M.W.

There — another question that exposes our complete ignorance about the skin.

Pityriasis rosea (pity-ry-ah-sis rose — ee-ah) is a common but unexplained skin disorder that affects women more than men, is commoner from fall to spring, and for some reason starts on the covered parts of the body, usually the trunk. Itchiness stopped. It is a by spread in patchy fashion.

It's not dangerous but is a nuisance and can be scarey if you don't know what it is, and it can last from 10 days to 10 weeks. Then it usually disappears.

Technically pityriasis seems to be an acute inflammation of the skin, but of unknown cause in comparison to erysipelas or boil.

Researchers have been unable to find any sign that it is contagious; neither have they been able to find a cause. We suspect that a virus or such organism may be responsible.

Since it occurs on covered part of the body, the surface, your former sister in law, maybe you can turn the tables by demanding that she be sent where germs are supposed to brew said. She might get tired of that pretty soon, and admit that she's been making this up.

Full My leaflet, "The Lost Secret of Medicine," will show you how to get rid of it the easy way. For your copy write to Dr. Molner in care of the Chicago Sun-Times Syndicate, P.O. Box 128, Dundee, Ill., enclosing a long, self-addressed, unstamped envelope and 10c in coin to cover handling and postage.

Dear Dr. Molner: I've heard it is possible to contaminate an individual with an injection needle even though it has been sterilized, but can't remember being the hepatitis germ. I know there is safety in using injection, but should a private citizen insist on a doctor using disposable needles, good idea, or that is time only? — J.B.

I disagree with the idea that a properly sterilized needle can transmit germs, because the very term, sterilized, means removal of all living organisms, including hepatitis germs.

The air-injection method is used by the armed services (and by heads of pharmacies, etc.) because it is efficient for large numbers of inoculations. The equipment is too expensive for ordinary use. (A small hypodermic air-injection injector is being developed and may be on the market in less than a year.)

Disposable needles are excellent and I've used a good many of them myself. Thrown away after one use, they save the labor of sterilizing. But a properly sterilized regular needle is entirely safe.

Dear Dr. Molner: A friend of mine says she has a "spastic colon." Can you tell me what this is and what can be done for it? — R.K.

This isn't in the books. You and I are equally in the dark. So let's leave it to her and to her doctor.

Dear Dr. Molner: My sister and I are teenage girls who share the same bedroom. She says I talk in my sleep and say all sorts of things I would never think about doing, and even tell about places and things I have been and haven't been. I believe all this stuff which makes me feel awful. Could it be that I'm about to lose my mind? I try not to show it but I'm getting terribly worried. — R.N.

Sure your sister isn't teasing you? It's difficult to understand what a "sleep-talker" is saying. Much of it is just a mumble. And no, don't worry about your mind. One of my former sister in teasing, maybe you can turn the tables by demanding that she be sent where germs are supposed to brew said. She might get tired of that pretty soon, and admit that she's been making this up.

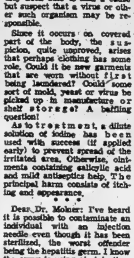
THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

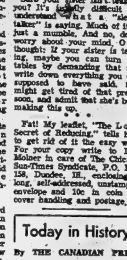
One of my colleagues had discovered an interesting way of dealing with those relatives and friends, mostly women, but not always, who look upon the telephone as a free convenience and indulge in half-hour or five-o-quarter-hour-long gabfests each day with their office.

After trying for nearly an hour to break in on the busy lines with sizzle-hot messages in order to convey some small but urgent domestic message, he at last found a way. He had, it will be recollected that his sister-in-law is a devotee of Mary Belafonte, who was appearing in town at the moment.

So, he called, said, "I'm so sorry! I succeeded in getting two tickets for Belafonte for tonight, since I find I can't use them tonight, I've been calling and calling you; but I finally had to give them to a girl in the office here."



The effect was all he hoped for. He then conveyed the domestic message. A week later, meeting the same circumstances, his sister-in-law again being glued to the phone for the better part of an hour, he regretted, on at last getting through, that the line was trying to get her to ask her if she would a friend of hers could use two tickets for Belafonte, who was appearing in town at the moment.



"Gosh, no," she said, "I'm so sorry! I succeeded in getting two tickets for Belafonte for tonight, since I find I can't use them tonight, I've been calling and calling you; but I finally had to give them to a girl in the office here."

Capital Works Program For Next 5 Years Approved, Net Cost to Be $3,500,000

A five-year capital works program amounting to $15,- 132,000 has been approved by Belleville city council and will now go to the Ontario Municipal Board for department approval. The works program was submitted to council by city manager J. R. Reynolds.

The cost of the initial phase of the city's sewage disposal program has already been approved by the Municipal Board.

Over the five-year period, public works capital costs are the biggest item on the program with such costs estimated at $6,421,300. Of this amount $1,063,000 is slated for this year.

Total capital works cost for the city this year is listed as $1,790,500. Already approved or before the board are projects for this year costing $2,134,435.

Expenditure for 1963 is estimated at $3,540,100; for 1964, $2,800,100; for 1965, $3,018,500, and for 1966, $1,981,100.

Next in public works the biggest item on the capital works list is provision for a new hospital or hospital addition, $3,500,000 CITY SHARE.

An amount of three-and-a-half million dollars is tentatively estimated as the city's share of this cost.

In the five-year period it is expected that $450,000 will be spent on public schools, $1,000,- 000 on high schools, $2,345,000 on water services, and $1,605,- 000 on extension of electric services.

The city's debenture debt at the beginning of 1962 is given as $1,626,760 with a debt to assessment ratio of 12.8 and a per capita debt of $126.50.

If all the proposed capital works are approved by the municipal board and actually carried out by the city, Belleville's debenture debt by 1966 will have increased to an estimated $19,701,436 and the per capita debt to $364.

SECOND STAGE NEXT YEAR.

Installation of sewage trunks and plant as the second stage of the sewage project is scheduled for next year.

Three new bridges over the Moira are also included in the several programs.

A big item in the capital program for public works in the next few years will be installation of sanitary sewers to connect up the entire city with the new sewage disposal plant.

To be installed this year are connecting sewers in the west and annexed area of the city and also in the Parkdale area.

Last night council received a report from the city engineering department estimating costs of installing sewers in the Parkdale area at $350,000 of which the city's share would be approximately $70,000. Tenders will be advertised for the project to be called shortly.

The St. Eyeaithe meeting drew 1,500 people to the new church hall, half of them standees, with another 300 outside listening to a public address system.

Mr. Diefenbaker called it a "tremendous" meeting which showed that voter interest was rising.

Several hundred rallies to the north, Mr. Douglas told a audience of 850 at Jonquiere that devaluation of the dollar showed Canada was passing through an acute financial crisis.

"CRISIS CONFIDENCE"

"The exporter, the industrialist, the merchant and the farmman all have lost confidence in a government which, hardly more than a month ago, undertook solemnly not to fix the dollar at a set rate on the American dollar," he said.

The Liberal leader also declared that there is "a tide of opinion sweeping the country" in favor of the Liberals. "From this campaign the Liberal party will emerge victorious if we have the will and the work, and we have both."

Mr. Thompson was in the gold mining centre of Kirkland Lake where he warned against trading individual freedom for government-guaranteed security.

The Social Credit leader attacked socialism and called for reduced taxation to encourage private business initiative. "Canada was born with a cry for freedom, not with the cry of security," he said.

At Cranbrook, B.C., Mr. Douglas pictured his New Democratic Party as the only one able to properly develop Canadian economy for the common good.

BLAME POLICIES

He said patchwork policies by the federal government had resulted in a concentration of investment in some parts of Canada while other areas were starved for capital development.

Mr. Douglas said the NDP would create a federal development fund to help Canadians throw off foreign control.

Elsewhere on the campaign scene cabinet ministers were in action.

Trade Minister Hees told a Quebec City meeting that the free trade proposals of the Liberal party should rule much of Canada's secondary industry and damage agricultural production.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY

"Not guilty, sir," said Mal. Platt in a firm clear voice when finally asked to plead. He told the court, in brief testimony on the application for non-trial, that he had been with the Royal Canadian Artillery 23 and 24 years, that he came home from Indochina about last Dec. 1 and that he had a wife at Kingston, Ont.

Mal. Platt is the first officer of the defence staff, although one other's name popped up Monday.

The detailed charge said Mal. Platt last October and November had "counselled and participated in the improper transportation of gold or parcels he considered to contain gold. . . ."

This involved the use of other members of subordinate rank, it said, listing Capt. G. A. Aitchison, Cpl. G. A. West and Sgt. J. R. R. Fournier.

Cpl. West has already been court-martialled. There was no indication Monday that the two others have been or will be subject to charges.

Youth Fined On Conviction For Assault

A 20-year-old Belleville youth, Thomas Hill of S. John ward, was fined $50 and costs in city court here this morning when he was found guilty by the magistrate on a charge of assault.

Hill was arrested by city police after a complaint was received from his step-mother.

Evidence was that Hill came home one evening and after having had an argument with his step-mother, struck her in the face with his fist.

Inspector J. Sandilands said Mrs. Hill received minor injuries so her home was the result of Hill's attack, but did not require medical attention.

Hill, who is presently on probation, was told by Magistrate Wills to watch himself, otherwise he would be in trouble for breach of his probation and would end up in a higher court.

Crown Attorney John Pringle said he did not think the offence was great enough to warrant a breach of recognizance and suggested a fine be imposed.

Council Holds Line on Limit On Service Stations in City

The number of gasoline service station locations in the city will continue to be restricted to six, members of city council have decided.

Yesterday at their regular bimonthly meeting council members by a vote of 7 to 2 turned down a by-law which would have rescinded the present by-law limiting the number of stations to six.

The request to rescind the restrictive by-law was made to council two weeks ago when a Trenton resident whose name was withheld appeared before council with a petition signed by 41 operators of gasoline stations in the city.

The petition was presented by Ald. Cecil Daily noted that of the 55 stations in the city four already were vacated. The speaker also was critical of the fact that valuable property being controlled by one line of business and as oil companies.

"If you break this by-law now it will be but a start in breaking down all our protective laws," he warned.

Several city councillors spoke in support of the delegation with Alderman Jack Treland suggesting the matter be given further consideration. He said that one way there were many financial difficulties for some operations and more could be expected to close.

Others speaking against the by-law included Aldermen George Wishart, Les Digby and William Stewart.

The latter two councillors felt that something should be done about the four idle service stations permitted, referring to the Trent Road man who wished to establish a service station but could not do so.

Alderman Digby suggested that when a service station was closed the permit should revert back to the city and not be sold to the highest bidder.

Acting Mayor Ben Corke doubted whether council had the right to pass the rescinding by-law in view of the operators' petition.

To Enlarge Sewer Outlet As Bid Below Estimate

City council is providing for future population expansion in the size of the outfall into the bay for the new sewage disposal plant installation.

Yesterday council approved of the tender of A. McGall for the low tender for the originally proposed 30-inch outfall was only the start of what had been estimated by consulting engineers Gore and Storrie. In view of this it had been suggested the larger pipe, with approximately double the capacity, be installed.

Grant-Mills Ltd., whose tender for the 30-inch pipe had been $60,872.50, was asked to submit a price on the 36-inch pipe.

STILL BELOW NEXT BID

He said that the company's tender for the larger pipe was still about $6,000 below the bid on the 30-inch pipe by the second lowest tender.

Alderman Ellis said the entire sewage plant project had been designed in the view of expansion as the city's population grew.

He stated that the 30-inch outfall pipe originally planned would have been inadequate and station expansion for ten years while the 36-inch pipe now to be installed could be expected to take care of city expansion of possibly up to 100,000 persons.

Colonel also approved the tender of the Lightfoot Construction Company of Belleville for installation of the force main from the Pavement's Park pumping station to the sewage treatment plant in Forte Ward.

DIE HOUR APART

(ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — John Fiton, 50, suffered a heart attack at a factory Monday and died in the arms of a fellow worker. The other, John Mall, 52, went home complaining that he felt ill. He died of a heart attack about an hour later.

gress were injured by gangs of intimidators. Of these, 14 men and two women were admitted to hospital and 11 persons were discharged after treatment.

The trouble broke out in several Negro townships near here about the same time that a Belgian, British minister for economic affairs, Harold Wilson, was meeting the future of the Rhodesias with government ministers.

Disturbances came in the wake of a 24-hour general strike Monday by the African Trade Union Congress to protest "working conditions and lack of freedom of speech and assembly."

Observers said the strike was linked with a boycott of Rhodesia's visit by the leading Southern Rhodesia African Nationalist party, the Zimbabwe African People's Union, led by Joshua Nkomo.

MAGISTRATE

Earlier, Magistrate Joseph Addison denied an allegation that he once had been offered $50,000 in an attempt to influence his judgment in a gambling case.

However, he said he got two calls in 1950 during the trial of Max Bloestein, a big Toronto gambling figure, and Samuel Bindes and Joseph Seiden, on bookmaking charges, on which he was convicted.

One morning Bloestein called him very early and told him he was "getting out of the gambling business." The magistrate assumed he was trying to put his best foot forward, as it were.

VOICE IS AGITATED

Thirty seconds after this call, a "very agitated voice" called him and he thought it was Bindes or Gentiles and another for Jews. When he said he had not, the caller said: "We'll see with Maurice Baker (an occasional pseudonym of Mr. Bloestein) today."

Magistrate Addison also told of another call in 1959, while trying a Toronto Parliament Finnish Club here on a gaming charge, from a man purporting to be lawyer Gerald Herman. The caller said he would appreciate any consideration shown toward Pleschuk.

The magistrate said he told the caller he would give consideration to any evidence in Pleschuk's favor. Pleschuk was convicted and sentenced to three months and a $1,000 fine.

Supports Active Candidate

Hockey Great Bob Hull Winger for Bob Temple

Bobby Hull, star of the Chicago Black Hawks, announced his support of Robert Temple, Liberal candidate for the riding of Hastings South, yesterday. The blond bomber of the National Hockey League ice rink will be taking an active part as a speaker on Mr. Temple's behalf at a number of political rallies throughout the riding during the remaining five weeks of the campaign. His opening address will be at Deseronto a week this Wednesday.

The local hockey great said that he was taking Mr. Temple's keen interest in the future of the youth of the country in both sport and education.

The Liberal candidate is well known for his sponsorship of the famous Belleville Bobcats softball team over a number of years and his promise to fight for better educational opportunities for Canadian youth.

Mr. Temple advocates free tuition for any student in any institution of learning, whether it be a technical, agricultural or trades school or a university. He has emphasized that no student should be denied an advanced education because of family or personal financial circumstances.

To ensure that such does not occur, Mr. Temple has pledged himself to fight for the establishment of a government fund which would give interest loans to any student who has shown by merit of a number of political rallies throughout the riding during the remaining five weeks of the campaign. His opening address will be at Deseronto a week this Wednesday.

Rambler American Custom 4 Door Sedan

Rambler Classic "400" 4 Door Sedan

Rambler Ambassador "400" 4 Door Sedan

When other major manufacturers have so many sizes and models why does Rambler offer only 3?

The market has been flooded with cars of every shape and size. There are small cars, compact cars, medium-size cars and large cars. In spite of this, our competitors continue to add new models each year. We feel they know the public wants sensibly-sized cars but are reluctant to drop existing lines. We have no such problem.

We went into this field because we knew the kind of car you were looking for. And we continue to build only sensibly-sized cars because we believe in them. We offer only three Ramblers. The economical American, Canada's lowest priced compact, the all-purpose Classic with $1,000 worth of extras and the luxurious Ambassador V-8 that gives you top performance. We believe that from these three you may choose the car you want and need.

From the introduction of our first Rambler, we have stressed maximum usefulness to the user. Our guiding policy has been "no change for the sake of change". And this included costly styling changes. Rather than add to the variety of models and sizes, we have concentrated on major improvements.

This year we added self-adjusting Double-Safety brakes, found only on Cadillac among North American cars. And we have provided a factory installed battery and coolant, both guaranteed for two years. In addition, we have been able to substantially reduce our prices while giving you these extra values.

For an outstanding example of sanity in the showroom, visit your Rambler dealer soon. Take a test drive in Rambler, Canada's best all 'round car value.

1000 Guides, Brownies Attend Rally

WHITE'S DISTRICT — A large number of Brownies, Guides, captains and assistants attended the Girl Guide and Brownie Rally at Trenton Community Gardens on Saturday evening, from the Bayside district.

Officers included Bayside District Commissioner Mrs. George Carver; Guide Captain, Mrs. Ross Fuhrer; Brownie leaders, Mrs. Clifford Miller, and Mrs. Ronald Howe; and assistants, Mrs. Gordon Ash, Mrs. Reg Jones, Mrs. George Miller and Mrs. Gordon Bateman. There were approximately 900 Guides and 500 Brownies assembled, from the surrounding districts. The Bayside Guides were from Frankford, Sprig, and the Bayside Brownies sang, "We are the Bayside Brownies", as we marched in the marching and other numbers of the program. It was a successful and enlarging evening.

Alpha Group Discusses Church Govt.

The Alpha group of St. Columba Presbyterian Women held its May meeting at the Church building, recently.

Miss Anole Logan, who was in charge of the devotional period, read the Scripture lesson and also led in prayer. A poem entitled, "Until" was also read by Miss Logan.

The group chairman, Mrs. N. Hutchinson, welcomed the members present and read a poem, "Mother Love" in commemoration of Mother's Day.

The Missionary program was presented by Mrs. J. Burke, who with the use of charts, explained the government of the Presbyterian Church in Canada. A local parish is governed by the Kirk-Session with minister as moderator. Their responsibility is the discipline of the congregation. Presbyteries comprise both lay and cleric representatives of each church.

There are 46 Presbyteries in Canada which are divided into eight synods. All Presbyteries and synods have representation to the General Assembly which meets annually the first week of June. The General Assembly decrees all phases of church activity.

W.M.S. COUNCIL

The W.M.S. Council governs the activities of the W.M.S. family, which includes all afternoon and evening groups, the C.G.I.T., Explorers and the C.O.C. groups.

The Welfare Division (which includes the Belleville area) has a membership of 30,000 women.

The Missions Board governs the work of the Home Missions in Canada as well as the various foreign missions.

This part of the meeting proved to be most interesting and educational.

Mrs. N. Hutchinson, group chairman was in charge of a short business meeting. The success of different projects was reported. The Welcome and Welfare committee announced that 14 visits had been made. Members were reminded of the special summer offer of the "Glad Tidings". It was also announced that the next meeting would be a pot-luck supper to be held late in May at the home of Mrs. K. D. Taylor, MacDonald Avenue.

Following the adjournment of the meeting, coffee was enjoyed with Mrs. William Bowles as hostess.

CHRISTIAN FAMILY SERVICE

WHITE'S DISTRICT — Christian Family Sunday service was held at the Church of the members of the Church and Sunday School, in Trenton Church on Sunday morning with the Rev. T. Y. Townsend in charge. Mr. Albert Kerr, Mr. Albert Jones, superintendent.

The junior choir contributed "Little Feet, Be Careful," and the adult choir rendered "Walking in the Light, Beautiful Light of God," with Mrs. W. A. Ash at the organ.

The Misses Donna Thompson and Brenda Yeiman took the offering. Mr. Walter Murray Shiels gave out the offering envelopes. The gifts were sent to the Ontario Council of Christian Education for the training of leaders for the youth work of Canadian churches, camps for boys and girls and for church vacation schools.

Mrs. Glen Stickle read the responsive Psalm 145 and the Scripture from Isaiah and Matthew.

A lovely basket of mixed flowers placed in front of the altar in memory of the late Mrs. Rowe Rose helped to add beauty to the service.

NEIGHBORS' AID

SINE TRUHLOW — The Neighbors' Aid held the opening meeting of the month at the home of Mrs. Ernest Hall, to Mrs. E. Jeffery having moved to Cobourg. Mrs. Bruce Ford in the chair presided and elected president and took charge of the meeting.

The secretary, Mrs. M. Dent read the minutes and correspondence, and thank-you notes. A vote of thanks was moved to Mrs. Earl Gerlie and Mrs. Ronald Atkins, hostesses for the evening. Mrs. Ford as treasurer gave the financial report and it was noted that the May 18th election will be held at the Town Hall, and that a pot-luck dinner will be held at the May meeting and a quilt will be ready to quilt at that time. Mrs. Earl Gerlie and Mrs. Stratton and Mrs. Kent will be hostesses and arranged the program for the June meeting.

Mrs. E. T. Boldrick and Mrs. Douglas Atkins served the following program: community singing with Mrs. K. Mitchell at the piano and Mrs. R. Atkins as leader; reading — Mrs. K. Mitchell; solos — Misses Marlene and Carolyne Mitchell; instrumental — Nancy Boldrick; reading — Mrs. C. Judson and Mrs. K. Mitchell and Mrs. Robert Atkins conducted the singing.

Lunch was served by Mesdames E. Grills, R. Boldrick, Ron Atkins and a social time was enjoyed.

Women's Institute

SHATTERTON W. I.

The May meeting of the Shatterton Women's Institute was held at the Sidney Baptist Church with 16 members and 13 visitors present.

The president, Mrs. Lorne Reid, opened the meeting. The roll call was answered by "How I Keep Healthy by Being a Member of the W.I." Mrs. Reid welcomed the many visitors to the meeting and a community singing was then enjoyed.

Mrs. Ben Sherry gave the treasurer's report for the past year and the auditor's report was given by Mrs. Albert Jot.

Further plans were made concerning the district annual which is to be held at Sidney Baptist Church in June.

Mrs. B. Mitts gave a reading entitled, "Reflections," which was followed by a reading by Mrs. G. Irvine entitled "The Affair Hatrick."

The guest speaker, Miss Jane Fry who was introduced by Mrs. G. Irvine, gave an interesting and informative talk on "The Bishop of Women's Institutes." She also gave some points on how to do good membership as an institute as well as a reading entitled, "Be Yourself."

Several photographs of the district camp of C.I.W.I. were enjoyed by all.

A delicious lunch was served and a social time enjoyed.

Dr. J. Hastings Compares Russian Y. P. Outlook With That of Canadian Youth

The regular meeting of the St. Julien Chapter was held at the home of Mrs. Thompson, Catherine St., Following the business meeting, Reg. Sisk said prayer of the order, the immediate business of the evening, according to the Regent, Mrs. R. Patterson and all departmental reports. Educational Secretary, Mrs. Charles Cox, announced plans were finalized for members given by the Lieutenant Governor of Ontario at Queen's Park.

On May 23rd the members of St. Julien and Argyle Chapters will be joint hostesses at a tea held in the armouries for the new citizens receiving their naturalization papers at this court.

Mrs. H. Thompson reported the completion of another successful session of the Junior Mrs. K. Putnam and Mrs. J. Doyle, the happy workers.

The highlight of the evening was the report of the Provincial annual meeting held recently in Hamilton. A condensation of the address delivered by Mrs. R. Ellis and Mrs. Charles Cox follows.

Mrs. R. Ellis, Hastings, president of the Provincial Chapter, I.O.D.E., in her speech on the opening day of the annual conference, in Hamilton, stressed the fact that "I.O.D.E. members do not need to join the airport travel group that have been springing up, proclaiming 'peace' as their aim. The Junior Red Cross, for example is broad, varied and well established.

Mrs. Morrison mentioned such projects as clothing for children in Korea, parties for Commonwealth students, the sending of school books to schools in foreign countries, and assistance to university students. Nearly there are 14 settlements in peace, "the conference".

LIFE MEMBERSHIP

Among the names of the 30 life members of the Provincial chapter honored with life memberships were noted: Mrs. H. Thompson, St. Julien Chapter; Mrs. G. M. Miller, Argyll Chapter, both of Belleville and Mrs. J. O. Benor, Campbellford, provincial councillor for the region.

Mrs. R. B. McMahon, educational secretary, reported over $146,000 spent in educational work in Ontario this year. More than 1000 students received financial aid from the order.

A new project this year is the Canadian Girl in India and Eskimo schools in the far north. The order hopes eventually to adopt all of these.

Over $177,000 was spent in service at Home and Abroad, reported Mrs. J. A. Stuart, provincial secretary for this department. Over 160 cases of clothing were sent overseas, but the great part of the money was spent in services to hospitals, institutions, camps, children's aid and relief work in local communities within the province.

OUTSTANDING ADDRESS

The outstanding address of the convention was given by Dr. J. Hastings, associate professor of public health and preventive medicine of the University of Toronto's School of Hygiene. Describing in personal and professional terms, situations he had seen when he was in the world tour sponsored by the World Health Organization, he compared them with equivalent situations in Canada.

Speaking in homes for senior citizens established by the Scandinavian countries, he commended them for placing their homes in the centre of the town or community, where the elderly people are close to the churches, stores, friends and families which had always been an large a part of their lives. "In Canada, these homes are so often built out in the country, and the elderly people become confused, bewildered and lonely when they are withdrawn from old familiar things," he said.

In Russia, Dr. Hastings found among the young people an attitude of dedication, excitement and challenge to conquer new territory and to make that world a better place in which to live. He contrasted this mentality with the Canadian young people who seem to have "wandered aimlessly" towards life, who appear to desire only enough education for their jobs, to find a good job which will offer them security and the amenities of comfortable living.

Dr. Hastings commended the I.O.D.E. for its work among foreign students in this country, and asked the delegates to demonstrate to people of other countries that Canada wants them as friends and people whom they like and respect.

'Mother Hen' Is Former Social Worker

MONTREAL (CP)—"Mother Hen" to 300 delegates of the Duke of Edinburgh's Second Commonwealth Study Conference is a former social worker from Toronto.

Catherine McLean, officially known as the conference secretary, is called on to deal with problems ranging from special diets of members to advice on hair styles.

All delegates entering the new men's residence at McGill University Monday were met with a handshake and a smile by the secretary.

Dispatched by her mothering chores, Miss McLean expects to be dealing with "just cries" from here on in. Travelling across Canada with the group, she'll be keeping track of the members needs, arranging sightseeing tours and making herself useful around the clock.

Now in "freelance education" Miss McLean served for five years as executive secretary for the Canadian Institute of Public Affairs, sponsor of the annual Couchiching Conference.

For delegate Mary Swann, the conference's main appeal is the chance it offers "to see how Canadians live and play."

A silk weaver from Lancashire, England, and part-time secretary for the Lancashire Weavers Association in Preston, England, Miss Swann said that when she returns home, she will report on the study conference as the stiffest recruitment and speak to women's clubs.

Dressing With Elegance Not Question of Money

By PEGGY MASON

PARIS (Reuters) — Dressing with elegance is not a question of money, says smart Frenchwomen's fashion designers.

In Paris, where the cult of personal appearance is on a par with an appreciation of fine arts, the theory is that while some women are born with a unique flair for fashion, others can acquire it.

"A woman can be essentially elegant in a pair of blue jeans," said the young Vicomtesse Jacqueline de Ribes, well known for her personal good taste and last year voted one of the world's 12 best dressed women. She believes that fashion is a question of knowing one's own style—and sticking to it.

The vicomtesse says being well dressed is the antithesis of being over-dressed. Likewise, it has nothing to do with elaborate furs, jewels, or rich brocades and embroideries. "Fashions may change, but women must adapt their wardrobes to their own personalities and mode of living," she says.

GOOD GROOMING

Mrs. Jean Guyomet, Parisian society woman, believes good grooming is the first requisite of being well dressed. No matter what price a woman may spend on clothes, she says, the final effect is ruined if the accessories are not well chosen, and her hair, make-up, stockings, and other details are not impeccable.

Pierre Chantrenn, talented young fashion designer, believes the best way for a woman to be well dressed is not to have too many clothes.

"Curiously," he says, "it is often the women who have too much money to spend who put on the poorest show."

Every fashion - conscious woman or man was consulted agrees that the art of being well dressed can be taught. Jacques Heim, president of the syndicate of Paris Haute Couture Designers, both women in general exhibit more taste today than ever before.

Ameliasburg T and C Club Discusses Pork

The 4th meeting of the Ameliasburg Town and Country Club was held at the home of Anne Sleverly on May 12.

The group considered the pork chart, illustrating the section, cut and cooking method of each cut of pork, and discussed the different uses of ground meat, as well as reviewing menu planning.

The meeting adjourned to the kitchen where all enjoyed a meat loaf that had been prepared earlier. Biscuits and soft drinks, supplied by the hostess, accompanied the meat loaf.

WHAT'S THE 'INSTALMENT PLAN' WAY TO SAVE FOR THE BIG DAY?

When you're looking ahead to wedding expenses, a trip to Europe, or a down payment on a house, Scotiabank's Personal Security Program is the ideal savings plan. PSP—exclusive with The Bank of Nova Scotia—puts saving on the same organized basis as your program of payments for anything you might buy on the instalment plan. It works this way: You select a goal (anywhere between $100 and $2,500) which you reach in fifty equal deposits. As you save, you're life-insured for the full amount of your goal. When you reach your goal, you collect all you've saved, plus a cash bonus. Ask for details on PSP at your nearest branch of The Bank of Nova Scotia.

Gerald R. — If it means more money, I cannot get a job. I'll stay college.

Mrs. F.B. — Things are not as pretty had for you as to the mill shutdown, but be should still plan for college.

Gerald R. — I'm 16 and a junior in high school. Almost all the other kids in my class. I've been collecting through college catalogues, sending away for information, getting all set to send in my applications for admission during my senior year.

Money wasn't going to be a special consideration. Dad and Mom were home-younger brothers coming along, my parents had saved up enough for them to get started on. But last month Dad lost his job. The carpet mill closed down. Now I've got to get back to what we were before. We'll have to dig into those savings. So there goes college! I'll manage. I'll take a part-time job or evening classes.

Ted Mom won't hear of that. She says she'll take the job and I should go ahead with the old plans.

• • •

Mrs. F. B. — Gerry is a fine student and he deserves a good college education. He has hopes of becoming a language teacher.

Just because my husband is between jobs is no reason for Gerry to throw overboard the wonderful hopes we had for him. He's true that we'll have to touch our savings account to make up the difference between Fred's unemployment check and what used to come in. But we can make about $40 a week as a school-street guard. I'm sure Gerry can spend one summer money for his first year. After that, his dad will surely be on a former ground. And Gerry himself may be earning money from college employment.

If Mom college is expensive. Dad can also on borrowed. Gerry will be happier and more skilled if he goes. So, we'll send it.

• • •

The Council: A leading magazine recently discussed this heartrending statement: "Every parent can afford to send his kids to college." Then, as though in answer to Gerald R.'s letter, an old officer of Princeton said: "Don't let financial stringency and, for Mrs. R. "Never permit the state of your pocketbook to determine your child's future. Always run from applying to the institution of your choice, no matter how expensive."

What's the secret? The hope of scholarships is a dangerous one available which most families know nothing about!

We won't argue with Mrs. R's proposal to become a schoolcrossing guard. But we suggest that she needn't do so entirely to pay Gerry's way through college. This money could help him, and might later fill him with guilt feelings. There are alternate ways for him to meet expenses during those four years.

Flowers are so much a part of the wedding scene as old shoes and rice. Here's a group of questions concerning their proper place in the picture. See if you can scent out the right answers:

2. Who selects and pays for the bride's bouquet?

3. At a very informal wedding, must a bride only wear a corsage, or may she carry a bouquet or sprig of orchids?

4. What difference is there between the bouquets carried by the honor attendants and bridesmaids?

Christ Church P.G. Plans Blossom Tea

The regular monthly meeting of Christ Church Parish Guild was held on Monday afternoon in the parish hall. The short business meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. I. R. Slavin, who warmly welcomed the good turnout of members.

Reverend Michael Caswell, curate of Christ Church, presented the devotional portion of the meeting. He spoke briefly on the beginnings of the Christian Church and the setting in life in which the Bible was written. The first books of the New Testament were not written until 30 or more years after Christ's death when it was realized that there was a need to record the history of His life and have a means to teach coming generations. There is a need today for Christian education and a need to understand religion in terms of everyday life. Christianity should not be a part time thing but should be a full time one.

Mrs. F. Burtt expressed appreciative thanks to Mr. Caswell.

Mrs. D. Fisher, representative of the Parish Guild in Christ Church, brought news of the WOM for the meeting. The Guild's support for this work they event.

TUESDAY GIVEN

Interesting reports were given by the treasurer and the various convenors. Mrs. Burtt announced that the Guild would be host at one of the functions this month. Reporting on the forthcoming "Blossom Tea" in June, the convener, Mrs. J. Adams, said that this would be a sewing table, home-baking, white elephant, fancy articles and candies, and asked members to do their best to make this an outstanding success on the part of the Guild. Donations for the Young Hunter's Christmas Tree at the Junior W.A. were approved.

The June meeting will be held in the parish hall and will be in the form of a pot luck luncheon with an interesting program.

At the close of the business meeting, the members found themselves in the St. George's Sister Mary Annis and the

Pot Roast And Potatoes Anna

My brother says he has been trying to persuade his sweet to watch his discards when he is playing bridge for years — with indifferent results. My gripes is that I cannot seem to persuade pupils to brown their pot roasts dark enough.

A pot roast with a widely-varied shade color misses the point completely. The very name means the meat should have a roasted flavor. If you burry the searing process you end up with boiled meat.

Allow me to persuade you today to persist with browning your pot roasts until they are dark brown. The pot and kitchen will be smoky but that is their business.

POT ROAST

To serve five, I bought a short rib roast weighing 3 1-3 pounds.

I used my pressure cooker and to pressure cook it but because it is a heavy pot. You could use a Dutch oven or heavy iron frying pan with a tight-fitting lid. Add a little butter — about 2 teaspoons — to preheat pot and heat meat on all sides until dark brown. Do a trivet under it. Add ¾ cup hot water and simmer covered for 4 hours. Salt at last time and pepper the meat generously and add: One large onion, sliced or chopped, 2 small onion, chopped, ½ cup chopped celery and tops. Cover and continue to simmering until 4 hours are up. Remove pot. Add a little butter — about 2 teaspoons — to preheat pot and heat meat on all sides until dark brown. Do a trivet under it. WARM WELCOME—Gordon Pranko, proprietor of the El Toro, greets Belleville visitors, Robert, Michele and Oriol Temple to his new establishment on Highway 33, south of Trenton.

(Advertisement) (Advertisement) (Advertisement) (Advertisement)

ALL'S WELL — Chef Wally Wells prepares several juicy steaks on the modern grill which was specially installed for the new El Toro Restaurant. The warming oven just above ensures that warm plates or serving boards are right at hand.

SERVICE PLUS—El Toro patrons' automobiles receive a window cleaning during their stay by service station operator Joe Yarmola as an added service to make guests' stay a pleasant experience.

TASTEFUL DECOR—Above may be seen a portion of the El Toro dining room featuring a Spanish decor with a revolving canopy over the central table.

Spanish Motif Emphasized In New El Toro Restaurant

TRENTON—People who enjoy having an excellent meal with high class service should try the new El Toro restaurant near Trenton on the Carrying Place Road just north of the Murray Canal. Amidst an attractive decor emphasizing a Spanish motif one will find the most succulent and tasty steaks in the Quinte district at very reasonable prices.

The service of the attractively-garbed and cheerful waitresses is directed towards giving the El Toro patron the most personal service possible in catering to his needs for a delicious and comfortable meal. Attention is one thing, next only to fine food, which proprietor Gordon Pranko of El Rancho fame, insists on providing in the fullest possible measure for his customers.

This service is developed to such a keen edge that whilst a customer dines within, his automobile's windows are cleaned and polished outside by an attendant from the adjacent Imperial Oil service station operated by Joe Yarmola.

The common complaint by many that there are very few Canadian restaurants which can serve a decent meal with decent service at a decent price will surely not be voiced by an El Toro patron. Whether one orders the very satisfying 85-cent serving of fish and chips (with two fish) or a $3.25 filet mignon steak he is greeted warmly by the staff and one quickly gains the impression that his satisfaction is their only concern.

The surroundings are very pleasant. Red tablecloths cover even the countertop and candle lamps give the place a very warm and cozy atmosphere especially during the evening hours. Bullfighting designs highlight the walls and the ceiling is adorned by suspended lamps and a rotating canopy in the centre of the room. Soft background music featuring some authentic recordings from the bullrings of Spain, such as A steaks at hand and a modern broiler on which to prepare them. They literally had to tear down the walls to get the new broiler in but proprietor Pranko insisted on having the finest possible equipment in order to ensure the most delectable food possible.

Other interesting items of note in the kitchen include a shelf-full of various spices, imported from around the world and an automatic potato-peeling machine silent and up to date refrigeration, each of which, in its own way, contributes toward the goal of providing a satisfying adventure in eating for the El Toro patron.

The main thing about the El Toro is that one really has to experience the satisfaction of eating there to fully realize just how enjoyable an event it can be. This is one instance where a steak is worth ten thousand words and, as they say at El Toro, - "That's no bull."

Wants to Catch Up on School

DORIS CLARK

DEAR DORIS:—I'm a widow 30 years old and have a daughter of five years to support. I do get a Canadian Army pension of $75 a month.

I'm interested in becoming a practical nurse and the course starts next January. But I would like to take my grades in school, 9-10-11-12, if I can. Do you think I could learn my grades from April till it's time to start in January? I've always been good at school and came in first in all subjects. — AMBITIOUS.

DEAR AMBITIOUS—Courses have been speeded up for adults. Educationists find that people like you have the incentive and discipline, often, to get ahead with studies fast.

But four grades in nine months? Ask your local board of education for a personal appointment. They'll help you do it if they can.

CONFIDENTIAL TO JANE—I can't say I think the twist looks very ladylike. However, I don't expect that it has done anything that is desperately bad for teenagers.

But since Mom and Pop don't want you to do it, take comfort in the thought that it is going out. Be glad they care what you do. And learn some attractive ballroom dance steps.

Three Present Liberal Party's Case on Radio

OTTAWA (CP)—Three "unknowns" on the federal political stage were given the job Monday night to present the Liberal party's case in the campaign's first free-time election radio broadcast.

All Liberal candidates in the June 18 election, they were E. J. Benzie, 38-year-old Kingston chartered accountant; Stanley Roberts, 35 - year - old Manitoba M.P.A for La Verendrye; and David M. Dickson of Fredericton.

Each spoke for about five minutes in the 15-minute recorded broadcast dealing with the Liberal economic platform.

Mr. Benzie, standing in Kingston riding, led off the program with an assertion that the basic election issue is how to get Canada "back on the road to prosperity and economic stability."

Professor of commerce at Queens University for the last nine years, he said that since 1957 "weakness, ineptitude and political opportunism had moved into Ottawa resulting in slowing Canada's rate of growth to a crawl.

Attempt to Put Smokey on Pole Ends in Death

WASHINGTON (AP) — A prank involving a papier mache likeness of Smokey the Bear, a forest conservation symbol, ended in death for a marine.

The victim and a fellow marine kidnapped the five-foot-six, 75-pound figure Friday night from Storybook Land, a children's amusement park near Woodbridge, Va., 25 miles south of here.

They hid it at the Washington marine barracks until Sunday morning, when they tried to perch it atop a flagpole on the front lawn of a home for veterans.

With a final tug on the rope the bear and the 20-foot flagpole fell to the ground pinning Cpl Edward Kaltenbach, 23, He died of a brain hemorrhage, apparently caused when a metal spade in the bear's right hand punctured his skull.

Cpl. Timothy Parsons, 21, was felled by the flagpole but was not injured.

Choice of MP in Montreal Jacques Cartier-Lasalle Always With Government

By FRASER MacDOUGALL

OTTAWA (CP) — Which of Canada's 263 electoral constituencies is most sensitive to the country-wide trend in federal elections?

Since 1921, Montreal Jacques Cartier-Lasalle has been the infallible election weather - vane. In 16 consecutive elections, from 1921 to 1958, its choice for an MP has been from the party that won the country and formed the government. Four of those elections—1921, 1926, 1935 and 1957—saw a government turnover.

Study of election records back to Confederation in 1867 shows that in 29 elections to 1917 the Montreal constituency sent an opposition member to Parliament six times. Thus it went with the winner 18 times in 24 elections.

It has a chance in the election June 18 to set a record for 13 consecutive choices of a government MP.

Its present string of 12 matches the record set by Richmond-Wolfe in Quebec in a constituency run with the winner from 1867 to 1908. Richmond-Wolfe has elected an opposition MP in only three elections in 94—1911, 1917 and 1957.

NINE WINNERS

Two constituencies — Restigouche - Madawaska in New Brunswick and Marquette in Manitoba—have sided with the national winners in nine consecutive elections, starting in 1926. The others sit on a string of eight such choices, begun in 1930. Eleven are on a seven-straight string from 1958.

Nine constituencies have come out on the government side in every election in which they've voted under their present name and boundaries—two since 1935, two since 1946 and five since 1953. This timing doesn't take into account the previous election history of the areas from which the constituencies were formed.

On a percentage grade from Nova Scotia ranks as the most accurate election province. Quebec a close second. Each has returned a majority of members to the government benches in 19 of the 24 elections since Confederation. Twice Nova Scotia made it a tie—it even choice between national winner and opposition. It took the opposition side only three times. Quebec picked the opposition five times.

ALBERTA BUCKS TREND

Alberta stands at the other end of the scale. In 14 elections since its first vote as a province in 1908 it has gone with the country's choice only three times. Ten times, in a consecutive string from 1921 to 1957, its support went to a minority group in Parliament. Only once did it pick the official Opposition.

Prince Edward Island and Manitoba have chosen the winner in every election since 1926, Nova Scotia since 1930.

Although Marquette now is on a nine-straight run, the constituency once had a decided tendency to buck the trend, returning an opposition MP in seven consecutive elections from 1882 to 1908, starting that string after Sir John A. Macdonald held the seat for 4 terms as Prime Minister.

Marquette's electoral career began with one of the most unusual incidents in Canadian election history—it voted in 1871 when an election was called in Manitoba constituencies after the province entered Confederation.

KEYSTONE SEAT

In those days, a returning officer did not have the authority he now has to cast the deciding vote. The courts ruled that neither candidate could be seated until the Commons election committee dealt with the problem. Before it reached a solution, the House was dissolved for a general election in 1872.

The 10 constituencies that have gone with the country-wide trend since 1930 are: Kings in Prince Edward Island; Cape Breton North and Victoria, Halifax, and Pictou in Nova Scotia; Brantford, Essex South, Renfrew North, Simcoe East, Wellington South, and York North in Ontario.

The 11 that have followed the line since 1935 are: Prince, Portage - Lisgar, Souris - Gurbon, N.S.; Lotbinière, Nicolet-Yamaska, Pontiac - Témiscamingue, Shefford, Stanstead, Sherbrooke, Témiscamingue, Wolfe and Yamaska in Quebec; Brandon, Selkirk, Winnipeg North and Winnipeg North Centre in Manitoba.

ALWAYS WITH WINNER

Parry Sound-Muskoka in Ontario and Portage-Neepawa in Manitoba first voted in their present form in 1949 and since then have been right on target in all Liberal members in 1949 and 1953, Conservatives in 1957 and 1958.

Present boundaries of Queens-Lunenburg in Nova Scotia; Glengarry - Prescott, Hamilton South, York Centre, and York-Scarborough in Ontario date from the 1953 election. Each followed the trend with a Liberal in their first vote, Conservatives in 1957 and 1958.

On the other side of the coin, Vancouver East has consistently voted against the national winner in seven consecutive elections since establishment in 1935, going CCF each time. Acadia in Alberta and Winnipeg North Centre have picked the opposition nine times in their 10 elections. Montreal Pratt has been on the opposition side four times in four tries, B.C.'s Burnaby-Coquitlam three times in three.

Prime Minister Makes Big Pitch For Quebec Vote

By DAVE McINTOSH

ST. HYACINTHE, Que. (CP) — Election - bound Prime Minister Diefenbaker Monday laid siege to Quebec for the second time in the current campaign.

He used French about half the time in his public speeches at Nicolet, Sorel and St. Hyacinthe during a gruelling campaign day on the south shore of the St. Lawrence.

Quebec elects 75 members to the 265-seat Commons and it is apparent the prime minister intends to make a big pitch to try to retain the 50 seats Conservatives won in 1958. He now has spent three days in the province and will be back for another shot.

He moved on to the Maritimes today for the first time in this campaign and was to visit Fredericton, St. Stephen and Saint John in New Brunswick.

Mr. Diefenbaker made his maiden public speech in Sorel, a shipbuilding centre in the riding of Richelieu-Verchères represented in the last Parliament by Liberal Lucien Cardin.

Mr. Cardin during the last session of Parliament made a bitter attack on the prime minister, including the charge that Mr. Diefenbaker has never forgiven Liberal Leader Pearson for winning the Nobel Peace Prize in 1957.

PRAISES TU

Mr. Diefenbaker praised Conservative candidate C. Robert Tiet for what he said were his urgings for a Richelieu-Champlain water-way linking the St. Lawrence and Hudson Rivers.

He said the Liberals had turned a deaf ear to such urgings but that the present government now had managed to have the matter placed before the Canada - U.S. International Joint Commission.

He also said the Liberals had allowed the shipbuilding industry to fall into decay.

His government was providing subsidies for the industry and 150 projects worth $174,000,000 now were in hand. An additional 10,000 jobs would be provided in Canadian shipyards.

Mr. Diefenbaker spoke in the 1,731 Governor's Cottage, a national historic site, to a crowd of about 200, poking fun at his own efforts in the French language.

An overflow crowd of about 1,200 attended Mr. Diefenbaker's public meeting in St. Hyacinthe, Nearly half the 1,000 persons in Notre Dame Hall stood and another 200 listened outside by a public address system.

MINISTERS PRESENT

On the platform with Mr. Diefenbaker were Transport Minister Balcer, Defence Production Minister O'Hurley, Associate Defence Minister Sevigny and Theogene Ricard, the prime minister's parliamentary secretary and the local candidate.

At a press conference aboard his train, Mr. Diefenbaker said some newspaper reports had placed a "very improper interpretation" on his speech at Nepawa, Man., last week by saying he had accused Mr. Pearson of being soft on communism.

He said he had stated in his speech that Mr. Pearson hadn't done or said anything regarding the "serious situation" of Russian colonialism and Soviet tyranny over captive peoples. The Liberal leader had failed to realize the point he added in reply to a question.

He also said he is tremendously encouraged by support his party is receiving in the campaign. In some instances this support was greater than in 1958.

Pearson Offers Policies of Freer Trade

By ALLEN DONNELLY

JONQUIERE, Que. (CP)—A blueprint for freer trade contacts and full employment were compiled by Liberal Leader Lester B. Pearson Monday night as he accused the Progressive Conservative government of "retreatism" in the last five years.

Hitting hard on the unemployment issue, Mr. Pearson offered policies of freer trade and industrial incentives to counter the problem.

In a 22-minute speech, almost all of it spoken in French, Mr. Pearson also repeated his promise that a Liberal government would adopt a distinctive national flag.

But he concentrated on economic and trade policies in his appearance at the Jonquiere-Kenogami-Riverlake St. John area whose economy rests largely on pulp, paper and aluminum smelting.

A Liberal government, he said, would present a plan for creation of an Atlantic economic community including the United States, Britain and the European Common Market.

Other world countries could join, thus gradually diminishing barriers to world trade, he declared.

CREATING MARKET

"There would be created if you will, a Common Market on a worldwide scale . . . In this manner a Liberal government would re-establish full employment in the country and bring about economic growth for Canada."

Mr. Pearson was to fly eastward today for campaign appearances along New Brunswick's north shore at Newcastle, Bathurst and Dalhousie, in the last Parliament the Liberals held three of those seven 10 constituencies and are hoping to strengthen their position with the help of Liberal Premier Louis Robichaud.

In his northern region, Liberals held only one of four constituencies at stake—Lapointe, where Augustin Lessard is seeking re-election. The other three—Chicoutimi, Lac St. John, and Roberval—were held by Liberals before Conservative victories in the last election in 1958.

The four Liberal candidates spoke for more than an hour before Mr. Pearson began his speech. During preliminary speeches there was some booing from a small group of men standing at the back of the hall —a high school auditorium.

ARE THEY HERE OUT?

But they were ushered out before Mr. Pearson began, and the Liberal leader had no outward interruptions from the audience of 700, which did not fill the 700-seat hall.

He was applauded when he said Canada needs a government that is prepared to pay the necessary price to end unemployment," and again when he said Prime Minister Diefenbaker's only reaction to the jobless problem is to cry "Wait, wait."

"Wait for what, and for how long?" Mr. Pearson asked.

Mr. Pearson promised encouragement for establishment of new industries and for adoption of present industries to meet changing world conditions, and new incentives to develop natural resource industries.

Problems of Annexation Come Before School Board

TRENTON — In spite of the fact that some members of the Trenton Board of Education think that annexation is "a problem for the town," and "no concern of the board," the possibility of annexation keeps creeping into board thinking.

At last night's May meeting of the board, a copy of a letter sent by Lorne Myles of Murray township to town clerk O. W. Larry was read.

What, asked Mr. Myles, would be the status of out-of-town students who get started off in East Northumberland District High School next fall, if annexation should take place part way through 1966? Who would pay their fees to allow them to fill out their year at the Brighton school, should annexation take place?

"Annexation isn't our problem at the moment," said board member Ronald Reid.

"It will be," T. S. Ketcheson assured him. "I feel council has a responsibility toward these people (in Consecon) to see children get started off to Brighton and successfully take place, what are they to do? Take the child out of the Brighton school in the middle of the term and send him to Trenton? The people out Consecon have some rights."

"Maybe this situation could be termed the birth pangs of annexation," observed Mr. Reid. "We might ask council to arrange annexation to co-incide with the start of school next year."

Board secretary Eva Baker will write to the town and suggest that some thought be given to making the two events coincide.

WANT AUDITORIUM

Annexation was brought up again in a letter from the North Trenton Home and School Association.

What, asked the association, will happen to the Cubs, Brownies, Guides and Scouts who have been holding their meetings in a room at the North Trenton School, now that the board has arranged to use the room for Murray Township Grade One students next year? Where will the youth groups meet? And furthermore, where will night classes be taken and films shown for the students? The room in question has been used for all these things. As a standard classroom, it would be unavailable for out-of-school activity.

In view of possible annexation, said the association, the room would be permanently unavailable for anything but a classroom.

Would the board give "full consideration" to building an auditorium for North Trenton School, asked the association.

The board will, and while it is at it, consideration will be given to two more rooms for the school, to cope with possible annexation and general school population expansion.

The Home and School group at College Street School wrote to protest the enforcement of a board decision to only allow such organizations to donate "standardized" equipment to public schools. The group claims that it had "verbally" obligated itself to buy one type of duplicator for College Street School, which, incidently, isn't the type approved by the board.

Couldn't the board overlook this one instance and allow the duplicator to stay?

It couldn't.

The general feeling of the board was that if the home and school group had committed itself, it was embarrassing to the group, but hardly any concern of the board. Besides that, most members felt that the group wasn't really obligated to buy the machine, if the agreement had been verbal only. If the school group wants to donate cash, up to the value of the unsuitable duplicator, the board will supply the type of the cost of a standard duplicator.

CAN CONSULT BOARD

Are the positions of high school principal, public school supervisor, principals, school board secretary and school buildings superintendent, equal, in all respects?

T. S. Ketcheson, chairman of the grounds and buildings committee with the board, argues that they're not. At least, Mr. Ketcheson claims that while the first three have "direct access" to the board, the building superintendent should first contact the committee with any request or complaints and the committee would arrange a meeting with the board if the superintendent wanted it. Del Topping, a member of the committee thinks the same way.

However, other board members, and Rev. Ronald Reid in particular, think differently. Mr. Reid feels that if the committee and the superintendent fail to agree, the latter should have direct access to the board.

The majority endorsed this view.

Mrs. Gabrielle Grimston proposed that the Ontario Department of Education be asked to make the teaching of French compulsory in Grades 7 and 8.

"Compulsory" sounds too dictatorial, thought most.

The resolution was amended to read "that the department be asked to give consideration to the inclusion of French in the curriculum for Grades 7 and 8" and this resolution will be presented at the Niagara Falls, Ontario Urban and Rural School Trustees' convention in the summer.

Finance chairman George Greer was perturbed about the purchase of a piece of equipment for the new addition to Trenton High School. This item will cost $1,310. What's worrying Mr. Greer is that this figure does not include installation costs. Will the architect be responsible for installation costs? The contractor?

Anyhow, Mr. Greer doesn't want the board stuck for the installation. Mr. Ketcheson told him that the architect had assured him that the contractor would be responsible.

BUT INSURANCE

The purchase was approved, as was that of wood-working equipment for the new shops, at a cost of $15,000. In the case of the latter, Mr. Greer said that due to be prepaid dollar, fee.

HASTY PRESS REUNION — At a testimonial night in the Trenton Legion Hall last Saturday, Lt.-Col. Angus Duffy (third from left), and five members of the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment who are overseas duty with him re-lived regimental history through the pages of a scrap book, compiled by Miss Hazel Farley of Trenton during World War II. Left to right: CSM Kemis Carswell, Staff Sgt. Mitch Radcliffe, Col. Duffy, Legion branch president Ken Craddock, RSM Blackie Simpson and CSM Bob Wigmore.

The price would be increased 4 per cent after May 25, and advised the board to act at once.

A little over $200,000 will be spent on equipment for the vocational addition. Federal and provincial governments will pay half the cost and an appointed advisory committee does the buying.

Does the advisory committee have the last word about suitability and prices? "Yes," said Rev. Ronald Reid, "if the advisory committee recommends it, what are we to dispute?"

Mr. Greer is adamant on one point.

No more Venetian blinds for Trenton schools."

Recently, the board has paid to have the blinds replaced in one school. Now comes a request for two more at $40 apiece. The two old ones have been used to repair broken slats in others.

Mr. Reid felt badly about spending $10 to pay a lawyer for drawing up an agreement between the Board and the Ontario Water Resources Commission. By the agreement, the board will be absolved of all responsibility when the Sidney Street trunk sewer is installed across the grounds of College St. school. Mr. Reid feels that OWRC should pay the legal bill.

One thing on which all board members were agreed was that the board will declare itself as independent of the province's labor-relations act. If the board and the employees association fails to come to an agreement on any issue, the board will have the last word.

Percy Bierness New Principal Dufferin School

TRENTON — The Trenton Board of Education meeting in committee-of-the-whole, following its regular meeting Monday evening appointed Percy Bierness 33 of Toronto, principal at Dufferin St. school to replace F. W. Sherbert, who has retired after many years in the post.

Mr. Bierness has had 14 years experience in the teaching field. He is interested in Scout work and sports and is a member of the United Church. Mr. Bierness is married and the father of four children. The new principal and his family will arrive in Trenton in August.

Forty Golfers Take Part in Ladies' Day

TRENTON — Ladies' golf in Trenton got off to a rousing start last Saturday at the Trenton Golf and Country Club. Approximately 40 golfers played in the opening day and after play enjoyed a buffet in the club house.

Oral Vaccine Being Given

TRENTON — Health authorities in Trenton and the United Counties of Northumberland and Durham have launched a high-as-oral vaccine program this week.

Clinics for the whole family are being held in county centres. Trenton school children get their first shot of the "tasteless" vaccine today.

Medical Association Warns Against 'Interference' by Govt. in Health Field

TORONTO (CP) — The Canadian Medical Association warned today against "insidious interference" by government in the health field and said there is no demonstrable lack of necessary medical care in Canada.

The association, representing the country's nearly 18,000 English-speaking doctors, presented a brief to the royal commission on health services.

The document, one of the keynote presentations made to the royal commission in its cross-country hearings, buried state-supported medical insurance for low - income groups deep down in a list of suggested health-service priorities.

The CMA said only two categories of people—the indigent and those in economic circumstances "just superior" to the indigent—should be assisted from public funds.

"We do not subscribe to the introduction of universal, compulsory, tax-supported comprehensive medical care insurance under government auspices and we feel that public funds should not be applied to the self-supporting in the area of medical insurance."

The CMA about 1,680,000 Canadians or eight per cent of the population—have their own medical insurance paid for entirely out of public funds, with prescribed drugs also included.

Only partial assistance would go to the second group — "on proof of need." A maximum of 3,000,000 would qualify for consideration under this provision.

Total cost of the program would be about $100,000,000 a year at the outset—disregarding any services subsidy which the profession feels might result.

To provide insurance coverage for those qualifying for public assistance, approved practitioners should be selected from voluntary plans now operating.

The recommendations ranged from 12th through 15th in the CMA list of priorities.

Top priority was given to a recruitment of health service personnel. Next came government assistance to medical schools, loans to medical students and increased federal support of medical research.

Hospital construction; facilities for convalescent and chronic patients; home care and homemaker programs appeared next on the list. A "free approach" to mental illness, with units of 200 beds or less established in hospitals with general hospitals, was also advocated.

Improvement of "all aspects" of rehabilitation services was also recommended ahead of subsidized medical insurance.

Medical insurance for persons represents "only a small portion" of adequate health care, the Canadians, said the CMA.

Through evolution, health services were progressively improving and it must be permitted with confidence that piecing meddlesome interference the progress will continue."

Honor Students From City to Receive Degrees

KINGSTON — Twenty-two graduates from Belleville and district will receive their degrees during three separate convocations at Queen's University, May 18 and 19.

The first ceremony will be Friday afternoon for those receiving theology, honors arts and science, commerce and post-graduate degrees. The second convocation will be Saturday morning for the applied science graduates, and the third will be the afternoon of the same day for general arts and physical and health education graduates.

Biggest Changes in Canada Are Yet to Come Says Former Governor General

MONTREAL (CP) — Vincent Massey said today that although Canada has made great strides forward recently "the biggest changes are yet to come."

The former Governor - General told 300 delegates to the Second Commonwealth Study Conference that within the next two generations Canada probably will undertake as much new building as there has been since the country was' founded. His remarks were taken from a text given the press before delivery.

Mr. Massey, chairman of the conference to study the human problems of industrial change, during its 25-day tour through Canada, said "we still have it within us to decide what kind of society we are to be and how we may guide the economic and cultural revolution we have begun to face."

Mr. Massey devoted his speech to a philosophical review of Canada's history. He said the Canadian character has developed because of a combination of physical factors such as weather and geography as well as political and social history.

"Much of our land is either muskeg or permanent hitherto not to be settled or even traversed, or else it is the immensity of rock which has yielded a wealth of 'ar, timber and minerals but which is unsuitable for more than sparse and scattered human settlement."

These difficulties made great virtues of the sterner human qualities — frugality, caution, discipline and endurance, Mr. Massey said.

The conservatism inherent in this development carried into Canada's business world today. The Canadian investor tends to prefer safe securities to anything involving a large element of risk, he added.

"The large - scale, carefully planned enterprise, dominating its field and aided by government regulation and support is typical of our whole development.

"The story of the Hudson's Bay Company, the Canadian Pacific Railway, the great metal monopolies runs through our history."

Canada now was a plural community made up of two major and many minor cultural groups.

"There is no distinct, uniform and overwhelmingly Canadian way of life into which newcomers are expected to be caught up and reshaped. It has been said that while the American treatment of immigrants is that of the melting pot, ours may be likened to a mosaic."

Some Cities Get Hour of Election TV

OTTAWA (CP)—An election drama in four acts was presented Monday night by Canadas two national television networks.

For the first time in the current campaign, the parties appealed to the voters directly in their homes through the TV screen on free-time CBC English network and CTV (private network) election broadcasts.

Across the country there were some variations in the program schedule, because of time zone differences, but in the capital all the action took place in the space of one hour.

The Election Show—seen in the prime evening viewing time of 7:30—was a novel something like this in its four 15-minute segments:

Act I (CTV): NDP

David Lewis, NDP national president, and Walter Pitman, MP for Peterborough, sat sitting at a coffee table in modern Scandinavian, designer armchairs. They are discussing "employment."

The camera flashes back and forth as the men, sitting with their backs turned, express their party's case in a relaxed, natural manner.

Act II (CBC): Social Credit

The scene opens with a shot of Party Leader Robert N. Thompson sitting at a desk beside a bookshelf in a study. He closes the volume then walks over to a desk. He sits on the edge of the desk, hands clasped on his knee.

After a few minutes of outlining his party's approach to national problems, he gets up and moves to the back of the desk. There is a brief close-up of his face, then just before the end of the act he turns to the former position on the edge of the desk.

Act III (CBC): PC

Prime Minister Diefenbaker is seated, arms folded, at a desk. There is no background.

Throughout the act the camera remains trained directly on his face, as he defends his government's record and answers opposition criticisms.

Party Leader Pearson is seen in an almost heading for the Maritimes to open his campaign. This is followed by a series of filmed-type shots, backed by a tart commentary and excerpts from public speeches in Charlottetown and Toronto.

Act IV (CBC): Liberal

The Toronto scene—a nominating convention—then shifts from Mr. Pearson to the audience, hockey star Red Kelly. The Toronto Maple Leafs centre is shown receiving a "Liberal all-star" jerkeet.

The final shot shows Mr. Pearson seated at an office desk in front of a Canadian flag, looking a city where he delivers a message to home viewers. The camera fades out . . . (The end)

Pressures Growing Against Franco of Spain, Salazar Of Portugal, Both in 70's

By JOSEPH MacSWEEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Pressures are growing against two of the world's most durable dictators — General Francisco Franco of Spain and Dr. Antonio Salazar of Portugal.

Franco, 70, has been in power 23 years, since the end of the Spanish Civil War, and Salazar, 73, has been prime minister for 30 years.

Observers say neither is in danger of sudden overthrow but unrest is such that both may have to make important concessions lest the lid blow off their respective regimes.

There are political aspects in strikes that left 100,000 workers it mostly in coal - mining areas, in Spain and students in Madrid and Barcelona have provided violent backing for the strikers.

All this is general knowledge throughout the country because Franco was forced to relax through his own censorship and declare a state of emergency in three northern provinces.

The government sets most wages in Spain and strikes are officially banned. But the strikers cite soaring living costs in their demands for the equivalent of about $2.10 a day, compared with their present $1.40 to $1.60 a day.

The pattern of worker-student unrest is similar in Portugal. The older generation in both countries has memories of the agonies of the civil war in which 1,000,000 Spaniards died and the chaos in Portugal before Salazar, apparently fear change.

But the younger generation, eager to break away from repressive paternalism, is impatient with the warnings of Franco and Salazar that change would open the doors of the Iberian Peninsula to communism.

The Roman Catholic hierarchy has apparently dealt Franco a setback by declaring in a church organ that a strike is a "licit weapon" for workers when negotiations fail.

Sunday's issue of Ecclesia, weekly paper of Catholic Action, spread its criticism over the employers, employees and labor but its words about strikes were considered particularly significant. Franco has ruled them illegal and strikers subject to jail.

"Just as a war is in the final argument when one group finds that all other means have failed, so is the strike the final means available to a working group when it finds its own rights ignored," Ecclesia said.

Other indications that Franco is disposed to accede to at least some of labor's requests are reported. He is said to go all the way, believing this would give him the appearance of weakness.

Since 1957, there has been talk he was trying to liberalize government a more liberal composed with their present $1.40 to government, with himself at the head of the Falangist party.

After changing his cabinet in 1957, Franco declared:

"There is not a single normal political program that does not permit the adoption of its essential contents to time and place."

MacDonald Claims Roberts Is Opposing Crime Probe

TORONTO (CP)—New Democratic Leader Donald C. MacDonald accused Attorney-General Roberts Monday of an "open attack" on the commission royal commission on organized crime, and called on Premier Robarts to halt intervention in the commission hearings by officials of the attorney-general's department.

In a press release, Mr. MacDonald said Mr. Roberts has opposed the royal commission "from the outset and has repeatedly attacked" the commission, including "thinly veiled comments in a speech last Thursday at Welland.

"It is one thing to have the attorney-general attacking the commission and its proceedings — attacks which are so irresponsible as to discredit themselves," Mr. MacDonald said.

"It is quite another thing that the attorney - general's department should now be playing a role which would seem to give more weight to the gangsters than to anybody else concerned."

CLAIMS TRIES ARDENT

Mr. MacDonald said Deputy Attorney-General W. B. Common and a senior department solicitor have attended the commission hearings under Mr. Justice Wilfrid Roach, seeking to introduce through commission counsel "evidence of an irrelevant and personal nature" and testifying critically on behalf money.—

The NDP leader said "new heights of indecency" were reached when the department prepared a confidential report on two witnesses which was "clearly designed to discredit them and to create an atmosphere" the witnesses had submitted.

He said the report, described by Mr. Justice Roach as irrelevant, was drawn by Miss C. Rose, counsel for gamblers Vincent Presley and Joseph McDermott.

"We have reached the stage now where the attorney-general's department is carrying on its own investigation, in further usurpation of the commission's function . . . and in the process, senior officials give every appearance of being in cahoots with the gamblers' counsel."

He said the premier is the only one who can bring a halt to this intolerable situation."

HONOR TEACHERS

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The pupils at Bethlehem Junior High School paid tribute to their teachers today—Teacher Recognition Day—with an advertisement in the Albany Times-Union. "Although there are moments when teachers may seem to be unreasonable and extremely demanding, deep down we are truly grateful," said the advertisement, which listed the names of the school's 55 teachers.

Industrialization Decades Time of Bitter Social Strife

MONTREAL (CP) — Dr. Arthur Lewis, vice-chancellor of the University of The West Indies in Kingston, Jamaica, said today the early decades of industrialization are inevitably a time of bitter social strife.

The problem for countries in this stage, he said in an address at Prince Philip Canada Commonwealth Study Conference, "is how to get themselves through their present time of troubles into the other time of affluence ahead, without in the meantime tearing themselves to pieces."

Easier times would come, if industrial development continued, for two reasons:

1. As more and more capital is accumulated, "unemployment must ultimately vanish."

2. Social differences become less important, because a mass economic system places its highest value on performance, not status or affiliation.

TENSIONS HELP LEADERS

In early stages of industrialization, fla tensions produced aggressive leaders "who find it easy to rally and ride to power on the resentments of workers, peasants and members of other classed displaced by economic change.

"Their anger is matched by that of aggressive capitalists and students looking for a rational to give up their exploitation of peasants and of landless workers."

He said Commonwealth countries are "extremely fortunate" in that, by and large, they do not face the problem of reactionary landlords.

"All our leading political parties are dedicated to economic and social progress. Whether in Britain or Canada, in India or Ghana or Jamaica, compromise solutions are clearly possible."

Prince Takes Lively Musical Tour of Canada

MONTREAL (CP) — Prince Philip and his 34-nation Commonwealth conference party are taken on a lively musical tour of Canada Monday night by an all-star French vocalist, actor, a female comic, a folk-singer and a country-styled fiddler.

The prince obviously enjoyed it thoroughly.

You went a bit overtime didn't you?" he asked startled Frank Heron, CBC co-producer of the hour-long musical revue taped for later broadcast.

The prince walked over to Heron seated at the far side of the first row of seats, after shaking hands with the performer. He had been amused at Heron's frantic cue signalling during the taping at the end of the show.

The three who got the biggest royal applause were Montreal folksinger Ed McCurdy singing about Newfoundland's sealing grounds; comic Pam Pyratt of Toronto, who did a hilarious bit about how not to conduct an orchestra; and Canadian old-time fiddling champion Al Cherney of Medicine Hat, Alta.

Said producer Ken Whiters: "We wanted to show the type of entertainment that appeals to Canadians."

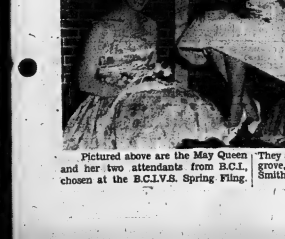
Text of his address was released to the press in advance of delivery.

Writer Tells Story Nobody Would Print

TORONTO (CP) — Gordon Donaldson, Telegram columnist, Monday told the story that nobody would print at the time" concerning Dr. Rolf Alexander, New Zealand — born physician who died in the United States in 1951.

Dr. Alexander lived briefly in Orillia, where he experimented with the dispersal cloud he called brain power.

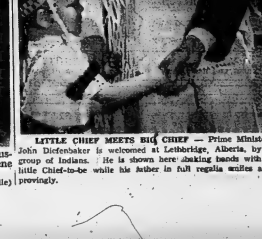
Donaldson wrote that he had known the doctor while working for a newspaper in England.



"One night he told me his strangest story. Early in 1941 he said, he met with a group of mystics to the Cliffs of Dover to direct their brain waves to the Nai leaders across the channel. They had government permission to enter the restricted coastal areas for this.

"He picked on Rudolf Hess, the deputy-fuehrer, because he was the weakest," he said.

"And on May 10, 1941, Hess flew to Scotland.



"Nobody believed that story. My paper wouldn't touch it.

"On the other hand, nobody knows exactly what was in Hess's muddled mind when he embarked on his weird mission. He still sits in Spandau jail, a complete mental wreck."

AGENT BOND AT BAY — James Bond, secret agent hero of Ian Fleming's spy novels, comes to the screen for the first time this fall in the film Dr. No. Bond is played by Edinburgh-born Sean Connery, who last year acted as Macbeth in a CBC school television series in Toronto. In this scene from Dr. No he is challenged by American detective Felix Leiter, played by Jack Lord.—(CP Photo.)

Battling James Bond Will Soon Be Seen in Action On Screen in Ten Thrillers

By CAROL KENNEDY

LONDON (CP) — Battling James Bond will soon be seen in action on the screen.

The suave secret agent, hero of 10 spy thrillers by British novelist Ian Fleming, is a Scotsman, favorite of millions, including President Kennedy. But until last year, Fleming would not part with the movie rights.

He finally sold them for $500,000 to two independent producers working in Britain.

Now the first Bond adventure to be filmed is in the cans at Pinewood Studios in Berkshire, the 1st release by United Artists in the fall.

It is Dr. No, which Bond fans will recall as the 1958 tale set in Jamaica featuring a mad scientist, a plan to sabotage American rockets and a series of ingenious tortures.

FOUND IN CANADA

The man who will bring Bond to legs and rugged life is Sean Connery, 31-year-old son of an Edinburgh truck driver. A former soldier, bricklayer and milk roundsman, Connery got into show business as through a friend's half - joking suggestion that he get a job in the chorus line of South Pacific, then running in London's West End.

After 18 months with the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical, Connery set seriously about the business of learning to act. Last year he came to be fitted for Bond from Toronto, where he had been playing Macbeth in a CBC school television series.

When producers Harry Saltzman and Albert Broccoli saw the results of the test they ditched any idea of using a "name" star such as Cary Grant, once strongly tipped for the role Saltzman describes as "the acting plum of the decade."

MADE FOR PART

Here, they decided, was Ian Fleming's creation in the flesh — six - foot, whipcord frame, brooding black brows and a reserved, economical way of moving.

He is a brogue - touched voice that manages to be clipped and lazy at the same time, Connery says: "I've been Bond for just 13 weeks, but it seems as if I've always been Bond."

He last worried about becoming "typed by his first star role in movies, though the public will quickly identify him with Flemings hero. His busy if unobtrusive stage career, he feels, will keep him fresh.

If the first movie is a success, Saltzman and Broccoli plan to follow author Fleming's pattern and turn out one Bond exploit a year. Next one on celluloid will probably be From Russia With Love, to be shot on locations in Istanbul, followed by Goldfinger.

NEW FLEMING WORK

Coinciding with the finish of the Dr. No movie came Fleming's regular Easter-time offering to his thriller fans. This year's adventure, titled The Spy Who Loved Me, is not strictly a Bond adventure at all.

Most of the tale is told in flashback and concerns the traumatic work-life of a French-Canadian girl, subsequently rescued by Bond from the clutches of two gangsters in a lonely motel near the U.S.-Canadian border.

Fleming's first book reviewers, most of whom have in the past had hard things to say about Bond and his creator's apparent obsession with "sex, sadism and money - mindedness," are openly disappointed that he plays such a subdued role in the new novel.

John Raymond of The Sunday Times calls the story "a mere sentimental episode."

Says The Sunday Telegraph critic: "No new cars, no new food, only two deaths . . . for Bond Sans, in fact, no dice."

The Tracks

TORONTO (CP) — Showing a furious finish at the end of the final furlong, Caledon Belle pulled away from a field of six three-year-old fillies to capture the featured seventh race at Old Woodbine Saturday.

Caledon Belle finished 1¾ lengths ahead of Irish Princess. Gladicks was third.

Caledon Belle, was made second choice by the crowd of $1,792 to Royal Spirit, a triple Ontario winner last year. Royal Spirit, the sixth in the field of seven - furlong test. Caledon Belle paid $7.20 to win.

Irish Duke won the second race and paid $24 straight. Irish Duke combined with Pentang, winner of the first, for a $205.70 daily double.

The Umbrella of New Flight and Diane W in the fifth paid $42.50.

The Trots

MONTREAL (CP) — Augustus rounded the mile in 2:08 3-5 Monday night to capture the $2,200 purse in one 2.22 feature pace at Richelieu Raceway.

Augustus paid $2.70, $2.10 and $2.30. Mr. Magora paid $2.20 and $2.70 for second and Peter Goss was third, paying $7.40. -

In the other 2.22 feature pace, Demon Rainbow turned in a time of 2:09 to take the $2,262 purse and pay $7.00 $4 and $3.00. Auction Time was second, paying $5.80 and $4.30, and Niagara Hanover paid $7.50 for third.

PLAN GRANDSTAND

PETERBOROUGH (CP) — Harold Hunter, vice-president of Rapport Limited, which operates a road-racing course at Tyson, 20 miles southwest of here, said Monday the paving of all access roads to the track will begin within a week. Construction will also begin on a 1,000-seat grandstand.

to enjoy mystery - adventure, westerns and drama, while families that use more than three cans of scouring powder a month choose mystery and adventure, drama, news and commentary.

This is all pretty fascinating, but I don't seem to figure out a real relationship between scouring powder and a score of western films. Nor that matter, see why heavy tea drinkers go for horse operas while coffee drinkers prefer whodunits.

The Bing Crosby Show on ABC Monday night was officially a variety hour, but it was really an hour-long mystery. For instance, where did Bing, Bob Hope and Rde Adams ever find so many non-memorable and tuneless songs to sing? How come the commercials seemed as numerous and as long as the entertainment numbers?

Wm. Ferguson Began Stage Career at 66

TORONTO (CP) — William Ferguson, a sure-handed Irishman with a resonant voice and animated eyebrows, started a stage career at an age when most actors feel thankful to be non-beens.

"Fargie," as friends know him, a veteran of 33 years as traffic manager for a soap and toothpaste company, is 70.

When the curtain came down on his job—and he admits retirement was like losing a legs—he refused to "take things easy."

Now, four years after giving up the nine-to-five routine, he has a scrapbook bursting with clippings that testify to his success on CBC television, in commercial and National Film Board movies, and with his first love—the amateur Curtain Club of suburban Richmond Hill.

Mr. Ferguson had acted a little before he chose his new career, but says he says he hasn't a clue about "method" acting.

His aim has been "nothing special" about his late-blooming theatrical career and has "no illusions about my talent."

BRIGHTENS LIFE

He does know that it saved him from a fate worse than a scourge of old age — becoming sluggish or worse, a bore "to himself and everybody else.

Acting has kept him almost as busy as when he was working at a regular job and he has found it "shocking interest and stimulus in the theatre.

Mr. Ferguson was a soccer, cricket and rugger player in his native Belfast before coming to Canada 40 years ago. In Toronto he took up singing and was with the Royal Conservatory choir under Sir Ernest MacMillan.

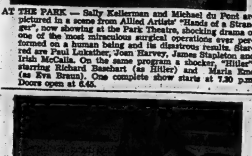
About 18 years ago he suffered a heart attack but refused to baby himself, and his lively wife has helped him keep him from overdoing it.

Mr. Ferguson was a founding member of the Curtain Club which this year was invited to participate in the Dominion Drama Festival in Windsor.

One of his first roles was as Charancay in Don't Listen Lefty, he has adopted as his motto: "The Fountain of Youth is Youth Itself.

Sports in Brief

CUBS TOP WHITE SOX



CHICAGO (AP) — Right-hander Glen Hobbie and Chicago Cubs limited their cousin rival Chicago White Sox 2-1 Monday night in an exhibition game before 10,000. Hobbie limited the Sox to six hits, including a homer by pinch-hitter Bob Rosselli, while his teammates mustered enough support to gain the victory.

PITCHER SUSPENDED

NEW YORK (AP)—New York Mets announced Monday that Bob Miller, a left - handed pitcher recently optioned to Syracuse Chiefs, has been suspended for failing to report to the International League team. Miller was acquired last week from Cincinnati, along with third baseman Cliff Cook in a deal that sent third baseman Don Zimmer to the Reds.

AT THE PARK — Sally Kellerman and Michael du Pont are pictured in a scene from Allied Artists' "Hands of a Stranger", now showing at the Park Theatre, shocking drama of one of the most mirac ulous surgical operations ever performed on a human being and its disastrous results. Sharing the spotlight are Paul Lukather, Joan Harvey, James Stapleton and Irish McCalla. On the same program a shocker, "Hitler", starring Richard Basehart (as Hitler) and Maria Emo (as Eva Braun). One complete show starts at 7.30 p.m. Doors open at 6.45.

THURSDAY AT THE BELLE — A Girl from Outer Space, portrayed by beautiful Dany Saval, unsuccessfully attempted to convince astronaut Tyron (Gardner McKay) really from out of this world in this scene from Walt Disney's real-life action-Technicolor comedy, "Moon Pilot", starring Tyron, Brian Keith and Edmond O'Brien and introducing Miss Saval.

AT THE BELLEVILLE DRIVE-IN — A scene from Jerry Wald's CinemaScope and Color production "Peyton Place", starring Lana Turner, Hope Lange and Lee Phillips, now playing the Belleville Drive-in. Dual feature also in Cinema-Scope and Color, stars Ricardo Montalban as the "Desert Warrior."

Tony Randal Is Taking His First Trip to Europe

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Every consumer dreams of somehow licking the public utilities. Tony Randall has done it.

Randall was in Hollywood for recall, he wasn't quite sure. "I guess I'm here to kiss my newsreel goodbye before I go to Europe," said the New York - based actor. He is taking his first trip abroad to film Not on Your Life for Warner Bros.

Any visit by Randall to these shores is welcome, since he always offers some novel, unconforming views on our conforming society. This time he told of his conquest of the telephone company.

BALKS AT PAYING

"I have an unlisted phone number in New York," said he. "One day three years ago, the telephone company sent me a notice that I would henceforth be charged 80 cents a month to have my number unlisted. If I were going to play the game right, I would pay.

"Apparently unlisted phones cost them money. They are always trying to find out numbers that are unlisted, and such inquiries have to be answered. It ties up a girl.

"I thought of a way out. I filled out the application to have my phone listed under the name of Reuben L. Pinchman. (His name has been changed to protect Randall).

"Think of it! I am saving 80 cents a month. That adds up. In three years it's $28.80. In 4.32. In a thousand years, it would amount to $9,600!"

FILMED IN ATHENS

He went on to other matters, such as Randall's future in the movie game. He explained that he plays second lead to Robert Preston in Boy, Did I Get Lucky, which will be filmed in Athens and the Greek Islands.

"But that is the last time," he vowed. "After that, it is top billing or nothing!"

He explained: "You see, Pillow Talk put me in demand. It was so darned successful—$24,000,000 in this country alone—that I was in demand as one of the leading man's friend. This has paid extremely well (the gets $150,000 for Not on Your Life), but I could end my days playing Rock Hudson's friend.

"I think I could be a leading man; I proved it in The Mating Game and Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter? Not the handsome leading man, but the goofy little guy that girls might go for. At least I'm going to try."

Program Preferences Now Under Study by Experts

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — Television, largely for commercial reasons, is engaged in endless study of its viewers—who they are, how they live and, most of all, what they like.

The most recent study undertakes to pinpoint the program preferences of some important "consumer targets," which is the Madison Ave. phrase meaning viewers with money to spend.

For instance, this one purports to show that women buyers of hair sprays prefer mystery-adventure, variety, drama, news and documentary shows, but women buyers of color rinse for hair add situation comedy programs to the list.

Female cigarette smokers prefer mystery-adventure and drama, but male cigarette smokers also enjoy news-documentaries. Both young men (up to 39) and older men (40 plus) particularly like westerns, but in neither age bracket do women have them on their list of favorites.

Families that use more than a dollar's worth of soaps and detergents a week were found bers?

AIMING FOR THE TOP — Vancouver's Paterson brothers, Rolf (left) and Ed, plan to try for Canada's international Thomas Cup team and the world badminton championships. They were Canadian junior doubles champions for three straight years. This year Rolf, 20, moved into senior competition. Ed, 18, teamed with another Vancouver player to win the junior doubles title again. (CP Photo).

Vancouver Brothers

Aim For Badminton Tops

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Paterson brothers are aiming for the top in badminton—world's championships.

This is the ultimate target for Rolf and Ed Paterson, Vancouver brothers who won the Canadian junior men's doubles championship three years running until age broke up their partnership temporarily.

Rolf, 20, was too old for the junior competition this year so Ed, 18, teamed up with Bruce Rollick of Vancouver to win the national junior doubles title.

Rolf found the going a little more difficult this year in senior company at the national championships, but Ed came through for a triple victory.

Ed won the junior singles title and teamed with Diana Godfrey of Victoria to win the national mixed doubles title.

Ed Paterson says he's sorry the brother combination had to be broken up in the junior competition this year. But they'll be back together again in next year's competitions.

They get along well together and they say they'd like to do big things together.

"When I was five, I went into private school," says Ed. "Rolf was my big brother. He took care of me, showed me around, kept me out of trouble. We've stuck together ever since.

"No matter what we may do as individuals in badminton, we'd like to really take up doubles seriously. We're thinking in real long-range terms of world class.

"Right now, it's just something we talk about. But if you don't start by talking about it, you'll never get there."

The Paterson brothers are attending the University of British Columbia, Ed in first-year arts and Rolf in first - year commerce.

Both are working to keep marks at a high enough level to allow them to continue with their badminton so they can work toward that world championship.

WIN ON WALK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Relief pitcher Howie Nunn walked in the winning run in the bottom of the 13th Monday night as Washington Senators defeated Cincinnati Reds 5-4 in an exhibition game. Nunn walked Robinson's three-run homer to lick in the third inning.

How's this mileage for one set of tires?

Mr. Eldon Burgess of Fenelon Falls, Ont. reports 70,000 miles from one set of Goodyears. You may get more—or less. Mileage isn't something absolute. It depends on tire quality, your car's horsepower, the speeds you drive and the roads on which you drive. However, here's one thing you can count on. Regardless of the varying driving conditions, you'll get more worry-free mileage from Goodyear tires. Proof? Plante Adds Hart Trophy To Vezina

Beats Harvey, Hull Third

MONTREAL (CP)—The most valuable player in the National Hockey League for the 1961-62 season is a sad - faced veteran of 33 whose flamboyance ends on the rink have revolutionized the goaltending art.

Jacques Plante's selection as winner of the Hart Trophy was announced Monday by the league.

But the Montreal Canadiens campaigner had no immediate word of the honor. His wife said he was "somewhere in California," unrelaxing after a bout-long trip to Western Canada.

Plante's coach, Hector (Toe) Blake, said: "We would never have finished in first place without him. He had a terrific year."

Sent to the minors for three weeks in the 1960-61 campaign, when an injury slowed him down, Plante came back magnificently last season to win the Vezina Trophy for a record-equalling sixth time.

There had been question in the minds of some fans about how Plante would stand up with the departure of defencemen Doug Harvey, who went to the New York Rangers as player-coach. Many claimed Harvey used to play a good many of the shots hurled at the Montreal net behind Plante and Jacques.

But Plante, who lets knitting among his hobbies, dispelled all doubt early in the season with his performance, turning in an extensive string of shutouts behind a defence undoubtedly weaker than in the Harvey years.

He was named to the first all-star team.

Since first breaking into the NHL in the 1952-53 season, Plante has introduced drastic revisions to ideas on netminding. With effective dashes from the goalmouth area to cut off loose pucks, he destroyed the old hockey maxim that a goalie should never leave the crease.

Moreover, he pioneered the use of a protective face mask, a fad that has caught on with a number of his colleagues in both amateur and professional ranks.

HARVEY SECOND

Paradoxically, Harvey was runner-up in the Hart balloting by hockey writers and broadcasters in the six NHL cities. He drew 63 points to 56 for Jacques. The points were awarded on a 5-4-3 basis for first, second and third choices by the voters.

At the halfway point in the balloting, based on games up to Dec. 29, Harvey led Plante 53 to 40.

Along with the trophy he gets $1,000 from the league. This brings his total earnings for the year to $5,250.

Chicago's Bobby Hull, whose second-half scoring spree carried him to a record-equalling 50 goals, finished third in the Hart competition with 35 points, all cast for his play in the second phase of the schedule. Fourth with 40 points was Gordie Howe of Detroit Red Wings, a five-time winner of the award.

Beats Pott For Pot

Palmer Shoots For Loot Record

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Arnold Palmer finished with a typical birdie barrage Monday to beat young Johnny Pott for the championship of the $40,000 Colonial national invitation golf tournament.

Then he announced he would make a big try at the all-time money-winning record for professional golf.

Palmer took a giant stride in that direction when he trimmed Pott by four strokes in an 18-hole playoff to drag down the $7,500 first money. He had a one-stroke edge on Pott while Pott, playing out of Gulf Hills, Miss., came in with 36-35—71. Pott earned $3,500.

The victory, third straight and sixth of the year for Palmer, boosted his official earnings to $69,308. It left him less than $16,000 behind the one-year record of $75,803 he set in 1960.

Palmer and Pott had tied with a 72-hole total of 280, one over par.

Palmer said the triumph encouraged an attempt to better his money-winning record.

"I will try more now than I previously expected since I have a good chance to break the record," said Palmer, who won his eight of 11 playoffs.

Rollicking Rooks Are Top Hitters

NEW YORK (AP) — Manny Jimenez and Dick Hollins—a couple of rambunctious rookies —have been the hitting sensations in the American League during the first month of the season.

Jimenez, a Kansas City outfielder from the Dominican Republic, tops the league with a .382 batting average. Figures include gaints through Monday and are based on a minimum 36 at bats.

Hollins is tied for second with Chicago's Floyd Robineau at .368 apiece. The Minnesota third baseman was the pace-setter for the first few weeks.

Jimenez, the leader a week ago, was sidelined for several games after being hit in the leg by a pitched ball. He collected four hits in 13 trips during the week, but his average dipped nine points.

Rocket Named Editor

NEW YORK (CP)—Maurice (Rocket) Richard, former Montreal Canadiens hockey star, was named consulting editor of Hockey Illustrated Monday. The magazine will be renamed Maurice Richard's Hockey Illustrated.

Richard accepted the position following a meeting here with Lawrence A. Holmes, publisher.

The magazine, formerly an annual, will be published five times during the 1962-63 season.

National Set Of Rules

Govt. Control Of Boxing

PATERSON N.J. (AP)—Abe J. Greene, commissioner of the United States National Boxing Association, called today for federal action to foster a national set of rules for the conduct of the sport.

Greene urged the formation of a "Kefauver council" to inquire into all phases of boxing and establish uniform regulations.

Thus, there would be uniform medical examinations based on a combination of the best in boxing, there would be uniform scoring and central statistical clearing houses impractical today because of state lines.

RARE, MEDIUM, WELL-DONE

By GEO. H. CARTER, Sports Editor

My venerable friend, the pickerel fancier who hooked an eleven-pound-plus beauty off the mouth of Old Lady Mosh's on opening day and couldn't make it in time to enter the Prince Edward Chamber of Commerce Walleye Derby, has started something with his argument that a similar derby be held in the bay off the city another year.

These piscatorial runs-for-the-roses are becoming a popular habit. And a paying one, it seems, despite the fact some mighty nice prizes, cash and otherwise, are given away by sponsoring organizations.

As my buddy Dick the Dere Man believes, a walleye derby in the bay from Trenton on the west to Desmond on the east would prove mighty attractive for anglers in this immediate vicinity. And I am not trying to take any "trade" away from the Prince Edward annual pickerel punchboard. There is enough to go around, twice in fact.

Several anglers, both verbally and in the written word, wholeheartedly agree with the suggestion that an annual dore derby be held in the bay in this part of the district. They agree, with the original suggestion, that with enough out-of-town publicity and good prizes, "our derby" would be as successful as any in the district or province.

As a matter of fact three city anglers, George Stoliker, Charlie Keegan and Tommy Smith believe a bass derby staged here on opening day, June 23rd, this year, would be a success. There isn't much time to do much about it this year, but it is a right good idea for next season.

It takes time to organize these events, what with sponsors, publicity, prizes, officials, etc., but perhaps the Bellville Fish and Game Association or some other potential sponsor could keep it in mind for 1963.

Pickerel, I am told are biting well in the bay, while some good catches were reported in inland waters after the season opened last Saturday. One party of three caught an even dozen ranging from six pounds down, while another one had nine beauties. A yellow fally with a worm seems to be popular with the pickerel seekers.

CONGRATULATIONS

This department doffs a columnar cap to the fine track and field athletes at Moira Secondary School, who won their second consecutive COSSA championship last Saturday at Trenton. Dave Bell's youngsters recorded new records, and shattered some old ones in an outstanding team effort.

Less lustrous, perhaps, but showing marked ability and enthusiasm, not forgetting a fine school spirit, were the teams of eleven other secondary schools of the Quinte COSSA district. Trenton's able youngsters gave the champions a fine run for the money while other schools' efforts pushed Moira to the wire on more occasions than one.

There was evidence, too, that track and field is undergoing a resurgence in the district. I am told a record crowd, some several hundred in fact, were on hand to watch the youthful athletes perform. Mr. Bell said, "We had a wonderful day for the meet and the whole show was a great success. There were hundreds of people present, a lot of them parents, but there were many more who were there because they were interested in the sport."

This is a good sign. It must have been gratifying, in fact a real heartwarming for the coaches of the different schools, the track and field committee and the youngsters themselves to see such fine spectator representation.

Of special interest, too, to coaches, particularly, and spectators in general, was the fine performance as a whole of the newly-inaugurated juvenile age class. These youngsters acquitted themselves nobly and will provide a fertile "feed-bin" for future junior and senior classifications. Fresh and centre again for the coaches. A fine job, gentlemen.

Though no results were available at this writing, I understand the Quinte COSSA Girls' Track and Field Meet at the CSD was another fine success and again a tribute to the behind-the-scenes coaches.

Both boys' and girls' champions will seek further honors on Saturday at the COSSA track and field meet scheduled for the Adam Scott Collegiate in Peterborough. The best of luck!

"Goof" In Minutes

Starts Gridiron Hassle

EDMONTON (CP) — Calgary Stampeders pouncing on a loophole in the Western Football Conference's new player contract-ation draft, have claimed Bobby Miller, veteran offensive guard of Edmonton Eskimos.

Joe Kerr, general manager of the Eskimos, heatedly claimed the Calgary move was ridiculous. Jim Finks, the Calgary counterpart, refused comment.

Miller, a naturalized Canadian, termed the move "bogwash."

George McMahon, WFC president, Monday night denied a Winnipeg report that G. Sydney Haller, commissioner of the Canadian Football League, turned the matter over to him.

The crux of the hassle, says Kerr, involves mutual official minutes of the WFC's annual meeting in Vancouver, held last February.

Ryan, unhappy that the dispute had been made public, gave this account of what happened.

DRAFT TWO

The plan, drawn up by team managers at a fall meeting, provided that a team drafting 12 points behind any other club would draft two unprotected Canadians from the higher-placed club. No team would be required to pay more than two players.

Each team required to surrender a player could place 12 Canadians on a protected list. The list and the player drafted would be kept secret until the draft was completed.

H. (Red) McMahon, vice-president of the Eskimos, moved at the annual meeting that the plan be adopted as drafted by the managers and the motion was carried.

The secretary at the annual meeting wrote that into the minutes, then went on to explain the plan.

"He should have cut it off right after he said the plan was approved," said Ryan.

FAILS TO INCLUDE

He said the secretary, in explaining the plan, failed to include the mandatory 10-point spread or the limit of two unprotected players a club could have.

Calgary seized on this omission and claimed Miller, despite the fact the club finished seven points behind Edmonton in the 1961 season.

The claim was "ridiculous" and completely outside rules used to establish any draft or waiver systems, Ryan said. No league would set up a two-player draft without a point - spread written in.
